1881,

COMPILED FROM OFFICIAL RETURNS IN THE REGISTRAR GENERAL'S OFFICE.

Presented to both Houses of Parliament by Command.

SYDNEY:

BY AUTHORITY: THOMAS RICHARDS, GOVERNMENT PRINTER, PHILLIP-STREET.

1882.

THE REGISTRAR-GENERAL'S REPORT TO THE HONORABLE THE COLONIAL SECRETARY.

Sir,

Registrar-General's Department,
Sydney, 21st September, 1882.

The several Parts of the Statistical Returns for the year 1881 having been already forwarded to you, I have now the honor to submit my Report thereon.

PART I.

POPULATION, IMMIGRATION, &c.

The population of the Colony, as shown by the Census taken on the 3rd April, 1881, amounted to 751,468 persons. Males numbered 411,149, and females 340,319, the percentage of the former being 54·71, and of the latter 45·29; so that the male exceeded the female sex by 9·42 per cent. The total addition to the population during the last decade was 247,487 persons, or 49·10 per cent. For the previous decade it was 43·64 per cent. The distribution of the population under the following heads was as follows:—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Sydney	54,401	48,978	103,379
Suburbs	59,527	61,305	120,832
Country	297,221	230,036	527,257
	411,149	340,319	751,468

Thus we find that the excess of males over females in the City and Country Districts was 5·24 and 12·74 respectively, but in the Suburbs females were in excess of males by 1·48 per cent.

ESTIMATED Population of the Colony of New South Wales, 31st December, 1881.

The total number of Marriages which took place in the Colony during the year 1881 was 6,284, being 712 over the figures of the previous year. Registered Births are given as 28,993 in number, which shows an excess of 831 on the Births of the preceding year. From the records of Deaths we find that 11,536 were registered in the year, which gives an increase of 305 on the previous year.

According to the figures of the Chief Inspector of Sheep, the number of sheep in the Colony at the end of the year 1881 was 36,591,946. As compared with this return, that of this Department, which embraces a period of three months of the current year, shows a deficiency of 3,529,092 sheep. No doubt some discrepancy is to be looked for, as the periods of which the respective returns treat are not identical. This, however, does not appear to me to account altogether for the difference. I am informed that at the time of the year the schedules are collected by the Police for this Department large numbers of sheep are changing owners and travelling, and this, I believe, may account to some extent for the difference in the totals of the respective returns. There was also great loss of sheep in some parts of the Colony at the beginning of 1881 by drought. I may mention that the previous year's Stock Returns were not collected by the Police, but by those engaged in taking the Census, and here again we find that the total number of sheep found in the Return of the Chief Inspector of Sheep is greatly in excess of the number returned by this Department.

From the Agricultural Returns we find that the number of occupiers of land, with extent of holdings, for the year 1881, was as follows:—

The extent of land under Potatoes was 15,944 acres, which yielded 44,323 tons, being an average of about $2\frac{3}{4}$ tons to the acre. The area of land under Tobacco culture was 1,625 acres, the produce amounting to 18,311 cwt. Sugar-cane covered an area of 12,168 acres, of which 4,984 acres were productive, and 7,184 unproductive.
