(THIRD SESSION.)

NEW SOUTH WALES.

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS.

(REPORT FOR 1882.)

Presented to Parliament by Command.

C. Oliver, Esq., Under Secretary, to The Hon. J. S. Farnell, Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 10 October, 1883.

I have the honor to submit for your information the Third Annual Report of the working of this Department, being for the year ended on the 31st December, 1882.

The accompanying Schedules, Nos. I to XX inclusive, show in a tabular form the action taken in reference to the alienation of Crown Lands by sales at auction, selection after auction, sales in consideration of improvements, and under the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th clauses of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861; also, as to Volunteer land orders, pre-emptive and annual auction leases, correspondence, and other matters of general interest.

Schedules I, II, and III exhibit the results of the various auction sales of land and the average prices realized from those sales, which were—

Town land	29	3	2	per acre, as against	30	7	5
Suburban,,	6	1	9	”	5	13	6
Country ,,	1	5	0½	”	1	3	6

It will thus be seen that the average price obtained for country lands was higher in 1882 than it was in 1881. This may be accounted for by the fact that during 1882 very little land was offered at £1 per acre, and that only 859,085 acres 2 roods 37¾ perches were sent to auction, as against 1,258,427 acres 1 rood 37 perches in 1881, and only 41½ per cent. of this area was sold; whereas the percentage in 1882 was 58½. The average price of all classes of land sold by auction in 1882 was £1 5s. 10d., as against £1 4s. 7d. in 1881, or an increase of 1s. 3d. per acre.

The following comparative statement shows the difference in the corresponding Schedules of the year 1881 and 1882.

	1881.			1882.
	Offered.		Per-centage.	Offered.		Per-centage.
	a.	r. p.		a.	r. p.
Town.....	1,162	1 9	51½	609	2 9½	74
Suburban	5,362	2 20	42½	3,487	2 19½	47
Country	1,258,427	1 37	41½	859,085	2 37½	58½

It will be seen from this that, although less land was offered in 1882 than in 1881, a greater percentage was sold, and, except in the case of town lands, a higher price was realized. The cause of the decrease in the price obtained for town lands during 1882, as compared with 1881, may be attributed to the fact that less land was sold in large towns. A comparison of Schedule No. I of 1881 and the corresponding one of 1882 (column 9) will show that a large average price was obtained in the districts of Bathurst, Bourke, Hartley, Narrandera, and Wilcannia, and the area sold was considerable; whereas in 1882, although a large average price was obtained in Bourke, Goulburn, West Kempsey, and Wilcannia, the area offered was small.

In addition to the land alienated by sale at auction, an area of 353,092 acres 2 roods 27 perches was selected after having been passed at auction (Schedule IV). This realized £414,700 15s. 11d., or an average of £1 3s. 5¾d. per acre, against 328,202 acres 3 roods 33 perches alienated in a similar manner in 1881, realizing £348,876 15s. 9d., or an average of £1 1s. 3d., being an increase in area of 24,889 acres 2 roods 34 perches, and an increase in price of 2s. 2¾d. per acre for 1882.

It may be observed that Schedules I, II, III, and IV have been prepared this year with an additional column showing the counties as well as the land districts within which the land has been alienated.

The total area alienated in 1881 and 1882 by auction and after auction purchase, and the prices realized, may be seen by the following statement:—

	a.	r. p.	realizing	£	s.	d.
1881	854,752	1 15	”	996,414	14	5
1882	858,734	3 24	”	1,068,317	1	1

Schedule

Schedule V shows the number of applications for the survey of land to be brought to auction under section 30 of the Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875. The applications in 1882 were largely in excess of those of 1881. In 1882 there were 661 applications, against 512 in 1881, showing an increase of 149. In 1882 the deposits of 6d. per acre reached £56,012, against £26,401 2s. 6d. in 1881. The amount credited to revenue in 1882, in cases where the land was not sold, amounted to £679 1s., showing an increase of £292 18s. This remarkable increase in the number of applications for 1882 may be accounted for in some measure by the general impression that prevailed in the minds of the public that sales by auction would be eventually stopped.

Schedule VI shows the forfeiture of auction purchases where the conditions were not complied with by payment of balance of purchase money. This Schedule must be taken into account with Schedules I, II, and III, as its items are not included in these Schedules, inasmuch as the land forfeited, though offered and bid for, still remained Crown Lands, and available to be re-offered on some future occasion.

It may be pointed out that the foregoing returns do not agree with those of the Treasury. The receipts between the 1st January and 31st December include the balances due on sales made within the last three months of 1881, which became due in the early part of 1882, and exclude the greater part of the balances of the corresponding portion of the year 1882, and which became due in 1883.

Schedule VII is supplementary to Schedules I and II, and shows concisely the towns and villages wherein the alienations were effected.

Schedules VIII and IX show the number of Volunteer Land Order applications, and how they were disposed of, and also the particular land districts within which they were made. In 1881 there were 179 applications received, of which thirty-one were declared void. In 1882 there were only eighty-three received, and twenty-one refused. The number of Volunteer Land Orders at present afloat and unsatisfied, and the few that will hereafter become available, will together make only an inconsiderable total; so that this method of alienating the land may be expected to cease at an early date.

Schedule X shows the land applied for in consideration of improvements, under the 2nd clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act, by pastoral tenants, the holders of pre-emptive leases, and the occupants (under miners' rights and business licenses) of land on gold-fields, and is intended to exhibit the result of the action taken in all cases of the kind referred to; the area gazetted during the first nine and last three months of the year being shown separately, there being no necessity for those approved during the latter period being completed till the following year, when the amount then received will be shown. The number of applications received and the area applied for during the years 1881 and 1882 will appear thus:—

		a.	r.	p.
1881 ...	1,455 applications for	235,045	3	20

showing an increase for 1882 of 698 applications, for 206,508a. 1r. 18p.

This large increase of applications was caused, it is believed, from an anxiety on the part of Crown lessees to protect their improvements by purchase before the proposed new land legislation might put a stop to such sales. Although there was such a large increase in the number of applications, the sales amounted only to 165,030a. 2r. 14p., realizing £175,236 18s. 4d., exclusive of £616 6s. 5d. by way of fines, as against 474,098a. 3r. 26½p. sold in 1881, for £487,694 17s. 9d., exclusive of fines amounting to £1,618 2s. 2d. The sales of the latter year were far above the average.

Schedule XI exhibits an analysis of the average prices of land so sold, from which it appears that the amount obtained for town and country land shows an increase, but for suburban land a slight decrease; the figures for the two years standing as follows:—

		a.	r.	p.	realizing	£	s.	d.	per acre.
Town1881 sold	22	0	4¼	realizing	26	18	10
1882 ,,	16	1	20¼	,,	30	11	9¾	,,
Suburban1881 ,,	478	1	0½	,,	4	1	10	,,
1882 ,,	149	0	35	,,	3	15	11¼	,,
Country1881 ,,	473,598	2	22	,,	1	0	5	,,
1882 ,,	164,865	0	38¾	,,	1	1	1½	,,

Schedule XII shows the alienations under the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th clauses of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861.

The Treasury having included in its returns the amounts of £3,560 0s. 2d. from special purchases £336 from conditionally improved purchases under the 31st clause of 39th Victoria No. 13, and £197 1s. 11d. from sales made under the Crown Land Purchases Validation Act of 1881, accounts for the apparent discrepancy in the total received during the year and credited to the item of improvement purchases, &c., in the Treasury accounts.

Schedule XIII specifies the various dedications for religious purposes, for recreation, and other public purposes. The dedications for religious purposes were in satisfaction of promises made prior to the 11th May, 1880, the date of the first resolution of the Legislative Assembly prohibiting such grants in the future. In addition to the dedications for Public Schools mentioned in the Schedule, temporary reservations of lands in areas not exceeding 40 acres, when available and required, are also made for paddocks in connection with Public School sites.

Under the Public Railway Resumption Act of 1874, the following resumptions have been made during the year:—

		a.	r.	p.
Nyngan to Bourke 1 portion containing	6	0	0
Macdonald Town to Coal Cliff 6 portions ,,	34	1	22
Glen Innes to Tenterfield 16 ,,	63	3	32
Narrandera to Jerilderie 35 ,,	206	2	36

There were eighty conflicting cases dealt with by appraisal, being chiefly disputes between lessees and conditional purchasers as to the value of improvements, against eighty-three for 1881, showing a decrease of three.

His Excellency the Governor and Executive Council approved of 2,033 cases dealing with reservations from sale and lease, temporary commons, designs of towns and villages, the alteration of such designs, sites for cemeteries, the appointment of trustees for recreation reserves, cemeteries, &c., as against 2,150 in 1881, showing a decrease of 117

Packets containing 14,195 copies of 1,249 lithographs were forwarded to the Crown Lands Agents for sale, and 216 packets of district maps were sent to the same officers for their own use. There were also sent to the Lands Agents during the same period 121 packets, containing 2,627 tracings of reserves, &c.

Abstracts of all reserves, dedications, &c., were prepared and laid before Parliament.

Nearly all the remaining applications, under the 31st clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875, have now been finally dealt with.

Schedule XIV shows in a classified form the number of deeds of grant issued in 1882, and the acreage of the land comprised in them. By comparison it will be seen that there were 854 more deeds issued in 1882 than in 1881, and that there was an increase of acreage of 115,460a. Or. 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ p.

In the report of the year 1881, I called attention to the increase in the leases of that year as compared with the previous one. In 1882 the lease work, in nearly every particular, was on a level with the transactions of 1881. In the majority of cases, pre-emptive leases are taken up in virtue of conditional purchases, and consequently follow the fluctuations of the latter holdings. The following comparative statement as to conditional purchases will account for the variation in the number of leases in the different years mentioned:—

SUMMARY of Conditional Purchases in virtue of which Pre-emptive Leases were applied for.

Section of the Act under which taken.	1880.	1881.	1882.
13 & 14	1,883	5,382	5,433
19	216	483	763
21	2,737	7,576	7,777
22	249	604	634
Totals	5,085	14,045	14,607

Thus it will be seen that there was an extraordinary increase in 1881 as compared with 1880, while 1881 and 1882 are nearly on a level, showing a marked similarity to the rates of applications for leases during the same periods.

The lease applications received during 1882 were, however, fewer by twenty than those tendered in 1881, though the leases granted during 1882 amounted in all to 3,178, and represent an increase of 382 over 1881, which itself showed an increase of 1,447 over 1880, the numbers being for 1880, 1,349; for 1881, 2,796; and for 1882, 3,178. There were 1,666 cases outstanding at the end of the year. These included applications which had to await survey of conditional purchases in virtue of which the applications were made, recent applications, and others not finally disposed of in the Survey Branch.

In 1882 there were 1,625 more pre-emptive leases renewed than in 1881, which increased the revenue from this source by £5,013 15s. 7d. The auction leases fell by £50 11s. 1d. in 1882 as compared with 1881. On the whole there has been a steady increase of revenue from renewals of leases during the past three years. The total revenue for 1880 was £49,382 13s. 9d.; for 1881, £53,546 16s. 2d.; and for 1882, £58,510 0s. 8d.

The following table exhibits a summary of the transactions for 1882 in regard to pre-emptive leases.

	Applications received.		Applications refused.	Preleases gazetted.		Pre-leases renewed.
	No.	Area.	No.	No.	Area.	No.	Area.	Rent paid.

In Schedule XVI will be found the number, area, and rental of renewed pre-emptive leases in each land district. In Schedule XVII the same information is given as to auction leases. In Schedule XVIII particulars are shown as to leases advertised for sale. The following table will show the difference between the particulars in Schedule XVIII of 1882 and the corresponding one of 1881.

A special feature of the work in the Lease Branch during 1882 was the administration of the Ringbarking Act, so far as applications under it had reference to pre-emptive and annual auction leases. In the administration of an Act of Parliament for the first time many difficulties will necessarily arise, but in this instance they were increased by the fact that the reports, in some stages, had to be obtained through another Department. In many instances the descriptions in the applications were so faulty as to render it difficult to identify the leases referred to, and in very few instances could any assistance be obtained from the applicants themselves. From the subjoined table it will be seen how the cases stood on 31st December, 1882.

Applications received.	Refused, &c.	Under reference to Department of Mines.	Reported on, but awaiting fees or awaiting replies from applicants.	Permissions granted.		In course of action in Lands Department.
				No.	Area.
497	71	137	126	44	30,086	119

The Ringbarking Act added considerably to the demands upon the staff in various ways not shown by the above figures. All reports on runs were referred here, in order that preleases, measured portions, and timber reserves might be charted on the tracings in connection with the cases, and the condition of the leases at the time explained.

During the year 1,791 refunds were authorized, representing £4,499 15s. 2d., being seventy-six in excess of those issued during 1881, but representing £958 15s. 6d. less.

There were thirteen returns prepared and presented to Parliament. Of this number ten contained 244 pages of printed matter, three of them being in a tabular form. The other three returns were not ordered by Parliament to be printed, two of these being very voluminous.

The Account Branch reveals that the amount authorized by Parliament by the Appropriation Act of 1882 for services of the Department of Lands, exclusive of the Survey Office, was £79,205 inclusive of £24,702 for miscellaneous services. Of this vote the sum of £77,762 19s. has been expended, and it is anticipated that the balance will be absorbed in liquidating claims preferred during the ensuing year. In addition to the expenditure above quoted, disbursements have been made to the extent of £8,368 6s. 9d. for services of 1881 and previous years, and £1,044 12s. 6d. for advertising land sales, &c., such amounts having been provided for in the Estimates-in-Chief and Supplementary Estimates of the years to which the services are chargeable), making a total expenditure during 1882 of £87,175 18s. 3d. On comparing the present with the Report on Accounts of 1881, it will be observed that there is a very marked reduction in the total expenditure of the two years, which is mainly owing to the adoption of payment of fixed salaries to Land Agents, in lieu of commission on collections, the amount of salaries being, in the majority of instances, voted under the Estimates of the Department of Justice, the officers affected by the alteration holding positions under the control of that Department.

The clerical staff, exclusive of the Conditional Land Sales Branch, consisted, on 31st December, 1882, of thirty-eight clerks on the permanent staff, receiving salaries from £100 to £400 per annum, and eleven messengers and office-cleaners, in receipt of pay ranging from £52 to £150 per annum. On the temporary staff there were twenty-seven clerks and one office-cleaner, receiving from 3s. 10d. to 17s. 6½d. per diem. In the Conditional Land Sales Branch the clerical staff was composed of thirty-six clerks and two messengers, drawing salaries from £100 to £500 per annum, and the temporary staff numbered thirty-one clerks, receiving from 6s. to 16s. per diem, and three office-cleaners at £52 per annum. The field staff consisted of six Commissioners at £500 per annum, and fourteen Inspectors at £350. The former receive also 30s. and the latter 25s. per diem as an allowance while travelling.

From the 1st January to the 31st August there were fifteen Crown Lands Agents, one Assistant, and one Relieving Land Agent, in receipt of salaries ranging from £225 to £500 per annum. It having been deemed advisable to separate the duties of Crown Lands Agent from that of Clerk of Petty Sessions, wherever practicable, seventeen distinct offices were made, and on the 31st December, 1882, there were thirty-four Crown Lands Agents, Assistants, and Relieving Officers, in receipt of salaries ranging from £150 to £500 per annum. The total number of Crown Lands Offices in the Colony on the 31st December, 1882, was eighty-eight.

Schedules XIX and XX exhibit a comparative statement of letters registered and despatched during 1881 and 1882, and their classification.

The business of the Conditional Land Sales Branch and the Survey Office has not been referred to by me in detail; that relating to the former may be gathered from the Schedules prepared by the Chief Commissioner of Conditional Sales, which have, however, not been accompanied by the usual report from that officer. These Schedules as finally revised were only received to-day, and at this late date it is impossible to make any comments thereon. The Surveyor-General's report is attached, and does not call for any special reference from me.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient servant,
CHARLES OLIVER,
Under-Secretary.

REPORT OF THE SURVEYOR-GENERAL.

Sir,

Surveyor-General's Office, Sydney, 31 July, 1883.

In preparing the Annual Report for 1882, I have thought it better to a great extent to embody the tabulated matter in the letter-press rather than adopt the system of giving the returns at the end, which will in a great measure account for the apparent decrease in volume.

The Survey Department of New South Wales is comprised of two divisions, Field and Office.

In the former the officers are classed as District, First Class, Second Class, Licensed Surveyors, and Temporary Salaried Surveyors; these officers are paid by voted salaries, with the exception of the Licensed Surveyors, who are paid by fees.

Returns giving full particulars as to cost, number and nature of instructions issued to and dealt with by surveyors of all classes will be found at pages 47 to 51 inclusive.

The District and several of the First-class surveyors are employed almost exclusively in reporting on questions requiring local knowledge, and field inspection; in distributing, supervising, and examining the work of licensed surveyors, and acting, occasionally, themselves in cases where the duty could not economically or properly be done by licensed surveyors.

They also keep the district survey offices open for inquiry at all times when not absent in the field, and when they are assisted by a draftsman the office is open at all times to the public. In most cases where such access is afforded, the maps of the local land agent are not much referred to by the public, and when a district survey office has once been established it is found most difficult on public grounds to remove it, although for departmental reasons it might be more effective elsewhere. This, with the frequent applications for additional district survey offices, leads to the question of how far this department should be required to supply information which ought in my opinion to be available at the district land office. The complaint is that the maps in the Lands Office are in arrear. This is comparatively true as regards the district survey office maps, which are charted up from plans in transit to the head office without stopping to examine them, and therefore they afford the earliest information that could be supplied. The district survey office does not hold itself responsible for information given in anticipation of approval, and in their reports the district surveyors continually refer to the satisfaction afforded to the public in supplying such information. The cost of a district surveyor's party and expenses is about £1,000 per annum. As a matter of fact the public are better informed on all matter regarding land in districts where there are survey offices.

In these respects an improvement to some extent is being developed in the employment of technically qualified officers in new appointments to the office of Land Agent.

The other salaried surveyors are employed in duties to which the scale of fees for licensed surveyors would not apply, as for instance, topographical survey examination of country for roads, designs for subdivisions, alignment of streets, and reports on questions of all sorts involving local information and occasionally in the examination of the work of licensed surveyors, supervision, &c. The number being still insufficient for the requirements, fourteen new salaries have been introduced into the Estimates for 1883; besides these, two first-class salaries have been introduced in the Triangulation, and six second-class salaries have also been introduced in the General Survey Estimates for 1883.

In consequence of the great demand during the year for surveyors who have had experience in city and suburban work, and the difficulty in obtaining qualified officers, several of the junior licensed surveyors have been employed as assistant surveyors, at salaries of from 10s. to 17s. per diem, under experienced supervision, until they can be reported efficient. This practice has been very successful, and may lead to the adoption of a grade of assistant surveyors, at salaries averaging £200 and upwards per annum, should the demand for such services continue.

The field assistants or cadets, eighteen in number, are appointed from the volunteer draftsmen, who, having passed the second competitive examination, are sent to assist the salaried surveyors and learn the field practice of the profession. They are paid 6s. per diem, and find their own horses, camp equipment, &c. The number not being sufficient, it is occasionally supplemented by temporary field assistants, and the cadet class supplies the bulk of the most successful candidates at our examinations for licensed surveyorships.

A number of the licensed surveyors were employed on temporary salary in clearing off arrears of measurements, in topographical surveys of difficult country, examining roads or land with a view to survey, in the survey of Sydney for sewerage purposes &c., but never in work that could be done by the licensed surveyors at scale of fees. The number so employed has increased from thirty-four in 1880 to fifty-nine in 1882, eleven of these were however transferred to the permanent staff about the middle of the year; this increase is only to be expected, as it always follows that extraordinary activity in the alienation of lands, public and private, is accompanied by a corresponding increase of the requirements of municipal and other measurements, and in carrying out these, the determination of the boundaries of many old grants falls upon the Department. The majority of licensed surveyors are located in 142 districts (see Schedule A, page 52, and map at the end of report), into which the Colony is at present divided; they are employed and paid by fees in measuring lands for alienation under the various provisions of the Land law, and occasionally on the marking of roads, defining reserves, survey of features, &c. When on such service the licensed surveyor is under the supervision of the district surveyor, and as long as he is able to keep out of arrear, that is, has no instructions unacted on longer than six months, applications for alienation were sent for measurement; but if otherwise, the district surveyor is instructed not to regard the licensed surveyor's customary interest in the local appointment, and may send any other surveyor to work within the limits assigned. Considerable fluctuations occur in the earnings of licensed surveyors—these depending to a great extent upon seasons and consequent abundance or scarcity of feed and water, also upon the demand for land in the districts in which they are employed.

The increase in the surveys performed during the year is unprecedented, and as far as regards the capacity of the office to deal with it, out of all proportion, the total excess of measurement being considerably over a million acres. Conditional purchases alone have increased to a great extent, as will be seen by the following statement, viz. :—

Excess of measurements of 1881 over 1880	100,000 acres.
Do. do. 1882 over 1881	570,000 "

For statement of measurements of all classes see Schedule B, page 52.

The Under-Secretary for Lands.

The

The number of licensed surveyors employed at the end of the year 1882 was 194, against 171 of the previous year; in addition to these, twelve have been transferred to the permanent staff.

It is a matter of regret that the services of four first-class surveyors have been lost to the Department during the year through resignation of their offices.

The following table shows the average cost per acre of measurements by licensed surveyors from 1873 to the end of 1882, viz:—

	s.	d.		s.	d.
1873	1	5 ⁵ / ₈	1878	0	9 ³ / ₄
1874	0	11	1879	1	2 ³ / ₈
1875	0	10 ¹ / ₄	1880	1	2 ³ / ₈
1876	0	8 ⁵ / ₈	1881	1	11 ¹ / ₄
1877	0	8 ⁷ / ₈	1882	0	11 ¹ / ₈

In estimating the cost of survey per acre it has been the practice to include in the amount all lineal measurements, some of which, roads and feature surveys for instance, are but indirectly concerned.

Notwithstanding the large amount of work dealt with, the average cost has not been reduced so much as I could have desired by at least 2d. per acre; this is owing to the drought, rise in wages, and supplies of all kind.

The licensed surveyors admitted during the year are as follows:—

Messrs. R. G. Glasson, F. J. Gregson, J. S. Langtree, A. Robb, J. E. Lester, A. H. Chesterman, P. S. Nott, H. Chinn, F. W. Hawkins, J. E. Robberds, W. F. Busby, G. M. Stafford, A. S. Jones, A. W. Those licensed under the Real Property Act are as follows:—

Messrs. J. Anderson, J. T. Atchison, J. J. Baylis, A. H. Bray, J. Broughton, J. O. Burgess, A. Dewhurst, E. Ebsworth, C. F. Garvan, E. E. W. Herborn, F. Isaac, J. G. Martyn, W. W. Mills, H. O. MacCabe.	Messrs. J. H. McEwen, S. Nicholson, C. F. N. North, S. E. Perdriau, H. M. L. Pike, C. W. Potter, T. Pring, J. Richmond, R. J. A. Roberts, D. B. Sellars, A. W. Stephen, C. Thurburn, C. E. Webb.

The following statement of instructions for measurement, report, &c., in the hands of licensed surveyors at the beginning and end of 1882 shows, compared again with the previous year, that the increase of instructions (from 4,984 to 7,622) has been more than the surveyors could deal with.

On the 1st January, 1882, the licensed surveyors had on hand the following instructions, viz:—

Under 6 months date	3,914
Over 6 and under 12 months	950
12 months and upwards	120
									4,984

On the 31st December, 1882:—

Under 6 months date	4,754
Over 6 and under 12 months	2,053
12 months and upwards	815
									7,622

Notwithstanding the enormously increased amount of surveys which have been carried out during the year, the increase in the number of instructions accumulating in the hands of surveyors has risen to an extent unprecedented.

To deal economically under the system of surveying by licensed surveyors, especially during the past year, one of extreme difficulty, in consequence of the drought in some districts, a considerable amount of discretion must be allowed in the matter of time for action, otherwise they could not undertake the general duties of their district without a very considerable increase on the scale of rates for payment.

The average amount of accounts rendered during the year by licensed surveyors working on fees is £812, but this is too low an estimate, as it includes accounts rendered by those who have worked only a portion of the year, and probably a fair average, £865, might be taken by excluding those whose earnings severally are less than £100. Considering the licensed surveyors have to meet all expenses, such as labour, horses, forage, equipment, &c., in advance, and to wait for payment of balances of accounts, there is evidently a limit to compulsion in carrying out instructions that can only be executed at a loss; consequently some latitude has been allowed in time when claims for measurement are not pressing. Occasionally, under exceptionally difficult circumstances, the expense of travelling, or a charge per diem is allowed, but in either case it is special.

OFFICE STAFF—PROFESSIONAL.

Having described the duties, &c., of the field staff, I proceed to the other principal division of the Survey Department, the office. The purely professional duties are under my own special direction, and the office-professional under that of the Deputy Surveyor-General, and represents all the work in the Department not done by surveyors, and may be divided into the following heads, viz.:—Charting, Roads, Reserves, Compiling and Publication, Lithography, Auction, Leasing, Conditional Purchase Issue, Improvement Purchase, Miscellaneous, District Maps, Noting, Diagrams, Descriptions, Conditional Purchase Tracings, Custody of Plans, Sale of Maps, and Plan-mounting.

The general supervision—discipline, attendance, distribution of work and appropriation of services—is under the control of the Chief Draftsman, whose time, to a great extent, is occupied in supervising the various branches, inspecting and dealing with questions referred to him on subjects under his province in Sydney. With the exception of that of the Secretary and Cashier, every branch of the office is subject to his inquiry and superintendence.

The officers of the Department consist of permanent and temporary draftsmen. The permanent draftsmen were selected in the first instance after competitive examinations, and are under ordinary Civil Service rules. In the year 1877, when the strength of the Department was utterly unable to cope with current work, it was found necessary to employ temporary draftsmen, who were selected by a "Pass examination," and employed at per diem, for 5½ days per week, so that their services could be dispensed with, if not required, at a week's notice. I was therefore enabled to employ persons not eligible for the permanent staff, but whose services were of great value at a time when everyone capable of passing an examination found employment.

The number of temporary draftsmen employed is 197, and the work of the Department still continues to increase in excess of the supply of draftsmen offering their services, notwithstanding the fact that I again advertised in the daily papers for more assistants, and all candidates who were found competent were employed.

Notwithstanding the increase in surveyors' work to be dealt with, the increase in the number of temporary draftsmen was not in the same proportion, although there are thirty-one more than in 1881; the same complaint exists as to the loss of experienced officers, no less than sixty-eight having left the service during the year; their places have, however, to some extent, been filled by the admission of eighty-six candidates who passed the necessary examination, but as may be expected, they are at present without experience in official routine.

Further on, under the head of Remarks, the effect of the loss of services to the Department is commented upon.

The officers of the temporary staff are not paid for any time they are absent from their duties, therefore, in fixing their remuneration rates of payment were determined on, equalizing their position to that of officers of the permanent staff of similar grade. In dealing with promotions, &c., in the temporary staff, seniority of appointment has little or no weight, efficiency only being regarded.

In addition to the staff of draftsmen, permanent and temporary, seven permanent and forty-eight temporary clerks are employed in the professional branch, in duties not requiring skill in drawing; they are principally employed in keeping books of entry and despatch of papers, and assisting in various ways, thus saving the time of the professional officers.

CHARTING BRANCHES.

The branches during the year numbered eleven, nine of them being under geographical division, and conducted upon principles fully described in the report for 1880.

On hand 31st December, 1882	5,939 =	10,859 "	= 1,728,624 "

The foregoing shows that the number of cases, including papers, in the branches on 31st December, 1881, was 3,533, and on 31st December, 1882, 5,914, the increase being 2,381; and the excess of cases over those in the branches for the same period to be 2,996.

Plans under reference to surveyors at the end of the year 1882 numbered 1,101, or 176 over those of the previous year.

The number of memoranda sent to surveyors on subjects requiring explanation during 1881 was	2,314
And during 1882	3,080
Thus showing an increase of	766
									<hr/>
The number of cases requiring submission to a higher authority was, during 1881	5,503
And during 1882	9,685
Thus showing an excess of...	4,182

The foregoing statements show an excess in every particular over 1881, with the exception of plans dealt with, those of 1881 exceeding 1882 by 311; while the number of portions dealt with is 233 in excess of 1881, thus showing that actually more work has been done during 1882 than 1881.

The area is no criterion of the work done; the number of conditional purchase cases shows the increase of office work; the effect of these increases on the office are treated of under the head of Remarks at the end of the report.

CONDITIONAL PURCHASE BRANCHES.

Conditional Purchase Issue Branches, in the totals, contrast favourably with the preceding year.

The state of the branch at the commencement of the year was, for reasons stated in my last report, unsatisfactory; the figures show that, notwithstanding the increase of work, the arrears are less by one-half than at the beginning of the year.

DIAGRAM BRANCH.

The number of descriptions received for diagrams in duplicate and dealt with in 1882 was 10,024, being an increase of 843 over the year 1881; the work in the branch being up to date.

MISCELLANEOUS BRANCH.

The number of cases in the branch on the 31st December, 1881, was...	361
Received during 1882	3,763
Of these, 402 cases for charting and 3,161 of an administrative character were dealt with	4,124
The number remaining in the branch at the end of the year being	3,563
The number remaining in the branch at the end of the year being	561
Thus showing an excess above 31st December, 1881, of	200

LEASE BRANCH.

The number received being 523 more than in 1881; 13 refund applications were received and dealt with, being 6 more than in 1881; 198 leases were cancelled owing to their being in reserves, being 38 more than in 1881; 3,000 old cases were charted on parish maps, being 962 in excess of 1881.

The premises occupied by the Department are as follows:—

Head office, Bridge-street.

Trigonometrical, General Survey, Compiling and Publishing Branches, Wolfen's Buildings, Bridge-street.

Diagram, Description, and Noting Branches, Exchange Buildings, Bridge-street.

Charting and I. P. Branches, Sutton's Buildings, George-street.

Charting Branches, Foy's Buildings, George-street.

Lease Branch, Gilchrist, Watt, & Co.'s Buildings, O'Connell-street.

Roads and Charting Branches, Gilchrist, Watt, & Co.'s Buildings, Bent-street.

ASSISTANT OFFICE PROFESSIONAL BRANCH.

This branch is of a professional character, under the Deputy Surveyor-General, and reports on cases under the alienation clauses of the Lands Acts.

The same duties were performed in this branch during the year 1882, including completion of action in Survey Branch of purchases legalized under the Crown Lands Purchases Validation Act, 1881.

ROADS BRANCH.

The Roads Branch of this Department reports in all cases of application for roads through alienated land, under the Act 4th William IV No. 11; the alignment of streets, under Act 2nd Victoria No 2; the alienation of unnecessary roads, under section 10 of 25th Victoria No. 1; the granting of one road in lieu of another, under section 26, and resumption of land for roads from any conditional purchase, under section 27, of 43 Victoria No. 29; and granting of public gates, under 39th Victoria No. 10. It is under the charge of an officer, who reports for the Surveyor-General to the Department of Mines, and in some cases to the Under-Secretary for Lands, and he is assisted by two other professional officers, as heads of divisions, and a staff of draftsmen and clerks, who carry out the necessary action respecting the roads of the Colony in two divisions, north and south, and in these branches several improvements peculiar to the geographical divisions of the Alienation Branch have been adopted, and the records kept are in a very efficient state.

The number of papers received during the year 1882 reached 5,317, and on many of these separate and distinct action had been several times taken. The number of miles of road surveyed was 875, delineated by 204 plans, in addition to 31 plans showing 142 streets; 447 applications for roads, deviations in roads, and for alignment of streets have been received; 511 reports from surveyors, irrespective of 235 reports accompanying plans of survey; 256 objections and claims for compensation investigation, and in 26 cases compensation was recommended to be granted by reports from this branch. There are many hundreds of thousands of roads in this Colony, any one of which may form the subject of inquiry, complaint, application for resurvey, dedication, &c., or may be applied for to be purchased under the 10th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861. On each and every such inquiry or application the necessary information is given personally to the public, or is supplied in the shape of a minute of recommendation to the Under-Secretary for Mines, and in some cases to the Under-Secretary for Lands.

RESERVE BRANCH.

The work performed by the Reserve Branch is as follows, viz.:—Recommending reservations from sale and lease, consisting of water supply, timber, travelling stock, camping, temporary commons, public recreation, &c., the cancellation and modifications of reserves under the 6th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, reporting on resumptions for public parks and recreation reserves; reservations for public purposes of all kinds under the 4th section of that Act; and applications in virtue of improvements within reserves; dedications for recreation and permanent commons; boundaries for proclamation for new gold-fields under the Mining Act; reserves from sale on account of gold under the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861; town and suburban boundaries; alterations in designs of same; population reserves; boundaries under the Towns, Police, and Municipal Acts, and modification and alteration in mining and municipal districts. The preparation of electoral registration, school, licensing, and police districts is acted upon by the officer in charge of this branch; also applications to mine under reserves and roads.

This branch also carries out the examination of all plans received for auction sale, for the purpose of ascertaining before sending on whether sufficient reservations had been made for public purposes.

The work of revision of reservations in the Western District has been continued during the year by the cancellation of those in excess, and the extension of frontages, valuable for watering places, to the back portions of the runs.

The reserves in part of the Liverpool Plains District have been revised in a similar manner to those in the west.

Camping reserves for travelling stock have been notified along the principal stock roads and marked on the ground where practicable; the same provision has been made in the subdivision of lands for sale.

A considerable number of reserves have been wholly or partially defined on the ground in order to remove all uncertainty as to their position.

A number of reserves for public parks and reserves for recreation have been defined, comprising Leichhardt Park, an area of 24 acres 2 roods 18 perches; Camperdown Park, area 11 acres 1 rood 8 perches; Canterbury Park, area 20 acres; Burwood Park, area 15 acres; Macdonaldtown Park, area 22 acres 3 roods 8 perches; Balmain Park, area 5 acres $\frac{1}{4}$ perch; and Flagstaff Hill, area 6 acres 1 rood.

Addition

Addition has been made to the reservations already in existence, which now completes the necessary reservations along the proposed railway from Homebush to Waratah and Village. Camping and stock reserves have been made along the railway line, now in course of construction, from Nevertire to Bourke via Nyngan, and the other lines of railway now in course of construction.

The large railway reserve made in 1878, situated on the line between Junee and Narrandera, including 80,000 acres, has been subdivided, prior to cancellation, and now awaits legislation that will secure to the Crown the largely increased value owing to its close proximity to the railway line.

Several large reserves have been made for the preservation of timber, to include forests of gum, ironbark, stringybark, pine, &c. 346,000 acres have thus been reserved.

The various purposes for which reserves have been made, and the number and area notified and revoked is as follows:—

RESERVES FROM SALE.

RETURN of reserves from sale and leases notified and revoked; towns and villages dedicated; gold-fields proclaimed; travelling stock reserves notified; extension of Police Act to towns; Municipalities gazetted, and instructions to mark reserves issued by the Reserves Branch during the year ended 31st December, 1882, showing the purpose, number of cases and areas notified, revoked, &c.

During the year 1880, 9,742 cases were received in this branch and action taken upon 9,630. During 1881, 11,397 cases were received and action taken upon 11,528. In 1882, 11,600 cases were received and action taken upon 11,850, an enormous amount of work with a steady increase on the transactions of the previous year. The number of cases in course of action at the end of 1882 was 250. The result of the re-arrangement of the work of the branch referred to in the previous report may therefore be considered satisfactory; the great difficulty being to obtain efficient assistants and to retain those already engaged.

DISTRICT MAP BRANCH.

The Land District Map Branch has supplied two sets of maps to each Land Agent, which I think may be considered satisfactory.

COMPILING BRANCH—PARISH MAPS.

I regret to state, that owing to the large quantity of miscellaneous work received and dealt with in the Compiling Branch during the year, and the difficulty of compiling parish maps in the oldest counties, such as Cook, Roxburgh, Wellington, and others, that there has been a considerable falling off in compilation of parish maps in the Compiling Branch. Also that, owing to the excess of work and deficiency of strength in the Charting Branches, the compilation of parish maps had to be discontinued in Charting Branches.

The above return, although there is a decrease in the compilation of parish and other maps, shows that a large quantity of work has been done in these branches.

CUSTODIAN OF PLANS.

This officer has the custody of original plans of county and town lands in general use, except those kept in the geographical divisions of the Charting Branch, and receives and records plans from the Charting Branches as they are dealt with. He receives and issues all applications made to him for plans, carefully noting in a record book kept for the purpose the names of officers to whom they are issued, and receipt of plans when returned. Duties.

The number of plans recorded and kept in this branch is 120,236, the apparent decrease being caused by the various geographical divisions taking charge of the maps with which they have to deal; this branch has also the custody of old plans and field books.

EXHIBITOR AND SALESMAN OF PUBLIC MAPS.

This officer has charge of all the plans that are open for the inspection of the public, and those in general use by the office staff, comprising county, town, parish, and environ maps, and for general convenience keeps a daily record showing whether the maps are in his room at the head office or in the branch offices, and the names of the particular officers with whom the map or maps are to be found. He is custodian of all published lithographs, and is salesman of the same; he keeps a book showing the stock in hand and disposed of, either by purchase or issue for office use, for Land Agents or officers in the field or of other Departments, forwarding each day to the Secretary and Cashier a statement of lithographs sold. He notes applications and supplies the required lithographs; sells to persons applying verbally, and exhibits maps to the public. Duties.

A marked increase in sales of lithographs appears during the year, the receipts having risen from £170 19s. 4d. in 1880 to £284 10s. 11d. in 1881, and to £357 17s. 2d. in 1882.

CLERK OF CHARTING BRANCHES.

This officer's duty is to record all registered papers received for charting purposes from the Record Branch, the number for 1882 being 33,348, giving required information respecting such papers, and forwarding the same to the proper officers, noting when issued and returned. Duties

PLAN-MOUNTER.

The duties of this officer need not be described. Original plans and maps mounted during the year represent a total of 19,370; books bound, 40. The miscellaneous work performed in the branch cannot be well defined, but consists of such as is inseparable from the branch. The amount of linen used during the year was 1½ mile.

ACCOUNT AND CLERICAL BRANCH.

This branch employed officers both on the fixed and temporary staff, eighteen of the former and nineteen of the latter, during the year 1882; the salaries ranged from £50 up to £450 per annum, and the total cost of the branch, including rent of premises, was £7,710 12s. 11d. Duties and cost.

The business of the branch is divided into the following heads, viz:—

- Accounts.
- Correspondence.
- Record of Measurements, &c.
- Stores.
- Statistics.

The

The duties of the branch may be summarized as follows :—

The total amount of accounts rendered for services of the past year was	...£315,925	12	2
The amount of balances of licensed surveyors' accounts for 1881 and previous years passed for payment	13,542	14 1

... ..	£329,468	6	3
Total amount of salaries and contingencies paid was	304,996	3 11

The balance	£24,472	2 4

being represented by a percentage withheld from licensed surveyors for services of the year, pending the examination and passing of their surveys by the charting draftsmen.

The total number of letters, &c., written, recorded, and despatched during the year was over 21,000 on professional subjects, and 1,128 on questions requiring Ministerial approval.

The number of letters received from surveyors—salaried and licensed—was about 22,000.

The number of special cases submitted for my decision direct from this branch was over 7,200.

The number of returns prepared during the period was four, some of which were of a very exhaustive character, and occupied a considerable time in preparation; the number is no criterion of the work involved.

The clerks employed on the permanent list have of late years been selected from those youths who have been successful in passing the Civil Service Examination, and who had an additional special recommendation from employers, teachers, &c., as to their capabilities for the duties required. Where more than one has been nominated the successful competitor at an examination held in this office has been appointed to the vacant salary. The annual rate of pay after a short probationary service has been £50, and the conditions the same as those in the Service generally, increases as a rule being only obtainable when vacancies occurred.

In the temporary staff the rates are now daily commencing at 6s. 5d., and rising by degrees to 15s. 11½d., the highest rate paid during the year, the conditions of service having been re-arranged so as to place members on the same footing, as regards pay and leave of absence, as the temporary staff in the Ministerial office, payment being made for six days in the week.

The total amount voted for 1882 was £326,861, but in consequence of the continued drought in most parts of the Colony the licensed surveyors have not been able to carry out their instructions; consequently the sum of £38,487 10s. 4d. was unexpended.

At page 47 appears a return showing the cost of each survey district, the number of instructions issued and carried out, the balance representing those transferred or remaining on hand at the end of the year; the number of instructions remaining on hand at the end of the year is no criterion of the energy or otherwise of the surveyor, the number being affected by the return of instructions by other licensed surveyors who resign or change districts. Following this is a similar return respecting the services of the temporary salaried surveyors; two of the number have been unavoidably employed on duties belonging to the triangulation and general survey of the Colony.

During the year 1882 the system of dealing with the accounts rendered by licensed surveyors has, with the advice and assistance of officers of the Treasury and Audit Departments, been thoroughly revised.

The old system had for several years been found unequal to the demands upon it, arising from the extraordinary increase and fluctuations in the amount of work to be dealt with, together with the number of returns and other cases requiring special action. Under the latter the advantages of its original simplicity were lost in the extra services required to supply information for which the old books were not designed; consequently the Account Branch was constantly indebted to other branches for assistance, to the prejudice of both.

The change to a better system has not been brought about without expense, but apparently only as far as that which was done by other branches was concerned; and were it not for the general increase of work during the year a corresponding saving would have accrued.

The advantage that will be derived from promptitude in dealing with accounts, advances especially, will be found to be alone worth the extra cost.

The present system came into operation with the new "Regulations for the employment of Licensed Surveyors," which were issued on the 6th September last, and therefore only applies to accounts rendered for services performed thereunder.

TRIGONOMETRICAL SURVEY.

During the year a connection has been made between the bases at Richmond and Lake George. It is, however, a very indirect one, traversing series of triangles, in several directions, for 240 miles; whereas the direct distance is but 140 miles. Nevertheless, it establishes the very important fact that no appreciable error exists in any part of the work; also the angles of the triangles connecting the Richmond base with the Sydney triangulation have been observed with an equally satisfactory result.

In the diagonal series of triangles from Richmond to Lake George direct, referred to in my last report, sites have been selected, stations formed, and the observations of the angles are now in progress; and three out of the eight principal stations in progress, in this series, are finished.

The triangulation of Botany and Port Hacking, and George's River tidal waters has been completed; also that portion of the Lane Cove River has been finished which remained over from last year's work; and progress has been made in the triangulation of the watershed of the lower part of the Parramatta River.

The geographical positions (latitude and longitude) of Warren and Clarence Peak have been determined by astronomical observations. These are two of a number of positions required for the compilation of a new map of the Colony, to replace that which was burnt in the Garden Palace fire, and in anticipation of the triangulation.

By observations made with the 18-inch altazimuth instrument, used as a zenith telescope, and the catalogue of stars compiled in this branch, the geographic latitude of a place can be found within a probable range of error of about 20 feet, and longitude by the same instrument, used as an astronomical transit transit (and telegraphic communication with Sydney Observatory), within about 200 feet. Positions so nearly accurate are therefore more reliable for the compilation of the Colony Map than those obtained by long and often circuitous traverses.

The position of Lord Howe Island has also been determined in this manner. Observations have been made in order that the principal axes of the trigonometrical survey of the Colony should correspond with the meridian of the Sydney Observatory, as determined by the Government Astronomer.

A number of new trigonometrical stations have been selected and formed in the counties of Cumberland and Northumberland, so as to embrace the route followed by the Sydney to Newcastle Railway line, as well as for county survey; and in Westmoreland and Argyle for the diagonal series; in the latter also for county survey.

The services of some of the officers of this branch, together with instruments and equipment, were supplied to the Government Astronomer to assist in observing the transit of Venus, for which every possible preparation was made, parties of observers being sent to various parts of the Colony. Unfavourable weather, on the eventful morning of the 7th of December, prevented any observations being made, except by the party at Lord Howe Island, who succeeded in getting an observation of the external contact only. Great care had been exercised in training the observers and providing for every contingency that could be foreseen; and it is very much to be regretted that such patient and laborious efforts should have been rewarded by such meagre results.

The survey of the Wellington 10-mile circle (the boundary between the settled and unsettled districts) has been carried on by the Trigonometrical Branch, it being of such extent and importance that it was considered rather as a geodetic question than one of ordinary survey, and, during the latter part of the year, 42 miles have been chained and re-chained, and 135 angles (each with 4 repeats) have been measured in connection therewith. During the year the angles have been observed at 191 stations, and 1,361 stations have been observed too (this includes observations to same station from two or more others), 261 new stations have been selected and formed.

The present urgent demand for reference points and bearings connected with the trigonometrical survey in various localities renders it impossible to follow a regular scheme and complete the work as the survey advances, consequently the progress made can only be estimated at present by the number of stations completed instead of by the area over which it has been carried.

The completion of one series of triangles between the Lake George and Richmond bases supplies the data for a provisional comparison of their relative accuracy and that of the triangulation which connects them; this has been made, and has established the important fact that no error perceptible in practice exists throughout the work. The two bases agree within 16 inches after triangulating through a distance of 240 miles; that is west, 60 miles; north, 70 miles; and again east, 110 miles. This indirect course was unavoidable, because the country on the meridian of the Lake George base is unsuited to trigonometrical operations, and triangulating in any other direction than in meridians and parallels would break into the original design adopted for purposes other than the comparison of bases. Eventually, in the course of the work several more direct chains of triangles independent of each other will be extended from base to base. Further investigations will follow, in which the usual equations of condition, solved by the method of least squares, will be applied; but at the present time so many demands for triangulation are being made, especially in the direction of new lines of railway, that further investigation of a subject of scientific rather than practical importance must be postponed.

The length of these bases as computed from the triangulation differ two and three-tenths inches ($2\frac{3}{10}$) per mile; in other words, the length of Richmond base (7 miles) computed from the Lake George base would appear to be 16 inches longer than its measured length; or, similarly, Lake George base ($5\frac{1}{2}$ miles) appears to be shorter by 12 inches than its computed length. These results compare favourably with first results of work in other countries; but as the measurement and remeasurement of each base, agreed within one-tenth inch per mile, also the theoretical error of the triangulation, deduced from the closing errors of the triangles amounts to only two-tenths of an inch per mile (which has scarcely been surpassed elsewhere), I expected one of the closest coincidences known. Of course the values obtained from unclosed circuits of either traverse or series of triangles are never adopted as final. In fact, there is so much uncertainty in the accepted elements relating to the size and figure of the earth and other factors which may affect the result to a small extent, that it is not possible at present to form a correct estimate of the degree of precision attained; all that can be confidently asserted is, that, for all the practical purposes aimed at in the survey, it is more than sufficiently accurate.

By the completion of the series of triangles from Richmond to Sydney the triangulation of the city is now incorporated in the general trigonometrical survey. The method adopted in this instance (where an accurate survey was urgently demanded in anticipation of the main triangulation) of measuring, with more than ordinary care, a short provisional base line, and triangulating from it so as to supply the necessary reference points, and to join the principal work with well-conditioned triangles, has proved a success. The correction which has to be applied to the Harris-street base, to make it accord with Richmond base, is about 1 inch; this is so small a quantity as to be inappreciable in the city survey.

COMPUTING BRANCH.

In addition to the routine work of checking angle books, weighting the bearings of the main stations of the triangulation, and entering the result in the abstract and bearing books, programmes of latitude and azimuth stars, with occultations and moon culminations, have been prepared for five stations, viz., Castle, Gannon, Warren, Clarence Peak, and Lord Howe Island; and the latitude and azimuth of Gannon and Castle, together with the latitudes and longitudes of the other three stations, have been computed.

The true bearing of Gannon by the meridian of the transit instrument of the Sydney Observatory has also been determined, for the purpose of fixing the azimuth of the triangulation throughout the Colony.

In connection with the main triangulation seventeen stations have been fixed between Mount Lambie and the Richmond base (which is thus connected with the Lake George base), and their geodetic positions have been determined.

A series of investigations of the conditions under which the Lake George base was measured have been made, with the view of ascertaining whether any definite correction ought to be applied to its length on account of the difference of temperature of the pine rods at comparison and during the measurement.

This

This correction was not applied when the length of the base was computed, since at that time no data were available with respect to the variation in length of these rods corresponding to a given change of temperature. This has since been determined by experiments, which show a remarkably close agreement between the co-efficients of expansion of the three rods used.

In county Cumberland the positions of ninety-one stations and seventy-six intersections have been computed.

The heights of sixty-one main and 106 second-class stations have been found, and in several cases the results have been compared with those deduced from barometric observations.

Twelve aneroid barometers imported for the Department have been tested in Sydney, and at elevations of about 1,000, 2,000, and 3,000 feet.

Preliminary computations have been made for the completion of the 10-mile circle around Wellington, dividing the settled and unsettled districts.

Tables showing the magnetic variation in the Colony since the year 1800, and the mean rise and fall of the tide at Fort Denison during a lunation, have also been prepared.

GENERAL SURVEY.

As in 1881, the surveys in the county of Cumberland have been continued by the same number of surveyors (31), and the consequence is, that a network of surveys is gradually extending over the whole county, and will, in the course of a few years give the necessary data for the compilation of a complete map, upon which may be accurately shown, the positions of boundaries of alienations or properties, as well as exhibiting the topographical features.

The system of carrying out all surveys to a common meridian, as mentioned in the report for last year, has been continued, and with increased facility, owing to a greater number of trigonometrical stations having been fixed in position.

As the surveys of roads or other public requirements call for the services of surveyors, the opportunity is taken for adding to the geographical knowledge of the county, by fixing the positions of the boundary lines of the properties passed through, and many cases which would otherwise probably have been involved in litigation have been rendered apparent to the parties concerned. This in time will lead to the publication of a complete map of the county; but at present there is only a prospect of an early publication of the following parishes—Botany, Gordon, and Hunter's Hill—and of Alexandria and Willoughby after a more extended period; but at present it is impossible to do much more than effect the examination of the work as it comes in, the assistance available (draftsmen) being insufficient.

The survey of the city has been carried on with the assistance of six surveyors, and a considerable portion of Redfern, Waterloo, Surry Hills, and Woollloomooloo is also in course of survey, and the progress made is satisfactory. The complete details of the sections between Hunter and Park Streets have been obtained, as well as of the area lying between Crown-street and Elizabeth-street which is bounded on the north by Hyde Park and Stanley-street and on the south by Albion-street. Details of the greater part of the area at Redfern between George, Devonshire, Castlereagh, James, Cleveland, and Abercrombie Streets have also been obtained. A number of other surveys of prior date have also been completed and brought up to date.

In consequence of the amount of survey matter to be dealt with, as above stated, the production of maps has been less than usual. Only one sheet of the survey of Sydney and suburbs has been published, though another has been nearly completed and two others are in hand. Four maps of the city sections have been prepared and lithographed for publication in the same style as that which accompanied the report for last year. These maps have been found to be of so much use to the public and to surveyors that it is intended during next year, if the necessary additional office assistance can be obtained, to proceed as rapidly as possible with their publication.

Sixteen parish maps of the county of Murray have been published during the year, and seven others are in progress.

The station register now describes the position of and the referring marks to 2,103 points, whose positions have been determined with minute accuracy by the triangulation; this number includes ninety-one stations and seventy-six intersections established during the year.

REMARKS.

Referring to the report for 1881, under "Remarks," page 43, it is stated that that year was one of exceptional pressure of work of all descriptions on the office, and complained of the withdrawal of assistants, &c. It is with regret that I have for the year 1882 to report that the complaint still exists; not only has the work increased by the surveys of twenty-three surveyors, but the office has lost sixty-eight more trained draftsmen, making 174 in three years. Efficiency in the face of such a drain upon its resources cannot be expected, it being a fact that it requires four years' experience on an average to make an officer efficient in all the requirements of a charting draftsman; and until the position of the temporary draftsmen is made secure and more satisfactory the evil will continue. The number of cases of absence on sick leave have been extraordinary, and are unfortunately mostly amongst the class of heads of branches and examiners. Two out of six of the latter are away, leaving only four efficient examiners; one of this class has also been detached specially to deal with outstanding surveyors' accounts, which have accumulated in consequence of arrear in dealing with their work.

The enormous increase in the number of cases requiring submission to a higher authority, from 5,503 in 1881 to 9,685 in 1882, has occupied much of the time which would otherwise have been available in getting rid of arrears, and is sufficient to account for all shortcomings in the higher branches. This increase is due to two causes: 1st, the enlarged number of conditional purchase cases received from surveyors; and 2nd, the number of cases requiring special action under the amended Land Law.

The area measured in excess of 1881 is 1,418,161 acres; the conditional purchase cases for the year have exceeded that of the previous year by 4,610, the increase in area thereof being nearly 570,000 acres.

I have the honor to be

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

P. F. ADAMS.

FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS,

BEING FOR THE YEAR

1883.

Presented to Parliament by Command.

SYDNEY : THOMAS RICHARDS, GOVERNMENT PRINTER,

1883-4.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS.

(REPORT FOR 1883.)

Presented to Parliament by Command.

C. Oliver, Esq., Under Secretary, to The Hon. J. S. Farnell, Esq., Secretary for Lands.

Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 31 March, 1884.

I have the honor to submit for your information the Fourth Annual Report of the working of this Department, for the year ended the 31st December, 1883.

The accompanying Schedules, Nos. I to XX inclusive, showing in a tabular form the action taken in reference to the alienation of Crown Lands by sales at auction, selection after auction, sales in consideration of improvements, and under the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th clauses of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861; also as to Volunteer land orders, dedications, deeds of grant prepared, pre-emptive and annual auction leases, correspondence and registration of letters, have been compiled in the form previously adopted, and give in detail the information indicated by the heading and sub-heading to each.

The principal transactions by way of alienation of Crown Lands which are alluded to in this portion of the Annual Report may be briefly stated as follows:—

Sold at Auction:—

	Area.			Amount realized.			Average per acre.
	a.	r.	p.	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Town Lands	675	0	1½	32,643	11	10	48	7	2½
Suburban Lands	3,800	3	24	21,766	8	10	5	14	6
Country Lands	25,825	2	23½	41,268	1	10	1	11	10

Selected after Auction:—Country Land, 31,380 acres 3 roods 19 perches, realizing £37,479 0s. 2d., being £1 3s. 10½d. per acre.

Under the 2nd Clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875:—

	Area.			Amount realized.			Average price per acre, exclusive of fines.
	a.	r.	p.	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Town Lands	34	2	25½	1,981	4	2	57	3	1½
Suburban Lands	112	3	32½	400	12	0	3	10	11½

Under the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th clauses of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861:—Area, 660 acres 3 roods 5¼ perches, realizing £3,135 7s. 7d.

The total area alienated during the year was 166,117 acres 2 roods 12 perches, for the sum of £252,512 10s. 0d., exclusive of penalties and forfeitures amounting to £646 4s. 2d.

A comparison with the returns in my last report will in some instances show a marked difference, which is owing to the stoppage, on the 18th day of January, 1883, of sales by auction of unimproved country lands, except in the case of isolated portions and of forfeited improvement and conditional purchases, and, on the following day, to the withdrawal of country lands from after auction selection, as well as to the decision, on the 23rd January, to keep in abeyance, pending final disposal of the Land Bill, all applications made by the Crown lessees, subsequently to that date, to purchase improved lands under the 2nd clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875.

The result of the stoppage of the sales of country land by auction and after auction selection is best shown by a comparison with the statistics of the previous year, from which it will be seen that while in 1882, 856,639 acres 3 roods 29 perches were sold for the sum of £1,045,194 15s. 9d., there were similarly sold in 1883 only 57,206 acres 2 roods 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ perches, realizing £78,747 2s., being a decrease of 799,433 acres 1 rood 26 $\frac{3}{4}$ perches in area, and of £966,447 13s. 9d. in purchase money. Guarantee deposits of 6d. per acre, paid on application for measurement of lands for auction, to the amount of £40,725 16s. 3d. were refunded, as against £17,709 15s. in 1882.

Notwithstanding the decision of the 23rd January, above-mentioned, the number of applications to purchase improved lands shows an increase over those received in 1882, the respective numbers being—

		a.	r.	p.
1883 2,544 „	576,185	3	21 $\frac{1}{4}$

Many of the last-mentioned applications were dealt with up to survey, thereby determining the area protected by the improvements, leaving it to legislation to decide whether the sales, together with those not so far advanced, should be completed or not, thus entailing on the various Branches of the Department dealing with this business at various stages almost the same amount of labour as in the case of applications made prior to that date; in addition to which, circulars were sent to the several applicants notifying the decision of the Secretary for Lands in reference to the suspension of final action. In a large number of cases where sale is otherwise objectionable the applications have been refused. All applications to purchase small improved areas on gold-fields, made by the holders of miners' rights or business licenses, have been dealt with, as heretofore, irrespective of date of application.

Owing to the falling off in the alienation of the public estate, the pre-emptive lease applications have decreased. It is, however, satisfactory to note that the rents received, viz., from—

	No.	Area.	Rent.
Pre-emptive leases	18,008	16,126,921	£52,086 17 8
Auction „	3,618	2,633,271	8,868 4 10
Total.....	21,626	18,760,192	£60,955 2 6

continue to show an increase of revenue, chiefly derivable from annual auction leases.

The cancellation of leases from different causes, and a large number of double payments of rents having been made, necessitated the issue of 2,613 refund vouchers, representing £6,835 11s. 11d., as against 1,791 refunds of £4,499 15s. 2d. in 1882.

The applications to ringbark on pre-emptive and annual auction leases numbered 391, of which 129 were granted, and permissions issued covering 106,699 acres; 88 were refused or withdrawn, and the balance are awaiting payment of fees, rangers' reports, &c. Permissions to ringbark 139,904 acres applied for, prior to 1883, under 231 applications were also granted. In connection with ringbarking on runs, information as to alienations and other withdrawals therefrom in respect to 150 applications was furnished to the Department of Mines.

Although repeated efforts have been made to ensure the delivery to the parties entitled of the deeds of lands granted and purchased prior to the passing of the Real Property Act, there are still 2,046 on hand. The greatest precautionary measures are taken to prevent parties who have applied for, but are not legally entitled to them, obtaining possession of these deeds of grant.

In

In consequence of numerous subdivisions of old grants for sale, the searches made to afford information affecting conflicting interests have formed no inappreciable item in the business of the Deeds Branch; and although there has been a falling off in the number of new deeds prepared, the engrossing of which is paid for at a fixed contract price, the business generally of the Branch has not been materially reduced.

During the year two Inspectors of Lands Offices were appointed; and though these officers were unable to enter upon their duties until the year had advanced, they inspected before its close thirty-two local offices.

The restoration of a system which in former years was in successful operation shows by result how necessary these appointments are for the proper supervision of the work performed in the local offices, which henceforth will be placed on a uniform basis, conducted according to the best methods, and in harmony with departmental action, all necessarily tending to make them of greater use to the public in the future. Further, the local knowledge obtained by the Inspectors has proved of great value in adjusting matters brought before the Department. These officers have also inspected some of the Branches at Head Quarters, and have been employed on other services of an important character.

Under the Public Railway Resumption Act of 1874, 55 portions, containing an area of 269 acres 35 perches, have been resumed.

Eighty-six conflicting cases were dealt with by appraisalment, being chiefly disputes between lessees and conditional purchasers as to the value of improvements.

His Excellency the Governor and the Executive Council approved of 1,406 cases submitted, dealing with reservations from sale and lease, temporary commons, designs of towns and villages and alteration thereof, sites for cemeteries, schools, recreation reserves, &c.

The Parliamentary returns number twenty. Of these, fifteen contain nearly 250 pages of printed matter; three were in tabular form, containing also twenty-two pages of printed matter; the other two were very large, but were not ordered to be printed.

The "Old Records" of the Department, from 250,000 to 300,000 in number, commencing from the year 1807, some being in the handwriting of the earlier Governors or other important officials, have been removed to the new building, and nearly all of them have been classified, arranged, numbered, and labelled, thereby rendering reference a comparatively easy matter.

The amount appropriated by Parliament for the Department (exclusive of the Survey Office), to meet the services of the year, was £102,552, of which £94,256 1s. 5d. was expended; of the balance remaining, £1,027 12s. 11d. will in due time be written off under the Appropriation Act, owing to certain appointments not having been made till late in the year, leaving £7,268 5s. 8d. available to meet outstanding claims. A further sum of £1,500 will be required to meet contingent expenses of the Conditional Sales Branch. It was anticipated that these accounts could have been partially met by the transfer of the £1,027 12s. 11d. before mentioned; but this course was found to be opposed to the spirit of the Appropriation Act, and was therefore abandoned, and a fresh vote asked for on the Supplementary Estimates.

In addition thereto, £4,588 2s. 10d. has been expended on account of 1882 and previous years, which has been met out of the balance remaining at the commencement of the year and from the Supplementary Votes of Parliament; £800 8s. 9d. has been paid for advertising (the vote for which is taken by the Treasury) and £2,101 obtained from the Advance Account to meet other pressing claims, such as fencing recreation grounds, &c., for which votes will be asked in the Supplementary Estimates for 1883, thus making the total amount expended to be £101,745 13s.

With respect to the sum of £2,101, just mentioned, it is requisite to state that £1,550 represents the value of improvements upon Crown Lands, which, in order to protect the owners thereof, was added to the upset price of the land when offered at auction, with a view to being subsequently refunded. The amount having been paid as part of the purchase money, forms portion of the Consolidated Revenue; and, to adhere to a strictly legal course, Parliament will be asked to sanction its refund.

The.

The increase in the expenditure has arisen principally in consequence of increased appropriations for improving and fencing recreation reserves and cemeteries, £7,000, and the votes were then insufficient to meet the demands upon them; an additional sum of £9,475 being required to pay the salaries of two Inspectors of Land Offices, whose appointments have been before alluded to, and of several Crown Lands Agents, consequent on the separation when requisite of the offices of Land Agent from those held by Clerks of Petty Sessions under the Department of Justice, and hitherto provided for on the Estimates of that Department; a few appointments and promotions, and the necessity for obtaining enlarged contingent votes, so as to avoid as much as possible having to make a fresh application to Parliament on the Supplementary Estimates.

- The staff at Head Quarters shows but little alteration as compared with 1882. On the field staff of the Conditional Sales Division there is an increase of four permanent and four temporary Inspectors.

Appended are the Reports received from the Chief Commissioner of Conditional Sales and the Surveyor-General.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

CHARLES OLIVER,
Under Secretary.

The

The Chief Commissioner to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, 31st March, 1884.

I have the honor to append Returns A to S inclusive, in continuation of those appended to Departmental Reports for previous years. I also append copy of a Memorandum prepared to illustrate the state of the business relating to the conditional purchase of Crown Land for the year 1883.

I have, &c.,

A. O. MORIARTY,
Chief Commissioner.

Memorandum.

It having been suggested that it would be convenient to have, in a form easy of reference, a Summary of the information that appears in the published statements relating to the conditional purchase of Crown Land and the disposal of conditional purchases, a Memorandum bringing the information to the latest possible period was prepared early in the last Quarter of 1883; and the interest then attaching to the subject induced me to make a few observations that would perhaps have claimed less attention if applicable to a period more remote. Beyond correcting these statements to 31st December, I have now little to add; and I cannot but feel the difficulty of entering upon a general review without risk of intrusion upon ground that is at the present time the theatre of action on a higher level.

The Returns have at the same time been re-arranged so as to correspond in order with those appended to former Departmental Reports; and I have appended an additional statement, Return A (2), showing approximately the number and area of conditional purchases under the respective sections of the Land Act of 1861, in each Land District in the Colony, on the 31st December, 1882, which has not previously been furnished in the same detail; and although, in a statement covering so great a number of transactions and so long a period, and embracing unmeasured or partially measured areas, variations and discrepancies, real or apparent, are inevitable, it is as nearly accurate as the circumstances admit.

II. The area conditionally purchased in 1882 amounted to 2,392,217 acres 2 roods and 35 perches, in 14,606 selections, being somewhat in excess of that purchased in 1881 (2,329,202 acres and 15 perches, in 14,220 selections), and far in excess of that in any previous year. During the first eight years after the passing of the Act of 1861, the total area conditionally purchased amounted to 2,161,390 acres.

During the year 1883, the area conditionally purchased has been 1,617,712 acres and 7 perches, in 10,674 selections, which, although indicating a falling off, would represent a rate of alienation, under conditions, about equal to that of 1877 and exceeding that of any other years prior to 1881, except 1875 and 1876. This falling off may be attributed to several causes; and, apart from the seasons and the state of the money market, which affect all transactions, the impending changes in the law must of course be expected to exercise a disturbing influence upon operations under the laws proposed to be repealed.

The total number and area of conditional purchases in the several districts up to 31st December, 1882, after deducting those declared void, lapsed, and forfeited, was 127,117, embracing 15,530,532 acres 3 roods and 27 perches. The addition to this area made during the year 1883 was, as already stated, 1,617,712 acres and 7 perches, in 10,674 selections. Deducting the number and area of the selections voided, lapsed, and forfeited during 1883, the number and area at present standing in the registers of this office are 133,659 selections, embracing 16,489,939 acres 2 roods and 17 perches. Of these, deeds of grant have issued for 9,608 purchases, of an area of 854,944 acres, to the end of 1882, and 1,006 purchases, of an area of 110,203 acres 1 rood, have been sent on for deeds in 1883; consequently there are now 123,045 conditional purchases in course of completion (or verification) of the conditions (or completed and bearing interest), of an area in the aggregate of 15,524,792 acres 1 rood and 17 perches. A proportion of these will be found invalid or reduced (or increased) in area, but this qualification will apply to any such statement.

III. On more detailed examination, it will be seen that in the following districts the number of original conditional purchases (requiring residence) taken up during 1882 was greater than that for the previous year, viz.:—Balranald, Bega, Berrima, Bombala, Bourke, Braidwood, Brisbane Water, Brewarrina, Broulee, Burrowa, Cassilis, Cooma, Glen Innes, Goulburn, Grenfell, Gunnedah, Gunning, Hay, Lismore, Moama, Moree, Mudgee, Narrabri, Parramatta, Sydney, Tamworth, Tenterfield, Tumut, Tweed River; and that in the following districts a decrease took place, viz.:—Armidale, Bathurst, Casino, Coonamble, Coonabarabran, Corowa, Cootamundra, Cowra, Dubbo, Forbes, Gundagai, Inverell, Mitchell, Molong, Naranderra, Newcastle, Parkes, Queanbeyan, Rylstone, Urana, and Wellington.

For the year 1883, the following districts show an increase as compared with 1882, viz.:—Bathurst, Brisbane Water, Coonabarabran, Orange, Sydney, Wellington; and the following a decrease, viz.:—Albury, Cooma, Coonamble, Corowa, Glen Innes, Goulburn, Grafton, Grenfell, Gundagai, Gunnedah, Hay, Narrabri, Patrick's Plains, Scone, Tenterfield, Tumut, Tweed River, and Urana.

The number of conditional purchases for mining made in 1882 was 762, as against 425 in 1881, and of an area of 74,695 acres 2 roods 27 perches, as against 43,259 acres 3 roods 32 perches. During 1883, 490 such purchases, of an area of 48,165 acres 28 perches, were taken up. Attention was on a previous occasion directed to these mining conditional purchases as being in excess of the legitimate effect and requirements of mining enterprise, and rather designed in many instances to secure land than to promote mining. The greater number of the recent selections are in the districts of Armidale, Berrima, Bingera, Brewarrina, Brisbane Water, Camden, Casino, Cobar, Coonamble, Coonabarabran, Condobolin, Dubbo, Glen Innes, Gunnedah, Hartley, Hay, Inverell, Mitchell, Moree, Molong, Penrith, Parkes, Queanbeyan, Rylstone, Sydney, Tenterfield, Wagga Wagga, and Urana. The only condition being expenditure in mining operations, all that is practicable in the way of restricting abuse is to scrutinize carefully the nature and amount of the expenditure, which always is done.

Conditional purchases under the 21st and 22nd sections of the Act of 1861, representing only the enlargement to the maximum limit, of purchases already made under the 13th and 14th sections, or of freehold portions of like extent, do not, except in one direction, call for special remark; that is, in the districts more particularly adapted for agricultural use, and settled at first by purchasers of small areas. The expenditure necessarily incurred in clearing and preparing for cultivation has been often in excess of that required to meet the condition as to improvements, so that it has been open to the purchasers or their transferees (more notably the latter) to extend the acreage without further conditions. Purchasers of completed selections of small area have thus been enabled in some districts to secure much valuable land at a tithe of its value; as an example of which may be cited the sugar land on the Richmond River, some of which taken as an additional conditional purchase, at a deposit of 5s. per acre, has been sold during the following week at £12 per acre and over. Much of this land in its natural state has been worth about £10 per acre, and the land having water frontage probably double that amount; but little of such land probably now remains unsold.

IV. The revenue, under the various heads of deposits, instalments, balances, and interest on land conditionally purchased, amounted in 1882 to £1,148,741 8s. 8d., being £80,862 19s. 7d. greater than that for 1881, and far in excess of that of any previous year. For 1883 the receipts amounted to £981,235 6s. 6d. There has been a falling-off under the head of deposits—corresponding with the diminished area conditionally purchased—and also in the amount of balances paid on completed selections. A considerable increase has taken place in the receipts from instalments and interest. Payment of the full balance of purchase money at any time being optional with the holders, the receipts from this source are liable to great fluctuation. The instalments, on the other hand, and interest represent a progressively increasing revenue, as in every year payments under those heads are due for the first time in respect of the conditional purchases made three and four years previously—that is to say: at the end of three years from the date of a conditional purchase the first payment of 1s. per acre is made, which is credited as an instalment of the purchase money, and in the ensuing year interest is first charged and credited, and the balance of the payment credited as an instalment.

The receipts in 1882 for instalments (£129,921 0s. 7d.) were but slightly in excess of those for 1881, which is explained by the fact that in 1881 the first instalments were received from the conditional purchases of 1878, which were in excess by half a million of acres of those made in 1879, of which latter year the instalments became due in 1882. The year 1883 exhibits an increase of £7,356 8s. 2d. as compared with the corresponding period of 1882, though the conditional purchases made in 1880 were not largely in excess of those of 1879; and in like manner, the next two years may be relied upon to yield a very considerably increased amount, corresponding with the unprecedented extent of land conditionally purchased in 1881 and 1882.

For similar reasons, the revenue for 1882 from interest on land conditionally purchased (£287,526 13s. 9d.) exceeded by over £34,000 that for the previous year, and the amount received during 1883 exceeded the receipts for 1882 by £23,149 12s. 10d.

V. Turning to the business in connection with the conditional purchase of land, I apprehend that neither its extent, requirements, nor complexity are very generally appreciated, and a brief résumé of the routine may not here be out of place. All the applications from the various Land Offices throughout the the Colony (of which there are eighty-nine) reach this Office, as a rule, within three or four days of their receipt, on the Land Office day (Thursday) in each week, by the Land Agents. They are immediately entered in the registers and examined as to regularity in form, as to whether the applicants are already the holders of conditional purchases, and if so, of what area, and other points requiring examination at the outset. Cases requiring instructions are at once submitted to me, and by me, if necessary, to the Minister; reference has occasionally to be made to the Land Agents for some explanation, or the correction of errors or omissions; but, the applications are in general dealt with and referred to the Survey Department during the week following that in which they are received by the Land Agents. Applications for measured land are readily disposed of by the charting draftsman, and, if objectionable on any ground, reported on by the Deputy Surveyor-General or other officer acting for the Surveyor-General, with a view to avoidance, or for consideration of any matter calling for decision or instructions. Applications for unmeasured land, if apparently unobjectionable, are forwarded to the surveyor for measurement; but in very many instances, both before and after measurement, they are submitted with explanatory reports and diagrams, for the decision of some question as to the form of measurement, or as to the eligibility of the selection, having regard to situation of previous alienations, interference with reserved areas, improved land, &c. This duty, performed by the Charting Branch, inevitably occupies time; it is a part, and a very important part of the operation of survey, and is of course dependent upon how nearly the Survey Department can keep pace with the demands upon it. It is obviously imperative that the practice in different districts and localities should be uniform and clearly referable to the same general principles, however divergent the circumstances, and I am bound to state that these objects are kept well in view, and that the manner in which these cases—which are numbered by thousands; often involve most intricate questions of practice; demand familiarity with the law and administrative precedents, and deal at first hand with the interests and rights (frequently in conflict), of wealthy and influential as well as poor and illiterate persons—are brought up for action and decision reflects much credit upon the able and highly-trained professional staff engaged upon the duty.

While the applications are with the Survey officers it is obviously impossible to anticipate the result, or to reply definitely, unless with the probability of misleading, or increased delays, on the various points on which applicants, perhaps naturally, seek information for their own guidance, or represent their views for the guidance of the Department. Communications received from applicants at this period are therefore referred to the officer having the case in hand, who is thus seized of and enabled to deal with it as a whole. But this disadvantage has to be undergone,—that in the meantime correspondence of this character cannot possibly be finally or promptly dealt with in this office, and business bears the appearance of arrears or neglect which is really being carefully attended to, and as rapidly as the inevitable professional references and dealings render possible.

My own sphere is limited to taking action upon, or submitting for decision, when necessary, the questions when they come to me. When it is considered that new purchases have lately been made at the rate of forty-six for every working day in the year, averaging 160 acres, and chiefly of unmeasured land, some impression may be gained of the extent of the labour, responsibility, and anxiety which it involves. And with many openings for abuse, and but too many persons ready to take advantage of them, the simplest and clearest line of duty will at times conflict with private interests and engender dissatisfaction. I can state that no delay is permitted to occur in the disposal of matters when ripe for decision or action, and that on the 31st December hardly a case remained on my hands, although I find that during that month, for example, I personally dealt with 1,455 separate cases, issued 1,280 final certificates, and indorsed 898 completed selections for final acceptance.

VI. During the year 1883, 3,220 conditional purchases, of an area of 452,709½ acres, have been found to be invalid, for various reasons, and the deposits thereon refunded. The total amount of the refund orders issued from this office was £141,348 8s. 9d., which included partial refunds owing to reduction of area. I have appended a brief summary of the principal grounds of avoidance.

VII. The scrutiny of conditions is a matter which falls within the special province of this Division, in connection with which twenty Inspectors were employed during 1882, and twenty-two in 1883. It is the duty of these officers to inspect conditional purchases on which the conditions of residence and improvement are current or declared upon, and to report the result of their inspection. Should this be satisfactory, the proper payments made, and the conditional purchase in other respects free from difficulty, the claim is indorsed and submitted to the Minister for counter-signature, and a certificate is issued of the due fulfilment of conditions. Should the inspection disclose ground of complaint, or fail to verify the claimant's declaration, the claim is referred to a Commissioner for inquiry upon sworn evidence.

At the beginning of 1882 the number of Commissioners was reduced from nine to six, which rendered necessary a re-arrangement of districts, and other measures that have been already described. The existing arrangements are set forth in an appended return. During 1882, 9,826 cases were referred to the Inspectors, and 10,748 reports received; there were 3,560 cases referred to the Inquiry Courts, and 3,042 reported on; 523 selections, of an area of 78,551 acres, were forfeited; and 7,059 claims finally passed after report or inquiry. During 1883, 10,437 cases have been referred to Inspectors, and 2,489 to the Courts; 822 selections, of an area of 104,534 acres, forfeited; and 10,918 claims passed. With very few exceptions, the forfeiture was owing to the failure of residence, and I regret to say that in many instances the penalty fell upon persons of a class whom it has been the object of the law to encourage as settlers. I refer to those already possessed of or occupying small grazing or agricultural farms, or members of the families of such persons by whom new selections have been taken up without any removal of the family home. A show, greater or less, of residence has been kept up so long as the obligation has remained in force, only to be abandoned on its expiry; and it has often been a question how many days (or nights) of residence in the week, month, or year should suffice to avert forfeiture when of real residence or settlement on the land there has been none. The occurrence of such cases has possibly offered evidence of the limit of area being still in some districts too low to admit of the land being used to the best advantage. Possibly it has also been an indication of a legitimate desire to possess and make use of land by persons who are prevented by circumstances from fulfilling the condition of residence, and of whom the majority are now shut out, or represented only by those who undertake the condition inconsiderately, or in the hope of successfully evading it. Others have been purchasers of the labouring class, who being without means to effect improvements or to make the land productive, have been obliged to leave their selections for longer or shorter periods to earn such means or even to subsist. And the most difficult feature of the case is that residence being the touchstone that distinguishes those who really mean to become settlers from the numerous agents of land monopoly, a relaxation in the one case immediately becomes lax administration in the other. I wish I could add that, in any large proportion of the claims that have been passed, the condition of fulfilled residence has outlasted the obligation to reside, but I am bound to state that the contrary has been the fact.

It has often been matter of regret that, when the conditions of selection are found to have been but partially fulfilled, no course has been open between the imposition of the severe penalty of forfeiture on the one hand or of passing the claim as if satisfactory on the other. Instances might be quoted in which, while it has been clearly shown that the land has not been sufficiently resided upon or improved, and in which consequently forfeiture has been imperative, the circumstances have indicated a bond fide intention of settlement; and again, in many cases, offering every indication (short of evidence impossible to be procured) that the conditions of the law as to agency have been skilfully evaded, or that as to residence but colourably observed, the certificates have been obtained as if every condition had been satisfied, and dishonest persons placed in as good or a better position than those who have fulfilled every obligation and requirement of the law faithfully.

I may be pardoned for claiming for the Inquiry Courts conducted by the Commissioners, who are, without exception, gentlemen of much experience, the credit of efficiency and complete freedom from bias, with a due regard to the interests both of the claimants and of the public. The inquiries have been limited to questions affecting the conditions, and cannot be made to embrace evasions, through agency (or what is known as "dummying"), unless when they appear incidentally or in the investigation of claims to completed selections. Much care has been exercised to maintain the Courts on a high and uniform level of usefulness and reliability, and, considering the critical function which they discharge, I do not think their claim to a large measure of public confidence can be questioned.

Some marked cases have been brought under notice in which agents have been employed to select land, in defiance or evasion of the penal provisions of the Act of 1875. Naturally there has been difficulty in eliciting evidence of such transactions; and although in some instances the land and deposits have been forfeited, on facts coming to light, in no instance has a prosecution yet been successfully instituted. The difficulty has been increased by both parties—the person designing to obtain land in violation of the law and the agent employed for the purpose—being criminally liable. The evidence that would be most material thus being that of an accomplice, is discredited and deprived of any practical value. It is nevertheless my belief that, in many such instances (to which I have called special attention) not only the provisions above mentioned, but also those relating to conspiracy, have been infringed.

VIII. I would call attention to the large business transacted, without difficulty or delay, in connection with the transfer of conditional purchases.

IX. I am pleased to be able to add that the business of this Division in its leading Branches was reported as free from arrears on the 31st December, 1883.

REPORT of the Surveyor-General to The Under-Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Surveyor-General's Office, Sydney, 31 March, 1884.

1. The Survey Department of New South Wales is comprised of two divisions, Field and Office.
2. In the former the officers are classed as District, First-class, Second-class, Licensed Surveyors, and Temporary Salaried Surveyors ; these officers are paid by voted salaries, with the exception of the Licensed Surveyors, who are paid by fees.
3. Returns giving full particulars as to cost, number and nature of instructions issued to and dealt with by surveyors of all classes will be found at pages 52 to 61 inclusive.
4. The District and several of the First-class surveyors are employed almost exclusively in reporting on questions requiring local knowledge, and field inspection ; in distributing, supervising, and examining the work of licensed surveyors, and acting, occasionally, themselves in cases where the duty could not economically or properly be done by licensed surveyors.
5. They also keep the district survey offices open for inquiry at all times when not absent in the field, and when they are assisted by a draftsman the office is open at all times to the public. The district survey office does not hold itself responsible for information given in anticipation of approval. The cost of a district surveyor's party and expenses is about £1,000 per annum. As a matter of fact the public are better informed on all matter regarding land in districts where there are survey offices. District Survey Offices.
Information afforded to the public.
6. The other salaried surveyors are employed in duties to which the scale of fees for licensed surveyors would not apply, as, for instance, topographical survey examination of country for roads, designs for subdivisions, alignment of streets, and reports on questions of all sorts involving local information, and occasionally in the examination of the work of licensed surveyors, supervision, &c. Surveyors.
7. In the Estimates for 1883, Survey of Lands, eight new First-class surveyors were provided for, and these have been filled by the promotion of that number of officers from the Second-class ; six new Second-class surveyors were also provided for, and these, together with the eight vacancies caused by the above promotions, have nearly all been filled from the most competent of the licensed surveyors ; a few still remain vacant awaiting recommendation.
8. Two new Second-class surveyors were also provided for under the head of Triangulation of the Colony, and six under the head of General Survey of the Colony ; these, with the exception of two, have also been filled by the appointment of officers who have proved themselves competent to carry out the duties with which they will be entrusted.
9. Notwithstanding this increase, the demand for special surveys in the county of Cumberland has kept in advance of the supply of officers qualified to carry out the work, and the loss of the four experienced surveyors who left in 1882 has not yet been supplied. Employment could be given to six equally-experienced surveyors in addition to those already employed.
10. In consequence of the great demand during the year for surveyors who have had experience in city and suburban work, and the difficulty in obtaining qualified officers, some of the junior licensed surveyors have been employed as assistant surveyors, at salaries of from 10s. to 17s. per diem, under experienced supervision, until they can be reported efficient. Assistant Surveyors.
11. The field assistants or cadets, five in number, are appointed from the volunteer draftsmen, who, having passed the second competitive examination, are sent to assist the salaried surveyors, and learn the field practice of the profession. They are paid at rates varying from 6s. to 10s. per diem, and find their own horses, camp equipment, &c. The number not being sufficient, it is occasionally supplemented by temporary field assistants (fifteen at present), and the cadet class supplies the bulk of the most successful candidates at the examinations for licensed surveyorships. Cadets.
12. A number of the licensed surveyors were employed on temporary salary in clearing off arrears of measurements, in topographical surveys of difficult country, examining roads or land with a view to survey, in the survey of Sydney for sewerage purposes, &c., but never in work that could be done by the licensed surveyors at scale of fees. The majority of licensed surveyors are located in 143 districts (see Schedule A, page 62, and map at the end of Report), into which the Colony is at present divided ; they are employed and paid by fees in measuring lands for alienation under the various provisions of the Land Law, and occasionally on the marking of roads, defining reserves, survey of features, &c. When on such service the licensed surveyor is under the supervision of the district surveyor ; and as long as he is able to keep out of arrear, that is, has no instructions unacted on longer than six months, applications for alienation were sent for measurement ; but if otherwise, the district surveyor is instructed not to regard the licensed surveyor's customary interest in the local appointment, and may send any other surveyor to work Licensed Surveyors.

work within the limits assigned. Considerable fluctuations occur in the earnings of licensed surveyors—these depending to a great extent upon seasons and consequent abundance or scarcity of feed and water, also upon the demand for land in the districts in which they are employed.

Licensed Surveyors on temporary salary.

13. The number so employed has fallen from 59 in 1882 to 39 in 1883, owing to the transfer to the permanent staff before mentioned.

14. The return at page 62 shows an apparent falling off in the total amount of measurement made during 1883 compared with 1882, which included all measurements made during the year, although not received therein, the report being kept open till March for that purpose. For 1883, the report being required early, only gives the surveys received up to end of December. I estimate that an addition of one eleventh should be added to the return referred to, which will bring it up to 3,122,345 acres, being very nearly the amount reached in 1882, when the great demand for measurements for auction sale was at its height.

15. I think the above estimate will be realized on the whole, though an exception may occur in Auction and Volunteer Land Order measurements. The increased measurement in Conditional Purchases is estimated at 188,159 acres, being about 11 per cent. on 1882, and in surveys on account of Improvement Purchases at 123,729 acres, being in the latter case an increase of about 90 per cent.

16. Although the average number of portions measured falls short, the amount of work performed by the surveyors in 1883 is greater than that of any previous year, because it embraces a larger number of separate measurements.

17. The number of licensed surveyors employed at the end of the year 1883 was 196, against 194 of the previous year; in addition to these, fifteen have been transferred to the permanent staff.

18. The following table shows the average cost per acre of measurement by licensed surveyors, from 1873 to the end of 1883, viz. :—

	s.	d.		s.	d.
1873 ...	1	5 ⁵ / ₈	1879 ...	1	2 ³ / ₈
1874 ...	0	11	1880 ...	1	2 ³ / ₈
1875 ...	0	10 ¹ / ₄	1881 ...	1	1 ¹ / ₄
1876 ...	0	8 ⁵ / ₈	1882 ...	0	11 ¹ / ₈
1877 ...	0	8 ⁷ / ₈	1883 ...	0	11 ⁵ / ₈
1878 ...	0	9 ³ / ₄

19. In estimating the cost of survey per acre it has been the practice to include in the amount all lineal measurements, some of which, roads and feature surveys for instance, are but indirectly concerned.

20. The cost of licensed survey during the year has only exceeded that of 1882 by a small fraction of a penny per acre, notwithstanding the fact that auction measurement has fallen off some 35 per cent.

21. The licensed surveyors admitted during the year are as follows :—

Messrs. H. C. Manning, H. W. Graeme, C. Brown, W. A. Lewis, W. H. Baxter, P. Cowley, M. Lucas, H. A. Evans, M. Terry, H. L. White, J. Bush, G. V. Mocatta, C. G. Mackenzie, W. M. Gordon, S. A. 23. On 31 December, 1882, the licensed surveyors had on hand the following instructions, viz. :—

Under six months date	4,754
Over six and under twelve months...	2,053
Twelve months and upwards	815

On 31st December, 1883 :—

Under six months date	2,742
Over six and under twelve months	1,138
Twelve months and upwards	668

24. The instructions in hands of surveyors at the end of 1883 are less by some 40% than at the beginning of the year, showing that in spite of drought, &c., the turning point has been passed. The greatest arrear now remaining is in the county north of the Clarence, where it will not pay licensed surveyors to work at any scale of fees yet authorized. Since the December examination four new surveyors on salary have been selected to proceed to this district.

25. In addition to the 668 instructions twelve months in arrear, there are 291 now being dealt with by surveyors on temporary salary in the Richmond River district, because licensed surveyors could not be engaged to carry them out on scale of fees.

26. Considering the bad season, and the amount of conditional purchase and improvement purchase measurements made during the year, and the cost per acre being only a fraction of a penny above 1882, the result shows very favourably in an economical point of view to the Crown, but not so to surveyors.

27. As licensed surveyors have to meet all expenses, such as labour, horses, forage, equipment, &c., in advance, and to wait for payment of balances of accounts, there is evidently a limit to compulsion in carrying out instructions that can only be executed at a loss; consequently some latitude has been allowed in time when claims for measurement are not pressing. Occasionally, under exceptionally difficult circumstances, the expense of travelling or a charge per diem is allowed, but in either case it is special.

28. The result of the year's work has not however been so profitable as the previous year to the surveyors, who have only earned on an average £770, against £865 in 1882.

OFFICE STAFF—PROFESSIONAL.

29. Having described the duties, &c., of the Field Staff, I proceed to the other principal division of the Survey Department, the Office. The purely professional duties are under my own special direction, and the office-professional under that of the Deputy Surveyor-General, and represents all the work in the Department not done by surveyors, and may be divided into the following heads, viz. :—Charting, Roads, Reserves, Compiling and Publication, Lithography, Auction, Leasing, Conditional Purchase Issue, Improvement Purchase, Miscellaneous, District Maps, Noting, Diagrams, Descriptions, Conditional Purchase Tracings, Custody of Plans, Sale of Maps, and Plan-mounting.

30. The general supervision—discipline, attendance, distribution of work and appropriation of services—is under the control of the Chief Draftsman, whose time, to a great extent, is occupied in supervising the various branches, inspecting and dealing with questions referred to him on subjects under his province in Sydney. With the exception of that of the Secretary and Cashier, every branch of the office is subject to his inquiry and superintendence.

31. The officers of the Department consist of permanent and temporary draftsmen. The permanent draftsmen are selected in the first instance after competitive examinations, and are under ordinary Civil Service rules. In the year 1877, when the strength of the Department was utterly unable to cope with current work, it was found necessary to employ temporary draftsmen, who were selected by a "Pass examination," and employed at per diem. I was therefore enabled to employ persons not eligible for the permanent staff, but whose services were of great value at a time when every one capable of passing an examination found employment.

Draftsmen.

Temporary draftsmen.

32. The number of temporary draftsmen at the end of 1883 was 241. Of this number seventy-one have had less than twelve months' experience; consequently, although the strength of the office is numerically great, it is unusually weak. The effect of the loss of 121 draftsmen during 1881 and 1882 is still severely felt.

33. In addition to the staff of draftsmen, permanent and temporary, six permanent and forty-two temporary clerks are employed in the professional branch, in duties not requiring skill in drawing; they are principally employed in keeping books of entry and despatch of papers, and assisting in various ways, thus saving the time of the professional officers.

CHARTING

CHARTING BRANCHES.

34. The branches during the year numbered twelve, each under geographical division, and conducted upon principles fully described in the Report for 1880.

35. The following statement shows the increase of work in the Charting Branches during the year, as compared with 1882 :—

The total number of letters enclosing plans received into Geographical Division during 1883 was...	11,418	=	20,223	portions	=	3,156,905	acres.
On hand in Geographical Division, 1st January, 1883	5,939	=	10,859	„	=	1,728,624	„
	17,357	=	31,082	„	=	4,885,529	„
Dealt with during 1883	9,644	=	19,234	„	=	2,843,692	„
On hand, 31st December, 1883	7,632	=	14,354	„	=	2,539,995	„
On hand, 31st December, 1882	5,939
Increase	1,584

36. The foregoing shows the number of cases in Geographical Divisions on the 31st December, 1882, to be 5,939 cases, and on 31st December, 1883, to be 7,632, thus showing an increase of work in the Divisions over the previous year to be 1,584 cases, the work dealt with compared with previous year.

In 1882	plans, 6,332	=	13,084	portions,	=	1,806,087	acres.
In 1883	„ 9,644	=	19,234	„	=	2,843,692	„
Increase over 1882	„ 3,312	=	6,150	„	=	1,037,605	„

37. The increase in acreage of work dealt with in 1883 over 1882 has been over 1,000,000 acres, but a large amount being measurement for auction, the quantity can only be regarded as exceptional.

38. Plans under reference to surveyors at the end of the year 1883 numbered 3,210, or 2,109 over those of the previous year.

The number of memoranda sent to surveyors on subjects requiring explanation during 1882 was	3,080
And during 1883	5,387
Thus showing an increase of	2,107
The number of cases requiring submission to a higher authority was, during 1882	9,685
And during 1883	6,299
Thus showing a decrease of	3,386

39. The number of cases dealt with in charting branches during the year would have been much greater had it not been for the unavoidable absence on sick leave of so many of the higher officers. Out of a total of eleven examiners of charting, an average of six only have been performing duty during the year.

40. CONDITIONAL PURCHASE.

Dealt with in Conditional Purchase Issue and Geographical Divisions :—

Conditional Purchase and Volunteer Land Orders on hand, 31st Dec., 1882	885

Showing cases on hand 31st December, 1883, to be	1,246
Do. do. do. 1882, do.	885
Increase over 1882	361

41. Comparing the number of cases in the branches on 31st December, 1883, with cases in hand at the same date in the previous year, an increase of arrears is shown to be 361 cases, which are largely accounted for by the fact that about 300 cases are awaiting plans from surveyors, acceptances of plans and submissions.

42. The Conditional Purchase Issue Branch has now been distributed in Geographical Division.

43. AUCTION.

Total applications received in Geographical Divisions during the year	157 applications	=	256,811 acres.

Do. do. 1882			161,746 "
Thus showing a decrease in 1883 of...			134,281 "

44. The decrease in lands advertised for sale arises from the partial stoppage of auction sale of country lands.

45. The auction branch ceased to exist with the year 1883; the work is now distributed amongst the Geographical Divisions.

46. IMPROVEMENT PURCHASE BRANCH.

The number of cases on hand on 31st December, 1882, was	422
Applications received during the year 1883	2,949

" " 31st " 1882	422
Showing an increase over 31st December, 1882, of	241

The increase in arrear is to be regretted, although it is not in proportion to the increase of work in 1883 above 1882, which was 729 cases.

The branch has dealt with 568 more cases in 1883 than 1882; no more assistance could have been spared to the branch, which is now closed, and the work distributed amongst the Geographical Divisions.

49. The arrears in this branch at the end of 1883 are large in comparison to 1882. In April last the work fell so short that all the contract description writers were dispensed with. No arrears accumulated till within the last two months, during which time no less than 1,467 cases were received for C.P. certificate. The contractors having gone to other employment, the work has for the time fallen into arrears to the extent of some five or six weeks.

DIAGRAM BRANCH.

50. The number of descriptions received for diagrams in duplicate and dealt with in 1883 was 11,305, being an increase of 1,281 over the year 1882; the work in the branch being up to date.

ASSISTANT OFFICE, PROFESSIONAL BRANCH.

55. This branch is of a professional character, under the Deputy Surveyor-General, and reports on cases under the alienation clauses of the Lands Acts.

56. The same duties were performed in this branch during the year 1883, including completion of action in Survey Branch of purchases legalized under the Crown Lands Purchases Validation Act, 1881, and the preparation of Schedules of Purchases proposed to be legalized under authority of Parliament.

ROADS BRANCH.

57. The Roads Branch of this Department reports in all cases of application for roads through alienated land, under the Act 4th William IV, No. 11; the alignment of streets, under Act 2nd Victoria No. 2; the alienation of unnecessary roads, under section 10 of 25th Victoria No. 1; the granting of one road in lieu of another, under section 26, and resumption of land for roads from any conditional purchase, under section 27 of 43 Victoria No. 29; and granting of public gates, under 39th Victoria No. 10. It is under the charge of an officer, who reports for the Surveyor-General to the Department of Mines, and in some cases to the Under Secretary for Lands, and he is assisted by two other professional officers, as heads of divisions, and a staff of draftsmen and clerks, who carry out the necessary action respecting the roads of the Colony in two divisions, north and south, and in these branches several improvements peculiar to the geographical divisions of the Alienation Branch have been adopted, and the records kept are in a very efficient state.

58. The number of papers received during the year 1883 reached 6,770, and on many of these separate and distinct action had been several times taken. The number of miles of road surveyed was 1,216, delineated by 261 plans, in addition to 32 plans showing 128 streets; 334 applications for roads, deviations in roads, and for alignment of streets have been received; 533 reports from surveyors, irrespective of 293 reports accompanying plans of survey; 345 objections and claims for compensation investigation, and in 25 cases compensation was recommended to be granted by reports from this branch. There are many hundreds of thousands of roads in this Colony, any one of which may form the subject of inquiry, complaint, application for resurvey, dedication, &c., or may be applied for to be purchased under the 10th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861. On each and every such inquiry or application the necessary information is given personally to the public, or is supplied in the shape of a minute of recommendation to the Under Secretary for Mines, and in some cases to the Under Secretary for Lands.

59. Comparison with the previous returns shows a steady increase of work in this branch.

RESERVE BRANCH.

60. The work performed by the Reserve Branch is as follows, viz.:—Recommending reservations from sale and lease, consisting of water supply, timber, travelling stock, camping, temporary commons, public recreation, &c., the cancellation and modifications of reserves under the 6th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, reporting on resumptions for public parks and recreation reserves; reservations for public purposes of all kinds under the 4th section of that Act; and applications in virtue of improvements within reserves; dedications for recreation and permanent commons; boundaries for proclamation for new gold-fields under the Mining Act; reserves from sale on account of gold under the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861; town and suburban boundaries; alterations in designs of same; population reserves; boundaries under the Towns, Police, and Municipal Acts, and modification and alteration in mining and municipal districts. The preparation of electoral registration, school, licensing, and police districts is acted upon by the officer in charge of this branch; also applications to mine under reserves and roads.

61. This branch also carries out the examination of all plans received for auction sale, for the purpose of ascertaining before sending on whether sufficient reservations had been made for public purposes.

62. During the year reserves in the New England and Clarence Pastoral Districts have been revised, with a view to provision being made to meet present and probable future public requirements.

63. Reserves for travelling stock, with camping sites at reasonable intervals, have been notified along a considerable number of stock routes; in many instances tracks have been marked, and the boundaries of the reserves defined on the ground.

64. The total area reserved for travelling stock during the year being 1,457,305 acres.

65. Travelling stock routes from the extreme west and north-western districts to important centres of trade and traffic have been adopted and reserved from sale.

66. 1,040,190 acres have been reserved along projected lines of railway or lines in course of construction.

67. 760,420 acres have been reserved for the preservation and promotion of the growth of timber during the same period.

68. Total area of land reserved from conditional purchase during the year 1883 included an area of 5,853,491 acres.

69. With a view to remove doubt or uncertainty as to the position of reserves, a large number have been defined on the ground.

70. A considerable number of unnecessary reserves have been subdivided for sale, and await legislation prior to cancellation.

71. A map of the Colony recently prepared is now in course of publication, showing the towns, principal centres of settlement, the railway lines completed and in course of construction, stock reserves or driftways, tanks and wells along the stock routes, with their local names, and the position and names of railway stations where stock can be trucked. The map will be found of considerable value to owners of stock, drovers, and others engaged in pastoral pursuits.

74. During the year 1880 9,742 cases were received in this branch, and action taken on 9,630; during 1881 11,397 cases were received, and action taken on 11,528; in 1882 11,600 cases were received, and action taken upon 11,850; in 1883 11,652 cases were received, and action taken upon 11,646. At the end of 1883 there were 256 cases in the branch. In addition to the above work performed by the branch, reserves were charted and examined on 10 new county maps out of 13 received, on 378 parish maps out of 384 received, and on 37 town maps out of 41 received; the number in the branch at the end of the year being 3 county, 40 parish, and 9 town maps.

75. Three weeks were also occupied during the year in charting the population reserves per Census of 1881, as provided by the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861.

76. When it is considered that there were less plans received for inspection prior to auction, owing to a reduction in the auction sales, the above represents an enormous amount of work.

DISTRICT MAP BRANCH.

77. The Land District Map Branch has continued to provide two sets of maps for each Land Agent during the year.

A large number of other maps of a miscellaneous character also have been dealt with in this branch. There are no arrears in this branch.

COMPILING AND PUBLISHING BRANCH.

78. In comparing this report with the previous year a decrease is shown in the compilation of parish maps, both in the Compiling and Geographical Divisions, which in the Compiling Branch is accounted for by the quantity of miscellaneous work performed in the branch, and the more complex nature of the counties compiled, being principally old settled counties; and in the Geographical Division from the quantity of charting work in the divisions, necessitating the employment of the entire staff in most of the divisions in charting.

79. In consequence of the impossibility of obtaining draftsmen, and the extraordinary amount of extra work thrown upon the branch during the year, as detailed below under the head of Miscellaneous Work, a measure of expediency was adopted with reference to thirteen outlying counties in the north-west of the Colony, under which maps of a temporary character have been produced, for which an equivalent has been shown in the diagram at page .

And other maps for various purposes, namely, for Amsterdam and Calcutta Exhibitions, and for other Departments.

87. By the foregoing it will be seen that the miscellaneous work has been an important item in the work performed by the Compiling Branch during the year 1883, and I may here observe this class of work is at present exclusively occupying the time of six draftsmen.

88. The strength of the Compiling and Publishing Branch consists of seventy-six officers of all grades, namely:—

Compilers	41 officers.
Issue and examination of miscellaneous contract and feature surveys	10 "
Lithographic draftsmen	14 "
Printers	11 "
Total	76 "

89. Although the numerical strength of the compiling staff is 41, I must point out that 14 have under six months' experience; and also that the services of the compilers are taken off their regular work to deal with the miscellaneous work above referred to.

90. The question of making a separate branch for the performance of miscellaneous work is under consideration.

The above return, although there is a decrease in the compilation of parish and other maps, shows that a large quantity of work has been done in these branches.

CUSTODIAN OF PLANS.

93. This officer has the custody of original plans of county and town lands in general use, except those kept in the geographical divisions of the Charting Branch, and receives and records plans from the Charting Branches as they are dealt with. He receives and issues all applications made to him for plans, carefully noting in a record book kept for the purpose the names of officers to whom they are issued, and receipt of plans when returned.

94. The number of plans recorded and kept in this branch is 111,120, the apparent decrease being caused by the various geographical divisions taking charge of the maps with which they have to deal. This branch has also the custody of old plans and 1,200 field books, surveyors' descriptions, gazettes, 1,500 mounted lithographs of auction plans, and twelve sketch-books containing sketch plans.

95. The number of plans issued and returned during the year has been 180,000

EXHIBITOR AND SALESMAN OF PUBLIC MAPS.

96. This officer has charge of all the plans that are open for the inspection of the public and those in general use by the office staff, comprising county, town, parish, and environ maps, and for general convenience keeps a daily record showing whether the maps are in his room at the head office or in the branch offices, and the names of the particular officers with whom the map or maps are to be found. He is custodian of all published lithographs, and is salesman of the same; he keeps a book showing the stock in hand and disposed of, either by purchase or issue for office use, for Land Agents or officers in the field or of other Departments, forwarding each day to the Secretary and Cashier a statement of lithographs sold. He notes applications and supplies the required lithographs; sells to persons applying verbally, and exhibits maps to the public.

97. A decrease in sales of lithographs appears during the year, the receipts having decreased from £357 17s. 2d. in 1882 to £330 17s. 1d. during 1883.

The total of lithograph maps received during 1883	93,737 copies.
Issued to various branches and Departments	34,378 "
Sold	12,629 "
Number of letters received and dealt with during 1883... ..	573 letters.

CLERK OF CHARTING BRANCHES.

98. This officer's duty is to record all registered papers received for charting purposes from the Record Branch, the number for 1883 being 38,515, an increase over the previous year of 5,167, giving required information respecting such papers, and forwarding the same to the proper officers, noting when issued and returned.

PLAN-MOUNTER.

99. The duties of this officer need not be described. Original plans and maps mounted during the year represent a total of 22,065; books bound, 40. The items of miscellaneous work performed in the branch cannot be well defined, but consists of about 1,657, such as is inseparable from the branch. The amount of linen used during the year was 6,405 square yards.

ACCOUNT AND CLERICAL BRANCH.

100. This branch employed officers both on the fixed and temporary staff, nineteen of the former and twenty-five of the latter, during the year 1883; the salaries ranged from £63 up to £450 per annum, and the total cost of the branch was £8,532 15s. 5d.

The business of the branch is divided into the following heads, viz. :—

- Accounts.
- Correspondence.
- Record of Measurements, &c.
- Stores.
- Statistics.

101. The duties of the branch may be summarized as follows :—

The total amount of accounts rendered for services of the past year, was ...	£324,014	0	0
The amount of balances of licensed surveyors' accounts for 1882 and previous years passed for payment	28,952	0	0
	£352,966	0	0
Total amount of salaries and contingencies paid was	339,724	0	0
Balance	£13,242.	0	0

102. The total number of letters, &c., written, recorded, and despatched during the year was over 25,000 on professional subjects, added to which about 24,000 notices of payment were sent out, and 1,391 on questions requiring Ministerial approval.

103. The number of communications received from surveyors—salaried and licensed—was 36,682. The number of communications received from surveyors for 1882 was estimated—the number received in 1883 is actual.

104. The number of special cases submitted for my decision direct from this branch was over 7,500.

105. The number of returns prepared during the period was six, which were of a very exhaustive character, and occupied a considerable time in preparation; the number is no criterion of the work involved.

106. The clerks employed on the permanent list have of late years been selected from those youths who have been successful in passing the Civil Service Examination, and who had an additional special recommendation from employers, teachers, &c., as to their capabilities for the duties required. Where more than one has been nominated, the successful competitor at an examination held in this office has been appointed to the vacant salary.

107. In the temporary staff the rates are now daily commencing at 4s., and rising by degrees to 15s. 11 $\frac{3}{4}$ d., the highest rate paid during the year, the conditions of service having been re-arranged so as to place members on the same footing, as regards pay and leave of absence, as the temporary staff in the Ministerial office, payment being made for six days in the week. This is exclusive of four special appointments, comprising one principal book-keeper and three ledger-keepers, at special rates, running from £225 to £300 per annum.

108. At page 52 appears a return showing the cost of each survey district, the number of instructions issued and carried out, the balance representing those transferred or remaining on hand at the end of the year; the number of instructions remaining on hand at the end of the year is no criterion of the energy or otherwise of the surveyor, the number being affected by the return of instructions by other licensed surveyors who resign or change districts. Following this is a similar return respecting the services of the temporary salaried surveyors.

TRIGONOMETRICAL SURVEY.

109. During the year, the observations at eight first-class Stations in the direct series, connecting the Lake George and Richmond bases, and of one in the northern series, have been completed; those at another first-class station were in progress, but retarded by the unexceptionally unfavourable weather in November and December.

110. The number of angles observed with 18-inch instruments is 2,680.

111. 186 second and third class Stations have been observed from, and 18,995 angles have been measured.

112. 1,300 Stations have been observed to, including observations to the same Station from two or more of the others.

113. 466 trigonometrical points have been fixed, for use in connection with the general and other surveys.

114. The triangulation of county Cumberland has been completed, with the exception of a few secondary stations, which have yet to be observed from.

115. The subsidiary triangulation of the whole of Middle Harbour, of the Parramatta River as far as Ryde, and of the Lane Cove River survey, has been finished and connected with the county triangulation.

116. A triangulation of the town of Albury, to meet immediate local requirements in survey, has been made. This is, at present, based on a side of one of the triangles in the preliminary triangulation of the counties Hume and Goulburn; but, as the original survey was made in the year 1860, with very inferior appliances, one of the lines has been selected for measurement, in anticipation of the ultimate connection with the main survey.

117. The latitude and longitude of Moruya, which is another of the points required for the compilation of a new map of the Colony, have been determined by astronomical observations.

118. In addition to the selection and marking of minor stations by surveyors, four piling parties have been constantly employed during the year; and 172 new stations have been formed in the counties of Cumberland, Northumberland, Hunter, Argyle, Cook, Durham, Gloucester, Westmoreland, Georgiana, and St. Vincent.

119. In view of the probable necessity for some large and comprehensive system of survey of the extensive plains in the north-western portion of the Colony, where, on account of the generally level character of the country, the usual method of triangulation is practically impossible, the method by which an accurate survey can be best conducted has been carefully considered; and it is certain that astronomical determinations of geodetic positions may be relied on as a check on any work performed in the ordinary manner.

120. The method of finding the latitude by means of the zenith telescope is one of the most valuable improvements in practical astronomy in recent years; and as an illustration of the degree of accuracy which may be expected in the determination of latitude by means of zenith pairs, a specimen of latitude observations made at Maroota with the 18-inch altazimuth, adapted for use as a zenith telescope, is appended. In connection with latitude observations I have to acknowledge valuable assistance derived from a catalogue of Southern stars observed at the Cape of Good Hope by Mr. Stone, now Astronomer Royal of England.

121. The determination of longitude is a much more complex matter, not only as regards the observations, but also with reference to the requisite instruments (chronometrical, electrical, and optical). The results will therefore exhibit greater discrepancies than are found in observations for latitude.

122. Preparations are in progress for carrying on the work, as indicated above, in the western districts. All the requisite new instruments have been ordered, and such alterations as are necessary in instruments in stock have been designed, and are being executed; also, steps have been taken for testing and training young surveyors for this special kind of survey.

123. The direct series of triangles connecting Richmond base with that of Lake George has been completed, so that the circuit of triangles, to which I referred in my last report as necessary for the verification of the survey as a whole, and for the comparison of the measured and computed lengths of the two bases, has been closed. The results are satisfactory, and the following statement shows, first the measure of precision or limit of error with which the survey has been conducted, and secondly, the method by which the residual discrepancies have been distributed.

124. (1.) The first measure of precision is the closing error of the triangles. The average value of this in the 42 triangles which connect the Sydney Observatory with the two bases is 0.67"; the greatest being 2.18". In order to show the quality of this work, it is necessary to compare it with that done in other countries. Thus in the survey of Ireland (about 600 miles in circuit), conducted by the Board of Ordnance, the average closing error of the six main triangles is 2.91", the least being 0.52", and the greatest 7.16". The second measure is the difference in length of any lines of the survey, for which values are found from two or more triangles, which for twenty-three lines in the series is $\frac{1}{16}$ inches per mile on the average, with a maximum of $\frac{1}{8}$ inch. This cannot be compared with the work done elsewhere, since no data are available with respect to the double values of lines as found before the final adjustment.

(2.) The usual method of adjusting the discrepancies found in triangulation is to distribute the errors by the method of "least squares." This is an extremely laborious process, as is shown by the fact that the adjustment of the main triangulation of Great Britain, by the Ordnance Survey, employed eight computers two and a half years. Taking this into consideration, together with the fact that the residual discrepancies which have to be adjusted are very small, I have determined to accept a simpler method, viz., the distribution of the errors, proportionately, through the triangles. This fulfils the required condition that the work shall close, and being, moreover, more than sufficient for all present practical purposes, enables the work to pass immediately into practical utility.

125. A correction of 2.035 inches, or 0.37 inch per mile, mentioned in my last report, has been applied to the measured length of the Lake George Base, on account of the increase in length of the wooden bars used in the measurement, corresponding to the (since ascertained) difference between their temperature when in use and at the time of comparison with the standard; their co-efficient of expansion having been determined by a series of experiments by Mr. Superintendent Conder, four years after they were used at Lake George. This leaves a discrepancy, as found from the direct series, between the two bases, of $\frac{3}{8}$ inch per mile; i.e., the Richmond Base (7 miles), computed from the Lake George Base, appears to be about 2 inches shorter than its measured length; or, similarly, the Lake George Base ($5\frac{1}{2}$ miles) appears to be $1\frac{3}{8}$ inch shorter than its computed length.

126. If, at any future time, a more strictly mathematical adjustment of this survey should be required for purely geodetic or other scientific purposes, the original data are available; being deposited, in duplicate, in fire-proof safes in different buildings; but, the adjustment which I have made being sufficiently precise for all the ordinary purposes of survey in this Colony, I do not propose to make any further alterations.

COMPUTING BRANCH.

127. The work of the Computing Branch has consisted, as in previous years, of the necessary preliminary operation of tabulating observations for use by the computer, and in utilizing the results thus obtained.

128. The calculations of trigonometrical points on the Lane Cove River, and at Botany, have been completed, and considerable progress has been made with the triangulation of Parramatta River and Middle Harbour; the number of points fixed in these metropolitan localities being 123 stations and 179 intersections. A small triangulation of the town of Albury, comprising 8 stations and 15 intersections, has likewise been computed.

129. The triangulation of the county of Cumberland has been further dealt with; the coordinates of 71 stations and 62 intersections having been calculated.

130. The computation of the diagonal series, connecting Lake George and Richmond bases, has been completed.

131. Astronomical observations, for latitude, azimuth, and longitude, have been taken during the year at Maroota and Moruya, and have been reduced by this branch, together with the latitude of Woronora, Jellere, and Towrang; and at Macalister the values of the wire intervals and micrometer screw of the new 18 inch altazimuth instrument have been determined.

132. The main triangulation has been adjusted, and the latitude, azimuth, and longitude of all the main stations in the series, have been computed from Sydney Observatory as the initial point.

133. In addition to the primary work of computing the positions of stations, &c., duplicate records have in every case been made of the results.

134. The advance work of the piling overseers in the several counties, which are to be triangulated next in order, has been plotted immediately on receipt of their reports; thus supplying a ready means of preparing skeleton schemes of triangulation as required.

135. Finally, it is to be reported, that there are no arrears of work in the branch.

GENERAL SURVEY.

136. The bulk of the work of the General Survey Branch during the year has been in examining surveys undertaken for the alignment of streets, alienation of lands, roads, reserves, commonages, public parks, &c., but the increasing number of investigations of boundaries of very old grants where they abut on Crown Lands, or form the boundaries of roads, has led to the definition and re-marking of a great number of old measured portions in the parishes of Botany, Alexandria, Hunter's Hill, Field of Mars, Gordon, and in other parts of the County of Cumberland. These investigations, required in many cases only to determine the positions of one or two lines, have necessitated surveys extending over a considerable area.

137. All the surveys in the Metropolitan District made during the last few years have been carried out under the system known and described in former reports as "co-ordinate," and therefore capable of being re-established or produced at any future time, even if the survey marks disappear and the plans are lost, as long as the field-books and trigonometrical data are preserved.

138. In consequence of the impossibility of sparing the required amount of professional assistance to this branch numbers of isolated surveys are accumulating, and the public kept without the benefit of the information contained in the numerous and costly surveys, which, with additional labour, could be compiled into maps for publication. The want of power to take full advantage of the data possessed is to be regretted, especially as the Government is without a map of the metropolitan county. This want is, however, being partially met by a preliminary compilation of the county to a scale of 2 inches to the mile. In order that the map may be available to the public as early as possible, a considerable portion of old survey more or less accurate must be used, but from time to time this will be superseded by actual survey.

139. In one or two parts of the county so much progress has been made that almost sufficient information is available for the construction of parish maps on the largest required scale. In the parish of Botany, for instance, the survey requirements have been so great during the last three years, that when all was put together only a trifling amount of additional survey was required to produce a complete map to any scale that might be desired. This is now almost completed and a map, already in hand, will soon be published which will serve as an illustration of the eventual capabilities of a system of survey under which every measurement made is available for an ultimate General Map.

140. The survey of the city and suburbs has been carried on with the assistance of fourteen surveyors, and the detail of nearly the whole of the eastern part of the city has been completed during the year as well as portions of the municipalities of Paddington, Darlington, and Redfern. A map is attached showing by red colour that part which has been completed to date. It may be observed that the rate of progress in this survey is greater than was anticipated at its outset. At that time it was estimated that the sections into which the city has been divided would each take a surveyor two and a half months to complete in detail, but it is now found that only about two months is required. This is no doubt due to the greater experience attained by the officers entrusted with this survey, which is now well in advance of any possible requirements in connection with the sewerage and water supply works now in progress, so much so that I have been able to employ the services of several surveyors on more urgent work.

141. The number of surveyors whose work is treated in connection with the General Survey has this year been forty (including the fourteen employed in the city survey above-mentioned) against thirty-one reported as having been similarly employed in 1882. Notwithstanding this increase it has only been possible to add three draftsmen to the office staff, plainly indicating that the supply of professional assistance does not keep pace with the requirements of the public in survey. This disproportion between the office and field staffs has interfered with the publication of maps as the surveys are received; consequently during the year only fifteen maps have been prepared for lithography, and only five printed and published. Trigonometrical compilations of four parishes in the county of Murray have been published during the year, as well as ordinary compilations of two other parishes and the trigonometrical maps of the county, previously published brought up to date.

142. The preparation of information as to the locality of the trigonometrical stations for purposes of future identification has been continued and 350 descriptions have been entered, making in all 2,264 described to date. Descriptions of 2,103 stations were entered at date of last report, 31st July, 1883.

143. This information will thus be found ready for publication in case it is at any time determined to amend the Real Property Law of New South Wales in the direction which legislation has taken in New Zealand under the system adopted in that Colony.

144. The premises occupied by the Department are as follows:—

Head office, Bridge-street.

Trigonometrical, General Survey, Compiling and Publishing Branches, Wolfen's Buildings, Bridge-street.

Diagram, Description, and Noting Branches, Exchange Buildings, Bridge-street.

Charting Branches, Sutton's Buildings, George-street.

Plan Mounting Branch, &c., Curcier & Adet's, Macquarie Place.

REMARKS.

REMARKS.

145. The ratio of increase of business may be deduced, vide paragraph 149, from the number of communications to and from surveyors. I may take occasion, however, to point out that the ratio of increase of cost of the Department has been for the year only 2 per cent.

146. The earnings of licensed surveyors have during the year fallen almost below the limit of profit, and several districts not affording any, even at an increase of 50 per cent. on usual scale of fees, are being worked by licensed surveyors on temporary salary, a practice which can only be advised on emergency, and it is probable that an alteration in the scale of remuneration will have to be considered, but pending amendment in the Land law action is in abeyance.

147. During the year the services of Mr. District-Surveyor Twynam have been made available in this office for 157 days assisting in professional duties, notably the preparation of a new code of instructions to district and salaried surveyors. He has dealt with nearly all the cases submitted from charting draftsmen, and also many intricate cases that had been for some time awaiting an opportunity for my attention.

148. In the annual reports of 1881 and 1882 I complained of pressure of work upon the office and of the loss of the services of 174 trained draftsmen in three years, and that "efficiency in the face of such a drain upon its resources cannot be expected, it being a fact that it requires four years experience, on an average, to make an officer efficient in all the requirements of a charting draftsman." During 1883 the number leaving this office has lessened considerably, but no corresponding desire appeared on the part of those who had left to return to office employment, and it was not reasonable to expect it whilst the surveyors, who afford employment to a great number, hold so large an amount of work as they had in their hands during 1881, 1882, and 1883. Being fully employed, the surveyors could afford to outbid the Government for the services of draftsmen, a fact to be regretted as a large amount of information is now withheld from the public in the shape of maps, the data for which are accumulating in this office without the power to take advantage of it.

149. The increase of work thrown upon the office in 1883 in excess of 1882 may be understood from the following percentages:—

Communications received from surveyors	66 per cent.
Letters sent to surveyors	19 "
Personal submissions booked to myself	25 "

The latter amounted to 20,489 against 15,020 in 1882. Of the 20,489 cases 4,296 were only memoranda to surveyors, and 1,168 salaried surveyors' progress reports. No account is taken of cases personally submitted on any subject such as designs for towns and villages, matters connected with trigonometrical and general survey. Harbor frontage cases dealt with jointly with Engineer-in-Chief 230 cases, 21 days on licensed surveyors examinations or personal interviews.

150. I may point out that this extraordinary strain in addition to interviews cannot be continued.

I have, &c.,
P. F. ADAMS.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.
NEW SOUTH WALES.

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS.

(APPOINTMENT OF MR. H. O. ROBERTSON AS TEMPORARY CLERK.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be printed, 14 November, 1883.

Mr. H. O. Robertson to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 7 March, 1883.

I have the honor very respectfully to apply for employment in the Department of Lands, and in doing so beg to point out that I was for many years—viz., from 1869 to 1877—employed in your Department, and in all its various branches, the routine of which I am thoroughly conversant with.

Enclosed please find copy of letter from Mr. Under Secretary Stephen, showing that I left the Lands Office of my own accord, and without any stain on my character. Should you be pleased to appoint me to a position in your office or any other situation, I can assure you that nothing shall be wanting on my part to carry out any duties entrusted to me with the greatest care and attention.

I have, &c.,

H. O. ROBERTSON.

Minutes.

Mr. Robertson appears to have resigned his position on the staff of this Department, as indicated by the within copy of a letter addressed to him; the original papers on the subject cannot now be obtained. I am aware that Mr. Robertson has had some experience in the Department, and is a good clerk. At the present time I am much in need of a trained officer in the Pre-emptive Lease Branch, and, if the Minister approves, I should be glad to give Mr. Robertson a trial.—C.O., 15/3/83.

Approved.—J.S.F., 15/3/83.

Salary at 12s. 6d. per diem recommended. I have had satisfactory reports from Mr. Curry, the officer in charge of the Pre-emptive Lease Branch, as to Mr. Robertson's attention to his duties.—C.O., 22/5/83.

Approved.—J.S.F., 23/5/83.

[Enclosure.]

The Under Secretary for Lands to Mr. H. O. Robertson.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 15 March, 1877.

With reference to your letter of the 26th ultimo, requesting permission to resign the appointment which you hold in this Department, I am directed to state that in accepting your resignation the Minister for Lands regrets that you have thought it necessary, for the reasons stated by you, to tender your resignation, especially as the place held by you in the Auction Sales Branch is one which at the present time cannot be easily filled.

I have, &c.,

W. W. STEPHEN.

REMOVAL OF LANDS OFFICE FROM WINGHAM TO TAREE.

No. 1.

The Under Secretary of Justice to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Department of Justice, Sydney, 18 June, 1883.

It having been decided to complete the transfer of the head-quarters of Government business connected with the Administration of Justice from Wingham to Taree, in consequence of representations made of the rising importance of and settlement of population in the latter place, I am directed by the Minister of Justice to state, for the information of the Secretary for Lands, that a minute paper has lately been submitted to the Executive Council, recommending the appointment of Mr. Jasper Albert Creagh, at present Clerk of Petty Sessions, &c., at Wingham (and who is also Land Agent), and for which no provision has been made on the Estimates of this year, to be Police Magistrate and Clerk of Petty Sessions at Taree, with salary at the rate of £400 per annum, provided by Parliament for that office, and I am to request that you will invite Mr. Farnell's attention to the action of this Department in reference to the Land Agency at Wingham.

I have, &c.,

THOMAS E. MACNEVIN,

For Under-Secretary.

Minutes on No. 1.

I concur in the proposed arrangement; advertise the change in the local papers.—J.S.F., 20/6/83. Crown Land Agent, Wingham, directed to advertise twice in each of the local newspapers that on and after the 1st proximo the business in connection with the Crown Lands Agency for the Manning River District will be transacted at Taree.—S.F., 21/6/83.

Apprise Under Secretary of Justice of concurrence of Secretary for Lands.—S.F., 21/6/83.

No. 2.

Telegram from Under Secretary for Lands to Crown Lands Agent, Wingham.

21 June, 1883.

ADVERTISE twice in each of the local newspapers that on and after the 1st proximo the business in connection with the Crown Lands Agency for the Manning River District will be transacted at Taree.

No. 3.

Gazette Notice.

Department of Lands, Sydney, 22 June, 1883.

It is hereby notified, for public information, that on and after the 1st July next the business in connection with the Crown Lands Agency for the Manning River District will be transacted at Taree.

JAMES S. FARNELL.

No. 4.

J. H. Young and C. J. Roberts, Esqs., M's.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

My Dear Sir,

Sydney, 22 June, 1883.

We hear from Wingham that an advertisement has appeared in the local journals to the effect that the business of the Land Office will be removed from that town to Taree on the 1st proximo. Some short time ago Mr. Oliver assured us that there was no such change intended, and promised that we should be consulted before it was done. Will you please see us at your office at 11 a.m. on Monday on this subject, and oblige

Yours, &c.,

J. H. YOUNG,

For self and C. J. Roberts.

Minutes on No. 4.

Mr. MacNevin informed me this morning that it was intended by the Department of Justice to defer removing the business from Wingham to Taree till 1st August next.—J.R.E., 24/6/83. Submitted.—C.O., 25/6/83.

The arrangements made by the Department of Justice may in this instance be followed.—J.S.F., 26/6/83. Telegram to Land Agent to advertise three times in each local newspaper that date of removal has been deferred until 1st August.—S.F., 26/6/83.

No. 5.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Under Secretary of Justice.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 23 June, 1883.

With reference to your letter of the 18th instant, intimating that Mr. Jasper Albert Creagh, Clerk of Petty Sessions, &c., at Wingham (and who also holds the position of Crown Lands Agent), has been appointed Police Magistrate, &c., at Taree, to which place it has been decided the head quarters for the conduct of the Government business for the Manning River should be transferred, I have the honor to inform you that the Secretary for Lands concurs in the proposed arrangement, so far as this Department is concerned.

I have, &c.,

The Under Secretary of Justice to The Under Secretary for Lands.

[Urgent.]
Sir,

Department of Justice, Sydney, 26 June, 1883.

With reference to your letter of the 23rd instant, regarding the appointment of Mr. Jasper Albert Creagh as Police Magistrate, &c., at Taree, from 1st July next, I am directed by the Minister of Justice to state that Mr. J. H. Young, M.P., has represented that it would be a convenience to the residents of Wingham who have land agency business to transact, if Mr. Creagh be allowed to remain there till 1st August next, and the Minister of Justice sees no objection to this proposal, subject to the concurrence of the Secretary for Lands, and Mr. Creagh furnishing report that the arrangement can be carried out with due regard to the public business at Taree.

[Enclosure to No. 13.]

Copy of Telegram from Messrs. T. W. Dugdale, Charles Boyce, and Joseph Laurie, J's.P., Taree, to the Minister of Justice.

Re Lands office, Manning district, a large and influential deputation waited upon our Members yesterday to complain of delay in establishing the Lands Office at Taree, the centre of population, and acquaint them that great astonishment and dissatisfaction are expressed on account of the suspension of decision after proclamation in local papers. We pray, on behalf of deputation, that the Lands Office be opened at Taree, in the office provided for it.

No. 14.

Telegram from T. W. Dugdale, Esq., J.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

Taree, 6 July, 1883.

THE committee representing Taree and Lower Manning earnestly request the establishment of Land Office at Taree, being most accessible to general public. It is the centre of population, seat of Police Magistrate and Clerk of Petty Sessions, and place for holding District Court and Quarter Sessions, also situated on main Northern coast road from Newcastle to Port Macquarie and Kempsey terminus, ocean steamer.

Minutes on No. 14.

Submitted that Mr. Dugdale be informed that it is intended to open the Lands Office at Taree on 1st August.—E.H.S., 11/7/83. Inform.—F.H.W. (for the Under Secretary), 12/7/83.

The Under Secretary for Lands to T. W. Dugdale, Esq., J.P.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 14 July, 1883.

With reference to your telegram of the 6th instant, calling attention, on behalf of the Committee representing Taree and the Lower Manning, to the necessity for the establishment of the Crown Lands Office there, I have the honor to inform you that it is intended to open the Lands Office at Taree on the 1st proximo, as notified in the Government Gazette of the 26th June last.

I have, &c.,

F. H. WILSON,
(For the Under Secretary.)

No. 16.

Messrs. Young and Roberts, M's.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 17 July, 1883.

We have the honor to state that in our opinion it will be an injustice to the residents of the township of Wingham if the Lands Office is removed from that town to Taree.

Wingham is the Government township of the Manning, and allotments have been purchased there on the understanding that it was so, and with the full expectation that it would remain so.

It has been the seat of the Lands Office for over twenty-five years, indeed ever since the establishment of a separate Lands Office for the Manning River District, and it still remains the central town for the probable future dealing in land, as well as for such transactions as are necessary from past selections; and under these circumstances we hope that the intended removal of the Lands Office to Taree will not be carried out.

We are aware that the removal was only contemplated for the reason that the lately appointed Police Magistrate for the district was appointed to Taree, visiting Wingham, Tinonee, and Cundletown, who would thus probably be more at Taree than at either of the other townships, but we would point out that even were the Lands Office established at Taree this officer having to visit and hold Court at Wingham, Tinonee, and Cundletown, could not possibly have his office open every day for the reception of interest and purchase money for selections, as is intended by the Land laws, and we therefore trust you will see your way to the appointment of a Land Agent (independent of any other Government officer), for the Manning River District, and that such officer should be stationed at Wingham, we think that there can be no doubt.

We desire further to say that a deputation is coming up from Wingham to urge this matter on your consideration, and we trust that no decision adverse to their views may be come to in the meantime.

We have, &c.,

J. H. YOUNG,
C. J. ROBERTS.

Memorial from the Inhabitants of the Middle and Lower Manning to The Secretary for Lands.

The memorial of the inhabitants of the Middle and Lower Manning, including the townships of Tinonee, Taree, Cundletown, Ghinni, Croki, Cooperbrook, Laurietown, Camden Haven, and Forster,—

HUMBLY SHEWETH :—

That, in the opinion of your Memorialists, the establishment of the Lands Office at Taree, in charge of the officer appointed to perform all the duties pertaining to the office of Clerk of Petty Sessions would be a great boon to the public generally, for the following reasons, viz., Taree is situated on the Great Northern Coast Mail Road, and in the centre of the population of the Manning, with the best roads in the district diverging from it in all directions, and is therefore more easily accessible to the great majority of the inhabitants than any other township in the district. The Electoral Roll indicates that the population east of a line drawn midway between Taree and Wingham, and running north and south through the district, is to the population west of that line as 992 to 470. An examination of the list of conditional purchases for the year ending the 1st March, 1883, reveals the facts that out of 351 conditional purchases covering an area of 19,639½ acres and made by 258 selectors, 269 conditional purchases, covering an area of 15,507½ acres, were made by 198 selectors on land as near or nearer to Taree than Wingham; eighty-two conditional purchases, covering 4,132 acres, were made by sixty selectors on land nearer Wingham than Taree. The business of the Lands Office is not increasing, for during the quarter ending the 31st March, 1883, only forty-five selections were made as against sixty for the same quarter of 1882; for the quarter ending the 30th June, 1883, only seventeen selections were made as against ninety-two for the same quarter of 1882. Of these seventeen selections only two were nearer Wingham than Taree, six were equidistant from both places, and nine were nearer Taree than Wingham.

It is a fact well known to the residents of this district that the unalienated land west of Wingham is inferior and poor. Young men who have been born and bred on the Upper Manning, and who are acquainted with the whole country up to the borders of New England, go elsewhere to seek land fit for the plough. On the other hand a considerable portion of the unalienated land on the Lower Manning and in the neighbourhood, at Wollamba, Cooperbrook, John's River, Lansdowne River, and Camden Haven, is suitable for tillage, and will be taken up for that purpose. Taree is the largest and most important township in the district; it is the place of nomination for the electorate of the Hastings and Manning, for the offices of Clerk of Petty Sessions and Police Magistrate, for the holding of District Courts, and Courts of Quarter Sessions, &c. In it are the principal public buildings of the district, the head post and telegraph office, where daily mails are despatched to and received from several sub-offices, and telegrams to and from Croki, Harrington, and Wingham are repeated; the head police station, the grounds and pavilion of the Manning River Agricultural and Horticultural Society, and a fine commodious Court-house,

Court-house, equal to and suitable for the transaction of all business connected therewith, and containing a room specially provided for the Lands Office. It is worthy of notice, that Wingham had an existence as a township long before Taree, and enjoyed all the advantages of the Lands Office and other things of that kind which Taree did not enjoy, and yet Taree has far surpassed it in size, appearance, and importance. Its position gave it advantages which have brought it to the front and will keep it there.

Taree is most convenient for all the people interested in the timber trade, which is entirely confined to the Middle and Lower Manning, and is becoming very important. In the district named there are nine saw-mills in active operation, and one in course of construction, and from it during the half year ending the 31st March, 1883, 120,000 shingles, 40,000 posts and rails, 933,000 laths, 151,000 palings, 224,000 feet of girders, 230,000 feet of junk timber, 1,975,000 feet of sawn timber, were exported.

To all the people engaged in this business the sixteen additional miles to and from Wingham would be a great inconvenience, loss of time, and expense.

Your Memorialists most respectfully request that you will be pleased to take these premises into your most favourable consideration, and cause the Lands Office to be established at Taree with the other Government Offices for the convenience and benefit of the public, and your Memorialists, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

CHARLES BOYCE, J.P.,

Chairman for the Committee representing the Middle and Lower Manning.

Mr. E. Perritt to T. W. Dugdale, Esq., J.P.

Dear Sir,

I am in receipt of your favour of the 12th. In reply thereto I am sorry to say I am unable to attend your meeting to-morrow evening as I am suffering from a severe cold, and therefore think it very unwise to be out at night, and as regards forming one of your deputation to Sydney I am sorry to say it is out of the question, but I deeply sympathise with the object of your meeting, and you will be quite at liberty to use my name to any requisition.

Mr. H. Lee to T. W. Dugdale, Esq., J.P.

Dear Sir,

I am sorry I cannot attend the meeting this evening; will you kindly apologise to the meeting for me. I would suggest that you send a deputation to Sydney at once; I have been told the Wingham people are sending down to Sydney a strong deputation, Nailor being amongst them.

Cundletown, 14 July, 1883.

With kind respects,

I have, &c.,

HENRY LEE.

Mr. H. Kitz to T. W. Dugdale, Esq., J.P.

My dear Sir,

In reply to your favour of the 12th instant concerning removal of Lands and other offices to Taree, I beg to say that rather than act individually I will bring the matter before our Progress Committee at our meeting on Monday next, which will I think be the wisest and speediest course; and I shall do myself the honor of sending you a reply which will represent the voice of the whole district from Steward's River to Jones Island.

Cooperook, 14 July, 1883.

I can predict now that that reply will most undoubtedly be in favour of Taree.

I have, &c.,

HENRY KITZ.

No. 23.

The Under Secretary of Justice to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Department of Justice, Sydney, 23 July, 1883.

A deputation having called at this Department on Friday last to urge that Mr. Creagh, Police Magistrate at Taree, should enter upon his duties at that place on the 1st August next, I am directed by the Minister of Justice to inquire whether there will be any difficulty or objection on the part of the Lands Department in regard to Mr. Creagh's duties as Land Agent.

I have, &c.,

W. E. PLUNKETT,

Under Secretary.

Minutes on No. 23.

SUBMITTED that the Department of Justice may be informed that all necessary arrangements have been made by this Department for the transfer of the Lands Office business from Wingham to Taree on 1st August.—E.H.S., 24/7/83. Yes.—F.H.W., for the Under Secretary, 21/7/83.

The arrangement was initiated by the Justice Department, and I do not see any reason for interfering with the present arrangement. Taking all things into consideration I think, under the facts and circumstances, that Taree is the most eligible and convenient place for the Land Office.—J.S.F., 3/8/83.

No. 24.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Under Secretary of Justice.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 24 July, 1883.

Referring to your letter of the 23rd instant, inquiring whether there is any objection on the part of the Department to Mr. Creagh, Police Magistrate at Taree, entering upon his duties as Crown Lands Agent at that place on the 1st proximo, I have the honor to inform you that all necessary arrangements have been made by this Department for the transfer of the Crown Lands Office business from Wingham to Taree on the date mentioned.

I have, &c.,

F. H. WILSON,

(For the Under Secretary.)

No. 25.

The Under Secretary for Lands to J. H. Young and C. J. Roberts, Esqs., M'sP.

Gentlemen,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 13 August, 1883.

Referring to your letter of the 17th ultimo on the subject of the removal of the Land Office for the Manning River District from Wingham to Taree, I have the honor to inform you that the arrangement was initiated by the Department of Justice, and the Secretary for Lands does not see any reason for interfering with it, as taking all things into consideration he is of opinion that Taree is the most eligible and convenient place for the Lands Office.

I have, &c.,

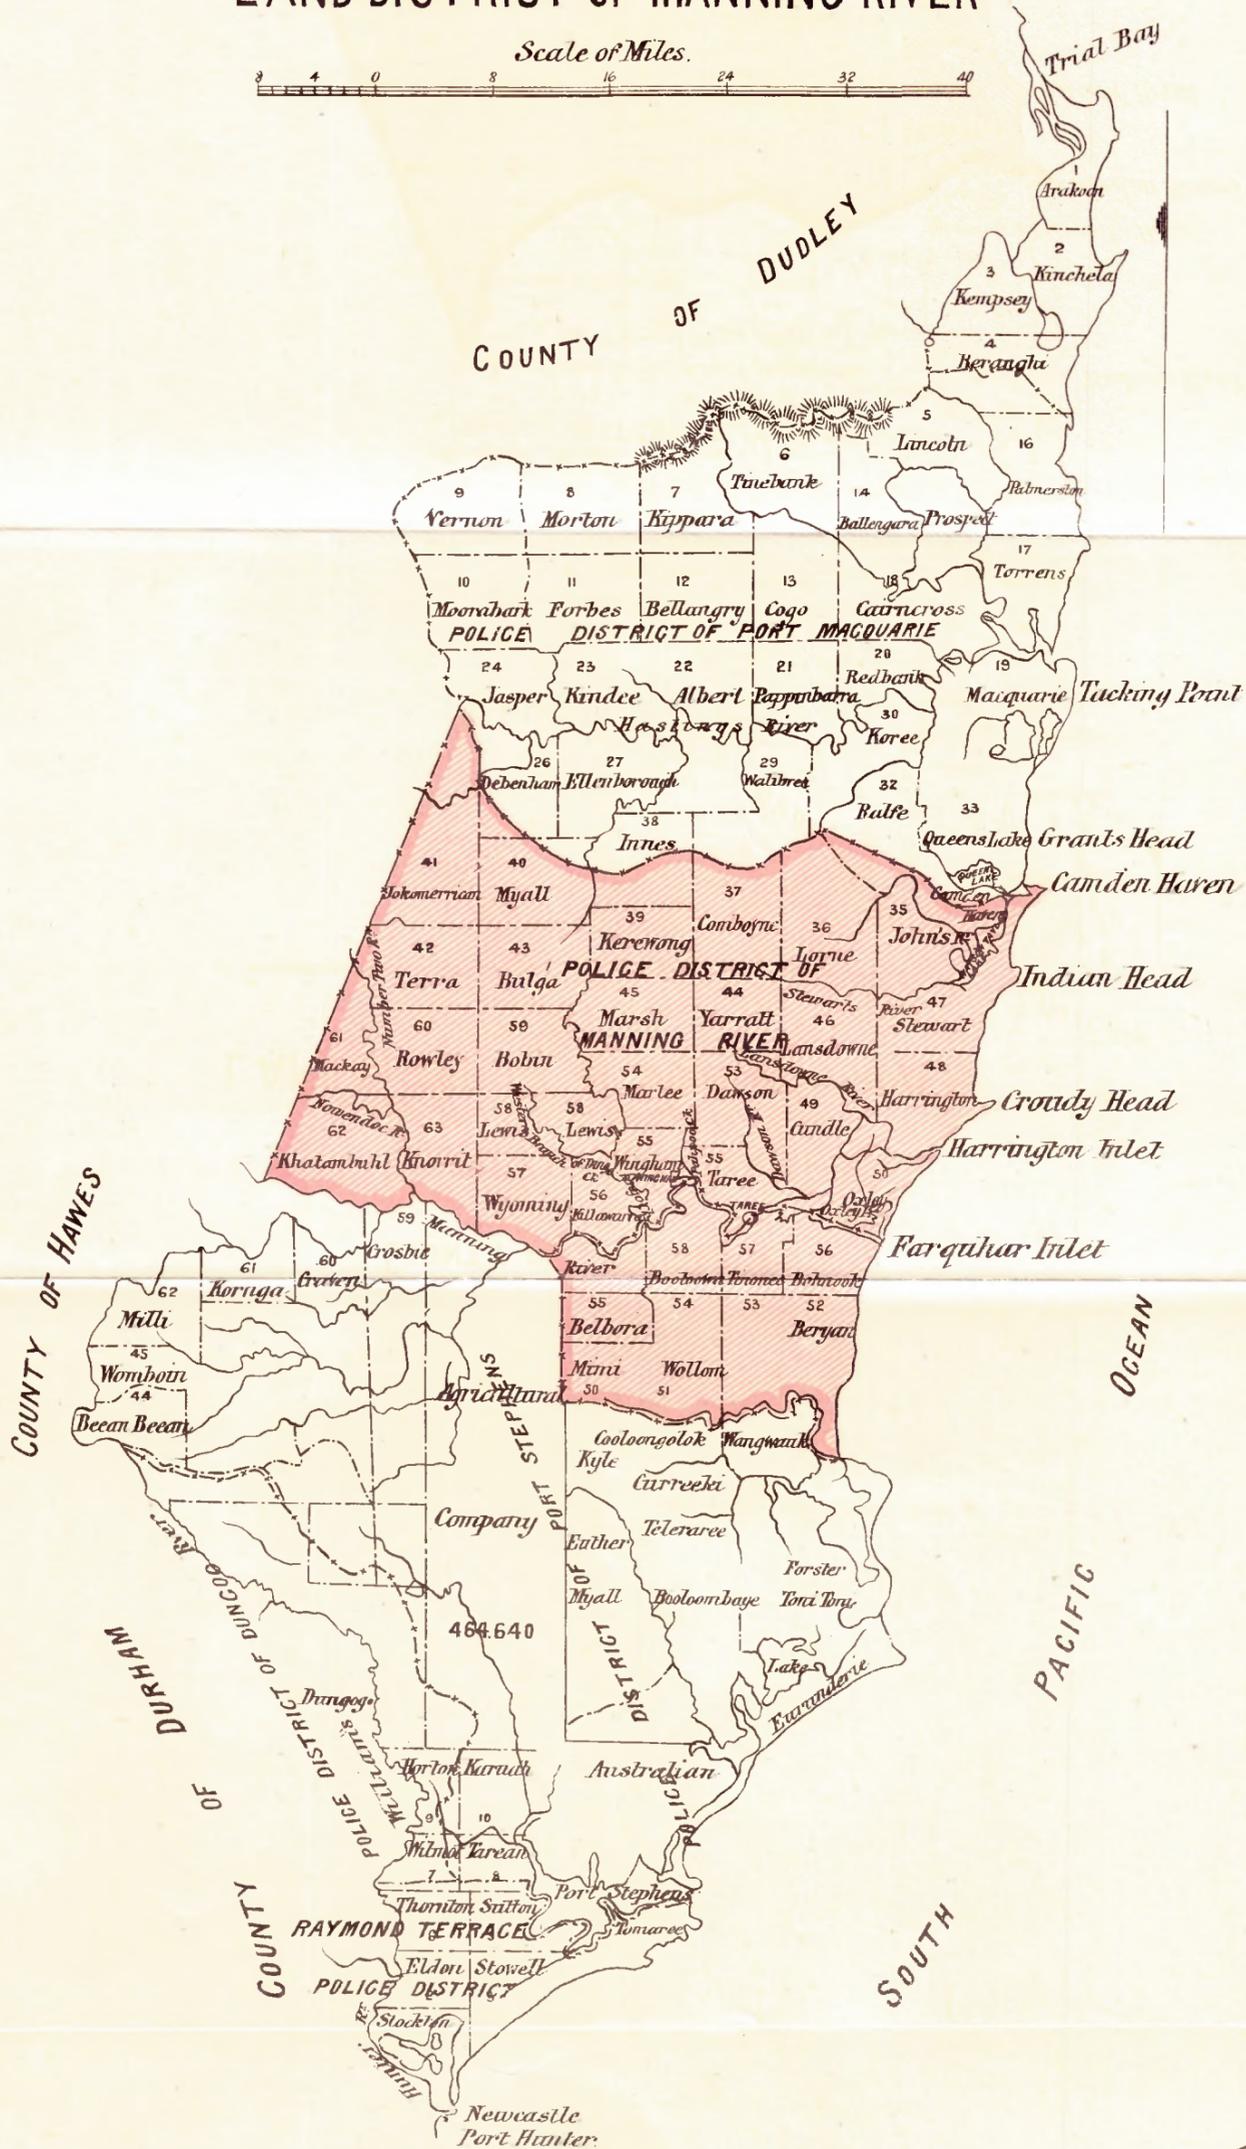

CHARLES OLIVER,

Under Secretary.

MR. HANDSAKER, LATE INSPECTOR OF CONDITIONAL PURCHASES.

No. 1.

Mr. J. McElhone, M.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir, Sydney, 12 May, 1877.
 Enclosed I have the honor to forward you an application from Mr. James Howard Handsaker, of Thompson's Creek, Scone, applying for the appointment of C.P. Inspector.

If the Government intend to appoint any more Inspectors of Conditional Purchases, I can strongly recommend Mr. Handsaker as an honorable man, in every way qualified to fill the appointment, and know him to be a steady, sober man, who would do more work in one month than six of the present Inspectors.

Although an educated man he has been compelled to obtain his living by all sorts of bush work, and is therefore well qualified to value all sorts of improvements on selections. He at present holds a selection in the Scone district.

I have, &c.,
 J. McELHONE.

Minutes on No. 1.

By the Secretary for Lands:—To be noted.—R.D., 15 May, 1877.
 Mr. Thompson,—Note in Application-book.

[Enclosure to No. 1.]

Mr. J. H. Handsaker to The Minister for Lands.

Sir,

Thompson's Creek, near Scone, 6 May, 1877.
 Having seen by the returns lately laid on the Table of the Legislative Assembly that there are a great many cases still on the hands of the Inspectors of Conditional Purchases, viz., upwards of 10,000, and thus supposing them to be in arrears with their work in consequence, I most respectfully beg to offer myself to your notice as a candidate for an office in connection with that department of employ.

I may, I think, without presumption, venture to state that I am capable of forming a pretty accurate estimate of the value of improvements made in selections, &c., having had a practical knowledge myself of all that is required in that regard, whether of building, fencing, clearing, or earthworks, and if you do me the honor to appoint me I shall endeavour to discharge my duties justly and efficiently so as to merit your approval.

Hoping you will take the matter into your favourable and worthy consideration,—

I am, &c.,
 JAMES HOWARD HANDSAKER.

No. 2.

Mr. J. McElhone, M.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 3 September, 1877.
 Some time since I had the honor to recommend Mr. James Howard Handsaker, of Thompson's Creek, Scone, to the Honorable Richard Driver, for employment as a Conditional Purchase Inspector, and also to forward an application from him to Mr. Driver for employment as above.

If any new appointments of Conditional Purchase Inspectors are about to be made, I can strongly recommend Mr. Handsaker for an appointment of Conditional Purchase Inspector. He is well educated, and a steady, sober, honest man, and well up in the value of improvements, as he has for some time been a contractor for such work as fencing, dam and well-sinking, and hut-building in the country, and also well able to value ploughing, clearing, and stumping; and, as he is a practical farmer, I shall be pleased to hear of his obtaining an appointment as Conditional Purchase Inspector, if any appointments are made.

I have, &c.
 J. McELHONE.

Minute on No. 2.

By the Minister for Lands:—Submit this application when the question of filling up of next vacancy occurs.—T.G., 5/9/77.

No. 3.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Mr. J. McElhone, M.P.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 19 September, 1877.
 With reference to your letter of the 3rd instant, recommending Mr. James Howard Handsaker for employment as an Inspector of Conditional Purchases, I am directed by the Minister for Lands to inform you that this gentleman's application will be taken into consideration when a vacancy occurs.

I have, &c.,
 W. W. STEPHEN.

No. 4.

Memorandum by Chief Commissioner.

[Immediate.]

Inspection of conditional purchases.

WITH reference to the enclosed papers, and to certain suggestions which I have had the honor of submitting to the Minister, for a change of system as to the verification of declarations of conditional purchases now largely and increasingly in arrear, I have the honor to state that, unless the Government should see fit to bring immediately into operation the amended system recommended, a considerable increase in the staff of Inspectors will be imperatively necessary, and in any event it is now impossible to carry on the duty without assistance, as will be seen from the enclosed statement of the duty in hand awaiting the action of these officers.

In October last, Mr. Secretary Garrett found it necessary to appoint, temporarily, eight additional Inspectors, whose employment was however, as explained in the accompanying papers, discontinued shortly shortly afterwards Mr. Farnell has recently authorized one of those officers (Mr. Carne) to resume duty, under the former arrangement, during the illness of Mr. Lord (since deceased), and another, Mr. Meyer, to complete the duty entrusted to him by Mr. Garrett. I respectfully suggest that at least six additional Inspectors, including these gentlemen, be temporarily appointed on the same terms.

The provision for the service in the present year's Estimates now before Parliament has, as already pointed out, been, by misunderstanding, proposed at an amount below the Vote for 1877, and the Minister has already intimated an intention of including the deficit in a Supplementary Estimate. This may suffice for present requirements, but it will probably be necessary to obtain a further supply late in the year when Parliament is again in Session and the amount actually required can be estimated more accurately than at present.

A.O.M.,
22/2, 1878.

Minutes on No. 4.

By the Under Secretary:—[Urgent.] As the Additional Estimates have been urgently asked for by the Treasury, perhaps the Minister will decide as to the employment of these Inspectors. I would myself submit that, if such temporary appointments are to be made, it would be better to place an amount on the Additional Estimates at once, and thus prevent the very undesirable state of things which occurred in the case of the last appointments (and even with some of the permanent staff), when the officers were kept for weeks out of the money justly due to them. It is impossible to say when there will be another opportunity of making legal provision for the expenditure proposed to be incurred.—W.W.S., 4th March.

By the Secretary for Lands:—Approved.—J.S.F., 4/3/78. Put on a lump sum.—J.S.F.

By the Under Secretary:—[Urgent.] Will Con. Sales insert in enclosed draft Estimate the probable sum required.—W.W.S., 4/3/78.

By the Chief Commissioner:—Returned as requested. Papers to be retransmitted to me for action.—A.O.M., 4/3/78.

No. 4A.

Mr. J. McElhone, M.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 4 March, 1878.

I have the honor to enclose you a letter from Mr. J. H. Handsaker, of Thompson's Creek, Scone, applying for the situation of temporary Inspector of Conditional Purchases.

I can strongly recommend Mr. Handsaker as a man well qualified in every way to perform the duties pertaining to the office, having been a contractor for all sorts of bush work.

I understand that several temporary Inspectors of Conditional Purchases will have to be appointed to do arrears of work. I shall be pleased if Mr. Handsaker receives one of the appointments.

I have, &c.,
J. McELHONE.

[Enclosure to No. 4A.]

Mr. J. H. Handsaker to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Thompson's Creek, near Scone, 2 March, 1878.

Having seen, by the Returns some time ago laid on the Table of the Legislative Assembly, that there are a great many cases still in the hands of the Inspectors of Conditional Purchases, viz., upwards of 10,000, and thus supposing them to be in arrears with their work, and having also been advised that you are about to make several appointments of temporary Inspectors, I most respectfully beg to offer myself to your notice as a candidate for an office in that department of employ.

I may, I think, without presumption, venture to state that I am capable of forming an accurate estimate of the value of improvements generally made on selections and recognized as such, having had a practical knowledge myself, generally speaking, of these things; and if you do me the honor to appoint me, I shall endeavour to discharge my duties justly and efficiently, and shall also endeavour to bring up all arrears as soon as possible, so as to merit your approval.

Hoping you will take the matter into your favourable consideration,—

I have, &c.,
J. H. HANDSAKER.

No. 5.

Memorandum by Under Secretary for Lands.

Conditional Purchase Inspectors Temporary Staff.

MEMORANDUM.—In reference to the recent approval by the Minister for Lands of the employment of six temporary Inspectors of Conditional Purchases, and to the amount which it is intended to ask from Parliament for that service, I should be glad to know if it is desired that the persons to be appointed should be informed at once, with a view to their entering upon their duties (as to which they will as upon the last occasion be referred to the Commissioner of Conditional Sales), or whether the matter should remain in abeyance until the money has been voted.

If the former is the course to be adopted, I would ask whether the gentlemen whose names are noted in pencil on the margin of Mr. Moriarty's minute herewith are those to be employed, viz., Messrs. T. B. Carne, J. O'Hara, G. Spring, — Rogers, and J. A. Davies.

Mr. Carne is, I believe, at work already in the room of the late Mr. Inspector Lord.—W.W.S., 26 March, 1878.

Minutes on No. 5.

By the Secretary for Lands:—The persons whose names are in pencil on Mr. Moriarty's memorandum should be employed as Conditional Purchase Inspectors, as Temporary Inspectors, at the usual rates.—J.S.F., 27 May, 1878.

By the Under Secretary:—Perhaps, to save possibility of mistake, the Minister will kindly note in ink the names of the gentlemen he has finally decided on appointing.—W.W.S., 27 May, 1878.

By the Secretary for Lands:—Now inserted in ink, Patrick Cullen, William Spicer, J. H. Handsaker, T. H. Kendall, J. O'Hara, G. Spring, — Rogers, J. A. Davies.—J.S.F.

By the Under Secretary:—The Minister omitted Mr. Carne's name from this list, as he is already employed in the room of the late Mr. Lord. Write to the abovenamed persons in terms similar to letter addressed, on 10th October, 1877, to Messrs. Spring, Noake, and others.—W.W.S., 28 May.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Mr. J. H. Handsaker.

Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 28 May, 1878.

I am directed to inform you that the Minister for Lands has approved of your being temporarily appointed Inspector of Conditional Purchases, with remuneration at the rate of 10s. 6d. for each case reported upon, and 25s. per diem for travelling expenses whilst actually employed on such duty.

Instructions, &c.

No. 12.

The Chief Commissioner to Mr. J. H. Handsaker.

General Circular.

Sir, Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, Sydney, 10 October, 1879.

The Minister has directed attention to the great falling off of the Land Revenue and consequent necessity for great economy in departmental expenditure, which must be adjusted to correspond with its diminution, as well as with the progress of the special duties in connection with which the staff of the Department has been from time to time increased.

It becomes my duty to intimate to you the probability of very considerable reductions taking place in this Division at or about the close of the year. You will therefore please receive this intimation as a notice of your services being probably dispensed with at that period.

You will be good enough to acknowledge the receipt of this communication at your earliest convenience.

I have, &c.,

A. O. MORIARTY,
Chief Commissioner.

No. 13.

The Chief Commissioner to Mr. J. H. Handsaker.

General Circular.

Sir, Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, Sydney, 2 January, 1880.

With reference to my letter of the 10th October last, advising you of a probable reduction at the present time in the staff of temporary Inspectors of Conditional Purchases, I have now the honor, by direction of the Minister for Lands, to inform you that the special duty which led to your employment having been brought nearly to a close, your further services will not be required after the completion of the instructions at present in your hands, which I have to request you will be pleased to carry out with as little delay as possible.

It is proper that I should add that your services are about to be dispensed with, not in consequence of any complaint as to the manner in which you have performed your duties, with which I have every reason to be satisfied, but owing to a general reduction that has taken place in the Temporary Staff of the Inspectors of Conditional Purchases.

I have, &c.,

A. O. MORIARTY,
Chief Commissioner.

No. 14.

Petition presented by Mr. Robert Barbour, M.P.

To the Honorable the Minister for Lands,—

The petition of the undersigned conditional purchasers and inhabitants of Jerilderie and surrounding districts respectfully sheweth:—

- 1st. That your petitioners have learned with regret that it is your intention to remove Mr. Handsaker from the position of Conditional Purchase Inspector for this district.
- 2nd. That much inconvenience and delay is incurred, in many instances even at present, in consequence of the extent of the district and large amount of work to be performed by Conditional Purchase Inspector.
- 3rd. That the extent and importance of the district entitle it to the services of an Inspector, and that such services are absolutely necessary.
- 4th. That we have always found Mr. Handsaker a courteous, obliging, and efficient officer.

Your petitioners therefore trust that you will give these premises your careful consideration, and continue Mr. Handsaker in the inspectorship of this district.

And your petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray—

SAMUEL WILSON, J.P., Jerilderie,
And thirty-six other signatures.Minute on No. 14.

By Secretary for Lands:—The Chief Commissioner of Conditional Purchases,—The petitioners should be informed that it has been found necessary to reduce the staff of Temporary Inspectors, hence Mr. Handsaker's services have been dispensed with, but that under any circumstances he would not have been retained as an officer of this Department.—J.H., 20/7/80.

No. 15.

Petition by seven Conditional Purchasers.

To the Honorable the Minister for Lands, Sydney.

The petition of the undersigned conditional purchasers in the Colony of New South Wales humbly sheweth:—

That your petitioners have been informed that it is the intention of the Government to dispense with the services of Mr. Conditional Purchase Inspector Handsaker.

That your petitioners having always received the utmost courtesy and attention from Mr. Handsaker in his public capacity, regret the step about to be taken by the Government of this Colony.

Your

Your petitioners therefore pray that you will be pleased to use your influence at the next Executive meeting to retain the services of Mr. Handsaker, either in this or some other Government appointment. And your petitioners, &c., &c.

JAMES HAMILTON,
And six other signatures.

Petition from residents of Urana.

To the Honorable the Minister for Lands,—

Having heard with regret that you are removing our present Inspector of Conditional Purchases, Mr. J. H. Handsaker, from this district, we, the undersigned, beg you to reconsider your decision.

The short time that he has been in this district we believe he has acted justly and impartially to all parties, viz.,—squatter, selector and the Government; and as there are plenty of selections urgently required to be inspected, we humbly hope you will reinstate him in his former position. He has a large district to travel over, but now he is acquainted with it.

And your petitioners will ever pray.

Petition by twenty-five Conditional Purchasers.

To the Honorable the Minister for Lands,—

Having heard with regret that you are removing our present Inspector of Conditional Purchases in this district, we beg to hope you will reconsider your decision.

Since the Inspector, Mr. J. H. Handsaker, has been in this district we believe he has acted fairly, justly, and impartially to both squatter, selector, and also the Government; and as he is acquainted with the district we hope you will reinstate him in his former position, there being yet a great number of selections urgently required to be inspected.

And your petitioners will ever pray.

Mr. G. O'M. Clarke to The Chief Commissioner.

Sir, Land Commissioner's Office, Young, 20 August, 1880.

I have the honor to report that, at the Land Court presided over by me at Urana on the 16th instant, Mr. Inspector Handsaker presented himself in a state of intoxication, and his demeanour and conduct were most insolent and offensive.

As this is not the first occasion on which Mr. Handsaker has been guilty of similar outrageous behaviour, I have to request that I may for the future be relieved of any official relations with a person whom I have no hesitation in designating a disgrace to the Public Service.

I have, &c.,
GEORGE O'MALLEY CLARKE.

The Under Secretary for Finance and Trade to Mr. J. H. Handsaker.

Sir,

The Treasury, New South Wales, 28 July, 1880.

I beg to inform you that an order in your favour is payable at this office; particulars are given in margin. Should you desire the amount paid into a bank you will please state so, and further, if the money is to be transmitted to a branch you will have the kindness to give the name of the place. If you should make the amount payable to an individual, you will please direct such person to call at or communicate with this office.

An order is attached at foot which you can fill up in accordance with the above instructions and return this paper to the Treasury.

I am, &c.,

J. D. CRONIN,

(For the Under Secretary for Finance and Trade).

The Honorable The Treasurer,—

I hereby authorize the sum of £18 15s. due to me at the Treasury to be paid on my behalf to the Bank of New South Wales, Urana.

1883-4.

 THE CASE OF MR. J. H. HANDSAKER.

 REPORT.

THE SELECT COMMITTEE of the Legislative Assembly, appointed on the 4th March, 1884,—“with power to send for persons and papers, to inquire into and report upon the circumstances under which J. H. Handsaker was appointed Acting Inspector of Conditional Purchases; and also upon the circumstances under which the salary, or any part of it, of the said J. H. Handsaker was paid to John McElhone, Esquire, one of the Members for The Upper Hunter,”—have agreed to the following Report:—

1. Your Committee having examined the witnesses named in the list and considered the evidence, find:—

- (1.) That a contested election took place for the Upper Hunter Electorate during the month of June, 1875, the candidates being Thomas Hungerford, Esq., and John McElhone, Esq., and that during the said contest John McElhone, Esq., first became acquainted with J. H. Handsaker and Thomas Handsaker, and that J. H. and Thomas Handsaker were employed by John McElhone, Esq., as paid canvassers at the rate of 30s. (thirty shillings) per diem.
- (2.) That on or about the 10th day of July, 1875, John McElhone, Esq., lent to J. H. Handsaker the sum of £100 (one hundred pounds), bearing interest at the rate of 9 (nine) per cent. per annum, and that J. H. Handsaker gave John McElhone, Esq., a promissory-note for twelve months as security.
- (3.) That a second contested election took place for the Upper Hunter Electorate during the month of August, 1875, when Thomas and J. H. Handsaker were employed as paid canvassers, in the interest of John McElhone, Esq., at the rate of 30s. (thirty shillings) per diem.
- (4.) That on or about the 12th day of July, 1875, J. H. Handsaker selected 240 acres of land, immediately adjoining land held and owned by John Henry Davies, paying the deposit £60 out of the £100 lent to him by John McElhone, Esq., M.P.

- (5.) That John McElhone, Esq., M.P., applied in the following terms to the late Hon. Richard Driver, Minister for Lands :—

(No. 1.)

Sir, Sydney, 12 May, 1877.
Enclosed I have the honor to forward you an application from Mr. James Howard Handsaker, of Thompson's Creek, Scone, applying for the appointment of C.P. Inspector.

If the Government intend to appoint any more Inspectors of Conditional Purchases, I can strongly recommend Mr. Handsaker as an honorable man, in every way qualified to fill the appointment, and know him to be a steady, sober man, who would do more work in one month than six of the present Inspectors.

Although an educated man he has been compelled to obtain his living by all sorts of bush work, and is therefore well qualified to value all sorts of improvements on selections. He at present holds a selection in the Scone district.

I have, &c.,
J. McELHONE.

Minutes on No. 1.

By the Secretary for Lands :—To be noted.—R.D., 15 May, 1877.
Mr. Thompson,—Note in application-book.

and to the Hon. Thomas Garrett, Minister for Lands :—

(No. 2)

Sir, Sydney, 3 September, 1877.
Some time since I had the honor to recommend Mr. James Howard Handsaker, of Thompson's Creek, Scone, to the Honorable Richard Driver, for employment as a Conditional Purchase Inspector, and also to forward an application from him to Mr. Driver for employment as above.

If any new appointments of Conditional Purchase Inspectors are about to be made I can strongly recommend Mr. Handsaker for an appointment of Conditional Purchase Inspector. He is well educated, and a steady, sober, honest man, and well up in the value of improvements, as he has for some time been a contractor for such work as fencing, dam and well-sinking, and hut-building in the country, and also well able to value ploughing, clearing, and stumping; and as he is a practical farmer I shall be pleased to hear of his obtaining an appointment as Conditional Purchase Inspector, if any appointments are made.

I have, &c.,
J. McELHONE.

Minute on No. 2.

By the Minister for Lands :—Submit this application when the question of filling up of next vacancy occurs.—T.G., 5/9/77.

and to the Hon. J. S. Farnell, Minister for Lands :—

Sir, Sydney, 4 March, 1878.
I have the honor to enclose you a letter from Mr. J. H. Handsaker, of Thompson's Creek, Scone, applying for the situation of temporary Inspector of Conditional Purchases.

I can strongly recommend Mr. Handsaker as a man well qualified in every way to perform the duties pertaining to the office, having been a contractor for all sorts of bush work.

I understand that several temporary Inspectors of Conditional Purchases will have to be appointed to do arrears of work. I shall be pleased if Mr. Handsaker receives one of the appointments.

I have, &c.,
J. McELHONE.

and in consequence of such applications, J. H. Handsaker was temporarily appointed as Inspector of Conditional Purchases by the Minister for Lands on the 28th day of May, 1878.

- (6.) That on the various dates, from the 3rd day of July, 1879, to and inclusive of 4th December, 1879, by authority given by J. H. Handsaker, John McElhone, Esq., M.P., drew from the public Treasury the sum total of £330 17s. 6d., forwarded to J. H. Handsaker and Mrs. Handsaker the total sum of £196 7s., refunded to Treasury the sum of £2 10s., and retained the sum of £100 for repayment of loan which he advanced to J. H. Handsaker, and the sum of £32 0s. 6d. for interest on said loan, thus accounting for the total sum of £330 17s. 6d.

- (7.) That on the dates of John McElhone, Esq., M.P., applying for the appointment of J. H. Handsaker, there was due by Mr. Handsaker the original loan of £100 and two years interest.
- (8.) That at the time J. H. Handsaker was appointed there was a lien upon the selection by one Little, as security for debts incurred, and that J. H. Handsaker, shortly after his appointment, transferred all his interest in the selection to his brother, Thomas Handsaker.
- (9.) That the reasons assigned by J. H. Handsaker for applying for and accepting the appointment was that he was in pecuniary difficulties, in consequence of severe losses arising from various causes.
- (10.) That J. H. Handsaker appeared before your Committee in such a state of intoxication as to necessitate the adjournment of the Committee to another day.

2. Your Committee are of opinion that the evidence of Messrs. G. O'Malley Clarke, S.M., J. Wilshire, J.P., J. H. Davies, J.P., J. Sullivan, and Dr. Creed, establishes the fact that the intemperate habits of J. H. Handsaker, before his appointment as Inspector of Conditional Purchases and during his tenure of office, rendered him an unfit and improper person to receive such appointment.

MINUTES OF EVIDENCE

TAKEN BEFORE

THE SELECT COMMITTEE

ON

THE CASE OF MR. J. H. HANDSAKER.

WEDNESDAY, 19 MARCH, 1884.

Present:—

MR. MELVILLE,	MR. MERRIMAN,
MR. DAY,	MR. W. CLARKE,
MR. BURNS,	MR. FARNELL,
MR. MOSES,	MR. COPELAND.

NINIAN MELVILLE, ESQ., IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. Thomas Handsaker called in and examined:—

1. Chairman.] About what date did you first become acquainted with Mr. McElhone? I cannot recollect the date; it was at the time he put up as a Member the first time.
2. That was in June, 1875. Mr. Hungerford was a candidate for the Upper Hunter, and Mr. McElhone opposed him. That was the first time you became acquainted with him? Yes.
3. Did you take any part in that election at all on that occasion? Very little.
4. What do you call very little;—did you take any part at all? I voted for Mr. McElhone.
5. Did you assist him in any other way? No.
6. Did you canvass for him? I went about with my brother; my brother was canvassing for him.
7. You are quite sure your brother was canvassing? Yes.
8. Did Mr. McElhone gain the election on that occasion? No, I do not think he did on that occasion.
9. Do you remember any other occasion after that when Mr. McElhone contested an election? Yes, shortly after.
10. Was Mr. McElhone successful on the second occasion? Yes.
11. Did you take any part in the second election? No.
12. None at all? I acted as scrutineer for Mr. McElhone on the second occasion.
13. Do you not think that is taking part in the election? Certainly.
14. Did you do anything else;—did you attend meetings or canvass? I might have attended meetings, but not to take any active part.
15. You swear you did not endeavour to induce people to assist you in securing Mr. McElhone's election? No, I will not swear that; possibly I did speak to some, but not to many.
16. Why did you tell us you did not take any part. Had you selected any land at that time? Me and my brother selected between us.
17. Where was the land you selected situated? At Thompson's Creek.
18. Was it then in the possession of anybody for pastoral purposes? It was in the possession of a person named Worrard.
19. In what way had he possession of it? He had it on a prelease, I believe.
20. What was Mr. Worrard; was he a free selector or a squatter? I could hardly define what he was. He had ground which he had selected, and he had more ground. I do not know how he became possessed of the other ground.
21. Mr. Day.] Whose run was he on? He joined Mr. Davis's run.

Mr. T.
Handsaker.
19 Mar., 1884.

22.

- Mr. T. Handsaker.
19 Mar., 1884.
22. Whose run was it? He was renting some land from some gentleman.
23. Mr. Burns.] Was Mr. Davis a squatter? Yes.
24. And this land adjoined his? Yes.
25. You do not know whether the person who held the land you selected, was a squatter or a selector? I think he was a small squatter.
26. Chairman.] Was Mr. Worrard a free selector or a squatter? I suppose he may be termed a squatter; I believe he was both.
27. Mr. Day.] What was the name of his run? I never heard it.
28. To your knowledge, did Mr. Worrard or Mr. Davis take any part in this election? Not to my knowledge.
29. Chairman.] Do you recollect the date of your selection, the date on which you made the selection? No, I do not.
30. Do you recollect the year? I think it was in 1874 or 1875; I am not sure which.
31. Mr. Clarke.] Was it the year of the election? I believe it was in June the selection was taken up, but I cannot say what month the election was held. It was the same year, I believe.
32. Chairman.] Will you swear it was not between the first and second election? No, I cannot swear that; I cannot recollect whether it was or not.
33. Will you swear it was not in the month of July, 1875?
[Mr. Burns objected to the mode of examination. Witness withdrew. Committee deliberated. Witness recalled.]
34. Chairman.] With regard to this selection—I want to fix the date, if I can. Was the selection made about the 22nd July, 1875? I think that was the date; I am not certain about it.
35. What money did you pay, and in what way did you pay it, at the Lands Office, when the selection was made? £60, I think.
36. How did you pay it—in notes, gold, or cheques? In notes. My brother paid it.
37. Were you there when your brother paid it? Yes, I was in the office.
38. Did you during the month of July, 1875, you, and your brother conjointly, or your brother separately, receive on loan a sum of money from Mr. McElhone? I did not.
39. You did not? No.
40. Do you know if the £60 paid for the land was part of a loan made to your brother? Yes.
41. What was the total amount of money which your brother borrowed and from whom? He borrowed £100 from Mr. McElhone.
42. About the time the selection was made? Yes.
43. Do you know what security he gave for that money, or whether he gave any? A pro-note, I believe.
44. Did you give your brother any security for the £30 which would be your share of the selection money—you were jointly interested? No, I did not.
45. Did you go into possession of this selection, you and your brother? Yes.
46. How long did you remain in possession? About four years.
47. And you then disposed of it. When did you receive your appointment on the Railway? Twelve months ago last February.
48. Did your brother give you a half share in this ground without any responsibility for the payment? I would have been a great deal better without the share.
49. Did your brother give you a half share in the selection without any responsibility for the £60 that was paid for it? Yes, he did.
50. Mr. Burns.] Was the selection made in your brother's name? Yes.
51. Chairman.] As a matter of fact, you have not paid any portion of the £60? No.
52. You were about during the elections in 1875, both of them—one in June and the other in August—mixing with the public when they were taking place? Yes.
53. You had an opportunity of observing your brother's conduct? Yes.
54. Did your brother take any part in Mr. McElhone's interest? Yes, he canvassed for Mr. McElhone.
55. On both occasions? Yes.
56. At the time of these elections, when you had an opportunity of observing your brother's demeanour, was he steady and sober in his habits? Yes.
57. During these elections? Yes.
58. Did you ever see him the worse for liquor? Yes.
59. Did you see him the worse for liquor during the elections at any time? No.
60. After the elections? No, nor after the elections not till after he had left his appointment; after he left his appointment I saw him when he was not sober; after he quitted the appointment I have seen him tipsy.
61. You are quite sure you never saw him tipsy during the elections or before he received the appointment? Before he received the appointment I have seen him so, but it was some time before the elections.
62. The elections were some time previous to the appointment? Certainly.
63. What I want to ask is this:—During the time of the elections, and up to the time of his receiving the appointment, did you ever see him the worse for liquor? No, I cannot recollect that I did.
64. Do you know if for this £100 lent to your brother there was any interest to be paid? Yes.
65. What amount? 9 per cent.
66. When you took this joint selection up on Mr. Worrard's pre-lease, did it interfere at all with his business that he was carrying on, taking this land from him? No, except the loss of the ground.
67. What use was he putting this ground to when he selected it? Grazing sheep upon it.
68. Do you know if any part of that £100 was paid while you were in joint possession of the selection? Paid back, do you mean?
69. Yes? Not to my knowledge.
70. Do you know if any part of it has been paid back? I believe it is all paid. My brother told me so in his letters.
71. How did he pay it back;—in what way? I do not know.
72. Did he say in his letters in what way he paid it. I do not mean in notes or gold;—was it paid back while you were on the selection? I was on the selection, I believe, when it was paid back.
73. You remained in possession of the selection when your brother went out as conditional purchase inspector? Yes; I put the improvements on it.

74. Do you know whether the money was paid back out of your brother's salary? It must have been, I think. Mr. T.
Handsaker.
75. Did your brother, in any of the letters he wrote to you, say it was paid back out of his salary? No; he never told me how it was paid back. 19 Mar., 1884.
76. Could you fix the time your brother wrote and told you it was paid back? No.
77. Do you think it was paid back in the year 1879? I could not fix the date.
78. You know the year your brother was out as a conditional purchase inspector? No.
79. It was in the year 1879 he was out as inspector of conditional purchases; can you fix in your mind whether it was paid during that year? It was paid while he was out.
80. With 9 per cent. interest? With 9 per cent. interest.
81. Did Mr. McElhone ever have any conversation with you about the matter? No. I do not know when I saw him last—it is a long time ago.
82. The loan was absolutely to your brother, for which you were in no way responsible, and your brother paid it back? Yes.
83. You paid no share of it? No.
84. Who received the proceeds of the selection? It went to liquidate a debt of my brother's.
85. The selection was sold after this loan of £100 was repaid? Yes.
86. Mr. Clarke.] Did you sign the promissory-note for £100? No.
87. Was the £100 Mr. McElhone lent to take up this selection? Yes.
88. Lent to take up this particular selection? It was lent to take up a selection; it was lent to my brother to take it where he liked.
89. Did you take up the selection jointly with your brother, and hold yourself responsible for the loan? No.
90. You were to have a half interest in the selection without any responsibility for the loan? Yes.
91. Were you in the same district with your brother when he was acting as inspector of conditional purchases? No, I was on the selection.
92. From the date of the selection up to 1879 was any demand made by Mr. McElhone for the payment of this £100 and interest? No, I do not think there was.
93. Upon you or your brother? Not that I am aware of.
94. Mr. Burns.] How long were you residing on the selection? About four years.
95. During that time did you give your personal services for the improvement of it? Yes.
96. Did you receive any wages from your brother? None at all.
97. What improvements did you make? It was principally fenced in, but it was not quite finished, a well sunk, and two houses built upon it.
98. Where these built under your supervision? I did the work myself; my brother assisted me at first.
99. When he got his appointment you took charge of the selection? Yes.
100. What was the selection sold for finally? £120.
101. Had you left the place before it was sold? Yes.
102. How did that come to pass? I did not think it was any use stopping; I was doing no good on it.
103. How long have you been in the Government service? Fifteen or sixteen months.
104. In the Railway Department? Yes.
105. Who received the proceeds of the sale of the selection? The Bank.
106. Who was the money paid to? The Bank put it up, and sold and received the money.
107. It was used to cover an advance from the Bank? Yes.
108. And your labour on the selection went for nothing? It went for nothing.
109. You got no return for it? None at all.
110. Mr. Merriman.] Did you have any conversation with Mr. McElhone about the loan yourself? None at all.
111. You only know of it from your brother? That is all.
112. Did he ever say to you that Mr. McElhone had made any demand upon him for the money? No.
113. You know Mr. McElhone recommended him for the appointment he received? Yes.
114. You say it was in 1875 you took up the selection;—do you remember the date of your brother's appointment? No.
115. In 1878 I think it was—did your brother at any time live upon the selection with you? Yes.
116. Up to when? Up to the time he went away to Albury.
117. To take up his appointment? Yes.
118. During that time what was his conduct as to sobriety? He was steady and sober, as far as I know during that time; he had not much means to do anything else with.
119. He was steady up to the time of his appointment? Yes.
120. Mr. Moses.] Did Mr. Worrard take part in the election when Mr. McElhone opposed Mr. Hungerford? No, I do not think so.
121. Who recommended you for your appointment? Mr. McElhone.
122. Mr. Burns.] What are you now? A Railway porter.
123. Chairman.] You did not see the promissory-note at any time that your brother gave Mr. McElhone? No, I did not.
124. Your brother told you he had given it? Yes.
125. Mr. Day.] Were you under any obligation to Mr. McElhone when he recommended you for appointment in the Government service? None at all.
126. You owed him no money? None at all.
127. Who found the money to carry on the improvements on the selection? I used to go out and work till I made some money, and then come back and work upon the selection till I was short again, and then I went and made some more.
128. Chairman.] Have you received any letters from Mr. McElhone since this matter was brought before Parliament? None.
129. Have you written any to him? I wrote one.
130. Have you communicated with your brother about this matter since it has been before the House? Yes, I wrote to him last Friday.
131. Did you write before that? I sent him the papers.

MINUTES OF EVIDENCE TAKEN BEFORE THE SELECT COMMITTEE

- Mr. T. Handsaker. 132. Did you communicate anything to your brother with reference to Mr. McElhone when writing to him? I believe I told him the case was brought before the House, or words to that effect.
- 19 Mar., 1884. 133. Mr. Merriman.] Did you or your brother know Mr. McElhone before these elections? No.
134. Chairman.] Your first acquaintance with Mr. McElhone was made during the first election? Yes.

John Mildred Creed, Esq., called in and examined:—

- J. M. Creed, Esq. 135. Chairman.] Do you know Mr. James Howard Handsaker? I do.
- 19 Mar., 1884. 136. Do you know his brother, Thomas Handsaker? Yes.
137. Had you any acquaintance with them in Scone? Yes, for some years.
138. Were you at any time medical attendant to the family of J. H. Handsaker? Yes.
139. Did you receive payment of your fees as such medical attendant? I did not in one case.
140. Was any reason assigned by Mr. or Mrs. Handsaker for non-payment of your account? I rendered accounts on various occasions; but on one particular occasion, after Mr. Handsaker had been appointed inspector of conditional purchases, I met Mrs. Handsaker on the road between Thomson's Creek and Scone —
141. Mr. Merriman.] Was Mr. McElhone present? He was not.
142. Chairman.] What answer did Mrs. Handsaker make to you when you applied for payment of your account? I said to her, "I did not bother you for the money when you were hard up, but you might pay me that small sum now that your husband has got an appointment." She said, "We have not much means now; Mr. McElhone draws the money from the Treasury and sends me a pound or two occasionally, but I will write to him and see if I can get the money for you."
143. Has that account since been paid? No.
144. Have you applied to Mr. Handsaker for it? No, it was no use doing so. I happen to have that account in my pocket now.
145. Were you at Scone at the time of the contested elections between Mr. Hungerford and Mr. McElhone? Yes.
146. Both elections? Yes.
147. During that time had you any opportunity of observing Mr. Handsaker's general demeanour and conduct? I was not mixed up much with the election, but I saw him, as is usual with many people at such times, very excited over the election, and I consider that he was at times the worse for liquor.
148. Did you see him at any time after the election, between the time of the election and his receiving his appointment, the worse for liquor? I have seen him so at various times, but I do not remember the dates or instances. I was continually meeting him about the district.
149. Is the Committee to understand that Mr. Handsaker's general conduct and demeanour was not that of a steady man—in fact that he was frequently drunk? I have seen him the worse for liquor, and I have heard of his being so in instances.
150. Had you been called upon to recommend him for any position, would you have done so in language of this kind: "I can strongly recommend Mr. Handsaker as an honorable man, in every way qualified to fill the appointment, and know him to be a steady, sober man?" I would not have recommended him at all; I do not think he was a man fit for the appointment; I was astonished when I heard he had been appointed.
151. Mr. Day.] Were you at the election? I was in Scone at the time, but I do not know that I took any part in it.
152. Did you notice Mr. Handsaker the worse for liquor during the election? Yes.
153. Many times? No, I cannot say many times; I noticed that he was excited, and had had drink.
154. Mr. Burns.] Were you in the habit of seeing Mr. Handsaker frequently in the Scone district before his appointment? Yes, I saw him every month or so, perhaps oftener.
155. What was the result of your observation of his habits? I did not think him a steady man.
156. And you say you were astonished when you heard of his appointment? Yes.
157. Was that partly on the ground of his being unsteady? Yes.
158. Or on the ground of want of education and fitness? No, the man is sufficiently educated.
159. Your objection was as to his habits? Yes.
160. Mr. Merriman.] How long have you known Mr. Handsaker? I knew him about three years before that, in 1872.
161. What was he doing? Bush work.
162. You say he was excited at the time of the election? Yes.
163. People do get excited at elections, do they not? Yes.
164. Was he taking any part in the election? Yes, he was travelling about with Mr. McElhone; at least I believe so—I understood so.
165. When did you first commence to attend the Handsaker family? Probably about 1873 or 1874 I attended a child, and that account was paid at once.
166. In reference to this unpaid account, when was that attendance given? I cannot tell you the exact date, probably in 1876 or thereabouts.
167. When did you make demand for the money? About every three months I think.
168. How long after Mr. Handsaker got the appointment? I do not know; it was before he had the appointment. I had got sick of asking him for it, but when he got the appointment I thought there might be a chance.
169. But you cannot say when you first made the demand upon him? No.
170. Chairman.] You are quite positive you made a demand for payment on Mrs. Handsaker during the time Mr. Handsaker was in the Government service? Perfectly positive. If he had not had the appointment I should not have thought it was the slightest use to ask for it.

Mr. James Howard Handsaker, called in and examined:—

- Mr. J. H. Handsaker. 171. Chairman.] When did you first become acquainted with Mr. McElhone? Well, you are asking me now what I really cannot possibly answer, because my books are not here.
- 19 Mar., 1884. 172. Do you remember an election taking place between Mr. Hungerford and Mr. McElhone? Yes, well.

173. Was that the first time you knew him? No, I knew Mr. McElhone long before that; I knew him at Breeza and at Cliff's, while I was only a working man; I knew him well.
174. Did you take any part in the election? I did.
175. In whose interest? In Mr. McElhone's.
176. Do you recollect the second election? I do.
177. Did you take any part in that? I did.
178. In whose interest? In Mr. McElhone's.
179. Between the first and second elections did you select any land? I did not, not to the best of my knowledge; mind you, I will not be sure to a day.
180. Mr. Day.] Perhaps you do not understand the question? Yes, I understand the question well; it simply means in this way: Did I receive the cash from Mr. McElhone? I know what it means well enough.
181. Chairman.] I asked if you had made a selection? Yes, I did.
182. You say you remember the first election between Mr. Hungerford and Mr. McElhone? Yes, I do, well.
183. You say you also recollect the second election when Mr. McElhone was successful? Yes.
184. Between these elections did you select any land? I won't swear that; I don't think I did; neither did I; I did not.
185. When did you select the land? After these elections.
186. It was after the elections? Yes.
187. Did you make any selection on 22nd July, 1875? Of course if you have it there you know I did select on that day, myself and my brother; it is that long ago that I had forgotten all about the date.
188. You did select on the 22nd July, 1878? I will not swear it, for I do not know that I did; I have not got the deeds.
189. You do not remember the date? No.
190. Did Mr. McElhone advance you any sum of money, and what amount? Yes, he did lend me money before this; he had lent me money at various times.
191. Did Mr. McElhone between the first and second elections, in both of which you took part, lend you any money, and what amount? You are asking me things that I can't swear to; he lent me money.
192. Did you give Mr. McElhone, at any time between these elections, or about the time of these elections, a promissory-note? I did; I will admit owing the money to him, but as to the date I will not say that.
193. What amount was the promissory-note for? It was for money lent.
194. What was the amount? Do you mean the amount in full?
195. Yes? The amount in full at first was £100, and I paid him 9 per cent. interest on that.
196. Did he lend you any more money after that? No.
197. Did that £100 cover all you owed him? I owed him nothing.
198. Did the £100 for which you gave him a promissory-note represent all you owed him? Either you are working at the wrong end of the stick or I am; he lent me £100; he lent it to me out of pure good nature.
199. I must have a straightforward answer? I can't answer no more straightforward than I am doing.
200. Mr. Burns.] Did that £100 represent all that was due by you to Mr. McElhone? Yes, fully, and more so, because there was the interest added to it.
201. Chairman.] The interest was added to the promissory-note? Yes, of course it was.
202. The promissory-note for £100 included the interest, and you did not actually receive £100? I received £100 from Mr. McElhone.
203. Will you tell the Committee in what way you received that money—in cash or by cheque? By cheque; I put the cheque through the Bank of England.
204. Mr. Moses.] The Bank of England? The Bank of New South Wales, I mean.
205. Mr. Burns.] Was the interest added on to the promissory-note? The interest was not added on at all; I paid the interest.
206. Why did you not say so before? You bother me here; I would rather be somewhere in the bush.
207. Chairman.] Did you borrow that money to take up the selection? I did.
208. On whose ground did you take it up;—who was the Crown tenant of the land on which you selected? There was none; it was waste land.
209. Do you know Mr. Worrard? I do.
210. Has he any land there? Yes.
211. Was your selection on his pre-lease? No, he never owned a pre-lease; he was not worth it.
212. Do you know Mr. John Davis up there? Yes.
213. Was your selection on any land he held? No.
214. Was it near any land he held? No, indeed, it was not.
215. During these elections to which we have just referred, do you remember going to Denman with Mr. McElhone? No.
216. Do you remember going to Gundy with Mr. McElhone? No.
217. Were you at Merriwa with him? I was not—at none of those places.
218. Did you accompany Mr. McElhone at all during the elections? I did not—not one foot. I never went one inch with him anywhere.
219. During either or both of these elections were you at any time intoxicated? Me! Well, gentlemen, I thought you were insulting me when you spoke to me as you did. As to intoxication, I never drink at all—not intoxicating liquors. I may take a drink, but not of alcohol. I never drink alcohol—never. I have not done so for years.
220. Will you kindly tell the Committee now how much interest you paid for the £100 you borrowed at 9 per cent.;—how much did you pay? 9 per cent.
221. For how many years? I could not tell you without referring to my books. I will tell you as near as I can tell you. I did not pay it long, you may be sure. I am not in the habit of borrowing without paying. I do not think I paid it above five years altogether—I did not pay it five years.
222. Did you pay the interest for seven years? I do not think I did. I do not think I ever paid it that long.
223. Do you remember receiving an appointment as conditional purchase inspector? Yes.
224. Do you remember authorising Mr. McElhone to receive your salary? Most decidedly. I recollect it well.

- Mr. J. H. Handsaker.
19 Mar., 1884.
225. Have you repaid this £100? Of course it was repaid straight away, as soon as I got the money.
226. Have you repaid it? Yes.
227. How did you repay it? By cheque from the Treasury. It was paid to Mr. McElhone by cheque from the Treasury.
228. Did Mr. McElhone deduct it from the amount of money he drew on your behalf from the Treasury? He did not deduct it all at once. I think he deducted first one £10 and then another. I cannot say, because I have not got my books. This is confusing--this is.
229. With the £100 so taken he also took the interest, did he? The interest was paid, begging your pardon. The interest was already paid beforehand.
230. Paid beforehand? If you have a bill due, I suppose the interest must be paid.
231. Will you tell the Committee how you paid the interest? Gentlemen of the Committee must know that if you have a bill running due the interest must be paid.
232. How was that interest paid;—I want a straightforward answer? It was paid in hard cash.
233. At what time? Before the bill came due the money was paid in hard cash at the Bank of New South Wales. Good God Almighty, what do you mean? You try to make a man a liar. I cannot suffer this, gentlemen.
234. I want you to understand that you are to answer the questions put to you the same as if you were before a Court? I think if I was before a Court the gentlemen would use more courtesy to me than what you are doing now.
235. What I want to get at is this:—You say Mr. McElhone lent you £100, for which you gave him a promissory-note, and that £100 Mr. McElhone deducted in various sums out of the money he drew for you from the Treasury. Is that correct? It is as near as you may call it.
236. Did Mr. McElhone deduct any money for interest on this promissory-note? Never.
237. Mr. Burns.] When you gave that promissory-note to Mr. McElhone I understood you to say you paid the interest? Yes, I did.
238. How did you pay it? Through the Bank of New South Wales, by cheque; I sent him a cheque.
239. For how long? For twelve months.
240. You sent Mr. McElhone a cheque to pay the interest for twelve months? I did.
241. Did you go to the Bank and ask the Bank to give you a draft? That is what I mean; I gave them the money, and they gave me a draft.
242. For the first twelve months? The first and second I paid in a similar way.
243. For how long was that? I paid in the amount for the twelve months.
244. The second year? Yes.
245. Mr. Copeland.] For about five years, do I understand? No, for four years.
246. Chairman.] You paid the interest for four years in this way;—what reason had you for paying the interest separately? Mr. McElhone never drew a penny except what I authorized.
247. You authorized Mr. McElhone to draw your money from the Treasury? Yes. Let us come to the point at once; tell me really what you want and I will speak the truth; I do not understand this beating about the bush; I do not understand this humbugging about; I do not understand what you mean.
248. Have you written any letters to the newspapers about this matter? I have.
249. Will you kindly look at that letter (handing to witness the Evening News of the 6th March), and tell the Committee whether it is the substance of what you wrote to the Evening News? Yes, that is my own letter; a copy of my own letter at any rate.
250. Then what is the meaning of this;—recollect you have told the Committee that Mr. McElhone deducted the money due to him from the money drawn by him on your account from the Treasury:—“After my appointment as Inspector of C.P.’s, I found there was no money coming in for services rendered, and after several months of working and waiting I applied to Mr. McElhone to collect the moneys due to me. He did so, and forwarded the money collected intact, except for stamps.” Will you kindly tell me which statement is correct, the one you have made to the Committee, or the one you have made to the public through the Evening News? I hold that my statement is correct; he forwarded the money to me; I asked him to pay himself; I received the money; I consider I did receive it in cash.
251. Then you consider you told the truth to the public? Most decidedly.
252. At the same time you tell the Committee Mr. McElhone deducted the money to pay himself. Did you receive £330 from the Treasury through Mr. McElhone? Yes, I received some money; I cannot say just the amount.
253. Will you kindly look at this (authority for payment to Mr. McElhone, page 13 of the printed papers)? I will admit all this at once; I authorized Mr. McElhone to collect the money.
254. You recollect writing this authority? Yes, more than once I have written it.
255. Do you recollect writing that authority, dated Urana, 29th June, 1879? No, I do not recollect just that one; I have written scores.
256. Was Mr. McElhone present when you wrote that authority? No, he was not; how could he be when I wrote to him from Urana.
257. Will you kindly tell the Committee how his name comes to be signed as a witness to your signature? I know nothing about that. How can I know anything about that?
258. (Authority read) Now I ask you do you remember writing that? I recollect writing all my vouchers.
259. Will you say you did not write that authority? No, I will not; of course I did write it.
260. Was Mr. McElhone present when you wrote it? No; it is well known he was not present. I made these documents payable to Mr. McElhone.
261. Here is a special authority written by you and sent to the Treasury;—will you say Mr. McElhone was not present when you wrote it? Yes, most decidedly I say he was not present.
262. Will you give the Committee any reason why Mr. McElhone’s name appears there as a witness to your signature? No, I can give no reason.
263. Mr. Farnell.] Was this authority or letter, authorizing Mr. McElhone to receive your salary, written at Urana or in Sydney? At Urana. After I had been in the service six or seven months I could not get a penny-piece from them, and I began to get stumped.
264. Mr. McElhone did not sign this document as a witness in your presence? Never.
265. Mr. Burns.] When you signed any document similar to that did you send it to the Department or to Mr. McElhone? My vouchers were all made payable at the Bank of New South Wales branch Bank at at Urana. There was six or eight months' going on when I wrote to Mr. McElhone, and he got the money for me.

266. When you signed that document did you give it to the Bank or send it to Mr. McElhone? I sent it with the vouchers to Mr. Moriarty, the Chief Commissioner, to the office, made payable to Mr. McElhone, of course to go through the regular routine.

267. You sent that document straight to the Department? Yes, straight to the Department.

268. Not to Mr. McElhone? No.

269. Chairman.] You say you had to employ Mr. McElhone's services on account of the delay in the Department? Yes.

270. Why did not Mr. McElhone continue to draw all your salary? He can tell you best himself.

271. Did he tell you why? No; he was not satisfied with me, or something. I had something like £300 owing from the Department after leaving the service.

272. You cannot tell us why Mr. McElhone ceased to draw your money? No; they paid it into the Bank of New South Wales just as they liked, now and again.

273. The last money Mr. McElhone drew for you was on the 4th December, 1879—£22 11s. 6d.? Right you are.

274. The next money was paid into the Bank on the 13th August, 1880. Can you give any reason why Mr. McElhone did not draw this money? No reason. The simple reason why he drew any of it was that I could not obtain it.

275. Has Mr. McElhone returned you the promissory-note? Yes; of course it was returned at the time when I paid him the balance.

276. You have already said he took the money out of your salary, which he drew? No, I told the Committee nothing of the kind. I had paid a portion already.

277. How much did he keep out of your salary. Give us the amount approximately? I might have paid him £50 or £60, or something like that.

278. Are we to understand that he kept £50 out of your salary? You can understand it in a way that he did.

279. You must give a direct answer? I will give a direct answer if you ask me straightforward.

280. I want you to tell the Committee what amount Mr. McElhone kept out of your salary? He kept nothing, not in that way, except that he got paid for stamps.

281. Did Mr. McElhone keep any sum of money from £330 he drew on your account towards liquidating the debt of £100 which you owed him? Yes, he did.

282. How much? I cannot tell you how much.

283. Mr. Burns.] Was there any statement of account between you and Mr. McElhone after his drawing this money. Had you any account from him? Long before this I had.

284. Was this promissory-note in point of fact discharged out of the moneys received by Mr. McElhone from the Treasury on your account? Yes, most decidedly it was.

285. Chairman.] Do you remember how much? I will not say anything of that unless I am positive about it.

286. Mr. Farnell.] Is not this the fact, that the whole of the £100 you owed Mr. McElhone was liquidated by him stopping instalments from the money he received on your account from the Treasury. Is not that a fact? It is a lie, begging your pardon. Oh, God help me!

287. How was this money paid back to Mr. McElhone? (No answer.)

288. Chairman.] Is it a fact or not a fact as Mr. Farnell has stated? It is a lie distinctly.

289. You do not seem to understand the question? I think I do understand it too well. I owed him £100, and I paid him £20 or £30 before I was appointed.

290. Will you tell the Committee how you repaid Mr. McElhone the £100? Have I not told you already. I paid one £10 and another £10; I cannot tell you, not to a trifle; I paid him by instalments, but there was nothing less than £10.

291. At the time of your receiving your appointment do you remember how much of the £100 you still owed? No, I do not exactly; something like £50 or £60.

292. Then that £50 or £60 was paid out of the moneys which Mr. McElhone drew from the Treasury on your account? Of course it was.

293. Mr. Copeland.] He deducted the money and sent you the balance? No, there was no deduction at all; it was at my own request he did it.

294. Mr. Merriman.] He took it out of the money he received from the Treasury? Yes, he took a certain portion at a time.

295. Have you written Mr. McElhone any letters about this matter since it has been before Parliament? Yes, I have.

296. How many? I cannot tell you; I have not written him many; I have only written one I cared about, and that was to ask him a simple question.

297. Chairman.] How many acres did you select? 240.

298. Did you pay for the selection by cheque or in notes? I paid in cash.

299. Do you recollect appearing before Mr. O'Malley Clarke at any time when you were a conditional purchase inspector? Yes.

300. Did he at any time when you appeared before him object to the state in which you appeared? He did once; twice I believe. Perhaps we had better have a thorough understanding; I never knew of this before.

301. Did he in your presence at any time —? Once he told me I was not in a fit state; I was not in the service then at all; I had left it. I was there, and I was dragged into the room in spite of myself; I did not wish to go in. At the same time there was no love lost between Mr. O'Malley Clarke and myself.

302. You received an advance of £50 from the Government when you entered on your appointment;—how much of that advance have you repaid—is any of it still owing? I do not think there is, for I think there is money owing to me yet.

303. Have you repaid the Government the £50? Yes, twenty times over.

304. Do you know anything of Mr. McElhone paying £10 of that on account? No, and he never did, never in his life; he never paid nothing for me.

305. Did any of the persons who drew money for you at the Treasury pay any portion of that £50? There was no one drew any money for me except Mr. McElhone and Mr. Herbert Brown.

Mr. J. H. Handsaker. 306. Will you look at page 21 of the printed papers—pay voucher, No. 20,924? I cannot see how you can make anything out of that. The Department deducted the £10, and paid the balance to Mr. McElhone.
19 Mar., 1884.

FRIDAY, 21 MARCH, 1884.

Present:—

Mr. BURNS,	Mr. MOSES,
Mr. DAY,	Mr. TARGETT,
Mr. MERRIMAN,	Mr. COPELAND,
Mr. FARNELL,	Mr. WM. CLARKE.

NINIAN MELVILLE, Esq., IN THE CHAIR.

Present in the Room: John McElhone, Esq., M.P.

James Daniel Cronin, Esquire, called in and examined:—

J. D. Cronin, Esq. 307. Chairman.] You are Paymaster at the Treasury? Yes.
308. Do you produce some original documents? Yes, the vouchers in the case of Mr. J. H. Handsaker, and also a general order from Mr. Handsaker to pay Mr. McElhone moneys due to him. (Papers referred to produced.)
21 Mar., 1884.
309. Mr. Day.] Mr. McElhone appears to have signed this order as a witness? No, that is not Mr. McElhone's signature; the party who made out the voucher simply inserted the name here as well as there; it is a mistake.
310. Chairman.] How many payments did Mr. McElhone receive from the Treasury on Mr. Handsaker's account? The payments made from the Treasury to Mr. McElhone on behalf of Mr. Handsaker were as follows:—

3 July, 1879	£30 0 0
	29 18 6
	11 5 0
	6 16 6
	26 5 0
	—	£104 5 0
4 July	17 17 0
25 August	20 0 0
	30 0 0
	23 15 0
	13 15 0
	—	87 10 0
20 November	49 7 0
21 November	5 15 6
4 December	22 11 6
	12 12 0
	30 19 6
	—	66 3 0
		£330 17 6

311. There is a minute amongst these papers by the Auditor-General, dated 30th July, 1879, asking why vouchers 15,109 to 15,136 inclusive had been paid without the authority being produced? The authorities were in my hands when I made these payments, and were sent to the Auditor-General from time to time.

Charles Nicholson Jewell Oliver, Esquire, called in and examined:—

C. N. J. Oliver, Esq. 312. Chairman.] You are Under Secretary for Lands? Yes.
313. You produce some papers in connection with the application and appointment of Mr. J. H. Handsaker? Yes. (Papers produced.)
21 Mar., 1884.
314. Are the papers here with regard to the selection? I have been unable to trace the selection. The papers I produce have been printed; there is nothing in these papers that is not in the printed documents.
315. Have you any knowledge at all of the appointment of Mr. Handsaker? None whatever. At the time he was appointed I think I was Inspector of Land Offices.

Mr. James Howard Handsaker called in and further examined:—

Mr. J. H. Handsaker. 316. Chairman.] This is a copy of the Evening News of the 6th March, 1884. There is a letter there which bears your signature? Yes, I think we had that before.
317. You wrote that letter? I did.
21 Mar., 1884.
318. Will you explain now a sentence which appears in that letter to this effect: "I applied to Mr. McElhone to collect the moneys due to me. He did so, and forwarded the money collected intact, except for stamps." Will you kindly explain what you mean by that, when you admit that Mr. McElhone repaid himself the money you owed him? Of course he repaid himself what I requested him to retain; he kept instalments that I told him to keep. My bill was not due at the time, but I paid the instalments, and of course I have his receipt for what he kept.
319. Under those circumstances do you consider you stated the truth to the public in this letter? Most decidedly; I have received the cash from Mr. McElhone.
320. Let me understand you distinctly: The letter states that all the moneys Mr. McElhone had drawn from the Treasury on your behalf you received intact? Most decidedly; I still hold to that.
321. Mr. Burns.] Did Mr. McElhone send you an account showing what he had received and deducted? Yes. There were no deductions; he was authorized to keep a certain amount off me. 322.

322. Chairman.] What I want from you is this: Was any portion of the money which Mr. McElhone drew from the Treasury—the money due to you by the Government—retained by him as payment of the money you owed him? I have told you that I authorized him to retain a certain amount of money towards the bill I owed Mr. McElhone. Mr. J. H. Handsaker.
21 Mar., 1884.
323. Did he retain that money? Yes, what I told him.
324. Then do you consider you told the truth to the public when you said he forwarded the money intact? Most decidedly, because I received that money that he retained before. I fail to see where I have made an error. I received the cash from Mr. McElhone. Mr. McElhone did not detain it from me except by my authority.
325. What I want to call your attention to is, that you tell the public in that letter that all the moneys Mr. McElhone drew on your behalf you received intact? I still hold to that statement; I cannot alter it.
326. Can you tell the Committee how much Mr. McElhone retained out of the moneys drawn by him to complete the payment of the money borrowed? No, I cannot.
327. What employment were you in at the time of your receiving this appointment? The same as I am now; anything that I can earn an honest living by.
328. What occupation were you following then? How do you mean?
329. Were you on the selection? Yes, of course I was; but still I was following many occupations, either by selling or dealing, in any way to earn a pound if possible.
330. Provided you had not received an income through the appointment would it have been any matter of difficulty to you to have repaid the balance of this loan? No, it would not; it would not have been any matter of difficulty at all, for the simple reason, I believe, that I paid a portion of it before I had the appointment.
331. Do you remember how much you paid before you had the appointment? No, I do not.
332. What became of the selection; you lost the selection; it was sold? No, I did not lose it; when I received the appointment I transferred it to my brother, because I was supposed not to hold one while I was in the Government service.
333. Did he take it with all its liabilities? There were no liabilities attached to it.
334. If your brother has stated that the selection was sold by the Bank for debts you were responsible for, is that the truth? I was not responsible for anything except what I owed personally myself. I do not hold that I am at any rate.
335. Mr. Day.] Did anything take place between you and Mr. McElhone at the time he lent you this money, to show that it was in consideration of your assisting him politically? No, there was nothing passed between me and Mr. McElhone in that respect.
336. Was the money lent to you in consideration of political services to Mr. McElhone? No, it was not. Mr. McElhone lent it to me to do me a service, as I explained.
337. I do not want an explanation; if I do I will ask you for it. The money was lent to you as a friend? Yes, between man and man, a pure commercial transaction.
338. Had it anything to do with the Upper Hunter election; was it in consideration of anything you had done at the election? I cannot say it was; I can only answer for myself; I did not expect it.
339. Was it a condition of your services? No.
340. Did you canvass for Mr. McElhone? Yes.
341. And your brother? Yes.
342. Did Mr. McElhone pay you for that? Yes.
343. How much a day? I cannot recollect. It was an independent concern altogether.
344. Chairman.] Of your own knowledge do you know that your brother canvassed for Mr. McElhone? Yes.
345. And of your own knowledge do you know that Mr. McElhone paid him for his services? I could not say that.
346. Did you receive a cheque for yourself and your brother for services during the election? I cannot speak positively about it; but at any rate I know I was paid, and my brother was paid.
347. With regard to the letter which appeared in the Evening News, did you mean by the statement there made that Mr. McElhone had not charged you any commission? Most decidedly; no commission, nor anything at all; he paid the money to me.
348. Will you tell the Committee where the selection was made—on whose run? I cannot tell you; I do not think it was on a run at all.
349. Where was it made? At Scone. It was no run at all.
350. It was not on Mr. Worrard's run? No, it was not.
351. Was it not made on a pre-lease held by Mr. Worrard? No; distinctly I tell you, no.
352. Then if your brother has sworn that it was, has he sworn the truth? He speaks wrong, for he does know. It was not on Worrard's run.
353. You told the Committee just now that you transferred the selection to him? I did, but it was not on Worrard.
354. Mr. Day.] When Mr. McElhone lent you the £100, had you any understanding as to where you were to go to select? No, not the slightest.
355. Chairman.] Did Mr. McElhone in any way induce you to make this selection on any person's run or pre-lease? No, never.
356. Did Mr. McElhone ever ask you for any security for the money lent? No, except a simple note-of-hand.
357. He never asked you for any security? No, except a note-of-hand.
358. Well, that is a security? It is not negotiable at any rate. We all know what that means.
359. When you got your appointment did Mr. McElhone ask you, or suggest in any way, that he should be repaid the money owing to him? Never, by hint, word, or form.
360. How did Mr. McElhone come to pay himself? Simply at my request; my written authority asking him to do it.
361. Did you receive any money from Mr. McElhone, after you got your appointment, to pay your expenses to Albury? No.
362. Did you receive any sum or sums from Mr. McElhone after receiving your appointment? It is so long ago I cannot speak from memory.

Mr. J. H.
Handaker.
21 Mar., 1884.

363. Did you receive a sum of £5 from Mr. McElhone on the 15th November, 1877? I do not remember it, and I do not think I did.
364. How did Mr. McElhone come to apply for a situation for you;—did you ask Mr. McElhone to recommend you? Yes, I did.
365. Was it in consequence of the loss of your stock through drought that you applied to Mr. McElhone to get you a situation? That was the reason.
366. In consequence of these losses were you placed in anything like pecuniary embarrassment? It was embarrassing in every way, but still it was got over. It was not embarrassing to any extent.
367. Had you recovered from that pecuniary embarrassment when you received the appointment? Yes, decidedly. I recovered it quickly.
368. Then, as you had recovered from this pecuniary embarrassment, how did the necessity arise for your applying for a loan of £50 to equip yourself? I required money, but I did not apply to Mr. McElhone.
369. Was it in consequence of this pecuniary embarrassment that you applied for a temporary loan of £50 from the Government? It was an advance on my salary.
370. Did you apply for an advance of £50 in consequence of your pecuniary embarrassment at that time? Yes.
371. What were the circumstances which led Mr. McElhone to lend you this money—did you apply to him for the loan of it? I did.
372. Mr. W. Clarke.] Was the loan made between the first and second elections in the year 1875? I cannot speak positively as to that.
373. Was the loan made between the first and second elections? I cannot say when that loan was made. Being sworn, I cannot speak positively as to the time when it was made.
374. Was the loan of £100 made to you directly after the defeat of Mr. McElhone? He was a defeated candidate when I borrowed the money; but as to the date when I had it I will not speak positively.
375. He was elected the second time? He was elected after I had received the loan.
376. Then you received the money between the first and second elections? I must have. Mr. McElhone sent me a cheque to my own home.
377. Did you receive any loan on or about the 13th July, 1875? I will not speak positively to the date.
378. You say you received the money collected by Mr. McElhone at the Treasury in cash? Yes.
379. What do you mean by those words "in cash"? That I received the full sum from Mr. McElhone. There were no charges nor anything, except stamps.
380. What you mean is this: That having received the amount of this sum originally as a loan, you considered the retention by Mr. McElhone merely as payment of money owing to him? I do not understand the question. I simply received the cash from Mr. McElhone.
381. Mr. McElhone received a certain amount of money at the Treasury? Yes.
382. Well then, you could not have received that money in cash if he retained instalments of your debt to him? I received Mr. McElhone's own cheque.
383. Did Mr. McElhone receive thirteen instalments on your order at the Treasury and keep the amount of money represented by those orders? I do not understand you.
384. You gave Mr. McElhone an order to collect money at the Treasury? To collect all moneys due to me.
385. And Mr. McElhone kept back some of the money? He kept back nothing but what I authorized him to keep.
386. He kept certain money you authorized him to keep? Yes, what I told him to do; he did not keep anything back from me.
387. He kept money on your order? From what he received he paid a certain amount, what I authorized him to pay; he kept what I told him and no more.
388. Mr. Burns.] After taking this office from the Government did you experience some difficulty in getting what was due to you? Yes.
389. Was it owing to that that you communicated with Mr. McElhone? Yes, that was the sole reason.
390. Did you also communicate with H. H. Brown & Co. with regard to the delay in paying over to you the sum owing to you by the Government? I did.
391. When you wrote to Mr. McElhone about what was due to you by the Government did you tell him that you wished him to pay himself, out of these moneys, the amount you were indebted to him? I told him to pay himself, I will not say whether it was £10 or £20 at different times, and I told him when and how to pay it, to keep so much, and of course he did so; he kept the amount I authorized him to keep.
392. But the origin of your writing to him on the subject was the difficulty you had experienced in getting paid by the Treasury? Of course. I got nothing from the Treasury until I got Mr. McElhone to get it.
393. You state in this letter you wrote to the Evening News that you had great difficulty in getting payment from the Government;—was it owing to that you wrote to Mr. McElhone? That was the reason.
394. And in doing that you suggested to him to retain, out of the money he might receive from time to time, certain sums to pay himself what you owed him? Yes.
395. What you meant by saying that Mr. McElhone had accounted for all moneys "intact" was that he had obeyed your directions in collecting the moneys and retaining the sums you told him to retain on account of the loan he had made to you, and the only deduction was for stamps? Yes; what I meant by the word "intact" was simply that there was no commission and no charge at all; it was simply a question of payment; he charged me nothing.
396. Did H. H. Brown and Co. make any collection for you? Yes.
397. They did that as agents? Yes.
398. I presume they charged a commission for their services? Yes.
399. When Mr. McElhone made collections for you did he give you an account of those collections? He did. Mr. McElhone, at the time he received the money from the Treasury, sent me a debtor and creditor account of what he received from the Treasury. There was a certain amount kept back in the Treasury for deductions or something; the voucher was not always fully paid; but he gave me every particular as he received it.
400. Did he account to you in full for all he received? Yes.
401. And made no charge for commission and services? Never. He made no charge at all, and I never paid him any money for any services in any way.

402. Now as to this selection. Was your brother present when you made the selection of this land at Scone? I cannot recollect whether he was or not; he might have been; I believe he was, but I would not like to swear it.

Mr. J. H.
Handsaker.
21 Mar., 1884.

403. Are you clear upon the point that this selection was not made upon a run belonging to Mr. Worrard? Positive. He had no run.

404. Then if your brother made a statement that your selection was on Mr. Worrard's pre-lease, he was in error? Yes; he had no run.

405. Did the whole business of making the selection and payment of the money devolve upon you? Yes.

406. Did your brother interfere in any way? No.

407. You were the active agent in making the selection and in conducting the business? Yes.

408. Any knowledge he got of the matter was through you? Of course it was all through me.

409. Did Mr. McElhone ever visit your selection? No.

410. Do you know whether he has ever been there? No.

411. Did he make any suggestion to you as to where you should select? No, never.

412. When you borrowed the money from him did you state that you had made, or intended making, a selection at some place such as that? No, I did not state the place to him.

413. Had you seen the land previously? Yes.

414. You had paid a visit of inspection for yourself? Yes, I knew the land well.

415. It was not at Mr. McElhone's suggestion that you made this selection? No, Mr. McElhone never knew it, and I don't think he knows any one round the district.

416. Did you know, at the time you selected this land, that it was not on the run of Mr. Worrard? He has no run at all.

417. Were you aware at the time you made the selection that it was not on any run? Yes, of course I was; it was Crown Land in small lots.

418. You knew at the time you made the selection that it did not form part of Mr. Worrard's run? Mr. Worrard has no run; it is no better than a selection.

419. Did it form any part of the pre-lease of Mr. or Mrs. Worrard? Well, I don't think it would in any shape or form.

420. Mr. Merriman.] Did any letters pass between you and Mr. McElhone at any time, from the time you borrowed the money up to now, in reference to this matter? I have had letters, certainly.

421. Have you them with you? No. Mr. McElhone did not know where I was till he saw my letter in the paper.

422. Did you write any letters to Mr. McElhone? Yes.

423. Were you and your brother living in the district together? Yes.

424. For how long before the first election—about two months or three months? For years.

425. Did you know Mr. McElhone before the first election? I knew him by hearsay, not personally.

426. Do you remember saying, the first day you were here, that you did know him before that? I knew him, but not personally—only by name, by repute—for the simple reason of being on the different stations where he was.

427. You were asked what you were doing for a living? I used to contract for fencing or whatever I could get to do.

428. Were you in the employ of anybody about the time of the first election or for any time before? Whether it was Mr. Thomas Cook I will not be positive—no. I think it was Mr. Mackenzie.

429. You know Dr. Creed? Yes.

430. Did Dr. Creed have many opportunities of seeing you? Yes, often.

431. For any time before the election what were your habits. Is it true you were in the habit of drinking to excess? Never, never.

432. Have you and Dr. Creed had a falling out at any time? Often, very often, on the same question of alcohol.

433. Did he charge you with taking too much? No, simply argument; we would quarrel over it.

434. It is not true you were given to drinking habits? No. I will tell you; I am very easily excited; but as to anything else I do not drink.

435. Did you make an application to Mr. McElhone for this loan? Yes, of course I did.

436. Where was that? At Scone; in the district of Scone anyhow.

437. You got the money to select? Yes.

438. And you say it was not on anybody's run that you selected? It was not.

439. Did Mr. McElhone know at all where you were going to select? He did not, not to my knowledge; he did not know through me; he might know, but not through me.

440. At the time you received the money you gave him a promissory-note? Yes.

441. For how long was the promissory-note? For twelve months.

442. Is that the promissory-note (handing paper to witness)? Yes; that is my signature.

443. You wrote that promissory-note? I did.

444. Do you remember the date of your appointment—the 28th May, 1878, I think it was. Can you tell us when you wrote to Mr. McElhone, desiring him to pay himself out of the moneys to be received by him from the Treasury? I did not authorize him to pay himself. I wrote and authorized him to collect the money owing to me and retain a certain amount, whatever it was.

445. Did Mr. McElhone ever make any application to you for the money before you wrote and authorized him to get your money from the Treasury? No, he did not.

446. Did you suggest that Mr. McElhone should deduct the money and pay himself? I think I have answered that question often enough. I repeatedly wrote to him to collect the money and retain a certain amount; I will not be positive as to the amount, whether it was £10 or £20 at a time; but he obeyed my instructions to the letter; he collected the money and retained whatever I authorized him to, and he accounted even for the stamps.

447. He deducted some and sent you the balance? Yes.

448. Did you look upon the balance only as your money, and the other portion which was retained as belonging to Mr. McElhone? What was retained was a payment by me to Mr. McElhone.

449. Do you mean, by saying that the money was sent to you intact, that the balance was the only money you looked upon as your own proper money, and that what was retained by Mr. McElhone belonged to him.

Mr. J. H.
Handsaker.
21 Mar., 1884.

him. You say in your letter in the Evening News that he sent you the money intact;—you did not receive the whole of the amount Mr. McElhone received from the Treasury? No; but still the way I looked at it was this, that I had received the money I asked him to retain, therefore I received the full amount.

450. The money he retained you did not look upon as yours? No, of course not; it was Mr. McElhone's.

451. The balance was the only money you looked upon as yours? Certainly.

452. Do you know whether there was any feeling or any opposition shown by Dr. Creed to Mr. McElhone during the election? Yes, I do know that.

453. Do you know whether Mr. McElhone spoke of Dr. Creed? No, I cannot say, except that I saw some account in the papers where Mr. McElhone moved for something.

454. Did you hear Mr. McElhone speak on the hustings; did you hear him ridiculing Dr. Creed? What I heard on the hustings I would not like to say; a man does not recollect what passes there.

455. Do you remember Mr. McElhone moving for some papers in reference to the postmistress at Waverley; do you know whether Dr. Creed was annoyed about that? I am sure he would be annoyed.

456. Since this matter has been brought before Parliament have you ever seen Mr. McElhone, or had any conversation with him? I never spoke to him till I saw him outside the door here.

457. The authority which was produced is signed by you, is it not? Yes, that is my signature.

458. What is the date? 29th June, 1879.

459. Fourteen months after your appointment? Yes.

460. Did not a Mr. Bird receive money for you? No.

461. Chairman.] Did you give more than one promissory-note for this money which you borrowed from Mr. McElhone? Yes, I renewed the bill when I could not meet it.

462. Do you remember how many times you renewed it? Only twice, I believe.

463. Were any of the bills you gave for this £100 dishonoured? They were renewed.

464. I ask whether any of them were dishonoured? Of course they were dishonoured when they were not met; they must have been dishonoured if they were not met, and I did not meet them; in fact I could not.

465. Do you know Mr. Davis, a squatter or selector in the Scone district? Yes.

466. Was your selection anywhere near his property? No, except some rented property he rented from Mr. Terry; it was near no property of his own.

467. Did you write Mr. McElhone's name there as a witness to that document? No.

468. At the time Mr. McElhone recommended you for appointment to the Government service had any of these bills of yours been dishonoured? I cannot say when he recommended me.

469. Were they dishonoured on the 28th of May, 1878? I cannot say when he recommended me.

470. Do you recollect writing, asking for the appointment yourself? Yes, I did to Mr. Fitzpatrick, when he was Lands Minister.

471. Your first letter is dated 6th May, 1877;—do you remember writing that letter? No, I cannot recollect writing that letter.

472. Did you know when you wrote that letter whether Mr. McElhone had recommended you or not? No.

473. Did he recommend you without your knowledge? I asked him to recommend me, but I could not say that he had done so; it is an impossibility.

474. Did Mr. McElhone not tell you that he had written to the Department recommending you for an appointment? Probably he might have done that.

475. At that time had any of these bills been dishonoured? There was only one pro.-note, renewed from time to time.

476. Do you remember being at Merriwa with Mr. McElhone during the election? No.

477. Were you at any places in the district with him during the election? Yes, I was with him at Muswellbrook and Scone; I do not think I was with Mr. McElhone at Merriwa; I went in as a listener.

478. Were you there with him during the time of the election? No, I was not.

479. You say you were at what places with him? Muswellbrook, Scone, Murrurundi; I was not with him at Merriwa.

480. The other day, when you were examined here, you stated that the money paid as a deposit for this land was paid in notes? Yes.

481. £60? Yes.

482. Was that part of the £100 Mr. McElhone lent you? Yes.

483. Did you in any way intimate to Mr. McElhone what you proposed doing with the money you were borrowing from him? I think I explained that I borrowed money off him to select.

484. Did you tell Mr. McElhone you were going in for breeding store pigs and a lot of other things? Yes.

485. Are you at this time indebted to Dr. Creed for any sum of money for medical attendance? No; I should like to contradict that at once; I was never indebted to Dr. Creed in my life, not one single sixpence; he never attended my family, except one child once, and I took the child in and paid for it at once; never in any other instance has he visited my family.

486. You are positive of that? Yes.

487. You stated just now that some of the vouchers were not paid to Mr. McElhone in full—that deductions were made at the Treasury? Yes, they were.

488. Did you give any security or bond at the Treasury for the money advanced to you? Yes.

489. Who were the sureties? My brother was one and my brother-in-law, Robert Wood, was the other.

490. Did Mr. McElhone repay any part of that money so advanced? I cannot tell what was repaid.

491. Mr. Merriman.] Do you know anything of a complaint being made against you by Mr. O'Malley Clarke? No, I do not.

492. On the 20th August, 1880, a report was sent to the Chief Commissioner by Mr. O'Malley Clarke, complaining of you appearing at the Land Court in a state of intoxication? I was not in the Service at the time; I was not in the Service after May.

493. Chairman.] If Mr. O'Malley Clarke has stated to the Chief Commissioner at any time, with reference to your appearance before him at Urana on the 16th August, 1880, that it was "not the first occasion on which Mr. Handsaker has been guilty of similar outrageous behaviour," did he state the truth or otherwise? No, he was not speaking the truth. The simple question on the same day was that I refused to swear to a thing that I could not really know. I was not in the Service at the time, and had not my books. I was passing through Urana and was called in unexpectedly.

Joseph Carroll, Esquire, called in and examined:—

494. Chairman.] You are an accountant? Yes.
 495. Do you present to the Committee a statement of account between Mr. McElhone and Mr. Handsaker? Yes, which I drew out from Mr. McElhone's ledger. (Statement handed in. See Appendix A.)
 496. Is that a true and correct copy from the ledger? Yes.
 497. Did you keep that ledger for Mr. McElhone? I did; I observe my handwriting there from 1875. (Ledger produced.)
 498. Mr. Burns.] That paper contains a correct statement of the account between Mr. McElhone and Mr. Handsaker? Yes, no doubt about it.

J. Carroll,
Esq.
21 Mar., 1884.

William Blackman, Esquire, called in and examined:—

499. Mr. Burns.] What position do you hold in the Lands Department? Chief Clerk in the Conditional Sales Branch.
 500. Are you aware that Mr. Handsaker made some complaint of delays in getting paid his salary? I am.
 501. Did Mr. McElhone see you on different occasions to request the payment of Mr. Handsaker's salary? He did; he very frequently saw me. He complained strongly of the man not getting his money, and said he thought he should be compelled to advance the money himself.
 502. Did you remind Mr. McElhone recently of that circumstance? Yes.
 503. You reminded Mr. McElhone that he had repeatedly seen you on this subject? Yes.
 504. And he asked you to send the money to Mr. Handsaker? Yes.
 505. Mr. Day.] What was the cause of the delay in payment of Mr. Handsaker's salary? He was not irregular in doing his work, but he was irregular in sending in his reports on conditional purchase applications; and he was irregular in sending in his progress journals. His accounts could not be adjusted until these were received. All this increased the delay by the complication that arose out of it.
 506. Mr. Farnell.] Mr. Handsaker was not paid a salary, was he? No, he got 10s. 6d. a case reported on and travelling expenses.
 507. And all this had to be adjusted? Yes. It was partly his own fault. He was a good inspector for what he did, but he was irregular in sending in his progress journals to enable his accounts to be adjusted.
 508. Mr. Day.] Had you any complaints sent to you with regard to his incompetency? Latterly there was some complaint made by Mr. O'Malley Clarke as to his being intoxicated, but there was never any complaint about his efficiency as an inspector; on the contrary he was a good inspector, and knew thoroughly whether a man was a bonâ fide selector or not.
 509. At the time Mr. O'Malley Clarke sent in that report Mr. Handsaker did not belong to the Department? It was about the time his connection with the Department terminated; I think some months previously he had been written to by the Department to say he would not be any longer employed than would be necessary to complete the cases in his hands.
 510. Was a petition sent in, after he was dismissed, to have him reinstated? Yes, there were several petitions.
 511. What was your impression of Mr. Handsaker, was it that he was a steady sober man? He was a very good man, but he was irregular in his communications with the department.
 512. Had you any fault to find with him? No. If he had been more regular in furnishing his progress journals he would have got paid.
 513. Mr. Merriman.] Were there any complaints as to his conduct? Never that I recollect, except the one in question.
 514. Mr. Copeland.] Was this complaint of Mr. O'Malley Clarke's inquired into? I do not think it was, because six months previously it was determined that there should be some reduction in the staff, and he had been told he would not be required.
 515. Chairman.] He was in the actual service of the Government at the time? Yes, I think he was.
 516. Mr. Burns.] Were all the temporary inspectors at that time under notice that their services would not be required? Yes, I think so. The Chief Commissioner wrote to say he was perfectly satisfied with the mode of his performing his duties.
 517. Mr. Copeland.] Will you explain this minute of Mr. Hoskins':—"The petitioners should be informed that it has been found necessary to reduce the staff of temporary inspectors, hence Mr. Handsaker's services have been dispensed with, but that under any circumstances he would not have been retained as an officer of this Department.—J.H., 20/7/80?" I think Mr. O'Malley Clarke's letter was the cause of that, as well as I recollect now.
 518. This letter of Mr. O'Malley Clarke's is dated from Young, 20 August, 1880; therefore it could not have come to the Minister's hands at the time he made this minute stating that under any circumstances Mr. Handsaker would not have been retained? I have not looked up the papers in the case ever since; I did not know I was to come here until the moment before I came up.
 519. Chairman.] Mr. O'Malley Clarke states that the occasion of which he complained was not the first of the kind? I am not aware that any other complaint was made. Certainly Mr. Handsaker did give a good deal of trouble in the department by his irregularity in sending in his reports.
 520. Might this irregularity have occurred from want of knowledge how to draw up his reports? His reports were very well drawn up, but he did not send them in as he should have done; he ought to have sent them in oftener than he did.
 521. The consequence of which was that his payments were delayed? Yes, and he was always in difficulties as to money.

NINIAN MELVILLE, ESQ., IN THE CHAIR.

George O'Malley Clarke, Esq., called in, sworn, and examined:—

G. O'Malley
Clarke, Esq.

26 Mar., 1884.

522. Chairman.] Will you kindly inform the Committee what opportunity you have had of observing the conduct of one James Howard Handsaker while he was Inspector of Conditional Purchases? I was Commissioner for Conditional Sales for the Central South-western District, and Mr. Handsaker held the appointment of Inspector of Conditional Sales for a portion of the district, and he attended several Courts of Inquiry that I held at Urana—I forget how many. On two of those occasions he appeared in a state of intoxication, and I deemed it my duty to report him to the head of my Department. I observe by the papers that only one report is included in this return, but I reported him twice.

523. You reported him previously to the report given in the return? Yes. No notice whatever was taken of the first report—I presume it must have miscarried or been mislaid. On the second occasion his conduct was so bad that I wrote in strong terms requesting that any further official relations between us might cease. I declined to recognize him.

524. About what period of time would your observations of him cover? I think about twelve months, or perhaps more.

525. Did you consider him, from the opportunities you had of observing him, a fit person to hold that appointment? His conduct before me was bad. When a man appears before me in Court in a state of intoxication I do not think anything can be worse.

526. Had you opportunities of observing him during twelve months? I do not say he was intoxicated on every occasion, but on two.

527. What impression did what you observed of him make upon you as to his fitness for the position he held? His demeanour conveyed to my mind that he was a man of very violent prejudices, which were calculated to warp his judgment in the execution of his duty. At the date of my second report it appeared that he was not then in the Service, but I did not know that at the time.

528. Still he was officially before you on that occasion? Yes, he was subpoenaed by me.

529. You have seen the minute from the Department in this return, page 5;—do you know that that minute was written in consequence of your first letter? It could not have been on account of the second. It might have been in consequence of the first. Of course I could not say.

530. Mr. Burns.] Are you sure you made a complaint of the misbehaviour of Mr. Handsaker in the first instance? Yes, I am quite sure of that.

531. Did you keep any copy of your complaint? There may be a record of it in my office, I will not be certain. My first report was written from Urana. The second I did not write until I reached head quarters.

532. Was there another Commissioner in the district besides yourself? Not for Urana. I had the Central South-western District.

533. And who preceded you? I was the first; I was appointed in 1875.

534. Was Mr. Rose located in the same district? He had the South-western District.

535. I presume Mr. Handsaker's reports came under your observation? Some of them. He was under two Commissioners you understand. His inspector's district extended into Mr. Rose's district. He attended Mr. Rose's Courts as well as mine.

536. Were any complaints made in respect to Mr. Rose's Court that you are aware of? No.

537. Is Mr. Rose still in the Service? No, he is dead. He died about eighteen months ago.

538. What is your impression of the reports furnished by Mr. Handsaker with regard to improvements made by selectors? Of course I had no opportunity of checking them. I always accepted his evidence unless it was contradicted. I am not aware that it was ever contradicted. The only check would be when another inspector travelled over the same ground.

539. You said he was a man of violent prejudices, liable to warp his judgment? He exhibited that in Court in his demeanour towards a certain class of witnesses. That was the impression conveyed to my mind.

540. Do you think that Mr. Handsaker took some particular side? He appeared to have a very strong bias.

541. In what direction? Against the lessees of runs.

542. Did he show any antipathy to dummy selections? I do not know. I have no doubt he exposed dummyism on some occasions in some of his reports.

John McElhone, Esq., M.P., called in, sworn, and examined:—

J. McElhone,
Esq., M.P.

26 Mar., 1884.

543. Chairman.] Do you know one James Howard Handsaker? Yes.

544. Can you tell the Committee about what time you first made his acquaintance? In 1875, when I was a candidate for the Upper Hunter electorate; I think somewhere about June. I went up to contest the election about May or June.

545. Mr. Hungerford was the successful candidate on that occasion? Yes. I got him unseated.

546. In consequence of that there was a second election? Yes.

547. Which took place about August? I think in August, 1875.

548. Between the first and second elections did you advance any sum of money, and if so, what amount, to Mr. James Howard Handsaker? Mr. Handsaker and his brother were employed canvassing for me, I think by Mr. Hopper, who was a sort of leading man in the electorate.

549. What was the name of the brother? Thomas, I think.

550. If Mr. Thomas Handsaker has sworn before this Committee that he was employed by you, did he swear the truth? I paid all of them, I know that. I got returns from the person at the head of each place, and I paid all those accounts, every one of them.

551. To the best of your belief James Handsaker was employed by you, and paid by you? I believe so. I think the amount they got was about £42. I paid Mr. Hopper, who paid all these other people. I think we paid at the rate of 30s. a day.

552. Mr. Day.] Was that at the first election or the second? The first, I think; it might have been at the second; I am not quite sure. It was early in the contest when I first met them, and I think it was the first contest. In the course of conversation he asked me if I would lend him some money for the purpose of selecting. He stated that he had had a contract for fencing a large run of Mr. Farnell's, that his horses had died, and that he had had to leave his drays and harness on the plains and make his way home. He had some cattle left, he said, and his idea was to go in for breeding store pigs for market, and raising root crops, turnips, maize, and so on. I told him that when the election was over I would lend him the money to give him a start. I said, "Do not ask me now, because it might be brought up as a charge of corruption, but when the election is over I will lend you the money." When the election was over, and I was defeated, Mr. Handsaker saw me at Smith's Hotel, in Muswellbrook, and he said, "I don't suppose you care to lend me the money now, as you are beaten." I said, "I am not in the habit of breaking my word; I will lend you the money." He asked me to lend him £200. I said, "No; but I will lend you £100;" and I did so.

553. Did you receive any security whatever? Nothing, only as in other cases I took his promissory-note. The original one he sent me was this [Handed in promissory-note, dated July 10, 1875 (see Appendix B 1)]. I wrote to him that he had forgotten to make it payable to any Bank, and that the interest was not added. I afterwards got a fresh one from him [Handed in promissory-note, dated July 16, 1875 (see Appendix B 2)]. There were several promissory-notes passed between us.

554. You think this is the second one? This is the second one. It was renewed several times, I think.

555. You recommended Mr. Handsaker, I believe? I did. I had forgotten until you referred to it the other day that I had written to Mr. Garrett and Mr. Driver about it.

556. You recommended Mr. Handsaker for an appointment? I did.

557. In a letter dated the 12th May, 1877? Yes.

558. You said in the letter that you could strongly recommend Mr. Handsaker as a steady sober man, who would do more work than the present inspectors. Do you profess to be a judge of character? I met him every time I went up. I met him repeatedly, and men whom I knew well in the district gave him a very high character. I believed he was well qualified to report upon all manner of improvements, such as wells, tanks, fencing, and so on.

559. The money was lent in 1875, and this letter was written in 1877. At the time you wrote the letter had any portion of the money been repaid? No.

560. Had any interest been paid? On one occasion; I think on the first bill.

561. Did you apply to more than one Minister of the Crown for the appointment of this gentleman? Yes. I wrote to Mr. Driver and to Mr. Garrett, but I was at first under the impression I had only applied to Mr. Farnell. I am under the impression that when I saw Mr. Farnell I told him all about the man's position.

562. The papers show that he received the appointment on the 28th May, 1878, a temporary appointment? Yes. There was a number of temporary appointments.

563. At that date, the 28th May, 1878, had any portion of the principal money, or any portion of the interest, except this £9, been paid? No.

564. Do you remember how long it was after he entered upon his duties that you commenced to draw money on his behalf from the Treasury, and what it was that caused you to do so? Mr. Handsaker wrote to me and asked me to get him these things, as in consequence of the very dry season he had lost nearly all his stock, and he was as bad off, or worse, as when he started. His letters are here, printed on page 4.

565. At the time of his recommendation, and up to the time of his appointment, had you any opportunity of knowing his financial position? I thought he was doing very well until the dry season set in, when I believe from his letters and from what he stated to me, that nearly all his stock had died.

566. At the time of his receiving that appointment was he in the same pecuniary embarrassment? I believe he was. He owed me this money all through.

567. If Mr. Handsaker has sworn before this Committee that a sum of £30 or £40 was repaid before he received the appointment, would such a statement be true? No. I believe I only got interest on one bill. I am only speaking from memory. I think he only paid me £9, the interest on one bill.

568. On the 3rd July, 1879, you commenced to draw on behalf of Mr. Handsaker the money due to him? On the 3rd July, 1879.

569. Can you tell the Committee the total amount that you drew? On July 3, £104 5s.; on July 5, £17 17s.; August 26, £87 10s.; November 21, £52 12s. 6d.; December 8, £66 3s. Those are the items, as I received them from the Treasury. I think there were refunds, which would make up the balance.

570. A total of £330 17s. 6d.? I do not know.

571. Out of this £330 17s. 6d. how much did you deduct as for the debt which Mr. Handsaker owed you? On July 3 I paid him £34 5s., and on the 4th, £7 17s. On the 3rd to Mrs. Handsaker £20, which was paid by cheque. On September 6 I paid £3 16s. 2d. to Mr. Gallagher, and on November 1 to Mrs. Handsaker again, £17. On the same day I deducted £35 12s., with stamp 3d. And on December 8 I paid his wife £16 2s. 6d. with stamp 6d., and I paid myself £50 the same day.

572. That is according to the document handed in by Mr. Carroll? Yes.

573. You admit that document? Yes, as being perfectly correct. That shows the whole of the transactions from beginning to end. I may explain how I came first to appear in this matter was that I had gone to the Lands Office on different occasions to have the money sent direct to Mr. Handsaker. He had written to me to say that he could not get his money paid to him, to pay his way as he went along. I went several times to complain that he had not got his money, and asked them to send it. Afterwards, I recollect, Mr. Handsaker wrote to me, asking if I would collect these moneys, and pay myself so much out of each one, and pay his wife and Gallagher and himself balance.

574. Out of the money you drew from the Treasury you repaid the total amount that was due to you? Yes, by instalments.

575. If Mr. Handsaker had not received this appointment what prospect had you of receiving this money? I could have got security over his selections if I had asked him.

576. But what prospect had you of getting this money if he had not received this appointment? I should have got his selection, which was improved according to Mr. Lawler, to the extent of £300. 577.

J. McElhone,

- J. McElhone, Esq., M.P.
26 Mar., 1884.
577. Are you aware that the selection was sold by the Bank for money owing to the Bank? I think it was sold about the time he left the Government service, but not certainly for three or four years after I lent him the money. I never asked him for security.
578. In the event of his not having received this Government appointment, what probability was there of your being repaid, seeing that you know of his financial position? I should have got his selection transferred to me if I had asked.
579. Was his selection mortgaged at that time? You cannot mortgage a selection.
580. Were there any liabilities on it? I had not any idea as to how he stood with anybody but myself. There were a good many more owed me money; some paid, and some did not. The bulk of them paid, and others did not pay at all.
581. Then the only way open to you would have been to have had the selection transferred to you? To the best of my belief.
582. Do you know whether the brother had any interest in that selection? I do not think so. I think he had it in his own name, but from my knowledge of the brother, if I had asked for it I should have got it.
583. What led you to cease drawing money on behalf of Mr. Handsaker? I refused to have anything more to do with him in consequence of what I heard from Mr. J. M'Phillamy, who told me that on one occasion about two years after this man was appointed, at a Court held by Mr. Commissioner Rose, Handsaker was drunk, and the Commissioner was drunk, and that all hands were pretty well drunk about the Court; and he said to me—"I know you were the means of getting this man the situation, so I write to let you know that he has disgraced you, and you can write to him about it, and put a stop to it if you can." I then wrote him a very strong letter, calling attention to the fact that I had heard that he was drunk at the Court, and I felt very bitter about it, as I was the means of getting him the position, that he should disgrace me by drinking at all; and I told him if the attention of the Minister was called to the fact that he was drinking he would dismiss him without mercy, and that he need not look to me to help him, as I would not try to help him in any shape or form.
584. Mr. Day.] Did you get a reply to that letter? He sent back a card, calling my attention to the fact that it was untrue about his drinking, and that he was a Son of Temperance. I then replied, mentioning the person who gave me the information, and again warned him that the result would be that if he drank he would be dismissed, and that I would not try to save him. I felt so annoyed that I had no more communication with him.
585. Chairman.] Did you draw any more money for him? I drew no more money. He applied to me afterwards. I made several applications for his money after he left the Government service.
586. Immediately you ceased to draw his money it was drawn by other persons? I wrote to refuse to have anything more to do with him, because I considered he disgraced me, as I was the means of getting him the appointment.
587. Did you stop any portion of the last payment you drew from the Treasury as the completion of the amount due to you? I suppose so. The last payment was £63 3s., out of which I stopped £50, and his wife got a cheque for the rest. That was on December 8, 1879.
588. The last payment you drew from the Treasury completed his payments to you for his indebtedness? Yes.
589. You then ceased to draw any more money for him? I suppose so.
590. Mr. Day.] You could have stopped that £50 long before? Yes.
591. Chairman.] Would that have been a sufficient cause, that all your money had been repaid? I suppose I got no more vouchers from him.
592. You had a general order from him? He might have countermanded that order for all I know. If he did that any power I had to draw money would cease. After he left the Service I applied for money, but failed to get it.
593. You say you wrote to him in consequence of having heard complaints of his conduct;—at the time of writing that letter all the debt had been repaid? I cannot say. I think it was some time afterwards he paid me, but I am only speaking from memory.
594. If it was some time afterwards that you ceased to draw his money there must have been some other reason why you stopped? The account, so far as I was concerned, was closed on September 8th, 1879, and on November 21st I paid Mrs. Handsaker the whole amount I received, £52 12s. 6d.; and then again, on December 8th, I paid them the whole amount, £66 3s. So far as I was concerned the account was paid off in September, 1879. The account was paid by instalments. On August 26th I received £87 10s. That was balance brought down, £77 11s. 3d.; interest to date, 17s. 6d.; cash paid to Gallagher, £3 16s. 2d.; and self for balance, £5 5s. 1d.; that closed the account, and my account was paid. On November 21st I received £52 12s. 6d. for Mr. Handsaker, which was paid, Mrs. Handsaker, £17, and Mr. Handsaker, £35 12s. 6d., being the full amount, without any deduction at all. On December 8th I received £66 3s., of which I paid cash to Handsaker, £50, and to his wife, £16 3s. This last payment I paid direct to Mr. Handsaker and his wife, without any deduction at all. Each time an account was sent to Mr. Handsaker, showing how it was appropriated.
595. Have you ever seen Mr. Handsaker the worse for liquor? Never until yesterday morning. I gave him some money to enable him to go home, but he came to my house drunk, and I told him to go to the devil.
596. I place a copy of the Evening News in your hand, in which there is a letter signed by Mr. Handsaker. In that he states that he received all the moneys which you drew, except the payment of stamps. Is that a true statement. Will you kindly tell the Committee how that statement can be correct, when you produce a balance sheet which shows that you deducted £195 11s. 3d.? In this way: if you owed me £200, and you wrote to me to collect £500, and pay yourself, I suppose you would consider that you received it all?
597. Would that be the impression conveyed to your mind, as one of the public, by reading that letter? I do not know that this has got anything to do with it. I am not responsible for what the public think.
598. Had you read that letter, what impression would it have made on your mind—that all the money was sent to Mr. Handsaker, or only a portion? I do not see what that has got to do with me.
599. Did you know anything of that letter appearing in the paper? Certainly not. I never saw Mr. Handsaker for a long time. I wrote to his brother. I did not know where he was. He wrote to me to get his brother-in-law a situation. I asked this man to bring my letters down in case they were wanted, but he did not do so. His letters show nothing without my letters which drew forth my replies in the matter.

600. Is the Committee to understand, that having read that letter, you think it conveys the meaning that you only sent him a portion of the money you received? I should say it means that this man had paid Mr. Handsaker all the money he had received. J. McElhone
Esq., M.P.
26 Mar., 1884
601. Knowing to the contrary of what the letter conveys, do you consider you have done rightly in not contradicting it? I never took the trouble to read the letter in the Press. I treated the whole thing with contempt. I thought it was beneath my notice altogether.
602. Mr. Day.] Did you ever write to Mr. Handsaker after he had got into the Public Service, to pay you this money? I never asked him. I never suggested that he should pay me any money at all.
603. How did he come to communicate with you to get his money? Because he could not get it from the Department. I spoke to the Lands Office to send the money to him direct over and over again.
604. And then he asked you to get it for him? I do not know whether he received any money before.
605. There was no communication from you that you wanted payment of this money out of his salary? None whatever. All I wrote to him about was that I advised him when he was travelling on duty to take a tent with him so as to be under no compliment either to selector or squatter.
606. You gave evidence that you received £66 3s. from the Treasury on the 8th December, and that you kept £50 and paid £16 3s. to his wife;—did you keep any of that money? No, it all went to Handsaker.
607. Then virtually you received money from the Treasury on the 8th December, and the whole amount went to Handsaker and his wife? Yes.
608. And you were paid long before that? I was paid on August 26th. [Balance Sheet (Appendix A) shown to witness by Mr. W. Clarke.] I was speaking from memory. I should not have noticed it if Mr. Clarke had not called my attention to it. I instructed Mr. Carroll to draw up this account, but I never looked at it.
609. Mr. Burns.] When you agreed to make this advance to Mr. Handsaker to enable him to select, did he tell you where the land was? No; I do not know now where it is.
610. You have heard it stated that you advanced him money to select on the runs of gentlemen who were opposed to you in this election? It is utterly untrue. There are no runs in the district.
611. Were you on the selection yourself? Never; I knew it was on Thompson's Creek, but as to the locality I know no more than the man in the moon. He asked me for money to select on Cook's land, and I refused distinctly. I would not be a party to it.
612. Mr. Merriman.] Do you know a Mr. Worrall? Never knew that there was such a man. I never heard his name until I heard it here the other day.
613. Do you know a man named Davis? Yes; he is a brother-in-law of Sir John Robertson.
614. Did you know anything about selecting on his land? Decidedly not. If ever I fight a man I will fight him fairly.
615. When did you receive the first amount on behalf of Mr. Handsaker? July 3, 1879.
616. Did you deduct anything from that amount? £34 5s. is what I deducted for myself.
617. Did you know Mr. Handsaker before either of your elections? No, I did not, but I knew old Jack Ashford, his relative.
618. Did you know him by sight? I do not think I ever met him until he was introduced to me at the election.
619. You never saw him under the influence of drink until yesterday? Never, and I saw him repeatedly during the election. From all I could learn he was a thoroughly steady, sober, hard-working fellow. The first I heard was when Mr. McPhillamy wrote to me about him.
620. Mr. W. Clarke.] I think there is some confusion about these accounts. You received in all from the Treasury £330 17s. 6d., out of which you made a refund to the Treasury of £2 10s.; that left £328 7s. 6d. with which you credited Mr. Handsaker? Yes.
621. You charged interest on that loan of £100 from July 13, 1876, the sum of £32 0s. 6d. You handed cash to Mr. and Mrs. Handsaker, £196 7s., and that left £100, which was repayment to you of the principal advanced by you to Mr. Handsaker. That balances the whole account? Yes.
622. What evidence have you besides the ledger accounts, shewing that you paid these several amounts to Mr. Handsaker? I could bring my bank book.
623. Mr. Merriman.] You did not receive any money from Mr. Handsaker before he got the situation? Only £9 interest.
624. Chairman.] Mr. Handsaker in evidence has sworn that you did not take the whole amount owing to you out of the money you drew, but that he paid a portion of it previously? He never paid me anything but the £9 interest. I never received any money from him but that £9, except what I deducted from the amounts I got from the Treasury.
625. Were the amounts forwarded in your own cheque? Yes.
626. Then the bank book would show? Yes. I swear distinctly that every item here was paid by me by cheque. I went to the bank and asked them to find the original cheque I gave him for the £100. They told me that they could not get the cheque.
627. Did you recommend him with the ulterior object of getting your money back? I never thought of it. My object was to give the selectors fair play; that was my only object.
628. Were you, during the three years, pressing Mr. Handsaker for this money? I never pressed him at all.
629. Is that in Mr. Handsaker's handwriting (showing letter to witness)? Yes. (Letter put in as evidence.)
630. When you received the authority from Mr. Handsaker to draw these moneys, did he forward it to you by a letter? I cannot say. I have no such letter in my possession now. To the best of my belief I handed whatever documents there were to the Treasury. I tried to get the moneys which Mr. H. H. Brown afterwards got, and I could not get them.
631. At the time you got the authority from Mr. Handsaker you got a letter? I should say so.
632. Do you know where that letter is now? Unless I handed it to the Treasury I cannot say where it is. Those moneys that Mr. Brown got I had to get, and I was told there was no money to pay it out of. Mr. Hoskins told me the reason he dismissed these men, Handsaker and other temporary inspectors, was because there was no money to pay them.
633. Chairman.] Are you aware that Mr. Handsaker immediately made the money payable to the Bank of New South Wales? No; I have no knowledge at all until he applied to me to get this money. It was after he left the Service.

Victor Cohen, Esq., called in, sworn, and examined :—

- V. Cohen,
Esq.
26 Mar., 1884.
634. Chairman.] What are you, Mr. Cohen? Accountant in the Lands Department.
635. Were you acting as accountant during the years 1878-9? No. I commenced in the Lands Office in December, 1881. I know nothing about Mr. Handsaker myself, but Mr. Handsaker wrote a letter to the Evening News, and I was asked to investigate it, which I did. I have made a report to the Under Secretary on the subject. (Report handed in and ordered to be appended. See Appendix C.)
636. Your attention was called to a letter in the Evening News? Yes.
637. Your attention was officially called to it by whom? By the Under Secretary for Lands.
638. What instructions did he give you? He asked me to investigate the statements made in that letter as to the accounts, and the delay in payment of them, and the reasons for the delay.
639. And this report which you hand in now is the result of your investigations? Yes.
640. Is the Committee to understand from this report that the delay in the payments was to a great extent due to Mr. Handsaker's own irregularity? Certainly.
641. Mr. Burns.] Were not some accounts paid twelve months after he left the Service? Messrs. H. H. Brown & Co. received some, I believe.
642. What was the cause of the delay with regard to the amounts that were not received until twelve months after the services had been performed? The vouchers were sent to the department in due time in such a condition that they could not be passed. They were sent back, and not returned for twelve months, and he was called upon to explain. He said he was without forms, and could not send them earlier.
643. Chairman.] Is it not a fact that the reason a number of these amounts were not paid was because there were no funds to pay them? Some were not paid apparently on that account, but I cannot speak from my own knowledge. The papers will show that.
644. Do you know that Mr. McElhone made application to the Treasury for these moneys that Mr. Brown afterwards received? No, I do not.

Abram Orpen Moriarty, Esq., called in, sworn, and examined :—

- A. O.
Moriarty,
Esq.
26 Mar., 1884.
645. Chairman.] Do you remember the appointment of James Howard Handsaker in your department? Yes. I think he was appointed Temporary Inspector of Conditional Purchases in the middle of the year 1878.
646. Was Mr. Handsaker in any way under your supervision? He was entirely under my supervision.
647. What opinion did you form of him as an officer in your department? During the time that he was employed under me, which was about eighteen months, I had no reason whatever to doubt his efficiency as an officer or the steadiness of his conduct. No official complaint whatever was made respecting him. I had been privately told that he was given to intemperance, and I was therefore on the watch for evidence of it, but I saw none.
648. He was under your control the whole time? Yes.
649. Will you kindly look at this minute, on the fifth page of the Return, No. 14—(shows it to witness). Have you any knowledge of what led to the writing of that minute? Yes. Mr. Handsaker's services had been dispensed with at the beginning of January, 1880. After that some complaints became known from the Commissioner. Mr. O'Malley Clarke, in particular, made a complaint. Mr. Handsaker's services were dispensed with on the 1st January, 1880, but having been engaged as inspector he was employed to give evidence in some inquiries subsequent to his removal from office.
650. Do you remember Mr. O'Malley Clarke making a complaint? Yes.
651. Did he make more than one? Not more than one, I think; but he had mentioned some circumstances previously. His official complaint is dated the 20th August.
652. He informed the Committee that he had made more than one complaint? I think not. If it had been made it would have been here with the other papers. No doubt he and other Commissioners had had conversations with me, but my impression is that this must have been subsequent to Mr. Handsaker's services being dispensed with.
653. Why do you think it was after that? Because I see a statement in a letter of mine to Mr. Handsaker which I would not have made if I had had any reason to question his conduct. It is in page 5, and it is a circular addressed to him and four other inspectors whose services were dispensed with at the same time. I should not have written that if it were inconsistent with the facts within my knowledge. I know that some circumstances came to my knowledge later than that, which led me to form a not so favourable an opinion. I had been told privately, soon after his appointment, that he was intemperate, but I did not feel warranted in taking any action to his prejudice upon complaints not made in a way that would have admitted of his answering them.
654. Was your informant reliable? Yes; I think so.
655. You had no reason to doubt the information, although not coming officially? No; but I thought it possible my informant might be prejudiced.
656. Mr. Handsaker says in a letter to the Evening News that he had to apply to Mr. McElhone to draw these moneys in consequence of the continual delay in the department. Can you give evidence as to what led to that delay? I have not looked into the matter, but my impression is that there was no departmental delay whatever, but there was considerable delay in his transmission of the vouchers and returns. The nature of his employment was a contingent one; it was impossible to know what was coming to him until the accounts were sent in.
657. If those complaints of Mr. Handsaker had been made to you before his appointment would you have represented them to the Minister? Yes; probably I should have done so.
658. If those unofficial complaints had been made officially you would have been disposed to have accepted them? Yes.
659. The complaints referring to his drinking? Certainly.
660. Did those statements refer to his conduct previous to or after his appointment? It was about the time of his appointment that a friend of mine made some remarks, but I believed him to be very strongly opposed to Mr. McElhone.
661. Did that fact cause you to doubt the accuracy of his statement? I have no doubt he told me the truth, and Mr. Handsaker's subsequent conduct verified it.

662. You feel certain that the delay in his papers was due to irregularities of his own? I have no doubt of it. I am very clear that there were no official delays. Perhaps it was his want of official knowledge. I believe that some of these transactions extended over the period when I was ill and away from duty. I ceased to have official control in August, 1880, about which time Mr. Blackman took charge of the department. I was ill for three months. The reduction of Mr. Handsaker took place at the close of 1879, because the Estimates for 1880 made reduced provision for the service.

663. Mr. Day.] If Mr. O'Malley Clarke had sent in a complaint as to Mr. Handsaker's incompetency, would it be possible to have lost it? Hardly; but I do not think any complaint was made before January, 1880.

664. All complaints made against him were kept with the papers? I think so; I have no doubt these printed papers are correct.

665. If a complaint reached the office while you were ill would it be likely to be lost? Not at all likely. I believe it must have been subsequent to the letter which is here.

666. You think the document in these papers of the 12th April was the first? Yes; I think these inspectors were allowed to complete the work which they had in hand.

667. And when Mr. Handsaker appeared before Mr. O'Malley Clarke he was before him officially? He was giving evidence merely as a witness. I have a very strong impression, owing to the precise character of it, that this report of Mr. O'Malley Clarke was the first official intimation of the kind.

668. How does Mr. Handsaker stand in your department; is he clear, or does he owe you anything? I have heard that there is an advance made to him not adjusted.

669. Who advanced that money? It would be advanced from the Treasury, or from the Under Secretary, after the Minister had approved of it. Perhaps the application would have been made through me.

670. Was this made through you? I think not; it does not seem to have passed through my hands.

671. Chairman.] Do you know of your own knowledge whether all that money has been repaid or not? I have no personal knowledge of it.

672. Mr. Day.] Who could give us information on that point? Some of the Treasury officers.

WEDNESDAY, 9 APRIL, 1884.

Present:—

MR. BURNS,
MR. W. CLARKE,

MR. MERRIMAN,
MR. MOSES,

MR. TARGETT.

N. MELVILLE, ESQ., IN THE CHAIR.

John Henry Davies, Esq., J.P., called in and examined on oath:—

673. Chairman.] I believe you are a resident of the Scone district? Yes.

674. Do you know Mr. James Howard Handsaker? Yes; I believe I know the man you refer to.

675. He lives at Scone? He did live near Scone.

676. He received an appointment as Inspector of Conditional Purchases? Yes, that is the man.

677. Do you know his brother, Thomas Handsaker? Yes.

678. Of your own knowledge are you aware of their having made a selection in the district of Scone at any time? Yes.

679. Can you say on whose ground that selection was made? I cannot be positive that the land was Crown land at the time, or whether it was under lease to a person named Worrard. It had been Robertson's, then it became Laidlaw's, then it was looked upon as my land.

680. It was looked upon as your land at the time the selection was made? Yes; I leased the freehold land adjoining; in fact they had been Laidlaw's auction leases.

681. But at the time the selection was made the land upon which the Handsakers selected was recognized or looked upon by people in the district as being in your possession? Yes, it was looked upon as being mine for various reasons—really not mine, but looked upon as mine.

682. What is your occupation? I am a freehold grazier.

683. You have been a squatter in your time? No, never a squatter.

684. The land had been in your possession? Well, the land had been in my possession from my connection with Laidlaw; by my advice he dropped his leases.

685. Those are matters of which the general public would have no knowledge? Very little knowledge. I held all the adjoining purchased land from Mr. Samuel Terry. The land selected was a piece in the corner.

686. Do you know Mr. John McElhone, a Member of the Legislative Assembly? Yes.

687. Do you remember an election in the month of May or June, 1875, which was contested by Mr. McElhone and Mr. Hungerford? I remember an election, but cannot remember the date.

688. Did you see Mr. McElhone during that election? Yes.

689. Did you see James Howard Handsaker at that election? Yes.

690. On any occasion did you see them together? Yes.

691. During the first election, on any occasion did you see James Howard Handsaker under the influence of drink? I saw him, I believe, under the effects of drink; but it was in a place where he might very easily be affected by drink; it was in the bar of a public-house. Men at election times are apt to get excited. It was after the election I saw him under the influence of drink, not during the election.

692. On one occasion you saw him under the influence of drink? On one occasion.

693. Was Mr. McElhone there on that occasion? No.

694. Did you on any other occasions between that and the second election, which took place shortly afterwards—you recollect Mr. McElhone petitioning against Mr. Hungerford's return? Yes.

695. Do you recollect the election that took place in consequence of that petition? Yes.

696. Did you between these occasions see Handsaker under the influence of drink? I cannot say that I did.

697. Did you see him under the influence of drink at any time during the second election? No; only upon the first occasion I mentioned.

J. H. Davies,
Esq., J.P.
9 April, 1884.

- J. H. Davies, Esq., J.P.
9 April, 1884.
698. Have you ever seen Mr. Handsaker under the influence of drink? Yes.
699. On more than one occasion? Well, I have seen him on more than one occasion, but I cannot call the times; it was only upon one occasion that it was so prominently brought under my notice as to enable me to recollect it.
700. Have you had an opportunity of observing Mr. Handsaker's general conduct in the district? Yes.
701. From the opportunity you have had of observing his conduct, do you consider him a man of temperate habits? No; it is simply a matter of supply and demand.
702. Supply and demand? Yes, the demand was always there, the supply was wanting.
703. Are the Committee to understand that whenever he could procure drink he would take it? He would take as much as he could get—that is my opinion of the man.
704. From the opportunities you have had of judging of his conduct do you consider him a fit person to have been recommended for appointment as Inspector of Conditional Purchases? There are some very bad appointments, but I consider his was the worst possible appointment that could have been made.
705. Do you know of any circumstance occurring just about the time of his receiving the appointment, on his returning from Sydney on one occasion? Yes, I remember of my own knowledge that he was under the influence of liquor when going down to Sydney.
706. That was just previous to his going down to receive the appointment? Just previous to his going down to receive the appointment, or else just previous to his starting away to fulfil his duties; I cannot say which.
707. It was immediately upon his entering upon his duties? Yes.
708. Did nothing particular occur on that occasion? I could see that he was drunk from the way in which he rolled about on his horse. I heard at the time that he had gone over my paddocks roaring drunk.
709. I do not mean when he returned after entering upon his duties? No, he had to go to Sydney upon some business and had returned. He got out at a man named Sullivan's and was in a generally uproarious state altogether.
710. Whilst the second election was proceeding did you meet Mr. McElhone at any time? Yes.
711. Did he make any reference at the time you met him to his having lent any money to anybody? Yes, an altercation took place between myself and some people at the gates; something was said during the polling. I was bringing up a voter, and I said, consequent upon some action that had been taken, that I defied W. C. Browne, or John McElhone into the bargain, to do me any injury. McElhone replied: "I gave one man a hundred notes to select on you, and you won't be so flash when I put a couple more on you." I cannot at this distance of time remember the exact words, but those are the words he used as nearly as I can remember them.
712. Handsaker had selected previous to that? I cannot tax my memory now, but it was spoken of, for the dates show that the selection was made previous to that. It was publicly talked about that Handsaker had taken up 200 acres. I had a laugh at McElhone, because it really did not give me the cut.
713. When that statement was made to you did the circumstance connect in your mind anything about the money having been lent to the Handsakers? Yes, I knew the man he referred to, because the Woods's had told me that Handsaker had got £80. I was told £80, but the amount was really £100. It was publicly talked about.
714. Then you have no doubt whatever that when Mr. McElhone made that statement to you he referred to the loan he had made to the Handsakers? Most decidedly.
715. As having been lent for that purpose? Most decidedly; I have not the slightest doubt about that.
716. Have you any knowledge of how the selection passed out of Handsaker's possession? Yes.
717. Please state it? The Handsakers were indebted to Mr. James Little, a miller and storekeeper, and James Handsaker transferred his interest to his brother Thomas. Little became insolvent, and the official assignee sold Thomas Handsaker's interest in the place.
718. Do you know if that took place before, or about the time that James Handsaker received his appointment? No, long afterwards; they were heavily in debt.
719. Of your own knowledge are you aware that he was in debt to Mr. Little at the time he received his appointment? I cannot say that.
720. Do you know what the selection was sold for, what amount it realised? I think it was £113. I am not sure, but I think that was about it. I was at the sale I know.
721. Do you know whether the Handsakers possess any other property in the district? No, they do not; they are not in the district now.
722. Are you a magistrate? Yes.
723. Do you know if Handsaker was at any time, whilst in the Scone district, tried for drunkenness? I am under the impression that he was once locked up for it. It was before I was a magistrate.
724. Mr. Burns.] I think you stated that the selection made by Handsaker was upon land which adjoined your leased land? It was purchased land, leased by me from Mr. Terry.
725. It adjoined your leased land? Yes.
726. Did Handsaker's making a selection put you to any inconvenience? Not a bit.
727. Then it in no way prejudiced you his making the selection? Not in the slightest degree.
728. Did you suffer any inconvenience from Handsaker and his brother locating themselves there? Not the slightest.
729. In whose occupation had the land been before it was selected by the Handsakers? Immediately before I believe it was in the occupation of the Worrards. It was either Laidlaw's forfeited lease, or it was in the occupation of the Worrards.
730. Had the Worrards left the district? No, they are there still.
731. Were they using the land at the time it was first selected by the Handsakers? Yes.
732. Running cattle and sheep over it? Sheep.
733. Was Mr. Worrard alive at the time the selection was made? No.
734. The widow was residing on the purchased land? Yes, on her own purchased land.
735. Was that far from the land that was selected by the Handsakers? About 2 miles.
736. Who was inconvenienced or prejudiced by the Handsakers' making a selection? No one at all; except that the Worrards' might have been to the extent that they could not run through the selected land, they would have to keep on their own purchased land.

737. Mr. Moses.] Did you use the land at all—did you cross over it? No, I did not use any of it, I leased it, but used to allow the Worrards' to run over it. I kept it in my own hands.
738. Was it thought in the district that you were the possessor? Yes, it was known that I leased it.
739. Were you opposed to Mr. McElhone on that first election you spoke of? Yes.
740. Do you think Mr. McElhone intended to do you an injury by lending Handsaker the money to select? I think so. I think Handsaker worked Mr. McElhone upon that point. I do not think he cared particularly whether he did me an injury or not.
741. Did you know the Handsakers' for any length of time? He had only recently arrived in the district.
742. Was he considered to be a respectable man? I had very little knowledge of the man except what you would gather from his general manner and looks; from his general knocking about you soon gather the character of a man.
743. What was generally thought of his appointment in the district? It was thought by some people that it was a very good thing for him; others thought it would be a very good thing for those who wanted to get dummy selections put through, and that sort of thing. I thought that a £5 or £10 note would buy him at any time.
744. But was it thought to be a good appointment? No, it was thought to be a very bad appointment.
745. Mr. Targett.] Did Handsaker live in your neighbourhood? No.
746. Did you meet him about that time? Yes.
747. Were you ever on bad terms with him? Only because between the first election and the second election an effort had been made to show that some selections of mine were illegal, were wrong; and between times these matters had been cleared up and decided in my favour without my knowledge at the time. I was rather wrath at the time.
748. Was it at Handsaker's instance? It was at the instance of a man named Collins.
749. Did you ever have any personal quarrel with Handsaker? Not the slightest; never had a word with him in my life.
750. Chairman.] Provided the land was in your possession this selection would have interfered with your grazing? Yes, because it would have caused a lot more fencing.
751. Then had the land been in your possession the object would have been accomplished by the selection? Yes, I should have had to buy him out, or something. He would have been a nuisance; he was right on the track, in the jaws of everything.
752. Then it was not his fault that inconvenience was not caused to you? Not his fault.
753. It was an error in making a selection of this particular land? Yes.

I J. H. Davies,
Esq., J.P.
9 April, 1884.

Mr. John Sullivan called in and examined on oath:—

754. Chairman.] You live in the Scone district, I believe? Yes.
755. Do you know James Howard Handsaker? Yes, I know him.
756. Do you remember his receiving a Government appointment? Yes, he told me he received it; he came to my place one Sunday morning and told me he had got a Government situation.
757. Came to your place on a Sunday morning? Yes.
758. Did you see him again before he went away to discharge the duties of the appointment? No.
759. Had you seen him previous to his coming to you on the Sunday morning? Yes, I used to see him off and on in Scone.
760. Have you ever seen him under the influence of liquor? I never saw him drunk, but I have seen him under the influence of liquor slightly. He was under the influence of liquor slightly when he came to me on the Sunday morning. He had lost his hat, and had lost himself.
761. That was the morning he gave you news of his appointment? Yes.
762. Had he been to Sydney? Yes, it was after his going to Sydney. I think he came up in the mail train.
763. And he reached your place on the Sunday morning? Yes, he had lost himself.
764. On Saturday night? Yes, on Saturday night.
765. You say he lost his hat? Yes, he lost it in my paddocks.
766. Did he inform you on the Sunday morning that he had been out all night? Yes.
767. Unable to find his way about? Yes, my place is in quite the reverse direction to where he lived.
768. The Committee are to understand by the statement you make that he was under the influence of liquor on the Sunday morning you speak of, that he was suffering a recovery? Yes, a recovery after the night.
769. Have you seen him at any other time under the influence of liquor? Yes, on one occasion, slightly; I could not call him drunk at the time.
770. From the opportunities you have had of judging of his conduct, should you consider him a man of temperate or intemperate habits? A man of intemperate habits.
771. What occupation do you follow? I am a farmer.
772. Do you think he was a proper person to receive such an appointment as he did receive? I had no knowledge of his qualifications; but I should not think so.
773. You say he was a man of intemperate habits;—do you think he was a fit man to be appointed Inspector of Conditional Purchases? I never saw him drunk. You could not call him drunk on the morning he called on me; he was suffering a recovery.
774. He left almost immediately afterwards to enter upon his duties? Yes; I invited him into my place; he seemed very cold, and sat by the fire, and I gave him some breakfast. He asked me to try and make him as respectable looking as I could. I said, "The best thing you can do is to come along with me; I am going down the road, and you had better come down with me"; and he did so.
775. Then you made him look respectable, and put him on his road? Yes.
776. Do you recollect the election that took place between Mr. Hungerford and Mr. McElhone, when Hungerford was successful? Yes.
777. Did you see Mr. Handsaker taking part in that election? Yes; that is the only time he did assist him to my knowledge.
778. Did you see him at the second election? Yes, I think so. He was a stranger in Scone.

Mr.
J. Sullivan.
9 April, 1884.

- Mr. J. Sullivan.
9 April, 1884.
779. Did he tell you how he came to receive the appointment, through whose influence he obtained it, on the Sunday morning he called at your house? No; he did not tell me how he got it.
780. Did he say anything about the nature of his appointment on the morning he called at your place, after losing himself? Yes; he told me he had been appointed Inspector of Conditional Purchases, and was going on the Dubbo side.
781. Did he tell you that anyone had recommended him for appointment? I cannot tell; I don't remember.
782. Did he say anything about having a selection in the district at that time? Oh, he had a selection. I asked him if he was going to take his family with him, and he said no; he should leave them on his selection.
783. Have you seen him since he returned, after leaving his duties? Yes, once in Scone.
784. From the opportunities you have had of observing him, do you still consider him a man of intemperate habits? I do not think I would depend much upon the fellow at any time.
785. Mr. Burns.] Do you still reside in the Scone district? Yes; I have lived for twenty-eight years in the district.
786. How long had you known Mr. Handsaker before his appointment? I dare say about twelve months.
787. Were you in the habit of seeing him frequently? No; except I saw him in Scone. The first time I saw him was in a blacksmith's shop.
788. What opportunities had you of forming an impression as to his habits? I often saw him. On the occasion when I saw him in the blacksmith's shop, he appeared to be slightly under the influence of drink.
789. What was his character in the district? That I could not say.
790. With respect to his habits? I never heard much about the man; he was a stranger.
791. Mr. Moses.] Do you remember him selecting? I cannot tell the time he selected.
792. You remember he did select? Yes; the land belonged, I think, to Mrs. Worrard.
793. Did you ever hear who advanced him the money to select with? Yes, I heard that Mr. McElhone advanced him money. But it was only hearsay.
794. Did you hear that it was to do any person an injury—that the money was advanced to Handsaker to select with the view of doing some one an injury? Yes, I think so; I heard that it was to do Mr. Davies an injury.
795. Mr. Targett.] Did you hear that at the time? Not at the time.
796. Soon afterwards? Soon afterwards; but it was merely hearsay.
797. Did you hear Mr. McElhone say anything to the effect that he had advanced money to Handsaker for the purpose of annoying Davies? No.
798. Mr. Merriman.] You say you knew Mr. Handsaker twelve months before his appointment? Yes, twelve months as near as possible.
799. But you say you knew him twelve months before his appointment? Yes.
800. How many times did you see him during that twelve months? Two or three times.
801. Was it from what you observed during those two or three times that you formed the opinion that he was a man guilty of intemperate habits? I think twice I saw him under the influence of liquor.
802. Is it because you saw him drunk twice that you say he is a man of intemperate habits? I saw the man a couple of times.
803. Is it because you saw him drunk twice, and from what you heard, that you say he is a man of intemperate habits? From what I saw twice, and the time he came to my place on the Sunday morning.
804. And from that you think he is a man of intemperate habits? I think so.
805. Chairman.] Did you form your opinion from what you saw and what you heard in the district? Yes.

Mr. J. J. Lawler called in and examined on oath:—

- Mr. J. J. Lawler.
9 April, 1884.
806. Chairman.] You know Mr. John McElhone, Member of the Legislative Assembly? Yes.
807. You know Mr. James Howard Handsaker, late an Inspector of Conditional Purchases? Yes.
808. Where do you reside? I reside in Sydney, but at the time I knew Mr. Handsaker I was Inspector of Conditional Purchases at Scone. In fact I gave him his instructions when he got the appointment.
809. Had you an opportunity of observing his general conduct before he received the appointment? Only slightly. I met him several times.
810. Did you on any of those occasions see him under the influence of liquor? No.
811. How many times may you have seen him? Altogether about eight or nine times. Through having to go in and out of town so much I had not much opportunity of observing him. Though I never saw him under the influence of drink I heard he had been so.
812. Was it generally reported in the district that he was a man of intemperate habits? After he went away I heard it spoken of. After he received the appointment I heard he had been carrying on very badly.
813. The selection was taken up in the name of the two brothers? Yes, James and Thomas Handsaker. I have a copy of my report. The report is very favourable, and shows that the improvements were well up to the requirements.
814. Was the land in the possession of any person, by lease or otherwise, at the time the Handsaker's selected? No.
815. Had it been previously? I cannot tell you that. In the papers supplied to me from the Lands office there was no indication whatever that the land had been previously occupied, nor could I trace it on the map.
816. I see you value the improvements at £330? Yes, £330 or £320—I forget which. My report went in on the 4th November, 1879. That is the date of my report.
817. Do you know if the selection was sold? I cannot tell.
818. You do not know what it was sold for? No.
819. Mr. Burns.] Had you any official information as to whether the land which was selected by the Handsakers was in the possession of other persons at the time they selected it? No, none whatever. I was supplied with a tracing and a letter. My duty then took me to the Lands Office to look for particulars. I then went out and traced the selection from marks on my papers, and I distinctly recollect that I was very careful about them. There was no indication whatever that the land was in the possession of anyone else.

820. As far as you could obtain information was the land Crown land held by no person in particular, and open to selection? Open to selection. Otherwise it would have been referred to me to report upon.
821. As far as you are aware there are no conflicting rights with respect to the land? None whatever.
822. Chairman.] Have you any evidence whatever to offer? None whatever. Some time after Mr. Handsaker's appointment I heard that he had been carrying on very badly. In fact I thought it was a strange thing that I was struck off and he was kept on.
823. What made you think so? I afterwards heard that he had been mixed up in company.
824. Are you aware of your own knowledge that he was a man of intemperate habits? No. He was sober at the time he received instructions from me. In fact he rode away with me to his brother's.
825. Mr. Clarke.] At whose instance did you come here to give evidence? I was subpoenaed by the Chairman.
826. Did you volunteer to give evidence? No, I was asked by Mr. McElhone.
827. Had you any conversation with Mr. McElhone as to the evidence you were to give? No.
828. No letter from him? No.

Mr.
J. J. Lawler.
9 April, 1884.

C.

Respecting accounts of Mr. J. H. Handsaker.

Memo.—In obedience to your request to investigate the statements contained in a letter (copy herewith) published in the Evening News of the 6th instant, and signed by J. H. Handsaker, at one time temporarily employed as an Inspector of Conditional Land Sales, I have the honor to submit the following report:—

1. Mr. Handsaker states that "after my appointment as Inspector of C.P's. I found there was no money coming in for services rendered, and after several months of working and waiting I applied to Mr. McElhone to collect moneys due to me." It might be inferred from the opening words of this statement that no accounts were paid to Mr. Handsaker until he applied to Mr. McElhone. As a matter of fact Mr. Handsaker's appointment was made in May, 1878, but he does not appear to have entered actively upon his duties until July of that year. The first vouchers were received from Mr. Handsaker on the 19th October, 1878, being for travelling expenses incurred and inspection fees earned during July and August. The work of examination took till the 12th November, when they were sent to the Treasury, and at which office they were paid on the 16th November, or within one month from the date of their receipt by this Department. I enclose a statement shewing the date of service, the date of receipt, and date of payment of vouchers rendered by Mr. Handsaker, and it will be found that in the majority of instances Mr. Handsaker is to a very great extent responsible for the delays that took place. Mr. Capper, the officer whose duty it was to examine the inspectors' work, informs me the vouchers of Mr. Handsaker's that came under his notice were prepared in such a manner as to render their examination both difficult and tedious. Frequently he found it a saving of time to prepare the forms himself and return them to Mr. Handsaker for signature. The books of the office shew correspondence to have been carried on, in which information was sought to enable the vouchers to be passed.

With respect to the second portion of the statement, the inference to be drawn is that the general order issued to Mr. McElhone was given in consequence of delay in receiving payment of accounts rendered. This order is dated the 29th June, 1879, and upon that date there had been rendered, but unpaid, the accounts enumerated in the following statement:—

No. of Voucher.	Period of Service.	Nature.	Received at Department of Lands.	Sent to Treasury.	Date of Payment.	To whom paid.
			1879.	1879.	1879.

						Bank N.S.W.

It will be observed from this statement that a period of from one to six months intervened between the date of service and the date the vouchers were received here. For this delay Mr. Handsaker is alone responsible.

It will also be seen that, with one exception, these vouchers were despatched to the Treasury within one month from their receipt; it therefore only remains now to explain the cause of delay in paying the accounts. The four first-mentioned accounts were held over by the Treasury as the votes against which they were chargeable were exhausted. On the 8th August, however, funds were available, and they were paid to Mr. McElhone on the 25th August; had the claims been preferred earlier they would no doubt have been paid earlier than they were, as there would have been money to meet them. The cause of the deficiency in the vote will be found alluded to in the printed papers (p. 3, paper No. 4).

Mr. Handsaker was apprised on the 26th March, 1879, by the Treasury that the vouchers Nos. 5 to 8, as per statement, were ready for payment. The first instructions for payment were contained in the general order made to Mr. McElhone, and which, as before stated, was dated 29th June, 1879. It was therefore within Mr. Handsaker's power to direct payment of the accounts on receipt of the notice from the Treasury; his failure to do so until three months afterwards is not attributable to either the Treasury or this Department, but rests entirely with himself. There are other instances where instructions had been issued by the Treasury which remained unattended to for a considerable period; orders for payment to the Bank of New South Wales, for instance, being received in response to notices issued two and three months previously, and it is not likely that the delay was with the banking institution.

With respect to the amounts collected by the Messrs. H. H. Brown & Co., it is pointed out that the vouchers were not received until twelve months after the first service had been performed. Mr. Handsaker was called upon to explain the cause of the delay in transmitting vouchers, and on the 15th July, 1880, replied to the effect (C.S. 80-31452)—"that the vouchers were sent in due course to the Department and returned with specimen copies, and that, being without forms, he was unable to furnish vouchers earlier." There is no especial difficulty in obtaining forms, and it is somewhat hard to reconcile the anxiety for payment of outstanding accounts that one would be led to believe existed, after reading Mr. Handsaker's letter to the Evening News. Had Mr. Handsaker's work been in a satisfactory condition some ground for his complaint might have been established; but he had not on the 6th August, 1880, returned his progress reports upon selections inspected from June to October, 1879. The vouchers could not therefore have been examined or passed on for payment. However, the votes for 1879 were then fully expended, and Parliament, on the 6th April, 1881, voted a sum to cover these and other accounts, and on the 2nd May, 1881, they were duly paid over to Messrs. H. H. Brown & Co. on behalf of Mr. Handsaker.

Letter referred to in report herewith.

Evening News, 6 March, 1884.

A McELHONIAN RECOMMENDATION.

Sir,

To the Editor.

As several paragraphs under the above heading have appeared in your papers, will you kindly allow me, as an act of justice to Mr. McElhone, to say a few words in explanation. After my appointment as Inspector of Conditional Purchases I found there was no money coming in for services rendered, and after several months of working and waiting I applied to Mr. McElhone to collect the moneys due to me. He did so, and forwarded the money collected intact, except for stamps. I had also to employ Mr. H. H. Brown, Member for the Paterson, to collect moneys—between £200 and £300—that had been owing by the Crown Lands Department for over two years; and I believe that gentleman had trouble enough to obtain it, though it was admitted I was entitled to it. Your paragraphs would lead the public to infer that Mr. McElhone had collected the moneys on his own account, but such was not the case; it was at my repeated request for him to do so, and therefore there is no blame attached to that gentleman but rather to the Crown Lands Department, when, through their negligence, Civil Servants have to resort to such methods to obtain their money. I may add that the moneys collected by Mr. H. H. Brown had been owing for twelve months when I left the Service, and then over another twelve months elapsed before I obtained it. Your insertion of the above will oblige

Manilla, March 3.

Yours, &c.,

J. H. HANDSAKER.

I, JAMES THOMPSON WILSHIRE, a Justice of the Peace of the Colony, being about to leave the Colony this day by the s.s. "Ballarat," do solemnly and sincerely declare that I knew one James Howard Handsaker, late of Scone, previous to his receiving an appointment as Inspector of Conditional Purchases, and that he, with his brother, Thomas, made a conditional purchase about the month of July, 1875, in that district, and that I had opportunities of observing his conduct on various occasions, when I saw him in a state of intoxication, which was notorious throughout the district. I heard an altercation on one occasion during the month of August at the hustings at Scone, and heard Mr. McElhone say in reply to a statement from some one among the electors, that "if I have lent him (meaning Handsaker) money, I have his promissory-note," slapping his pocket at the time; and I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intitled "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of the Government of New South Wales, and to substitute declarations in lieu thereof, and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

MR. FRANK HOBBS' CONDITIONAL PURCHASE.

No. 1.

Application by F. Hobbs.

D [Alienation Act, section 13.]
Application by Frank Hobbs for the conditional purchase, without competition, of 640 acres unimproved Crown Land.

Received by me, with a deposit of £160, this 26th day of October, 1876, at 10 o'clock,—

G. MARTIN,

Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Glen Innes.

Sir,

26 October, 1876.

I am desirous of purchasing, without competition, under the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, the portion of unimproved Crown Land hereunder described, containing 640 acres; and I herewith tender the sum of £160, being a deposit at the rate of 5s. per acre on the area for which I apply.

I am, &c.,

his

FRANK × HOBBS,

Witness to mark—HENRY C. A. WEAVER.

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Glen Innes.

Wellingrove.

Description.

County of Gough, parish of Waterloo, 640 acres, on Waterloo Run, embracing the land marked on map as Waterloo Plains, south of reserve No. 95, starting about 10 chains south from the south-western corner of said reserve; thence by lines east, south, west, and north along creek to which it has frontage, to point of commencement.

Minute on No. 1.

By Surveyor-General:—Mr. Licensed Surveyor W. Christie to measure, if unobjectionable.—D.W. (for Surveyor-General) 5th December, 1876.

No. 2.

Mr. J. Eckford, M.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

“Eckford's Family Hotel,” corner York and Margaret Streets, Sydney, 29 November, 1878.

Sir,

In August last Mr. J. A. M'Intyre applied to the Land Agent, Glen Innes, for the purchase of 400 acres of land. The Land Agent, as the accompanying letter shows, would not take the deposit money, but stated he would forward on his (M'Intyre's) application to the Lands Office, Sydney.

I find, on application at the Lands Office, he did forward the application which was returned to him, the Land Agent, Mr. Martin, for his report, and he denies having received it back, which the accompanying letter and telegram will show.

I think it is a hard case upon Mr. M'Intyre; the land has been taken up by Vivers, as you will see, at Inverell, which is not in the proper district.

I am, &c.,

JOSEPH ECKFORD.

[Enclosure to No. 2.]

Dear Sir,

Waterloo, 14 October, 1876.

I wish you to take the following matter in hand for me and see me righted by the Minister for Lands.

Some time ago, in August last, Carl Shutz's selection of 320 acres was forfeited. It was taken up by him at the Land Office at Inverell, and described as in the parish of Buckley, when it was not in that parish, but in the parish of Waterloo, and land district of Glen Innes, about 20 acres of it may be in the parish of Buckley, but it was forfeited to Shutz for non-residence. I then applied for it at the Land Office, Glen Innes, as an additional conditional selection of 400 acres, including the said 320 acres; the Land Agent said he did not understand whether I could do so or not, but he would take my application and send it to head quarters, but he would not then take my money, although offered to him, but said that he would not allow any one to take the land in the meantime. I saw Mr. Martin, Land Agent at Glen Innes, yesterday, and he said he had sent my papers down to Minister for Lands, but had not received an answer; and he wishes me to push the matter at once for this reason. Mr. L——— took up the land at Inverell, I do not know how or in what way, but you could see at the Land Office; but he took it after I had applied for it, at the proper office, Glen Innes. I understand he took it up under regulations of Land Act, page 52, in virtue of intended improvements (see Act), that the land was never under lease to him, Vivers, so he could not take it, as far as I can see, under this regulation on my run which he has done.

Trusting you will understand what I wish done.

I am, &c.,

J. A. M'INTYRE.

Vivers' Application:—Application made 16th August, 1876, county of Arrawatta, parish of Buckley, being portion No. 145, Carl Shutz's forfeited selection.

Minute on Enclosure to No. 2.

By Chief Commissioner:—Mr. Blackman,—The Minister wishes for information as to the state of the additional conditional purchase of J. A. M'Intyre, Glen Innes, within referred to.—Urgent. A.O.M., 29/4/76.

No. 3.

Mr. W. J. Fergusson to Mr. J. Eckford, M.P.

Dear Sir,

Inverell, 16 December, 1876.

Re J. A. M'Intyre.

On the 26th October last Frank Hobbs applied to the Land Agent at Glen Innes to conditionally purchase 640 acres of land on Waterloo Run, description as applied for herewith, marked A, by which you will see it was to commence 10 chains south from south-western corner of reserve 95 (plan herewith, marked marked B). When the surveyor went to measure the land, found Hobbs' land, as he intended to take it up, embraced part of the reserve; the surveyor now says he must survey the land to Hobbs which Mr. M'Intyre and Honfrie has taken up since Hobbs' application. M'Intyre and Honfrie both have possession, neither of them will give it up until they are ejected by the Supreme Court.

Surveyor Christie wants to take M'Intyre's 60 acres, being the 10 chains between reserve and Hobbs' selection, and Honfrie's 222 acres, and leave them none. He says he must give Hobbs his 640 acres, which he can't get without taking M'Intyre's 60 acres, which he has applied to purchase in virtue of intended improvements; he has paid the deposit to the Land Agent, and Honfrie's 222 acres. It is submitted that as Hobbs' description is so vague he cannot claim the other two. The surveyor is measuring for Hobbs the 10 chains between reserve and Hobbs', also taking Honfrie's 222 acres, which will give Hobbs a boundary of about 2 miles, which is contrary to the Land Act, and eighth regulation, which says no boundary shall exceed 80 chains in a direct line. By the survey of Christie, Hobbs will get about 160 chains back. Even supposing (which I hold he can't) he is allowed to take M'Intyre's 60 acres, it would still throw him back over a mile and three-quarters. By Hobbs' description he can only get about 340 acres measured him, and the surveyor has no right to take other people's land to give to another as he thinks proper.

Will you kindly see the Minister and explain to him the position, and get him to instruct Christie not to take M'Intyre's or Honfrie's land to make up Hobbs' 640 acres.

Land marked with red dots is the description as intended by Hobbs, which includes about one-fifth of the reserve.

Land as marked on plan with red line round it is the land applied for by M'Intyre.

Land marked on plan in pencil applied for by Honfrie.

Get Minister to telegraph Christie not to take in M'Intyre's or Honfrie's land.

I have, &c.,

W. J. FERGUSSON.

No. 4.

Mr. J. Campbell to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir, Waterloo, near Wellingrove, 18 December, 1876.

On the 26th October last one Frank Hobbs made application for a conditional purchase of 640 acres on the Waterloo Run, taking starting-point 10 chains south of water reserve No. 95.

On the 2nd November last I also applied for an additional conditional purchase of 159 acres of land in no way interfering with Hobbs' description.

Mr. Surveyor Christie is now measuring Frank Hobbs' conditional purchase, and as his survey includes part of my additional conditional purchase, I therefore pray that the present survey be not passed until the matter has been looked into.

I have, &c.,

JOHN CAMPBELL.

(Presented by Joseph Eckford.)

No. 5.

Mr. H. W. Honfrie to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir, 18 December, 1876.

I have taken up a conditional purchase of 222 acres on the Waterloo Run in no way interfering with any previous selections; but Mr. Surveyor Christie is now measuring my land to Frank Hobbs, because the land, or part of it that he applied for was swallowed up by water reserve No. 95 or 93.

I therefore submit to your consideration if it is right, because he did not get the land he applied for as it was a reserve he should now be thrown back upon my land.

Trusting that you will have the matter inquired into.

I am, &c.,

H. W. HONFRIE.

(Presented by Joseph Eckford.)

Minutes on No. 5.

By the Surveyor-General:—It is recommended that the later conditional purchases of Campbell, 76-117, and Honfrie, 76-135, be declared void, as there is no land available after satisfying the previous conditional purchase, 76-116, of Frank Hobbs. Then to Miscellaneous Branch to the conditional purchase of Mackenzie, of 60 acres (shown in sketch herewith), which it is believed will be found to be inadmissible hereafter.—ROBT. D. FITZGERALD (for Surveyor-General), 23/1/77. The Under Secretary for Lands.

By the Chief Commissioner:—For cancellation of 76-117 and 76-135.—A.O.M., 7/2/77.

No. 6.

Mr. J. A. M'Intyre to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir, Waterloo, Wellingrove, 18 December, 1876.

One Frank Hobbs made application for 640 acres as a conditional purchase on Waterloo Run, and according to his description commenced 10 chains south of water reserve No. 95. These 10 chains, amounting to 60 acres, I have since applied for under the 31st clause, and this land cannot therefore interfere with his selection.

I have had the reserve and these 60 acres surveyed at my own expense by Mr. Surveyor Wener.

Mr. Surveyor Christie is now on the ground surveying, and is including my 60 acres into Hobbs' selection, entirely contrary to his description.

Trusting that you will have this matter investigated at your earliest convenience, as I wish to go on with my improvements during the summer months.

I have, &c.,

J. A. M'INTYRE.

No. 7.

Mr. Licensed-Surveyor Christie to The Surveyor-General.

Sir,

Glen Innes, 22 December, 1876.

I have the honor to acknowledge from you the telegram sent by Mr. Solicitor Ferguson, of Inverell, on behalf of Mr. J. M'Intyre, to the Honorable the Minister for Lands, making certain allegations with reference to my survey of F. Hobbs' conditional purchase, which by telegram on the 19th instant I informed you were false; and I now do myself the honor to send you a rough plan showing what I have done in the matter of this survey, that before I proceed further I may have your approval or otherwise, and the benefit of your advice as to how I had better act if what I have done is not satisfactory to you.

I enclose all the applications for land in this vicinity, and may state that on the District map in the local Lands Office, reserve No. 93 is shown fully 90 chains north of No. 41, and embraces that portion of Waterloo Plains between dotted line on plan and land measured by me for Hobbs. The land known as Waterloo Plains is that embraced between the water frontage and the timber line, which I have shown with as much accuracy as I can, and as Hobbs' application, which is the first, distinctly applies for the "land marked on the map as Waterloo Plains," and as the reserve is shown on the map alluded to, viz., that in the Lands Office—so far north of its true position as to make the latter part of the description tally exactly with the former part—that is to say, 10 chains south of reserve—I consider that the applicant is entitled to the land as measured, and that he is not, as Mr. M'Intyre wishes to make him, bound by that part of the description which is erroneous, owing to the error in the District Land Office maps.

I am perfectly satisfied that the land intended by Hobbs is that shown by dotted blue line, and M'Intyre first informed me of the error with respect to the reserve, and of his intention to apply for 60 acres under 31st clause of the Crown Lands Alienation Act, adjoining the southern boundary of the reserve, and if possible hold Hobbs to the erroneous part of his description.

Previous to M'Intyre making his application, I informed him that under the circumstances I did not consider that Mr. Hobbs would be held responsible for any mistake in the map, more especially as he distinctly mentioned the Waterloo Plains as being embraced by him, and that his (M'Intyre's) application would be subject altogether to Hobbs' survey.

Mr. M'Intyre therefore has not been put to loss or inconvenience, having effected no improvements on the land, and he has not made his application without a full knowledge of the doubt that existed as to his getting it.

This is the case, so far as I know, with respect to the clashing between Messrs. M'Intyre and Hobbs.

Regarding Honfrie's applications, I do not know their area, but they are made to start 80 chains back from the river, with the view to prevent Hobbs getting his full amount of land. Mr. M'Intyre pointed this out to me, and from his remarks respecting it, I have every reason to believe that Honfrie's selections are not bona fide, but are made on behalf of Mr. M'Intyre, who is lessee of the run. That gentleman informed me that he had selected the land, and I certainly was under the belief that it was selected in his own name till Honfrie came on the ground with a tent while I was surveying it.

This is the whole case respecting this land, which I beg to submit to you, and venture to hope that you will direct me by design or otherwise as soon as possible. If you can make it convenient to do so by 2nd January, 1877, I will at once carry out your instructions.

A great amount of ill-feeling is being engendered between the parties interested, and as litigation appears to be inevitable, it will, I think, be of importance to have the departmental portion of the case placed on a proper footing as soon as possible.

I have, &c.,

W. CHRISTIE,

Licensed Surveyor.

P.S.—When returning instructions and design to me, will the Surveyor-General be good enough to enclose description of this reserve, No. 93, as there is not one in the Lands Office here.—W.C.

Declaration.

I, HENRY WILLIAM HONFRIE, of Waterloo, do solemnly and sincerely declare, that the complaint marked A, hereto appended, touching the matter noted in the margin hereof, is true to the best of my belief, and I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of the Government of New South Wales and to substitute Declarations in lieu thereof and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits.

[Enclosure to No. 10.]

A.

The declaration of Henry William Honfrie declareth that Frank Hobbs has never resided on his conditional purchase of 640 acres from the time of his taking up the selection, 26th October, 1876, to the present time, 26th February, 1877, being in contravention of clause 24, cap. 2 of the Lands Act Amendment Act.

And this declaration further declareth that Frank Hobbs is the servant or agent of John M'Master, of Glendon, and has not taken up this conditional purchase of 640 acres on Waterloo Run on his own account, as required by clause 19, cap 2 of the Lands Act Amendment Act of 1875.

This declaration of Henry William Honfrie is made in accordance with clause 47, cap 2 of the Lands Act Amendment Act of 1875.

Mr. F. Hobbs to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Wellington, 9 March, 1877.

Having been informed that one H. W. Honfrie has sent in a report with accompanying Declaration, under the 25th clause of Amended Land Act with reference to my (asserted) non-residence on a conditional purchase of 640 acres, in the parish of Waterloo and county of Gough, taken up by me at Glen Innes, on the 26th October, 1876. I have the honor to forward, for the information of the Honorable the Minister for Lands, the attached declaration, and to request an early settlement, by inquiry or otherwise, of my title, in order that I may proceed with necessary improvements before the winter sets in.

I have, &c.,

[Enclosure to No. 11.]

Declaration.

I, FRANK HOBBS, do hereby solemnly and sincerely declare that I conditionally purchased 640 acres of land in the parish of Waterloo and county of Gough, at the Land Office, Glen Innes, on the 26th day of October, 1876, and that I immediately took possession of the same land and built a temporary residence thereon, but that I was disturbed in my quiet possession by the interference of Messrs. M'Intyre and Honfrie, who claimed the said land. Since then the land has been surveyed by Mr. Surveyor Christie in accordance with my application, though he was not at the time aware whether such application had been allowed, and in consequence of which uncertainty of tenure I did not go on with further improvements.

Since I took up the land I have continued in permanent possession, having only been absent when necessary business required my attention at Inverell or elsewhere. Having this day been made aware of the cancellation of Honfrie and Campbell's application for a portion of the same land, I now proceed with my intended improvements.

I, Frank Hobbs, do make the foregoing declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of New South Wales and to substitute Declarations in lieu thereof, and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

No. 13.

The Surveyor-General to Mr. Licensed Surveyor Christie.

Sir,

Surveyor General's Office, Sydney, 6 April, 1877.

In reference to your telegram of the 3rd instant, requesting transmission of Hobbs' and Zuill's applications, I have to inform you that Hobbs' conditional purchases were sent to Licensed-Surveyor Drummond in October last, and that there is no record of any selection by Zuill in 1875, 6, or 7.

In connection with the above-mentioned request, for recent conditional purchase instructions, I beg to state that, having so many old instructions on hand, I must request that you will carry them out first.

I am, &c.,

P. F. ADAMS.

Minutes on No. 13.

There is some extraordinary mistake about this matter. Frank Hobbs' conditional purchase, 76-116, of 640 acres; Thomas Hobbs' conditional purchase, 76-115, of 200 acres; James Zuill's conditional purchase, Nos. 76-111 and 76-118, of 320 acres each, were sent to me in accordance with my telegraphic request of 5th December last, with your letters of 6th December, Nos. 71, 73, 72, 74 respectively.

They were in connection with a disputed case, and, as litigation was very likely to ensue, I telegraphed for instructions with the view to stopping the dispute. I measured conditional purchase 76-116, F. Hobbs' 640 acres, and, owing to telegraphic complaint from Mr. Solicitor Ferguson, of Inverell, on behalf of one Onfrei, I considered it my duty to submit to you what I had done, and enclosed a rough plan of my survey of conditional purchase 76-116, together with all the above-mentioned applications, requesting you to either approve of my action, or direct me as to how I should proceed; this was on 23rd (?) December last.

On or about 27th January you telegraphed that my survey was satisfactory, and that I could transmit it; also, that Onfrei's conditional purchases were recommended to be declared void.

Subsequently you informed me by wire that the papers were under reference to the Honorable the Minister for Lands.

Expecting them almost daily, after that, I held over survey of several conditional purchases in their vicinity, instructions for which I held since August last; but, not receiving them, I proceeded thence last month, and effected all other conditional purchases near the vicinity of Wellingrove.

A mistake appears in your letter as to name of one of applicants—it is Zuill.

Respecting the last paragraph it is certainly very much in error. I have not a single conditional purchase application on hand, and I do not think there are any unmeasured conditional purchases in my district, as during the past three months I obtained copies of all applications that I was near, and surveyed in anticipation; consequently, at the present time, everything is worked right up to date.

I have three auction applications and two improvement purchases for O. Bloxsome, which I purpose completing during this month, and the early part of next. This, together with alignment of Glen Innes, which is nearly half completed, will leave me entirely without work on hand.

In view of the above explanation, please send me the applications mentioned, or, at any rate, that of Hobbs', 76-116, which I went some 21 miles out of my way to survey, believing that by so doing I was really serving the interests of the Department.

9th April, 1877.

WM. CHRISTIE, L.S.

There appears to be every reason why the applications of Thomas and Frank Hobbs' conditional purchases 76-115 and 76-116 respectively; also those of James Zuill, 76-111 and 76-118, should be sent, as report has been made on the former by Mr. Licensed Surveyor Christie, and measurement submitted and approved of, and Zuill's conditional purchases are affected by them as to position.

Henry Hobbs' conditional purchases, 76-6 and 49, have been sent to Mr. Licensed Surveyor Drummond, the division line of whose district and Mr. Christie's is at this locality.

The confusion has arisen from the ambiguity of Mr. Christie's telegram of 29th May herewith.

17th April, 1877.

F. W. R.

By Surveyor-General:—Let the instructions be sent at once.—P.F.A., 18th April, 1877.

By Surveyor-General:—These papers should be despatched as directed. Separate plans of the conditional purchases in question (Hobbs' and Zuill's) should be forwarded to the Department.—D.W. (for Surveyor-General), 18th April, 1877.

No. 14.

Mr. J. Bridge to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 19 May, 1877.

Referring to Mr. John A. M'Intyre's application of 3rd November, 1876, for 60 acres of land on Waterloo Run, under the 31st clause of the Land's Act Amendment Act, I now beg leave, on behalf of Mr. M'Intyre, to object to the measurement of the land applied for. About the 26th October, 1876, one Frank Hobbs applied for 640 acres as a conditional purchase, to commence at a point 10 chains from the south-west corner of water reserve No. 93 or 95. Mr. M'Intyre's application, dated 3rd November, 1876, was for 60 acres, to commence at the south-west corner of water reserve No. 93, and to extend along that reserve easterly 60 chains by a width of 10 chains; but it appears that as measured now, Hobbs' 640 acres lot extends all along and up to the water reserve No. 93, thus leaving no land to satisfy Mr. M'Intyre's application, which is the point now objected to, and which is, as you will see, a serious matter to Mr. M'Intyre, and I trust you will at once see the matter adjusted.

Yours, &c.,

JOHN BRIDGE.

By Surveyor-General:—The writer may be informed that as the conditional purchase is of prior date to the conditional purchase referred to, measurement must be made in satisfaction of the former, according to the description, if such is shown to be in conformity with the law. The conditional purchase must also be measured in accordance with the regulations, if practicable; or, if not, modification can be made in survey under the 13th clause of the Act of 1875. Then to District Surveyor Greaves, in connection with instructions to Mr. Licensed Surveyor Christie on the conditional purchase application, and with reference to the subject matter of this letter, and for his observation and return. The conditional purchase has also been sent to Mr. Licensed Surveyor Christie (about June, 1877).—ROBERT D. FITZGERALD (for Surveyor-General), 6th August, 1877.

The Under Secretary for Lands. Inform.—3/9/77. Conditional Sales Branch—Any action on Hobbs' conditional purchase. If not, refer papers to Mr. Landers for despatch to Mr. District Surveyor Greaves, and return for his information.—F.W.R., 26th November, 1877.

I gather from the correspondence that Ministerial decision is required. The points involved being: 1st.—True position of reserve 93; 2nd.—Whether Hobbs shall not be confined to his description, and start 10 chains south of reserve; 3rd.—As there has been an inquiry; Is Hobbs' conditional purchase forfeited? As M'Intyre's conditional improvement purchase has been declared void, that matter need not crop up again.—W. A. B. GREAVES, 11th December, 1877.

No. 15.

Mr. Commissioner Blythe to The Chief Commissioner.

REPORT of an Inquiry held at Glen Innes, on the 27th and 28th August, 1877, by Sydney Blythe, Commissioner for the Northern Division, respecting the conditional purchase of Frank Hobbs, made at Glen Innes, on the 26th October, 1876, county Gough, parish of Waterloo, area 640 acres.

Sir,

I have the honor to transmit herewith, for consideration of the Honorable the Minister for Lands, minutes of evidence taken at an inquiry under the Lands Act Amendment Act of 1875, held by me in pursuance of the reference notified in the Gazette of the 10th July, 1877, in the matter of the above described conditional purchase.

The claimant, having been duly served with notice of the time and place of holding the inquiry, was present thereat.

The following facts bearing upon the fulfilment by the selector of the conditions of purchase were elicited in evidence, namely:—

This was an inquiry as to residence.—The selector applied for his land on 26th October, 1876, and on the 26th February, 1877, one Henry William Honfrie deposited £10, in accordance with Act, together with a statutory declaration as to non-fulfilment of conditions by selector. Upon a perusal of the evidence I think the Honorable the Minister will coincide in my opinion that it is most unsatisfactory. The parties to the inquiry were both represented by attorneys. I will take first the evidence of Honfrie. He makes a solemn declaration that Hobbs has never resided on his land from the 26th October, 1876, to the 26th February, 1877. He then goes on to charge both M'Master, the employer of Hobbs, and also Hobbs himself, with what under the 9th and 10th clauses of the Amendment Act would be a misdemeanour. In cross-examination by attorney and myself, he admits that Hobbs might have resided on the land up to 16th December, from which date he appears to have kept a watch on the selection, at all events in the day time. In explanation of this discrepancy between his solemn declaration and his evidence on oath in open Court, he blames the clerk who drew up the declaration. Showing the reckless manner in which declarations are very frequently signed. As to the second portion wherein a misdemeanour is asserted, I was particularly careful to elicit no evidence on either one side or the other, as a charge of this kind, whether unfounded or not, is not, I deem, matter for inquiry in the Court held by me, but possibly the subject of proceedings to be taken elsewhere. I would now direct attention to this witness, Honfrie, being in the employment of J. A. M'Intyre, the lessee of Waterloo Run, on which this selection exists, and it may not be amiss to also point out that Hobbs is in the employment of Mr. John M'Master, who is a very large free selector on the same run, Waterloo. Allsopp, next witness, saw Hobbs on the land on 30th November, when surveyor was there, and admits, although he never saw him near his humpy, he may have been there. M'Intyre, the lessee of the run, thinks humpy was put up on Hobbs' selection within a month of date, has very frequently been there, never saw Hobbs in occupation of humpy, although he may have been. This is briefly the case of the complainant, Honfrie (or in reality M'Intyre). The defence for Hobbs is most unsatisfactory. He may be a very honest man, but I think, without exception, he is one of the most extraordinary witnesses I have ever had to deal with. He contradicted himself over and over again, does not know whether October is before or after Christmas, is very foggy on many other matters; however, after making due allowances for his crass stupidity and his being unaccustomed to any examination in Court, I think it may be fairly presumed that he did occupy the land by living in the humpy within the three months, in fact, Mr. Licensed Surveyor Christie quite bears this view of the case out, as Hobbs was on the selection at date of survey, 19th December, and occupying the humpy as much as humpys are occupied at that stage of selection. Here then Honfrie's solemn declaration as to Hobbs never having occupied the land from 26th October utterly fails, and, but for the manner in which both Hobbs and his brother gave evidence, I should have recommended costs against Honfrie. I will now draw special attention of the Honorable the Minister to my cross-examination of this witness, Hobbs. I was careful, as I have before stated, not to put any questions that might in any manner involve an admission on the part of the witness that the 9th section of the Amendment Act had been violated, but I read these sections aloud in open Court before cross-examination, and the result of that examination was, that Hobbs is a servant of M'Master's, a shepherd, at £26 a year; that he had on the 26th October last saved up in his master's hands exactly £160; he can't read

read or write, but his master told him so; he used to get his wages paid regularly, spent a little, and gave the rest back to his master. That he has no sheep of his own, but is now shepherding M'Master's sheep, at wages, on his selection; that he paid for the deposit on the selection £160, partly in notes and partly in cheques (I have since ascertained, although it does not appear in evidence, that it was one cheque of M'Master's that paid for the deposit, although, with so stupid a witness that would not greatly weigh with me). These various statements of Hobbs are, if it be assumed he is a bona fide free selector, and not acting entirely as the servant or agent of another, certainly extraordinary. Mr. M'Master, although near the Court throughout the whole case, did not offer any evidence in support of Hobbs' statements, nor did the attorney for Hobbs call him. On the whole, I have to report that the declaration of Honfrie lodged with the £10 is not sustained by the evidence. That Hobbs did occupy the land within the three months, and, except when prevented by M'Intyre or his agents, who set up a claim to a portion of the land, has continued to fairly occupy the land by living on it in a humpy, and by shepherding sheep over the land for his master, Mr. John M'Master. Whether his so occupying the land may be considered a breach of the 9th section of the Amended Act, I submit any opinion of mine might be construed into presumption.

Having now, as I think, fairly epitomized the evidence for the consideration of the Honorable the Minister, I leave the decision in his hands.

I have, &c.,

SYDNEY BLYTHE,

Commissioner, Northern District.

[Enclosure A to No. 15.]

MINUTES of proceedings taken at a Court of Inquiry held at Police Office, Glen Innes, on Monday the 27th day of August, 1877, before Sydney Blythe, Esq., J.P., Lands Commissioner, Northern District.

In the matter of Frank Hobbs, date of selection, 26th October, 1876, area 640 acres, district Glen Innes, county Gough, parish Waterloo.

Henry William Honfrie appeared in person and by his attorney, Mr. Kearney.

Frank Hobbs appeared in person and by his attorney, Mr. Melville.

This witness on oath states:—My name is Henry William Honfrie; I am the person who made the statutory declaration in this case now shown to me, and deposited the £10 in accordance with the Act; I know a person of the name of Frank Hobbs: I know that he took up a selection of 640 acres; I applied for some land, I think about the 16th December, and found that in consequence of Hobbs having made a prior selection I could not get mine; I saw that Hobbs had made a selection but did not know that it would interfere with mine until the surveyor came on to the land; I paid my deposit, but it was afterwards returned; at the time I made my application there was a humpy on Hobbs' land, but Hobbs was not living in it; on looking at my declaration I now know that the date of Hobbs' selection was on the 26th October, 1876; Hobbs might have resided on that ground a short time before I went on to the land in December; he might have resided without my observing him; Hobbs works for M'Master, who is a large selector, and I believe a relation of his; I can swear that from the 16th December up to the time I made my declaration Hobbs never was on the ground, except riding by it, as any one else might; I was never off the land, shepherded sheep on it; I did so by virtue of the belief that it was my land until I was informed by letter that I had lost the land.

Cross-examined by Hobbs' attorney:—Hobbs has come on to the land. In fact, he has come and spoken to me, and told me I was on his land, and I would have to go. I have gone into a humpy that was on Hobbs' land; there were signs of its having been occupied so far as an old bed or blanket was concerned, and a pot and shovel. I was constantly keeping my eyes on that humpy in the day time, and went sometimes there at night and never saw anybody there; I dare say I was there a dozen times; I am not aware of Hobbs' pursuits at all; I believe he is a labouring man like myself; I never saw a light near the humpy in the night; I was shepherding sheep on the land.

Cross-examined by Commissioner:—I have known this land and been in the habit of riding over it, in pursuit of my occupation as an employé of J. A. M'Intyre, of the Waterloo Station, on which this selection exists, for about three years; the humpy was on the land for some time previous to my making application for it; a few weeks, might have been a couple of months; I don't think I saw that humpy above a couple of times before I made my application, as it was shearing time, and I was busy; Hobbs might have resided in the humpy during this time, that is from the time of my first seeing the humpy until December 16th; I now look at my declaration; I did not intend in my declaration to state that Hobbs never resided from 26th October, 1876; I did not observe that date when I made the declaration, what I intended to say in my declaration was that Hobbs had never made it his bona fide residence, and I suppose the clerk understood me to say had never resided.

Mr. Kearney desired here to state that he had nothing whatever to do with the drawing up of the declaration which was evidently prepared by some unprofessional man who did not understand the obligations of a declaration of this character.

Examination of witness continued:—Knowing that this case was coming on, I watched most carefully, as stated, that he had not resided from 16th December, 1876, to 26th February, 1877, and to these dates I swear, I intended to say I believe he had not resided prior to December; the clerk made the mistake in taking it down.

H. W. HONFRIE.

Sworn at the Police Office, Glen Innes, this 27th day of August, 1877, before me,—

SYDNEY BLYTHE, J.P., Commissioner.

And this witness on oath saith as follows:—My name is Henry Alsop; I reside at Waterloo Run; I know Henry William Honfrie and Frank Hobbs; I am aware Honfrie has made some objection to Hobbs' 640-acre selection; I have seen Hobbs from time to time; I have seen him on his selection; I saw him there whilst some surveying was going on on the 30th November of last year; there was a humpy there at that time; there was no sign of his living there then; I have been on his selection day after day, every day I think up to yesterday; I never saw the humpy occupied at all by Hobbs; it (the humpy) was removed about 9th March, and re-erected the following week; Hobbs may have slept in the hut, there was no sign of any fire or utensils; I saw Hobbs on the 19th of December on his ground with the surveyors; the two times named are the only ones that I have seen Hobbs on his selection.

Cross-examined by Hobbs' attorney:—I was shepherding a flock of sheep for Mr. M'Intyre on the ground from July 10th last year, up to present time; from where I was stationed at night I could not see the humpy, nor any smoke from it, if there were any; I should not know if Hobbs came to the humpy at night, except from appearances in the morning; the appearances would be the remains of fire; there was a possum rug in the humpy, remained there in the same position from day to day; there was a long-handled shovel; I was warned off the ground by Hobbs on 1st April last.

Cross-examined by Commissioner:—I have been in the employment since some six or eight weeks before 10th July last year; my sheep used to camp on part of the land; I remember seeing the bark deposited on the land; heard some one at work at the bark; humpy was erected; it was sufficient for a man to occupy as a residence; if Hobbs went there at night and went away in the morning without cooking, he might have done so without my knowledge.

HENRY ALSOP.

Sworn at the Police Office, Glen Innes, this 27th day of August, 1877, before me,—

SYDNEY BLYTHE, J.P., Commissioner.

This witness on oath, saith as follows:—My name is John Archibald M'Intyre; I am a grazier and reside at Waterloo; I am aware of an objection lodged by Henry William Honfrie against a selection of Frank Hobbs' 640 acres, Waterloo Run; I have been served with a summons to appear on behalf of Honfrie in this case; I could not say the date when Honfrie selected this land; it was towards the end of last year; I know of a bark humpy erected on the land said to be selected by Hobbs; I never saw Hobbs on the selection; I am in the habit of going frequently; I never saw Hobbs in occupation of the humpy; in November last I had a private surveyor surveying a reserve and some land I took up under 31st clause ; he (Hobbs) claimed part of the land ; I did not see him near the humpy ; there was no fire at the humpy ; I never was in it, but have ridden round it ; the part that would correspond with the door, and I could see through it ; the humpy was only forked sticks and a ridge-pole with bark laid ; I have known men live in similar humpys.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hobbs' attorney :—I was not constantly on this land ; I should have seen traces of a fire if there had been one ; I examined the humpy, but was never in it ; there was a rug in the humpy ; I would not swear that there was nothing else ; I have frequently passed over the selection at night quite close to the hut, between the 26th of January and 26th February, 1877 ; no one could be in the humpy unless they were trying to keep out of my sight ; when I was there with the surveyor, Hobbs had been with us off and on all day, and we came to his selection after lunch in the afternoon ; I claimed 60 acres of the land measured to Hobbs prior to the 26th January, 1877 ; I know Hobbs brought some sheep on to the land—at least I was informed so, and saw traces of sheep having been there.

Cross-examined by Commissioner :—I don't think the land was taken up a month before the humpy was up ; don't know who put it up ; persons might have been there when I was not there ; it might not be necessary to have a fire except for cooking purposes ; most men would.

J. A. M'INTYRE.

SYDNEY BLYTHE, J.P., Commissioner.

This was Honfrie's case.

[Enclosure B to No. 15.]

For the selector Hobbs.

This witness on oath saith as follows :—My name is Frank Hobbs ; I am a shepherd ; I recollect I took up a selection of 640 acres on the 26th of October last year, on Waterloo Run ; I put a humpy on the land about two months after I took it up, a sheeppond and humpy just after Christmas ; I stopped there shepherding some sheep about two months after I put the humpy up ; I slept in the humpy from the first night I put it up, and continued to sleep there every night until I brought the sheep on, and then slept every night ; I had sheep eight months on the selection ; Mr. M'Intyre told me to keep sheep off a part of the selection as he claimed it ; I took the sheep off to another place ; I first put the sheep on the land about a fortnight after taking up the selection ; Mr. M'Intyre told me he would impound them ; I then took them off and did not bring them back again until the land was surveyed to me ; I resided on the land after the sheep were first taken away, sleeping on it every night, going back in the morning.

Cross-examined by Honfrie's attorney :—I cannot read or write ; I have heard the declaration read ; it is true ; I made the application in the office in Glen Innes ; my brother Tom and Mr. M'Master were with me ; I recollect that was on 26th October ; I think that was after Christmas ; I was not in the hut till after Christmas ; I did not sleep in the humpy for a week after I put it up ; I was staying at M'Master's for a week ; I had a flock of sheep for M'Master shepherding on the land before Christmas, and that was the lot ; Mr. M'Intyre said he would impound them ; my mother used to cook for me ; I went down to sleep there, walking 2 miles from her house, sleeping on my selection, and going back to breakfast ; left the sheep in yard at mother's place ; there was a talk of the survey of the land ; I did not know nothing about it ; I recollect the surveyor being at Mr. M'Intyre's ; I was with them part of the line of my land.

Cross-examined by Commissioner :—I got puzzled ; I never was in Court before ; I mean to tell the truth ; I can't read or write ; I am twenty-seven years of age ; the sheep I have mentioned belong to Mr. John M'Master ; I am still in his employment as a shepherd ; I have no sheep of my own ; I get £26 a year ; I put my mark to a paper when I took the selection up ; there were 640 acres ; I had saved up £160 shepherding ; I have been shepherding sixteen or seventeen years ; have been with Mr. M'Master nearly all the time ; I was paid every three months and used to draw my wages regularly ; spent very little, and used to give the rest back to take care of for me ; Mr. M'Master used to put it down on a bit of paper for me ; Mr. M'Master gave me so much cheques and so much notes, and told me I had £100 in his hands ; I gave that money to Mr. Rodgeron, who was acting as Land Agent ; I got a paper ; I did not bring it with me ; it is at home in the humpy ; I live there now and am shepherding.

Sworn at Police Office, Glen Innes, this 27th day of August, 1877, before me,—

SYDNEY BLYTHE, J.P., Commissioner.

This witness on oath states :—My name is John Hobbs ; I am a brother of Frank Hobbs ; I know his selection well ; I was working for my brother on the selection, cutting burrs on it, after Christmas about a month or so ; I came up either two or three weeks before Christmas, and my brother was then living on his selection in a bark humpy ; I was living with my mother at the time.

Cross-examined by Honfrie's attorney :—I was away at work, and used to see my brother every Saturday night ; I lived about a mile and a half away with my mother ; when we were cutting burrs we took our grub with us ; we were a fortnight or three weeks there, and used to sleep together in the humpy ; I went to Mr. M'Master's on 1st January ; my brother and I used to carry our grub, but we used to boil the tea and light a fire every night ; this was after Christmas.

Cross-examined by Commissioner :—I worked two or three weeks with Mr. M'Master, and then went out to my brothers' to cut burrs ; the same humpy is on the ground now, but is shifted nearer to the water ; I had been away down country nine months before I came up at Xmas ; I know that my brother is in Mr. M'Master's employment, shepherding his sheep ; could not say anything about my brother saving up money ; don't know.

Sworn at Police Office, Glen Innes, this 27th day of August, 1877, before me,—

SYDNEY BLYTHE, J.P., Commissioner.

This witness on oath states :—My name is William Christie ; I am a licensed surveyor ; I have seen the selector, Hobbs, before I surveyed his selection on the 19th December ; it took me part of two days ; after the survey was completed I saw Hobbs on the land, and put the usual questions to him as to his being the applicant. The humpy appeared to be occupied as much as humpys are at that stage of selection ; I did not report as to residence, as the applicant did not require to be in occupation until 26th January ; at the time I surveyed the land Hobbs had complied with the conditions.

Cross-examined by Mr. Honfrie's attorney :—I have not been on the land since the date of survey.

W. CHRISTIE.

SYDNEY BLYTHE, J.P., Commissioner.

The case was adjourned until the 28th day of August, 1877.

Police Office, Glen Innes, 28 August, 1877.

No further evidence being tendered on either side, and the evidence heard before me yesterday, being to my mind, very far from satisfactory on either the one side or the other, I decline to award any costs under 47th clause of Regulations.

SYDNEY BLYTHE, J.P.,
Commissioner.

This closed case.

Minutes on No. 15.

By Chief Commissioner :—I see no grounds for the forfeiture on these proceedings, but it seems desirable that the attention of the inspector should be called to this selection, with regard to the future observance of the conditions being scrutinized.—A.O.M., 19/11/77.

By Minister for Lands :—Approved.—E.A.B.

No. 16.

Mr. Licensed Surveyor Christie to The Surveyor-General.

Sir,

Glen Innes, 31 August, 1877.

I have the honor to transmit herewith the plan of one portion of land, containing 640 acres, numbered 15, in the parish of Wellingrove, county of Gough, applied for by Frank Hobbs, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, surveyed in accordance with instructions dated 5th December, 1876, No. 73.

Applicant resides on the land, and at time of survey, had erected a gunyah, value £1.

The soil is basaltic, chiefly open. The timber consists of peppermint, gum, and stringy-bark; the latter to the north-west, where the rock is cevanite.

This land has been the subject of a Commissioner's inquiry.

I return all papers in connection with it.

I have, &c.,

W. CHRISTIE,

Licensed Surveyor.

Minutes on No. 16.

With papers 77-4,928 miscellaneous is also a plan of this conditional purchase furnished by Mr. Christie, it appears to me that it should have been furnished with this letter. As the above papers have been with Mr. Greaves some time, I am inclined to think the plan has been placed with them in his office, instead of being placed with this paper; there is therefore no blame to be attached to this Branch for the second plan having been furnished.—H.P.B., 19/12/77.

The telegram of 24th January, 1877, upon 76-45,753 alienation, was written at a time when the conflicting conditional purchase 1,131 was cancelled; as however it appears that in May following the action on that conditional improvement purchase application was reversed, as it was proven that the cancellation was erroneous; re-measurement must now be made of this conditional purchase in order to allow of the conditional purchase being measured as described, and without any interference with any previous outstanding claim.—F.W.R., 31st May, 1878.

Accounts may be paid.—R.D.F., 31st May, 1878. To pass accounts and return.—F.W.R., 31st May, 1878. The gazette description of this reserve does not give 1 mile in rectangular distance from the north boundary for the width of the reserve, but gives the width by the course of the creek, vide description by local commissioner, and gazette 3rd August, 1866. Therefore between portion 15 and the the boundary of the reserve as it should have been shown on plan, there is a vacant slip of land about 11¼ chains.—J. W. ELLIS, 7th June, 1878.

There is therefore no conflict with the conditional purchase, as supposed, which will of course now be measured north of portion 15, and in the position applied for, namely, adjoining the south boundary of the reserve which is about 11 chains north of portion No. 15. With respect to the account for the connection, attention is drawn to the memo. on the account. The plan may now, I presume, be accepted as in satisfaction of Hobbs' conditional purchase.—F.W.R., 1st October, 1878. Plan may be received.—R.D.F., 4th October, 1878.

[Enclosure to No. 16.]

Description.

640 acres, county of Gough, parish of Wellingrove, portion 15: Commencing on the right bank of Wellingrove Creek, at the southern end of the western boundary-line of portion 41 of 320 acres, parish of Waterloo; and bounded thence on the east by that boundary-line and a line crossing a road 1 chain wide, in all bearing north 45 chains 56 links; on the south by a road 1 chain wide and a line in all bearing east 85 chains and 71 links; again on the east by a line bearing north 56 chains; and on the north by a line bearing west 105 chains and 9 links to Wellingrove Creek; and on the west and south-west by that creek upwards, to the point of commencement, exclusively of a road 1 chain wide passing through this land in a south-easterly direction, and of a road 1 chain wide in an easterly direction, the areas of which have been deducted from the total area.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Mr. J. Bridge.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Miscellaneous Branch, 19 September, 1877.

In reference to your letter of the 19th May last, objecting to the measurement of 640 acres of land taken up under 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, by Mr. Frank Hobbs, on the ground that it would be detrimental to the interests of Mr. J. A. M'Intyre who has applied to purchase 60 acres in the same locality, under the 31st clause of the Lands Act Amendment Act of 1875, I am directed to inform you that as the conditional purchase is of prior date to Mr. M'Intyre's application, measurement must be made in satisfaction of the former according to the description, if such is shown to be in conformity with the law. The land applied for in virtue of intended improvements must also be measured in accordance with the regulations, if practicable, or if not a modification can be made in the survey.

Sir,

Forest Lodge, Wellingrove, 8 February, 1878.

I lodged a complaint against one Frank Hobbs, and at the same time deposited £10, as required by clause 25 of the Lands Act Amendment Act of 1875. The case was heard by Mr. Commissioner, Blythe, when he recommended the refund of my £10, which I have not yet received. I therefore pray that the amount may be handed over to my agent, Mr. John Bridge, Sydney.

Notification of Alienation of conditional purchase under the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861.

Notification of alienation of conditional purchase by Frank Hobbs in the District of Glen Innes.

I HEREBY notify to you, as the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands for the District of Glen Innes, that I have (after a residence thereon of at least twelve months) this day alienated to John M'Master, of Glendon, the 640 acres of land, situated in the county of Gough, parish of Wellingrove, which I selected at Glen Innes, as a conditional purchase, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, on the 26th October, 1876.

No. 20.

Mr. Inspector Trollope to The Chief Commissioner.

REPORT by F. Trollope, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of Frank Hobbs, made at Glen Innes on 26th October, 1876.

Sir,

Grafton, 7 June, 1878.

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 2nd June, 1878, and that I found the selector then not resident upon his selection.

The land which consists of undulating country, part forest part open, and comprises 640 acres, is occupied and used by as and the selector, who follows the avocation of had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sums respectively stated, viz. :—

Hut	£35 0 0
About 60 chains fencing being erected, worth when complete	72 0 0
Other fencing commenced, falling, &c.	5 0 0
11 acres ploughed, at £2 10s.	27 10 0
	£139 10 0

From the appearance of the land, and the circumstances stated in the following remarks, I am of opinion that the selector has been continuously resident upon the selection.

From information I have received, I have no doubt that Frank Hobbs was a continuous resident upon this ground until he transferred this selection to John M'Master on 18th April, 1878. (Vide conditional purchase register, Glen Innes.)

Upon my visiting the selection on 2nd June, 1878, I found the house or hut inhabited by one Wm. Breunby, who informed me that he came to live here about six weeks before the time of my visit, and that Frank Hobbs left the hut to make room for him; also that since he first came to live here nobody else has lived in the hut besides himself and his wife.

Mr. John M'Master, of Glendon, to whom this conditional purchase has been transferred, lives some 6 miles distant from this selection, and has certainly not as yet made it his home. But as I am informed Mr. J. M'Master has been absent in Sydney on business until a few days ago, perhaps another inspection of this selection would be advisable.

In event of the Commissioner deeming a second inspection necessary, may I request that the usual tracing should accompany the application paper.

[Alienation Act.]

I, JOHN M'MASTER, of Wellingrove, do solemnly and sincerely declare, that I am the lawful owner, by conditional purchase, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, of the land hereunder described, and that improvements consisting of fencing, cultivation, house, dam, &c., and to the value of £450, have been made on such land; and I declare further, that the said land has been the bona fide residence, continuously, of Frank Hobbs and myself from the period of selection and first occupation to the present date (and that no alienation of the land has been made by the above-named holder, until after the residence thereon of such holder for a period of one whole year, each alienation having been notified to the Land Agent of the district within one month of its having been made). And I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled

"An

"An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of the Government of New South Wales and to substitute Declarations in lieu thereof and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

Mr. Inspector Trollope to The Chief Commissioner.

REPORT by F. Trollope, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of Frank Hobbs, made at Glen Innes, on 4 December, 1877.

Sir,

Grafton, 9 March, 1881.

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 22nd January, 1881, and that I found the selector then not resident upon his selection.

The land, which consists of open undulating downs and forest, and comprises 640 acres, is occupied and used by John M'Master as farm and pasture, and the selector, who follows the avocation of shepherd, had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sums respectively stated, viz. :—

250 chain fence, at 4s. per rod	200	0	0
40 acres cultivated, at £2 per acre	80	0	0
10 acres cultivated, at £2 10s. per acre	25	0	0
Dam, 500 yards, at 1s. 6d. per yard	37	10	0
Sheep troughs, &c.	5	0	0
Ring-barking, burning off, &c.	10	0	0
	£492	10	0

From the appearance of the land, and the circumstances stated in the following remarks, I am of opinion that the selector has been continuously resident upon the selection.

Nobody at present living here. For residence, see my former report, dated 7th June, 1878. I am of opinion that it would be well to inquire into the residence of this conditional purchase.

No. 23.

The Chief Commissioner to Mr. J. M'Master.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, Sydney, 24 June, 1881.

The Colonial Treasurer having forwarded to this Department the declaration made by you at Glen Innes, on the 20th December, 1879, with reference to the conditional purchase described at foot hereof, and having reported that an instalment of the balance of purchase money, has been received at the Treasury, I am now directed by the Minister of Lands to notify to you that he is satisfied, after due inquiry, that the conditions as to residence and improvement prescribed by the 18th clause of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, have been completed in respect of the said conditional purchase.

The Deed of Grant may be obtained at any time hereafter by payment of the balance of the purchase money, with the interest, if any, then due; but should such payment be deferred an instalment at the rate of one shilling per acre must be paid between the 1st January and 31st March in each year until the balance, inclusive of interest as prescribed by law, shall have been duly paid, otherwise the selection will be forfeited.

Conditional Purchase No. 76-116, section 13, district Glen Innes, 26 October, 1876; county of Gough, parish of Waterloo; No. of portion, 15; area, 640 acres; original applicant, Frank Hobbs; present holder, John M'Master.

No. 24.

Mr. T. F. De Courcy Browne to The Chief Commissioner.

Sir,

126, Pitt-street, 2 April, 1883.

I have the honor to ask for a final inquiry into the application of Mr. Frank Hobbs for a certificate of title for the conditional purchase set out in the margin.

Conditional purchase.
Applicant, Frank Hobbs; 640 acres.
26 October, 1876.
Glen Innes.

If ever there was a clear case of dummifying this case will be found to be one. The applicant was a shepherd at the time he made the conditional purchase. He obtained the purchase money from his employer. He continued in his employment as a shepherd during the twelve months succeeding his purchase, running his employer's sheep over the land, and he has transferred the land to his employer. The papers in the case will show that the Inspector, Mr. Trollope, did not believe he had bona fide occupied the land, and that you never authorized or approved of the certificate being issued. All this, I am instructed to say, can be proved from the papers of the case, which I respectfully ask you to peruse.

This application is made on behalf of Mr. J. A. McIntyre, the lessee of run.

I have, &c.,

T. F. DE COURCY BROWNE.

Minutes on No. 24.

By Mr. Blackman:—Mr. Fergusson, M.P., called on me last week about this case, stating that it was a notorious dummy affair, and that the Department had passed it—notwithstanding the evidence of the non-fulfilment of the condition of residence. I assured him his statement could not possibly be the fact, and on his reiterating it I sent for the papers and carefully went through them with him, when I was surprised to find the matter exactly as he had represented it, that is, that the selection of Frank Hobbs, transferred to John McMaster, had been passed by the Department, and that it ought not to have been passed. It ought to have been sent to the Commissioner for inquiry in open Court, but it was not sent because it was intercepted on its way by an officer of this Department, Mr. Stobo, who, without any authority whatever, wrote on the Inspector's report "May pass" on 17/5/81, in the face of the Inspector's advice; and that after a second report, "it would be well to inquire into the residence of this conditional purchase," and without any authority submitted it himself to Sir Henry Parkes (then acting for Mr. Hoskins), who signed it on the same day, 17/5/81. Of course when the signature of Sir Henry Parkes was seen on the declaration everything was assumed to be correct. There was no further examination or scrutiny of the case, and as usual the certificate was duly prepared and forwarded. It was my business to deal with all Inspectors' reports, and mine alone; and I need hardly say that a case of this kind could not be dealt with in any way than by public inquiry. I sent thousands of reports forward for the approval of Mr. Hoskins, but he never signed one, and never would sign one, unless it was vouched for by my signature, and no one knew this fact better than Mr. Stobo.—W.B., 9/4/83.

By Chief Commissioner:—Submitted. The matter occurred during my absence from the Colony, and was certainly acted upon irregularly.—A.O.M., 9/4/83.

By Secretary for Lands:—It appears that by a memorandum of Mr. Stobo's that "this may pass," that Sir Henry Parkes approved of the conditions of the selection having been fulfilled. It now appears that the condition of residence was not completed. It will be well therefore that Mr. Stobo should explain how it was that he initialed the paper that the case might pass, more particularly as the Inspector's reports in all cases should be passed by Mr. Blackman.—J.S.F., 17/4/83.

By Chief Commissioner:—Mr. Stobo is employed under the direction of the Under Secretary, to whom the papers are forwarded.—A.O.M., 17/4/83.

By Under Secretary:—Mr. Stobo.—C.O., 17/4/83. Memorandum herewith.—E.H.S., 18/4/83.

By Minister for Lands:—There appears to be no reason for interfering with this conditional purchase. If evidence can be adduced to prove a violation of the 9th section of the Act of 1875, it may be done.—J.S.F., 18/5/83.

Memorandum.

Frank Hobbs' Conditional Purchase at Glen Innes, No. 76-116.

FURTHER papers in this case, which were put away in the Conditional Sales Records, are enclosed, and it will be seen that they contain information as to the character of the selection, and as to a dispute between Hobbs and the lessee of the run and his dummy—Honfrie, as to the ownership of the land which was decided in favour of Hobbs by the memo. of the Deputy Surveyor-General, on 23rd January, 1877, on 76-45,550 Alienation. E.H.S., 18/4/83.

[Enclosure to No. 25.]

1. Letter dated 16th December, 1876, from W. J. Fergusson, per Mr. Eckford, M.P., as Solicitor for the Lessee of the run, asking that Hobbs' conditional purchase may be reduced in area, so that an application of the lessee's and H. A. Honfrie, (his dummy, according to Commissioner Blythe) may be allowed.

2. Report from Surveyor Christie, showing the bona fides of Hobbs, and proving that Honfrie is the lessee's dummy.

3. Letter from John Campbell from Wellingrove, per Mr. Eckford, M.P., in December, 1876, asking for reduction of Hobbs' area.

4. Similar letter from Honfrie, per Mr. Eckford, M.P.

5. Letter from Surveyor Christie, transmitting plan of Hobbs' conditional purchase, and reporting "applicant resides on the land."

6. Recommendation of the Deputy Surveyor-General that Hobbs' conditional purchase be sustained against the applications of the lessee and Honfrie, and they were therefore declared void.

MEMO.—The papers here mentioned are now in their proper places according to date.

Mr. T. F. De Courcy Browne to The Chief Commissioner

Sir,

126, Pitt-street, 2 May, 1883.

On the 2nd April last I addressed you in reference to the irregular issue of a "Certificate of Title" to one Frank Hobbs for a conditional purchase in the Glen Innes District during your absence on leave. As I learn that the Inspector of Conditional Purchases for that district has more than once reported antagonistic to Hobbs' fulfilment of the conditions of residence, and as I am instructed that the case is one of undoubted dummying. I shall deem it a favour to be informed, at the earliest date, whether my request for a final inquiry before the Commissioner will be granted. I beg further to request that this and my letter of 2nd April, be laid before the Minister for his consideration.

The case appears to me to be one of such a peculiar character as to demand a final inquiry, as asked for, to vindicate the law.

Trusting to be excused for again addressing you on the case.

No. 28.

Mr. T. F. De Courcy Browne to The Chief Commissioner.

Sir,

126, Pitt-street, 4 June, 1883.

I do myself the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, No. 83-3,744 correspondence, dated 9th May last, informing me in reply to a letter requesting a final inquiry into the conditional purchase noted in the margin, "that the certificate having issued the matter cannot be re-opened."

In reply, I must express my respectful astonishment at the decision arrived at. I can readily understand that when a certificate is issued in a regular way after the usual consideration and recommendation of the responsible officers of the Department that the validity of the certificate should not be questioned, but when, as in this case not only have the conditions upon which the certificate is issued not been fulfilled, as is incontestably proved by the papers of the case, but it was similarly proved that Hobbs was a dummy for his employer. I repeat that I must express my respectful astonishment at the refusal of the Honorable the Minister to accede to my request.

This case has become a public scandal in the district of Glen Innes, and has had a most pernicious effect upon the public mind, as everybody is so thoroughly conversant with its details, and freely give vent to their opinions on the action of the Department issuing a certificate. It is unnecessary for me to enter into details of the case, beyond stating that the papers of the case clearly prove that from the date of Hobbs' conditional purchase of the land up to the issue of the certificate for the conditional purchase there has been a deliberate violation of the law, and instead of the certificate issuing, the case should have been sent for inquiry before the Commissioner. Why this case was not so dealt with is, I respectfully submit, the duty of the Minister to cause a searching inquiry into. The issue of the certificate was a flagrant violation of the law which, while it does not validate the title of Hobbs or his alicnee, is a grave reflection upon the Lands Department, in this way:—The issue of this document is surrounded with circumstances that point to the inevitable conclusion that it was obtained by a subterfuge. It was not the result of a mistake, but in my opinion the deliberate act of an irresponsible subordinate possessing facilities, from his official position, for usurping the functions of the Chief Commissioner for Crown Lands. Its issue seriously affects the honor and integrity of the officers of the Conditional Sales Branch, entrusted with the onerous duty of recommending the issue of such documents, and it is the bounden duty of the Minister to take such steps as will prove who it was dared to prostitute his position for the venal purpose of endeavouring to alienate Crown Lands in violation of the law. If public confidence is once shaken in the integrity of the Department in dealing with the public lands, I need not point out the grave results.

For the many reasons herein set forth, which includes dummyism, evasion, and misrepresentation, I respectfully renew my request for a final inquiry, for which the sum of £10 is now in the hands of the Department, and has been for some time past. My request should be promptly granted, as much to uphold unsullied the character of the officers of the Conditional Sales Branch, as protecting the public estate from being filched by means which luckily have been brought to light in this humiliating case. It will be much more gratifying to me for the Minister to thus deal with it than for an investigation to be made by a Select Committee of the Legislative Assembly, or perhaps a suit in the Supreme Court.

No. 1.

Mr. E. H. Stobo to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir, Deeds Branch, Department of Lands, Sydney, 20 February, 1873.

Having passed the Civil Service Examination, I most respectfully beg to apply for an increase of salary, viz., 5s. 6d. per day, as extra clerk in this Branch, which was the pay the last two gentlemen received who performed that duty.

I may perhaps here be permitted to state that for nearly eight months I have been working in this Department, first with Mr. Blackman, of the Alienation Branch, and since with Mr. Thurlow, and venture to hope that both these gentlemen will admit that I have given satisfaction in the performance of my duties.

I have, &c.,
EDYE H. STOBO.

Minutes on No. 1.

By W. Blackman:—I was very well satisfied with Mr. Stobo's industry and attention while he was under me.—W.B., 20/2/73.

By Mr. Thurlow:—I beg strongly to recommend Mr. Stobo to the kind consideration of the Under Secretary, as being very deserving.—C.A.T., 20/2/73.

By Under Secretary:—Mr. Stobo is well deserving of promotion, and I beg to recommend that his salary should now be raised to £100 per annum, to be paid from the vote for Preparation of Deeds, and that such increase take effect from the 1st January last.—W.W.S., 23/5/73.

By Secretary for Lands:—Approved.—J.S.F., 23/5/73.

No. 1A.

Mr. E. H. Stobo to Mr. C. A. Thurlow.

Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 17 October, 1873.

Having learnt that the present engrosser, Mr. Rodd, has been promoted, and that Mr. Ormiston has refused the contract on account of certain deeds being given to Mrs. Kendall, I respectfully request that you will recommend me to the Under Secretary for the vacancy; as I shall be quite satisfied with the deeds remaining to be engrossed after Mrs. Kendall has taken the number required by her per month from them.

I beg to submit a specimen deed for your inspection herewith appended.

I have, &c.,
EDYE H. STOBO.

Minutes on No. 1A.

By Mr. Thurlow:—Recommended for the favourable consideration of the Under Secretary. Mr. Stobo is well up in the office work as to the general minutiae required for preparation of deeds, and has engrossed several.—C.A.T., 17 October, 1873.

By Under Secretary:—Mr. Stobo has been appointed.—W.W.S., 21 November, 1873.

No. 1B.

Mr. E. H. Stobo to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 19 September, 1874.

Having heard that several changes are about to be made in this Department, and being desirous of obtaining an appointment on the permanent staff in lieu of the situation of Engrosser of Deeds which I now hold, I would most respectfully beg to apply for any vacancy that may occur which I may be considered competent to fill.

I have, &c.,
EDYE H. STOBO.

Minutes on No. 1b.

By M. Thurlow :—Recommended.—C.A.T.
 By Mr. Moriarty :—There will be, with the vacancy previously existing, three vacant salaries of £150 per annum on the transfer of Messrs. Herring and Smithers, and promotions consequent thereon. For one of these I beg to recommend Mr. Stobo's application. His services in the Department, though on the temporary and contingent staff, are of longer date than (with the exception, perhaps, of Mr. Rich) those of any of the gentlemen now receiving £100 per annum, and his remuneration earned by piece-work has been at a rate considerably beyond the salaries now disposable.—A.O.M., 22/9/74.
 By Under Secretary :—Mr. Stobo has been appointed to one of the recent vacancies at £150. See recent minute.—W.W.S., 13 November, 1874.

No. 2.

Mr. E. H. Stobo to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 20 June, 1879.

As I understand that there is at present a vacancy on the £250 per annum grade, caused by the disrating of Mr. Macdonald, senr., I beg most respectfully to apply that I may be appointed to fill the same, and trust that you may consider my application favourably, as from my position on the staff, it would appear that I have a claim for the increase here applied for.

I have, &c.,
 EDYE H. STOBO.

Minutes on No. 2.

Mr. Stobo stands senior but one on the £200 grade, and I consider that he is well deserving of the promotion he asks for. I beg therefore to recommend his application for the approval of the Minister for Lands.—W.W.S., 21st June.

By Secretary for Lands :—Approved.—J.H., 21/6/79.

No. 3.

The Chief Commissioner to The Secretary for Lands.

Conditional Sales Division, 27 October, 1880.

In accordance with the directions of the Secretary for Lands, I beg to recommend the following promotions, consequent upon the death of the late Mr. Harper, to be made, viz. :—

* * * * *
 Mr. E. H. Stobo, who is next to Mr. Edmond Brown, to receive the vacant £300 a year.
 * * * * *

The gentlemen now referred to are among the most efficient and reliable clerks in this Department.

Minute-paper for the Executive Council.

Subject :—Promotion of certain officers in the Conditional Sales Branch, Department of Lands, consequent on the death of Mr. H. S. Harpur.

Department of Lands, Sydney, 1 November, 1880.

In consequence of the decease of the late Mr. H. S. Harpur, the following promotions in the Conditional Sales Branch of this Department are recommended for the approval of His Excellency the Governor and Executive Council, namely—

* * * * *
 Mr. Edye Hayles Stobo, the senior on the £250 grade, to receive the vacant salary of £300 per annum, vice Mr. Fitzpatrick promoted.

Minutes on No. 4.

The Executive Council approve of the promotions in the Conditional Sales Branch of the Lands Department herein recommended.—A. C. BUDGE, Clerk of the Council, 2/11/80. Approved—A.L., 2/11/80.

No. 5.

Extract from Memorandum by The Under Secretary.

* * * * *
 Holding this opinion, it is my duty to recommend the acknowledgment of services rendered and duties now performed. Mr. Stobo, who is at present in receipt of £300 per annum, performs duties of no mean responsibility, and he occupies a position entitling him to a higher salary, and I therefore recommend that he should receive one of the available salaries of £350 per annum. Subject, however, to his being transferred to my principal division, and bringing with him his present salary; if this were not done, I should be suggesting an arrangement which would deprive officers on the £250 per annum, and other grades of promotions they are entitled to.

No. 6.

Mr. E. H. Stobo to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Memo.

1. As directed, I will explain how it was that I wrote on the papers that this case might pass.
2. In the first place I desire to refer to the statement in Mr. Blackman's memo. of the 9th instant that I intercepted this case on its way to the Commissioner for inquiry, and I beg to state most emphatically that there is not the slightest foundation for that statement.
3. Mr. Blackman further states that I wrote on the papers the words "may pass," and submitted the case to Sir Henry Parkes without any authority whatever. That statement is entirely incorrect, as I shall proceed very easily to prove, by the evidence of official documents, &c.
4. Also the other statement of Mr. Blackman, that Mr. Hoskins never dealt with any reports unless he (Mr. Blackman) had initialed them, is at variance with truth, as many hundreds, not less than a thousand, were dealt with by Mr. Hoskins without Mr. Blackman having ever looked at them, let alone write on them. They were taken out of Mr. Moriarty's and Mr. Blackman's room in bundles by Mr. Hoskins' instructions. I produce a number of such cases, which speak for themselves, in support of my remark (see Schedules herewith). It will be observed that in no way did Mr. Blackman take any action on them; and the way they were dealt with was that I looked through them, and then Mr. Hoskins, having also gone through them, dealt with them finally himself. These facts are well known to yourself, and I trust that you will see fit to corroborate my statement.
5. The circumstances under which I dealt with the case here in question are these: At the time I "passed" this conditional purchase Mr. Moriarty was absent from the Colony on sick leave, Mr. Hoskins was laid up sick in bed, Sir Henry Parkes was acting for him as Minister for Lands, and all cases, including conditional purchase cases, were submitted by the Under Secretary to him. Mr. Blackman, who was acting for Mr. Moriarty, did not submit any cases to Sir Henry Parkes except through the Under Secretary.
6. I usually at that time sat in the Minister's room, but while Sir Henry Parkes was acting as Minister for Lands, I sometimes sat in the Under Secretary's private room, but chiefly in Mr. Moriarty's room, with Mr. Blackman's concurrence, and while there I dealt with a large number of conditional purchase cases, principally Inspectors' reports in which approval or disapproval was not directly recommended, and which were marked "Submitted by Dr. Barsanti," and I gave various directions thereon, either for them to pass for approval or to go to Commissioner for inquiry, or for further reports from inspector, or otherwise. This was all done with Mr. Blackman's full knowledge and consent, and my memoranda were in every case acted upon without the least question being raised from that time forward by anyone. I can refer to any of the officers of the Department, say Mr. S. Freeman, or to any of the public who visited the office in May and June, 1881, as to whether I did not occupy Mr. Moriarty's room and act on cases in the way I have stated, and the cases which I produce herewith (Schedule No. 1) fully corroborate my statement.
7. I noted the case "may pass" and then indorsed the declaration for the Minister's initials at the same time. I wrote both notations on 17/5/81, but Sir Henry Parkes did not probably initial the declaration until some days after, when he must have done so with heaps of others that I had prepared for him in the same way. I had prepared about 25,000 for Mr. Hoskins to initial before then, and thousands since. Sir Henry Parkes approved of 2,500 declarations in exactly the same way while he was acting on that occasion, in April, May, and June, 1881 (Mr. Hoskins was away ill about three months).
8. So there was not the slightest irregularity or unauthorizedness in my acting upon an inspector's report, and submitting it myself to the Minister or Sir Henry Parkes.
 Now as to the case itself. I think I can satisfy the Minister that the action of approval of the declaration was quite correct. The facts are as follows:—
 Frank Hobbs selected 640 acres of land at Glen Innes, on 26th October, 1876, under section 13.
 H. W. Honfric made a complaint to the Department that Hobbs was not residing on the selection, and that he was a dummy for one John M'Master, and so an inquiry was held into the case by Commissioner Blythe, who reported that the evidence did not support Honfric's complaint but the contrary, and that the residence clause appeared to have been fairly complied with, so far also that the charge of dummyism was not proved in the least, the only thing being that Hobbs was an employé of M'Master (who Mr. Commissioner Blythe states is a selector on the same run), but Mr. Blythe also states and calls attention to the fact that Honfric (the complainant) was an employé of the lessee of the run, Mr. M'Intyre, and had acted as his dummy in lodging the complaint and paying the £10 fee for the inquiry.
 On Mr. Blythe's report Mr. Moriarty wrote "I see no ground for a forfeiture on these proceedings, but it seems desirable that the attention of the Inspector should be called to this selection with a view to the future observance of the conditions being scrutinized"; that memo. was approved by Mr. Baker, then Minister for Lands, and the case was referred to Inspector Trollope, and a letter was received from Honfric asking for the refund of the £10 investigation fee that he had lodged.
 Then

Then in April, 1878, Hobbs transferred the conditional purchase to M'Master, and the transfer was duly registered.

And in June, 1878, Mr. Trollope inspected the selection and reported that he had no doubt that Hobbs had been continuously resident until he transferred the conditional purchase, but that M'Master had not at the date of inspection six weeks after transfer commenced to reside as (so Mr. Trollope's report states) he had been absent in Sydney on business, and Mr. Trollope suggested that he might be instructed to make a further inspection, but no action was taken on his report.

In December, 1879, M'Master made the necessary declaration as to residence and improvements, and then the case remained in abeyance until 19th July, 1880, when instructions to report were again issued to Mr. Trollope.

In March, 1881, he sent in the report, valuing the improvements at £492 10s. (15s. an acre) their character being from the details of his report of a very high order, in fact like those of a bona fide selector, also reporting that M'Master was occupying and using the land as "a farm and pasture," but that no one was on the day of his (Mr. Trollope's) visit residing there, (residence then was, of course, unnecessary, the three years having long before expired). He (Mr. Trollope) referred to his former report as to residence and expressed an opinion that it would be well for an inquiry to be held into the fulfilment of the conditions of residence, he being under the misapprehension that the three years had just expired, as shown by the date given in his report as the date of the conditional purchase, namely, 4th December, 1877, whereas it was taken up in October, 1876, and he was therefore in error as to the period for residence. I noticed that when dealing with the report as shown by my pencil figures at the top of it, and the line drawn by me through the date (4th December, 1877.) put there by Mr. Trollope, and I therefore treated Mr. Trollope's remark about an inquiry as to residence as a mistake because when he made the report the time for residence was nearly eighteen months past, and he could of course not be expected to have any idea as to what had been done by M'Master in the last twelve months of the three years towards residence, and so as Hobbs' residence had been certified to by Mr. Trollope in his former report, and as the improvements were 5s. an acre over the sum required by law, and unquestionable in character, 50 acres of cultivation, a house valued by Mr. Trollope at £75, a barn, hayshed, fencing, dam, &c. I considered them and now submit that there was no reason to doubt M'Master's declaration as to his residence for twelve months of the three years, which was the only fact not certified to by the inspector, and it was impossible for him to controvert M'Master's declaration, or for him to have any knowledge of the matter, as his visit, was made so long after the three years had expired.

As to Hobbs being M'Master's dummy, as is so confidently stated by Mr. De Courcy Browne, Mr. Fergusson, M.P., Mr. Honfrie (the dummy of the lessee of the run according to Mr. Commissioner Blythe's reports) and by Mr. Blackman, there is not any proof of that, only a slight suspicion, and Hobbs swore before Mr. Blythe that he selected the land with his own money. This is not I imagine by some thousands the only suspicious case of supposed dummyism since 1875 in which, after an inquiry before a Commissioner, as in this case, proof has been found impossible, or in which the alleged dummy having been found to reside, and the improvements complete, a certificate of approval has issued.

In conclusion, I must express my great surprise at the memorandum of Mr. Blackman, referred to in the first part of this explanation.

It is difficult to realise that he has made such statements as it contains, so erroneous are they and contrary to facts well known to him, and I can only consider that his memorandum and the submission of the case to the Minister have been inspired by malice and spite against me.

By Under Secretary for Lands :—It is I think a matter for considerable regret that the case complained of was not referred, as it certainly ought to have been to me, before submission to the Minister. Now, however, there is no course open to me but to invite the special attention of the Minister to the apparently malicious and unfounded charges made against Mr. Stobo, whose integrity as an officer of this Department has been questioned and brought under the notice of the Ministerial head of the Department.—C.O., 18/4/83.

By Secretary for Lands :—This matter has assumed a very serious aspect, and before I express any opinion this may be referred to the Chief Commissioner and Mr. Blackman for any further remarks they may desire to make. The papers to be returned without unnecessary delay.—J.S.F., 19/4/83.

By Under Secretary for Lands :—Chief Commissioner.—C.O., 19/4/83.

[Enclosure A. to No. 6.]

A QUESTION having arisen as to whether I used to sit in Mr. Moriarty's room in the old building during the period when he was absent through illness, and when Mr. Hoskins was also absent from the same cause, I desire to refer to Mr. S. Freeman as to whether he recollects the circumstances of my sitting in Mr. Moriarty's room, and acting upon conditional purchase cases at the time above-mentioned.—E.H.S., 24/4/83.

I certainly remember that Mr. Stobo generally sat in Mr. Moriarty's room during the absence through illness of Mr. Secretary Hoskins, in or about May and June, 1881. In fact whenever I wanted to find Mr. Stobo I looked for him in the Chief Commissioner's room. As to what work he then did I cannot of my own knowledge say. Mr. Stobo, however, frequently spoke of the great delay which had occurred in acting upon conditional sales cases which, as I understood, he was then dealing with.—S.F., 25/4/83.

[Enclosure B. to No. 6.]

A question having arisen as to whether I used to sit in Mr. Moriarty's room in the old building, and act on conditional purchase cases during the time that Mr. Moriarty was absent through ill health, and when Mr. Hoskins was also absent from the same cause, I desire to refer to Mr. M'Kern, clerk in charge of the Deeds Branch, as to whether he recollects the circumstances of my sitting in Mr. Moriarty's room, and acting upon conditional purchase cases at the time above-mentioned.—E.H.S., 24/4/83.

I clearly recollect that I had with you many interviews respecting Deeds of Grant, during, as I believe, the first half of 1881, in Mr. Moriarty's room, in the absence of that gentleman and Mr. Hoskins through illness, and that you were on those occasions almost invariably engaged on conditional purchase cases.—F. M'KERN, Deeds Branch, 26/4/83.

[Enclosure C to No. 6.]

A question having arisen as to whether I used to sit in Mr. Moriarty's room in the old building, and act on conditional purchase cases during the time that Mr. Moriarty was absent through illness, and when Mr. Hoskins was also absent from the same cause, I desire to refer to Mr. Ardill, in the Conditional Sales Division, as to whether he recollects the circumstances of my sitting in Mr. Moriarty's room and acting upon conditional purchase cases at the time above-mentioned, which was during or between April, May, and June, 1881.—E.H.S., 25/4/83.

I have no hesitation in stating that at intervals during the Chief Commissioner's absence I have seen Mr. Stobo in the room referred to, but I cannot say whether he sat there during the whole of the time, nor do I know what work he was engaged upon.—W. ARDILL, 26/4/83.

Marginal Memo on Enclosure C to No. 6, by W. Blackman.

Certainly every one knows Mr. Stobo was constantly backward and forward with or for cases, but no more in my room than the messenger. Everyone saw him in this capacity.—W.B.

[Enclosure D to No. 6.]

A question having arisen as to whether I sat in Mr. Moriarty's room in the old building, during the time that he was absent through illness, and when Mr. Hoskins was absent from the same cause, I desire to refer to Mr. W. H. Capper as to whether he has any recollection of my sitting in Mr. Moriarty's room at the time above-mentioned, namely, Mr. Hoskins' absence at the same time that Mr. Moriarty was absent, and of my taking or directing action on various cases of inspectors' reports.—E.H.S., 26/4/83.

My visits to the head office during the season Mr. Stobo refers to were not frequent, but on one occasion I recollect seeing him in the Chief Commissioner's chair in the old building. The occasion was impressed upon my memory by him referring to the cases that he had worked off, and directing my attention to a batch of cases on his right with which he stated he would not deal. As regards his directing action upon inspectors' reports, I may state that at the period in question, I prepared a Schedule of cases for investigation by the local Commissioners, some of which bearing the initials E.H.S. as authority for that course. Of course it must be understood that object for being in the room at the time was to see Mr. Blackman on official business, and although I have met Mr. Stobo in the room on other occasions he appeared to me to be on errands similar to those that took me there, namely, to consult Mr. Blackman, or in search of papers.—W.H.C., 26/4/83.

Minute on No. 6.

Quite true, and I asked Mr. Capper how he came to remember Mr. Stobo having done so, he said it was because it was so unusual. I should think so, it was the first and last time, about fifty-two cases were noted in all.—W. BLACKMAN.

[Enclosure E to No. 6.]

My dear Mr. Stobo,

As I have resigned the office of Secretary for Lands, I cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing to you by this means the high esteem I entertain for you both as a personal friend and as an officer of the Department of Lands.

It is now upwards of three years since I first secured your services to assist me in preparing cases for my decision as the Minister in charge of the Department of Lands. I can bear testimony to the zeal and assiduity with which you discharged this very important and responsible duty, indeed I have on several occasions been very much impressed with the great intelligence you evinced in placing before me all the salient points of the many difficult and complicated cases with which I had to deal and to give a decision upon. During the period your conduct and the service you rendered was brought under my immediate observation. I hope that you may in future be placed in such a position in the Department of Lands as your abilities and conduct will justify your being appointed to, and I venture to predict from my general knowledge of your character and qualifications, that you will creditably fill any office to which you may be appointed.

I remain, &c.,
JAMES HOSKINS.

[Enclosure F to No. 6.]

My dear Mr. Stobo,

Although I have delayed it, I have by no means ever contemplated leaving unsaid how much I appreciated your great ability, high character, and integrity in the high office which you hold.

On retiring I feel a comfort in finding young men of the stamp of yourself and Mr. Oliver taking high places, it is a warrant as it seems to me, that Ministers will hereafter, at any rate have the advice of able, accomplished, and honourable officers, whether or not they accept it that will be for them to determine.

I feel that I could not say "good-bye" to the old office and its surroundings without expressing the high admiration I feel for you all.

Yours, &c.,
JOHN ROBERTSON.

Memorandum by Mr. Blackman.

Lands Department, Conditional Sales Division, 21 April, 1883.

I REGRET that at the earliest moment, and without awaiting any adequate inquiry, personalities of the worst kind should have been imported into this case, my connection with which is plainly shown on 83-2,590. I think it would have exhibited better taste if the Under Secretary had reserved the imputation of my having made "an apparently malicious and unfounded charge" until circumstances proved whether it was real and not merely apparent. As to Mr. Stobo, his charge of "malice" and "spite" is simply preposterous. During the twelve months the Chief Commissioner was absent he was on the best of terms with me; when the Chief Commissioner returned he of course resumed charge. Shortly after Mr. Stobo left the Conditional Sales Division and went into the Under Secretary's, and from that time to the present, I have never had anything to say or do with him. It will be seen then that conditions could hardly exist more obviously excluding malice, and I leave for the present the responsibility of the imputations on the gentlemen who have made them. I only ask—was it open to me to submit or suppress this matter as I chose? Were the preliminary remarks I addressed to the Chief Commissioner within the legitimate scope of my duty?

I am astonished Mr. Stobo should "emphatically" state that the case was not intercepted by him on its way to the Commissioner. That he does so is self-evident. Had he not taken it out of the bundle on the the 17th May, and got Sir Henry Parkes to sign it on the same day, it would have been dealt with by me in its order, and sent to the Commissioner. I would have had no option in the matter, and could not do otherwise. No similar case has ever been recommended for approval by the Chief Commissioner or myself. No similar case has ever failed of being sent before a Commissioner for inquiry. Any other course would make inspecting a complete farce. No doubt I am allowed to take a great range of action in this Department, but I act on my own responsibility; I act subject to the observance of the rules and precedents of the Department; and one of our best established rules is that every case in which the inspector reports "non-residence," after the expiry of the three years, must go for inquiry. Another rule is that no doubtful case can be dealt with without being first submitted for the revision or concurrence of the Chief Commissioner or his representative; and, above all, that it must not be submitted to the Minister without his special attention being called to the circumstances. Not one of these conditions was conformed to by Mr. Stobo, who was simply Mr. Hoskins' assistant to keep his papers in order and get him information whenever he wanted it, but who had no commission or authority whatever to deal with matters of such moment as the titles to conditional purchases. Mr. Stobo was not appointed by the Minister, or by the Chief Commissioner, or by me. He was appointed by himself, and then proceeded, without any reference to me as head of the division, to write "may pass" on a case which ought to have been rigorously scrutinized.

I don't quite understand what Mr. Stobo means by preparing the 2,500 cases which Sir Henry Parkes signed. These cases were all examined by me, submitted for approval, and signed as correct. Every one of them bears my signature except those interpolated by Mr. Stobo, and about which I knew nothing. If I had I would have taken immediate steps to have stopped his presumption. Mr. Stobo refers to several submissions made by him to Sir Henry Parkes, but this does not prove he was authorized, and he never mentioned the fact to me.

With respect to my statement, "that it was my business to deal with all inspectors' reports, and mine alone," and further that Mr. Hoskins "never signed one, and never would sign one unless it was vouched for by my signature," the apparent discrepancy can be easily explained. Mr. Stobo fancies that he has completely confuted me by producing Schedules of reports which Mr. Hoskins approved without my signature, and in fact without reference to any one. Well, I have gone through all these reports, and admit them to be as he states—cases approved by the Minister without reference to me, as already specified. But, even so, this won't help Mr. Stobo, it won't prove he had the right of doing the work of the Chief Commissioner without his privity, and it won't in any way invalidate my statement. Let us see. The reports referred to by Mr. Stobo are Commissioners' reports, not Inspectors, which were the ones I mentioned, but I waive the point. Mr. Moriarty, when there was any accumulation of Commissioners' reports, generally sent for Commissioner Johnston to assist him in making an analysis of the evidence before submission to the Minister. When Mr. Moriarty was absent I took the same course; but Mr. Hoskins, not expecting me to do both my own work and the Chief Commissioner's, frequently studied and worked up these reports himself whenever he had a spare hour, or in the occasional lull of the general business. My signature was not wanted in these cases. Mr. Hoskins was himself an expert in matters of this kind, and in order to help was willing to sign on his own responsibility. But Mr. Hoskins had seldom any time to spare for such purposes, and being therefore, as to the state of the vast majority of conditional purchases, entirely dependent on the staff by way of security for himself, required my signature for all these cases which it was impossible for him to read, and which he was obliged to initial, and did initial as rapidly as they could be put before him by Mr. Stobo, signing thus and sending 500 or 1,000 cases in a couple of hours to me for issue of certificates.

Besides the sort reports just referred to, there was a residuum of conditional purchase cases that, according to the varying exigencies of the hour or the solicitations of land agents found their way to Mr. Hoskins, and were almost always brought to him by Mr. Stobo. The cases, as he fairly states that I never initialed, and in fact never saw. But how were they dealt with? Mr. Stobo shows, "I looked through them, and then Mr. Hoskins having also gone through them, dealt with them finally himself," exactly so. My signature is not on these documents, and there is therefore, no signing without going through the papers and seeing for himself. These cases then fall into the category of those for which the Minister alone is answerable.

I shall now amend the imperfect statement I made in my memo., that Mr. Hoskins never did and never would sign any inspector's reports unless it was vouched for by my signature; by adding these words, except those reports whether of Commissioners or Inspectors which he had time to go through and act on himself. Mr. Stobo's position is now defined, and it is plain that in Mr. Hoskins' system of doing business his services (intelligent, zealous, and useful as he was) were of a subordinate character, and that he had no status whatever as the ultimate, visible, and permanent authority at all times ascertainable, and responsible for the final dealing with titles of conditional purchases, and which consisted of the signature of the Minister to all cases he had time to study himself, and my signature as acting Chief Commissioner for the vast majority which he had no time to read, and signed without reading and on trust as already mentioned. For this view of the position there is an infallible test. Suppose anything irregular, and therefore leading to complications hereafter, arose in any case which Mr. Hoskins approved and signed without reference to anyone, who would be answerable? Most assuredly Mr. Hoskins. But suppose anything illegal or culpable came to light in any one or more of the thousands of cases I signed and sent on for approval, who would be held accountable? Undoubtedly I would. The Minister would say, Mr. Blackman, I signed my approval on your assurance as official head, that everything was regular. There would be no accountability for Mr. Stobo, for if the 25,000 cases he prepared for Mr. Hoskins, and the thousands since were searched through, it would be found that in 999 out of every 1,000 the only trace of Mr. Stobo having ever seen one of them would be the solitary word "approved," which it was his business to put on the declaration in order that, as time was so precious, the Minister might not have to write more than his bare initials.

I now come the justifiableness of Mr. Stobo's recommendation. I have already said no similar case was ever recommended to a Minister for approval, or ever failed in being sent on for public inquiry. I hold it belongs to a palpably suspicious order of purchases. Here are the decisive facts: The selection was made on the 26th October, 1876, at Glen Innes, for 640 acres. There was an inquiry in August, 1877, at Glen Innes, as to fulfilment of the residence conditions, no grounds for forfeiture; but the Chief Commissioner wrote

wrote on the papers "that the future observance of the conditions should be scrutinized." A strong word. The case went to Inspector Trollope. In June, 1878, he reports non-residence by the alienee, M'Master, and only knows of the residence of the original selector, Hobbs, by hearsay, although he has no doubt of its being continuous. This result being unsatisfactory he visited the selection again in January, 1881, when he again found the selector non-resident. On his first visit there was neither original purchaser, nor alienee, but there was a man in charge. On his second visit even the man in charge had left. "Nobody at present living here" are his significant words, and he winds up his report by recommending inquiry. "It would be well, he says, to inquire into the residence of this conditional purchase;" oh! but Mr. Stobo says in his explanation, "he (the inspector) was in error as to the period for residence," being under the misapprehension that the three years had just expired. Let us suppose the inspector did make this mistake,* and then it comes to this, that if he had visited and reported the selector non-resident in January, 1880; that is, at the expiration of the three years and three months his case would have been sent on for inquiry; but, as he made his visit and report thirteen months after the signing of the declaration, the selector is to be exonerated from all obligation or necessity to prove residence, although he owed proof of it for eighteen months, and was once during that period reported non-resident. The Minister will easily see that an inspector's report, made thirteen months after the declaration, is a much more decisive test of bonâ fides than one just made at the end of the three years, for obvious reasons. It is during that period that residence is obligatory and purchases liable to forfeiture; therefore, whatever efforts are to be made will be made then to keep up appearances. But if a selector is reported resident, and improvements complete at the end of twelve months from the expiration of the three years, then our experience is that he has most likely been a bonâ-fide resident all through, and still more so if the report is favourable at the end of one-and-a-half years, two years or three, when the chances of settlement being genuine are perfectly reliable, and notwithstanding subsequent transfers. On the other hand, our experience is that all abrupt, or, as in this case, early terminations of residence are suspicious; they are clear indications not necessarily of insufficient improvements, but of nominal or fictitious residence. Therefore it is that the Chief Commissioner has laid it down as an inflexible rule that all such cases must go on for public inquiry, rendered still more inevitable in this instance by the fact that the original selector was an employé of the alienee. And that the alienee, a man of well-known local standing had a residence 6 miles distant from this selection, whereas the inspector says in his report "he lives."

I mean visit, and count from the date of the visit, and not from that of the report, which is sometimes sent in much later.

Mr. Stobo says "I considered then, and now submit, that there was no reason to doubt M'Master's declaration as to his residence for twelve months (Mr. Stobo should have said eighteen) of the three years, which was the only fact not certified to by the inspector." The only fact!! and that the most important one not certified to! and there need be no inquiry! for have we not the declaration of M'Master to clear up all doubt! Mr. Stobo continues: "It was impossible for him (the Inspector) to controvert M'Master's declaration, or for him to have any knowledge of the matter, as his visit was made so long after the three years expired." His visit was made thirteen months after, and that is not so long, and no stronger reasons could be stated for having a strict inquiry than these. The inspector might not be able to "controvert" or "have any knowledge," but his function is to verify the statements of the selector, and if he cannot, then there are but two courses to choose from; either to send the case on for public inquiry, or accept the paper declaration, and thus relapse at once into the old round of immoralities and frauds. Mr. Stobo went in for the latter course, and he now asks the Minister to say if he was not right.

In the sixth paragraph of his memo., Mr. Stobo says that "he sat chiefly in Mr. Moriarty's room with Mr. Blackman's concurrence, and while there I dealt with a large number of conditional purchase cases," &c., and further on he says: "I can refer to any of the officers of the Department, say Mr. Freeman, or to any of the public who visited the office in May and June, 1881, as to whether I did not occupy Mr. Moriarty's room, &c." I invite special attention to this statement, because there is not one atom of truth in it. It is a falsehood pure and simple. I accept the appeal to the Department and the public, and I make this brief statement. The Chief Commissioner's room was always occupied by me the whole day, except when I had to visit and inspect the outlying branches, and from the day the Chief Commissioner left till he returned, Mr. Stobo never sat five minutes in this room; never did any work in it, and never came into it except to bring me papers from the Minister, or take mine away. The room was small; had but one desk; the public were hardly ever out of it, and it was the last place in the world Mr. Stobo could sit in. It is not however necessary, I think, for me to say more on this point just now.

The only other point I have to notice is the statement contained in the same paragraph, No. 6, as to my knowledge of and consent and concurrence in his acting on reports, &c., I absolutely deny it. The whole paragraph is a tissue of lies. I was peculiarly situated as acting Chief Commissioner. Mr. Moriarty was absent, and there was no equivalent allowed for his services. I had six clerks less than he had; the working power of the office was therefore greatly reduced, while the business was largely increasing. Here was a state of things clearly inviting abuse and petty usurpations of authority. Various clerks complained of Mr. Stobo being constantly intermeddling, and asked me to stop it. I said "No." Mr. Stobo is only helping. Mind, Mr. Stobo never offered to help me, and I never asked him; indeed, he had, I thought, plenty to do to attend to his own work, and I was quite willing to accept aid from any quarter in so far as it was subordinate help, help that did not determine or compromise matters; help, in fact that was effective in pushing on this class of cases or that through their appointed preliminary stages. But between tolerating or tacitly accepting help of this kind, regardless of the motives of the helpers, and concurring—with whom did I concur?—in Mr. Stobo's exercise of the extraordinary powers he claims there is an enormous difference. Will any one who knows me believe I so forgot the responsibilities of my position as to agree that Mr. Stobo should deal finally with titles to conditional purchases independently of me, much less deal finally with "doubtful cases" without the prescribed public inquiry, by setting me aside and the Minister aside, whose attention any more than mine was not called to the special facts? What indiscretion, even if a person were invested with authority, and then clandestinely slipping it into the 2,500 cases which I had prepared and signed, and which Sir Henry Parkes signed without reading, relying, of course, that no documents of that character would be placed before him that were not authenticated by the highest authority.

As

* The Inspector did not make any such mistake. There is a clerical error in the date given in his last report, but the previous one gives the date correctly.—A.O.M.

As a matter of fact I do possess all the necessary powers to deal with such business with the knowledge, consent, and concurrence of the Minister and Chief Commissioner, but I have no power to deal with doubtful cases without reference to the Chief Commissioner, and the Chief Commissioner has no power to close them without a public inquiry or the express sanction of the Minister specially applied for.

Minutes on No. 7.

By Chief Commissioner:—Submitted. As before stated I have no personal acquaintance with the arrangements under which these matters were transacted. I am indebted to every person concerned in the performance of my duties during my illness and absence, and cannot be a party to any misunderstanding arising out of them, especially when involving such painful and apparently unnecessary imputations and reflections as these papers contain. I have looked again at the case as submitted and I cannot see any evidence therein of malice such as is now attributed to Mr. Blackman. The matter did not originate with him. His attention was called to it personally by the member for the district, and officially by a land agent. Prima facie, his own integrity and that of the Department were questioned, and it was his duty first to deal with it. He does not appear to me to have thrown out any charge of misconduct against Mr. Stobo, or imputed to that gentleman more than perhaps indiscretion or an undue assumption and unwise exercise of a discretion not properly attaching to his position. I greatly regret that Mr. Stobo should not have confined himself to the explanation that the circumstances called for (and the papers did not exhibit) of the action taken by him on the case; and that he should have suffered himself to be hurried into counter charges of malice and spite, as well as misrepresentation, by which the matter has been made very much worse. The case of the conditional purchase was obviously one which should have been strictly investigated, but as the declaration was finally approved two years ago I cannot recommend that it should be re-opened.—A.O.M., 23/4/83.

By Chief Commissioner:—I transmit this to the Under Secretary, by the Minister's direction, as relating to the conduct of an officer under his control.—A.O.M., 27/4/83.

* See enclosure to No. 6.

By Under Secretary for Lands:—Re-submitted. Herewith are now some further memoranda* from officers of the Department, which Mr. Stobo desires to be enclosed.—C.O., 26/4/83.

Memorandum by Mr. E. H. Stobo.

Department of Lands.

WITH reference to the statements made by me as to Mr. Hoskins having dealt with large numbers of inspectors' reports and declarations without any memo. or initials of Mr. Blackman's, I have reason to believe that in addition to the cases instanced by me in my memorandum of 18th instant, as having been so dealt with, that a large number of such cases were submitted by Mr. F. H. Wilson (now clerk in charge of the Miscellaneous Branch) direct to the Minister, Mr. Hoskins, and that they were all approved or dealt with by Mr. Hoskins without ever passing through Mr. Blackman's hands or being initialed by him.

Mr. Wilson may also be aware of my having acted on and submitted such cases to the Minister, and of my having sat in Mr. Moriarty's room during his absence at the time of Mr. Hoskins' illness.

Minutes on No. 8.

By Under Secretary for Lands:—Mr. Wilson will please say what he knows in reference to the statement now made by Mr. Stobo.—C.O., 25/4/83.

In the year 1879, when I was in charge of the Iron-room (Conditional Sales Division) there were several thousands (I think about 7,000) of inspectors' reports left unacted on by Mr. Blackman when he went away on leave. On this being represented to the Chief Commissioner he instructed Mr. Wiseman and myself to examine and submit them. Mr. Wiseman dealt with the preliminary cases where the declarations had not been received, and I examined and initialed the remainder (over 4,000) where the three years had expired. The declarations were then submitted to the Secretary for Lands without any other initials on the papers. On Mr. Blackman's return from leave I continued for several months to examine all the inspectors' reports (about 400 a week I think) and these were, almost without exception, submitted similarly to the Minister without the initials thereon of either Mr. Blackman or the Chief Commissioner. During the period Mr. Hoskins was laid up and the Chief Commissioner was absent from the Colony, I used day by day to see Mr. Stobo sitting in the Chief Commissioner's room engaged in trying to clear up the cases left by Mr. Moriarty when laid up by illness. I know that he did clear up almost all of them and submit them, and while he was so employed I scarcely ever saw Mr. Blackman in Mr. Moriarty's room. I would also add that Mr. Stobo worked with the Chief Commissioner's door open, and on several occasions drew my attention to the great delays that had occurred in dealing with some of the cases he was then acting on.—F.H.W., 26/4/83.

No. 9.

Memorandum by The Secretary for Lands.

I WILL first consider the statement relative to the conditional purchase of Hobbs being what is commonly termed a dummy selection. I cannot discover that there is any speciality in this case that classes it more in the category of a dummy selection than thousands of others of a similar character which have been passed and approved. The evidence does not disclose that there has been an infraction of the ninth section of the Land Act of 1875. Judging from the evidence and other statements I do not consider that the conditional purchase was forfeitable.

I have carefully read the papers in this case, and have come without difficulty to the conclusion that Mr. Stobo has not only vindicated himself, but that there is no foundation whatever for the imputation made made on him by Mr. Blackman. Mr. Blackman's statement has been, as will be seen by the papers herewith, shown to be entirely erroneous. I cannot help expressing my regret that in the midst of my important public duties my time should be occupied by the investigation of charges groundlessly preferred, and by the perusal of a voluminous correspondence on a matter which has no public interest whatever, and which is not at all desirable that the officers of Government should engage on to the manifest disadvantage of the public, by the loss of time which should be devoted to the public duties of such officers. Mr. Blackman will be required to withdraw his imputations forthwith, and I trust that I may hear no more of this very unpleasant matter.

I understand that these kind of matters should be submitted through the Under Secretary. Had that been done in this case I might have been relieved of a large amount of trouble.

No. 11.

Memorandum by Mr. Blackman.

Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, 26 May, 1883.

THE Minister for Lands justly deprecates the waste of his time in dealing with correspondence of this kind. I feel I am not in any way responsible for it. A very simple matter has been complicated by claims of authority that never existed, and of concurrence never accorded, by which it has been sought to implicate me by the Under Secretary for Lands divesting himself of the judicial impartiality and official decorum belonging to his office, and meeting me in the discharge of an imperative duty with imputations of the basest motives previous to any inquiry, and summing up my case beforehand as "Unfounded," thus taking sides as a partizan at the outset.

Under these circumstances, as also that the Minister has required me to withdraw certain charges, I think no one will dispute my right to deal with the whole matter.

As to the opinion given on Hobbs' case, as a dummy selection, I beg to point out that I made no reference to it as such, or to any infraction of the 9th section of the Act of 1875. And it is not, as the Minister states, a forfeitable one. No case is forfeitable unless after public inquiry before a Commissioner, and unless the Minister concur in his recommendation. I am afraid then that in the press of his engagements, I failed to make my point clear, namely, that when all we know about an original conditional purchaser's residence is heresay, and all we know about his alienee and master's residence is that he was found non-resident on the two occasions on which his selection was visited by the inspector, and further, that the inspector recommended public inquiry because he knew such alienee and master was living 6 miles off at his own home with his family, then I say it would be contrary to invariable rule, contrary to the reason of the case, and contrary to the decision of the Minister to submit it for approval without a public inquiry, as was done by Mr. Stobo without authority, and without any reference to me as official head of the division.

I may add that on various occasions the present Minister, even when a selector was found on his land, required corroborative proof of his being a bona fide resident, when it was known that his family were living elsewhere, and the papers were sent back to the Commissioner for that purpose.

The Minister now requires me to withdraw my imputations against Mr. Stobo. I made but one imputation against him, that of untruthfulness, and I regret that it is not in my power to withdraw it. I made no such charge as a matter of mere opinion, but of fact and evidence, and I have no doubt when the Minister knows what that evidence is, he will come to the same conclusion.

The Minister states "Mr. Stobo has vindicated himself, that there is no foundation whatever for the imputations made on him by Mr. Blackman." "Mr. Blackman's statement has been, as will be seen by the papers herewith, shown to be entirely erroneous," "charges groundlessly preferred." But why has all this been shown? Simply because evidence was taken on one side only, and a decision given without evidence being asked for on the other side. Anything can be proved or disproved in this manner. But I did not expect that the evidence of Messrs. Wilson and Freeman, so compromising to me, would be accepted and acted on without reference to me for any observations I might have to make, and I certainly did expect that I, who have never been in a controversy before in this Department would, after making such a serious imputation, as a matter of official courtesy, have been invited to submit any corroborative evidence I might choose, in support of the allegations I made, and again repeat that Mr. Stobo never occupied the Chief Commissioner's room, and never worked there for five minutes with my knowledge and concurrence during the whole period of his absence.

I now beg to submit an instalment of such evidence for the consideration of the Minister.

No. 1. Mr. Thomas Garrett, M.P.; No. 2. Mr. H. H. Brown, M.P.; No. 3. Mr. A. Armstrong; No. 4. Mr. Ollivier; No. 5. Mr. James Carroll; No. 6. Mr. Holmes; also Officers of the Conditional Sales Division; No. 7. Mr. Neate; No. 8. Mr. Lackey; No. 9. Mr. Yorke; No. 10. Mr. Ward; No. 11. Mr. Wiseman; No. 12. Mr. Wiseman; as a No. 13, I beg to add Mr. Farnell (Minister for Lands).

Now

Now leaving out for the moment Mr. Farnell and Mr. Wiseman, who was not one of my staff at the time; the statements of the first ten gentlemen will speak for themselves. Their statements are in reply to interrogations addressed to them by me, and which I endeavoured to make as decisive as I could. Here are the ten witnesses who had the very best opportunities of knowing the fact, the ablest and most experienced land agents connected with this Department; the men who have the largest amount of business; the men who know all our arrangements and all our officers. Here, too, are the officers of this division who were daily associated with me in the performance of my duties in the Chief Commissioners' room; and what do they all say? That they never once saw Mr. Stobo so occupied and working there; that he could not have been so occupied without their knowledge; and that of such a circumstance they never once heard. In fact Mr. Stobo is never seen except passing to and fro like the messenger. I beg to call special attention to the statements of Mr. Carroll. Mr. Ollivier and Mr. Holmes, who affirm Mr. Stobo could not be there without their immediate knowledge Mr. Holmes' statement is in the form of a statutory declaration addressed in a letter to Mr. Farnell, and left with me the day he left for England, and is as will be seen in the highest degree emphatic on all points. I may also note that as all these witnesses were with me one at a time, and the land agents frequently every day, their observations extend over so large a space of time as to render it impossible for any one to be engaged in any way whatever in my room without certain detection. A room which was my head office, where the traffic of land agents, officials, and the general public was so great that I could hardly attend to any office work, on account of their interruptions, where there was hardly room for myself, and but one desk. Yet it was here Mr. Stobo was working unseen by the keenest of eyes and sharpest of men, while he had his own room and another one at his disposal to work in, and where by the bye he is always seen. But the truth is Mr. Stobo knows well he never had my concurrence. If he had it did not matter where he worked. But he foolishly thinks if he could only prove he occupied my room, that my concurrence would be inferred as a matter of course. This however does not follow, my concurring in his remaining in my room would not mean my concurring in wrong doing.

I have taken the liberty of putting Mr. Farnell's name in my preliminary list of witnesses, and I do so in the interests of truth. Mr. Farnell very frequently called on me at my head office, and I now most respectfully ask him, if he ever once saw Mr. Stobo so occupied and occupying my room during the whole period the Chief Commissioner was absent? If he ever wanted Mr. Stobo would he ever once have thought of looking for him there? Could he have been located and working there for any perceptible period without his knowing it? I respectfully leave the Minister for Lands to reply to these questions, as I did the other gentlemen, as he may deem fit.

Of course I am perfectly aware that as I myself occupied the head office, which I never left unless for a while in the morning to sign correspondence in Gresham-street office, or at occasional brief intervals in the day to visit the several branches in adjoining streets under my control, I can assert with an authority that cannot be ignored, and which the statements I have put in fully confirm, that Mr. Stobo never for a moment occupied my room, much less worked in it, which I could not do myself, but I wish to bring this out in the light of facts, and at full length; because it is plain that if Mr. Stobo never occupied my room, there he never was seen occupying it, and if this be true as it undoubtedly is, there it will follow that the statements made by Messrs. Wilson and Freeman, that they saw him there "day by day engaged" working and knew where to find him whenever they wanted him are sheer inventions.

A memo. of mine, written in reply to reports called for by Mr. Hoskins, on the state of the Conditional Purchase Division, and recently laid before Parliament with Mr. Freeman's reports, will show the excellent condition of the division at the time. By unremitting industry, energy, discipline, and subordination, under great difficulties, the whole work of the Conditional Purchase Division was brought up to date; a task seldom or ever accomplished in the Civil Service. Indeed, at various times during the half-year it was so up, a fact of which the Minister for Lands is a witness, not merely through what he knows himself, but because Mr. Hoskins told him I had done so. I requested Mr. Farnell, who informed me on three separate occasions, not to forget Mr. Hoskins' statement to him, and he said "Certainly not; I am glad to be able to tell you." About the end of May I asked Mr. Fitzgerald if he had any submissions for me. I said, if not, I shall in a few days be run ashore for cases to submit, and I did not want to see things wound up so nicely until the day before the Chief Commissioner came back.

I allude to the state of the Conditional Purchase Division in order that I may conclusively show that from the state of the work I had no need whatever of Mr. Stobo's services. I never asked his help; never wanted, or once thought of it. If it had been offered, which it was not, I should have declined it. I had clerks who would have given me any amount of assistance, and far better than Mr. Stobo. If any one had told me Mr. Stobo was submitting any cases, much less "prohibited" ones, to Sir Henry Parkes, behind my back, I should have at once flatly contradicted him.

As the work in May and June was substantially up, there was nothing for Mr. Stobo to do, (for he was not on my staff). I knew well he did nothing for me or the division; and the proper course to test the matter was to have our records carefully searched to get up all the work he did, and bring all the cases he took action on together again. I accordingly instructed the gentlemen named in the margin to go through our records from June, 1880 (seven months before the Chief Commissioner left), to the end of July, 1882, twelve months after he came back, and bring me all cases he noted to Commissioners for inquiry; all cases noted by him to inspectors? All miscellaneous cases of any kind on which he made any remark, or notation, or direction; and finally, all cases submitted and recommended by him to Sir Henry Parkes without my knowledge, that is, without my initials.

I now submit the results:—Mr. Capper made a special search through the Commissioners' reports to see who sent them during the period specified. Surprised at the fewness of the cases, I told him to make a further search for six months longer, to the end of December, 1882, and try to get a few more. But there were only fifty-two cases. I asked him if he recollected Mr. Stobo noting any to Commissioners. He said: "Yes." "Why do you recollect so well?" "It was so unusual." He replied: "I should think it was unusual; it was both the first and last time it ever occurred." A smart clerk would note them all off to the Commissioner in an hour; say an hour and a half.

Twenty-one cases noted by him for inspectors' report. Time required, half an hour.

Of miscellaneous cases there were only thirty-six. Not more than twenty belongs to the time in question. Time required to act on them, one hour. The whole of this work is of the most petty and routine character. As for cases noted to inspectors, they are sent in thousands by a junior clerk, at £150 a year, as a matter of course, and without any supervision.

Mr. Ballie,
Mr. Yorke,
Mr. Chambers,
Mr. MacDonnell,
junr.

Thirty-six cases were found submitted in his handwriting to Sir Henry Parkes without my knowledge, and not either initialed or examined by me. Time required to act on them, one hour.

Of these thirty-six cases, the only important part of the work, fourteen or fifteen were among those prohibited by the practice of the Department, and as many of them were bad cases, ought to have been sent on for public inquiry. No such cases were ever submitted as routine matters for the approval of any Minister. Three or four might be "claim cases" for the interested parties to bring on themselves before such Commissioners.

I am not surprised at Mr. Stobo's audacity in this matter. I know that gentleman of old; under me for years, he was the most unbelievable individual I ever met. So much so that he was at last officially disrated in this Department for frequent falsehood in the discharge of his duties, and was stationed at the counter as the only means that could be devised to counteract his propensities. Now he comes up again with the old assurance and states he occupied and worked in my head office; an office thronged by the public who never saw him, by all the land agents of Sydney, not one of whom are on his side; thronged by the principal officers of this division who contradict his statement; frequented by Mr. Farnell, who never saw him so occupied. I write in anticipation of his inevitable confirmation, and yet I am told that my charge is "without any foundation whatever," and "groundlessly preferred," "shown to be entirely erroneous," by the papers herewith. The papers herewith mean the statements of Mr. Wilson, Mr. Freeman, and Mr. McKern. But if I had been allowed to see them before the Minister gave his decision on them, I don't think they would have been worth altogether the smallest coin in Her Majesty's Dominions. I shall glance through them shortly now. What does Mr. Wilson say? "During the period Mr. Hoskins was laid up and the Chief Commissioner was absent from the Colony, I used, day by day, to see Mr. Stobo sitting in the Chief Commissioner's room engaged in trying to clear up the cases left by Mr. Moriarty. I know he did clear up almost all of them and submitted them."

Mr. Stobo gives a list of the papers he acted on. His statement is worth attention. "I dealt with a large number of conditional purchase cases, principally inspectors' reports, in which approval or disapproval was not directly recommended, and which were marked submitted by Dr. Barsanti, and I gave various directions thereon, either for them to pass for approval or to go to Commissioner for inquiry, or for further report from inspector or otherwise."

Very true, and I have got them all, the number is 133*, but not one is Chief Commissioner's arrears (the existence of which I now learn for the first time), and all but four or five are cases registered and turning up after the Chief Commissioner left the Colony. So much to begin with for Mr. Wilson's veracity about the Chief Commissioner's arrears. I invite inspection of papers.

All the above papers are dated by Mr. Stobo on the day on which he acted on them.

Mr. Freeman's statement is this.—"I certainly remember that Mr. Stobo generally sat in Mr. Moriarty's room during the absence of Mr. Hoskins through illness, about May and June, 1881. In fact whenever I wanted to find Mr. Stobo I looked for him in the Chief Commissioner's room.

Now let Mr. Wilson and Mr. Freeman's statements, as to Mr. Stobo occupying my room, be compared with those of the ten witnesses I have produced to the contrary, and I ask are the former credible? Can they possibly be true? Messrs. Wilson and Freeman were not in any way connected with my room or the Conditional Purchase Division. It was the daily business of all the others to attend on me at the head office.

Compare them with the amount of work done by Mr. Stobo; altogether a four hour's job! "Day by day," says Mr. Wilson, "I used to see Mr. Stobo engaged" when there was not half a day's work in all that was done during the months of May and June.

Compare these statements further with Mr. Stobo's dates on the papers. Nothing done during the first sixteen days of May. How does the "day by day" theory harmonize with that? On the 17th thirty-two cases, a very busy day; five cases on the 18th; nothing on the 19th; five cases on the 20th; nothing on the 21st and 22nd; three cases on the 23rd; nothing on the 24th; one case on the 25th; twenty cases on the 26th; one case on the 27th; nothing on the 28th and 29th; thirteen cases on the 30th; two cases on the 31st.

Here is June, 1881.

Two cases on the 1st; eleven cases on the 2nd; eight cases on the 3rd; nothing on the 4th and 5th; three cases on the 6th; nothing on the 7th and 8th; one case on the 9th; nothing on the 10th; one case on the 11th; nothing on the 12th, 13th, and 14th; one case on the 15th; one case on the 16th; nothing on the 17th, 18th, 19th, and 20th; one case on the 21st; nothing on the 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, and 30th.

"Day by day" says Mr. Wilson (during May and June, and his statement includes April), "I used to see Mr. Stobo sitting in the Chief Commissioner's room, engaged, &c." What! here are forty-one days that Mr. Stobo was not working, and not in my room, on his own showing. How does the day by day theory coincide with that? Seven days—one case a day. Does it coincide with that? Day by day was Mr. Stobo engaged, according to Mr. Wilson, clearing off Mr. Moriarty's arrears*, and forty-one times in May and June alone that statement breaks down according to Mr. Stobo's dating of his own work.

On forty-one days (in May and June) Mr. Stobo's own dates show he did no work of this kind. Yet, on these forty-one days, Mr. Wilson, ignorant of this dating, certifies that he saw him "sitting in the Chief Commissioner's room" engaged in this very work, and Mr. Freeman certifies to finding him there whenever he wanted him.

"Whenever" (that is at any hour) Mr. Freeman wanted to find Mr. Stobo, he looked for him in the Chief Commissioner's room. How did he find him on the forty-one days, he was not there? On the seven days he did one case a day. Did Mr. Freeman just hit the moment in which the one case was being prepared.

Mr. Stobo, it will be seen, did not work up all his cases by one grand administrative effort, but ckd them out somewhat economically until the small hoard was exhausted, but all will see the bad spirit which led him while doing so to libel and misrepresent the Conditional Purchase Division, frequently speaking of great delay in acting on conditional purchase matters, as Messrs. Wilson and Freeman confess, and so willingly re-echo, although the very cases in his hands were demonstrations of his untruthfulness, and of the excellent state of the division. Inspection of cases invited.

When I said Mr. Hoskins never signed any inspectors' reports without my initials, that general statement admitted of two obvious exceptions which proved it; first, if Mr. Hoskins choose to act on any case on his own responsibility and experience, as he did in his spare time to help me, he did not want any initials, as I said before; secondly, when I was unavoidably absent from Sydney, of course temporary provision provision had to be made to perform my duties until I returned, the same thing must be done if the Minister is away. The utter absurdity of Mr. Wilson's argument is clear. He examined inspectors' reports during the month I was absent (September, 1879), but it was by the arrangement and appointment of the Chief Commissioner, through whom alone his cases were submitted to the Minister. Mr. Wilson states (and this is his strong point) that after my return, he still continued to act for several months, examining reports, which at the rate of 400 a week, were "almost without exception" submitted to Mr. Hoskins for approval without the initials thereon of either Mr. Blackman or the Chief Commissioner" not even is this statement of Mr. Wilson's true in the smallest particular, for on my return the reports were submitted to me by Mr. Wilson himself, as Mr. Wiseman and others know. They were all initialed by me, and by me submitted as usual to the Minister through the Chief Commissioner. All discussion is useless, as I gave instructions to have the papers got up out of records, and they are now in my office open to inspection.

As to Mr. McKern's statements they must go with the rest. He speaks of many interviews in the Chief Commissioner's room between himself and the Deed Stamper, Mr. Stobo, during May and June, 1881. Absolute nonsense. A junior clerk forwarded all deeds to the Under Secretary, in order that they might be stamped, and Mr. Stobo stamped them. That is the whole transaction, and it does not admit of interviews, consultations, or anything of the sort. Did anyone ever hear of such interviews before? Did Mr. Neate, when head of the Deeds Branch, ever have one interview? Did Mr. Wiseman? Is Mr. Newman, who now stamps, ever interviewed? Of course I am aware that interviews like other things may turn up quite providentially, and in the nick of time. But when here? Not on any of the forty-one days Mr. Stobo was not in the Chief Commissioner's room, according to his own dates. Not on the seven days he did but one case a day; hardly on the two days he did two cases, and the two days he did three cases a day. Scarcely on the five days, he was doing real work in twenty cases, eleven cases, thirteen cases, eight cases, thirteen cases, thirty-two cases; for he was then disposing of Chief Commissioner's arrears; also all delayed and neglected reports, and "preparing" prohibited and debatable cases, as routine matters for the signature of Sir Henry Parkes without consulting me; and I am afraid the balance left excludes the many interviews, and even the few.

I should like to know how Mr. McKern, a clerk who never had any training in the Conditional Purchase Division, could tell at a glance that when he came Mr. Stobo was almost invariably engaged in conditional purchase cases. After all he must have come during the five days' session, which would be very curious, the dates being at varying intervals, the 17th May, 26th of May, 30th of May, 2nd June, and 3rd of June. Then the words "almost invariably" betoken a fine discrimination, which we cannot compete with, for our conditional purchase experts, Capper and Ardill, cannot be sure of what Mr. Stobo is doing even after he enlightened them; perhaps for the best, as since I have written my first memorandum I have learned that Mr. Stobo was found once in my room, sitting in my chair (there being no other accommodation) industriously, very industriously, "striving" to do his own work, of which fact I should be quite sure, even though Mr. Ollivier, who came to see me and was an eye-witness and taxed him with it, had not just now informed me.

I now beg to hand you this memorandum. However, as the Minister has given a decision and these papers, evidences, and arguments were not before him at the time, I beg to apply for a Board of Inquiry in order that a searching investigation may be made.

WM. BLACKMAN.

Minutes on No. 11.

By Chief Commissioner:—Forwarded to the Under Secretary. This matter as submitted by me to the Minister bore primarily and chiefly on the irregular issue of a certificate, and but incidentally upon the conduct of the officer to whose agency it was attributable. The issue has now become one of credit and evidence, and apart from the very disadvantageous position in which Mr. Blackman has been placed, his long and unquestioned services and high position in the Department would have, I think, entitled him to the inquiry he demands, even without the overwhelming evidence which he offers in rebuttal of that on which the matter has been decided so adversely to him. As already stated, I should personally have been very glad to have been spared participation in any such matter as this, the more especially as the difficulty is traceable ultimately to the illness which so long interrupted my own discharge of duty. I should also have been glad could I have moderated the tone of the discussion, but I cannot feel that I have any right to prescribe terms and language to those who are upon their defence.—A.O.M., 30/5/83.

By Secretary for Lands:—Upon a perusal of Mr. Blackman's memo. of the 20th of May last, I find that he states, among other things, that he made but one imputation against Mr. Stobo, namely, that of untruthfulness. The memo. of Mr. Blackman's of the 9th April last contains serious and grave imputations, and I so concluded when I wrote my minute on the 17th April last calling upon Mr. Stobo for an explanation. Mr. Stobo furnished an explanation, together with statements made by other officers of the Department in corroboration thereof. Mr. Blackman demurs to these statements, and he states that they are untrue. Mr. Blackman requests that a Board may be appointed to inquire into the matter. I think, under the circumstances and aspect of the matter, that there should be an inquiry into the allegations contained in Mr. Blackman's memos. of the 9th and 17th of April and the 20th of May, and the replies thereto by Mr. Stobo; that is to say, that there should be a full inquiry into the whole matter. I therefore desire that a letter be written to my Honorable Colleague the Minister for Justice, requesting him to appoint Mr. G. O'Malley Clarke, one of the Stipendiary Magistrates, to inquire into the subject matter and report thereon. The evidence or statements referred to in Mr. Blackman's memo. of the 20th May last I have just seen, with the papers, but have not had time to peruse them; and I find that they have been attached to the papers with the above last-mentioned memo., and since my minute of the 18th of May last.—J.S.F., 5th June, 1883.

[Enclosure A to No. 11.]

Mr. Garrett,

You frequently, that is, frequently every day, attended at my office, i.e., the Chief Commissioner's old room in the old building, from January, 1881, to July, 1881. Did you upon any one occasion ever see any officer of this Department—say, Mr. Stobo—sitting in it, occupying it, and transacting business there? Do you think he could have been so engaged without your knowledge? Did you ever hear such a thing once spoken of?—W.B., 26/4/83.

I can reply in the negative to each one of the above questions, so far as my observations extended.—THOMAS GARRETT.

[Enclosure

[Enclosure B to No. 11.]

Mr. Brown,

You frequently attended on business at my office in the Chief Commissioner's room in the old building, from January, 1881, to July, 1881, inclusive. Did you ever upon any one occasion see any officer of this Department—say, Mr. Stobo—sitting in that room, occupying it, and in any way whatever transacting any business in it? Do you think he could be so employed without your knowledge of the fact? Did you ever hear the circumstance once remarked or alluded to?—W.B., 30/4/83.

With reference to the above, I was with you on numerous occasions during the time you were performing duty in the absence of Mr. Moriarty. I never saw Mr. Stobo doing work in your room; he was generally at Mr. Hoskins' elbow, or in the small room off the Under Secretary's room.—H. H. BROWN, 30/4/83. The last two questions I answer in the negative.—H.H.B. This is certainly an error.—C. G., 31/5/83.

[Enclosure C to No. 11.]

Mr. Armstrong,

You frequently, that is, frequently every day, attended at my office, i.e., in the Chief Commissioner's room in the old building, from January, 1881, to July, 1881. Did you ever, upon any one occasion, see any officer of this Department—say, Mr. Stobo—sitting in it, occupying it, and transacting any business in it? Do you think he could have been so engaged without your knowledge? Did you ever hear such a circumstance once spoken of?—W.B., 26/4/83.

I was frequently, almost daily, at the Lands Department between January, 1880, and July, 1881. I never observed that the room generally used by the Chief Commissioner was occupied by any other officer with regularity other than yourself. If any person occupied it frequently I believe I must have observed it. I never heard such a circumstance spoken of or in any way alluded to.—A. A. ARMSTRONG.

[Enclosure D to No. 11.]

Mr. Ollivier,

You were clerk in charge of the iron room in this Department from about February, 1879, to about the first of June, 1881, when you joined the firm of Brown & Co., land agents. After that period you were in the habit of seeing me at various times every day. Did you ever upon any one occasion see any officer of this Department—say, Mr. Stobo—sitting in my office in the room of the Chief Commissioner in the old building; occupying it, and transacting any business in it? Could any one, and especially Mr. Stobo, be so engaged without your knowledge of the fact? Did you ever hear such a circumstance even once spoken of?—W.B., 26/4/83.

From my position in the iron room, conditional sales, I was in the habit of seeing you to answer queries on an average every half-hour of the day, these calls made upon my time were the subject of remark by the officers in the iron room. Subsequent to my leaving the office I have seen you in your position of acting Chief Commissioner three times a day; I can assure you that I never saw or knew of any person performing such duties as you refer to. The officer I saw on these occasions was yourself. It would be quite impossible that any officer could have been working in your room at any time within the period without my immediate knowledge. I have frequently seen Mr. Stobo coming in and out getting papers from you for the Minister, or returning papers to you dealt with by the Minister. In conclusion, I would state that from 4 o'clock till 5 or half-past, I was in the habit of sitting with Mr. Blackman submitting the various papers, the result of the work of the day.—W. M. OLLIVIER, 27th April, 1883.

[Enclosure E to No. 11.]

Mr. Carroll,

You frequently, that is, frequently every day, attended at my office, i.e., in the Chief Commissioner's room in the old building, from January, 1881, to July, 1881, inclusive. Did you ever upon any one occasion see any officer of this Department—say, Mr. Stobo—sitting in it, occupying it and transacting any business in it? Do you think he could have been so engaged without your knowledge of the fact? Did you ever hear such a circumstance once spoken of?—W.B. 27/4/83.

In answer to the above queries, I have very great pleasure in bearing testimony to the truth, as far as my memory serves me. In the first place I must state that my business has frequently brought me into contact with Mr. Blackman and the Chief Commissioner in their respective offices; but during the term particularized in the above query, viz., the temporary absence of the Chief Commissioner, whose office for the time being was held and his room occupied by Mr. Blackman. I have had occasion to interview Mr. Blackman much more frequently than previously to Mr. Moriarty's absence or since that gentleman's return; for I had to do business with Mr. Blackman during the period specified in his twofold capacity of acting Chief Commissioner and chief officer of the Conditional Sales Division. I must therefore have had occasion to consult with Mr. Blackman in the Chief Commissioner's room every day almost without exception, and very often two or three times daily, and sometimes, no doubt, oftener. In view of these circumstances, I believe no one could be in a better position, to say whether or not any person, other than Mr. Blackman himself, occupied the Chief Commissioner's room, and transacted any business therein, than myself, and this brings me now to state, and I beg to do so most emphatically, that during the period mentioned I never saw any person occupying Mr. Blackman's room—the Chief Commissioner's proper—but Mr. Blackman; and most certainly I say I have no recollection of Mr. Stobo occupying that room in conjunction with Mr. Blackman. No person could have regularly occupied the room, for even a short period, without my knowledge. Furthermore, I must add that I never heard of this circumstance once spoken of before.—JAMES CARROLL, 27th April, 1883.

[Enclosure F to No. 11.]

Mr. G. H. Holmes to The Secretary for Lands.

My Dear Sir,

21, Exchange-buildings, Pitt-street, 17 May, 1883.

On the eve of my departure for England I beg to enclose a declaration respecting the case of Mr. Stobo, which with letter I leave with Mr. Blackman for any use he may wish to make of it.

I do so in case that there may be any inquiry, which I should be glad to attend if here.

I feel sure you know me long and too well to question my knowledge of all the arrangements of the Lands Department, and therefore my competency to give a decided opinion on the subject, and also the truthfulness and credibility of any statement I may make.

I am, &c.,
G. H. HOLMES.

[Sub-enclosure to Enclosure F to No. 11.]

Declaration.

I, GEORGE HENRY HOLMES, of Sydney, do solemnly and sincerely declare, that between the month of January, 1881, and July inclusive, I attended at Mr. Blackman's office, in the Chief Commissioner's room, in the old building, five or six times a day on an average, and never saw Mr. Stobo there on any occasion, unless coming in and out with papers for the Minister or messages for Mr. Blackman, and he could not have been engaged in occupying or sitting in said room for any purpose without my immediate knowledge, and I never heard the circumstance once spoken of. I always knew where to find Mr. Stobo when I wanted him, that was either in the Minister's room or in the little room off the Under Secretary's; and I make make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and in virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of the Government of New South Wales and to substitute Declarations in lieu thereof and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

C. H. HOLMES.

Made and signed before me, at Sydney, this 5th day of May, 1883.—

ROBERT B. WILKINSON, J.P.

[Enclosure G. to No. 11.]

Mr. Neate,

You frequently, that is frequently every day, attended at my office in the Chief Commissioner's room, in the old building, from January, 1881, to July, 1881. Did you ever upon any one occasion see any officer of this Department—say, Mr. Stobo—sitting in it, occupying it, and transacting any business in it? Do you think he could have been so engaged without your knowledge? Did you ever hear such a circumstance once spoken of?—W.B., 26/4/83.

I never saw Mr. Stobo in the room referred to; he could not have been in the room other than bringing papers backwards or forwards without my knowledge. I never heard it once spoken of.—C. E. NEATE, 26/4/83.

[Enclosure H to No. 11.]

Mr. Lackey.

You frequently, I dare say every day, attended at my office in the Chief Commissioner's room in the old building, from January 1881 to July 1881, inclusive. Did you ever upon any one occasion see any officer of this Department—say, Mr. Stobo—sitting in it, occupying it, and transacting any business in it? Do you think he could have been so engaged without your knowledge of the fact? Did you ever hear such a circumstance once spoken of?—W.B., 30/4/83.

1. I do not remember the exact time, but during the time I had charge of the Iron-room (some two or three months), and during the Chief Commissioner's absence, I had occasion to submit cases to you personally, nearly every day, either in the Chief Commissioner's room or in Gresham-street room. 2. I certainly do not recollect seeing any officer of the Department, other than yourself, occupying the Chief Commissioner's room. 3. I do not think so. 4. No.—M.L., 30/4/83.

[Enclosure I to No. 11.]

Mr. Yorke,

You frequently, that is, frequently every day, attended on office business at my office in the Chief Commissioner's room, in the old building, from January 1881 to July 1881, inclusive? Did you ever upon any one occasion see any officer of this Department—say, Mr. Stobo—sitting in that room, occupying it, or transacting any business in it whatever? Do you think he could be so employed without your knowledge? Did you ever hear the circumstance once spoken of?—W.B., 30/4/83.

During the Chief Commissioner's tour to England, and the occupation by you of his room, as acting Chief Commissioner, I remember having occasion to submit my work to you daily for your concurrence, but do not recollect at any time seeing Mr. Stobo occupying that room. I however remember distinctly, upon two or three occasions, when waiting for your arrival, you being engaged elsewhere, meeting Mr. Stobo in the room, and he appeared to me to be either waiting for you or searching for papers. As I often had to see you more than once during the day, and not to my knowledge having ever heard the fact of Mr. Stobo's occupation of the Chief Commissioner's room, during that gentleman's absence in England, spoken of, I think it very improbable that he could have done so without my having in some way observed it.—J.R.Y., 30/4/83.

[Enclosure J to No. 11.]

Mr. Ward,

You frequently, that is frequently every day, attended at my office in the Chief Commissioner's room, in the old building, from January 1881 to July 1881, inclusive? Did you ever on any one occasion see any officer of this Department—say, Mr. Stobo—sitting in that room and occupying and transacting any business in it whatever? Do you think Mr. Stobo could be so employed without your knowledge of the fact? Did you ever hear the circumstance once spoken of?—W.B., 30/4/83.

I remember the Chief Commissioner's room in the old building, and am aware that you occupied it during his absence in Europe. I was frequently there during the period stated (my position on the public inquiry counter rendered it necessary), and I have no recollection of any occasion on which I saw any officer of the Department, other than yourself, transacting business in the said room, and I never heard of such a circumstance happening. As to whether it is probable that it could have happened, without my knowledge, I respectfully submit that I do not think it could.—T.W.W., 30/4/83.

[Enclosure K to No. 11.]

Mr. Wiseman,

A few days ago you mentioned to me, of your own accord, that in the course of some conversation you had with Mr. Stobo, on Mr. Hoskins' method of doing business with regard to approval of conditional purchase declarations, that gentleman stated to you that Mr. Hoskins would not sign any declarations, as approved, without my initials—have you any objection to stating this in writing.—W.B., 30/4/83.

Certainly not.—J.W., 30/4/83.

[Enclosure L to No. 11.]

Mr. Wiseman,

You were not on the staff of the Conditional Purchase Division between January and June, 1881, inclusive, but I often saw you during the whole of that period in my office in the Chief Commissioner's room in the old building. Did you ever, upon any one occasion, see any clerk of this Department—say, Mr. Stobo—sitting in my room and occupying and transacting any business in it.—W.B., 26/5/82.

1. This must have taken place during my daily visit to the Under Secretary's room, when I often saw you and conversed with you. 2. No.—J.W., 27/5/82.

No. 12.

Memorandum by The Under Secretary.

WERE it not for Mr. Blackman's opening observations—which are I think, highly improper—I should have merely re-submitted the within papers. However, it appears to me now necessary to place the position assumed by Mr. Blackman as regards Mr. Stobo in what I conceive to be its proper light, and as I viewed it when writing my memo. of the 18th ultimo. The question of whether the conditional purchase was one for forfeiture or not is immaterial, as a submission either way by Mr. Stobo may have been the

the result of an error of judgment, and if merely brought under notice by Mr. Blackman there could have been no possible ground for taking exception to the course pursued. Mr. Stobo is however charged with "intercepting," and after so doing improperly passing on for approval, a conditional purchase case. This is a charge, I take it, of so serious a nature that if substantiated should result in Mr. Stobo's removal from the Public Service,—the accusation being one of dishonorable conduct as a public officer of an aggravated form. No one can be better aware than Mr. Blackman that Mr. Stobo was with Mr. Hoskins' consent, indeed by his direction, in the habit of passing similar cases in the way the one in question was dealt with. Also, that during the whole term of Mr. Hoskins' administration, Mr. Stobo occupied an exceptionally confidential position, one perhaps unequalled by any officer of the Department. Whether it was wise to place so young an officer in such a position, undefined by documentary authority, is not for me to say. The fact, however, remains, and in that position Mr. Stobo perused nearly every case submitted to the Minister, and wrote a précis of those of a complicated character. Mr. Stobo possessed Mr. Hoskins' utmost confidence, as evidence of which attention is drawn to a copy of the latter's letter, dated the 29th December, 1881. For these reasons I could not write otherwise than I did when submitting the papers by memorandum before referred to. It was my duty to place the then apparent position of the matter before the Minister. The charge of "intercepting" the case is, in my opinion, without foundation, and being so could not have been advanced upon the ground of "duty" or public good.

Much weight has been attached to the point of whether or not Mr. Stobo usually sat in the Chief Commissioner's room during the period Mr. Hoskins was absent through illness. That he did so I can positively assert. While Sir Henry Parkes was acting for Mr. Hoskins, and at the time now referred to, I requested Mr. Stobo not to take his usual seat in the Minister's room, as Sir Henry objected to any one but the Minister sitting there. For a few days I allowed Mr. Stobo to occupy a small private room adjoining my own; but this arrangement proving inconvenient to me I told him to sit in the Chief Commissioner's room, which was seldom at that time ever used, and he did so, and then prepared précis of and perused conditional purchase cases for submission, as he was in the habit of doing during the whole period of Mr. Hoskins' administration of the Department. Of course Mr. Stobo was not always in the room, because his duties frequently took him to various parts of the office including the branches, I refer now to searches for information in reference to conditional purchase matters. Many gentlemen, especially those who were only admitted to the Department from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., and not at all on Saturdays, may not have observed him in the room; yet his occupancy was none the less a fact. It is only as an act of common justice to Mr. Stobo that I now make these latter statements and deem it unnecessary to write further, except to add that, so far as I am able to judge, there is no objection to the inquiry as to the accuracy of the representations made by the different officers and others sought by Mr. Blackman, being instituted, if the Minister sees fit to permit it.

C.O., 31/5/83.

No. 13.

Mr. G. O'Malley Clarke to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 4 July, 1883.

I have the honor to inform you that in obedience to the instructions conveyed to me at your instance, an inquiry was duly held by me into certain charges made by Mr. Blackman against Mr. Stobo, and a counter charge by the latter gentleman, and I now beg to submit my report thereon, accompanied by the minutes of evidence.

The charges preferred by Mr. Blackman may be stated as—

1. Intercepting public document in transit to the officer whose duty it was to deal with the same.
2. Untruthfulness and the counter charge that the foregoing allegations were prompted by malicious motives. Before setting forth the conclusions I have arrived at from the evidence I have adduced at the inquiry, I deem it necessary to give an outline of the surrounding circumstances which here combined to bring the gentlemen referred to into antagonism.

It appears that in January, 1881, Mr. Moriarty, the Chief Commissioner of Conditional Sales, obtained leave of absence for the period of six months, and Mr. Blackman, the Chief Clerk, became the responsible head of that division of the Department. Mr. Hoskins was the Minister for Lands, having Mr. Stobo for his private secretary or clerk. Mr. Stobo had occupied that position since December, 1878, (having been previously counter clerk in the Conditional Sales Division), and from the confidence evidently reposed in him by the Minister it was doubtless one requiring the display of the greatest tact and discretion in his relation with the other officers of the Department, and the Surveyor-General in his evidence aptly describes it to have been "extraordinary, difficult, and unprecedented." He sat in the same room as the Minister, whose papers he arranged, and for whom he prepared précis of all cases submitted; and as is apparent from his own statements, to which I shall draw attention further on, in some instances he assumed authority which when exercised by one in such a peculiar and undefined position is difficult to reconcile with etiquette, official routine, or proper organization in any public department, and than which, under such circumstances, it is scarcely possible to conceive anything more calculated to create confusion, dissension, and insubordination. In April, 1881, Mr. Hoskins, from ill health, was compelled to absent himself from his office, and he remained away for some months, during which period Sir Henry Parkes generally acted as Minister for Lands.

It would appear that Sir Henry Parkes did not approve of the occupation of the Minister's room by Mr. Stobo, who consequently had to seek an office elsewhere. With the concurrence of Mr. Oliver he sat for a short time in a small room next the Under Secretary's, but this proving inconvenient, at Mr. Oliver's direction he occupied and worked in the Commissioner's room. It will be observed from the evidence that the occupation of this room is a matter of dispute between Mr. Blackman and Mr. Stobo, each contending that the other did not occupy it at that particular period as an office, and they each called a number of witnesses to support their respective assertions. This disputed point, for the purposes of this inquiry, would be unimportant had it not some bearing on the charge of untruthfulness which has been preferred against Mr. Stobo. The only conclusion that can be arrived at, however, is that both these gentlemen occupied the room, but at different hours of the day. Mr. Blackman had other branches under his supervision, which he frequently visited and inspected, and while so engaged it is quite likely that Mr.

Stobo

Stobo worked in the Chief Commissioner's room, and when Mr. Blackman was in possession of it Mr. Stobo had to suit himself elsewhere. It is a matter of fact, and is somewhat remarkable, that Mr. Blackman was never made aware of the Under Secretary's direction that Mr. Stobo was to occupy that room.

It was while Mr. Stobo was thus using the Chief Commissioner's office that circumstances transpired which led to the recriminations necessitating this inquiry, and his own evidence may be accepted as a narrative of what occurred. He states that he still continued to be Mr. Hoskins' private secretary, and that he was also employed by the Under Secretary, at the instance of that Minister, in preparing papers and cases connected with land purchases. While so engaged in Mr. Moriarty's room he observed a number of cases relating to conditional purchases unacted upon. He informed the Under Secretary of the fact, and that gentleman instructed to work them off. Mr. Hoskins also directed him in the same manner. Mr. Stobo proceeded at once to obey these instructions, as may be gathered from his own words at page 49 of the evidence. He says, "I therefore noted in these cases what action I thought should be taken, and sent the papers on to have such action carried out. Cases requiring to be dealt with by the Under Secretary were sent to him, and the others to Mr. Blackman's subordinate officers in order that my instructions should be carried out. I was instructed to do this in consequence of Mr. Blackman's frequent absence from the room. It was in this manner that I took action in Hobbs' case."

I must here remark that Mr. Stobo's authority to interfere in the work of the Chief Commissioner's office is veiled in a mist of circumlocution. He claims the Under Secretary's instructions to "work off" the cases he had drawn attention to. The Under Secretary denies having given him any such instructions, but states that Mr. Hoskins told him that he had directed Mr. Stobo to do so. In like manner both these gentlemen say that Mr. Hoskins stated that he had told Mr. Blackman that Mr. Stobo was to do this work, &c.

It is proper now to explain the particulars of Hobbs' case.

Frank Hobbs, on the 26th October, 1876, conditionally purchased 640 acres of land, at Glen Innes—conditional purchase 76-116. This selection was transferred to John M'Master on 18th April, 1878. On 7th June, 1878, Mr. Inspector Trollope reported that no doubt Hobbs had been a continuous resident, but that the alienee had not resided, and detailed circumstances which involved grave suspicion of the bona fides of the alienee, and suggested another inspection. On the 9th March, 1881, the same officer reported that no person was then residing on the selection, and wrote as follows:—"I am of opinion that it would be well to inquire into the residence of this conditional purchase." On this report Mr. Stobo noted the words "may pass." On 17th May, 1881, and the declaration of the transferee was consequently approved by Sir Henry Parkes on the same day or soon after.

There can be no doubt that Mr. Stobo is responsible for the ultimate course pursued with regard to this selection, and it is also quite evident that his recommendation was erroneous as the case was not ripe for final disposal. The officer specially directed to inspect the selection entertained such doubts as to the fulfilment of the conditions of the law, that he recommended an inquiry. Mr. Stobo disposed of the matter in the two words already quoted. He justifies his action by stating that it was in accordance with the custom of the Department, and produced two cases in which Mr. Blackman recommended approval when fulfilment of the conditions was not verified by the inspector. It is incredible that such can have been the practice of the Department, and the cases quoted are not in point; as in regard to them, the inspector merely expressed a doubt, but made no special recommendation. I arrive therefore at the conclusion that Mr. Stobo is solely to blame in this matter.

Mr. Blackman's charge against Mr. Stobo of "intercepting" this case may now be disposed of, and I am of opinion that it is not sustained by the facts disclosed. Mr. Stobo's right or authority to deal with it in the manner he did is very questionable, but that he "intercepted" it in the ordinary acceptation of the term, or that he "clandestinely slipped it into a bundle of other cases," cannot be maintained.

In the course of his evidence Mr. Stobo was very desirous of showing that from his position as private secretary to the Minister he held some superior rank, and consequently was vested with authority in the Department. In demonstrating this he spoke plainly, and it is clear that retiring modesty is not a prominent feature in his character. At page 54 he says, "I produce a case 82-18,688, which was acted upon by me after it had been referred to the Chief Commissioner for report. I was not instructed to do so as the Minister was absent at Tumut. I submitted it afterwards to the Minister, who approved of it. At page 55 he continues: I also frequently sent cases back that had been submitted by Mr. Blackman for approval. I considered I was justified in doing so, as I was superior in authority to Mr. Blackman. I was private secretary to the Minister, and I had general instructions to act as I did." This assumption of authority reaches absolute audacity when he says further on, "I was in the habit of revising the Chief Commissioner's reports and minutes, and suggesting a different course of action to that recommended by that officer." It would be worthy of inquiry whether Mr. Stobo's revisions and suggestions in these matters were characterized by the same sagacity and efficiency that he displayed in Hobbs' case. It will thus be apparent that in a race for authority in which the Minister's private secretary was a competitor, Mr. Blackman was simply nowhere.

The second charge preferred against Mr. Stobo is that of untruthfulness and Mr. Blackman bases it on the assertion of Mr. Stobo, that he was acting in cases of conditional purchases with his, Mr. Blackman's, knowledge and concurrence. There is no direct evidence of such knowledge and concurrence, and Mr. Stobo can only have inferred such to have been the case. It is very certain, however, that no intimation was given to Mr. Blackman, either by the Under Secretary or Mr. Stobo, that the latter was to occupy the Chief Commissioner's room, or to "work off" the cases remaining there; and Mr. Blackman states in the most positive manner that he was not aware that Mr. Stobo was so employed. Mr. Stobo may be acquitted of wilful untruthfulness, but his conduct at this juncture was certainly disingenuous, and was not free from a taint of suspicion that he had some sinister motive in his anxiety to interfere in the business of the Chief Commissioner's office. He took upon himself to bring the alleged arrears of work under the notice of the Under Secretary, and also called the attention of other officers of the Department to the delay in dealing with cases there; but to Mr. Blackman, the responsible head of the division, he was silent.

The counter charge of malice against Mr. Blackman is a very grave one. From the tone of his memoranda on the papers in this controversy it is plain that he writes very impulsively when his feelings are aroused, and is then unguarded and strangely indiscreet in the language he employs, but it is not therefore to be concluded that he so expresses himself from malicious motives. He was doubtless indignant nant at Mr. Stobo's assumption of authority, and at what he regards as presumptuous interference in the responsible duties of his office. I do not think, however, that he was actuated by malice in the charges he brought against Mr. Stobo, but the impropriety of some of his remarks must, I feel assured, be apparent even to himself.

In my remarks respecting Mr. Stobo's claim to the possession of authority in the Department, I do not wish it to be understood that I attribute any great degree of blame to him for his aspirations in that direction. It is probable enough that the Minister's marked confidence and preference, and the undefined position he held may have induced him to believe that he thereby acquired large discretionary powers. His case, however, points a moral which suggests that when it may be found necessary to place a junior and subordinate officer in an "extraordinary, difficult, and unprecedented" position, it may at the same time be advisable to define the nature of his duties and the limits of his authority.

I have, &c.,

G. O'MALLEY CLARKE,

Stipendiary Magistrate.

[Enclosure to No. 13.]

MINUTES of Evidence taken at an inquiry directed by the Honorable the Minister for Lands into the conduct of Messrs. Blackman and Stobo, and respecting certain charges and counter-charges made by these officers.

First day—18th June, 1883. Messrs. Blackman and Stobo are present.

William Blackman states:—I am chief clerk in the Conditional Sales Division of the Department of Lands, and am next in authority in that division to Mr. Moriarty; I have occupied that position for the past five or six years; I have been in the Public Service for the last twenty-four years, having entered it in 1859, and during the whole of that period have been connected with the Department of Lands; I first became officially acquainted with Mr. Stobo in July, 1872; he then entered the service as a junior clerk; he was under my direct supervision for a long time, and was for some time occupied in the Deeds Branch; when Mr. Hoskins became Minister for Lands he employed Mr. Stobo to assist him in arranging his papers and in obtaining information for him in matters requiring Ministerial action, and in making him useful in the various matters coming before the Minister; Mr. Stobo has thus no official standing, and his position was of a personal and private character; he was there to assist Mr. Hoskins; Mr. Stobo, as a rule, at that time and during Mr. Hoskins' tenure of office, sat in the Minister's room; this position in which Mr. Stobo was placed was a very unusual one, and without precedent in this Department; in the end of January, 1881, Mr. Moriarty, the Chief Commissioner of Conditional Sales, was compelled by ill-health to go away on leave, and during absence I acted as Chief Commissioner; Mr. Hoskins appointed me to that position, and it was well known that I occupied that position as head of the Conditional Sales Division; I then had entire charge of all matters connected with conditional sales; as far as any other officer in the Department was concerned, no action could properly be taken with reference to conditional purchases except through me; no other officer had any authority to submit any papers connected with conditional purchases except through me; the Minister at times used to peruse papers in cases and make his own minutes thereon without reference to me, of course that was on his own responsibility; Mr. Hoskins was well acquainted with the routine of the business connected with the Department, and thus at times materially assisted in working off the cases; during the time that Mr. Hoskins administered the Department Mr. Stobo had no authority that I was aware of to direct any action to be taken in reference to conditional purchases, except in connection with the Minister; he had no authority to deal with cases for submission to the Minister; on the 23rd June, 1880, Mr. Hoskins, in a memorandum submitted to him by the Chief Commissioner, clearly defined the duties of the Chief Commissioner and myself, and the course of procedure respecting conditional sales; the terms of that memorandum were always strictly adhered to by me, and I always acted in accordance therewith; about the end of April, 1881, Mr. Hoskins was compelled by sickness to temporarily absent himself from his Ministerial duties, and Sir Henry Parkes for that period acted as Minister for Lands; on the 17th May, 1881, while Sir Henry Parkes was so acting, a case, conditional purchase 76-116, respecting a selection by Frank Hobbs, at Glen Innes, on 26th October, 1876, was submitted by Mr. Stobo to Sir Henry Parkes, marked by him (Mr. Stobo) "May pass," and it was approved of by the Minister either on the same day or subsequently; Mr. Stobo had no authority so to submit and mark any cases; his action in so doing was in direct contradiction to the rules in such cases made by Mr. Hoskins himself; in such a case as that acted on by Mr. Stobo, the Chief Commissioner himself could not submit it for approval, as further inquiry was necessary into the fulfilment of the conditions of the law by the conditional purchaser; Mr. Stobo must have been aware that Mr. Hoskins would not pass cases unless they had passed through my hands and were vouchered for by me, except those he went into himself personally; the papers connected with the case in question must have been obtained by Mr. Stobo from my room; such papers would necessarily have been sent to me, and must have been in my room or on their way thither; in my memorandum of the 9th April, 1883, I have charged Mr. Stobo with "intercepting" this case; by the term "intercepting" I mean that he took the case out of its proper course and submitted it to the Minister without my authority to do so; by the term "intercepting" I do not impute any improper motive to Mr. Stobo, but simply allege that by his action he prevented the case being dealt with in the usual manner; his action I consider to have been excessively irregular and improper, and he thereby assumed authority without any justification; I can only account in this way for Mr. Stobo's possession of this case and his action therein, viz., that he must have taken the papers in this case from my room, and then placed them in a batch of many hundreds of cases that I had prepared for the Minister's approval; by thus acting "clandestinely," as I have asserted in one of my memoranda, he placed the case before Sir Henry Parkes for approval, whereas the case was of such a character that had the Minister known the facts connected with it he would never have signed it; if I had placed that case before the Minister without pointing out the proper facts connected with it, I should have been acting "clandestinely," the more especially with Sir Henry Parkes, who was new to the work of the Department; in doubtful cases it is the duty of the officer submitting them to point out the facts to him; I have charged Mr. Stobo with untruthfulness; I make this charge in consequence of his having stated that he was acting in matters of the foregoing kind with my concurrence and knowledge; this is untrue; I never gave him any such authority; Mr. Stobo was not under me, and I never gave him any instructions, as he was under the immediate direction of the Minister; he was in the habit of coming to me for papers for the Minister, but I never interfered with him or gave him any work to do; as a matter of fact, I had nothing for Mr. Stobo to do; he never minuted cases for me, or with my consent or knowledge; he was the Minister's assistant, and was so regarded by me; I had no knowledge that Mr. Stobo ever minuted or marked papers, except, perhaps, noting them in an unimportant manner; Mr. Stobo generally sat in the Minister's room, or in a small one off the Under Secretary's room; he never occupied at any time the Chief Commissioner's room, or sat in it or worked in it; I mean that he never occupied in the sense of working there or performing his duties there; I was always in occupation of that room myself except when absent on business at the other branches; the room is a very small one, and no two persons could occupy it officially at the same time.

Second day—19th June, 1883.

Mr. Blackman continues:—The Chief Commissioner's room was the one in which I received any of the public who had business to transact with that division of the Department; land agents and public officers having business with me I also received in that room; I never saw Mr. Stobo working in that room or occupying it as an office; Mr. Stobo had his other rooms to perform his duties in both of them vacant at the period in question; the work in that division was not in arrears; so well forward was the work that I had applied to the Deputy Surveyor-General to send me in some cases; Mr. Stobo's assistance, therefore, to work off arrears was not then required; papers may have accumulated in the Minister's room not acted on; a lull had taken place in the press of work in the Department; Mr. Stobo had told me that if Mr. Hoskins had remained in good health for another week, and had been able to attend to business, the whole of the work in the division would have been completed up to date; when I say that Mr. Stobo never minuted papers I mean that he had no authority to do so from me, or to submit cases on his own responsibility to the Minister; the Minister may have employed him to make précis of cases for his guidance, but he was never so employed by me; I had plenty of clerical assistance at that time, and did not require Mr. Stobo's services; I have since found out that Mr. Stobo had minuted other cases for submission to the Minister (Sir Henry Parkes), but I was not aware at that time that he was doing, or had done so; any action taken on Mr. Stobo's minutes or recommendations could only have been on the responsibility of the Minister; whatever whatever latitude or extension of authority was vested in Mr. Stobo by Mr. Hoskins, would not, I presume, continue when the Department came to be controlled by another Minister; his peculiar position with respect to Mr. Hoskins would then cease, and action in Departmental matters could or should only take place through the proper channel.

By Mr. Stobo:—I am not aware that Mr. Stobo was in the habit of writing précis of nearly all the cases submitted to the Minister; I am aware that he wrote many précis of cases and minutes at the dictation of the Minister; formal notations were marked on many papers which only required the Minister's initials; such cases should previously have been initialed by me, and generally were so initialed by me; all final certificates for conditional purchases came to me for signature and of course those also that may have been passed on the recommendation of Mr. Stobo; there were three branch offices connected with the Department; I was in the habit of visiting them whenever I had spare time, or when particular business required me to do so; while Sir Henry Parkes was acting for Mr. Hoskins, I never had an interview with him; he transacted business only with the Under Secretary; Mr. Trollope reported on Hobbs' conditional purchase in June 1878; I cannot say why action was not taken on his report, or whether any action was taken upon it; action ought to have been taken upon it before the three years expired; when Mr. Trollope made his second report, I cannot say that he knew the selection had been transferred; Mr. Moriarty was absent from ill-health from about September, 1880; he visited the office occasionally.

WM. BLACKMAN.

Wilbey Morton Ollivier states:—I was a clerk in the Conditional Sales Division in 1881, and had been so employed since 1878; I knew Mr. Stobo from 1878 to the end of May 1881; I remember the Chief Commissioner being absent on leave; Mr. Blackman performed his duties during his absence, and occupied the Chief Commissioner's room; my position called me to that room very often; I never saw Mr. Stobo occupying the room as an office; I saw him come there for papers and take large bundles of cases away to the Minister; if Mr. Stobo had occupied the room as an office, I must have known it; I am aware that Mr. Stobo had a table in the Minister's room, and I believe he also occupied a small room off the Under Secretary's room; I visited Mr. Stobo in that room on three or four occasions; my attendance at the Chief Commissioner's room was very frequent during each day, so much so as to have been the subject of remark among the clerks in the office; I never saw any person there except Mr. Blackman and persons having business to transact there; land agents and Members of Parliament were constantly there; Mr. Blackman used to send for me whenever he required me; I never saw two officers working together in that room; it was a very small room and possessed very limited accommodation; I remember that in November, 1880, the work of the division had been brought up to date; in January it was up to date, and also on 31st March, 1881; Mr. Blackman had an office in Gresham-street, in April and May, 1881; I have seen him there before 11 o'clock in the morning; I have seen him signing papers there; I sometimes saw other officers of the Department either in the Chief Commissioner's room or outside it waiting to see Mr. Blackman; my attendance at the Chief Commissioner's room was chiefly between the hours of 11 and 3; before 11 in the morning Mr. Blackman was chiefly to be found at his office in Gresham-street; after that hour he was constantly at the Chief Commissioner's room; I am not now in the Public Service; I am a land agent and am connected with the firm of H. H. Brown and Company; if I had wished to see Mr. Stobo I would not have expected to find him in the Chief Commissioner's room; I should have expected to find him in the Minister's room; after leaving the Department I had frequent interviews with Mr. Blackman on the subject of the preparation of the returns of Ways and Means; I on those occasions attended him in the Chief Commissioner's room; whenever I wanted to see Mr. Stobo on business, I found him in the Minister's room.

W. M. OLLIVIER.

Third Day.—20th June, 1883.

Joseph Eckford states:—I have been for many years in the habit of visiting the Department of Lands for information on public matters, I remember when Mr. Blackman was acting as Chief Commissioner, and during that period was frequently at his office during the time that Mr. Hoskins was ill; sometimes I visited Mr. Blackman's office four or five times a day; I sometimes, when I went to his office early in the day, found him absent; this was before the public were admitted, but Mr. Blackman had consented to my being admitted before the usual hour; I often saw officers of the Department with Mr. Blackman in the Chief Commissioner's office, Mr. Ollivier and Mr. Wiseman among others; I know Mr. Stobo; I never saw him occupying the Chief Commissioner's room as an office; I never saw him in that room at any time; I always saw him in the Minister's room; I have often seen land agents and others in the Chief Commissioner's room; if I had seen Mr. Stobo in the Chief Commissioner's room I would have remembered it; I should think I visited the office twenty times a week; I forget the matters that I visited the office about; the papers produced, 45,253, 45,549, and 45,550, I know are connected with a case that I was requested to make some inquiries about.

JOSEPH ECKFORD.

Frederick William Rutter states:—I was for many years one of the chief draftsmen in the Survey Department; I remember when Mr. Blackman was acting as Chief Commissioner; I was in the habit of visiting Mr. Blackman in that room; he always appeared to occupy it as his office; I never saw Mr. Stobo occupying that room; I visited that office frequently during Mr. Moriarty's absence; two persons could not occupy it as an office; it was a very small room; if I had wanted to see Mr. Stobo I should have searched for him in the Minister's room, or in a small room off the Under Secretary's room; I have seen Mr. Stobo going to the Chief Commissioner's room for papers; I left the Department in the end of 1881; Mr. Stobo occupied an important position, but it was undefined; he was assistant to the Minister, and had doubtless to attend to special cases; I am quite sure I never saw Mr. Stobo working in the Chief Commissioner's room; he could not have worked there continuously without my knowledge; he may have worked there occasionally or for an hour at a time without my knowledge. Mr. Hoskins was ill in May and June, 1881; I was frequently in the Minister's room, and saw Mr. Stobo there; I do not remember when Mr. Stobo commenced to occupy the room near the Under Secretary's office; I do not know what room Sir John Robertson occupied while he was Minister for Lands; I believe Mr. Stobo commenced to occupy the room next the Under Secretary's room about the period Sir John Robertson became Minister for Lands; I am now engaged in the business of a land agent.

FREDK. WILLM. RUTTER.

R. D. Fitzgerald states:—I am Deputy Surveyor-General; I remember when Mr. Blackman was acting Chief Commissioner of Conditional Sales, and was frequently in the Chief Commissioner's room during that time; I remember Mr. Hoskins being ill, and being then absent from the Department; I never saw Mr. Stobo occupying the Chief Commissioner's room; if I wanted him I always looked for him in the Minister's room, and afterwards he occupied a small room next to the Under Secretary's office; before and while Mr. Hoskins was ill I knew the state of the work in the Department; I remember Mr. Blackman saying that he had no more work for the Minister, and asking me to send some cases on; Mr. Stobo, so far as I understood, occupied the same position after the Chief Commissioner went away on leave as before; I never heard that he had any authority in the office; I looked upon him as private secretary to the Minister; I do not think I should have forgotten the fact of Mr. Stobo's occupation of the Chief Commissioner's room.

ROBT. D. FITZGERALD.

H. H. Brown states:—I am a Member of the Legislative Assembly; I remember Mr. Blackman acting as Chief Commissioner during the absence in England of Mr. Moriarty; my business as a land agent frequently necessitated my visiting the Chief Commissioner's office; I remember Mr. Hoskins being ill; I never saw Mr. Stobo occupying the Chief Commissioner's room; I never saw him sitting there; I have frequently seen Mr. Stobo in the Minister's room; if he had regularly occupied the Chief Commissioner's room I must have known it; I never heard that Mr. Stobo was co-equal with the Chief Commissioner or with Mr. Blackman in authority; I always understood he was Mr. Hoskins' assistant; he used to prepare cases for Mr. Hoskins; I was in Sydney during the whole of the month of May, 1881; I left Sydney in June; I never saw Mr. Stobo sitting in the Under Secretary's private room.

H. H. BROWN.

James Carroll states:—I am a land agent; I remember when Mr. Blackman was acting as Chief Commissioner during Mr. Moriarty's absence from the Colony; my business as a land agent frequently brought me to the Chief Commissioner's office during Mr. Moriarty's absence and while Mr. Hoskins was ill; I have no distinct recollection of ever seeing Mr. Stobo occupying the Chief Commissioner's room; I have seen him there coming and going with papers; that room was not adapted to be the office of two persons; if I had wanted Mr. Stobo I would have gone to the Minister's room for him; sometimes when I went to see Mr. Blackman he was not at the office; I sometimes went to see him at the office in Gresham-street; I may have seen him there.

JAMES CARROLL.

John

John Wiseman states :—I have been in the Department of Lands for upwards of twenty years, and was for many years in the Conditional Sales Branch under Mr. Blackman ; I remember when he was acting as Chief Commissioner during Mr. Moriarty's absence from the Colony ; I used frequently to visit Mr. Blackman in the Chief Commissioner's room, often in the morning on my way to the Under Secretary's office ; I generally saw Mr. Blackman in the Chief Commissioner's office ; I knew that was Mr. Blackman's head-quarters ; I have seen Mr. Stobo in the room looking for papers ; he did not occupy it as an office ; I sometimes saw Mr. Blackman going to the Gresham-street office ; when I had business with Mr. Stobo I saw him in the Minister's room, and also in the small room near the Under Secretary's office ; he appeared to me to do his work in these rooms ; I would not have gone to look for him in the Chief Commissioner's room ; I recollect Mr. Stobo telling me that the Minister would not sign inspectors' reports without Mr. Blackman's initials ; that was when Mr. Blackman was acting as Chief Commissioner, and before Mr. Hoskins' illness ; I was in the Deeds Branch until March, 1881, and was afterwards in the Records Branch ; I generally saw Mr. Blackman in the Chief Commissioner's room before 11 a.m.

JOHN WISEMAN.

Fourth Day—21st June, 1883.

Thomas Garrett states :—I am a Member of the Legislative Assembly ; I remember Mr. Moriarty being absent in 1881 on leave ; during his absence I nearly every day had business at the Chief Commissioner's office with Mr. Blackman, who was acting for Mr. Moriarty ; I sometimes visited his office four or five times a day ; I sometimes saw Mr. Stobo in that office coming for papers in the same way that any other clerk would have done ; I never saw him sitting in that office or using it as his room or office ; I never heard until recently that he claimed to have done so ; if I had required Mr. Stobo I should not have expected to find him in the Chief Commissioner's office ; occasionally I had business with Mr. Stobo, and always on those occasions found him in the Minister's room ; I think I so had occasion to see him once or twice ; I never regarded Mr. Stobo as having any authority in the Department ; he had no administrative authority that I was aware of ; I regarded him as the private secretary of the Minister ; in June, 1881, I was engaged in the land agency business ; I did not visit the office every day ; I generally found Mr. Blackman in the office ; the visits I have referred to took place during the whole period that Mr. Moriarty was away ; it is quite likely that I sometimes saw Mr. Blackman in the Gresham-street office ; I never saw him at work there.

THOMAS GARRETT.

Edward Brown states :—I am at present in charge of the Conditional Sales Registry Office ; I remember Mr. Moriarty being absent from the office in 1881 ; I had charge of the Gresham-street building and offices ; while Mr. Blackman was acting as Chief Commissioner he came occasionally to the Gresham-street office and gave me instructions ; he used to come there in the morning up to the month of April, 1881 ; after that I had sole charge of the office ; the work at that time was generally up to date ; Mr. Blackman then gave me the sole charge of the office, and authorized me to sign letters and attend generally to the business of the office ; after that I used to have interviews with the public in the room previously used by Mr. Blackman ; after this arrangement Mr. Blackman seldom visited that office ; when I had occasion to see Mr. Blackman at other times I always went to the Chief Commissioner's office ; that would not be often ; I saw Mr. Stobo in that office on one occasion ; that was in the afternoon ; that was during the illness of the Minister ; at that period Mr. Blackman did not visit the Gresham-street office frequently before 11 a.m. ; I complained to Mr. Blackman of Mr. Stobo writing on papers ; I did not consider that Mr. Stobo had any authority to minute papers for my instructions ; in cases coming to me I acted on any minutes that had been made on the papers, if I found on perusal of the facts disclosed that the course indicated in such minutes was right without reference to the officer directing it.

EDWARD BROWN.

John Ronald McDonald states :—I have been in the Department of Lands for the past ten years ; I remember Mr. Blackman acting as Chief Commissioner during Mr. Moriarty's absence in 1881 ; I recollect the period of Mr. Hoskins' illness when Sir Henry Pakes was acting for him ; I was then engaged in assisting Mr. Blackman in preparing papers for him, and consequently was very frequently in his office, sometimes several times a day ; I never saw Mr. Stobo working in the Chief Commissioner's room ; I frequently had occasion to go to Mr. Stobo for papers, and generally found him in the Minister's room ; on one occasion I found him in a small room next the Under Secretary's office ; I very frequently saw him in the Minister's room ; that is where I always expected to find him, and not in the Chief Commissioner's room ; I frequently saw Mr. Blackman in the Chief Commissioner's room in the forenoon ; two or three clerks were similarly engaged as myself, but Mr. Blackman generally sent for me.

J. R. McDONALD.

William Lavender states :—I am chief messenger in the Department of Lands, and was in that capacity during the period that Mr. Hoskins was Minister for Lands ; I remember Mr. Moriarty being absent on leave, and also when Mr. Hoskins was ill ; during that period I cannot say whether Mr. Stobo ever worked in the Chief Commissioner's room ; he might have done so without my knowledge ; Mr. Stobo had a place in the Minister's room, and also in the Under Secretary's room ; if wanted I would have looked in the Minister's room for him ; I was laid up for about three weeks while Mr. Hoskins was ill.

W. LAVENDER.

Major Lackey states :—I am a clerk in the Department of Lands, in the Conditional Sales Division ; I remember when Mr. Blackman was acting Chief Commissioner ; I never during that period saw Mr. Stobo occupying the Chief Commissioner's room as his office ; I frequently visited the Chief Commissioner's room to see Mr. Blackman, nearly every day on those occasions ; I do not recollect ever seeing Mr. Stobo sitting there or working there ; I sometimes saw Mr. Blackman there and sometimes in the Gresham-street office ; if I had wanted Mr. Stobo I should have looked for him in the Minister's room ; I never heard that Mr. Stobo occupied the Chief Commissioner's room ; if Mr. Stobo had been transferred to the Chief Commissioner's room those having business there must have been aware of it ; I do not recollect ever having had occasion to look for Mr. Stobo in the Minister's room ; my visits as a rule did not exceed once a day to the Chief Commissioner's room ; Mr. Blackman used to go to the Gresham-street office to sign papers.

M. LACKEY.

Abvram Orpen Moriarty states :—I am Chief Commissioner of Conditional Sales ; I was away on leave of absence from January to July, 1881 ; Mr. Blackman discharged my duties during my absence ; he was so acting on my return to the office ; no other person that I am aware of divided the Chief Commissioner's duties with Mr. Blackman ; he was solely in charge, and I found that important recommendations by him in that capacity had been acted upon by the Minister ; I am aware that as Acting Chief Commissioner, Mr. Blackman had taken action in the case of an inspection of conditional purchase without referring to the Under Secretary ; on my return I found Mr. Blackman in full possession of my room, and the papers there bearing evidence of his acting as Chief Commissioner ; when I left as before stated Mr. Stobo was employed as private secretary to Mr. Hoskins, to which capacity he had been appointed by that Minister ; I am not aware that Mr. Stobo had any departmental or ministerial authority ; on my return I did not learn that Mr. Stobo had been in occupation of my room ; he always had access to that room but only to search for papers, and I am not aware that he had any right there or authority to occupy it ; I remember submitting a memorandum to Mr. Hoskins with reference to the conduct of the business in the Conditional Sales Division ; the terms of that memorandum were approved by the Minister, and the routine therein prescribed has been adhered to ever since ; I have perused the papers in Hobbs' case ; I should not have passed that case under the circumstances, as it was one demanding rigid inquiry ; with reference to Mr. Wilson's memorandum of 26th April last, he was never authorized by me to decide any question, but merely was instructed to examine papers in cases, more especially inspectors' reports, and submit them ; when I returned to the office Mr. Hoskins was in the Department ; I never heard that Mr. Stobo had written instructions in cases on his own responsibility ; had he done so, I should have concluded that he so acted under instructions from the Minister.

A. O. MORIARTY.

Fifth Day—22nd June, 1883.

Eddie Hayles Stobo states :—I am at present clerk in charge of the Ministerial Branch of the Department of Lands, and am also frequently employed preparing procès of cases for the Minister and the Under-Secretary for Lands, and I also prepare papers which have to go before the Cabinet ; I have been in the Department for nearly eleven years, having entered it in July, 1872, at the time that Mr. Hoskins became Minister for Lands ; I was employed at the public counter in the Department as clerk ; on 23rd December, 1878, Mr. Hoskins appointed me his private secretary, and I occupied the Minister's Minister's room with him; when I became his private secretary I was relieved of all other departmental duties, and as no person had any control over me but the Minister, I had no authority to take any action in any matter connected with the Department, except through the verbal or written instructions of the Minister; I was in the habit of preparing a précis of papers in cases for the Minister; all papers in cases coming before him passed through my hands; during the most part of April, May, and June, 1881, Mr. Hoskins was absent from the Department, through illness, and Sir Henry Parkes acted in his stead; generally when Sir Henry Parkes acted as Minister for Lands I ceased to occupy the Minister's room, and Mr. Oliver told me to sit in a small room off his own, which I did; after a short time this arrangement was found to be inconvenient, and Mr. Oliver told me that as he did not think Mr. Blackman frequently or continually occupied the Chief Commissioner's room, I could sit there when Mr. Blackman was not there; as I thought I could do so without inconveniencing Mr. Blackman, I then sat in the Chief Commissioner's room; during this period I continued to be Mr. Hoskins' private secretary, and was in the habit of daily visiting him at his lodgings; Mr. Oliver also employed me, at the instance of the Minister, to prepare papers and cases for him connected with land purchases; while occupying Mr. Moriarty's room I observed a number of cases connected with conditional sales unacted upon; I informed the Under Secretary of this fact, and he told me to work them off; Mr. Hoskins also directed me in the same manner; I thereupon noted in these cases what action I thought should be taken, and sent the papers on then to have such action carried out; cases requiring to be dealt with by the Under Secretary were sent to him, and others to Mr. Blackman's subordinate officers in the various branches in order that any instructions should be carried out; I was instructed to do this in consequence of Mr. Blackman's frequent absence from the room; it was in this manner that I took action in Hobbs' case, as I found it there with various other cases that had been reported on by Inspector Trollope, and which had been received in the Department on the same date; I found many other cases of earlier dates also requiring action, some of which had been submitted to the Chief Commissioner some two years before; I produce about ninety cases noted by me as I have stated; it was in this manner that I noted Hobbs' case; Mr. Hoskins told me that he had spoken to Mr. Blackman about my occupying the Chief Commissioner's room; I did not "intercept" these papers, as stated by Mr. Blackman, neither did I "clandestinely" shift them into any bundle of papers in transit to the Minister; in Hobbs' case I acted in accordance with the custom of the Department in similar cases; I produce two similar cases in which Mr. Blackman recommended approval, where the fulfilment of the conditions by the selectors was not verified by the inspector; the cases are:—(1) Conditional Purchase 77-85, Glen Innes; No. of papers, 81-11,437; (2) Conditional Purchase 75-151, Bombala; papers 81-26,496; I submitted no cases to Sir Henry Parkes, except through the Under Secretary; I am aware that Mr. Hoskins passed many thousands of cases that were not vouched for or initialed by Mr. Blackman, but which had been initialed by Messrs. C. Neate, E. Brown, W. Ardill, F. R. Wilson, and myself; I produce about 600 of such cases; most of these cases were submitted during Mr. Blackman's absence from the office through illness, the rest, however, were submitted while he was in attendance at the office; many of these cases were so submitted subsequent to the date of Mr. Moriarty's memorandum respecting the routine to be observed in the work in the Conditional Sales Division; Mr. Hoskins did not take any exception to these cases not being vouched for by Mr. Blackman; I was never reduced or disgraced since I entered the Public Service; I produce the Blue Books which show that such could not have taken place; I produce a Parliamentary return showing the history of my office life as to promotion since I entered the Service; Mr. Blackman recommended me for promotion on 27th October, 1880, and I produce the papers; I produce all the papers connected with my appointment and promotion in the Service; on the 1st of May, 1876, Mr. Blackman reported me to the Under Secretary for delaying cases, and on my making an explanation, Mr. Blackman characterized the chief point in it as untrue; nothing came of that matter.

EDYE H. STOBO.

Sixth Day—25th June, 1883.

Mr. Stobo continues:—I was never reduced or disgraced; the Minister of the day directed that I should be disgraced,* but it was never carried out;† shortly after this I was placed in charge of the public counter in the Lands Department, and my salary was also subsequently increased by the same Minister to date from the first of the same year;‡ I produce a case, S2-18,688, which was acted upon by me after it had been referred to the Chief Commissioner for report; I was not instructed to do so, as the Minister was absent at Tumut; I submitted it to Mr. Hoskins afterwards from Mr. Moriarty's room, that gentleman being ill; my action was approved by the Minister; I also submitted other cases to Mr. Hoskins in the same manner as I did in Hobbs' case, and he approved of my doing so; this was subsequent to Hobbs' case; I also frequently sent cases back that had been submitted by Mr. Blackman for approval; I considered I was justified in doing so, as I was superior in authority to Mr. Blackman; I was private secretary to the Minister, and I had general instructions to act as I did; Mr. Blackman took subsequent action in a case that I had already dealt with; I was in the habit of reviewing the Chief Commissioner's reports and minutes, and suggesting a different course of action to that recommended by that officer; while Sir H. Parkes was administering the Department all cases were submitted by the Under Secretary; Mr. Blackman's recommendations were not always carried out; I was frequently visited by the public in the Chief Commissioner's room during Mr. Hoskins' illness, and by land agents and Members of Parliament, Mr. Farnell among the number; Mr. Blackman frequently saw me sitting in the Chief Commissioner's room, and spoke to me at all hours of the day, during the months of May and June, 1881; all the cases that I dealt with at that time were found by me in that room; when Mr. Blackman was inquired for, I sent the inquirers to the Gresham-street office to look for him; when Mr. Blackman came to the Chief Commissioner's office I sometimes did not leave my chair; I frequently spoke to Mr. Blackman respecting cases I had acted upon in that room; Mr. Blackman's subordinate officers must have been aware that I was acting in conditional purchase cases; Mr. Blackman at this time was a great deal absent from the Department, and a great part of his work was done by other officers; when I commenced to sit in the Chief Commissioner's room I am not sure that I told Mr. Blackman that I had been instructed to sit there; I do not think I told him I had been directed to deal with conditional purchase cases in the Chief Commissioner's room; as he saw me there I concluded that Mr. Hoskins had told him that I was dealing with them; I am not aware whether any intimation was ever given to Mr. Blackman that I was to occupy the Chief Commissioner's room; Mr. Blackman never asked me my authority for sitting there nor for acting in cases.

EDYE H. STOBO.

Seventh Day—26th June, 1883.

Francis Henry Wilson states:—I am the head of the Miscellaneous Branch in the Department of Lands; I remember Mr. Moriarty going away on leave in the early part of 1881; I heard that Mr. Blackman was to do the Chief Commissioner's work during his absence; I cannot say whether Mr. Blackman did so act as Chief Commissioner, I seldom saw him at that period; the Chief Commissioner's room was then chiefly occupied by Mr. Stobo in the forenoon, which was the time I usually attended on the Under Secretary; this was up to the end of April, 1881; after that I occupied an office in the main building, and I then saw Mr. Stobo more frequently, at various hours of the day, occupying the Chief Commissioner's room; he was engaged in work connected with conditional sales; Mr. Stobo on several occasions spoke to me about the work he was doing, and drew my attention to some of the cases, and to the great delay that had taken place in dealing with them; I do not know under what authority he was acting, nor to what extent his authority went; he had been previously private secretary to the Minister, so I understood; I am not aware, beyond what Mr. Stobo told me, whether any large arrears of work then existed in the Conditional Sales Division; I do not know what amount of work Mr. Stobo did while he occupied the Chief Commissioner's room; I do not know where Mr. Blackman was engaged at that time, or what room he occupied; I thought he was principally in the Gresham-street office; if Mr. Blackman had been frequently at the Chief Commissioner's room at that time I must have seen him; during May and June I passed by the Chief Commissioner's room very frequently, at all hours of the day; I am not aware that Mr. Stobo was occupied in any other room than the Chief Commissioner's room after he left the Under Secretary's private room; I was at one time in the Conditional Sales Branch, and while there submitted conditional purchaser's declarations to the Minister for approval with only my own initials vouching for the action recommended; this happened at first when Mr. Blackman was away on leave; there were then large arrears of such work unacted upon;§ I continued to do so after Mr. Blackman's return to the office; I was engaged in this work by direction of the Chief Commissioner: the papers I marked were sent to the Chief Commissioner's room, and from there went on to the Minister.

† No. 2 Memo.—By the Minister's order.

‡ No. 3 Memo.—1876.

§ Yes, Mr. Wilson continued to do this work after my return; but as I have already shown, all these cases were submitted by him to me and initialed by me.—W. B.

Charles Oliver states :—I am Under Secretary for Lands ; I remember Mr. Hoskins being Minister for Lands ; Mr. Stobo was by him employed as clerk or secretary ; previous to that he had been a clerk in the Conditional Sales Division ; Mr. Stobo, while Mr. Hoskins was in the office, sat in the Minister's room with him ; I am not aware that at that time Mr. Stobo possessed any authority in the Department ; I recollect Mr. Hoskins becoming incapacitated from attending his office through illness, and Sir Henry Parkes acting for Minister for Lands for some time ; Mr. Stobo continued in the same position, but left the Minister's room and, for a day or two, occupied a small room adjoining my own, and that proving inconvenient I directed him to occupy the Chief Commissioner's room, which he did, and continued to do, during Mr. Hoskins' absence, for a period of nearly three months ; at that time Mr. Blackman usually occupied an office in Gresham-street ; he did not occupy the Chief Commissioner's room ; he may have been there occasionally ; he was at that time in charge of the Conditional Sales Division, but I am not aware that he was Acting Chief Commissioner ; he was the responsible head of the Conditional Sales Division. During Mr. Hoskins' absence Mr. Stobo continued to prepare cases for the Minister as before ; Mr. Hoskins told me that he had instructed Mr. Stobo to do any work that was required, and to assist generally in the Conditional Sales Division ; I was aware that Mr. Stobo was so engaged while he occupied the Chief Commissioner's room ; I believe Mr. Hoskins told him to act in any cases that he could ; I gathered this from conversations I had with Mr. Hoskins ; he received no direct instructions from me ; I believe Mr. Stobo did act on his own responsibility in some cases, and that the action directed by him was carried out under the authority that Mr. Hoskins had given Mr. Stobo in respect of the work he did in the Chief Commissioner's room ; he could not be charged with "intercepting" papers in cases that he so dealt with ; nothing of the kind came under my knowledge, and I was aware that he was acting in these cases ; the papers that Mr. Stobo dealt with in any way would, according to the routine of this office, subsequently pass through Mr. Blackman's hands ; I do not know that Mr. Blackman was ever informed that Mr. Stobo was employed as I have stated, in the Chief Commissioner's room ; whenever I inquired for Mr. Blackman I was told that he was generally in Gresham-street ; I had occasion to complain to Mr. Hoskins of the inconvenience occasioned by Mr. Blackman's continued absence from the head office ; while Sir Henry Parkes was acting Minister for Lands, all papers and cases were submitted through me as Under Secretary ; while Sir Henry Parkes was so acting, I was brought more in immediate contact with the officers of the Conditional Sales Division, and at Mr. Hoskins' request, I, at that period, took more direct interest in the work of that division than formerly ; I am not aware that Mr. Stobo ever personally submitted any cases to Sir Henry Parkes ; Mr. Blackman submitted all cases connected with conditional sales to Mr. Hoskins, when that Minister was in the office ; and also received his instructions from him ; when Sir Henry Parkes was acting he insisted that all cases and papers should be submitted through me as Under Secretary ; I did not apprise Mr. Blackman of this alteration, nor did I think it necessary to do so ; when Mr. Hoskins returned everything reverted to the former practice.

CHARLES OLIVER.

Stephen Freeman states :—I am Inspector of Land Offices ; I remember Mr. Hoskins being ill in the months of May and June, 1881 ; I was then in charge of one of the branches in the Department of Lands ; Sir Henry Parkes acted for Mr. Hoskins during his absence ; Mr. Stobo then sat in the Chief Commissioner's room ; he did not sit in the Minister's room ; he sat for a short time in a small room next the Under Secretary's room ; I frequently saw Mr. Stobo sitting at work in the Chief Commissioner's room ; I once saw Mr. Blackman sitting in that room, about the early part of that time ; during the greater part of the time that Mr. Hoskins was ill, if I had wanted Mr. Stobo I should have looked for him in the Chief Commissioner's room ; Mr. Stobo frequently spoke to me about conditional purchase cases in the Chief Commissioner's room, and referred to delays that had taken place in regard to them.

STEPHEN FREEMAN.

Eighth Day—27th June, 1883.

Frederick M'Kern states :—I am in charge of the Deeds Branch in the Department of Lands, and was so in May and June, 1881 ; I had at times, business with Mr. Stobo frequently ; Mr. Hoskins was then absent through ill health, and Sir H. Parkes was, I believe, acting Minister for Lands ; when I had business with Mr. Stobo I either found him in the Minister's room or in Mr. Moriarty's room ; I saw him frequently in Mr. Moriarty's room ; he appeared to be dealing with conditional purchase cases ; I sometimes saw Mr. Blackman there ; I generally saw Mr. Stobo in the Chief Commissioner's room in the early part of the day, as it was then that I had to see Mr. Stobo officially ; this was before the hour that the public were admitted.

F. M'KERN.

Mr. William Henry Capper states :—I am clerk in the Conditional Sales Branch of the Department of Lands ; I remember Mr. Hoskins when Minister for Lands was absent from his office through ill-health ; Mr. Moriarty was absent at the same time ; I at that time saw Mr. Stobo sitting in the Chief Commissioner's room ; this was on one occasion ; I have seen him there on other occasions to obtain papers, and to see Mr. Blackman ; I was then in the Gresham-street office ; Mr. Blackman was in the habit of visiting that office occasionally during the week ; I used to prepare the Schedules of cases to be sent before the Inquiry Courts ; some of the cases so included in the Schedules were sent for inquiry on the recommendation of Mr. Stobo, who initialed papers "for Commissioner" ; I did not at that time frequently visit the Chief Commissioner's room ; at that time I understood that Mr. Blackman chiefly occupied the Chief Commissioner's room ; when Mr. Blackman was absent from the Chief Commissioner's room on the occasion of my visits, I used to wait for him until he came in ; I would not have expected to find Mr. Stobo sitting there.

WILLIAM HENRY CAPPER.

Mr. George Lewis states :—I am in charge of the Reserves Branch in the Surveyor-General's Office ; I remember when Mr. Hoskins was absent from his office through illness ; Mr. Moriarty was also absent ; Sir Henry Parkes was then acting for Mr. Hoskins ; when Mr. Hoskins was in attendance at his office Mr. Stobo occupied the Minister's room with him ; when Sir Henry Parkes was acting Minister for Lands, Mr. Stobo was sometimes in the Minister's room, the Under Secretary's small room, and occasionally in the Chief Commissioner's room ; I frequently visited that part of the Department ; I also saw Mr. Blackman occupying the Chief Commissioner's room about the same period ; I saw him there frequently ; I saw Mr. Stobo writing at the Chief Commissioner's table when Mr. Blackman was not there.

27 June, 1883.

G. LEWIS.

Mr. David Miller states :—I am clerk to the Surveyor-General ; I remember Mr. Hoskins being away from his office when Minister for Lands ; at that time the Chief Commissioner was also absent ; Sir Henry Parkes acted for Mr. Hoskins ; on several occasions I had business with Mr. Stobo, and I always then saw him in the room that had been occupied by Mr. Moriarty ; this was at various hours of the day ; before that period Mr. Stobo occupied the Minister's room ; I never saw Mr. Blackman in the Chief Commissioner's room.

DAVID MILLER.

Mr. Joseph Donovan states :—I am a clerk in the Department of Lands ; I remember Mr. Hoskins being Minister for Lands, and being absent through illness in 1881 ; Mr. Moriarty was also absent ; Sir Henry Parkes was acting for Mr. Hoskins ; at that time I saw Mr. Stobo sitting in Mr. Moriarty's room on three or four distinct days ; I knew that before this Mr. Stobo occupied the small room near the Under Secretary's office ; at that period I do not remember seeing Mr. Blackman in the Chief Commissioner's room.

JOSEPH D. DONOVAN.

Mr. Thomas Newman states :—I am a clerk in the Ministerial Branch of the Department of Lands ; I remember Mr. Hoskins being ill when Minister for Lands ; Mr. Moriarty was absent at the same time that Mr. Hoskins was ; Sir Henry Parkes was acting for some time as Minister for Lands ; at that time, on two or three occasions, I saw Mr. Stobo sitting at the table in the Chief Commissioner's room ; these occasions were on different days ; I went to see Mr. Blackman, and saw Mr. Stobo and obtained papers from him ; I did not see Mr. Blackman there at that time ; I went there generally between 11 and 12 in the morning.

THOMAS E. L. NEWMAN.

Mr. M'Lean gives similar evidence as to seeing Mr. Stobo occupying the Chief Commissioner's room.

Mr. Adams, Surveyor-General, states :—I remember Mr. Hoskins being ill while Minister for Lands ; I went to see Mr. Stobo about that time on two or three occasions in the Minister's room, but did not find him there, and I then sent the messenger to let him know I had called to see him ; I have known Mr. Stobo particularly since he was made secretary to Mr. Hoskins ; I have a very high opinion of his integrity and efficiency, and I have observed his conduct, more especially because I considered he was placed in a very extraordinary, difficult, and unprecedented position.

P. F. ADAMS.

Ninth

Ninth Day—28 June, 1883.

Mr. Joseph Sutton states:—I am in the land agency business; I remember Mr. Hoskins being ill while Minister for Lands, and Mr. Moriarty was absent from the Department at the same time; at that period I saw Mr. Stobo in the Chief Commissioner's office during the ordinary hours for admission to the public; I saw him on business connected with conditional purchase matters; Mr. Stobo furnished me with the information I required; Mr. Stobo was alone in the room at the time; I also saw Mr. Blackman in that room on several occasions; I also saw him in the Gresham-street office during the hours, between 11 and 3.

JOSEPH SUTTON.

Mr. George Greville states:—I am a land agent, and am connected with the firm of Bloomfield and Dickson; I remember Mr. Hoskins being ill and absent from office while Minister for Lands; Mr. Moriarty was away on leave at the same time at that period; I saw Mr. Stobo on more than one occasion in the Chief Commissioner's room; he was working there, and I saw him on business connected with conditional purchase matters; I did not see Mr. Blackman there at the same time; I saw him in the Chief Commissioner's office on other occasions; I also saw him in the Gresham-street office.

GEORGE GREVILLE.

Mr. Arthur Henry Bray states:—I am a land agent; I remember when Mr. Hoskins was Minister for Lands; he was absent from his office for some time; at that time I recollect seeing Mr. Stobo in the Chief Commissioner's office with reference to a conditional purchase in dispute between Forster and Pring; that was at the end of May, 1881; I may have been with Mr. Stobo for about ten minutes on that occasion.

Memorandum by Mr. E. H. Stobo.

Department of Lands.

I DESIRE respectfully to protest against some of the conclusions arrived at in this report, for the following reasons:—

1. Though acquitted of the charge of having intercepted the papers in Hobbs' case, I am nevertheless, in Mr. Clarke's opinion, blamed for the action recommended by me thereon; but as Mr. Secretary Farnell has decided that "judging from the evidence and other statements he does not consider that the conditional purchase was forfeitable," I am satisfied with the Minister's decision as compared with Mr. Clarke's opinion.

2. That the charge of untruthfulness against me, and subsequently against those officers of the Department who asserted that they had seen me at work in the Chief Commissioner's room, has not been satisfactorily dealt with, excepting in so far as Mr. Clarke's remarks that "it is quite likely Mr. Stobo worked there," whereas I contend that the evidence given by the Under Secretary and other gentlemen, both in and out of the office, proves that this charge is groundless, and I do so with great respect, seeing that on this point Mr. Blackman has appealed to the personal knowledge of the Secretary for Lands for corroboration of his statement.

3. That as regards the counter-charge of malice preferred by me, I submit that Mr. Clarke has gone out of his way to try and shield Mr. Blackman, for while he "does not think" that Mr. Blackman was actuated by malice in the charges he brought against me, though "he writes very impulsively and is unguarded and strangely indiscreet in the language he employs," and the "impropriety of some of his remarks must be apparent even to himself" (referring, I suppose, to such remarks as "tissues of lies," "falsehood pure and simple," "sheer inventions," "absolute nonsense," "most unbelievable individual," "audacity of Mr. Stobo," "clandestinely slipping it into," "simply preposterous," "immoralities and frauds," &c., &c., &c.), he is silent as to the fact that Mr. Blackman never made this charge against me until some time had elapsed since I ceased to act as private secretary to the Minister for Lands, and that when he did so he not only made use of the language complained of by me (of which specimens have been given above), but also added the statement that I have always been an unbelievable person. When on the 27th October Mr. Blackman recommended me for promotion to £300 a year, adding as a postscript to his recommendation, "the gentlemen now referred to are among the most efficient and reliable clerks in the Department" (leaving, I am sorry to have to say, only one inference to be drawn from the incongruity of his statements); and further, the tone of Mr. Blackman's memoranda with respect to my position under Mr. Hoskins (reducing it to that of a messenger when he knew better), all appear to justify and add force to the counter-charges I made.

4. As regards Mr. Clarke's report as to my want of modesty, I would state that my inexperience in such matters as "Inquiries" has perhaps led me into appearing to be presumptuous, while I was only endeavouring to defend myself by stating simple facts; also that I may have made use in my evidence of words which, treated by me as representing their primary meaning—such as "review" or "revise" (to look over again)—which was one of my duties during Mr. Hoskins' tenure of office (see his letter to me, with the papers), have been made use of by him, to my detriment, under a different interpretation attached to them. In conclusion, I respectfully contend that the official papers and evidence directly contradicted Mr. Blackman's original statements and his evidence, and fully support the Minister's decision of 18th May last.

Opinion given by The Minister for Mines.

Blackman v. Stobo.
Stobo v. Blackman.

At the request of my Honorable Colleague, the Secretary for Lands, I have most carefully read all the papers relating to these cases and I shall as shortly as possible deal with them and the charges involved. Before doing so I cannot refrain from expressing my deep regret that the public time should be wasted by the petty squabbles of the officers in the Lands Department, which are now almost proverbial.

Mr. Blackman has charged Mr. Stobo with intercepting certain papers in connection with a conditional purchase of one Frank Hobbs, and thereby preventing the case from being dealt with in the usual manner, in accordance with the practice of the office, and as this charge appears to me not to depend on the others I deal with it first.

Mr. Blackman explains this charge in his evidence at page 8, and he says that by the term "intercepting" he means that Mr. Stobo took the case out of its proper course and submitted it to the Minister without any authority to do so. He also says that he does not impute any improper motive to Mr. Stobo, but he considers his action to have been excessively irregular and improper, and that he thereby assumed authority without any justification.

Mr. Stobo's defence to this charge is substantially that he acted under the authority of the Minister for Lands, and he further says that in passing the papers in Hobbs' case he acted in accordance with the practice of the Department in similar cases.

It appears that in December, 1878, Mr. Hoskins appointed Mr. Stobo as his private secretary, and he continued to act as such until the resignation of Mr. Hoskins. Mr. Stobo's duties appear to have been to prepare cases for the decision of the Minister, and the fact that Mr. Hoskins considered those duties of a very important and responsible nature, and that he entertained the highest opinion of Mr. Stobo's intelligence and capabilities is evidenced by a letter, dated 29th December, 1881, from Mr. Hoskins to Mr. Stobo, written on the resignation by the former of the position of Minister for Lands; and it is stated by Mr. Blackman himself that the position in which Mr. Stobo was placed was a very unusual one and without precedent in the Department. In January, 1881, Mr. Moriarty, the Chief Commissioner of Conditional Sales, left the Department for England on leave of absence, and there can be no doubt that Mr. Blackman exercised all the duties of Chief Commissioner in his absence, and that as such Acting Chief Commissioner he was head of the Conditional Sales Division.

About the month of April, 1881, Mr. Hoskins was temporarily absent from his ministerial duties, and during the most part of April, May, and June, Sir Henry Parkes acted as Minister for Lands in his stead.

Usually Mr. Stobo in the performance of his duties occupied the same room as Mr. Hoskins, but when Sir Henry Parkes began to act as Minister for Lands Mr. Stobo, although he appears to have continued to act in his capacity of private secretary to Mr. Hoskins, he was obliged to leave the Minister's room, and for a day or two he occupied a small room adjoining Mr. Oliver's. Up to this point the facts that I have stated may be taken to be uncontradicted.

I now come to disputed facts, and before proceeding to weigh the evidence pro and con I may here state that it appears to me inasmuch as Mr. Stobo admittedly had no authority in the Department, and only acted under direct instruction from the Minister, and as he did in fact submit the conditional purchase case in question direct to Sir Henry Parkes for his final approval, which conditional purchase, in the ordinary routine of the Department, ought to have been submitted (if at all) by Mr. Blackman, that a prima facie case has been made out, and the onus of showing that he did act with the direct authority of the Minister is on Mr. Stobo, and his statement is that it was found to be inconvenient for him to occupy the small room adjoining Mr. Oliver's room. Mr. Oliver told him that as he did not think Mr. Blackman frequently or continuously occupied the Chief Commissioner's room he could sit there, when Mr. Blackman was not there, and that he consequently sat in the Chief Commissioner's room, and that during this period he was daily in the habit of visiting Mr. Hoskins at his lodgings, and he says that Mr. Oliver also employed him, at the instance of the Minister, to prepare papers and cases for him connected with conditional purchases.

While occupying the Chief Commissioner's room he observed a number of cases connected with the conditional sales unacted upon, and he informed the Under Secretary, Mr. Oliver, of this fact and Mr. Oliver told him to work them off, and Mr. Hoskins also directed him in the same manner, and he thereupon noted on these cases what action he thought should be taken in respect thereof, and sent the papers on to have such action carried out. Cases requiring to be dealt with by the Under Secretary were sent to him and others to Mr. Blackman's subordinate officers in various branches; he was instructed to do this in consequence of Mr. Blackman's frequent absence from the room, and under these circumstances he took action in Hobbs' case on the 17th May, 1881, by submitting the case to Sir Henry Parkes, marked by him (Mr. Stobo) "may pass," and it was approved by the Minister in due course. Mr. Stobo's statement is entirely borne out by the statements of Mr. Oliver, and he also states that Mr. Blackman at this time was usually occupied in an office at Gresham-street, and though Mr. Oliver states that Mr. Stobo received no direct instructions from him, he says that he gathered from conversations with Mr. Hoskins that he (Mr. Hoskins) had instructed Mr. Stobo to do any work that was required and to assist generally in the Conditional Purchase Division, and to act in any cases that he could.

Francis Henry Wilson, Stephen Freeman, Frederick M'Kern, William Henry Capper, George Lewis, David Miller, Joseph Donovan, Thomas Newman, Mr. M'Lean, Joseph Sutton, George Groville, and Arthur Henry Bray, all make positive and direct statements that they saw Mr. Stobo occupying the Chief Commissioner's room during the time Sir Henry Parkes was acting Minister. Mr. Blackman on the other hand asserts that Mr. Stobo never occupied the Chief Commissioner's room, or sat in it, or worked in it, and that he (Mr. Blackman) was always in occupation of that room, except when absent on business at the other branches; that the room is a very small one and no two persons could occupy it efficiently at the same time; that the Chief Commissioner's room was the one in which he received any of the public who had business to transact with that division of the Department; that at the period in question the work in the Conditional Purchase Division was not in arrear, and that Mr. Stobo's assistance to work off arrears was not then required; that Mr. Stobo had told him if Mr. Hoskins had remained remained in good health for another week, and had been able to attend to business, the whole of the work in the division would have been completed up to date; that he (Mr. Blackham) had since discovered that Mr. Stobo had minuted other cases for submission to the Minister, Sir Henry Parkes, but that he was not aware at that time that he was doing or had done so. Mr. Blackman also presumes, as a natural conclusion, that when the Department came to be controlled by another Minister, Mr. Stobo's peculiar position with respect to Mr. Hoskins would cease, and that action in Departmental matters could or should only take place through the proper channel.

In support of his statements Mr. Blackman has called numerous witnesses whose statements are substantially as follows:—Mr. Ollivier states that he was a clerk in the Conditional Purchase Division in 1881, and knew Mr. Stobo from 1878 to May, 1881; and that although his attendance at the Chief Commissioner's room was frequent during each day he never saw Mr. Stobo occupying the room as an office. If he (Mr. Stobo) had done so Mr. Ollivier says that he must have known it. Joseph Eckford also states that he was frequently in Mr. Blackman's room while he was acting as Chief Commissioner, and while Mr. Hoskins was ill; that he knows Mr. Stobo, and never saw him occupying the Chief Commissioner's room. Mr. Rutter gives evidence to the same effect, and further states that Mr. Stobo could not have worked in the Chief Commissioner's room continuously without his knowledge. Mr. R. D. Fitzgerald, Deputy Surveyor-General, remembers when Mr. Blackman was acting Chief Commissioner of conditional purchases, and was frequently in the Chief Commissioner's room during that time; remembers Mr. Hoskins being ill and absent from the Department; he never saw Mr. Stobo occupying the Chief Commissioner's room. H. H. Brown states to the same effect, and thinks that if Mr. Stobo had regularly occupied the Chief Commissioner's room, he must have known it. James Carroll states in effect that he has no recollection of ever seeing Mr. Stobo occupying the Chief Commissioner's room, though he frequently visited it in his capacity of land agent during Mr. Moriarty's absence, and while Mr. Hoskins was ill; Mr. Wiseman, who has been in the Lands Department for twenty years, used frequently to visit Mr. Blackman in the Chief Commissioner's room during Mr. Moriarty's absence from the Colony; generally saw Mr. Blackman in the Chief Commissioner's office; he knew that was Mr. Blackman's head quarters; has seen Mr. Stobo in the room looking for papers; he did not occupy it as an office when he had business with Mr. Stobo; he saw him in the Minister's room, and also in the small room near the Under Secretary's office; he appeared to do his work in these rooms, and he recollects Mr. Stobo telling him that the Minister would not sign inspectors' reports without Mr. Blackman's initials. Thomas Garrett, who frequently visited the Chief Commissioner's room during the absence of Mr. Moriarty, sometimes four or five times a day; sometimes saw Mr. Stobo in that office coming for papers in the same way that any other clerk would have done; he never saw him sitting in that office, or using it as his room or office. Edward Brown remembers Mr. Moriarty being absent from the office in 1881; had charge of the Gresham-street building while Mr. Blackman was acting as Chief Commissioner; that Mr. Blackman came occasionally to the Gresham-street office, and gave him instructions; used to come there in the morning up to the month of April, 1881; that after that he had sole charge of the office; that after Mr. Blackman so gave him charge, he seldom visited that office when he had occasion to see Mr. Blackman; at other times he always went to the Chief Commissioner's office, but that was not often; saw Mr. Stobo in that office on one occasion in the afternoon, during the illness of Mr. Hoskins; Mr. Blackman did not visit the Gresham-street office frequently before 11 a.m. John Ronald McDonald recollects the period of Mr. Hoskins' illness, when Sir Henry Parkes was acting for him; he was then engaged in assisting Mr. Blackman in preparing papers for him, and consequently was very frequently in his office, sometimes several times a day; never saw Mr. Stobo working in the Chief Commissioner's room; frequently had occasion to go to Mr. Stobo for papers; generally found him in the Minister's room; on one occasion found him in a small room next the Under Secretary's office. William Lavender, chief messenger in the Department remembers Mr. Moriarty's absence, and Mr. Hoskins being ill; during that period he cannot say whether Mr. Stobo ever worked in the Chief Commissioner's room; he might have done so without his knowledge. Major Lackey, a clerk in the Department, remembers when Mr. Blackman was acting Chief Commissioner, and never during that period saw Mr. Stobo occupying the Chief Commissioner's room at his office; frequently visited the room to see Mr. Blackman, nearly every day; sometimes saw Mr. Blackman there, and sometimes at the Gresham-street office. Mr. A. O. Moriarty confirms Mr. Blackman generally as to his position and authority in the Department during Mr. Moriarty's absence, and he says at the end of his statement that he never heard that Mr. Stobo had written instructions in cases on his own responsibility. Had he done so he should have concluded that he so acted under instructions from the Minister.

The only conclusion which I am able to come to in any way reconcilable with these conflicting statements is that Mr. Stobo did occasionally occupy the Chief Commissioner's room as an office when Mr. Blackman was absent therefrom. To find the contrary would be to say that the gentlemen whom Mr. Stobo has called as witnesses have made wilful mis-statements, whereas it is consistent with the fact that Mr. Stobo used the Commissioner's room occasionally as his office. That none of the witnesses called by Mr. Blackman were aware of the fact or had their attention called thereto, and I think that the explanation may be that the various witnesses who were called for Mr. Blackman were only in the habit of going into the Chief Commissioner's room to see Mr. Blackman, and when he was there, and Mr. Stobo admittedly never worked in the room while Mr. Blackman was there. I do not see how I can avoid coming to the conclusion on the evidence that Mr. Stobo acted in Hobbs' case with the direct authority of the Minister, to find the contrary would be, I think, to discredit the statements of Mr. Stobo and Mr. Oliver, and I can see no reason for so doing; and, on the contrary, all the probabilities appear to me to point to the fact that Mr. Stobo did all with direct authority. Mr. Hoskins appears, from Mr. Blackman's statement at page 4, to have been occasionally in the habit of dealing with cases on his own responsibility and out of the general routine of the office, and he appears to have placed the utmost confidence in Mr. Stobo's ability to deal with conditional purchase cases, and Mr. Stobo appears, at the time he dealt with Hobbs' case, to have been in daily communication with Mr. Hoskins. Then again, Mr. Blackman does not suggest that Mr. Stobo acted with any improper motive, and it is hard to believe that any Government clerk, or in fact anyone else, would knowingly undertake work on his own responsibility without any authority and without any apparent motive for so doing, and the fact that Mr. Stobo did note other cases besides Hobbs' case is admitted by Mr. Blackman in a memorandum to the Chief Commissioner, dated the 26th May, 1883, wherein he states that Mr. Stobo noted twenty-one cases for Inspectors' reports and twenty miscellaneous cases, and thirty-six cases were found submitted in his hand-writing to

Sir

Sir Henry Parkes without Mr. Blackman's knowledge, and not either initialed or examined by him, and Mr. Stobo states in his evidence that he produces about ninety cases so dealt with by him. If I am right in my conclusion that Mr. Stobo was acting with the direct authority of Mr. Hoskins in noting these cases, it does not appear to me to be of very much importance so far as this inquiry is concerned whether Hobbs' case was or was not a proper case for submission. I think that, judging from the terms of the memorandum of the 20th June, 1880, submitted to Mr. Hoskins by the Chief Commissioner, which is among the papers, Mr. Blackman may be, strictly speaking, right when he says that "in strict accordance with the rules of the Department under the circumstances of the case, further inquiry was necessary into the fulfilment of the conditions of the conditional purchase before submission"; however this may be, I gather from the papers sent to me that Mr. Blackman himself submitted two cases for approval:—(1), conditional purchase 77-85, Glen Innes, No. papers 81-11,437; (2), conditional purchase 75-151, Bombala, No. of papers 81-26,496; in both of which cases the inspector had reported the selector as non-resident; it would appear therefore that if any such hard and fast rule as that to which Mr. Blackman alludes is in existence it is apparently "more honored in the breach than in the observance."

Mr. Blackman has also charged Mr. Stobo with "untruthfulness," and in his evidence at page 9, he states that he makes this charge in consequence of Mr. Stobo having stated that he was acting in the matters before mentioned with Mr. Blackman's concurrence and knowledge which Mr. Blackman says is untrue.

I presume that "untruthfulness" in such a charge as this must mean wilful untruthfulness, and I think it sufficient after what I have said simply to refer to the evidence of Mr. Stobo at page 50, where he states that Mr. Hoskins told him that he (Mr. Hoskins) had spoken to Mr. Blackman about his occupying the Chief Commissioner's room, and with regard to this evidence, while I absolutely discard it as evidence against Mr. Blackman of the fact that he was spoken to on this subject by Mr. Hoskins, yet I think that Mr. Stobo in the absence of evidence to the contrary is entitled to be believed when he says that such a conversation did take place and if so, Mr. Stobo may have bonâ fide believed that he was acting and occupying the Chief Commissioner's room with Mr. Blackman's consent, upon this point I must decide also in Mr. Stobo's favour. I now come to the counter-charge, namely, that the two charges made by Mr. Blackman were prompted by malicious motives, and here I must express my great regret that this charge was made. I do not think that counter-charges of this nature ought to be countenanced, and I see no evidence in support of it. At the time the charges were made Mr. Blackman had ascertained for the first time that cases for which he was in the ordinary course responsible had been submitted to the Minister for approval without any authority from him, and further, that the officer who had submitted them alleged that in so submitting them he had acted with Mr. Blackman's authority. Under these circumstances I think that Mr. Blackman had every reason to feel somewhat indignant, and I think the circumstances were such as to demand an inquiry and an explanation from Mr. Stobo.

Mr. Blackman has no doubt written a memorandum to the Chief Commissioner, dated the 21st April last, in which he speaks in very strong terms of Mr. Stobo, and no doubt accuses him of falsehood (for which accusation, as I before stated, there was on the facts no foundation), this letter was, however, written after the date of the charges made, and no doubt at the time of writing, Mr. Blackman was smarting under the accusation of having made an apparently malicious and unfounded charge, and I do not regard it as any evidence of malice in making the charges. I have no hesitation therefore in stating that Mr. Stobo's charge is not supported by the evidence.

Minutes on No. 15.

By Secretary for Lands:—Read by me, and I cannot see any reason for altering my previous decision given on the statements then submitted to me. But as a further inquiry and report has been had, and as my Honorable Colleague the Minister for Mines has (during my illness) exhaustively dealt with the case, I think the matter may well rest upon its merits, as disclosed by these papers and documents.—J.S.F., 15/1/84.

No. 16.

Mr. Blackman to The Chief Commissioner.

Sir, Conditional Sales Division, Lands Department, 9 April, 1884.

I request that you will do me the favour to return for re-submission to the Minister for Lands the enclosed papers in re my dispute with Mr. Stobo, and for the present have no remarks to make on the subject, further than to point out that the decision of the Minister, which is dated the 15th of January last was not communicated to for nine weeks after.

My object in desiring to have these papers re-submitted is to apprise Mr. Farnell that I have recently obtained evidence which enables me to place the charge of untruthfulness which I made in the strongest terms against Mr. Stobo beyond further question.

It is well known that Mr. Hoskins, the late Minister for Lands, returned to this Colony many months ago, and has since been constantly resident in Sydney. It was therefore nothing but reasonable to expect that Mr. Stobo would take the very earliest opportunity to procure from that gentleman complete confirmation of the authority he claimed over and independently of me, the head of the division, an authority never heard of by me, and never heard of by any one of the officers under me, or land agents, M.P's., or the public daily frequenting my office for two years after the said authority was said to have been exercised, and then only on the sole statement of Mr. Stobo, when the Glen Innes case turned up, and I called his action and authority into question. But when week after week and month after month passed by, and no reference was made to Mr. Hoskins, who might have settled the whole matter in ten minutes, I called a few days ago on that gentleman myself, told him all that had taken place, and asked if under any circumstances whatever he had given any authority to Mr. Stobo of the character I referred to. Mr. Hoskins told me that the Under Secretary, Mr. Oliver, and Mr. Stobo had called on him, but had never made a single remark on the subject, and that all he knew about it was the little he gleaned from the debate in Committee of Ways and Means, as reported in the Herald; he further said: I never gave Mr. Stobo any authority of the kind; I never intended to give him any authority of the kind; I never intended for a moment that he should submit any cases to Sir Henry Parkes on his own responsibility, or that such cases should should be submitted otherwise than through you as the responsible head of the division so appointed by myself; and if any officer had submitted for my approval, and written "may pass" on such a case as you tell me the Glen Innes was, I have no doubt I should (if it was done intentionally) have called on him to show cause why he should not be dismissed the Public Service.

With respect to Mr. Stobo, Mr. Hoskins' said his position was one personal to himself alone, that he had no departmental charge; and, therefore, no departmental authority, and was simply employed by him to help in all those subordinate matters that a smart junior clerk would do as well as himself. I did this, said Mr. Hoskins, to economise my time for all those difficult matters I had to determine and work out myself, and if called before a Committee of Inquiry shall be happy to say so. However, he added, you have now my authority to deny that I ever gave any authority to Mr. Stobo.

Mr. Hoskins ended by reminding me that when he was beginning to be convalescent, but not able to deal with complex and difficult cases, he gave Mr. Stobo direction to bring him a number of inspectors' reports, which, however, he examined and worked off himself.

I may add that when Mr. Hoskins was well, and had an hour or two to spare, he generally asked me if I had any commissioner or inspectors' reports he could help to dispose of, and these he used to examine himself.

I have, &c.,
WM. BLACKMAN.

No. 17.

Mr. E. H. Stobo to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Department of Lands.

In reference to Mr. Blackman's letter of the 9th instant, I have to state that I showed the same, together with other papers, to Mr. Hoskins, in accordance with the permission granted to me by the Minister on the enclosed memorandum, and that gentleman then wrote and handed to me the letter which I herewith forward.

Mr. Hoskins, it will be seen, states most clearly, in writing, that he did instruct me to deal with conditional purchase cases, and he denies having used the language attributed to him by Mr. Blackman, and not only completely contradicts Mr. Blackman's charge against me, but supplies still further conclusive evidence in addition to that previously given, of my authority to deal with and submit cases from the Conditional Sales Branch.

I respectfully submit that the letter of Mr. Hoskins to me of 29th December, 1881, which is with the papers in the case, and his letter of the 22nd instant, define clearly my position in the Department during the period that he filled the position of Secretary for Lands, and completely refute Mr. Blackman's mis-statements on this point; and taken in connection with the discrepancy between his memorandum of the 27th October, 1880, when he grounded his recommendation for my promotion on the fact, that I was "one of the most efficient and reliable clerks in this Department," and his letter of 26th May, 1883, wherein he states that I "was the most unbelievable individual he ever met," does, I respectfully contend, prove that the untruthfulness shown in these papers is not on my part.

In connection with Mr. Blackman's memo. S4-2,602, I request permission to lay that paper and a few other papers in the case before Mr. Hoskins, with a view to obtaining from him a written statement of his recollections of the matter now in dispute.—E.H.S., 22/4/84.

Minutes on above.

By Under Secretary:—Mr. Stobo may see the Minister in reference to this matter.—C.O., 22/4/84.

By Minister for Lands:—I see no objection.—J.S.F., 22/4/84.

[Enclosure C. to No. 17.]

Memorandum.

MR. BLACKMAN did call upon me, and in reference to a leading article in the Herald about a conditional purchase, he stated that the action in respect to it took place during the period when I filled the office of Secretary for Lands, and was absent from the Department through illness.

I told Mr. Blackman that Mr. Stobo had not made me acquainted with the subject matter of this conditional purchase case, but had merely stated that there had been a quarrel between himself and Mr. Blackman, relative to a conditional purchase upon which Sir Henry Parkes had given a decision, which I have since ascertained is the case to which reference is made in the Sydney Morning Herald.

In reference to the statements in Mr. Blackman's letter of the 9th instant, addressed to the Chief Commissioner, I have to state, that I never gave Mr. Stobo an authority either in writing or verbally over and independent of any officer in the Department of Lands, but that during my illness I gave the Under Secretary and Mr. Stobo instructions to bring any urgent cases before Sir Henry Parkes, who was acting for me, without any unnecessary delay, so that that Minister could promptly deal with them, and especially to see that arrears of work did not accumulate in the Conditional Sales Branch, and frequently made inquiries from Messrs. Oliver and Stobo upon the subject, with the view of ascertaining whether my instructions were being attended to; indeed, when I was convalescent, but before I was able to resume duty at the Department of Lands, I dealt with and disposed of a large number of conditional purchase cases which were brought to me at my residence by Mr. Stobo.

I did not tell Mr. Blackman that I never intended that Mr. Stobo should submit cases to Sir Henry Parkes on his own responsibility, but I did request Mr. Stobo to submit urgent conditional purchase cases to the Under Secretary, with the view of having them disposed of without any unnecessary delay.

I did state to Mr. Blackman that Mr. Stobo's position was to prepare cases for my decision, as well as to perform other duties in the Department which I required him to do.

No. 20.

Mr. W. Blackman to The Chief Commissioner.

Memo., Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, 3 June, 1884.

In submitting a memo. from Mr. Hoskins, Mr. Stobo refers to an alleged discrepancy in the characters I gave him at different times. All I shall now say on the matter is this, that I certainly gave him a bad one, as by reference to the records in this Department will fully appear. When, subsequently, he endeavoured to retrieve, I gave him a better one. For the first he must blame himself, for the last he can hardly blame me unless he admits it was undeserved. That it would be very convenient for Mr. Stobo to be allowed to define his own position to suit himself is clear. But while Mr. Hoskins sufficiently defines his personal and temporary relation to himself, his position as an officer on the staff can only be defined by the Governor and Executive Council, and so defined was that of a junior clerk. With regard to Mr. Hoskins' memo. to Mr. Stobo I am quite satisfied to let the whole case rest so far as I am concerned upon his emphatic repudiation of having ever given the authority claimed by Mr. Stobo over my staff; and independently of myself as acting Chief Commissioner "I never (Mr. Hoskins says) gave Mr. Stobo an authority, either in writing or verbally, over and independently of an officer in the Department of Lands," thus corroborating the statement he made to myself:—"You have now my authority to deny that I ever gave any authority to Mr. Stobo, thus extinguishing the claim he made to general authority before Mr. Clarke. That Mr. Hoskins never gave Mr. Stobo, as he states, any authority to deal with conditional purchase cases is plain. Mr. Hoskins says "I dealt with and disposed of a large number of conditional purchase cases which, he adds, Mr. Stobo brought to me at my residence." Precisely so. The Minister dealt with them. Mr. Stobo brought them. Mr. Hoskins says, "during my illness I gave the Under Secretary and Mr. Stobo instructions to bring any urgent cases before Sir Henry Parkes, who was acting for me, without any unnecessary delay, and especially to see that arrears of work did not accumulate," &c.; now as acting Chief Commissioner all cases came previously to me or should do so; and such as I thought required the Minister's action I put, when otherwise completed and passed through their necessary stages, into his pigeon-hole in my office. It is work of this kind which accumulated for the first two weeks he was ill that Mr. Hoskins refers to; and it was always Mr. Stobo's business (and since the messenger's) to submit these papers; that is, take them out of the Minister's pigeon-hole in the Chief Commissioner's office or mine, for Mr. Hoskins to deal with when he was well, and for Sir Henry Parkes (through the Under Secretary) to deal with when he was ill. The "arrears" Mr. Hoskins refers to were the Minister's own arrears; not the business of the Conditional Purchase Division, which he well knew was in first rate order, as will appear (inter alia) from a remark he made to Mr. Farnell, which that gentleman mentioned to me at my office the following day—"I must admit that Mr. Blackman has kept up to date the whole business of this division." On one point alone Mr. Hoskins contradicts my report; "I did not," he says, "tell Mr. Blackman that I never intended that Mr. Stobo should submit cases to Sir Henry Parkes on his own responsibility." Well Mr. Hoskins forgets and indeed might reasonably forget having given an assurance which I thought superfluous and outside the matter, for we don't want to know what men's intentions are, when they let us know their actions; and Mr. Hoskins' action, as recorded by himself is decisive; "I never gave Mr. Stobo an authority, either in writing or verbally, over and independently of any officer in the Department of Lands."

WM. BLACKMAN.

Minutes on No. 20.

By Chief Commissioner:—Forwarded with reference to the Minister's note of the 30th ultimo.—A.O.M., 5/6/84. The Under Secretary for Lands.

By Under Secretary:—Submitted to the Minister.—C. O., 5/6/84.

By Minister for Lands:—Mr. Garrett having urged that papers in this matter should be laid upon the Table of the House at once, let the return be completed to-day by the addition of the recent papers. I have not had time to consider the memoranda in reference to Mr. Hoskins' letter of the 22nd April last, I think the latter speaks for itself.—J.S.F., 11/6/84.

APPENDIX A.

Papers submitted by Mr. Stobo as Supplementary Evidence.

PAPERS submitted by Mr. Stobo as evidence of action taken by him Supplementary to evidence given by him.

Minute by Mr. Curry.

Thomas Broughton.

The portions under consideration are:—71, parish Muttama, 100 acres; 72, parish Muttama, 120 acres; 73, parish Muttama, 100 acres. In March and April, 1874, they were conditionally purchased by Thomas Broughton, a minor, 3½ years old, on the 14th July 1876, the selections upon the recommendation of Mr. Commissioner Clarke were declared forfeited, and steps were taken for the sale of the land by auction. Mr. T. Broughton, lessee of the Muttama Run, on 19th July, 1876, applied applied for the land under the 2nd clause. At this instance the land was withdrawn from auction, and as he personally stated his willingness to pay for the improvements made during the currency of the selections referred to by Mr. Inspector Street in his evidence, Mr. Secretary Garrett decided that upon fulfillment of the agreement this claim might be dealt with, and that in default of payment the land should be again submitted to auction.

The Inspector upon being communicated with forwarded on two different occasions two reports, which though both alluding to the one inspection, differ from each other materially.

In the letter of 12th January, 1877, the improvements are described as portion 71—

66 acres grubbing	£264	0	0
Portion 72—
Grubbing	65	0	0
									£74	0	0
Portion 73—
									£70	0	0

In his report of 30th March, 1877, they are stated to be—

Portion 71—
Grubbing	£180	0	0
Grubbing	65	0	0
Portion 73—
With Ringbarking and a Gunyah upon portions 72 and 73 worth	13	0	0

The larger valuation was communicated to Mr. Broughton by whom it was disputed, and who appealed for a reference of the matter to appraisement. No action was however taken to comply with this request, and upon the 24th October, 1878, portion 72 and 73 were conditionally purchased by R. L. McManus, although Mr. Garrett decided that Mr. Broughton should pay for the improvements sworn to by Mr. Street, there would appear (especially in view of the discrepancy between the reports) no objection to the appraisement.

This inquiry would however be confined to the value of the improvements prior to forfeiture, and as two of the portions have been conditionally purchased, and the improvements on them do not appear to be of sufficient value to confer a right of purchase, this investigation would seem to be premature.

Without refusing the claim to purchase on the ground of insufficiency of the improvements or voiding the selection on the ground of their existence, it would perhaps be desirable to refer the matter to appraisement as to the value of the improvements at the date of conditionally purchasing, when, if the matter results in favour of Mr. Broughton, the question to their value at date of forfeiture may be determined in a similar manner.

H.A.G.C., 20/1/80.

Minutes on above.

Submitted in reference to the Under Secretary's previous minute.—L.G.T., 31/1/80.

By Under Secretary for Lands :—I think that under the circumstances set forth in this minute, the course suggested in the last par. may be adopted.—W.W.S., 9 February, 1880.

By Minister for Lands :—These papers should be forwarded to the Chief Commissioner of Conditional Purchases for an early report thereon.—J.H., 17/2/80.

By Chief Commissioner :—I cannot see that any material has been made towards the settlement of this case during the past three years. The improvements on the forfeited conditional purchase were inspected prior to forfeiture by Mr. Street, whose description of them on his several reports is substantially the same; except that in the latter of the two reports he estimates the prices at a somewhat lower rate. The surveyor's report, made at a later date, agrees in the main with the inspector's previous reports.

By Mr. Stobo :—In July, 1876, three conditional purchases, at Gundagai, by Thomas Broughton junr., were declared forfeited for non-residence. They comprised three portions, Nos. 71, 72, and 73, in parish of Mutiama, of 100 acres, 120 acres, and 100 acres respectively, 320 acres in all; and these portions were advertised to be sold by auction on 6th December, 1876. Mr. Broughton had, however, made application for the land in question, under the 2nd clause, and it was withdrawn from sale by the then Minister (Mr. Garrett), on 5th December, 1876; and Mr. Garrett also approved of Mr. Broughton being allowed to purchase the land under 2nd clause, provided he paid for the improvements that had been made during the currency of the conditional purchases, the value of such improvements to be ascertained by the Conditional Purchase Inspector. A report was then obtained from Mr. Inspector Street, and the value of the improvements was stated to be £408. Mr. Broughton was called upon to pay that amount in pursuance of Mr. Garrett's decision, but he declined to do so, as he did not consider that the improvements were worth that amount; and in June, 1877, he paid £1 ls., per A. G. Bloomfield, for an appraisement of their value. The case then remained in abeyance for some time, and in October, 1878, Rebecca L. McManus applied for 239 acres 3 roods as an additional conditional purchase, being part of the land herein referred to, and paid subdivision fee for the subdivision of the portions, so as to exclude the improved area. Special reports on each portion have recently been received from Mr. Inspector Evans as to the value of the improvements at the date of selection by McManus. Mr. Evans' reports are herewith, and as it appears that the improvements on portion No. 71, of 100 acres, were worth £95 5s., and those on portions 72 and 73, 120 and 100 acres respectively, only £29 and £33, the conditional purchase should, it is submitted, stand for portions 72 and 73, and portion 71 should probably be sent to auction, with the value of the improvements, as estimated by Mr. Evans, added to the upset price, the £1 ls., paid by Mr. Broughton in 1877, to be refunded, and the improvement purchase application refused.—E.H.S., 19/11/80.

By Minister of Lands :—I find from a perusal of the terms of a previous Minister (Mr. Garrett) a decision on paper, 76-10,933, miscellaneous, dated 5/12/76, that that gentleman decided, in consequence, as alleged by Mr. Broughton, that he was willing to pay the value of the improvements on Mr. Broughton, junior's, forfeited conditional purchase, sworn to by Mr. Inspector Street, that upon Mr. Broughton doing so he would be allowed to purchase the land under the 2nd clause; but that if he did not pay for such improvements the value sworn to by the inspector, the land was to be sent on for sale by auction, with the value of the improvements added to the upset price. Mr. Broughton, in contravention of his agreement with Mr. Garrett, disputed the value of the improvements as made by Inspector Street, and paid the usual fee to have them appraised. In my opinion, this Department erred in even admitting Mr. Broughton's right to apply for an appraisement of the value of these improvements, which clearly belong to the Crown, through having been made on forfeited conditionally purchased land. No appraisement has taken place; and as in my opinion Mr. Broughton had no legal status to apply for such appraisement, the fee paid should be returned to him. The portions have since been applied for as additional conditional purchases, and Mr. Inspector Evans has been required to report the value of the improvements on portions 71, 72, and 73, at the date of conditional purchase by McManus. And it appears from such report that portion 71 was improved to a sufficient amount to bar selection, and that portions 72 and 73 were not improved to sufficient value to be conditional purchase; therefore portion 71 should be sent on for sale, with the value of the improvements thereon added to the upset price. And as far as this Department has been officially appraised, portions 72 and 73 must remain as part of the additional conditional purchases of McManus.—J.H., 6/12/80.

Conditional Sales Branch.—For action on conditional purchase 78-314, then to Auction Branch, re-sale of portion 71.—M. A. McLEAN, per J.F., 10/1/81.

C. [Alienation Act, section 13.]
Application by Andrew Stewart for the conditional purchase, without competition, of 160 acres, unimproved Crown Land, under section 13 of the Lands Alienation Act of 1861.
Received by me, with a deposit of £40, this 20th day of May, 1875, at 10 o'clock,—

JAMES GILES,
Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Bombala.

Sir,

I am desirous of purchasing, without competition, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, the portion of unimproved Crown Land hereunder described, containing 160 acres; and I herewith tender the sum of £40, being a deposit at the rate of 5s. per acre on the area for which I apply, and on which it is my intention to reside.

I am, &c.,

ANDREW STEWART,
By his Agent, ARCHIBALD STEWART,
Bibbenluke.

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Bombala.

Description.

County of Wellesley, parish of Pickering, 160 acres, situated on Bombala River, at Hawkins' Flat, adjoining the north side of John Stewart's conditional purchase of 40 acres.

Mr. Licensed-Surveyor Palmer to the Surveyor-General.

Sir,

I have the honor to transmit herewith the plan of one portion of land, containing 160 acres, numbered 156, in the parish of Pickering, county of Wellesley, applied for by A. Stewart, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, and surveyed in accordance with instructions dated August 27th, No. 75-268, issued to Mr. Licensed Surveyor Harpur, and transferred to me.

Applicant was resident at time of survey, and had erected a hut and fencing worth respectively £25 and £5. There is a difference in Mr. Harpur's chaining and mine.

I have, &c.,

J. A. PALMER,
Licensed Surveyor.

Description.

160 acres, county of Wellesley, parish of Pickering, portion No. 156: Commencing on the right bank of the Bombala River, at the north-eastern corner of portion No. 94 of 40 acres; and bounded thence on the south by part of the northern boundary of that portion bearing west 55 chains 28 links; on the west by a road 1 chain wide, bearing north 26 chains 90 links; on the north by a line bearing east 64 chains 2 links to the Bombala River; and on the east by that river downwards, to the point of commencement, exclusively of a road 1 chain wide passing through this land in a south-easterly direction. The area of which has been deducted from the total area.

[Alienation Act.]
Declaration of conditional purchaser under the 18th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861.
I, ANDREW STEWART, of Bibbenluke, do solemnly and sincerely declare, that I am the lawful owner, by conditional purchase, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, of the land hereunder described, and that improvements consisting of dwelling-house and fencing, and to the value of £100 have been made on such land; and I declare further, that the said land has been the bonâ fide residence, continuously, of myself, from the period of selection and first occupation to the present date. And I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intitled "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of the Government of New South Wales and to substitute Declarations in lieu thereof and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

ANDREW STEWART.

Taken and declared at Bombala, this 15th day of August, 1878, before me,—

JAMES GILES, a Commissioner for Affidavits.

Description.

County of Wellesley, parish of Pickering, 160 acres, at Pickering, being conditional purchase No. 151 of 1875, in the district of Bombala, made on the 20th May, 1875.

Mr. A. Stewart to The Minister for Lands.

Sir,

I have the honor to apply for an extension of time for the erection of my improvements on my conditional purchase of 160 acres, parish of Pickering, county of Wellesley, taken at Bombala by me on 20th May, 1875.

I have this day made the usual declaration respecting residence and partial improvements; but the improvements are not complete, owing to the land not having been surveyed during the twelve months after date of application, the land having only been surveyed during the last six months.

I have, &c.,

Notification by Mr. A. Stewart.

Notification of Alienation of Conditional Purchase by Andrew Stewart, in the district of Bombala.
I HEREBY notify to you, as the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands for the district of Bombala, that I have (after a residence thereof of at least twelve months) in consideration of the sum of ten shillings sterling, and natural love and affection, this day alienated to Margaret Stewart, of Twyine, widow, the 160 acres of land, situated in the county of Wellesley, parish of Pickering, which I selected at Bombala as a conditional purchase, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, on the 20th day of May, 1875.

Dated at Bombala, this 29th July, 1880.

ANDREW STEWART,
Bombala.

Witness,—JNO. EDWD. BENNETT, J.P.

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Bombala.

I have duly registered the above notification of alienation in the records of this office. Fee of 10s. paid, including

7s. 6d. for registration fee, and stamp duty, 20s.

District of Bombala, Land Office, Bombala, 30th July, 1880.

JAMES GILES,
Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands.

Received into the office of the Registrar-General, at Sydney, this 11th day of September, 1880, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, from Frederick Murray, of Sydney, a copy of the above transfer verified by David Moss Meyers, of Bombala, and numbered 451 Book.

JAMES BOSCAWEN DUFF,
Deputy Registrar-General.

Mr.

Mr. Insepctor Mulligan to The Chief Commissioner.

REPORT by F. B. Mulligan, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of Andrew Stewart, made at Bombala on 20th May, 1875.

Sir,

Bega, 11 June, 1881.

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 26th May, 1881, and that I found the selector then non-resident upon his selection.

The land which consists of grass land, and comprises 160 acres, is occupied and used by selector as grazing land, and the selector, who follows the avocation of sheep farmer, had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sums respectively stated, viz:—

Near S.E. corner, weatherboard hut, 24 ft. x 12 ft., floored and rough-shingled	£40	0	0
7 acres at S.E. corner, grubbed and cleared and ploughed	21	0	0
15 chains, say, packed and dog-leg fence, enclosing same	4	10	0
At south line, 55 chains top-rail and five-wire fence @ 6s.	34	7	6
Clearing about hut	4	0	0
				£103 17 6

From the appearance of the land and the circumstances stated in the following remarks, I am of opinion that the selector has not been continuously resident upon the selection.

There is no one living on this conditional purchase. Selector's brother informed me that he (selector) is a single man and a drover; that he is frequently absent from home and away from the district, often for several months at a time. The hut is used by the selector's brother as a hay house. The site of a camp alongside the hut, where the selector is said to have resided for some time, has the trace of apparently a good deal of use; the hut itself, however, has but very little appearance of occupation as a place of residence; the fireplace seems to have been but little if at all used, and has not been filled in. I think that bona-fide residence in this case is at least doubtful.

I have, &c

F. B. MULLIGAN,
Inspector of Conditional Purchases.

Minute on above.

By Mr. Blackman:—Section 13, area 160 acres; improvements, £103 17s. 6d.; residence doubtful under this report. But it must be borne in mind that this conditional purchase belongs to May, 1875, and in May, 1878, surveyor reported selector resident, and no question was raised as to residence. On the strength of surveyor's report, declaration correct. For approval.—W.B.

Refund applied for by John Ross recommended for the favourable consideration of the Honorable the Minister for Lands. Papers referred to the Surveyor-General with my letter dated 16 May, 1878.—R. RONALD, Licensed Surveyor, Glen Innes, 16/5/78.

Mr. Licensed Surveyor Ronald to The Surveyor-General.

Sir, Glen Innes, 16 May, 1878.

In compliance with your instructions to me, dated 22nd March, 1878, No. 36, I do myself the honor to report that yesterday I visited the land, parish Waterloo, county Gough, 400 acres, conditional purchase, 78-20, 24th January, 1878, conditional sales 78-4, 556, 9th February, 1878, applied for by John Ross under the 13th section of Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, and found that the said 400 acres included 200 acres of land, conditional purchase 77-85, 6th September, 1877, which has been previously applied for by John Archibald M'Intyre, under the 13th section of Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861.

I now beg to recommend that John Ross be granted a refund of the £100 deposit which he paid upon his conditional purchase 78-20, 24th January, 1878, as requested by him in his letter of 5th January, 1878.

I have to report for the information of the Honorable the Minister for Lands, that yesterday, upon my visiting the land, conditional purchase 77-85, 200 acres, applied for by John Archibald M'Intyre, the applicant was upon the land, but to all appearances, and to the best of my belief, the said conditional purchase is not his permanent residence. He was on horseback, and I may further state that when I asked him to show me the corner tree M, mentioned in his application, conditional purchase 77-85, he could not do so, although I rode about with him for fully half an hour; he said the tree was within a chain or two of the south-east corner of Mary M'Intyre's portion No. 12, 96 acres 2 roods, and that it was a dark night when he marked it; I thought it rather strange he could not find the tree M again.

The only improvements upon the land applied for by John Archibald M'Intyre on the date of my inspection, 15th May, 1878, consisted of a hut, slab and iron, which I value at £15, and there was a brush fence being erected, but I do not believe the hut referred to is the permanent residence of the applicant, but believe that he resides at the Waterloo Head Station, distant some 2 miles or further from the conditional purchase 77-85, which he has applied for.

In conclusion I beg to recommend for the favourable consideration of the Honorable the Minister for Lands that a refund of £100 on conditional purchase 78-20, be granted to John Ross, and that a Government surveyor be sent to report upon John Archibald M'Intyre's 200 acres, conditional purchase 77-85, and to measure the same, as I do not believe it to be a bona fide conditional purchase, and there are also several other conditional purchases in the locality which I do not consider to be bona fide, and I think it would be well to inspect.

I have, &c.,
ROWAND RONALD,
Licensed Surveyor.

Messrs. Wilson and Rankin to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir, 227 George-street, Sydney, 18 June, 1878.

On behalf of Mr. John Ross, who conditionally purchased at Glen Innes 100 acres on the 24th January, 1878, we beg respectfully to request that the amount of his deposit may be refunded to him, as the land applied for had been previously selected.

We have, &c.,
WILSON AND RANKIN.

Minutes on above.

Mr. Rutter to deal with surveyor's report.—W.A., 25/6/78. In view of the surveyor's report it is recommended that refund be made as requested; these papers may then be returned to Mr. Licensed Surveyor Ronald for action upon the previous conditional purchase application of M'Intyre's.—ROBT. D. FITZGERALD (for Surveyor-General), 1st July, 1878. For refund.—A.O.M., 23/7/78.

Notification of Alienation of Conditional Purchase by John Archibald M'Intyre, in the district of Glen Innes. I HEREBY notify to you, as the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands for the district of Glen Innes that I have (after a residence thereon of at least twelve months) this day alienated to James Cosgrove, of Waterloo, the 200 acres of land, situated in the county of Gough, parish of Waterloo, which I selected at Glen Innes, as a conditional purchase, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, on the 6th September, 1877. Dated at Glen Innes, this 26th September, 1878.

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Glen Innes.

I have duly registered the above notification of alienation in the records of this office.

G. MARTIN,
Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands.

District of Glen Innes, Land Office, Glen Innes, 26th September, 1878.

Mr. Surveyor Metcalfe to The Surveyor-General.

Sir, Glen Innes, 16 January, 1880.

I have the honor to transmit herewith the plan of one portion of land, containing 200 acres, numbered 81, in the parish of Waterloo, in the county of Gough, conditionally purchased by John Archibald M'Intyre, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act, and measured by me on the 10th and 12th December, 1879, in compliance with your instructions by B. C., No. 26, dated the 10th January, 1878, issued to Mr. Licensed Surveyor Ronald,—transferred to me in July, 1879.

I have to report that at time of survey improvements had been effected on this portion, consisting of a slab cottage, with roof of corrugated iron, containing two rooms, worth £30; a small slab hut, £5; brush fencing worth £5; a good well 50 feet deep, worth £50. Total value of improvements, £90.

A man named James Cosgrove is resident, to whom I am informed this conditional purchase has been transferred. I have to report that a difference exists in two particulars, from the tracing of portion numbered 12, supplied to me. A road divides this portion from east boundary of portion 12, which was remeasured by me in course of survey. I found a peg at south-east corner of portion 12, with remains of stones piled round it, but the bearing and distance from reference trees varied considerably from that given on tracing (see plan). As this peg bore every appearance of being the original corner, I adopted it, and from it ran the east boundary of portions 12 and 10. A considerable difference exists in the length of east boundary of portion 12 as measured by me, and a considerable variation, 19E in same boundary of portion 10, which variation would have been increased had the reference to south-east corner of portion No. 12 been correct on tracing supplied to me.

The gully running across this portion from east to west boundaries intersects the east boundary of portion 12, about 11 chains south of its position on tracing of that portion supplied to me. Its correct position is shown on my plan.

I have, &c.,
C. F. METCALFE,
Surveyor.

Description.

200 acres, county of Gough, parish of Waterloo, portion 81: Commencing on the eastern side of a road 1 chain wide, at a point bearing N. 73° 36' east, and distant 1 chain 4 links from the south-eastern corner of portion 12 of 96 acres 2 roods; and bounded thence on the west by that road, dividing it from that portion and from portion 10 of 92 acres acres 2 roods, bearing north 46 chains 40 links; and thence N. 19' E. 25 chains and 12 links; on the north by a line bearing east 29 chains and 56 links; on the east by a line bearing south 61 chains and 75 links; and on the south-east and south by lines bearing S. 41° 58' W. 3 chains 61 links, S. 76° 46' W. 16 chains 24 links; and thence S. 73° 36' W. 11 chains and 98 links, to the point of commencement.

[Alienation Act.]

Declaration of conditional purchaser under the 18th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861.
I, JAMES COSGROVE, of Wellngrove, do solemnly and sincerely declare, that I am the lawful owner, by conditional purchase, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, of the land hereunder described, and that improvements consisting of house, stable, well, fencing and clearing, and to the value of £135, have been made on such land; and I declare further, that the said land has been the bona fide residence, continuously, of myself and J. A. M'Intyre from the period of selection and first occupation to the present date (and that no alienation of the land has been made by any of the abovenamed holders, until after the residence thereon of such holder for a period of one whole year). And I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of the Government of New South Wales and to substitute declarations in lieu thereof and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

Notification by Mr. J. Cosgrove

Notification of alienation of conditional purchase by James Cosgrove, in the district of Glen Innes.

I HEREBY notify to you, as the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands for the district of Glen Innes, that I have, in consideration of the sum of £600, this day alienated to John Archibald M'Intyre, of Waterloo, the 200 acres of land situated in the county of Gough, parish of Waterloo, which was selected at Glen Innes by J. A. M'Intyre, as a conditional purchase, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation of 1861, on the 6th September, 1877, as also the following additional purchases. Dated at Glen Innes, this 23rd November, 1880,— JAMES COSGROVE,
HENRY R. SANDERS, Crown Lands Agent. Wellngrove.

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Glen Innes.

I have duly registered the above Notification of Alienation in the records of this office. Fee of 10s. paid, including 7s. 6d. for Registration Fee, and £3 Stamp Duty.
District of Glen Innes, Land Office, 23rd November, 1880.

HENRY R. SANDERS,

Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands.

Received into the Office of the Registrar-General, at Sydney, this 18th day of February, A.D., 1881, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, from Frederick Murray, of Sydney, a copy of the above transfer verified by John Archibald M'Intyre, of Walcha, and numbered 460, Book 214.

JAS. BOSCAWEN DUFF,

Deputy Registrar-General.

Mr. Inspector Trollope to The Chief Commissioner.

REPORT by F. Trollope, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of John Archibald M'Intyre, made at Glen Innes on 6th September, 1877.

Sir,

Grafton, 9 March, 1881.

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 18th January, 1881, and that I found the selector then not resident upon his selection.

The land, which consists of undulating forest land, and comprises 200 acres, is occupied and used by John M'Intyre as pasture, and the selector, who follows the avocation of grazier, had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sums respectively stated, viz:—

Hut.....	£30 0 0
Stable.....	10 0 0
Well, dug through rock and slabbed, 42 feet deep, at 25s. per foot	52 10 0
Clearing and burning off.....	10 0 0
Twenty-two sheep-troughs, at 5s. each	5 10 0
20-chain sheep brake, at 1s. per rod	4 0 0

From the appearance of the land, and the circumstances stated in the following remarks, I am of opinion that the selector has not been continuously resident upon the selection.

I found one James Cosgrove living here at the time of my visit. J. A. M'Intyre informs me that he lived here until he transferred the land to Cosgrove. How this may have been I cannot say. I am of opinion that the residence has been properly done by Cosgrove, though that of M'Intyre is I should say more questionable.

I have, &c.,
FRED. TROLLOPE,
Inspector of Conditional Purchases.

Minute on above.

Mr. Inspector Street to The Chief Commissioner.

REPORT by P. W. Street, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of Wilham Duff, made at Cowra on 13th December, 1877, 13th clause.

Bathurst, 28 December, 1880.

Sir,

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 24th May last, and that I found the selector then resident upon this selection. The

The land, which consists of portion 22, Merongla, Forbes, and comprises 100 acres, is now occupied and used by the selector as a farm; and the selector, who follows the avocation of a farmer and labourer, had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sums respectively stated, viz. :—

Slab hut of one room, with bark roof	£5 0 0
7 acres grubbed, at £5.....	35 0 0
60 chains of dog-leg, 5s., inferior.....	15 0 0
	£55 0 0

P. WOOD STREET,
Inspector of Conditional Purchases.

Minutes on above.

Section 13; area, 100 acres; improvements, £55; residence, inspector does not say whether selector has completed residence. The land is now used as a farm, and in the absence of written remarks the word (this selection) means nothing. He should report again. Submitted meanwhile. Declaration may be asked for.

Memo. by Mr. Stobo :—Report satisfactory. Records attach, declaration if received.—E.H.S., 17/5/81.
Memo. by Mr. Blackman :—Declaration to be examined, and then for approval.—W.B.

Description.

County of Gough, parish of Paradise, 600 acres, at Paradise Creek, being conditional purchase No. 40 of 1876, in the district of Inverell, made on the 20th April, 1876. Reduced to 440 acres.

Minutes on above.

The declarant tendered instalment on the whole 600 acres, but the Land Agent declined to accept instalment except on the reduced area. The Land Agent, at declarant's request, begs to record his protest to the reduction of the area.—W. CLARE CARDEN, Land Agent, Inverell, 10/7/79. The Chief Commissioner, Sydney. Instalment credited at Treasury, £22.—G.M., 18/7/79. Correct in form.—11/2/81. The plan was accepted on 11th February, 1880, and the plan bears no evidence of any conflicting claim, but the papers should be referred to. They are probably in Lands.—F.W.R., 12/2/81. CHAS. ED. Mr.

Mr. Inspector O'Hara to The Chief Commissioner.

REPORT by John S. O'Hara, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of George M'Lean, made at Inverell on 20th April, 1876.

Sir,

Paradise, 28 December, 1881.

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 15th April, 1881, and that I found the selector then resident upon his selection.

The land, which consists of cultivation and bush, and comprises 440 and 40 acres, is now occupied and used by selector as his home, and the selector who follows the avocation of farmer and grazier, had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sums respectively stated, viz:—

House, sawn slab sides and shingle roof, hall and verandah, floor boards...	£300 0 0
Kitchen, slab sides, iron roof	40 0 0
Fruit orchard, vineyard, and vegetable garden, enclosed by split fence.....	60 0 0
Barn, slab sides and floor, shingled roof	120 0 0
Hayshed and dairy	40 0 0
40 acres cultivated, enclosed three-rail split fence.....	320 0 0
	£880 0 0

From the appearance of the land, and the circumstances stated in the following remarks, I am of opinion that the selector has been continuously resident upon the selection.

Selector and his wife and family appear to be making this land their home, and the improvements that have been made must have occupied the selector fully from the date the land was taken up.

I have, &c.,

J. S. O'HARA,

Inspector of Conditional Purchases.

Minutes on above.

Records for papers.—W.H.C., 22/6/81. Two sections; two declarations; selections 13 and 21; area, 480 acres; improvements, £880; residence complete; declarations correct. For approval.—W.B. See Mr. Finch's memo., declaration conditional purchase 76-40. The selector has not apparently received the notice of reduction of area of first conditional purchase of 440 acres. Some action is required in that matter. See also date of declaration, 1876, should be 1879.—E.H.S. Date correct. Refund has been made. Now for approval.—W.A., 28/7/81.—W.B.

Application by Thomas O'Brien.

District of Cootamundra.

No. 72 of 1880.

Application by Thomas O'Brien for the conditional purchase, without competition, of 258 acres 1 rood, unimproved Crown Land.

Received by me, with a deposit of £64 11s. 3d., this 29th day of April, 1880, at 10:30 o'clock,—

C. H. B. PRIMROSE,

Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Cootamundra.

Sir,

29 April, 1880.

I am desirous of purchasing, without competition, under the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, the portion of unimproved Crown Land hereunder described, containing 258 acres 1 rood; and I herewith tender the sum of £64 11s. 3d., being a deposit at the rate of 5s. per acre on the area for which I apply.

I am, &c.,

THOMAS O'BRIEN,

Stockinbringle, Cootamundra.

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Cootamundra.

Description.

County of Bland, parish of Yeo Yeo, 258 acres 1 rood, being measured portions Nos. 32, 44, 92, 93.

Minutes on above.

The inspector in reporting on the residence of the applicant, should at the same time report whether any of these lands were improved at the date of this conditional purchase to an extent to bar any one of them from conditional purchase.—F. W. RUTTER (for Surveyor-General), 15 January, 1880. Tracing for Inspector herewith.—W.H.McL., 15th September, 1880.

Mr. Inspector Spring to The Chief Commissioner.

REPORT by Gerald Spring, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of Thomas O'Brien, made at Cootamundra on 29th April, 1880.

Sir,

Yeo Yeo, 19 October, 1880.

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 19th October, 1880, and that I found the selector then not resident upon his selection.

The land, which consists of heavy forest, and comprises 258½ acres, is now occupied and used by selector as a farm, and the selector, who follows the occupation of grazier, had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sums respectively stated, viz:—

140 acres ringbarked, at 1s. 6d.	£8 15 0
Hut, slabs and bark	8 0 0
14 chains log fence	7 0 0
	£23 15 0

From the appearance of the land, and the circumstances stated in the following remarks, I am of opinion that the selector has been continuously resident upon the selection.

The hut, which is now going to ruin, shows no sign whatever of having been inhabited at any time.

Portion 44 of 100 acres is ringbarked, and portion 32 of 40 acres is also ringbarked, and has 7 chains of log fence upon it. Portion 93 of 40 acres has also 7 chains of log fence upon it. There is no new building of any description upon the place.

I have, &c.,

GERALD SPRING,

Inspector of Conditional Purchases.

Minutes on above.

Section 13.—No residence under this report. But, owing to the late date of selection, and the early date of inspection, the benefit of another inspection may be granted to selector. Submitted.

By Mr. Stobo:—The tracing which was sent to the inspector in this case refers to conditional purchases in a different country and land district to the one to which the enclosed papers relate, but the report and tracing will be useful in connection with conditional purchase 80-72, Cootamundra, not 80-72, Gundagai.—J. O'Brien. E.H.S., 20th May, 1881.

Memo. by Mr. Capper:—Correct instruction and tracing was issued Mr. Inspector Spring. Mr. Evans was instructed on the 6th October last to report upon the land represented by the application (80-72, Gundagai), now herewith. It should be separated and placed with the Inspector's reports, and the proper application (80-72, Cootamundra) placed herewith. W.H.C., 30/5/81.

REPORT

REPORT by Gerald Spring, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of Bartholomew Cooney, made at Young on 1873.

Yeo Yeo, 23 November, 1881.

Sir,

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 23rd November, 1881, and that I found the selector then not resident upon his selection.

The land, which consists of open forest, and comprises 100 acres, is now occupied and used by run lessee as a sheep walk, and the selector, who follows the avocation of , had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sum respectively stated, viz.:-

Ringbarked £6 5 0

From the appearance of the land, and the circumstances stated in the following remarks, I am of opinion that the selector has been continuously resident upon the selection.

I did not find any sign of improvements on this conditional purchase more than ringbarking, and I am informed that it has been taken up by the late Thomas O'Brien as an additional conditional purchase to 255½ acres, selected on 29th April, 1880, and transferred by him, just before his death, to Henry Dunn, who now resides upon it in a bona-fide manner.

I have, &c., GERALD SPRING, Inspector of Conditional Purchases.

Minute on above.

By Mr. Blackman :—Under this report, conditional purchase 73-4,053 lapsed, and re-selected by Thomas O'Brien as an additional conditional purchase to his original 80-72, and transferred by him before his death to Henry Dunn, who is a bona fide resident. Papers to be connected, and then no further interference necessary at present. W. B.

[Alienation Act.]

Declaration of conditional purchaser under the 18th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861.

I, SOPHIA ANN CARTWRIGHT, of Cootamundra, do solemnly and sincerely declare, that I am the lawful owner, by conditional purchase, under the section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, of the land hereunder described, and that improvements consisting of hut and fencing, and to the value of £40, have been made on such land; and I declare further, that the said land has been the bona fide residence, continuously, of myself, from the period of selection and first occupation to the present date (and that no alienation of the land has been made by the abovenamed holder, until after the residence thereon of such holder for a period of one whole year.) And I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of the Government of New South Wales and to substitute Declarations in lieu thereof and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

Mr. Inspector Spring to The Chief Commissioner.

REPORT by Gerald Spring, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of Sophia Ann Cartwright, made at Cootamundra on 2nd August, 1877.

Sir,

Cootamundra, 24 February, 1881.

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 24th February, 1881, and that I found the selector then not resident upon her selection.

The land, which consists of thick forest, and comprises 40 acres, is now occupied and used by the alienee as a sheep farm, and the selector, who follows the avocation of grazier and farmer, had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sums respectively stated, viz.:-

Hut 10 x 9 feet, slabs, sleepers, iron roof, walls papered, glazed window ...	£15 0 0
All ringbarked	2 10 0
40 chains best log fence	25 0 0
	£42 10 0

From the appearance of the land, and the circumstances stated in the following remarks, I am of opinion that the selector has been continuously resident upon the selection.

The residence on this conditional purchase was in good condition and had been very comfortable. It was in sight of R. B. Cartwright's place (selector's brother), and near enough for protection.

I cannot speak positively of the appearances being those of constant residence, nor can I say who completed the residence.

I have, &c., GERALD SPRING, Inspector of Conditional Purchases.

Minutes on above.

Section 13, area 40 acres. Improvements £42 10s.; residence not verified. Declaration correct, but submitted. May pass.—E. H. S., 17/5/81. Memo.—Inspectors should be requested by circular to institute inquiries in the neighbourhood, whenever by the surroundings they cannot verify residence. The omission is traceable in many reports. Submitted. Original conditional purchase approved. Total area, 80 acres. Improvement, £42 10s. Declaration on conditional purchase, 77/78. Submitted for approval.—W. A., 3/8/81. W. B.

No. 3.

Patrick Dunn to M. Fitzpatrick, Esq.

Sir,

Mulwala, 22 June, 1876.

I received from the Department of Lands, by yesterday's post, the enclosed notification informing me that the lots therein mentioned were, previous to my purchasing of them, withdrawn from selection. This, in my opinion, is a mistake, as those lots were certainly at one time supposed to have been purchased by a person named William O'Bryan, but in drawing out the Crown Grants an error crept in and the deeds of other lots were drawn out instead, so that those lots were open for selection at the time I purchased them. I may also mention that O'Bryan signed a document renouncing all right to them, and that the lots granted are now the property of Mr. A. Sloane.

Will

Will you be good enough to call at the Lands Office and explain this matter, as no doubt there is a mistake in the matter; at all events, if I am to lose them it will be a very serious thing for me, as I have, since I purchased this land, had it securely fenced with a very substantial chock and log fence, for which I paid at the rate of £45 per mile; the fence is complete all round, making 2 miles altogether. You will please also to inquire for what purpose the land is reserved and how long, as the officers at both Albury and Corowa know nothing about it being withdrawn. You will please let me have an answer as early as possible; at the same time it would be as well to take no steps about those roads I wrote you about until I see how this affair is to end, as the roads I want to purchase runs through those lots.

Trusting you will give this matter your very best attention,—

I am, &c.,

PATRICK DUNN.

P.S.—Return the Secretary's letter to me—I mean the one herein enclosed.

Revenue refunded.

Sir,

Lands Department, Sydney, 30 June, 1876.

I am directed to request that you will be good enough to refund to Mr. Patrick Dunn, of Mulwala, the sum of £84, being the amount paid by him on 4th March, 1876, for selection, after auction, of lots 33, 34, 35, and 36, portions 69, 70, 71, and 72, of sale at Albury on the 28th of January, 1858, his application having been cancelled, as the lands were selected by W. No. 76-7,801, Aln.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 30 June, 1876.

I am directed to inform you that the Colonial Treasurer has been authorized to refund to you, or your order, the sum of £84, being the amount paid by you, on the 4th March, 1876, for selection, after auction, of lots 33, 34, 35, and 36, portions 69, 70, 71, and 72, of sale at Albury on the 28th January, 1858, your application having been cancelled, as the lands were selected by W. O'Bryan on the 14th October, 1859.

2. I am to add, that when the money is ready for payment, notice to that effect will be forwarded to you from the Treasury.

No. 6.

Patrick Dunn to G. Day, Esq., M.P.

Sir,

Mulwala, 26 July, 1876.

May I take the liberty of requesting you to do me a favour in connection with some land that I purchased a few months ago. The following are the facts of the case:—

On the 4th March last I purchased, after auction, the lots 14, 15, 16, and 17, also the lots 33, 34, 35, and 36, each containing 20 acres, situate in the parish of Mulwala, county of Denison. The sale took place at the Corowa Lands Office, on the 4th day of March last, and the price I then paid for the land was £1 per acre; but about six weeks afterwards I received a letter from the Crown Lands Agent at Corowa, stating that he received instructions from the Auditor-General to collect a further sum of 10s. per acre, as the land had never been offered under 30s. I accordingly paid in the balance on the 16th day of May, and of course then thought the matter was at an end; but I received a letter from the Under Secretary for Lands, some time about the 20th June, informing me that lots 14, 15, 16, and 17 were withdrawn from selection, and on July 5th I received another letter, stating the remaining lots, 33, 34, 35, and 36, were purchased previously by a person named William O'Bryan.

I was aware at the time I purchased this land that there was a mistake in connection with the last four lots. O'Bryan was supposed to have purchased them, but in drawing out the Crown grants an error crept in, and the deeds of other lots were made out instead of those. I was informed in each case that the amount of purchase money, £84, would be returned. That was only £1 per acre, whilst I paid £1 10s. per acre for the ground.

Now I want, if you will be good enough, to inquire at the Lands Office for what purpose, or when, the lots 14, 15, 16, and 17 were reserved, as I am under the impression there must be some mistake about this matter; at all events I hope there is, for if the authorities persist it will be a very hard case for me, as I have, previously to receiving notice, had this land securely fenced in with a very substantial chock and log fence, for which I paid £90; therefore, if you will kindly use your influence to set this matter right you will do me a very great service.

Your obedient servant,

PATRICK DUNN.

N.B.—This was not an advertised sale; the land was previously offered on the 28th of January and 13th May, 1858, and not offered for sale since, and I purchased it at the price it was then offered at, viz., £1 10s. per acre; whilst in the office in Sydney they seem under the impression that I only paid £1 per acre; and if the land is reserved as stated, I trust you will use your endeavours to have the reserve cancelled. Of course if I had not gone to the expense of fencing I would not much care.

No. 7.

Memorandum by Mr. W. C. Edwards.

THE lands herein referred to were offered for sale at Albury as follows, viz. :—Lots 33, 34, 35, and 36, on the 28th January, 1858; and lots 14, 15, 16, and 17, on 13th May, 1858, and not bid for. The whole of these lots were withdrawn from auction selection in 1858, but the paper on which they were withdrawn cannot be found, and no reason is given for their withdrawal, either in the auction selection register or on the original plan. Lots 33, 34, 35, and 36 were allowed to be selected after auction by William O'Bryan, on the 14th October, 1859, but there is nothing to show on what grounds O'Bryan's selections were sanctioned.

W.C.E., 7/8/76.

Minutes on No. 7, by the Minister for Lands.

Under the circumstances, I think the sale to Patrick Dunn, of lots 14, 15, 16, and 17, should be upheld, there appearing no reason for the withdrawal from selection; and O'Bryan having been allowed a few months after the lands were first offered for sale, to select lots 33, 34, 35, and 36, leads me to the conclusion that no valid reason existed for the withholding of the portions at the time; indeed I am inclined to the conclusion that the record of the withdrawal from selection is an error.—T.G., 10/8/76. Mr. Evans,—Let the auction selection for lots 14, 15, 16, and 17 go to Noting Branch at once.—H.O.R., 19/8/76. Noted in selection register and sent on for deeds.—23/8/76. Papers to be returned to Mr. Edwards as early as practicable.—W.C.E., 24/8/76.

No. 8.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Patrick Dunn.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 21 August, 1876.

In reference to the correspondence which has taken place respecting the cancellation of the auction selections made by you of lots 33, 34, 35, and 36 of the sale at Albury, on the 28th January, 1858, and lots 14, 15, 16, and 17 of the sale at the same place, on the 13th May, 1858, and requesting that the same may be revoked, I am directed to inform you that as lots 33, 34, 35, and 36 were previously alienated to Mr. Wm. O'Bryan, the cancellation of the sale of those lots to you cannot be disturbed, but as regards the selections of lots 14, 15, 16, and 17 the Secretary for Lands has decided that they shall be sustained.

Sir,

Land District of Sydney, 16 July, 1877.

I hereby tender the sum of £75 16s. 3d. as the price by selection (and deed fee) of the Crown Lands hereunder described :—

Place of sale, Sydney; date on which last advertised, 19th July, 1858; date on which last offered for sale, 25th August, 1858; lots at last sale, 4, 5, 6; county, Cumberland; parish or place, Manly Cove; portion 4, 20a.; 5, 20a.; 6, 18a. 1r.; equal, 58a. 1r.; extent of the lot, 58a. 1r.; price of the lot, £72 16s. 3d.; fees on the deeds, £3.

£1 5s. per acre. 4, £25; 5, £25; 6, £22 16s. 3d.

I am, &c.,

LANCELOT ERNEST THRELKELD,

By his Agent, THOMAS GARRETT, Sydney.

The Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands, District of Sydney.

Minutes on No. 10, by Officers of the Lands and Survey Offices.

Police District of Sydney, 16 July, 1877.

Received by me, this day, from the above-named Lancelot Edward Threlkeld, the sum of £75 16s. 3d., being the price by selection (and deed fee) of the Crown Lands above described.

W. C. EDWARDS,

Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Sydney.

Mr. Edwards,—Should these go on for deed—they are noted on plan as withdrawn?—J.J.W.

This

This selection was tendered by Mr. Garrett, as agent for Mr. Threlkeld. I declined to accept the application, on the ground that the lands in my "Register of Lands" open to selection after auction were marked as withdrawn. Mr. Garrett, however, insisted on lodging the application, for the reasons that I could not assign any reason for their withdrawal, and that, according to the map, the lands were open to selection. I then received the selection, intimating at the time that I accepted it subject to ministerial approval. I have paid the purchase money into the suspense account at the Treasury, subject to any decision that might be arrived at in the case.—W.C.E., 18/7/77.

Under the decision of the Honorable the Colonial Secretary, vide 77-10,071 (see No.), the land in question is open to selection and may go on for deed.—P.F.R., 2/1/78.

Mr. Edwards,—Be kind enough to give the separate amount of purchase money for each lot.—C.A.T., 5/2/78. Deed prepared.—5/2/78.

No. 27.

Memorandum by Mr. W. C. Edwards.

I HAVE not registered or submitted the enclosed applications made by Messrs. Wilson, Caird, & Ranken, as I have been waiting for a decision upon an application (herewith) made by L. E. Threlkeld under similar circumstances, but which I have not yet been able to obtain.

The

The circumstances of the case are these, viz. :—In the year 1858 it appears from my registers that several portions of land were withdrawn from auction selection by a paper numbered 58-10,350, which paper has been lost for some years past, but the original plans do not show the land as withdrawn, nor can it be traced that they were ever gazetted as withdrawn. In looking carefully over my registers, I find that in several instances the withdrawal has been struck out and purchasers' names entered opposite the lots, some of them as far back as the year 1859.

When the present Minister for Lands was last in office he, it will be seen from the enclosed papers, looked upon the withdrawal in question as an error, and allowed certain selections to stand of portions that had been withdrawn by this number.

The enclosed applications were refused by me when tendered, but the applicants insisted upon my accepting them, as I could assign no reason whatever for the withdrawal of the land from selection. I then accepted them provisionally, subject to any Ministerial decision that might be arrived at hereafter; and I would now respectfully request that the Honorable the Minister for Lands will direct whether these applications are to be received or not, and that I may have definite instructions as to how I am to act for the future when similar applications are tendered to me.

23 August, 1877.

W. C. EDWARDS.

Minutes on No. 27.

By the Under Secretary.

It appears to me that the decision given by the Minister for Lands, in his minute of the 10th August, 1876, on papers will justify the acceptance of these applications, provided there are none for the same portions of previous date. The action for withdrawal does not seem to have been formally completed, and, unless it is considered desirable to submit the land again to public auction, I see no legal objection to the selections being upheld.—W. W. S., 23 Aug., 1877.

By the Minister for Lands.

As I have an interest in one of the applications herewith (acquired before I lately assumed office) I wish my Honorable Colleague the Colonial Secretary would kindly consider the matter and decide it.—T. G., 24 August, 1877.

By the Colonial Secretary.

The provisions of the Act of 1861 authorize the withdrawal of past auction land from selection, for the purpose of submittal again to auction.

It should be ascertained whether or not these lands were so offered at auction after their withdrawal. If not, the supposition is strengthened that the withdrawal was not intended to be completed.

The supposed withdrawal, however, appears to have taken place in 1858, when the old law was in force. The 12th clause of that law is stronger in favour of the right of the purchaser than the 25th clause of law of 1861, for it does not appear to justify withdrawal, but says "shall and may be sold, &c."—JOHN R.

I should like to see the register Mr. Edwards refers to and any other proof there may be, whether absolutely or by implication, that there was Ministerial authority for withdrawal given.—JOHN R.

Mr. Edwards has brought me the register alluded to, and I find that on it is merely the words "Withdrawn, 58-10,350," and I am informed that the paper alluded to cannot be found. I should like to know now at what time the paper was last seen, and whether or not such an entry in the register has been heretofore considered a proof of Ministerial authority for withdrawal. There are several inquiries of mine above written to which no replies have been given. I should like each of them to be answered, as well as those I have now added.—JOHN R., 10/9/1877.

By Mr. Edwards.

For the information of the Colonial Secretary the following particulars are given :—

1st. The lands referred to in the enclosed applications have never been re-offered since withdrawal, and the withdrawal was not completed, as the land agents were never informed.

2nd. The paper 58-10,350 was last seen in 1873; but the withdrawal of the portions enumerated in the schedule accompanying that paper must apparently have been incomplete, as in many cases, even so far back as in 1859, lands withdrawn by that paper have been selected, and the selections have not been questioned.

3rd. I find on further examination the registers show that in some cases a subsequent withdrawal has been made of certain portions withdrawn by 58-10,350, in order that they should be brought again to auction; therefore I conclude the withdrawal under the missing paper has been ignored and the selectors upheld in their rights, and there can be no reason why, I presume, the remaining lands in the schedule attached to the missing paper should be withheld from selection.—W. C. E., 14/9/77.

By the Colonial Secretary.

These papers have unfortunately been mislaid for some considerable time, otherwise (I) should have written upon them that the land must be considered to have been open to past auction selection at the time the past auction selection occurred. I think, however, that the Secretary for Lands would act wisely if in future all lands past auction, say for two years, should be again submitted for auction, and that on an intimation of that intention they should be withdrawn from past auction selection until again offered at auction.—JOHN R.

No. 35.

Mr. J. McElhone, M.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 8 February, 1879.

I have the honor to advise you that I was informed by Mr. Coonan that a large quantity of land somewhere in the Manly Beach District was taken up as after auction selections, I believe, through Dr. Wilson, and that different people had applied for the same land and were refused it, on the ground that it was withdrawn from sale, to which effect there was a memorandum in the Land Office books; and that after the sale this memorandum—"withdrawn from sale"—was erased, and that the book shows such to be the case.

I have the honor to request that you will cause a strict inquiry to be held in this matter, with a view to the dismissal of the party who allowed this to be done.

I have, &c.,

J. McELHONE.

Minutes on above.

(By Minister for Lands.)

Urgent. Under Secretary for Lands,—I wish Mr. Stephen to appoint two of his most reliable and trustworthy officers to investigate this case, by the inspection of the records and after auction register in the Auction Branch, &c., with the view of ascertaining whether the charge embodied in this letter can be substantiated, and afterwards to report to me.—J.H., 12/2/79.

(By Under Secretary.)

Urgent. Messrs. Thompson and Blackman have, with the approval of the Minister, been appointed to make the above inquiry. It should be attended to at once.—W.W.S., 13/2/79.

No. 36.

Memorandum by Mr. L. G. Thompson.

Mr. Edwards,

Mr. McElhone's charge is "that a large quantity of land somewhere in the Manly Beach district was taken up as an after auction selection, through Dr. Wilson, and that different people had applied for the same land and were refused it on the ground that it was withdrawn from sale."

Will you, in furtherance of the inquiry which Mr. Blackman and I have been instructed to make into the matter, please furnish tabulated particulars of the land selected through Dr. Wilson, and of the previous applications referred to.

L.G.T., 14/2/79.

There was no land in the Manly Beach district taken up as an after auction selection by Dr. Wilson. The lands that were open to selection in the district of Manly Beach were taken up by C. E. Threlkeld and Alexander Bowman, who were the first applicants for the land in question.

My register can be inspected as to the facts stated, if it is thought necessary.

W. C. EDWARDS,
Crown Lands Agent, Sydney.

No. 37.

Memorandum by Messrs. Blackman and Thompson.

We beg to say that, in compliance with the directions of the Minister for Lands, we have investigated the charges made in Mr. McElhone's letter of 8th February, 1879, by the inspection of the records and registers of the Auction Branch, and by the examination of Mr. Edwards, the officer in charge, and have the honor to submit the following statement of facts and report.

In 1858 allotments of land in various districts of the Colony, which had been put up to auction sale and not bid for, were noted in the registers of the Auction Branch as "withdrawn," on the authority of a memo. 58-10,350, which has been lost since 1873, and the purport of which cannot now be ascertained; but in October, 1859, William O'Bryan was allowed to take up some of these allotments at Corowa as after auction selections, and it is hardly probable that he would have been allowed to do so if there was any intention to take further action on the memo. of 1858, in which case an explanatory memo. would have been indorsed on O'Bryan's application, as to why the authority of 1858 had been so far set aside in his favour; but nothing of this kind was done, and no steps were taken to instruct the several Land Agents to note these allotments as "withdrawn" in their registers, or to have them so recorded on the plans of the Survey Department.

In March, 1876, Patrick Dunn took up at Corowa, as after auction selections, more of the allotments "withdrawn" by the memo. of 1858.

His application was afterwards cancelled in this Department, on account of the lands being noted in the registers "withdrawn," but his case was submitted to Mr. Secretary Garrett, who decided that he should be allowed to hold the allotment, "there appearing no reason for the withdrawal from selection; and O'Bryan having been allowed a few months after the lands were first offered for sale to select lots 33, 34, 35, and 36, leads me (writes Mr. Garrett) to the conclusion that no valid reason existed for the withholding of the portions at the time, indeed I am inclined to the conclusion that the record of the withdrawal from selection is an error."

On the 16th July, 1877, Mr. Garrett, as agent for L. E. Threlkeld, lodged an application with Mr. Edwards for certain allotments at Manly Cove, also "withdrawn" by the memo. of 1858, and Messrs. Wilson and Ranken, on the 24th and 25th July, lodged similar applications for allotments at Willoughby (and it is presumed that these are the ones referred to by Mr. McElhone, although they are not in Manly but in the next parish), but their applications were refused on the ground that the lots applied for were noted "withdrawn" in the registers; but as these gentlemen insisted on their applications being received, Mr. Edwards accepted them provisionally, subject to the decision of the Secretary for Lands.

On the 17th September, 1877, Mr. Alexander Bowman lodged applications for certain allotments at Manly Cove, also withdrawn by the memo. of 1858, and these various applications embrace all the allotments included in the schedule to the memo. of 1858, so far as it can be known by inspection of the registers.

On the 23rd August Mr. Edwards informed the Under Secretary that he had not registered or submitted Wilson and Ranken's application, as he was waiting for a decision on Threlkeld's application, made under similar circumstances, and then proceeded to state the general question, and apply for definite instructions in all similar cases. Mr. Secretary Garrett admitted that he had acquired an interest in one of the applications previously to his assuming office, and therefore directed that the decision of the matter should be referred to the Colonial Secretary; and after due inquiry and consideration Sir John Robertson decided that "the land must be considered to have been open to past auction selection, at the time the past auction selection occurred."

There are no erasures in the registers, but in all those instances in which applicants were allowed to hold the land as after auction selections, the word "withdrawn" is scored out, and properly scored out, in order that the names of the purchasers might be written or inserted instead.

Some months before Wilson and Ranken applied for the lands referred to, several individuals did apply to Mr. Edwards, not to purchase the same lands at Willoughby, but to know how they stood, and were informed by him that they were "withdrawn" and could not be taken up as after auction selections, and the word "withdrawn" was shown to them in the registers noted against them. It is probable these are the gentlemen referred to in Mr. McElhone's letter as having been refused the land, as Messrs. Threlkeld and Bowman were the only applicants for the lands they sought to take up.

These being the material facts, it is clear that a serious oversight took place in the Auction Branch. Mr. Garrett's decision on Dunn's case in 1876 did not merely determine that the land applied for by him should not be considered "withdrawn," but that all the allotments in the schedule to the memo. should not be considered as "withdrawn," for all these lands were so far in the same category; and if there was no real or apparent reason why one lot should be held to be "withdrawn," there was no reason why any of them should. The lands dependent on the memo. of 1858 should have been dealt with as a whole, and the the word "withdrawn" scored out against each allotment; or if formal authority was thought necessary, it ought, as a matter of course, to have been immediately applied for, and would have been as readily and inevitably given in 1876 as it was subsequently in 1877 by Sir John Robertson, when Mr. Edwards did apply, but too late; as some individuals had been informed by him already that the Willoughby allotments were not open to selection, when, if the notations in the registers had been duly rectified, in 1876, these allotments would have stood open to selection, and the parties in question might have purchased, if so disposed, several months before Wilson and Ranken tendered their applications.

WM. BLACKMAN.
LINDSAY G. THOMPSON.

21 February, 1879.

Minute on above, by the Under Secretary.

Submitted for the information of the Minister.—W.W.S., 22nd February, 1879.

No. 38.

Minute by Secretary for Lands.

THE report of the gentlemen who were appointed by me to investigate the charges made by Mr. McElhone, M.P., in his letter of February 8th, 1879, confirms the impression I had previously formed, that the mode of transacting business in the Auction Branch has hitherto been very unsatisfactory.

It appears that allotments of land in different districts of the Colony were noted in the registers of the Auction Branch as "withdrawn," on the authority of a minute or memorandum which it is stated has been lost, and the precise terms of which cannot now be ascertained. The loss of this official document affords striking evidence of the carelessness and laxity of supervision which have prevailed in the transaction of business in this branch of the Department.

It further appears that two persons, Mr. William O'Bryan and Mr. Patrick Dunn, were allowed to make after auction selections which had been included in a Schedule of lands "withdrawn," by virtue of the minute or memorandum alluded to, notwithstanding that this authority had been adduced as a bar to such purchases on applications previously made by other persons. Not only is this course indefensible in itself, but there is no justification for acting at all on a document which is said to have existed but is now lost, and which has never been shown to have received Ministerial authority or sanction.

No explanation is afforded of how Messrs. Wilson and Ranken obtained a knowledge of the alleged existence of that document, but it is perfectly clear that these gentlemen must have known of the action taken in the cases of Messrs. O'Bryan and Dunn, or otherwise they would not have insisted on their applications for the allotment at Willoughby being received, when (as the result of the investigation into this case has disclosed) several other individuals had previously applied to Mr. Edwards to know in what position these same allotments stood (and it might have been reasonably conjectured that they did so with the view of applying to purchase them), and were informed that they could not be taken up as after auction selections, and the word "withdrawn" was shown to them in the register noted against them.

I am constrained, from a careful consideration of the report before me and all the circumstances, to believe Messrs. Wilson and Ranken must have had opportunities afforded them either of inspecting the register of after auction selections, by which they became aware of the fact that Messrs. O'Bryan and Dunn had been allowed to purchase some allotments of land which were included in the schedule with the allotments at Willoughby, or otherwise that they had been furnished by some officer employed in the Auction Branch, with such information as warranted them in insisting on their applications for the allotments of land at Willoughby being received.

It appears to me that Mr. Edwards, the officer in charge of the Auction Branch, has been guilty of an oversight amounting to a grave neglect of duty, in not submitting the whole matter (after the decision in O'Bryan's and Dunn's cases) for the determination of the Minister for Lands for the time being, and obtaining Ministerial authority for the revocation of the withdrawal of the allotments at Manly and Willoughby from after auction selection before acting further, seeing that, from his own statement, these lands were included in the same Schedule with the allotments previously purchased by Messrs. O'Bryan and Dunn.

I regret that, with these facts before me, I cannot allow Mr. Edwards to remain in charge of the Auction Branch.

J. H., 10/3/79.

No. 39.

Messrs. Wilson & Ranken to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 15 March, 1879.

Mr. Edwards having shown us an extract from a minute laid before the Cabinet, in which you state, with the apparent object of casting blame on Mr. Edwards as head of the Auction branch, that "Messrs. Wilson & Ranken must have had opportunities afforded them either of inspecting the register after auction selections, by which they became aware of the fact that Messrs. O'Bryan and Dunn had been allowed to purchase some allotments of land which were included in the Schedule with the allotments at Willoughby or otherwise, that they had been furnished by some officer employed in the Auction Branch with such information as warranted them in insisting on their applications for the allotments of land at Willoughby being received."

Now sir, in justice to Mr. Edwards and other gentlemen in the Auction Branch, we beg respectfully to give the above statement the most unqualified denial. No information of any kind was received by us from any officer of the Department, nor were we allowed to examine any register or books; in short that not only Mr. Edwards, but all the other officers in the Branch are absolutely blameless as regards the matter, and in no way amenable to the implied censure contained in the above statement.

If, sir, the records of the Lands Office had been searched, you would have found that we acted as Mr. Dunn's agents in the case after the selections had been made by him. Thus, in the legitimate course of business, becoming acquainted with the circumstances connected with the case, and the simple fact is that we knew our rights and acted upon them.

Our

Our attention was drawn to the state of the Willoughby lots by Mr. A. Armstrong, who has furnished us with a statutory declaration on the subject, which we now enclose, entirely clearing the officers of the Branch of any complicity or underhand conduct in the matter.

In conclusion, we would beg respectfully to state that if you will take the trouble to make the necessary inquiries from the officers of the Department, you will find that whatever other land agents may have done, Messrs. Wilson and Ranken have never condescended to resort to underhand means to acquire information, but have always acted in the most straightforward and open manner.

Seeing that this matter has been brought so prominently before the Cabinet, we have particularly to request that you will be pleased, not only on Mr. Edwards' account, but also on ours, to lay this letter before the Cabinet also.

We have, &c.,
WILSON & RANKEN.

[Enclosure to No. 39.]

Statutory declaration.

I, ANDREW ARMSTRONG, of 26, Bridge-street, Sydney, do solemnly and sincerely declare that I have heard that it is alleged that certain clerks in the Department of Lands have acted erroneously in conveying information respecting certain lands in parish of Willoughby, alienated to J. B. Wilson, J. C. L. Ranken, and G. S. Caird; that the information that the lands referred to were available was conveyed by me to the parties who have since purchased; that no item of any such information was conveyed to me by any clerk or person in the Department of Lands; that I obtained such information by inspection of plan in the Survey Department, which showed the land as having passed auction, and had no notification of withdrawal noted thereon; that I attended with Mr. J. C. L. Ranken at the time such applications were made, and that the Sydney Land Agent refused acceptance of application and price of land, and only provisionally received the same upon the acceptance being insisted on by Mr. J. C. L. Ranken. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of the Government of New South Wales and to substitute Declarations in lieu thereof and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

A. ARMSTRONG.

Made and signed before me, at this fourteenth day of March, 1879,—

GEORGE R. DIEBS, J.P.

No. 40.

Memorandum by Mr. Edwards.

Sir,

In reference to the enclosed report of Messrs. Blackman and Thompson respecting certain charges made by Mr. McElhone, M.L.A., in the management of the Auction Branch of your Department, the result of which has been to condemn me unheard, and to cause my removal from the charge of that important Branch, I desire that leave may be given to me to reply to the main features of that report.

Messrs. Thompson and Blackman, it is well known, fill their important positions in the Department with credit to themselves and with general satisfaction to the public, but I respectfully submit that their duties have confined their knowledge of the working of the Department strictly to those positions with which they have been immediately connected, and, as is clearly shown by their report, they do not exhibit the possession of knowledge respecting Branches over which the course of their duties has brought them into immediate connection.

The deduction drawn by you from this report is clearly expressed, and is in effect that Messrs. Wilson and Ranken, purchasers of land at Willoughby, must have had information conveyed to them which enabled them to know that, by insisting upon their applications for the purchase of that land being received by the Department, they would be placed in a position to claim legal title to the land.

The land referred to was noted in the books of the Lands Department as withdrawn. Vide 58-10,350.

During my connection with the Department, on several occasions parties applied to me for information in the usual course, as to whether such land was available for alienation under the 25th section of the Act of 1861. To all the reply was given that the land had been withdrawn from sale.

I have no recollection of ever conveying any further information respecting these or any other lands withdrawn by the same paper; in fact, events which took place at the time applications were tendered clearly prove that any information respecting the land had not been obtained at my branch of the department. On the day the applications were tendered, Mr. J. L. C. Ranken, accompanied by Mr. Armstrong, waited upon me with forms of application filled in in every detail, describing two of the lots, date of sale, and price, and tendered the same to me in the usual manner. I refused to receive the application, and Mr. Armstrong asked on what grounds, as the official plans showed the land available. I said, because my books show that they have been withdrawn. He said that the official plans in the Survey Office showed the land as available, and insisted upon the application being provisionally received and the matter submitted for Ministerial consideration, the same as Mr. Garrett on behalf of Mr. Threlkeld had previously done. This is all that took place respecting the alienation of the land at Willoughby to Messrs. Wilson and Ranken. The withdrawal of these lots is supposed to have taken place many years before my connection with the Department. No officer at present in the Department, I believe, ever saw the paper which it is supposed directed their withdrawal. It appears to have been noted in the books of the Auction Branch in the year 1858 against some hundreds of lots; and I have reason to believe that but little further action was taken during that year with reference thereto, as the result of the action in the case of O'Bryan and Dunn shows that the respective country Land Agents in that instance had no instructions to note withdrawal shown by my books to have been directed, and action in Messrs. Wilson and Ranken's case shows that no notification of withdrawal had been made on original plans of the land.

Had Messrs. Blackman and Thompson possessed a general knowledge of the working of the Lands and Survey Departments, it is possible that they would have seen the probability of an inspection of the plans of survey conveying the information, which no doubt led to Messrs. Wilson and Ranken insisting upon their applications being received.

Their report shows also that, in their opinion, I must have allowed examination of my books to be made and the information to have been thus conveyed. In this case no examination of the books was made; but I have yet to learn that it is the duty of any Public Servant to refuse to the public the fullest information conveyed by the books in his charge—even in certain cases to the examination of an entry; and that even if an inspection by Messrs. Wilson and Ranken of the notation opposite the entries of the Willoughby lots, I would have been wrong in admitting examination of such entry.

(By Under Secretary.)

Submitted.—W.W.S.

No. 41.

Minute by Secretary for Lands.

MR. EDWARDS has furnished a further explanation, although not in his own handwriting, but to which his signature is appended, having reference to the report of Messrs. Blackman and Thompson, the officers of the Department of Lands deputed by me to inquire into the allegations embodied in a letter of Mr. McElhone, M.P., in which he is charged with having allowed Messrs. Wilson and Ranken to obtain allotments of land in the parish of Willoughby, although these portions had been previously entered on the registers of the Auction Branch as having been withdrawn from after auction selection, while other persons who had previously applied at the Auction Branch to ascertain the position of this land were informed that it had been withdrawn; indeed Mr. Edwards, in his last explanation, admits that on several occasions parties applied to him for information relative to these allotments of land at Willoughby, and that in reply to their inquiries they were informed that the lands had been withdrawn from sale.

I scarcely deem it necessary to advert to the opinion expressed by Mr. Edwards that Messrs. Blackman and Thompson were not acquainted with the usual routine of duties performed in the Auction Branch, seeing that they have both been officers of the Department of Lands for many years; and it appears to me that, judging from the report they have made on this matter, they were fully qualified to undertake the responsible duty with which I entrusted them.

Mr. Edwards states that Mr. J. L. C. Ranken, of the firm of Wilson and Ranken, land agents, accompanied by Mr. Armstrong, another land agent, applied for the land at Willoughby, which application he (Mr. Edwards) declined to receive, but that the applicant insisted upon his application being taken, on the ground, as alleged, of the plans in the Survey Office showing the land as available; and Messrs. Wilson and Ranken in an accompanying letter have confirmed that statement, which Mr. Armstrong by a statutory declaration has indorsed.

Assuming, therefore, that Messrs. Wilson and Ranken's statement cannot be doubted, while it may be accepted as a correction of my previous surmise that they had been made acquainted with the fact of the previous withdrawal of the several allotments included in a schedule from after auction selection having been revoked, the explanation in no way exonerates Mr. Edwards from the charge of being guilty of a serious oversight in respect to this matter, in not seeing that the register of after auction selections did not correspond with the plans in the Survey Office and ascertaining which was correct, seeing that Messrs. Wilson and Ranken and Mr. Armstrong state that the allotments at Willoughby were shown as being open to after auction selection on the plans, while the register in the Auction Branch showed that the same allotments were withdrawn from auction selection; and further, Mr. Edwards' neglect appears to me inexcusable, for another reason, viz., that he had the precedent in Messrs. O'Bryan's and Dunn's cases of the portions at Corowa, which are said to have been included in the same schedule, for his guidance, inasmuch as in the first instance the revocation of the withdrawal from after auction selection took place in 1859, and in the latter case in 1876. These are precedents which Messrs. Blackman and Thompson in their report say ought to have led Mr. Edwards to have obtained Ministerial authority for the revocation of the withdrawal of the whole of the portions included in the Schedule, more especially seeing that so many persons had made inquiries at the Auction Branch for information relative to the land at Willoughby, previous to Messrs. Wilson and Ranken having applied for it.

I brought the subject matter of Messrs. Wilson and Ranken's letter before the Cabinet, and Mr. Edwards' written explanation relative thereto; but, for the reasons stated in this and in my previous minute upon the same subject, combined with the experience I have acquired since I filled the position of Secretary for Lands, of what appears to me to be the very unsatisfactory manner in which Mr. Edwards has conducted the business of the Auction Branch during the period that it was under his charge, has constrained me to reaffirm my previous decision in respect to his removal from that position.

No. 42.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Messrs. Wilson & Ranken.

Gentlemen,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 22 April, 1879.

I am directed to apprise you that the Minister for Lands has had under consideration your letter of the 15th ultimo, touching the investigation made in reference to the allegations embodied in a letter of Mr. McElhone, M.P., in which Mr. Edwards (until lately in charge of the Auction Branch of this Department) is charged with having allowed you to obtain allotments in the parish of Willoughby, although these portions had been previously entered in the register kept in that Branch as having been withdrawn from after auction selection, while other persons who had previously applied as to the position of this land were informed that it had been withdrawn.

2. In a further explanation Mr. Edwards has furnished in the matter, he states that you and Mr. Ranken, accompanied by Mr. Armstrong (land agent), applied for the land at Willoughby, which application he (Mr. Edwards) declined to receive, but that Mr. Ranken insisted on his application being received, on the ground, as alleged, of the plans in the Survey Office showing the land as available, which statement has been confirmed by your letter now under reference, and indorsed by the statutory declaration of Mr. Armstrong therein enclosed.

3. Accepting, however, your statement as correct, and admitting that you did not receive information from the Department, I am to inform you that Mr. Secretary Hoskins, after having, as requested by you, submitted to the Cabinet the subject-matter of your letter, together with Mr. Edwards' further explanation, is compelled to adhere to the decision already arrived at as to the removal of that gentleman from his position as Clerk in charge of the Auction Branch.

I have, &c.,

Sir,

Surveyor-General's Office, Sydney, 11 July, 1854.

I have the honor to state with reference to the advertisement in the Government Gazette respecting Licensed Surveyors, that Mr. P. Francis Adams, who has applied for such employment, has on examination been found qualified satisfactorily to perform the duties required of him, and to request that you will therefore submit my recommendation to His Excellency the Governor-General, that Mr. Adams should be appointed a Licensed Surveyor accordingly, and be gazetted as such in the usual manner.

CROWN LANDS ALIENATION ACT OF 1861.

(OPINION OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL AS TO RESERVATIONS FOR MINING PURPOSES.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be printed, 1 May, 1884.

Subject:—Re application of section 4 of Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861 to the reservation of large areas from sale for Mining purposes.

I HAVE the whole of the papers in this case submitted to me, and have also had the advantage of perusing and considering the case on which this question originally arose (that of reserves from sale for mining purposes) in 1879. I have patiently read and considered the report in that case of the Deputy Surveyor-General, the memorandum of the Secretary for Lands, and the opinion of the Attorney-General. I have come to the conclusion that the view of my colleague the Minister for Lands is the true one—that under the 4th section of the Act of 1861 such reserves were not contemplated. The public purposes contemplated by this section were necessarily of the same kind as those specifically mentioned, namely, sites for cities and towns, and for preservation of water supply. I think the reasoning of the Deputy Surveyor-General, in his memorandum of date 24th September, 1882, is unanswerable.

ATTENTION is respectfully invited to the statement opposite,* which appears to call for action to arrest and perhaps punish the abuses and breach of the law which the parties here named have obviously concocted.

It is impossible to resist the conclusion that these paupers have been employed with the design of securing land for the persons at whose expense they have been taken, and who have supplied the funds to enable them to select large areas of land by conditional purchase.

Such a design is rendered unlawful by the Lands Act Amendment Act of 1875, and I submit that the parties who have combined for this purpose are liable to be dealt with criminally for the conspiracy.

I would invite attention to the enclosed telegram from the Land Agent at Walgett, from which it will be seen that the money paid for the selections of Hugh McIvor, Joseph Smith, S. H. Britton, and W. T. Jones was handed to each man as he selected, by Mr. R. D. Morris, stock and station agent at Walgett, who waited for the receipts. I presume this person would be available as a witness, and could be made to state from whom he obtained the money so employed.

It seems probable that the design is that the selections should pass to the persons for whose benefit the affair has been contrived, by will, on the decease of the nominal selectors, one of whom is ninety-two years of age (Samuel Henry Britton).

Measures can probably be taken to scrutinize any such wills, and prevent probate being obtained without due investigation. Transfers of the selections could only be obtained on production of the Crown Solicitor's certificate after probate had been granted, and in the event of any breach or failure in the conditions of selection, or at the expiration of the prescribed term for their observance, an investigation could be held before a Commissioner under the Act before mentioned. At least the Minister would have to be satisfied of the due fulfilment of the conditions bona fide. I therefore apprehend that the law would have been found sufficiently strong to prevent any other than a temporary advantage being obtained by the persons concerned (at a cost hardly remunerative) at the worst.

The question as affecting the selections will be separately submitted; but the more immediate concern is to deal with the conspiracy which has, I believe, been concocted and carried out in this matter, and as to which I would respectfully suggest that the Crown Law Officers should be referred to.

I would call attention to the enclosed memoranda of statements voluntarily made to me at the Erysipelas Hospital on Saturday, from which it will be seen that offers were made to at least four other inmates to go up the country, no doubt with the same objects.

A. O. M.,

24/7/1882.

CONDITIONAL PURCHASES EXTRAORDINARY.

It is said that an Act of Parliament has never yet been passed through which it is not possible to drive a coach and six. Certainly, since the passing of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, a very large amount of ingenuity has been exercised to take advantage of its provisions in a manner contrary to the intention of its framers. Instances of dummying have been numerous, and not always successful, for in many cases those who have employed dummies have lost both money and land. The number of forfeited dummy selections is great, and the revenue received from that source amounts to upwards of a quarter of a million sterling. The legal records show in some celebrated cases how the law has been violated; but the most remarkable instances of selection that have ever taken place in New South Wales occurred a few weeks ago, when six paupers were taken from a public asylum and placed in possession of a square mile of land each. The men, delighted with the prospect of so rosy a change, could not refrain from singing the praises of dummyism and the disinterested generosity of their patrons. This is not a fancy picture. On learning what was taking place, our reporter first visited the Liverpool Asylum to ascertain all the facts of the case, but failed to elicit the desired information. Parramatta was next tried on the 27th ultimo, and with success. At the Erysipelas Hospital he was informed by the Lady Superintendent that on three different occasions Mr. Hugh Taylor, recently Member for Parramatta, visited that Institution in company with a gentleman whom he introduced to her, but whose name she was not quite certain of. She said, however, that she believed it to be Walsh, and that he was a squatter. They came to make inquiries with reference to obtaining some of the inmates from the Institution, but for what purpose she did not know. She had heard the men themselves saying that they were going "dummying," an expression which several of them kept repeating, "We're going dummying—we're going dummying!" She knew they were supplied with clothing before they went. Mr. Taylor and a Mr. Dunn chose the men, and Mr. Walsh was introduced to her when they were going away. The Superintendent also stated that on a previous occasion Mr. Taylor took two men out of the Institution, and that he got lodgings for them in Parramatta and supplied them with clothing before he sent them away.

The books of the Institution showed that within three weeks previous to the 27th ultimo the following had been discharged:—John Smith Jones, Hugh Dick, Hugh McIvor, Samuel Henry Britton, Joseph Smith, and William Thomas Jones.

On

On the 28th June a telegram was sent from this office to Mr. Hubert Dillon, Crown Lands Agent at Walgett, asking to be informed whether any of the persons above-mentioned had recently selected land in his district, and, if so, what quantity had been taken up. To this telegram no reply was received. On inquiry at the Telegraph Office to ascertain whether the message had been delivered to the Land Agent, information was obtained that it was delivered at once, that Mr. Dillon had referred to the Minister, and had been instructed to refer the Herald to the Under Secretary for Lands, for information. Yesterday the following telegram was received from Mr. Dillon :—" Am instructed to refer you to Department of Lands for information wired for by you on 29th ultimo." An application was accordingly made yesterday, and the requisite information promptly and courteously given. The undermentioned six conditional purchasers bear the same names as the six paupers recently taken from the Erysipelas Hospital at Parramatta, and they now hold 6 square miles of land taken up under the conditional purchase section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act. We give not only the names but also the dates of selection, the land districts, the runs on which the conditional purchases are situated, the names of the present lessees of the run, and the name of the former lessee :-

[Enclosure B to No. 14.]

GEORGE Cott, states :—When Mr. Taylor came and said he wanted some men, I went to him and said jokingly " I suppose you want some 'dummies,'" at which he laughed, but said nothing. I said " I am willing to go," and he wrote my name down in his note-book. Mr. Taylor told us that we should be comfortably clothed and fed, and provided with a hut whether we worked or not, and that those that liked to work would be paid for their labour. When the other men were going I was asked to go, but had changed my mind in the mean time and refused, thereupon Mr. Taylor struck my name out of his book and wrote another instead, I think Jeremiah Connor. Although I had been in joke at first about dummies, I was asked to go with the others quite in earnest.

Jeremiah Connor states :—Mr. Taylor asked for some men to go up the country; he said they would have no work to do but to sit down on a station and take charge of a hut. He said they would have plenty to eat and drink, and tobacco and clothes, and no work to do unless they liked, but if they worked they were to be paid for it. He said this to the whole crowd. I agreed to go, and Mr. Taylor said he would take me another time; he has not sent for me yet. He said he wanted the men for three years.

John Holland states :—I met Mr. Taylor and asked him if he was sending men up the country, he said yes, and asked me if I would like to go. I said " yes, on terms." Mr. Taylor said " I am sending men up to a gentleman in the country, and you can make any terms up there." This was after the first men went. Mr. Taylor said he would be back again in a week or two, and would see me again about it.

George Wales states :—Mr. Taylor said he wanted some men to go up the country; he said there would be no work to do except perhaps to look after a few sheep; that they would have a hut to live in and plenty to eat and drink, and tobacco, and would be paid for any work they might do on the station; they would be taken up there free of expense. I went to see Mr. Taylor afterwards, and he said he would take me with the next lot.

No. 15.

Memorandum by Chief Commissioner.

REVERTING to the matter of the conditional purchases recently made in the names of paupers who had a short time previously been withdrawn from the Erysipelas Hospital, I now respectfully invite attention to the circumstances of these cases, and to the state of the law as bearing upon them, with a view to its being decided whether apart from other considerations final action should not at once be taken to dispose of the applications and land affected by them.

I may state that, apart from the statements that have appeared in the Press, I have, by personal inquiries at the Asylum and examination of the official records, satisfied myself that the substantial facts are as follows, and I submit this as an official statement :—

Mr. Hugh Taylor, of Parramatta, visited the Erysipelas Hospital on several occasions early in June, or during the previous month; on one of which occasions he intimated his desire to obtain the services of some men for employment up the country, telling them that they would be supplied with clothing and necessaries; sent to their destination free of expense; kept in a comfortable hut, and fed and supplied with tobacco; that they would not be required to do any work, except perhaps look after a few sheep or take charge of a hut, but if they wished to work they would be paid for their labour. Mr. Taylor took down the names of several men who were to be sent for on a subsequent occasion. On another visit Mr. Taylor was accompanied by another gentleman; and the Matron of the Institution, hearing that they were about engaging men, saw them with the object of warning them against one man of indifferent character. The gentleman who accompanied Mr. Taylor was introduced to her as Mr. Walsh. Mr. Dunn, butcher, of Parramatta, was also concerned in the withdrawal of certain of these inmates, and arranged for them to be sent for on a particular day, when a coach was to be in readiness (presumably at the railway) to take them to their destination. Ultimately John Smith Jones, Hugh Dick, Samuel Henry Britton (aged 92), Hugh McIvor (68), Joseph Smith (74), and William Thomas Jones (who has lost a leg), who had been selected by Mr. Taylor and Dunn, and seen by Mr. Walsh, left the Hospital, and having been supplied with new clothes by their employers, returned those which they had worn in the Hospital.

On the 22nd June John Smith Jones conditionally purchased 640 acres of land at Narrabri, and on the same day at the same place Hugh Dick conditionally purchased 640 acres, both in runs of which Mr. John Walsh is one of the present lessees. On the 29th June, the remaining four men each conditionally purchased 640 acres of land at Walgett, on the Pokataroo Run, of which also Mr. John Walsh is one of the lessees. In the latter case the old men were accompanied by Mr. R. D. Morris, stock and station agent, who handed money to each of them as the applications were lodged, and waited for and received receipts from the Land Agent.

On

On the 23rd June, John Smith Jones and Hugh Dick respectively applied through their agent for pre-emptive leases of adjacent Crown Lands to the extent of 1,020 acres each.

The enclosed illustrative sketches show approximately the positions of the respective conditional purchases, which have obviously been taken with relation to one another, to the reserves and frontages, and on a carefully considered common design. With other selections (one of which is prepared in the same handwriting as two of the others and those of John Smith Jones and Hugh Dick, and is in the name of John Robert Walsh, aged seventeen years), they embrace and command a large extent of frontage, and render the residue of little value to any other applicants.

Now I would call attention to the 9th section of the Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875, which enacts as follows:—9. "No person shall become the conditional purchaser of any land who is in respect of the land which he applies to purchase or any part thereof a servant of or an agent or trustee for any other person or who at the time of his application has entered into any agreement express or implied to permit any other person to acquire by purchase or otherwise the land for which he applies but all land applied for to be conditionally purchased shall be for the bona fide use and benefit of the applicant in his own proper person and not as the servant agent or trustee of any other person. And all contracts agreements and securities made entered into and given with the intent of violating or which if the same were valid would have the effect of violating the provisions of this section and all contracts and agreements relating to land hereafter conditionally purchased made or entered into before at or after such purchase and to take effect wholly or in part at or after the completion of the conditions required by the 18th section of the 'Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861' shall be and are hereby declared to be illegal and absolutely void whether at law or in equity. And if any person shall in violation of the provisions of this section become the conditional purchaser of any land all the right title and interest of the conditional purchaser or of his assignee having notice of such violation and all moneys paid in respect of such land and the land itself with all improvements thereon shall on notification to that effect in the Gazette be absolutely forfeited and the said land shall again become Crown Lands open for conditional purchase or sale by auction as the case may be under the provisions of the 'Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861' and of this Act."

I would ask can any reasonable doubt be entertained that the conditional purchases of these large areas of Crown Land by paupers from a public pauper Asylum, carry on the face of them proof of the audacious transaction?

Whatever course may be taken to give effect to the breach of the law committed by the parties concerned as regards personal penalties, it is not a question admitting of serious discussion that the land must have been conditionally purchased by the paupers as the servants or agents of some other person, under some agreement expressed or implied, and that it cannot have been purchased for their "bona fide use and benefit." The Act attaches the penalty of forfeiture to the breach of its provisions above quoted, and does not (as in some other matters) indicate any particular course of procedure to be followed previously to the notification in the Gazette.

I have not the least hesitation in recommending that the conditional purchases of John Smith Jones 640 acres, and of Hugh Dick 640 acres, made at Narrabri, on the 22nd June, 1882, and of Samuel Henry Britten 640 acres, Hugh M'Ivor 640 acres, Joseph Smith 640 acres and William Thomas Jones 640 acres, made at Walgett, on the 29th June, 1882, be declared forfeited by the authority of His Excellency the Governor and the Executive Council, for violation of the provisions of the ninth section of the Lands Acts Amendment Act 1875.

Mr. Morris informs me that Mr. Harvey Waugh called on him, and asked him to see to the selections of some friends of his on the following day. Next day he called again with Mr. R. L. Dunn and the old men and handed him £800 in notes, counting out £160 for each selection. Waugh and Dunn had a whispered conversation which Mr. Morris noticed. Accompanied Waugh and Dunn and the old men to the Lands Office, and handed the receipts for deposits to Waugh, in whose company he last saw the old men. Applied for the pre-leases by Waugh's direction, and also received from him the money for these. Has never seen Walsh, Rennie, or Elliott—knows nothing of any agreement; acted merely as agent in the way stated; parties did not confide in him further.

H. S. Mackay, local Bank Manager (Commercial Bank), probably knows where the money came from. A.O.M., 8/9/82.

Mr. Licensed Surveyor Landon to The Surveyor-General.

Sir, Survey Camp, Pokataroo Run, Walgett, 20 September, 1882.

I have the honor to transmit herewith the plan of a portion of land containing 640 acres, and numbered 24, in the parish of Roberts, in the county of Denham, conditionally purchased by Robert Laddell Dunn, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, and measured by me on the 19th September, 1882, in accordance with instructions No. 213 issued to Mr. District Surveyor Finley and transferred to me.

The applicant was not resident at the time of survey, a quantity of timber for building purposes was on the ground, but no improvements had been proceeded with pending survey.

The tree marked D referred to in the description is situated on the Thalaba Creek, at the north corner of the portion.

I have, &c.,

ARTHUR LANDON,
Licensed Surveyor.

Minutes on No. 31.

Received, 7 February, 1883. Now forwarded to the Surveyor-General, 8 February, 1883.—F. G. FINLEY, District Surveyor.

By Surveyor-General:—This conditional purchase is not measured in accordance with description, which requires the survey to the cardinal points. Probably the conditional purchaser was ignorant of the true position of the cardinal points. In any case such a survey would be unobjectionable and not in accordance with regulations. The survey has been modified so as to be at right angles with the general flow of the creek, and it is recommended for acceptance under 13th and 14th clauses of Crown Lands Amendment Act of 1875.—ROBT. D. FITZGERALD (for Surveyor-General), 24 January, 1884.

By the Secretary for Lands:—Approved.—J.S.F., 20/3/84.

Description.

640 acres, county of Denham, parish of Roberts, portion 24: Commencing at a point bearing north 49° 2' east, and distant 137 chains 52 links from the eastern corner of portion 1 of 162 acres; and bounded thence on the south-east by a line bearing north 45° east 80 chains; on the north-east by a line bearing north 45° west 72 chains and 16 links to the left bank of Thalaba Creek; on the north-west and part of the south-west by that creek downwards in a direct line about 87 chains 50 links to a point bearing north 45° west from the point of commencement; and on the remainder of the south-west by a line bearing south 45° east 35 chains and 1 link, to that point.

The Chief Commissioner to The Crown Solicitor.

Sir, Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, Sydney, 22 December, 1882.

I have the honor, by direction of Sir John Robertson, to submit to you the accompanying reports from the police in relation to selections made by late inmates of the Liverpool Asylum and the Erysipelas Hospital, Parramatta, on runs of which Messrs. Walsh, Elliott, and Rennie in one case, and Mr. A. H. M'Culloch in the other, are the lessees or in possession of, with a view to informations being prepared against any of the parties named in the reports, who may have rendered themselves liable to prosecution for conspiracy or otherwise.

With regard to Walsh, Rennie, and Elliott's cases, I would point out that certain persons were removed from the Erysipelas Hospital through the agency of Mr. Hugh Taylor and R. L. Dunn or Robert Dunn of Parramatta, after having been selected by Mr. Walsh of the above firm; that clothes were supplied to them by Mr. Taylor and others, and the passage by rail and coach to Walgett of four of them paid by Dunn and Walsh.

I am also to add that particulars are given of the arrival of the other men (four) at Gunnedah in charge of Mr. John Rennie of the same firm, the coach seats to Narrabri being booked by telegraphic message from Walsh in Sydney.

It appears also that the undermentioned persons assisted in the making of the conditional purchase applications, viz., Harvey Waugh (selector); Richard Devine Morris (stock and station agent), at Walgett; and Rennie and John R. Walsh (manager of Oreel Run), at Narrabri.

The foregoing is an epitome of the cases, the particulars being fully shown in my minutes, and the accompanying summary, and the police reports.

I have, &c.,

A. O. MORIARTY,

Summary of statements re dummymg.

Detective Office, Sydney, 23 August, 1882.

MR. HUGH TAYLOR and R. L. Dunn, or Robert Dunn, of Parramatta, in company with another man supposed to be Walsh of the firm of Walsh, Elliott, and Rennie, visited the Erysipelas Hospital, Parramatta, and took out six of the inmates. They, with two other men referred to in statements, were clothed and supplied with food by Taylor, four of them being taken to Dubbo by rail by Dunn, who purchased tickets, for which he paid £10 9s. 3d.; Walsh, formerly of the firm of York and Walsh, engaged their seats by coach from Dubbo to Walgett, which he paid for with his own cheque; Dunn also paid for their food at Dubbo.

Samuel Britton,
Wm. Thos Jones,
Hugh M'Ivor,
Joseph Smith.

The four men named in the margin went to the Lands Office, Walgett, in the company of Harvey Waugh, selector; Richard Devine Morris, stock and station agent; and Richard L. Dunn, of Parramatta; the latter selected 640 acres and paid a deposit of £160.

Similar applications were handed to the four men by Morris for signature, after which he gave them the deposit money and told them to call at his office for the receipts. Morris pointed out the situation of the land on the maps. The whole of the selections join the one first selected by Dunn, and each selection starts from a tree marked with the initials of the applicant. The applications were brought to the Lands Office prepared, and appeared to have been filled in by the same person.

Morris took up pre-leases for these selection on the following day, which are on the Pokataroo Run, in the district of Walgett. About the 19th June, Mr. Walsh called at the office of Messrs. Wright, Heaton, and Company and made inquiry with reference to coach fares from Gunnedah. On the 20th June eight men arrived by train at Gunnedah in charge of John Rennie, of the firm of Walsh, Elliott, and Rennie; nine seats were booked by coach from Gunnedah to Narrabri by telegraphic message from Walsh in Sydney.

John Cook,
Robert Whittle,
Jno. Smith Jones,
Hugh Dick.

Four of these men were taken to Oriol Station, and their coach fare paid, either by Rennie or Walsh.

The four men named in the margin selected 640 acres each.

Rennie and John R. Walsh, manager of Oriol Run, took up selections on the same day.

Either Rennie or Walsh is believed to have taken the receipts for the four old men's selections.

The applications were filled in when brought to the Lands Office.

Sub-Inspector Camphin to The Inspector-General of Police,

Detective Office, Sydney, 2 August, 1882.

Sir, I have the honor to report for your information that Detective Tindall and I have made inquiry at Parramatta relative to a number of inmates of the Erysipelas Hospital who were said to have been engaged by Mr. Hugh Taylor to proceed to a station up country. Statements were taken herewith of a number of persons, residents of Parramatta, by which it will be seen that the inmates in question were taken from the Asylum by Messrs. Taylor and Dunn, that clothing was purchased for them by Taylor, and that four of them proceeded by train on the 19th June, in company with Mr. Dunn, to Dubbo, who purchased their railway tickets.

I have, &c.,

W. CAMPHIN,
Sub-Inspector of Detectives.

Parramatta, 1 August, 1882.

Sarah Cunninghame states:—I am Matron Superintendent of the Macquarie-street Asylum; I believe, on the 19th June last, I saw Mr. Hugh Taylor and two other persons—I think one of them was Mr. Dunn—at the Asylum; Mr. Taylor introduced the strange gentleman to me, but I forget the name—he was a stout man; I did not see the six men referred to leave the Asylum, but I discharged them in the morning at their own request; the six men left the Asylum in their own clothing; I had no previous conversation with Mr. Taylor with regard to the destination of these men, as it is usual for him to take men out; it was the general conversation among the men that they were going dummymg, but I cannot assign any reason why they said it.

S. CUNNINGHAME.

Parramatta, 1 August, 1882.

George Cunningham states:—I am dispenser for the Asylum and Gaol; in the early part of June last Mr. Taylor met me in Church-street, and told me that he wanted to get some men for a friend of his up country; he did not say who it was, and asked me if he could get them; I told him to go up to the Asylum and see for himself; two or three days after this this the inmates asked me when Mr. Taylor was coming to see them again; in consequence of the men continually annoying me I told Mr. Taylor, whom I had met in George-street, Parramatta, and asked him when he would require the men; he then produced a telegram, which he read, stating that the coaches were engaged for a few days, but as soon as his friend would let him know he would take the men away; he did not say whom the telegram came from.

GEORGE CUNNINGHAME.

Parramatta, 1 August, 1882.

Frederick Thomas Adams, clerk in the Asylum, states:—I saw Mr. Hugh Taylor about the 17th June last at the Asylum; he asked me if there were any strong men in the Asylum, that he wanted some, and I told him he would be the best judge himself; I believe Mr. Robert Dunn, coach proprietor, of Parramatta, was with Mr. Taylor; they left me in the office and went into the yard amongst the men; I don't know what took place in the yard, and I did not see him on his return; I again saw Mr. Taylor and Mr. Dunn at the Asylum on the 19th of June, between 3 and 4 in the afternoon, and they went in the yard again, and returned with the inmates named in the margin, and left the Asylum together; Mr. Taylor said he wanted them to work on a station, but did not state the name of the person who was to employ them, and that there was plenty of work for any person who was willing to work; Mr. Taylor has frequently called at the Asylum for men, and there did not appear anything unusual about his engaging the six men spoken of.

Macquarie-street Asylum, Parramatta, 1 August, 1882.

George Cott states:—I am an inmate of the Asylum; about six weeks ago Mr. Hugh Taylor and another man that I don't know, came to the Asylum; they went into one of the wards to see a blind man named Charles Obey; they then went into the yard, and Mr. Taylor took his pocket-book out, and a number of the inmates surrounded him, and I heard him say that he wanted twenty-five men to go up country (Dubbo) to select some land, and a tall man named Bourke said he might put his name down; Mr. Taylor said to Bourke "You stop behind," and did not take his name down; I then spoke to Mr. Taylor and said, "Do you want men to go dummies?" he looked at me and said "You seem to know all about dummies"; I then told Mr. Taylor "to put my name down," which he did; he took other names down besides mine, and said he would be in next week; about a fortnight afterwards he came to the Asylum in company with another man and called out the names of Jones (a man with a wooden leg) and another named M'Ivor; four men left that day, and two left previously, and I heard boarded in the town; I told Mr. Taylor to strike my name off the list—that I did not feel inclined to go up country; he asked me the reason; I told him "my legs were getting very bad"; this took place in the evening, and Mr. Taylor said "There is no time to be lost—some of you have to go by the boat and some in the train"; Mr. Taylor mentioned the gentleman's name who was in his company, but I forget it; he appeared to be in the butchering line; he said that what men went up and could not work would have plenty to eat, and those that could work would be paid for their labour; he did not fix the part of the country they were to go, but said the other side of Dubbo; I don't think I could identify the man who was in company with Mr. Taylor on the first occasion or second; Mr. Taylor did not offer any money to my knowledge, but said the men would get rations, tobacco, clothing, and those who could work would be paid for their labour, and a hut to live in.

Parramatta, 1 August, 1882.

Jeremiah Connors states:—That about six weeks ago I remember Mr. Taylor coming to the Asylum; I did not see any person with him on the first occasion; I heard him say he wanted a lot of men, about twenty, to go up the country somewhere beyond Dubbo, to take charge of a hut, and that they would get plenty to eat and drink, and clothing; he said they would have nothing to do, but those that did work would be paid for their labour; about a week afterwards Mr. Taylor called again, accompanied by another man whose name I do not know; he took my name down and others, and said that he would come again and take the men away; about a week afterwards he came again, accompanied by another man, but not the same man who was with him previously, and called out the names of some men that he took away, and I remember one of them was named Hugh M'Ivor, and another of the men had a wooden leg; Mr. Taylor put my name on the list on the second occasion that he called, but did not ask me to go.

George Wales states:—About six weeks ago Mr. Taylor came to the Asylum and said he wanted twenty-five men to go up the country, to live in humpies or huts, and they were to receive clothing and rations, but to receive no wages unless they worked on the station like another man, and those able to work he would find employment, and that they might be expected to mind a few stud sheep, but they would not be paid for that; he did not name any person into whose service the men had to go, but said it was a long way up country; my name was put down by Mr. Taylor as one of the twenty-five men; about a fortnight afterwards Mr. Taylor came again, in company with another man, whose name I do not know, but I think I would know him again—he was cleaned shaved; I also believe there was a third man with them, a big stout man; on the second occasion he came he selected the six men out of the twenty-five names that he had previously taken, and I recollect Jones, a man with a wooden leg, was one of them; he said he would come again in a few days and take them away and get them clothing and what they required; a great many men were anxious to go, as Mr. Taylor said there would be plenty to eat and drink and plenty of clothes, and nothing to do; on the third occasion Mr. Taylor, with another man, who had been with him previously, took the men away that he had previously selected; I asked him to take me, and he said he would see what he could do for me when he wanted the next lot; I heard one of the inmates (I do not know his name) ask the man who accompanied Mr. Taylor what sort of a place it was where they were going to, when he marked on the ground with his stick a square and said there was a big house in the centre where the gentleman lived who was going to employ you, and that they were to live all around him at certain distances apart; I cannot say if Mr. Taylor heard this, as he was some distance away; it was the general conversation among the men that they were going dummies, and Mr. Taylor was present and might of heard it; the men engaged left the Asylum in their own clothing.

Alfred Hughes, draper, Church-street, Parramatta, states:—That on Monday, 19th June last, Mr. Hugh Taylor told me that he would bring some men down for some clothing; he asked me what I could supply coats, trousers, and vests for; I told him 35s.; he said he had to see a person at Homebush, and he would let me know; he came down again about 2 o'clock p.m. and said those men will be down the same afternoon; I think eight men came about 2.30 p.m.; some named in margin; they were all supplied with an outfit; I think the bill was £14 odd; I sent the goods by three boys in my employ—Alfred Mortimer, Albert Weeks, and Thomas Ralph—to Mr. Taylor's butcher's shop; Mr. Hugh Taylor paid me this bill about two days after the 19th June last; I saw Rennie, of the firm of Walsh, Rennie, and Elliott, carcass butchers, I think, on the morning of the 19th June last, get into Mr. Taylor's buggy and ride away; Mr. Taylor said the men were going away up the country.

SENIOR-SERGEANT BREMNER, Parramatta Police, begs to report that Mr. Sub-Inspector Camphin was in Parramatta to-day, making inquiry with reference to the Parramatta paupers free-selecting land at Walgett in June last.

About 8 p.m. this day, Mr. Hugh Taylor, of Parramatta, called upon the Senior-sergeant and said, if the detective police had called upon him, he would have given them full information of the transaction. He is desirous that this should be made known to the Inspector-General of Police.

Detective Office, Sydney, 3 August, 1882.

I have seen John Harvey, Chief Officer of the s.s. "Kembla," residing at No. 163, Harris-street, Pyrmont. He states that he remembers four (4) old men leaving by the "Kembla" about six weeks ago. It was by an order that they went, and he believes from an Asylum, that is, the order was from an Asylum, but he will not be positive. The order will be found at Newcastle.

Police Department, Inspector General's Office, Sydney, 2 August, 1882.

[Important.]
On the 19th of June, four of the men out of the six named in the margin, were taken second class by rail from Parramatta to Dubbo. I wish Mr. Grainger to make the most prompt and careful inquiries to ascertain who accompanied these men to Dubbo.

Who received them there? Who paid for their refreshments? Who booked them by coach and paid their fares? Their destination? If any one accompanied them by coach? If any other similar men (possibly John Cook, aged 62, and Robert Whittle, aged 41, walks with two sticks) were booked by coach from Dubbo, shortly before or after the above date?

As the information is required with a view to a criminal prosecution, I wish the whole facts to be thoroughly investigated, and the statements of witness to be taken down in writing and signed.

The Government desires that this matter may be promptly and carefully attended to.

I send this memo. direct to save time.

Police Station, Dubbo, 3 August, 1882.

I HEREWITH enclose the statements of Mr. Orbell, hotel-keeper, and of Mr. Hamilton, Cobb & Company's Booking Agent at Dubbo, in reference to the arrival here of some old men, when en-route from Sydney to Walgett. Mr. Orbell remembers seeing four old men who were at his hotel with a Mr. Robert Dunn, a publican of Parramatta; Mr. Dunn ordered breakfast for the old men and left in the coach with them for Walgett; Mr. Hamilton recollects seeing the old men, but cannot say if they are identical with the persons whose fares were taken in Sydney on the 19th June last, all in the name of Dunn, and who arrived at Dubbo the next morning; I cannot learn the names of these men; it seems they only arrived here by the morning train, and left the same day for Walgett by coach; their fares were paid at Sydney, at Cobb & Company's office; the waiter, Joseph King, who was paid by Mr. Dunn for the old men's breakfast at the "Royal Hotel" here, is now at the Coffee Palace, George-street, Sydney; he may be able to give some information.

I have not been able to ascertain if any other similar men were booked here by coach about the time referred to, but I will make further inquiries and report.

Dubbo, 3 August, 1882.

D. D. Hamilton, of Dubbo, states:—I recollect seeing four or five old men coming to the coach office at the "Royal Hotel" here one morning—I cannot state the date; they were booked in Sydney for Walgett, and left the same day on which they arrived, by coach for the latter place; I cannot remember if any other person accompanied these old men; I did not hear any of their names; I recollect they wore coarse clothing, and strong boots, without stockings; there is an entry in my book of five fares from Sydney to Walgett on the 20th June last, in one name "Dunn"; they were booked in Sydney on 19th June last.

D. D. HAMILTON.

Witness—E. GRAINGER, Sub-Inspector.

Sydney, 4 August, 1882.

W. G. Boulton, booking-clerk to Messrs. Cobb & Company, Pitt-street, Sydney, states:—That on or about the 16th June last, Mr. Walsh, whom I knew at one time to be a member of the firm of York & Walsh, came to this office and applied for eight seats on the coach from Dubbo to Walgett; I informed him that, as the roads were bad, I would first have to ascertain from Dubbo if the coach could carry that number, and he replied that he would call in the following Monday (19th) which he did, and I then informed him that the coach could only take five, and that he had better apply to Wright Heaton & Company, agents for R. J. Nowland's coaches to Walgett via Gunnedah; however he took the five seats, and told me to enter them in the name of Mr. Dunn; and drew one of his own cheques for the amount, viz., £21 15s.

W. G. BOULTON.

Witness—W. CAMPHIN.

Sydney, 4 August, 1882.

Richard Vallengey Kelly states:—I am booking-clerk for Messrs. Wright, Heaton & Company, Sydney; about a month or five weeks ago, Mr. Walsh, whom I know by repute as a carcass butcher, called at this office and made inquiry with reference to coach fares by R. J. Nowland's coach from Gunnedah; to what place I cannot remember, but I think beyond Walgett, and not knowing the exact amount that the coach proprietor would charge (we being agents to book as far as Walgett), I advised him to book at Gunnedah, as he would then find out the exact fare; Mr. Walsh did not apply for a particular number of seats, but said he only wished to know the fare, so that he could give the amount to the party he was sending away.

Sydney, 15 August, 1882.

Hubert Dillon, Police Magistrate, Walgett, states:—On Thursday, the 22nd June last, about 10 a.m., Harvey Waugh, selector, Richard Devine Morris, stock and station agent, and Richard L. Dunn, of Parramatta, came into the Lands Office with four old men, dressed in new clothing; Waugh said to Morris "I suppose I can leave it to you"; Morris replied, "Yes, see me at my office"; he (Waugh) then left the Lands Office; applications for conditional purchases of 640 acres each, under 13th section, were then lodged; first by R. L. Dunn in his own name, he paying a deposit of £160, and received receipt for same, and left the office immediately; similar applications were then handed by Mr. Morris to the men named in the margin for signature, each application was signed; Mr. Morris gave the applicant some bank notes, and told him to hand them to me with the application; Mr. Morris then asked me if the amounts were correct; on my replying "Yes," he (Morris) told the applicants to call at his office for the receipts, which he took charge of; Mr. Morris pointed out the situation of the land on the maps; the whole of the selections joined the one first taken up by Dunn, each selection starting from a tree marked with the initials of the applicant; the applications were brought to the Lands Office prepared, and appeared to have been filled in by the same person; Morris took up pre-leases for all these selections on the following day; all the selections above referred to are on the Pockataroo Run, in the Land District of Walgett.

Dear Moriarty,

Police Department, Inspector-General's Office, Sydney, 23 August, 1882.

Mr. Camphin will see you and hand over all the statements we have been able to obtain as yet respecting the dummying, also an epitome of the same.

Perhaps you will be able to add further particulars from your records, or suggest the direction of further inquiries.

We shall not be able to get much nearer to the facts without seeing the old gentlemen themselves on the subject, but before this is done you ought, I think, to get legal advice as to future action.

Yours faithfully,

Police Department, Inspector-General's Department, Sydney, 11 September, 1882.

[Urgent.] FORWARDED to Superintendent Sanderson.

I wish the attached paper to be sent to Mr. Walker, for his prompt and careful attention personally. He is well acquainted with all the circumstances, as I have had to communicate with him direct on the subject previously.

Please inform Mr. Creagh that Mr. Walker is instructed to undertake the business, though out of his district, as he knows the case and the people in his former sub-district.

Sir John Robertson desires that no trouble may be spared to elicit all the facts without delay.

EDMUND FOSBERY,

Inspector-General of Police.

The Chief Commissioner to The Inspector-General of Police.

My dear Fosbery,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 9 September, 1882.

Mr. Williams has been here, and in consultation with Sir John Robertson has stated it to be of great importance that the statements of the old men who have been employed as dummies at Walgett, Narrabri, and Dubbo should be obtained, as to the arrangements made with them about taking up the land, and in particular as to any agreements, leases, wills, or other documents which they may have been asked to sign in reference to it.

Sir John asks me to say that any expense that it may be necessary to incur in obtaining these statements or any other that may tend to elicit information as to any such agreements will be met by this Department, and that he would be glad if you could depute any competent officers of yours in the localities (or if necessary send one or more from Sydney) to see the men and make inquiries.

It may be necessary to state that there is no intention of bringing the men themselves into any trouble, and if desirable they may be so assured; but of course they are liable as well as their employers, and if held harmless it should be on condition of their telling the truth without reserve.

I enclose a list of the men, and the localities in which they have selected.

Yours faithfully,

A. O. MORIARTY.

Re invalids discharged from Parramatta Asylum—Dummying.

Police Station, Gunnedah, 22 September, 1882.

I beg to forward the attached statements of these eight men; and in doing so I beg to state that no reliance whatever can be placed in six of the statements, the other two I believe are truthful, viz., Hugh Dick and William Thomas Jones; these two men appear to be respectable, and are very anxious to get away from the stations.

I found John Smith Jones, Robert Whittle, and John Cook, living at Oreel head station; they just potter about the station and do as they pretty well like; Hugh Dick was camped on a selection on the Merrywinbone Station, belonging to William Woods, who was an overseer at Pokataroo. Hugh M'Ivor and Samuel Henry Britton are camped upon Harvey Waugh's selection on the "Grawin," Pokataroo Run. William Thomas Jones and Joseph Smith are camped on the "Thalaba," Pokataroo Run. Jones was in at Waugh's selection for water when I saw him, and he was quite amused at the two old fellows, Hugh M'Ivor and Samuel Henry Britton saying the money was their own that they took up the land with. I promised William Thomas Jones that the Government would not prosecute him if he told the truth, but made no promise to any of the others.

The Mr. Morris mentioned by Jones, who supplied them with the money at Walgett and filled up the applications for them, is a stock and station agent, residing at Walgett, and his full name is Richard Devine Morris.

ALEX. B. WALKER,

Sub-Inspector.

Minute on above.

Forwarded for the information of the Inspector-General of Police.—C. SANDERSON, Superintendent, 23rd September, 1882. The Inspector-General of Police, Sydney.

1. John Cook, selector on Oreel Station, states: That he had some money of his own when he left the Hospital at Parramatta, and borrowed the rest to take up the land on Oreel Station; he declined to tell whom he borrowed the money from; and the arrangements made with the party whom he borrowed the money from were, that if he could make a living on the selection he was to pay back the money and keep the selection, and if he could not make a living he was to sell the selection to the party who lent him the money.

Cook states he did not sign any agreement, did not make his will or lease his selection, and the only papers signed were at Narrabri, when he was taking up the land.

2. Robert Whittle, selector on Oreel Station, made no statement; could not get him to talk about the selection at all.

3. John Smith Jones, selector on Orrel Station, states :—I do not know who spoke to me about going up the country ; I was told at Parramatta that if I came up the country there was a good opening ; I do not know who said this to me ; I do not know who brought me up the country ; I was given some money in Newcastle by a friend—I don't know who he was ; I don't think I had 10s. when I came to Narrabri ; cannot say who gave me the money to select with ; I never signed any agreement or made a will.

4. Hugh M'Ivor, selector on the Pokataroo Station, states :—I took the land up for myself ; the money was sent to me from America, and it is well known in Paddington that I had money ; I never signed any agreement about taking up the land, nor have I made a will.

5. Samuel Henry Britton, selector on the Pokataroo Station, states :—The money I took up the land with was my own ; the only papers I signed was when I was taking up the land in Walgett ; I have made no agreement about taking the land up ; I took it to make a living on, and have not made a will.

6. William Thomas Jones, selector on Pokataroo Station, states :—I, in company with Hugh M'Ivor, Samuel Henry Britton, and Joseph Smith, came from Parramatta with Mr. Dunn, who paid our way up to Walgett ; Mr. Taylor, at Parramatta, first spoke to me about going up the country to take up land ; I did not understand anything about selecting ; I was told by Mr. Taylor that I could get plenty of work when I got up to the place ; in Walgett a Mr. Morris filled up the applications and handed us the money to take the land up with ; I have not signed any agreement, nor made a will ; I have heard Hugh M'Ivor and Samuel Henry Britton make statements that the money was their own they took the land up with in Walgett, which is false ; the money was given them by Mr. Morris, who is an agent in Walgett ; when I am brought before a Magistrate I will tell the truth as to all I know about the matter.

7. Joseph Smith, selector on the Pokataroo Station, states :—I have made no arrangement with any person about taking up the land—made no will ; I have no friends in the Colony, and no person to will my land to ; I don't intend to will it to any person ; the money I took the land up with was my own ; no person put me on to the land ; I knew it years ago, when I used to drove ; Mr. Morris filled up the application in Walgett, and I signed it.

8. Hugh Dick, selector on the Merrywinbone Station, states :—The first man I saw about coming up the country at Parramatta was Mr. Hugh Taylor, who told me that if I came up the country to a station I would get plenty of rations, good clothes, and drink ; a Mr. Dunn brought Robert Whittle, John Cook, John Smith Jones, and myself from Parramatta to Sydney by train ; we met Mr. Rennie on the platform in Sydney ; we had tea on arriving, and understood Mr. Rennie paid for it, but I did not see him ; after tea I asked Mr. Rennie where we were going ; he said, to a gentleman where we could get plenty of rations, good clothes and drink—we need not work unless we liked, but if we wished to work we would get the preference of any work on the station ; we started the same night for Newcastle and went on to Narrabri ; Mr. Rennie accompanied us, and during the trip treated us to drink several times ; I did not know who Mr. Rennie was until we arrived at Narrabri—then I heard several people call him Mr. Rennie ; we stayed at Curley's public-house there for a day ; a messenger was sent to tell us to come down to Gordon's public-house ; there we met two or three gentlemen, who told us to come with them, and we went to the Lands Office ; one of the gentlemen handed me a roll of bank notes with a piece of paper wrapped round, and my name written on it ; I did not know who the gentleman was at the time, but have since known him as Mr. David Walsh, living at Orrel Station ; I did not know how much money was in the roll of notes ; I was told to hand it over to the Land Agent by Mr. Walsh ; one of the other old men handed his money over to the Land Agent before me ; he received his in the same way I did, and same instructions ; when I arrived in Narrabri I had not one shilling of my own ; made no agreement whatever, and did not know what I was going to do until I went to the Lands Office at Narrabri ; there I signed two papers, in two places ; cannot say what they contained, only that I saw my name on them ; I have made no will ; about three weeks after we arrived at Orrel, David Walsh told me that I should have to go and live on the selection ; I saw about the selections in the papers, and I told Walsh that if I had known there was anything illegal I would not have had anything to do with it ; Walsh said, " That is nothing—it will all blow over " ; since I came out to Merrywinbone I have received a letter from the Government, telling me that the land was cancelled ; Mr. Rennie came out, and I gave him the letter to read, and he took it away with him.

Re the dummies : the statements forwarded are copies from my pocket-book. I could not get these men to sign them. I had to be very careful and not let the station people know what I was after, or the men would have been put out of the way. I had to travel over 100 miles from the time I saw the first man up to the last. Constable Coolahan, of Millie, was with me and heard the statements.

Memo. by The Attorney-General for Inspector-General.

To procure, without delay, memos. of all proofs in connection with Hugh Dick's conditional purchase pre-lease, &c.

To communicate with Mr. Crown Solicitor, who is preparing information and will conduct case.

To prefer information when ready at one of the Metropolitan Police Offices, as being most convenient for conduct of prosecution.

To consult Attorney-General before filing information, as one of the defendants is a Member of the Assembly, and the Attorney-General is anxious that such defendant should be subjected to as little inconvenience in the discharge of his Parliamentary duties as possible ; and as the Session is drawing to a close, some slight delay may effect the object in view.

To be particular in getting the fullest particulars from the local Land Agent.

No. 34.

The Inspector-General of Police to Mr. Superintendent Sanderson.

Police Department, Inspector-General's Office, Sydney, 29 January, 1883.

THE Attorney-General now requires some further inquiries to be made in this matter, which should be taken in hand by Mr. Walker.

It should be ascertained where all the men referred to (from the Asylum) are now residing, and how they are engaged and supported.

They should all be seen personally, and their statements taken down in writing in their own words and signed by them, such statements of course to refer to the means and arrangements by which they took up their selections.

I shall probably be in Tamworth about Friday or Saturday next, and at Narrabri about this day week, and if necessary I could see Mr. Walker at either place if he require further instructions, but no time should be lost in attending to it.

Police Department, Inspector-General's Office, Sydney, 2 August, 1882.

Sub-Inspector Walker will be good enough to make careful and prompt inquiries to ascertain whether any men, possibly some of those named in the attached list, arrived by rail at Gunnedah before or after the 20th of June, but probably about that date.

If any one was in charge of or accompanied them, and who he was?

Who paid for their refreshments?

Who booked them by coach or otherwise, and paid their fares?

If they were accompanied further on; by whom; and to what destination?

All other information obtainable.

This is requested for a criminal prosecution. The statements of witnesses should therefore be in writing and signed.

The Government desires that special and prompt attention may be given to this case.

Mr. Walker, knowing the facts from the public papers and from his knowledge of the people concerned who reside in his late district, may have to follow up the investigation there. In any case, I require the fullest information he can obtain. He should telegraph to me if necessary.

I send this direct to save time, but the Superintendent should be informed.

EDMUND FOSBERY,

[Enclosure B to No 34.]

Re invalids discharged from Parramatta Asylum.—Dummying.

Police Station, Gunnedah, 9 August, 1882.

I BEG to report, for the information of the Inspector-General of Police, that I have made inquiries in accordance with his instructions, and I find that eight men arrived by train at Gunnedah on the 20th June last, in charge of Mr. John Rennie, of the firm of Walsh, Elliott, and Rennie. Nine seats were booked on coach from Gunnedah to Narrabri by telegraph message from Mr. Walsh, Sydney. No names are mentioned in the booking office; only nine seats to Mr. Walsh.

Mr. Guest is the only person who would give me a written statement as to what he knew about the matter. I thought it best to get a statement from the Lands Agent at Narrabri as to what he knew about the matter. Mr. Gordon will be an unwilling witness, but will tell the truth when put upon his oath, and knows more than I could get out of him in conversation. Mr. Curley will give good evidence, and stated that he would tell all he knew when put upon his oath, but refused to sign any statement. Curley will prove that he sent four of these men to Orel Station, and was paid either by Mr. Rennie or Mr. Walsh for taking them out, and for their accommodation to Narrabri. Mr. Duff, of Millie, will be an unwilling witness, but I think will tell the truth when put upon his oath. John Cook and Robert Whittle each selected 640 acres, the same day that John Smith Jones and Hugh Dick did at Narrabri, on 22nd June last.

The Mr. Walsh mentioned by Messrs. Curley and Duff is no relation to Mr. Walsh, of the firm of Walsh, Elliot, & Rennie; he is the manager at Orel. He met Mr. Rennie at Narrabri. The party who kept the public-house at Gunnedah where these men stayed has left and has gone to Walgett. I did not think it necessary to go to Walgett to see him, so I have sent to Mr. Smith to see this man, and I will let the Inspector-General know the result as soon as possible after I receive it. I have had very great difficulty to get any information at all, as Walsh, Elliott, & Rennie are very good customers to the publicans. Some of them are constantly on the road, and there is a great deal of sympathy expressed for Walsh Elliott, & Rennie.

I have done my best in the matter, and I trust it will meet with the Inspector-General's approval.

ALEX. B. WALKER,
Sub-Inspector.

[Appendix to Enclosure B.]

Mr. George Field, Manager for Wright, Heaton & Company, saw a number of old men get out of the train at Gunnedah, about the 20th of June last. Mr. Rennie, of the firm of Walsh, Elliott, & Rennie, was with these men. One of the men had a wooden leg.

Patrick Nowland, who was acting as agent for Nowland's coaches in June last, received a telegraph message from Sydney, from Mr. Walsh, to book nine seats from Gunnedah to Narrabri on the 20th of June last. Nowland saw the eight old men with Mr. Rennie get into the coach, and leave Gunnedah en route for Narrabri, taking the nine seats booked by Mr. Walsh by telegram. Nowland also remembers seeing the old man with the wooden leg.

Mr. Thomas Guest, innkeeper at Boggabri, remembers Mr. Rennie, of the firm of Walsh, Elliott, & Rennie, arriving at his house by mail coach from Gunnedah, some time the latter end of June last. Mr. Rennie had seven or eight old men with him. He paid for their supper. Also thinks one of the men had a wooden leg.

William Gordon, innkeeper, Narrabri, remembers Mr. Rennie, of the firm of Walsh, Elliott, & Rennie, arriving at Narrabri by coach on or about the 21st of June last. Mr. Rennie had some old men with him. He stayed at Gordon's inn with some of the old men. Gordon stated that the rest of the men stayed at Mr. Curley's inn.

Thomas Curley, innkeeper, Narrabri, stated that four of Mr. Rennie's men stayed at his place; one of the men had a wooden leg, and they did not pay for their own accommodation. Mr. Curley gave me to understand that either Mr. Walsh or Mr. Rennie paid him. He also stated that he saw Walsh with the old men while they were staying at his house. Mr. Curley sent the four old men that were staying at his house in some conveyance to Orel station, and was paid either by Mr. Rennie or Mr. Walsh. This Mr. Walsh is no relation to the owner of the station; he is the superintendent at Orel, and met Mr. Rennie at Narrabri. One of the men that stayed at Curley's place had a wooden leg.

James Duff, innkeeper, Millie, can prove that four of these men were brought to his place at Millie in Curley's conveyance; they stayed a couple of days at Duff's; Mr. Walsh paid for their accommodation; Mr. Walsh told Duff on his road down that these men were coming, some few days before they arrived.

Narrabri, 7 August, 1882.

Mr. L. S. Gordon, land agent at Narrabri, states:—I recollect the 22nd of June last; four old men selected on that day; three on Orel Run, named John Smith Jones, John Cook, and Robert Whittle, and one on the Merrywinbone Run, named Hugh Dick; I believe Mr. Rennie was about the office at the time these men tendered their applications; John Rennie and John Robert Walsh also took up selections on the same day on Orel and Merrywinbone; I believe young Walsh got his receipt; I believe the four old men did not get their receipts at the time, but I am under the impression that I gave the receipts for these men either to Mr. Walsh or Mr. Rennie some short time afterwards, as they appeared to be in a great hurry to catch some cart that was leaving the town at the time; I would know Mr. Rennie or Mr. Walsh again; I believe I would know the four old men again if I saw them; I did not give the form of application out of my office; they came to the office at 2 o'clock with their applications already made out; I never saw the men before that morning.

LAMBART S. GORDON,
Crown Lands Agent.

Boggabri, 5 August, 1882.

Thomas Guest states:—I am the owner of the "Australian Arms Hotel," Boggabri; I recollect Mr. Rennie, of the firm of Walsh, Elliott, & Rennie, arriving at my house by mail-coach from Gunnedah some time the latter end of June last; Mr. Rennie had seven or eight old men with him, and he paid for their supper; one of the men had a wooden leg; I am quite sure the person who paid me was Mr. Rennie—I know him well.

THOMAS GUEST.

Telegram from Sub-Inspector Walker, Gunnedah, to Inspector-General of Police.

Sydney, 11 August, 1882.

Eight invalids left Gunnedah on coach with Mr. Rennie. The four mentioned in my report went to Orel Station. Rennie booked five seats from Narrabri to Gunnedah on the 23rd June, taking two of the old men with him back to Sydney. Cannot find out who the fourth seat was for—probably another of the old men. Mr. Walsh, who met the men at Narrabri, and returned to Orel with them, is Manager for Walsh, Elliott, & Rennie, at Orel.

No. 35.

Sub-inspector Walker to Superintendent Sanderson.

Re invalids discharged from Parramatta Asylum.—Dummying.

Police Station, Gunnedah, 15 February, 1883.

I RESPECTFULLY beg to report, with reference to the above, that in accordance with the Inspector-General's orders, I proceeded to Oreel Station; I there found Robert Whittle and John Smith Jones; Robert Whittle resides in a humpy about 75 yards from the station kitchen; he obtains his rations from the station, and lives by himself; he just works about the place and does what he pleases; he refused to give me a statement, and said when the time came he would prove where he obtained the money that he took up the selection with.

John Smith Jones works in the station kitchen and sleeps in a room adjoining; he gave me a statement and signed it, which I attach.

John Cook, the other selector on Oreel Station, died in the Narrabri Hospital on the 15th December, 1882.

Hugh Dick,* the Merriwynbone selector, became dissatisfied about three weeks ago and left the station for Sydney. Dick has a brother either in Newcastle or Sydney in the Military or Police service.

*I will make further inquiries respecting this man.—E.F.

Joseph Smith I found on the Thalaba Creek, Pokataroo Run, living in a one-roomed hut made of sawn slabs and galvanized iron roof, on land which he claims as his selection. He receives his rations from Harvey Waugh, a selector on Pokataroo Run, who keeps a store; it takes Smith all his time to gather a little firewood and cook his rations. Smith gave me a statement, which I attach.

Hugh M'Ivor has a hut the same as Joseph Smith, a few rods higher up the creek, but he was not there. I found him camped upon Waugh's selection, in company with Samuel Britton and William Thomas Jones; these three men, Hugh M'Ivor, Samuel Britton, and William Thomas Jones, were camped in the same place, where I saw them on the 18th September last, and they are supplied with rations by Waugh, who, it is rumoured, has sold out to the station, but has to complete his residence. M'Ivor and Britton stated that they had been on their selections, but wore then away through illness; Jones stated that he never lived on the land that is supposed to be his selection; the two old men M'Ivor and Britton are unable to do any work, but Mr. T. Jones was over at Oreel Station working during the shearing. These three men declined to give me a statement as to the means and arrangements by which they took up their selections, but from Jones's manner I am quite sure he will tell the truth when put upon his oath. He is rather a simple kind of man, and appears to be afraid of the station people.

[Enclosure B to No. 35.]

Thalaba Creek, 11 February, 1883.
Joseph Smith states:—I took up this selection on the 29th June, 1882, at Walgett; the extent of the selection is 640 acres; I saved the money, and I thought the best thing I could do was to take up this land, much better than drinking the money; I have a hut built of sawn timber and galvanized iron roof; I am also putting up a fence; the timber in the house has been brought 40 miles; I am also sinking a tank myself; I purchase my rations at Mr. Waugh's store, about 7 miles away from here; the house higher up the creek is on a selection, and is owned by a man named Hugh M'lvor; he has a house the same as mine; he also has a tank on his selection; he also gets his supplies from Mr. Waugh's store.

Re dummying.

Sir,

Detective Office, Sydney, 20 February, 1883.

I have the honor to report for your information that I yesterday saw Hugh Dick at the Erysipelas Hospital, Parramatta, when he voluntarily made the attached statement, which was witnessed by Peter C. Abbott, Clerk at the Hospital.

I have, &c.,

W. CAMPHIN,

Inspector of Detectives.

Minutes on No. 36.

Submitted for the Attorney-General's information.—EDMUND FOSBERY, Inspector-General of Police. B.C., 20/2/83. Previous reports also herewith.—W.W.S., 21/2/83.

[Enclosure A to No. 36.]

Re dummying.

Erysipelas Hospital, Parramatta, 19/2/83.

Hugh Dick states:—That on or about the 19th June, 1882, I was selected with five others by Mr. Hugh Taylor, of Parramatta, to go up country on to a station; he told us that we would have our food, clothing, and a comfortable house to live in, and if we worked we would be paid according to the value of our labour; we came into the office; Mr. Taylor said, "Now you men who are going up the country come and speak to this gentleman"; Mr. Walsh was in the office and Mr. Taylor said, "This is the gentleman whom you are going to engage with"; he (Walsh) then repeated what Mr. Taylor had already told us, but added the engagement was for five years, and that any of us who wished to work would have the preference to any one else; we were supplied with clothing from Hughes, draper, by Mr. Taylor; four of us went to Sydney by the 4 p.m. train with Mr. Dunn, of Parramatta, who is connected with the omnibuses; he left us at a boarding-house in Sydney with Mr. Rennie, who had accompanied us from the Sydney Railway platform; he (Rennie) went with us to Newcastle, and I saw him go to the ticket-office at the Railway Station and he afterwards gave us our tickets for Gunnedah; we had been in the hotel there and left the same night for Narrabri, where we arrived about the 21st June; we stayed in the hotel that night, and about 10 a.m. next morning a man named Marshall (who I think was at one time employed about the Protestant Hall, Sydney) told us that Mr. Rennie wanted us; we saw Rennie and Mr. Walsh, Manager of Oreel Station; Rennie called out, "Who is Hugh Dick?" I replied, "I am the man"; he said, "You go now with this man" (meaning Walsh); I said, "All right"; the other three men were passed on in the same manner; we went up the street, and I thought I was at my journey's end; Walsh took me into the Lands Office; handed me a roll of what appeared to be bank notes; my name was on a slip of paper folded round the bundle, and he motioned me to give it to the person behind the counter; a paper was signed for me, as I cannot write, which I acknowledged; I did not know the contents of this paper; the Land Agent remarked to Mr. Walsh that this was taken up; he (Walsh) said not that; this was on some certain part of the creek which I did not know; the agent said perhaps it is different on your map; about two days afterwards we were conveyed to Oreel Station in a spring trap, 72 miles, by a person from the hotel in Narrabri called Tom; I lived at the station about seven or eight weeks; during that time I made myself useful doing little jobs; during this time I saw an account of the dummying cases in the papers, in which my name was mentioned; I spoke to Mr. Elliott about it when he visited the station; he told me everything was all right, I could commence to make improvements on my selection; I did not know up to the time I saw the account in the newspapers that I possessed a selection; I afterwards went to work at a public-house now being put up on the station; I worked there for twenty weeks, for which I was paid 10s. per week; I never went on to my selection, nor have I made any improvements; I spoke to Mr. Walsh, the manager, about three days before I left the station; I asked him to put me on to my selection, as I could not be about the station doing nothing; he told me that he was going to get water carted; that there was no tank put down; I paid my own expenses to Sydney out of the money (£10) I had earned.

Re Dummying.

Detective Office, Sydney, 16 March, 1883.

Hugh Dick further states:—That since my return to Sydney from the station, I have called upon Mr. Walsh at his residence, Surry Hills, about the beginning of February last; I told him that I had come down purposely to see him; that I felt grieved at the way in which I had been used; I told him that the engagement we had made at Parramatta was, that we were to be found in food and clothing, and a comfortable house to live in for five years; I also told him that I did not know I had gone up country for the purpose of taking up land, and I did not know anything about it until I saw my name in the newspapers; Walsh then said "I will see you at the Post Office at 10 a.m. to-morrow along with Mr. Elliott"; I was at the appointed place at 10 a.m., and waited until 12 noon, but did not see either of them there; I called at Mr. Walsh's residence about eight days afterwards, and spoke to him about going back to the station; he said he had nothing to do with it.

Memorandum by The Attorney-General.

On the 19th February, Dick, who has returned to the Erysipelas Hospital, Parramatta, voluntarily made to Mr. Camphin, Inspector of Detectives, the following statement, which has been witnessed by the Clerk of the Hospital.

I have come to the conclusion that there is in the statements now before me sufficient evidence to justify me in directing proceedings to be taken against certain persons named herein, and who appear to have combined for the purpose of defeating the legitimate operation of the Acts regulating the alienation of of Crown Lands. I am not quite certain that I might not have been justified in proceeding under the 9th and 10th sections of the 39 Victoria, No. 13, which apply to agreements, whether express or implied, between conditional purchasers and others when the former act as servants or agents of the latter in making conditional purchases, which are not for the bona fide use and benefit of the applicant in his own proper person. It is clear, if the statements here furnished are capable of proof, that this conditional purchaser, Hugh Dick, was simply taken for the purpose of conditionally purchasing as the servant or agent, and for the bona fide use and benefit of another; in other words, that his employment was a direct violation of one of the principal provisions of the "Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875." It will be more convenient, however, it seems to me, to proceed by way of conspiracy. This offence will be established by proving that the several persons charged were acting in concert for the attainment of a particular object, that object being the violation of the provisions of the law to which I have referred. An information will be immediately prepared and submitted to me for approval before being filed, against Hugh Taylor and Robert Dunn, of Parramatta, John Robert Walsh, and John Rennie.

WILLIAM B. DALLEY,

No. 38.

Memorandum by The Attorney-General.

Re alleged dummying cases by patients of Erysipelas Hospital, Parramatta.

On taking office, I found that these papers had not been dealt with; and that the necessary information to enable the Law Department to take action in the matter did not exist. I communicated with the Inspector-General of Police, and pointed out what information it was necessary to obtain, and how in my judgment it might be procured.

To-day the Inspector-General has furnished me with a report which will enable me to initiate proceedings.

The facts are briefly the following:—

Early in June Mr. Hugh Taylor had, in a conversation with the Dispenser of the Asylum, George Cunninghame, intimated that he (Taylor) was anxious to obtain seven men from that Institution for a friend of his in the country, and desired to know how he could get them. This conversation the Dispenser seems to have communicated to some of the inmates, who were anxious to see Taylor. The Dispenser again saw Taylor, who in answer to an inquiry as to the time when he would require the men, produced a telegram, which he read, stating that the coaches were engaged for several days, but as soon as he heard from his friend who wanted the men, he (Taylor) would take the men away. On the 17th June, Taylor visited the Asylum, accompanied by Robert Dunn, coach proprietor, of Parramatta, both of whom went into the Asylum yard amongst the inmates. On the 19th they both visited the Asylum again, saw the men, and took away with them the following inmates:—

William Thomas Jones, Hugh Dick, Joseph Smith, Hugh McIvor, John Smith Jones, Samuel Britton.

There is abundant evidence that, on one or other or both of these visits, Taylor, in Dunn's presence and hearing, represented that the men taken away would get rations, tobacco, clothing, and house-room, and would not be required to work. There is some evidence (to which I attach no importance) that something was said about dummying. On the 19th June, Taylor, who had previously seen Alfred Hughes, draper, of Parramatta, and made inquiries concerning cost of wearing apparel, called at 2 p.m. and said that some men who were to be supplied with outfits would come on presently. Soon after eight men came, and were supplied with articles of clothing to the value of £14. These things were sent to Taylor's shop, and paid for by him. Money was also paid by him to a restaurant-keeper in Church-street, Parramatta, for refreshments supplied to some of these men. On the same night Dunn paid £10 9s. for four second and one first-class tickets at the Parramatta Railway Station for certain old men (not identified, but apparently from the Asylum), one of whom had to be lifted into the carriage. Taylor was present on the platform. One of these persons was a cripple; another was 92 years of age; a third had but one leg. Four of these men went by rail to Dubbo, accompanied by Richard L. Dunn, of Parramatta. These were Britton, Jones, McIvor, and Smith. On their arrival at Dubbo seats in the coach to Walgett were taken for them by Walsh, of the firm of York & Walsh, and paid for by his cheque. The men went to the Lands Office in the company of Richard L. Dunn, and made applications for conditional purchases, which were handed to them for signature by Morris, a stock and station agent, by whom the deposit money was paid, and who pointed out on the maps the situation of the land selected. On the following day Morris took up pre-leases for these selections, which are all situated on Pokataroo Run, in the district of Walgett. On the 20th June seats were booked by coach from Gunnedah to Narrabri for, amongst others, John Cook, Robert Whittle, John Smith Jones, and Hugh Dick, their fares being paid by an agent of Walsh, of the firm of Walsh & Elliott. These four men took up selections of 640 acres each on the Orel Station.

It is with the last of these men—Hugh Dick—that I shall at present concern myself, for it is on a statement made by him that I am in a position to take proceedings.

Mr. A. H. M'Culloch to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

4, Wentworth Court, Elizabeth-street, Sydney, 17 August, 1882.

I have the honor to inform you that I have just heard with astonishment that a man in the Detective Force has been making inquiries in the neighbourhood of my office in reference to selections on a run in which I am interested, saying that it is done at the instance of your Department. As I regard this as offensive, in that it raises the inference of clandestine operations, I desire to say that if there is any information you require which is within my power, it will afford me pleasure to furnish it to you, and the more so as I have reason to believe that it will dispel erroneous ideas of facts.

No. 15.

Memorandum by Chief Commissioner.

I HAVE the honor to invite attention to the enclosed reports forwarded to me by the Inspector-General of Police with respect to the engagement, about the end of March last, of three paupers in the Liverpool Asylum, viz., George M'Kay, aged 38 years (who was under medical treatment up to the time of his discharge on the 12th April), and Henry Collier, aged 72 years, and John Thompson, aged 67 years, who were, pursuant to an inquiry from Mr. A. H. M'Culloch, of No. 4, Wentworth Court, as to obtaining three men to proceed to his station, taken out of the Asylum, Collier and Thompson on the 29th March, by a Mr. Peake (who represented himself as Mr. M'Culloch's clerk), and booked to go by the Colaine coach at Cobb and Company's office, the fare for the two latter being paid by Mr. Peak, by Mr. M'Culloch's cheque.

On the 30th March, at Dubbo, Henry Collier and John Thompson respectively conditionally purchased areas of 640 acres on the Pentagong Run, and on the 20th April George M'Kay conditionally purchased 640 acres on the Duck Creek, No. 77, and Lower Canonbar Run.

These runs are stated to be in possession of Mr. A. H. M'Culloch.

On the 14th and 24th April I received letters from George M'Kay, Henry Collier and John Thompson, requesting that all communications with respect to their conditional purchases might be addressed to Mr. R. Peak, of No 4, Wentworth Court, as their agent.

It would really seem as if the parties engaged in this transaction were acting in open and undisguised defiance of the law and its administration. As suggested in some other cases, not more glaring than this, it would be idle to doubt that the above conditional purchases have been applied for under some agreement express or implied for the benefit of some person other than the applicants in their own proper persons, and as any such purchases are in violation of the 9th section of the Lands Acts Further Amendment Act of 1875, I cannot hesitate to recommend that they be notified in the Gazette as forfeited, under the authority of His Excellency the Governor and the Executive Council.

No. 18.

The Crown Lands Agent, Dubbo, to The Chief Commissioner.

Sir,

Crown Lands Office, Dubbo, 22 August, 1882.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 19th instant, in which you request to be informed how the deposits on the conditional purchases as quoted in the margin were paid (and if by cheque, whose cheque), and any other information I might be in a position to give with reference to the conditional purchases above quoted.

With regard to conditional purchases Nos. 125/1882 and 126/1882, Henry Collier and John Thompson, these parties were both accompanied by Mr. J. B. Dulhunty, of the firm of Dulhunty & Ryan, stock and station agents of this town, and who lodged a cheque for £360, drawn by A. H. M'Culloch, "in favour of the Land Agent"; and which cheque covered the deposits on these selections, and two other selections applied for by Mr. J. B. Dulhunty and Wm. L. Murphy, Nos. 127/1882 and 128/1882 on the same day. I am certain that the deposits on the conditional purchases above mentioned were paid by cheque, as on that day the sum of £614 9s. was collected as per margin, and was made up as per copy of Bank deposit slip, dated 31st March, 1882, herewith.

With reference to George McKay, this person was I think accompanied by Mr. Dulhunty, who handed the applicant the deposit money when tendering application.

The amount collected on that day, viz., 20th April last was £243 10s., and was an account as per margin; and was made up as per copy of Bank deposit slip dated 21st April, 1882, herewith.

I am unable to give any further information respecting the within-mentioned applicants, as I am not certain whether they were elderly men or not, but think they were.

I may also mention that it is quite a common thing for applicants to be accompanied with different parties in the town when applying for land in this district, and who sometimes give their own cheque as the deposit that might be required.

I have, &c.,

H. ROXBURGH,

Crown Lands Agent.

Mr. Licensed Surveyor Burgess to The Surveyor-General.

Sir, Quambone, via Dubbo, 13 October, 1882.
I have the honor to transmit the plan of one portion of land containing 640 acres, numbered one (1) in the parish of Carwell, county of Gregory, applied for by Patrick Hand, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, and surveyed in accordance with instructions dated the 23rd March, to Mr. District Surveyor Dalglish. Improvements, fence, £30.

Applicant was residing on the selection at time of survey in a tent erected. He stated that he had made a mistake in the description of his land when I pointed out the direction of the lines as described in his application. It is evident that the land surveyed is the land intended to have been described by applicant.

I have, &c.,

A. P. BURGESS,
Licensed Surveyor.

P.S.—Applicant's tent was pitched close to the southern boundary of the portion on the Marthaguy Creek, and he then thought he was well on his selection. The woilshed which was in course of erection, and which had been commenced after the land was selected, was not supposed to interfere at all with the land described; finding that it would do so if the description was strictly adhered to, and applicant being under the impression that he was on the land described, I measured it adjoining water reserve 1186, there being no conflicting claims on the south.

Report by Robert C. Franks, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of Patrick Hand, made at Dubbo on the 9th March, 1882.

Sir,

Duck Creek, 24 October, 1882.

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 14th October, 1882, and that I found the selector then resident upon this selection.

The land, which consists of forest land, and comprises 640 acres, is occupied and used by Patrick Hand as his residence, and the selector, who follows the avocation of drover, had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sums respectively stated, viz., nil. Some wire fencing of lessee's. Selector, who is a man about 45, and has the appearance of a working man, states that he was a boundary-rider on the station on which this selection is situated. Name of station, Sandy Camp; lessee, Mr. A. H. McCulloch. He states that he is in no person's employment at the present time nor since he selected; that he was about building a house, and had commenced to get timber. He was residing in a tent on the selection, in which he had his food, clothes, bedding, &c.

From the appearance of the land and the circumstances stated in the following remarks, I am of opinion that the selector has been continuously resident upon the selection.

Report by Robert C. Franks, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of John Miller, made at Coonamble on the 10th March, 1882.

Sir,

Duck Creek, 24 October, 1882.

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 14th October, 1882, and that I found the selector then resident upon this selection.

The land, which consists of forest and scrub land, and comprises 640 acres, was occupied and used by J. Miller as his residence, and the selector, who follows the avocation of drover, had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sums respectively stated, viz. :—

House not completed, worth about	£40	0	0
A bark hut	10	0	0
						£40	10	0

John Miller is a man about thirty years of age, of superior appearance, states he is a drover and has just returned from a trip. He had his blankets on the place, and stated that he went to a Mrs. Gilmore's for his meals, about $\frac{1}{2}$ a mile from his selection. The selector says he sleeps on the place regularly except when at work.

From the appearance of the land and the circumstances stated in the following remarks, I am of opinion that the selector has been continuously resident upon the selection.

I have, &c.,

Report by Robert C. Franks, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the selection of John Connor, made at Dubbo on 7 February, 1882.

Sir,

Duck Creek, 24 October, 1882.

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the above-described conditional purchase on the 19th October, 1882, and that I found the selector then resident upon this selection.

The land, which consist of forest land, and comprises 610 acres, is occupied and used by J. Connor as his home, and the selector, who follows the avocation of carrier, had at the time of my visit made the improvements hereunder particularly described, the value of which I estimate at the sums respectively stated, viz. :—

House of slabs, with iron roof	£30	0	0
300 acres ring-barked	£18	15	0
						£48	15	0

John Connor is a man of about thirty-five years of age, has the ordinary appearance of a working man, states he is a carrier; he had a bullock waggon and gear at the house on the selection, which he claimed as his own. The house, which was nearly completed, appeared to have been resided in for some time.

From the appearance of the land and the circumstances stated in the following remarks, I am of opinion that the selector has been continuously resident upon the selection.

The Chief Commissioner to The Crown Solicitor.

Sir, Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Branch, Sydney, 22 December, 1882.

I have the honor, by direction of Sir John Robertson, to submit to you the accompanying reports from the police in relation to selections made by late inmates of the Liverpool Asylum and the Erysipelas Hospital, Parramatta, on runs of which Messrs. Walsh, Elliot, and Rennie, in one case, and Mr. A. H. M'Culloch in the other, are the lessees, or in possession of, with a view to informations being prepared against any of the parties named in the reports who may have rendered themselves liable to prosecution for conspiracy or otherwise.

* * * * *
* * * * *

With respect to the cases on Mr. M'Culloch's run, the men were withdrawn from the Liverpool Asylum pursuant to inquiry by Mr. M'Culloch's clerk, Mr. Richard Peek; a somewhat similar course of procedure being adopted in this as in the other cases, the fares by coach of two of the men being paid for by Mr. M'Culloch's cheque.

The men were accompanied when making the applications by J. B. Dulhunty, agent at Dubbo, who tendered Mr. M'Culloch's cheque for the deposit money.

The foregoing is an epitome of the cases, the particulars being fully shown in my minutes and the accompanying summary and the police reports.

I have, &c.,
A. O. MORIARTY,
Chief Commissioner.

Summary of statements re dummying.

Detective Office, Sydney, 23 August, 1882.

In March last, Mr. Peak, clerk to Mr. M'Culloch, visited the Liverpool Asylum on several occasions; he took Collier and Thompson from the Institution; he told them before engaging them that they would have food, clothing, and tobacco, and would not be expected to work, but would be paid for any work they might do. He booked these two men at the office of Messrs. Cobb & Co., Sydney, for Colane, and paid the amount £6 10s., with H. M'Culloch's cheque.

George M'Kay left the Asylum on the 12th April last, and was booked at Messrs. Cobb & Co.'s office, Sydney, for Colane. The clerk cannot remember who paid for the seat. This man selected 640 acres of land at Colane, in the police district of Dubbo, and was accompanied by J. B. Dulhunty, who handed M'Kay the deposit money.

John Connors left the Erysipelas Hospital, Parramatta, on the 13th January, 1882. He selected on the 2nd February, and was accompanied to the Lands Office by Howard MacFarlane, Maiden, Hill, and Clark's agent.

Henry Collier and John Thompson selected on the 30th March last, and were accompanied by J. B. Dulhunty, agent, who tendered A. H. M'Culloch's cheque for deposit money, which he says he obtained from the Bank of New South Wales. Dulhunty paid their expenses at Dubbo, the amount being refunded by Mr. M'Culloch. Mr. Peak, of Sydney, also communicated with Dulhunty, and asked him to assist the applicants in taking up the selections.

Patrick Hand selected on the 19th March, 1882, and was accompanied to the Lands Office by J. B. Dulhunty, agent, who is believed to have handed the applicant the deposit money.

John Miller was booked at the office of Messrs. Cobb & Co., Sydney, on the 13th March, 1882, for Coonamble; by whom not known. He selected on the 16th March, the deposit money being obtained from the Bank of New South Wales. The selection is on Mr. M'Culloch's run, Marthaguy. Mr. Spofforth, Manager of Bank of New South Wales at Coonamble, subsequently applied for the pre-lease of Miller's selection. Miller could not describe the land he selected.

[Enclosure B to No. 32.]

My dear Fosbery, Department of Lands, Sydney, 10 August, 1882.

I enclose you original documents, being conditional purchase applications made at Dubbo, on the 30th March last, by John Thompson and Henry Collier, each for 640 acres of land on the Pentagon Run (held by the Bank of New South Wales by transfer from A. H. M'Culloch). John Thompson and Henry Collier were discharged from the Liverpool Asylum on the 19th March. Also an application by George M'Kay for 640 acres on the Duck Creek Run; this is dated 20th April. George M'Kay was also discharged from the Liverpool Asylum on the 19th April.

Each of these old gentlemen has, you will observe by letter, appointed Mr. Richard Peek, of No. 4, Wentworth Court, his agent in respect of the property in question. No. 4, Wentworth Court is the place of business of Mr. A. H. M'Culloch, who is stated to me to be Mr. Peek's employer.

You have the newspaper statement as to the circumstances attending the removal of these old men; or the two first named. I have reason to believe that Dr. Strong, the medical officer at Liverpool, Mr. Scrivener of that town, and Mr. Ashcroft of Macquarie Fields, near Liverpool, can give information; the latter as to Mr. M'Culloch's purchase of a run near Dubbo.

I write you separately about other matters.

Yours faithfully,
A. O. MORIARTY.

I also enclose an original application from John Connor for 640 acres on Mount Foster Run, applied for at Dubbo on 2nd February, 1882. John Connor was discharged from the Erysipelas Hospital on 13th January, 1882.

Re invalids discharged from Liverpool Asylum.

Sir, Detective Office, Sydney, 14 August, 1882.

I have the honor to report for your information that I have made inquiry at the Liverpool Asylum with reference to the discharge of the inmates named in the margin—statements herewith; from which it appears that these men were engaged for a station of M'Culloch's, and their fares by coach were paid for by Mr. Peek, M'Culloch's clerk.

Liverpool Asylum, 11 August, 1882.

Dr. Strong states:—I am the Surgeon Superintendent at the Liverpool Asylum; I remember a Mr. Peek coming, who the asylum clerk (Killett, since deceased) stated was Mr. M'Culloch's messenger, to the Asylum; he said he had come to get some men for a station; my reason for remembering this fact is, that I heard Mr. Peek making an arrangement with a sick sick man, and I went out and advised him not to take this man, if he required any work from him; he, Peak, replied, that he did not require him to do any work, but that if he was required to work he would be paid for it; that is all I know about it; the man George M'Kay was an inmate of the hospital, and was discharged cured on the 12th April, and left the Institution on the same day; I only know from what Kellett said that the man's name was Peak.

Liverpool Asylum, 11 August, 1882.

Mary Burnside states:—I am Matron at the Liverpool Asylum; I remember the day that Collier and Thompson left the Asylum; I cannot fix the exact date from memory, but I should think about four months ago; a person, who represented himself as Mr. M'Culloch's clerk, came to the Institution and saw the late clerk (Kellett, since deceased); Kellett, the clerk, informed me that he said he wanted some men to dig rolly-pollys for Mr. M'Culloch; I said, "Tell him to go down to M'Kenzie in the recreation ground, and he will show him what men there are, and he can suit himself"; this refers to the first visit of the man who took Collier and Thompson away; on the subsequent visit I did not speak to him; the man who came for Collier and Thompson was tall, about forty years of age, and lame; he was accompanied by a little boy.

MARY BURNSIDE.

Liverpool Asylum, 11 August, 1882.

William M'Kenzie states:—I am constable of the recreation-yard at Liverpool Asylum; I remember the day that Collier and Thompson left the Asylum; it was in the latter end of March last; a few days previous to this a man came to me, and I have since been informed that his name was Peak; I believe he was lame; he asked for Collier; I believe he had previously been to see Collier, and when he asked for Collier I suggested some other person, as I wished to keep Collier for milking the cows; I finally brought Collier to him, and he said "that he wanted him to go on to a station; that he would give him a hut, grub, clothes, and tobacco, but no wages; but that if he did any work he would pay him for what work he did, but that he need not work unless he liked"; there was some other conversation, which I forget; on the first visit of Mr. Peak I was absent on leave, so I cannot speak as to what took place, and my duties were performed by a man named Simmonds, who has since left the Institution, and who is in the employ of a gentleman in Sydney, but I don't know who he is.

WILLIAM M'KENZIE.

Liverpool Asylum, 11 August, 1882.

William Martin states:—I am a wardsman at the Liverpool Asylum; I know Henry Collier, who was an inmate of the Liverpool Asylum; I remember him leaving the Institution, about four months ago I should think; he told me that "he was going on a station at Canonba"; he did not leave in the clothes usually worn by the inmates of the Asylum; I believe he wore the clothes in which he was admitted; I have since received a letter from Collier, in which he stated "that it was a full-bellied station he was on, and not much work to be done"; by a full-bellied station I mean where he got plenty to eat.

Liverpool Asylum, 11 August, 1882.

Charles Vauder Gucht states:—I am chief wardsman in the hospital at the Liverpool Asylum; I remember, about a fortnight prior to Collier and Thompson leaving the Institution, a gentleman named Peak (he said he was Mr. M'Culloch's clerk) came to the Institution; he said he wanted some men, the Clerk of the Institution having previously given me a slip of paper with the names of five men written on it—some of the names in the margin; I cannot remember the other names; I then went to the recreation paddock and called them men before him; I heard him state to the men that they were to be engaged for six years, to be found in rations, clothing, and tobacco, and a hut to live in; that they were not required to do any work unless they pleased, but there being a weed on the run which was a great nuisance, and for the extermination of this weed they would be paid according to their labour; I saw him come again, when he was speaking to Mr. Kellett, the Clerk; on another occasion I saw Peak speaking to M'Kay, who left the Institution on April 12th, and M'Kay afterwards told me the purport of the conversation, which was that he (Peak) had engaged him to go to Canonba for six years, giving him clothes, rations, and tobacco, and a hut to live in, and that he was not required to work, but that if he did he would be paid according to his labour; he shortly afterwards received a letter from M'Culloch's office requesting him to go to Sydney, and that Peak would meet him at O'Brien's coffee-house, near Christ Church, and he would then make arrangements for his passage to Canonba; he shortly afterwards left the Institution; Mr. Kellett, the Clerk, who took the principal part in these transactions, is since dead; I saw no written agreement entered into by any of the men.

Joseph Baker, aged 55, an inmate of the Liverpool Asylum, states:—I remember about a week before Collier and Thompson left the Institution a gentleman who afterwards took Collier and Thompson away came to me and asked me if I wanted to go on a station; I asked where it was; he stated at Canonba, below Dubbo; he said I need not work unless I liked, but that he would pay me for what I did; he also stated that he would give me a good house to live in, with clothing and food; I told him that I had no objection to go with him, and he took down my name; I heard that he spoke to other men, but I did not see him myself.

Sergeant M'Keague to The Inspector-General of Police.

Re selection of 640 acres of land made at Coonamble by J. Miller.

Police Station, Dubbo, 21 August, 1882.

SERGEANT M'Keague begs to forward the attached papers in connection with ones of a similar nature forwarded to the Inspector-General on the 18th instant.

Sergeant Boyd, although instructed in the attached memorandum to have all statements signed by the persons making them, has not done so, for the reasons stated in his report.

JOHN M'KEAGUE,
Sergeant.
(In absence of Sub-inspector).

Sergeant M'Keague to Sergeant Boyd, Coonamble.

Police Station, Dubbo, 15 August, 1882.

SERGEANT Boyd will be good enough to report by return of post, if possible, all the information he can obtain at Coonamble concerning John Miller, who, on the 16th March last, at Coonamble, made a conditional purchase of 640 acres, which is situate in the county of Gregory, parish of Merri, on the Marthaguy, and numbered (conditional purchase) 82-81.

The following is the nature of the information required by the Inspector-General of Police, viz. :—Where Miller came from, his age, personal appearance (as to whether he appeared to be an infirm pauper or not), what his previous occupation was, who found and paid the money to the Land Agent for the selection, who paid the money for the conveyance of Miller to Coonamble and his keep, &c., &c.

Sergeant Boyd will obtain a written statement from the persons who can give any of the required information, getting their signatures to the same, and will return such here duly witnessed.

JOHN M'KEAGUE,
Sergeant.
(In absence of Sub-inspector).

Sergeant Boyd to The Sub-Inspector of Police, Dubbo.

Police Station, Coonamble, 19 August, 1882.

SERGEANT Boyd begs to state, in reference to the attached inquiry, that Mr. E. A. Spofforth, Manager of the Bank of New South Wales, Coonamble, states that he (John Miller) came from Sydney; that he is an old man, and had the appearance of having come from the poor-house; he (Miller) got the money from Mr. Spofforth's Bank. The sergeant asked Mr. Spofforth how Miller found the money; Mr. Spofforth laughed, and said there are many ways of getting money. Mr. Spofforth states that Miller appeared to know nothing about the land he was going to take up, as his description of it was all wrong; that he (Mr. Spofforth) had to put him right. Also, that he (Mr. Spofforth) has applied for Miller's pre-lease, and if the sergeant wants to find out particularly about Miller, to apply to Mr. M'Culloch, Sydney, as he knows all about him.

Mr. Spofforth has given this information to the sergeant without knowing the object of inquiry, and in consequence of which the sergeant did not like to ask Mr. Spofforth for a written statement without first asking his sub-inspector whether he should not first let Mr. Spofforth know that he might be asked to prove the same at a future date, as it would be the means of very great injury to the sergeant in receiving information hereafter. Mr. Spofforth states that Miller's selection is on Mr. M'Culloch's run, Sandy Camp, Marthaguy, near Quambone.

This is all the information the sergeant can obtain at present, but he has no doubt that Mr. Spofforth is acting for Mr. M'Culloch. The Land Agent's memorandum attached. The sergeant believes the Land Agent knows more than what he has stated.

GEORGE BOYD,
Sergeant.

[Enclosure F to No. 32.]

Sub-Inspector Grainger to The Superintendent of Police, Bathurst.

Sir,

Police Station, Canonba, 24 September, 1882.

I have the honor to report that, in compliance with instructions contained in the attached papers, I made inquiries respecting the taking up of selections by the three persons named in the margin.

George M'Kay,
Henry Collier,
John Thompson.

I was informed the three men named were not on their selections but were at Colane Head Station, which is distant from the land selected by M'Kay some 3 or 4 miles, and from the selections taken up by the other two men about 10 miles. I accordingly went to Colane Station, and there saw the three men referred to. I made known to each of them the purport of my inquiries, and informed them that it was only on the understanding they should tell the whole truth without any reserve they would be held harmless, and if they gave me a true statement of all the facts without any reserve then I promised they would be held harmless. I took each man's statement, and now enclose them. It will be seen from these statements that the men declined to give the name or names of those from whom they state they borrowed the money, and they most distinctly denied having made any arrangement with any person about taking up the land, each man stating he made no agreement, or lease, or will, or in fact signed any document whatever, with reference to his selection.

I have, &c.,
E. GRAINGER,
Sub-Inspector.

George M'Kay, clerk and free selector, states:—Have been suffering from rheumatism for some years, and was advised by my friends to leave Sydney and try a hot climate; I met with a friend (I decline to say who he is at present), who, upon being made acquainted with my case, advised me to come up west a hot climate, and see what I could do for myself, and he would assist me; the result was in brief I made the selection in question (between Canonba and Colane); I took up the selection with my own money; I borrowed the money (about £180 altogether); I got it all from one person; I decline to say from whom—a friend of mine; I never signed any document in reference to the selection; I have never made my will; I have signed no lease or other document whatever in reference to my selection; I have never made any arrangement with any person, either in writing or verbal, with reference to my selection; I gave no promissory note for the money lent to me to take up the selection. Mr. Dulhunty, of Dubbo, acted as my agent in the matter all through; he went with me to the Lands Office and did all the work of an agent; the money was borrowed by me in Sydney; I received it at Dubbo through my agent, Mr. J. B. Dulhunty.

Colane, 23 September, 1882.

Henry Collier, free selector and bushman, states:—I was in the Liverpool Asylum for about three weeks suffering from bad eyes; I left the Asylum on or about the 28th March last; I lived on the Macquarie and Castlereagh Rivers many years ago; I was on the Castlereagh River about a year ago, showing a young man a piece of land to select; I had a good sum of money on my person when I was in the Asylum; I had over £200 with me, which I had earned at the Hanging Rock Diggings and shearing and bush-work; when I left the Asylum I came by train to Dubbo; I met Mr. Dulhunty in the street at Dubbo and spoke to him; he told me he would take me to the Lands Office; I went there with him and took up the selection on Crooked Creek; I borrowed the money to pay for the selection (640 acres); I refuse to tell from whom I borrowed the money; I never made any arrangement about the selection with any person; I never made my will or signed any lease or other document whatever in reference to my selection except what I signed in the Lands Office at Dubbo before Mr. Roxburgh, the Land Agent; I gave a promissory note for the money I borrowed to pay for the selection; I refuse to say to whom I gave the promissory note; that is the only paper I signed in reference to the selection, either directly or indirectly; I never saw Mr. McCulloch until after I came on my selection; I have no more to say.

Witness—E. GRAINGER, Sub-Inspector.

HENRY COLLIER.

Colane, 23 September, 1882.

John Thompson, carpenter, states:—I was very unwell, and was in the Liverpool Asylum for a few months; I left the Asylum about the end of March last; when I left the Asylum I was advised by a friend to go up the country and take up a selection, as it might do my health good, and he promised to send me the money (I decline to state my friend's name); my friend told me I would have to go to Dubbo and take up the selection on Crooked Creek; my friend told me to see Mr. J. B. Dulhunty, and he (Mr. Dulhunty) would put me in the way to take up the selection; I saw Mr. Dulhunty at Dubbo, and he done all for me; Mr. Dulhunty knew what land I was to take up; Mr. Dulhunty knew about the land; I did not know about it; I never was in this district until after I took up the selection; I got the money to pay for the selection from Mr. Dulhunty at Dubbo; I gave no receipt for the money and I did not sign any promissory note; I never made or signed my will; I signed no document whatever in reference to my selection; I signed no lease or made any arrangement whatever with any person in reference to the disposal of my selection at any future time; I only gave my friend my promise by word of mouth that I would pay him the money I borrowed from him back again; there was no time mentioned when I was to return my friend the money; I took up the selection solely for my own benefit, and not as the agent or servant of any person; I have been living on my selection until about a week ago; I am now doing some work at Colane preparing for the shearing.

No. 33.

Mr. Licensed Surveyor Burgess to The Surveyor-General.

Sir,

Quambone, via Dubbo, 26 December, 1882.

I have the honor to transmit herewith the plan of one portion of land containing 640 acres, numbered five (5), in the parish of Merri, county of Gregory, applied for by John Miller under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, and surveyed in accordance with instructions dated the 4th April, 1882, to Mr. District Surveyor J. C. Dalglish.

Improvements: Cottage partly completed, £40. Applicant was residing on his selection at the time of survey. Applicant describes his selection as starting 20 chains south of water reserve 562. He informed me that he was uncertain of the position of the southern boundary of that reserve on the ground; but thought it came about half a mile north of his cottage, which he supposed would be about the middle of the selection. Were it to start as described it would leave his cottage out of the measurement, and as there is no doubt it was impossible for him to tell where the reserve came, as the point the reserve is described as starting from is 6 miles away. I measured adjoining the reserve.

I have, &c.,
A. P. BURGESS,
Licensed Surveyor.

Minutes on No. 33.

To the Surveyor-General:—The diagram of survey of so important a feature as Marthaguy Creek, effected for purposes of connection, should have been prepared to the scale of 20 chains to an inch. To save delay the plan is forwarded to the Surveyor-General, but I have requested Mr. Burgess by separate memorandum to furnish diagram of connection to the scale of 20 chains to an inch.—J. C. DALGLISH,
District Surveyor, Sydney, 24/1/83.

By

By the Surveyor-General:—The conditional purchase for which portion 5, parish of Merri, county Gregory, shown by red tint on tracing, was measured (No. 82/81, Coonamble), is described (approximately) as shown by red edging. Owing to applicant's uncertainty of the position of the south boundary of water reserve 562 (from which his conditional purchase is described), the starting-point of which reserve is several miles distant and the boundary unmarked, he erected his cottage, valued at £40, in the position shown on tracing. The surveyor measured so as to include this cottage and adjoin, as he supposed, the boundary of the reserve. There appears, however, to be an encroachment to the extent of about 3 chains on the reserve along the north boundary of portion 5; but as the extent of the encroachment (if any) is uncertain, and especially as it is intended to re-notify the reserve with its south boundary coincident with the north boundary of the portion, it is recommended that the survey be accepted under 14th section, Act of 1875, for the conditional purchase referred to.—CHARLES E. FINCH (for Surveyor-General), 4/12/83.

Conditional Purchase, 82-81 (Coonamble.)

Description.

640 acres, county of Gregory, parish of Merri, portion 5: Commencing at a point distant 172 chains west from the north-western corner of portion 6 of 300 acres; and bounded thence on the east by a line bearing south 80 chains; on the south by a line bearing west 57 chains 8 links to the right bank of Marthaguy Creek; on the south-west by that creek downwards in a direct line about 98 chains 40 links to a point bearing due west from the point of commencement; and on the north by a line bearing east 113 chains and 86 links, to that point.

MEMORANDUM of subjects requiring explanation or completion in connection with the survey and plan of portion 1, parish of Carwell, county of Gregory, transmitted by Mr. Licensed Surveyor A. P. Burgess, letter, No. 82-49, of 13th October, 1882. Instructions issued to Mr. District Surveyor Dalglish, 23rd March, No. 82-280, and on which Mr. Burgess' report in explanation is requested.

Subject.

There is not sufficient evidence adduced by Mr. Burgess, in his letter referred to, to indicate that the land measured is that intended to have been applied for.

The fact of applicant's tent being near the boundary of the reserve, and therefore well within the portion, is no proof.

There is nothing to show that applicant had any doubt as to the position of the reserve, and the description of the conditional purchase is definite for land north of a point 20 chains north of water reserve, 1,186. Further, in order to be able to give the definite distance of 20 chains, he must have had some distinct idea of the position of that reserve.

Particulars as to the character, ownership, and value of the woolshed to the north of portion 1 should have been given on plan, vide paragraph 130 Surveyor's instructions, dated 1875, and 163 of new instructions, particularly in view of the possibility of conflicting claims arising. The value of improvements at date of survey, and their probable cost on completion should have been given.

Is the representation of the woolshed* in plan intended to be a sketch merely, or is it drawn to scale? It should be so drawn.

The letter D has been omitted from its place (supposed) at the south-east corner of the portion and its reference tree should have been marked as the corner of the reserve as well as the corner of the portion.

The area of the portion is found by calculation from data on plan to be about 3½ acres deficient.

CHARLES E. FINCH,
(For Surveyor-General).

12 February, 1883.

Report.

The best evidence that applicant did not intend to describe his land further northward, and believed that his starting on the ground was more southward than that made by me was that had it been 20 chains (say) above the present starting-point, applicant must have known that the woolshed in course of erection would be very close if not right on his selection, and it was not till I had run the traverse and hearing sounds of labour in the distance went over, and connected to the woolshed that I found it so close; when I pointed this out he said his land did not extend to the woolshed—it was on this side. As applicant from this stated plainly it was the land he expected to get, and appeared so, I measured the conditional purchase.

The woolshed was sketched in roughly at the time and was not completed, only part of the yards having been erected. From recollection when in the locality subsequently they extend about 7 chains north and south, and about 3 to 4 chains east and west (shed and yards inclusive).

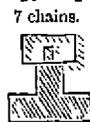

As surmised, letter D is the south-east corner of the portion. Omitting the reserve mark was an oversight which I shall attend to.

From my calculation the area appears to be about 2 acres deficient. I shall await further action before alteration.

Connection on plan with letter of 26th December, 1882.

The following is a copy of my B.C. of 24 January last forwarding Mr. Licensed Surveyor Burgess' letter of 26th December, 1882, transmitting plan of portion 5, parish of Merri, county of Gregory.

"The diagram of survey of so important a feature as Marthaguy Creek, effected for purpose of connection, should have been prepared to the scale of 20 chains to an inch.

"To save delay the plan is forwarded to the Surveyor-General, but I have requested Mr. Burgess by separate memorandum to furnish diagram of connection to the scale of 20 chains to an inch."

Mr. Burgess will therefore be good enough to furnish the diagram of connection referred to, to the scale of 20 chains to an inch, as soon as possible.

No. 37.

Memorandum.

PORTION 1, shown on lithograph, is the provisional measurement for conditional purchase 82-104, Dubbo. The land intended to have been described is apparently that indicated by red shading lines, applicant having evidently misunderstood the direction of the cardinal points. See also Mr. Licensed Surveyor Burgess' statement in letter transmitting plan.

Mr. Burgess' attention was personally directed to the proximity of an apparently valuable woolshed close to the north boundary of the conditional purchase, to which no reference was made by him in letter, and which if the conditional purchase were measured as described, on the supposition that water reserve 1,186 was correctly shown on plan, would be included within the conditional purchase. Mr. Burgess then wrote the postscript, dated 12th January, in which he gives his reasons for measuring the conditional purchase adjoining water reserve 1,186. The explanation not being considered satisfactory, the enclosed Charting Branch memorandum was sent to Mr. Burgess, still on the supposition that the reserve had been correctly defined by him. The first part of reply to that memorandum, given in evidence of applicant's "intention," is inconsistent with postscript to letter transmitting plan, for applicant could not know that the woolshed in course of erection would be very close to if not right on his selection, if, as stated in postscript, the woolshed had been commenced after the land was selected. On subsequent reference to parish map and reserve description, it is found that the reserve No. 1,186 is 40 chains in width, not 60 as shown on plan of portion 1, and that consequently there has been no departure from the description as far as the starting-point is concerned, but the departure from the cardinal points as regards the direction of the south boundary of the portion is objectionable, as leaving a strip of land between it and water reserve 1,186 unsuitable for alienation, in respect both of design and area; it is therefore suggested that the south boundary of the conditional purchase should run due west, and the portion re-measured approximately, as shown by red shading lines, and including the woolshed (erected subsequently to the date of the conditional purchase), unless conditional purchase applicant is willing to accept measurement with depth sufficiently increased to exclude the woolshed, in which case applicant's consent in writing should be obtained by the surveyor.

Improvement purchase 82-61, by A. H. McCulloch, for 640 acres, is apparently made in virtue of the woolshed referred to herein, but that application is recommended for refusal, for vagueness of description.

By the Surveyor-General:—Under the circumstances I apprehend that the alternative course will be acceptable to the applicant, therefore I would request the surveyor to take action accordingly, and effect the requisite amendment as indicated by blue edging on sketch, obtaining thereto the applicant's consent in writing. A new plan will be required, with further report on residence and improvement, and also full particulars, viz., description, value, and ownership of the adjacent woolshed.

The surveyor's statements are somewhat inconsistent, and cause much embarrassment in dealing with this case.

MEMORANDUM of subjects requiring explanation or completion in connection with the survey and plan of portion No. 1, parish of Carwell, county of Gregory, transmitted by Mr. Licensed Surveyor A. P. Subject.

Report.

Mr. Licensed Surveyor A. P. Burgess is required to amend the survey of portion 1, parish of Carwell, county of Gregory, provisionally measured for Patrick Hand's conditional purchase 82-104, Dubbo, the amended survey to be made as indicated by blue shading lines on lithograph, excluding the woolshed. The provisional measurement is objectionable on account of the deviation of the southern boundary from the cardinal points, which would leave a strip of land unsuitable for alienation along the north-west boundary of water reserve 1,186, the position of which is not correctly shown on plan, the reserve being 40 chains wide and not 60 chains, as indicated. The proposed re-survey, it is apprehended, will be acceptable to the applicant, whose consent in writing should however be obtained.

Survey amended.

Applicant's consent in writing attached.

See enclosure to No. 41.

New plan with letter of 16th July, 1883.

Owing to the wretched state of the country applicant was not living on his selection at the time I made the amended survey. No further improvement had been made on the portion. I was informed that the woolshed, which is built of sawn pine timber, and necessary outbuildings and sheep-yards, cost £680, which I think is about a fair valuation. They are owned by Mr. McCulloch, the lessee of the run, and were erected between the months of June and November, 1882.

A new plan will be required, with further report on residence and improvements, also full particulars as to the description, value, and ownership of the adjacent woolshed.

Forwarded to the Surveyor-General.—THOMAS H. SMITH, Acting District Surveyor, 2/7/83.

By the Surveyor-General:—The description of conditional purchase 82-104, Dubbo, is impracticable, except on the supposition that applicant has mistaken the direction of the cardinal points, substituting "north" for "west" in the description of position of starting-point, and correspondingly amending the remainder of the description; it will cover the land shown by red edging on tracing. Measurement in this form would have included a valuable woolshed, the property of the lessee of the run, but erected since date of conditional purchase. Applicant has, however, given his consent in writing to the depth of the portion measured for his conditional purchase being in excess of 80 chains, so as to exclude this woolshed. The surveyor has accordingly measured portion 1, parish of Carwell, county of Gregory, for the conditional purchase, and this portion is now recommended for acceptance in satisfaction thereof, under 13th and 14th sections, Act of 1875.—CHARLES E. Commissioner Cropper to The Chief Commissioner.

REPORT of an inquiry held at Dubbo, on the 2nd April, 1884, by Charles Cropper, Commissioner for the North-western Division, respecting the conditional purchase of John Connor, made at Dubbo on the 2nd February, 1882.

Sir,

I have the honor to transmit herewith, for the consideration of the Honorable the Minister for Lands, minutes of evidence taken at an inquiry under the "Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875," held by me in pursuance of the reference notified in the Gazette of the 16th September, 1882, in the matter of the above-described conditional purchase.

The claimant having been duly served with notice of the time and place of holding the inquiry was not present thereat.

The following facts bearing upon the fulfilment by the selector of the conditions of purchase were elicited in evidence, viz. :—Inspector Franks gave evidence to the effect that he inspected this portion eight months after selection and he found appearances of much occupation, and selector was resident; he valued the improvements at £48 15s.

Selector did not appear. I would suggest another inspection and report before this is dealt with.

I have therefore to report that I find such conditions to have been fulfilled, and to recommend that this conditional purchase be

Inspector Franks, being sworn, states :—On the 19th October, 1882, inspected a portion of 640 acres taken by John Connor, at Dubbo, on 2nd February, 1882; selector was then resident, and the hut appeared to have been much occupied, there were bedding, cooking utensils, and rations in it; I value the improvements thereon as follows :—

Hut	£30 0 0
300 acres ringbarked	18 15 0
	£48 15 0

I reported and forwarded such report of this case to the Lands Department, 24th October, 1882; selector told his occupation was that of a carrier, and I saw a waggon and bullock-dray upon the selection; I have heard him called three times outside this Court-house and he does not appear.

RYAN'S CONDITIONAL PURCHASE AT WAGGA WAGGA.

No. 1.

Application by Ellen Ryan.

C. [Alienation Act, section 14.]
No. 657 of 1881.

District of Wagga Wagga.

Application by Elen Ryan, spinster, a minor aged sixteen years, on the 18th July, 1881, for the conditional purchase, without competition, of 640 acres unimproved Crown Land.

Received by me, with a deposit of £160, this 8th day of December, 1881, at 11:32 o'clock.

F. KORFF,
Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Wagga Wagga.

Sir,

8 December, 1881.

I am desirous of purchasing, without competition, under the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, the portion of unimproved Crown Land hereunder described, containing 640 acres; and I herewith tender the sum of £160, being a deposit at the rate of 5s. per acre on the area for which I apply.

I am, &c.,

ELLEN RYAN,
Narandera.

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Wagga Wagga.

Description.

County of Bourke, parish of Berrembed, 640 acres, being measured portions Nos. 135 and 131 of said county and parish, containing respectively 173 and 320 acres, and 147 acres of portion No. 130 of said parish and county, joining measured portion No. 131. on the north.

Minutes on No. 1.

Applicant states that she has no incomplete conditional purchases.—F.K., 8/12/81. C.P., 81/657, Wagga Wagga. Reduced in area, 14th March, 1882. Send these papers to Mr. Geo. Lewis, Reserve Branch.—A.O.M., 25/5/82.

By this application Ellen Ryan has applied for 640 acres, being portions Nos. 135 and 131, and 146 acres 3 roods of portion No. 130, shown by blue edging upon the accompanying tracing. Part only of the land applied for is available for this conditional purchase, viz., 345 acres shown by blue tinting, the balance of 295 acres being included within railway reserve No. 218A, notified 26th November, 1878.

It is therefore recommended that applicant be offered the option of retaining the available area, and receiving refund on 295 acres, or of receiving refund of her deposit on the whole area applied for.

The tracing marked A may be forwarded to applicant.

The reserve referred to will be shortly cancelled, when a re-survey would be unnecessary should the present applicant be the selector, under the 21st clause, of the area now not available on account of reservation.—ROBT. D. FITZGERALD, for Surveyor-General, 6th February, 1882. The Chief Commissioner, Conditional Sales.

For action on above, advising applicant.—A.O.M., 20/2/82.

No. 658 of 1881.

District of Wagga Wagga.

Application by Anastasia Ryan, spinster, a minor, aged seventeen years on the 9th June, 1881, for the conditional purchase, without competition, of 640 acres unimproved Crown Land.

Received by me, with a deposit of £160, this 18th day of December, 1881, at 11.32 o'clock.

F. KORFF,

Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Wagga Wagga.

Sir,

8 December, 1881.

I am desirous of purchasing, without competition, under the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, the portion of unimproved Crown Land hereunder described, containing 640 acres; and I herewith tender the sum of £160, being a deposit at the rate of 5s. per acre on the area for which I apply.

I am, &c.,

ANASTASIA RYAN,

Narandera.

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Wagga Wagga.

Description.

County of Bourke, parish of Berrembed, 640 acres, being measured portions 132 and 133 of said county and parish.

Minutes on No. 2.

Applicant states that she has no incomplete conditional purchase.—F.K., 8/12/81.

In this application Anastasia Ryan has applied for 640 acres, being portions Nos. 132 and 133 of 320 acres each, shown by red edging on the accompanying tracing. Part only of the land applied for is available for this conditional purchase, viz., 350 acres shown by pink tinting, the balance of 290 acres being included within railway reserve 218A, notified 26th November, 1878.

It is therefore recommended that applicant be offered the option of retaining the available area, and of receiving refund of deposit on 290 acres, or of receiving refund of her deposit money on the whole area applied for.

It

It is suggested that the accompanying tracing marked "A." be forwarded to applicant.
 The reserve referred to will be shortly cancelled, when re-survey would be unnecessary, should the present applicant be the selector, under the 21st clause, of the area not now available on account of reservation.—ROBERT D. FITZGERALD, for Surveyor-General, 6/2/82.
 For action as proposed.—A.O.M., 25/2/82.

I am, &c.,

THOMAS RYAN,

Narandera.

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Wagga Wagga.

Description.

County of Bourke, parish of Berrembed, 540 acres, being measured portion No. 134, and so much of portions Nos. 130 and 129 as is available, lying between E. and A. Ryan's C.P. and the Railway Reserve No. 218.

Minutes on No. 3.

Applicant states that he has no incomplete conditional purchase.—F.K., 8/12/81.

By this application Thomas Ryan has applied for 540 acres, being portion No. 134, part of 130 (after satisfaction of Ellen Ryan's conditional purchase) and part of portion No. 129, shown by red edging on the accompanying tracing. Part only of the land applied for is available for this conditional purchase, viz., 55 acres shown by pink tinting on tracing, the balance of 485 acres being included within railway reserve No. 218A, notified 26th November, 1878.

It is therefore recommended that applicant be offered the option of retaining the available area and of receiving refund of deposit on 485 acres, or of receiving refund of his deposit money on the whole area applied for.

The tracing marked A may be forwarded to applicant.

The reserve referred to will be shortly cancelled, when re-survey would be unnecessary should the present applicant be the selector, under the 21st clause, of the area now not available on account of reservation.—ROBT. D. FITZGERALD, for Surveyor-General, 6 February, 1882. The Chief Commissioner of Conditional Sales.

For action as above, sending refund on 485 acres, and informing as in last paragraph.—A.O.M., 2/3/82.

No. 4.

Messrs. Farnell & Martin to The Chief Commissioner.

Sir,

295, George-street, 12 January, 1882.

We have been instructed by Mr. Flavelle (the lessee of Berrembed Run) to protest against the conditional purchase of one T. Ryan, as per margin, of 540 acres of Crown Land. The applicant applies for portion No. 134 and so much of portions Nos. 129 and 130 as is available lying between E. and A. Ryan's conditional purchases and railway reserve. In reference to portion No. 134, we protest against Ryan's selection, on the ground that there are sufficient improvements to bar that selection, namely, £50 in value of wire fencing. That part of portion No. 130 is included in E. Ryan's selection, and intervenes portion No. 134 and portion No. 129. That the fact of E. Ryan's conditional purchase embracing a part of portion No. 130, and lying between portions Nos. 134 and 129 bars T. Ryan's conditional purchase application for those portions. That T. Ryan's application, embracing portion No. 134, part of portions Nos. 130 and 129, will give a length of line far in excess of that allowed by law. We therefore have the honor to request that, as portion No. 134 is barred by the improvements, and as the other portions Nos. 130 and 129 cannot be legally selected in conjunction therewith, you will see cause to void T. Ryan's selection. The portions, although marked on the ground, are not in law measured portions, not having had the approval of the Surveyor-General.

We have, &c.,

FARNELL & MARTIN.

The Chief Commissioner to Miss Ellen Ryan.

Madam,

Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, Sydney, 14 March, 1882.

Referring to your conditional purchase noted in the margin, I am directed to inform you that, as it appears by a recent report from the Survey Department that but 345 acres of the land applied for, shown by blue tinting on the accompanying tracing, is available, the balance of 295 acres being included within Railway Reserve 218A, notified 26th November, 1878, you are given the option of retaining the available area and accepting the refund voucher for the balance, herewith enclosed, in satisfaction of your purchase, or of having the whole of your deposit money refunded, to which I am to request an early reply.

I am further to apprise you that the reserve referred to will shortly be cancelled, when a re-survey would be unnecessary should you be the selector, under the 21st section, of the area now not available on account of reservation.

Mr. W. Lyne, M.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 24 March, 1882.

I beg to draw your attention to the case of a selector named Thomas Ryan, who, with three members of his family, viz., Anastasia, Ellen, and T. Ryan, junr., took up selections—measured portions on the Grong Grong Run. The father took every precaution, by getting a lawyer to draw out the applications and applying to the District Inspector, to ascertain that the land was open for selection, but it now turns out two out of the three selections are on railway reserve No. 218A. He has put about £500 worth of improvements upon the portions that are within the reserve, and having been lately warned and threatened by the lessee, he is exceedingly anxious to obtain a title to what he was led to believe he had a right to select. When the reserve is thrown open, should it be so, he is afraid he may lose the selections, and in the meantime he fears an action for trespass. I therefore ask that the selections may be withdrawn from lease.

I have, &c.,

WILLIAM JOHN LYNE.

The Chief Commissioner to The Crown Lands Agent, Wagga Wagga.

Sir, Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, Sydney, 25 March, 1882.
 With reference to Thomas Ryan's conditional purchase of the 8th December, 1881, I desire to inform you that the area thereof having been found, on measurement, to be only 55 acres instead of 540 acres, as stated in his application, he has been informed that he is entitled to a refund of £121 5s., the amount of deposit upon the 485 extra acres, paid in excess, for which the necessary refund form has been forwarded.
 I have, &c.,

The Chief Commissioner to The Under Secretary for Finance and Trade.

Sir, Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, Sydney, 25 March, 1882.
 I am directed to inform you that the area of the conditional purchase noted in the margin having been reduced from 540 acres to 55 acres, you will be good enough to refund the amount of deposit, viz., £121 5s., on the area paid for in excess.
 2. I am to add that a receipt form for the disposal of the money has been forwarded to the applicant, with instructions to fill up same and transmit it to the Treasury.
 I have, &c.,
 A. O. MORIARTY,
 Chief Commissioner.

No. 15.

Memorandum by Surveyor-General.

Wagga Wagga District.

DESCRIPTIONS are enclosed for the reservation from lease of the portions applied for by T. Ryan, A. Ryan, and E. Ryan, as conditional purchases, should the Secretary for Lands consider that the circumstances of the case justify such a course.
 A letter is enclosed (see No. 6) from Mr. Lyne, M.P., detailing particulars, also the conditional purchase applications, from which it appears that the selections have been taken up partly within railway reserve No. 218A, which reserve is shortly to be cancelled.
 Applicants have been offered the areas outside of the reserve, but Mr. Lyne states that the bulk of the improvements of the value of £500 is situated within the reserved area, and he applies for the reservation from lease to protect the selectors from an action for trespass.

Mr. A. Armstrong to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir, Land Agency Office, 26, Bridge-street, Sydney, 13 April, 1882.
 Referring to the selections particularized in the margin, found to interfere with reserve No. 218A, I respectfully beg to state that the applications were first submitted by my clients to Mr. District Surveyor Bolton, who my clients aver asserted that such applications would be free of any reserve. I submit for your consideration that, as the route for the railway has since the formation of the reserve been finally chosen, that without prejudice to the public interests that revocation of a large part of the reserve may be effected, and to request the favour of the cases receiving your consideration with this view.
 Also, as my clients are liable to trespass action being instituted by the lessee of the Berrembed Run, I submit for your consideration the advisability of early notification of a reservation from lease to embrace that part of the reserve included within the conditional purchase application declared void.

Minutes on No. 16.

I am not in possession of any information beyond such as appears in the papers already submitted, as to which I should be inclined to take the view within expressed by the Under Secretary; but I am informed that Mr. George Lewis, the officer in charge of the Reserve Branch of the Survey Department, is about to visit Narrandera on duty, and that he would be in a position to report promptly on the matter if referred to, and I think it would be well to take the opportunity of obtaining a report.—A.O.M., 17/4/82. The Under Secretary.

This paper was not before me when I wrote my memo. of the 3rd instant. Perhaps the best course to pursue will be to refer the papers to District Surveyor Bolton (whose name has been mentioned in connection with the case), for immediate report. The case may then be properly dealt with.—C.O., 17/4/82.

Approved.—JOHN R., 19/4/82. A. Armstrong informed, 20/4/82. To be sent to Mr. Bolton to-day.—C.O., 20/4/82. Forwarded to Mr. District Surveyor Bolton accordingly.—ROBT. D. Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 20 April, 1882.

In reference to your letter of the 13th instant, on behalf of Thomas, Anastasia, and Ellen Ryan, requesting that, pending consideration of their applications for conditional purchases in the parish of Berrembed, county of Bourke, the portion of railway reserve No. 218A embraced by the conditional purchases be withdrawn from lease, I have the honor to inform you that the papers in the case will be referred to Mr. District-Surveyor Bolton for immediate report.

No. 18.Mr. District-Surveyor Bolton to The Surveyor-General.

Sir, District-Surveyor's Office, Wagga Wagga, 24 April, 1882.

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your B.C. of the 20th instant, No. 82-175, respecting the conditional purchase applications of E., A., and T. Ryan, in the parish of Berrembed, county of Bourke, and in reference thereto I do myself the honor to inform you that the circumstances connected with such applications are as follows:—That when it was deemed expedient to reserve land along the railway from Junce to Narrandera, by some oversight the land along a trial line was reserved instead of the land along the line finally decided upon. To this I drew attention, and instead of the reserve along the abandoned trial line being revoked and a fresh reserve being proclaimed along the adopted line, the first reserve was extended to embrace all land within a mile of the adopted line, being the line along which the railway has been constructed. After the completion and opening of the railway to Narrandera I was instructed to measure large tracts of land, in anticipation of demand in the vicinity of the railway, and to report on the propriety of revoking the reserve adjacent to it, save and excepting lands required for villages, access to stations, &c. In compliance with these instructions I reported in favour of cancelling the greater proportion of reserves 218 and 218A, and caused the survey of large tracts of land in the parishes of Lupton and Berrembed, including parts of those reserves, with a view to their being subsequently revoked. However, before such revocation had taken place Mr. Ryan, with E., A., and T. Ryan, lodged, or were about to lodge, applications drawn up by his solicitor, Mr. E. B. Tompson, for land right up to the railway; and in connection with the business Mr. Tompson, with Mr. Ryan, came into my office to refer to the original tracing of the survey of the portions, when I pointed out that all land within a mile of railway was reserved. This occurred about ten minutes before 4 o'clock, and caused a re-arrangement of the Ryans' conditional purchases, which had to be done as hastily as possible, to be in time for that Land Office day. In the hurry I unfortunately did not refer to the parish map which shows the reserves, but on which the portions had not yet been charted, the plans only having been recently received, or I should have without doubt noticed to what extent the portions in question were covered by the reserve based on the old trial line. As I previously reported, I see no objection to the cancellation and alienation of the reserves herein alluded to.

I have since seen Mr. Ryan, and he informs me that very considerable improvement has already been effected on the land applied for by himself and family.

No. 19.Messrs. Farnell & Martin to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir, 295, George-street, 11 May, 1882.

With reference to certain conditional purchases applied for by J. Ryan, Miss E. Ryan, and Miss A. Ryan respectively, and also with reference to a report furnished with respect to the said applications by Mr. District-Surveyor Bolton, we have the honor to furnish you with a statement supplied to us by Mr. A. A. Devlin respecting the said selections, which is as follows:—

“Having heard that John Ryan, for himself and his two daughters, has represented to your Department that, owing to the action of Mr. District-Surveyor Bolton, they were induced to take up certain certain land in the county of Bourke, parish of Berrembed, which was subsequently found to be for the most part within the Railway Reserve No. 218A, and that they (the Ryans) have stated that in consequence of that action by Mr. Bolton they have put improvements on the said reserve to the value of £500, and by their statement they thereby endeavour to induce you to believe that a great injustice would be done them if they were not allowed to retain the land applied for, I beg to positively state for your information that Ryan has misrepresented the facts of the case, in order to create a false impression and sympathy with them; that the fencing improvements erected by them do not amount in value to the sum of £90, being as follows:—On the land applied for by the Miss Ryans about 48 chains of wire fencing, with a sapling top-rail—that is, 28 chains on Miss E. Ryan's conditional purchase and 20 chains on Miss A. Ryan's conditional purchase; and on the land applied for by John Ryan there is 70 chains of similar fencing, and this fence by itself does not make any enclosure. This fencing I can (if necessary) show did not cost £40 per mile, so that I have allowed extreme prices for it in my valuation of £90. The whole improvements erected or made by the Ryans, both within and without the reserve, do not amount to more than £150, at a very liberal valuation. J. Ryan's residence (although he has a wife and large family) consists of two forked sticks, a ridge-pole, and about a dozen sheets of galvanized iron lodged thereon, with the ends blocked up with bushes. This is the whole of J. Ryan's improvements, together with the 70 chains of wire fencing.

"I may add that recently, and since he has been warned not to improve, he has done some little clearing. If my statements and valuations are doubted, I beg to request that a competent officer be appointed to inspect and report upon the Ryans' selections and the improvements thereon."

We have furnished the above statement, trusting that it will be sufficient to induce you to cause a full inquiry to be made into all the facts and circumstances of the three cases.

Miss Ellen Ryan to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Berrembed, 16 May, 1882.

On the 8th of December I selected 640 acres of land at Wagga Wagga Land Office, which was surveyed portions numbers as follows:—No. 135 of 173 acres, No. 131 of 320 acres, and the balance of my section I applied for out of No. 134, that is about 167 acres, which was taken from me, for some reason or other that I cannot find out, and given to Thomas Ryan. He only applied for what remained after me; he does not dispute it—he says it belongs to me. Trusting you will be kind enough to withdraw that portion from Thomas Ryan and place it to me, I being the first who applied for it. I am now out of my money and land for over six months; that is more than I can afford, the times being bad. Trusting you will settle this matter without putting me to any further expense—I still hold possession of the land, Paper should be referred to Reserve Branch, to be placed with application.—H.C., 27/5/82.

No. 21.

Memorandum by Surveyor-General.

On the 8th December, 1881, three applications were made by Anastasia, Ellen, and Thomas Ryan, to conditionally purchase land situated in the parish of Berrembed, county of Bourke.

These applications embraced land which encroached on Railway Reserve 218A, notified 26th November, 1878, to a considerable extent. The following table shows the land available for conditional purchase:—

Name of Applicant.	Area applied for.			Number of acres on Reserve.			Area available.
	a.	r.	p.	a.	r.	p.	a.	r.	p.

The applicants have been refunded the deposits on the areas not available, and informed that the reserve will shortly be cancelled, after which they could re-select the areas at present not available, under the 21st section.

On 24th March, 1882, applicants, through Mr. Lyne, M.P., forwarded a communication, in which they stated that every precaution was taken by them prior to their making the conditional purchases; that they employed a lawyer to make out their descriptions, and that the District Surveyor had informed them them that the land was available for selection. They had likewise, according to their statement, £500 worth of improvements upon the reserve, and as they were afraid of an action for trespass being brought against them by the lessees, they asked that the area in the reserve covered by their conditional purchase should be withdrawn from lease.

Mr. District Surveyor Bolton, to whom the case was referred, has borne out applicants' statements with regard to informing them that the areas were available for selection; but he also stated that in the hurry (it being nearly 4 o'clock, at which time the land agent's office would be closed) he unfortunately forgot the existence of the reserve, which is described as extending 1 mile each side of the trial line for railway, and assumed that the reserve extended from the line as constructed, which at this point is about 60 chains north of the trial line.

The lessees now dispute the valuation of improvements, which in their estimation, at a liberal valuation, amount to £150 only, and they ask that a competent officer should be sent to make full inquiries into the facts of the case.

It is submitted for the consideration of the Secretary for Lands as to whether any further report is necessary, and as to whether the land should be reserved from lease until the Railway Reserve is cancelled.

G. LEWIS,

Minutes on No. 21.

Submitted.—It appears to me that it is very material that the value of the improvements made by the Ryans prior and subsequent to the voidance of the C.P. should be ascertained. Any since made have been constructed under the full knowledge of the land being upon a reserve. It is also necessary that the nature and value of any improvements made on each portion by the lessee should be stated and the dates of construction given. No. 25.

Mr. District-Surveyor Bolton to The Surveyor-General.

Sir,

District Surveyor's Office, Wagga Wagga, 27 June, 1882.

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your B.C. of the 2nd inst., No. 82-250, conveying instructions to me to report on the improvements effected on land applied for as conditional purchases by A.E. and T. Ryan, in the parish of Berrembed, county of Bourke, and in reply I do myself the honor to inform you that I visited the ground on the 23rd instant and found that considerable improvements had been effected, which will be more particularly described hereinafter; but before I proceed further, I may state that my valuation of them and Mr. Ryan's differ so widely as to be quite irreconcilable. I also found it impossible to form a reliable estimate of what work had been done prior to Ryan's receiving notice that some of the land applied for by him and his daughters was on the reserve. However, I believe it would be fair to assume that, about two-thirds of the work was done by that time; or if not quite so much, that contracts were commenced upon which Ryan was bound to abide by. While conducting my examination of the improvements on the various C.P.s I had occasion to fix the position of the railway trial line from which reserve No. 218A is described, and found it to be 24.61 chains north of the S.E. corner of portion No. 127, instead of about 8 chains, as shown on the parish map, which I presume supplied the data from which the areas allowed to be retained by the Ryans was computed. Mr. Licensed-Surveyor Garland failed to show this line on his plan of portions taken by Ryan and those adjoining thereto, though the line is distinctly marked on the ground by the clearing of a vista through the scrub and by blazing the trees, added to which there is a white peg about every 2 chains. I have no hesitation in stating that I am confident that if the line in question had been shown on Mr. Garland's plan, it would have been noticed and no encroachment would have been permitted to occur.

I have now written Mr. Garland a letter, a copy of which I enclose herewith, directing him to fix the position of the trial line where it crosses the lines of his survey, and I now recommend that the balance due to him on his account for his survey be withheld until he supplies the required information—that should have been supplied with his plan. Thomas Ryan now states that he intended his daughter, Ellen's, description to embrace part of portion No. 134 and none of 130. However, such form would have been illegal, and he had every opportunity of amending the descriptions when they were drawn out if he wished, as I am confident they were read out to him, and both he and his daughters can read very well for themselves; besides, I marked the respective C.P.s on the map in pencil for his information.

Herewith I enclose a tracing with the positions of the various improvements shown approximately on it. The fence shown, as being erected by Mr. A. A. Devlin on behalf of Mr. Flavelle, was placed there to keep his stock from going on to the Ryans' land; but owing to the error on the parish map it will now be found to encroach on that part of Ryans' land which lies outside Reserve No. 218A. I cannot understand how the trial line came to be charted so far out of position in the compilation of the parish map.

The improvements on Anastasia Ryan's C.P. are as follows:—

	£	s.	d.
6 acres partially cleared, at 50s.	15	0	0
Dam 90 yards, at 1s. 3d.	5	12	6
50 acres partially cleared and cropped	200	0	0
Part of house	5	0	0
30 chains of wire and top-rail fence	22	10	0
50 chains of brush and drop fenced	25	0	0
Sundries	10	0	0
	£283	2	6

The improvements on Ellen Ryan's are as follows:—

	£	s.	d.
House of wood and iron, of rude construction, on boundary, chiefly on E. Ryan's C.P.	25	0	0
Well 51 feet, cost £8 18s. 6d. (say)	10	0	0
Garden	5	0	0
Yard	4	0	0
Fencing 2 miles, at £60 per mile	120	0	0
Dam 900 yards, at 1s. 3d.	56	5	0
50 acres scrubbing and clearing, at 2s. 6d.	6	5	0
	£226	10	0

The only improvement on Thomas Ryan's C.P. is a bush shed and gunyah worth about £2 10s.

The gunyah is made of eight sheets of iron on a frame and bushed up at end, and though there were signs of a recent fire in front of it there were no other signs of residence.

Thomas

Thomas Ryan claims the fence along the north boundary of portion No. 131 as being on his conditional purchase, and insists that there was an error made in drawing up his description, as before remarked in this report.

I may state that Mr. Thomas Ryan seems to act as sole agent for his daughters, and to control all expenditures on their C.P.s. As my valuations were so much below Mr. Ryan's I asked him for a statement of his valuations, which was as follows:—

	£	s.	d.
2½ miles top-rail, five-wire fence, at £80 per mile	200	0	0
1 mile drop fence	50	0	0
Two dams	120	0	0
One house	100	0	0
50 acres cleared and partly cropped	350	0	0
Stockyard	10	0	0
Scrubbing and suckering	15	0	0
Material, wire, iron, boards, &c.	100	0	0
Gunyah and shed	10	0	0
Garden	10	0	0
Fencing material, split and bush	30	0	0
	£995	0	0

Herewith I enclose a letter from Mr. A. A. Devlin, written in the interest of the lessees of Berembad Run. From the statements contained therein, Mr. Ryan, or rather Mr. Ryan's daughters, had not got so far with their improvements as I estimated from Mr. Ryan's statements. However, I do not see that this materially affects the case.

Sir,

District Surveyor's Office, Wagga Wagga, 27 June, 1882.

Having been called upon to report on improvements effected by T., A., and E. Ryan on portions Nos. 130 to 135, measured by you, I had occasion to visit and inspect the locality, and in carrying out that duty I had to look up the Railway trial line referred to in description of reserve No. 218A, and found it to be a well-marked line blazed in the usual way, and having small white pegs at intervals of about 2 chains. This line you have altogether omitted to show on your plan of the portions in question, contrary to the custom of the Department. As this information was very essential, I have now to direct that you furnish a diagram showing the intersection of this line wherever the boundaries of your portion cross it. I have no hesitation in saying that I am confident that if this line had been shown on your plan the Ryans would not have fallen into the error of taking up land within reserve No. 218A, and I consider your conduct in failing to show distinctly marked line, and one so important as being the datum from which an important reserve starts, very reprehensible, and I have to caution you against similar neglect in future.

[Enclosure B to No. 25.]

Mr. J. Flavelle to D.-S. Bolton.

Dear Sir,

Uarah, 21 June, 1882.

Having been informed that you have been requested to inspect and report upon the improvements erected or made by Thomas, Ellen, or Anastasia Ryan upon land applied for by them on this run, for your information I beg to draw your attention to the following facts, viz:—

On the 6th day of March last Thomas Ryan called upon me, and I then informed him that the greater part of the land embraced in his and their applications was within the railway reserve, and advised him not to carry out any improvements thereon. On the 7th or 8th I inspected the land and found improvements as follows:—South of the reserve a well, value about £8 10s.; a tank in course of being put down, value when finished about £20; a yard, value £5; a house in course of erection, value £10; about 12 chains of post and sapling one rail fence, no wire, value about £4 10s. at say £30 per mile; there were also a few saplings grubbed up, the cost of which was about £2. On the railway reserve the improvements on the above date were as follows:—About 28 chains of post and sapling rail fence, no wire, on the western boundary of portion No. 132 running north from where the railway reserve intersects that line to a point about 3 feet north of the north-west corner of said portion, and then 10 chains of similar fencing running west from that point about 3 feet north of the northern boundary of portion No. 131, or say altogether upon the reserve 40 chains of fencing at 7s. 6d. per chain, or £30 per mile, £15. You will see by this that the whole of the improvements created by the Ryans at the date of their getting notice was £65-10s., and that the improvements put upon the reserve at that time amounted to £15.

I would also draw your attention to the fact that I called upon Ryan, and in the presence of John Daniels, junior, and Joseph Simpson, who were or had been fencing for Ryan, and when with him measuring the fencing they had erected, offered (as I could not make use of the country held under lease in the same paddock without trespassing upon the land claimed by Ryan) to pay a fair rental for the use of any land Ryan might have. To this Ryan most positively declined to agree. I then informed him, in the presence of the same two men, that I should be compelled to fence to prevent the stock from trespassing. I have erected a temporary brush fence for the sole purpose of preventing stock trespassing upon Ryan's land, and I wish to draw your attention to this fence and ask you to say whether it is not quite palpable that the fence was erected for that purpose and no other.

I need not point out to you that I could not sublet any portion of my Crown lease, and even if I had the power so to do, in the face of the present dry season I could not have spared the country. I have suffered a very heavy loss through being deprived of the use of this paddock, and only erected this temporary fence to enable me to make use of the country when I found that I could not hold my stock any longer without it.

In estimating the value of fencing, well, and tank, mentioned as having cost certain sums, I am in a position to show that the work in some cases actually cost less than the price at which I have valued it.

Should you desire to verify the statement made by me with regard to the amount of and value of improvements, I beg to refer you to J. Daniels, junior, for fencing and all other improvements, to J. Term for tank, to J. T. Longford or the records of the Police Office, Narandera, for the cost of the well.

I am, &c.,

JOHN FLAVELLE,

Forwarded to the Surveyor-General, for his information, with my letter of 27th June, 1882, No. 77.—C. F. BOLTON, D.S.

Memorandum by Surveyor-General.

THE further report from District-Surveyor Bolton discloses the fact that the south boundary of the railway reserve is situated about 16 chains northerly of the position which it has hitherto been believed to occupy. Mr. Bolton has fixed the point of intersection of the trial line of railway from which the reserve is described with the east boundary of portion No. 127; but the exact encroachment of the portions cannot be determined until Licensed-Surveyor Garland has completed instructions from the District-Surveyor to connect the trial railway-line with the other portions through which it passes.

With the present information, A. Ryan's conditional purchase of 640 acres encroaches to the extent of about 147 acres, E. Ryan's to about 200 acres, and T. Ryan's to about 410 acres. It would thus appear that the bulk of E. and A. Ryan's improvements are situated outside the reserve boundary, as shown on sketch A. In the case of A. Ryan no improvements appear to be within the reserve; but on this conditional purchase Messrs. Devlin have constructed a brush fence since the date of conditional purchase, under the impression that they were fencing along the reserve boundary; this fence would now appear to be within the part of conditional purchase outside of the reserve.

E. Ryan has improvements to the value of about £66 within the reserve boundary.

All of T. Ryan's improvements are situated within the reserve, and their value is stated by Ryan to be £10, and by District-Surveyor Bolton £2 10s.

The only improvement of the lessees on this conditional purchase is a six-wire fence running along the east boundary of portion No. 134, valued at £50, partly on the reserve partly without, and completed in 1880.

The survey of portion No. 134 has not been accepted, so that this is not a measured portion within the meaning of the Act, and the fencing would therefore prove no bar to selection.

Ryan estimates the whole of the improvements to be worth £995, whilst District-Surveyor Bolton estimates them at £283 2s. 6d. on A. Ryan's conditional purchase, £226 10s. on E. Ryan's conditional purchase, and £2 10s. on T. Ryan's conditional purchase. Total, £512 2s. 6d.

Submitted in connection with Ms. 82-8,352 enclosed.—G. LEWIS, for the Surveyor General, 25th July, 1882.

Mr. Licensed-Surveyor Garland's connection to the trial line is now to hand. The position of the south boundary can now be definitely fixed, and the actual encroachments of the conditional purchases upon the reserve determined. The blue band on sketch A shows the south boundary of the reserve, and the red hatching the encroachments of the conditional purchases, from which it will be observed that A. Ryan encroaches to the extent of 138 acres, E. Ryan 229 acres, and T. Ryan 467 acres. The relative position of the improvements is not, however, materially affected by the survey.—C.J.S.

Sir,

Survey Camp, Grong Grong, 3 August, 1882.

As directed by you in your letter of 27th June, 1882, I have the honor to furnish you with a diagram showing the points of intersection of the trial survey line with the boundaries of portions Nos. 126, 127, and 128, in the parish of Berrembed, in the county of Bourke.

I would here draw your attention to the fact of a similar omission having occurred with regard to the plan of the subdivision of reserve 666A, in the parish of Marroe. I propose to supply the information as soon as I can reach the locality.

I have, &c.,

Letter S2-77 related to T., A., and E. Ryan's C.P., parish Berembé, county Bourke. Mr. Garland, licensed surveyor, was directed to fix the position of the trial line from which reserve No. 218A was described, and he did so accordingly. A diagram with letter from him to me was forwarded to Head Office on Tuesday last; no other survey was ordered or authorized. Memorandum by Under Secretary for Lands.

THESE cases have come to me for the purpose of dealing with the application to have the land originally included in the conditional purchases of Ellen Ryan, Anastasia Ryan, and T. Ryan, withdrawn from lease, on the ground that the applicants were misled by information supplied by the District Surveyor as to the position of a reserve which proved to be erroneous. At present the extent of the conditional purchases is reduced to the areas which were supposed to be situated outside the reserve. It now appears, the position of the reserve having been more accurately fixed, that there is a larger area available for selection than was at first supposed; therefore there will be apparently no objection to the further area being included in the conditional purchases. So far the cases are free from difficulty. The selectors, however, placed certain improvements within the reserve, the value of which as estimated by them and the district surveyor differs considerably; but I think the valuation of the latter should be accepted, leaving it to the selectors to appeal to appraisal under the law if they think proper. The lessee of the run within which the lands are situated cannot, so far as it appears, claim any privilege of purchasing the land without competition; and as it is suggested that the reserve should be revoked, there would seem to be no very substantial objection to withdraw portion of it from lease and contemporaneously cancel the reservation from sale. The conditional purchasers could then retain, as already decided, the land without the reserve and apply for those portions within it included in their original applications under the 21st section, subject of course to the provisions of the 12th clause of the Act of 1880 as regards improvements placed on the reserve. Although the selectors lay great stress on the erroneous information hurriedly given to them by the district surveyors, who explains the circumstances, it is worthy of note that had the applications been made as at first drawn by their solicitor the whole of the lands included therein would have been upon the reserve. I do not think the Department can reasonably be asked to do more than before suggested, and the selectors should be given to understand distinctly that if they fail to obtain the areas within the reserve under the law after revocation they will not be entitled to any compensation for any alleged loss.

The areas outside the reserve and embraced in the conditional purchase applications appear to be—Ellen Ryan, 411 acres (640 applied for); Anastasia Ryan, 502 acres (640 applied for); T. Ryan, 63 acres (540 applied for).

By the district surveyor's report Ellen Ryan has placed £66 worth of improvements on the reserves, and T. Ryan £2 10s.

The brush fence recently erected by Mr. Devlin, and valued by him at £50, appears to have been placed upon Anastasia Ryan's conditional purchase.

Minutes on No. 31.

Mr. Bolton's jumbling has got the Department into this trouble; he should have pointed out to him the difficulties which his action has occasioned.

All the selections except Ellen Ryan's should be brought down to that portion of each which is outside of the reserve. The large expenditure on Ellen Ryan's proportion that is in the reserve would warrant special provision for her case.

That should be sought by legislation, and in the meantime the land should be withdrawn from lease. The cancellation of the reserve (excepting that alluded to as improved by Ellen Ryan) may be proceeded with.—JOHN R., 9/9/82.

Very urgent.—Mr. G. Lewis, for necessary description.—F.H.W., 11/9/82.

A description is enclosed for the withdrawal from lease of about 229 acres, being that part of Ellen Ryan's conditional purchase included within railway reserve No. 218A, in accordance with Ministerial decision.—G. LEWIS, 19 Sept., 1882. Mr. Wilson.

Memorandum by Inspector of Conditional Purchases.

Re portion No. 134, parish Berrembed, county Bourke, Wagga Wagga.

Conflicting claimants—Ellen Ryan, A. A. Devlin.

Memo. from F. B. Mulligan, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, for the information of the Chief Commissioner, Department of Lands.

THE papers in this case reached me on my return to Wagga Saturday night, 1st September inst., being marked "urgent." On Sunday, 2nd, I wrote duplicate notices and posted them to the parties interested, requesting them to meet me on the 6th idem at Devlin's Siding, which, as far as I knew, was the nearest stopping-place by train to the selection. On 5th September I received a telegram from Mr. Devlin, from Grong Grong Railway-station, asking me to go on there, the land, as I subsequently found, being only 2 miles from there, while it is 9 from the siding. That telegram (to which I did not reply) reached me at 1 p.m., and by the messenger at 1 10 p.m. I wired Miss Ellen Ryan (collect), "Please ask your father to meet me at Railway-station instead of Devlin's Siding to-morrow." On reaching the siding on 6th inst. (yesterday) Mr. Ryan was waiting for me, not having received my message. Under the circumstances I went on to the Railway-station; for this reason, that had I got out and gone with Mr. Ryan we would have been driving for nearly 7 miles parallel with the railway-line, and on arrival of the train Mr. Devlin, not finding I had arrived, would have gone away, and consequently only one of the parties interested would have been on the ground. When the train arrived Mr. Devlin's overseer was waiting and we went direct to the selection, where Mr. Ryan shortly afterwards arrived, and my inspection was made in the presence of both parties. When I had finished my duties I went with Mr. Ryan to his house, 1 mile off, and dined, and he brought me back to the Railway-station, 3 miles away. I did not see Mr. Devlin. I am thus explicit in this trifling matter because Mr. Ryan thinks that he has a grievance over my action, which manifestly in my opinion was simply fair to both parties.

I have only to add that my report in this case is made after careful consideration, and I believe that my valuation throughout, without being extreme, is full.

Sir,

Berrembed, 18 September, 1882.

I have been informed by Mr. Bolton, District Surveyor, Wagga Wagga, that I was entitled to about 20 chains more of the reserve than what is stated in the voucher, which kept me back from day to day expecting to get a proper explanation of the boundary, which is not done yet. It appears to me I have to suffer for other people's mistakes. I have suffered already over £1,000, which I expected was often brought under your notice. Up to date the Under-Secretary, Mr. Oliver, promised me he would do all he could in the matter, but he has done very little as yet. Hoping, if you can't do any better for me than you have up to date, you will send me a voucher that will enable me to draw the full deposit, as 55 acres is no use to me. I am now ten months out of my money and land; but as I have been led astray through Mr. Bolton, and also through the mixed-up survey on the ground, I hope the Government will see me through and recompense me for the losses I sustained through their officers. Enclosed is the voucher. Hoping you will send me a voucher that will enable me to get the full amount of deposit money that I had paid,—

I remain, &c.,

The enclosed minute of Charting Branch on 82-19,833, Misc., is submitted for approval of action. If approved, the enclosed voucher for refund of deposit on C.P. 81/664, difference of area on 485 acres, should be returned to Mr. T. Ryan, the area now proposed for his conditional purchase being 73 acres instead of 55 acres.—C.N., 24/2/83.

As the area applied for by C.P. application 81-664 could not be measured, and as applicant is desirous of receiving refund of deposit on the whole area, there can be no objection to the deposit money being returned.—M. O. C. BLAKE, 25 April, 1883.

I received your letter of 25th instant, in which your bill was to me enclosed for the sum of ten guineas. I think it is rather a long one, as my case is nothing better now than when I put it in your hands, and promised at that time to have it done with in a fortnight. I am satisfied that you have worked hard, although, as there is no good done for me, therefore I hope you will reduce your bill to about half, which will enable me to send you a cheque for the amount by the next mail. If things was done as you promised me when we last met I wouldn't dispute your bill, not at double the charge. Hoping you will take this into consideration and send in a more reasonable one in the next. You will oblige by sending a speedy answer to this note, as I am thinking to have a look over at Queensland, as I would like to have this settled before I go.

I presume that a subdivision survey is required to define on the ground the extent of land outside reserve No. 218A, or rather the southern boundary of that reserve, but there do not appear to be any definite instructions to that effect, nor is there the usual diagram that almost invariably accompanies instructions for subdivision surveys. I beg, therefore, to be further instructed in this case.

Minutes on No. 43.

Will you be good enough to explain why you omitted to place the above quoted paper with others in the case when the letter came back from Mr. Brown's branch with the number of previous papers quoted thereon.

83-573 appears to have passed through your hands on more than one occasion.—J.W. Mr. Harpur.

In reply to your memo. I beg to make the following statement in connection with the delay in this case:—

83-573 was sent after the previous papers on several occasions, but unfortunately did not become attached thereto until recently.

In doing the former paper work it is impossible to follow every case through from the date of receipt, as will be seen from the following figures :—

When I returned to duty on the 23rd August, there were 850 papers, a large batch of memos. and applications requiring former papers, nearly all of which had been received since the 10th of August, and from the 23rd to the present date 988 others have been added, making a total of 1,838, and it will thus be seen how impossible it would be to follow each case through all its courses.

As you are aware, it frequently happens that hours are spent in endeavouring to obtain papers for special cases ; as an instance, you will remember Mr. Haslam and myself spent the whole of Tuesday morning in endeavouring to obtain the papers for two cases required by the Chief Commissioner and Mr. Blackman, and after all they could not be found. During the time taken up in this way, none of the ordinary ones could be touched, and of course they thus accumulated.

Since the 23rd August, Mr. Haslam, Mr. Pownall, and myself have remained until 5 o'clock in order to cope with the work, and have been through 1,500 letters, completing a large number of them, besides many applications and memos.

I can assure you that it has always been a pleasure for me to do my duty, and I have at all times received every help from the gentlemen assisting me, but as the number of cases is too great to admit of their being personally obtained a delay is unavoidable at times.

F.M.H., 6/9/82.

Explanation submitted for the Chief Commissioner's favourable consideration. Under instructions now received, the delay in attaching papers in a complete state will I trust be remedied.—J.W., 6/9/83.

Anastasia Ryan, C.P. 81-658 }

By Ministerial decision of 9 September, 1882 on Ms. 82-14,302, Thomas and Anastasia Ryan's conditional purchases 81-664 and 81-658 are to stand for the areas outside the reserve. The conditional purchases, which were originally for 540 acres and 640 acres respectively, have already been reduced to 55 acres and 350 acres, the difference being the approximate areas supposed to be in the reserve 218a. From recent information fixing the correct position of the reserves, it is found that the total areas available for the conditional purchases are on T. Ryan's conditional purchase 81-664, 73 acres, and A. Ryan's conditional purchase 81-658, 502 acres.

Applicants should therefore be called upon to repay deposits on the extra areas available (vide margin) Ellen Ryan, whose conditional purchase 81-657 it has been decided shall be the subject of special legislation, should probably be asked to return the refund voucher on the difference in area issued to her on 14th March, 1882 (vide certified copy conditional purchase 81-657), as her conditional purchase will be dealt with for the full area applied for.

After action the papers should be forwarded to the Reserve Branch, with a view to the cancellation of the part of reserve included in all the conditional purchases, in accordance with Ministerial decision aforesaid.

No. 53.

Mr. Thomas Ryan to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Berrembed, 18 May, 1883.

I have been informed by a friend of mine that you are not inclined to bring my land or Anastasia's under the same Bill as Ellen's; the cause stated is that the improvements were not on Anastasia's or mine as were on Ellen's. If Mr. Bolton gave Anastasia fair play he would value Anastasia's to be as well improved as Ellen's, as the improvements on Anastasia's at the time that Mr. Bolton inspected has cost her far more money than the improvements on Ellen's; but, as Mr. Oliver told me, he would see into the matter and find out how there was so much difference between my valuation and Mr. Bolton's, but he has not done so as yet. Hoping you will see into the mistake of Mr. Bolton's valuation before I will lose my land, as I have got the improvements valued by two respectable farmers at the same time as Mr. Bolton valued it. Improvements on Anastasia's land at the time that Mr. Bolton valued it consist of 40 chains of first-class fence, five wires and top rail, valued at £35; 1 mile and a-half of brush and drop fence, £75; grubbing and ploughing 50 acres, £300; one dam, £30; one garden, £5; piggery, £5; kitchen, £40; material for building on the ground at that time and paid for, £100; fencing material, £30; all amounting to about £620. I and two more neighbours can prove that Anastasia had done all these improvements at the time of Mr. Bolton's inspection. As he has given in that he has committed an error on Ellen Ryan's application, of course he allows her land to be better improved than any other; but if you call his attention to the above improvements, you shall find that he won't deny of the work being done that I here mention. His reply to me was that he could get it done cheaper than I did; but I assure you I got the work as cheap as I could. I then told Mr. Bolton to send those cheap workmen to me and I would give them a job, but he never did so, therefore we have to get our work done at whatever it may cost us.

Hoping you will see into this matter and give us fair play, without putting us to any further trouble or expense, now it is entirely in your hands as an honorable gentleman to do us justice. If you will be good enough to assist me in this case it will save me in going to any further bother and expense, as I am now left over twenty months without a home, when others with similar cases on other runs have got their selections all right within a couple of months.

I remain, &c.,

THOMAS AND ANASTASIA RYAN.

[Enclosure to No. 53.]

Dear sir,

I am sure you have not seen any of my letters or reports in this case; if you had you would not make the remark you made when I went into your office the other day, that is to say, that I was trying to throw weight on Mr. Bolton. I am trying to do nothing on any man that don't do wrong on me; but as I stated that I was robbed by two or three, I also state now that I am robbed barefaced out of my home. If you look over the two affidavits and Mr. Bolton's own letter that was sent in to Mr. Oliver on 25th October last, those affidavits and his letter will show you that Mr. Bolton is partly the ruin and the cause of all our troubles; even when he came to value our improvements he had Arthur Devlin here with him, therefore I could not expect to get a fair valuation of our improvements. But, on the other hand, I must say that Mr. Bolton is not the man who is fighting against me in Sydney. Hoping friendship and old acquaintance will not trample upon honor and justice, as a letter in the Albury Banner stated the other day that the squatters on the Murrumbidgee were severer on the selectors than ever the landowners in Ireland are on their tenants. From my experience on the Murrumbidgee, the selectors have far more to put up with between the Government and squatters than any tenant in Ireland, for the Government makes the balls and the squatters fire them.

Hoping this letter will see fair play.

Revocation of temporary reserves.

It is hereby notified for general information that his Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has been pleased to revoke, under the 6th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, the temporary reservation from sale of the portion of land hereinafter described, the revocation to take effect at the expiration of thirty clear days from this date.

JAMES S. FARNELL.

Part of reserve 218A, county of Bourke, parish of Berrembed, area about 580 acres. That part of railway reserve 218A, notified 26th November, 1878, included within the following boundaries:—Commencing at the intersection of the south-west boundary of the reserve with the east boundary of portion 118, G. Elliott's conditional purchase of 160 acres; and bounded thence on parts of the west and south by parts of the east and north boundaries of that portion, bearing respectively northerly and westerly to the south-east corner of portion 119; thence again on the west by a line partly forming the east boundary of that portion bearing northerly to the southern boundary of portion 3; thence on part of the north by a line partly forming part of the south boundary of portion No. 3 aforesaid, the south boundary of portion 126, and part of the south boundary of portion 127 bearing easterly to the north-west corner of portion 129; thence on part of the east and again on the north by the west boundary of that portion bearing southerly and by the south boundary bearing easterly to the south-east corner of that portion; thence on the remainder of the east by part of the west boundary of W.R. 1,755, notified 18th August, 1879, bearing southerly to its intersection with the south-west boundary of reserve 218A aforesaid; thence on part of the south-west by part of the south-west boundary of that reserve bearing north-westerly to the south-east corner of reserve 349 from lease, notified 27th September, 1882; thence by the east, the north, and the west boundaries of that reserve from lease, bearing respectively northerly, westerly, and southerly, to the south-west boundary of reserve 218A aforesaid; and thence on the remainder of the south-west by part of the south-west boundary of that reserve bearing north-westerly to the point of commencement.

Mr. Thomas Ryan to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Berrembed, 30 May, 1883.

Referring to my interview with you yesterday in regard to the validating of one of my daughter's selections, or of my own, I wish to state that it should be my own selection that should be validated, for the following reasons:—

1st. My daughter Ellen's original application was for portions Nos. 135, 131, and for part of portion No. 134. My own application was for portion No. 130, and part of portions No. 134 and part of No.

No. 139. Had these applications been granted in the form applied for, it will be seen that the improvements made on No. 130 would have been on my selection, which subsequently was found to be on the reserve; whereas Ellen's would not have been on the reserve, and therefore did not require validating.

2nd. The original applications being altered at the suggestion of Mr. Bolton to the present form, threw the improvements of my selection on to Ellen's, and of course caused Mr. Bolton to report that there were no improvements on my selection. This alteration of the original application you will therefore see is a great and manifest injustice to me; I therefore hope you will have inquiry made into the case, and if you find my statements to be correct you will see your way to have my selection validated.

No. 62.

Mr. Thomas Ryan to The Chief Commissioner.

Dear Sir,

Berrembed, 11 June, 1883.

I take the opportunity of writing you these few lines to let you know a portion of the land that I fought so hard for the last two years has been forfeited by the Department, without my consent or without I knowing anything about it, as I have the same land improved, also a house on it, and residing in it. It has been forfeited without I getting any notice, and also selected by John Flavelle. When I told the Minister the other day it was selected by Flavelle, he told me it did not matter if sixty selected it, they would have to withdraw all their money again. I came home and went to Wagga Wagga. I asked the Land Agent on what ground did Flavelle select it; he told me it was forfeited, and showed me a letter to that effect. It is strange of the Government to be putting people fighting in this manner; no doubt there will be ructions in this before it will be settled, as Mr. Oliver told me once in his office that I had best go to Victoria again. It appears to me he or somebody else is trying hard to send me there now, when they gave me only 73 acres out of 640, and now have forfeited 55 acres out of that without my consent, and still hold my money, I being in Sydney at the time it was forfeited, but still this was kept in darkness. It appears to me the Government can do what they like with the poor man. No doubt if Flavelle comes to live on this ground I will put him off it if it is in my power; whoever will get the worst of it law will settle it.

I sent a note about the 12th of January in which I stated I declined to draw my deposit, and that I intended to stick to my land, on the grounds that I was getting 73 acres, instead of as you stated to me first only 55 acres. It is strange to me that you don't know the boundaries of this reserve in Sydney no more than in Wagga, and still they know it well enough to keep me out of it all this time and now give it to Flavelle. Hoping you will give Flavelle notice to keep off my land, and also not to put any improvements on it, as it is well known I have the best right to it. You will greatly oblige by seeing into this matter at once, for it will save a lot of trouble in time to come. Hoping you will be good enough to answer this letter as soon as possible and let me know the result; if the answer is favourable, it will save me the trouble of going to Sydney again.

I remain, &c.,

Memorandum.

Re Thomas Ryan's case.

I was employed by Mr. Thomas Ryan, on the 8th December, 1881, to prepare applications for himself, his two daughters, and son, for certain portions of land in the county of Bourke, parish of Berrembed, and attended in the Crown Lands Office, Wagga Wagga, on that day, with the parties interested, and prepared their applications; and when the four applications were tendered to the Crown Lands Agent he expressed a doubt as to whether the lands were available, as he said they might be included within a reserve running along the Hay and Narandera Railway line, and advised Ryan to see the district surveyor about the matter. Ryan then went to Mr. Bolton with all the applications, and I accompanied him. After Mr. Bolton had read through all the applications he told Ryan that his application was "all wrong," that it was on the reserve, and advised Ryan not to trouble about his son's selection at that time; that he would be able to select some land at a spot near at hand at another time when more land would be revoked from the railway reserve, and advised Ryan to exhaust all the then available land with his two daughters (Ellen and Anastasia) and his (Ryan, senior's) application. When the district surveyor looked at the applications they were as I had prepared them; and, speaking from memory, I firmly believe Ellen Ryan's application embraced part of portion No. 134, and this and Thomas Ryan's application were then altered by the district surveyor, as I believe, or by his instructions, the former so as to embrace part of portion No. 130 instead of part of portion No. 134. He then told Ryan that the applications applications were all right then, but that they were all wrong before. Ellen Ryan has always maintained that she did not intend to apply for any part of portion No. 130, but that the balance of her conditional purchase should have been made up out of portion No. 134. The conditional purchase of Ryan himself, as prepared by the district surveyor, was almost wholly on the reserve, with the exception of a portion of No. 134, which Ellen Ryan claims as hers, and which Thomas Ryan has always alleged he did intend to be included in his application. The district surveyor has always admitted that he altered Ellen Ryan's conditional purchase so as to embrace part of portion No. 130, instead of part of portion No. 134, and he gives as his reason for so altering the application that the conditional purchase when so altered would be more in accordance with the law as to measurement; he also admits that he made an error in placing Ryan's conditional purchase on the reserve, and attributes such error to the fact that when the Government caused the trial survey of the Railway from Junee to Hay they reserved a certain distance on each side of the line. They afterwards decided upon the line going further north, and made the reserve a mile on each side of the final line of railway, without revoking the first reserve on the south side of the line; consequently the reserve extended on the south side half a mile or three-quarters of a mile over the usual distance—in other words, the reserve was two miles and a half or two miles and three-quarters in width at the point in question, when it should have been, by the ordinary rule, only two miles in width. But in any case the fact remains that through no fault of his own Ryan has suffered a grievous wrong, and has in consequence expended a very large sum of money in improving the land, to say nothing of the anxiety and trouble and expense involved in many visits to Wagga and Sydney to try and get the Government to do something for him; and if ever there was a case in which the Government ought to comply with the request of a petitioner, this is certainly one.

Ryan was five months or thereabouts in possession of the land before his position was made known to him by the Government.

It may also be mentioned that the Government had measured the portions which Ryan had taken up, although they must be presumed to have known that such portions were on the reserve; and these portions being measured on the reserve simply were so many pitfalls into which any intending selector might have fallen, and Ryan unfortunately proves the victim, the district surveyor not being able to assist him.

(For the Under Secretary.)

No. 68.

Mr. T. Ryan to The Secretary for Lands.

Dear Sir,

Sydney, 28 June, 1883.

Referring to the land selected at Wagga Wagga by the Ryans, the right of which is now in dispute, I desire to inform you that the matter was placed in the hands of Mr. Armstrong, Land Agent, Wagga Wagga, but was duly withdrawn from his hands last January, and any papers referring to my case received by him from the Lands Office since that date have been done so without my consent or instructions, and hope any applications from him without my written authority for papers in connection with my business will in future be refused.

Yours, &c.,

THOMAS RYAN.

[Alienation Act, section 14.]
No. 366 of 1883.

District of Wagga Wagga.

Application by Alexander de Berg for the conditional purchase, without competition, of 132 acres unimproved Crown Land.

Received by me, with a deposit of £33, this 28th day of June, 1883, at 10 o'clock.

F. KORFF,

Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Wagga Wagga.

Sir,

28 June, 1883.

I am desirous of purchasing, without competition, under the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, the portion of unimproved Crown Land hereunder described, containing 132 acres; and I herewith tender the sum of £33, being a deposit at the rate of 5s. per acre on the area for which I apply.

I am, &c.,

ALEXANDER DE BERG,

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Wagga Wagga.

No. 70.

Mr. T. Ryan to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 30 June, 1883.

I was informed by Messrs. Jones and Loughnan, who had an interview with you on Tuesday, that the 73 acres, part of No. 134, was to be granted to me in virtue of my original application against all or any other claims. Further, that I was desired by you to return the refund voucher of the whole of the land selected by me.

In pursuance of this direction I beg now to forward to you the said voucher, which I only just have obtained from Mr. A. Armstrong.

I beg to request your reply in confirmation of the aforesaid particulars.

With reference to the remaining portion of my selection (having consideration for the serious loss and expense in which I have been involved, not by any act of my own, but by the acts of your officer, Mr. District-Surveyor Bolton, as acknowledged by Sir John Robertson when Minister for Lands), I respectfully appeal to your sense of right and justice, that this, as in the case of Ellen Ryan, be validated and granted to me under my first application.

I have, &c.,

THOMAS RYAN.

Minutes on No. 70.

This matter has already been exhaustively dealt with.

In his correspondence the applicant desires to rely upon certain applications prepared prior to the submission of the matter to the District Surveyor, but for which those actually made were instituted, and contends that in such original applications the improved area, which under the decision of the late Minister is proposed to be validated, formed part, not of Ellen Ryan's conditional purchase, but of his own.

This matter is, I think, sufficiently clear upon Mr. Bolton's report, from which it appears that, as at first intended by the applicants, their land would have extended right up to the railway, and have been consequently to a very much greater extent within that reserve.

Even were this objection not fatal, it would embark the question upon a sea of uncertainty to enter upon applications which were never actually made, and are not forthcoming in lieu or resting upon the conditional purchases actually made pursuant to law. The result would inevitably be fatal to the whole claims of the applicant and his daughters on other grounds.

The improved area is secured, as far as it is possible to secure it, to the applicant's family by the decision already referred to. The land described in Thomas Ryan's own conditional purchase as described is almost wholly within the reserve, and is improved only to the extent of £2 10s. It does not appear to me that he is entitled to any further concession as regards the reserved land, which I should recommend being thrown open as originally intended.

As regards the part of Thomas Ryan's application lying outside of the reserve, viz., 73 acres of portion 134, it would have been open to him to retain this area, and it was left to him under Sir John Robertson's decision, under which a refund order for the remaining area was sent to him. He applied, however, for a refund of the whole of his deposit, by letter dated 18th September, 1882, which application was under a report from the Charting Branch, dated 25th April, 1883, complied with under date 10th August last. The document alleges that he wrote, under date January last, recalling this request, and desiring to retain this area, and there is some corroborative evidence in support of his statement; but no such letter ever reached this office.

Note, 3/9/83.

(See 83-573, the letter in question, which was, it appears, duly received, but, owing to the illegibility of the signature, registered under another name.)

I do not doubt that had such a letter been received the voidance of the conditional purchase as a whole would have been averted; but the question now is as to how far the steps taken at his instance could be retraced, and I am bound to say that as the 73 acres in question have since the voidance been conditionally purchased by other parties, it is not, in my opinion, now open to reinstate the voided conditional purchase.

Mr. T. R. Rigbye to Mr. T. Ryan.

Dear Sir,

Sydney, N.S.W., 29 June, 1883.

I remember distinctly writing a letter for you to the Under Secretary for Lands, about the third week in January last, which letter, declining to accept a refund from the Department, was dictated by Mr. A. G. Jones, M.L.A., and signed by yourself in my presence. You then immediately went down to post this letter, and returned saying you had done so.

I am, &c.,

T. R. RIGBYE.

[Enclosure]

[Enclosure B to No. 70.]

A. G. Jones, Esq., M.P., to Mr. T. Ryan.

Sir,

Sydney, 30/6/83.

About the middle of January last you called upon me and made some statements about your selections which now are in dispute.

Having heard your statements, I suggested that you would not accept refund of the deposit made by you when you selected. You then informed me that you "had, under certain conditions, applied already for the refund." I then advised you to write to the Minister and revoke your application. I dictated the letter; it was written by Mr. Rigbye (a gentleman who occasionally assisted me in my office); you signed the letter, after it had been read to you twice. It was placed in an envelope and addressed by Mr. Rigbye. You then took the letter and left the room to post it in the pillar-box in the street, immediately under the window of my room. As you left the room I cautioned you to see that the letter dropped into the box, and no portion left outside, as it may be taken out by some of the loungers about.

A. G. JONES.

P.S.—I have not the slightest doubt that you there and then duly posted the letter.—A.G.J.

No. 71.

Mr. T. Ryan to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Grong Grong, 2 July, 1883.

My friends, Mr. Jones and Mr. Loughnan, told me that on Tuesday last you and Mr. Moriarty promised them that if I got the vouchers from Armstrong that you would leave me the 73 acres, which then a portion of it was selected by Devlin. On these conditions I went to Armstrong, and had to give him a cheque for ten guineas before he would give them up to me; this money I paid on the protest. Mr. Moriarty also stated to Mr. Jones that he would do what he could to give us our land. I was also told by my friends that you promised to bring my land under the Validated Bill as well as Ellen's, and as our land was not brought under the Validated Bill before this, and Devlin still left the use of it, they told me to ask you to take my land out of lease, and that you could secure me in a way that I could fence in my land and Ellen's, as it is already surveyed.

You will greatly oblige by doing so, as you know well from first to last that I and my family are badly treated. I stand now in as bad a position as I did last January, after all my trouble and expense, as I have been in Sydney for the last fortnight. I was barred out of your office; would not be allowed in for to clear up my case, which, if I was, I am sure any man of conscience would not treat me as I am treated. I can safely say that I never did anything in my life that I should be barred out of office at office hours in seeking for my rights; and saw at the same time Mr. Martin, a gentleman who is fighting hard against me, allowed into office every day, while I have to stand at the door. If you think my character is bad, you can ask Mr. Day or Mr. Levin, Members for Corowa and Albury, as they have known me for the last twenty years; and I am sure they will assist in this case, if I am not able to go through it without them. Mr. Martin is successful so far in securing my land and Anastasia's for Devlin. If our land was thrown open all at once, as I asked to have done, we would have some chance; but this is not the case. When I will get a chance of giving a proper explanation of my case I can show you clearly where I have suffered over £1,000. When I go to Sydney I am told one thing to-day, and the next time I go down there will be another story. This is causing me to hang on, and my case getting no further ahead, although every Member in the House, of about a dozen that I have told my story to, tells me to stick to my land, and that I must get it, and if I don't they tell me to bring it before the House, and that I will be sure to get it. I never had a conversation with Sir John, but still, on what he heard from others, he was good enough to secure Ellen's sections for her before he was put out of office, and I am sure if I had a conversation with him before he was put out of office he would secure mine and Anastasia's before now. At the same time I have nothing to say against you, as you only heard an explanation from me about my case once, and then you acknowledged that I was badly treated, and stated in presence of Mr. Loughnan you would do all you could for me. You also asked me, the next time you saw me, what brought me down, that I was getting all I wanted, and that I was coming down fighting against myself. When I told you that I came down, for my land was gone, and selected by Flavelle, you told me it did not matter if sixty selected it they should all draw their money, and that I would get it. Mr. Moriarty and you denied the Land Agent in Wagga Wagga to have any letter signed by either of you, but to make sure I went to the Land Agent and got a copy of it, in which it states my ground was void on 10th of May. I was in all office on 10th May in Sydney, and also on 11th; you told me to go home, that my ground was all right. At the same time, according to Mr. Armstrong's letters to me, you sent him the refund vouchers and denied me, and I in office on the same day. I was in both Mr. Moriarty's office, your office, and Mr. Lewis's on 10th and 11th of May. I accused Armstrong for not letting me know he had my vouchers when he saw me in Mr. Lewis's office, but he states in a note sent to me that he had not received them on 10th; he got them on 11th of May, and he thought I was gone home then. If the vouchers were banded to me that day, instead of to Armstrong, who perhaps is working for Devlin, it would save all this bother, for I could go and reselect the land if you would only acknowledge it was void, but it was not many minutes void when Devlin had word. Armstrong is not my agent since last January. Devlin told some of my neighbours some time ago, which they are prepared any moment to prove it on him if you think he is wrong in saying so, when a selector goes to Sydney and employs an agent, he stated, when they would give him a £5 note that he would find out in the Land Office who was working for him, and he would give him a £10 note, and the agent would work for him, and not for the selectors, and that the Minister for Lands himself was working for him; but this yarn I don't believe until I will see it proved. I hope you will do me justice, and that is all I want, as you promised me you would.

Anastasia's land was secured last Thursday by one of Devlin's working-men. He had three of his working-men in against her; it is well known they are nothing better than three dummies. Mr. Martin told me in Sydney he knew Devlin would be in for it; that proves to you they are Devlin's dummies. It is on your hands yet to give Anastasia her land, as she never drew her money.

I am going to ask of you a favour which you have promised to do for me some time ago, and it is not done yet: that is, to withdraw my land and Ellen's from lease, if it is not done yet; and also if you are going to bring my land and Ellen's under the Validated Bill, as Mr. Jones told me you promised to do so, that you will send me a note in which you might enable me to fence in my land and Ellen's without any danger of actions against me by Devlin. You also promised you would throw open all that reserve which joins me. There is a petition sent in and presented to you through Mr. Loughnan; it was also

also approved of by District-Surveyor Bolten. He told me personally he had applied for it some time ago to be thrown open for selection. Hoping you will do this at once, and that you won't keep me and my family stuck here in the bush starving, as we are now for the last two years. If it was my fault I would give in long ago, but as Sir John also said, when he brought Ellen's land under the Validated Bill, that it was none of my fault, that it was the District Surveyor caused all this dispute. I saw a letter read by Mr. Moriarty, which stated the above; it was last week in Mr. Moriarty's office. My neighbours here secured some land on a reserve on Flood's run; they went down and saw Mr. Martin; they tell me he went with them straight to the Minister, and he withdrew it from lease at once; this appears strange to me. I am trying to get my land withdrawn from lease fully six months, and I believe it is not done yet. When I go to Sydney you say I am coming down bothering you and occupying your time; but if a man don't get what he thinks he has a right to get, he is sure to try it again. I wanted Mr. Martin one time to take my case, but he told me he could not, as he was employed against me. I am sure if he did take the case from me at that time we would be using our ground long ago instead of Devlin. Hoping now, as I stand entirely on your hands, you will do me the favour I ask, that is, to bring my land and Ellen's under the Validated Bill as soon as possible, also to withdraw it from lease, and if such is done it would enable me to use the grass of it as well as Devlin.

Hoping you will excuse me for sending you such a long letter,

I remain, &c.,
THOMAS RYAN.

No. 72.

Miss Anastasia Ryan to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Grong Grong, 7 July, 1883.

I here enter a protest against Alexander de Berg, who selected a portion of my selection on 28th of June last, on the grounds that they were two surveyed portions, and improved to the amount of about £400.

2. On the grounds that those portions are outside of the mile within the trial line of the Railway Reserve No. 218a.

3. That the boundary of the said reserve at the date of my selection was not properly gazetted, and did not show either in the District Survey Office, Wagga Wagga, or in the Survey Office, Sydney, as I hold over the plans I got from Sydney on 25th March, 1882, do entirely differ from that of the boundary described now. Hoping in consideration of this great expense that I am put to on the head of this unfounded reserve, which, as Sir John, our late Minister, stated in a letter you will find in Mr. Moriarty's office, that it was none of our fault, that it was the District Surveyor's fault, I hope you will take the same view of the matter and bring this under the Validated Bill, as well as the other selections, as you know it is nothing but justice to do so. I am told by a good adviser, and by a party who looked over the District Surveyor's books and maps and also the Gazette, that this mile and a half will not stand good in law, that it is only a mile from the trial line was correct when I selected it. Hoping, as it is in your hands, you will settle it without putting me to any further expense,—

I have, &c.,

ANASTASIA RYAN.

P.S.—This protest is to be presented through George C. Loughnan, Esq., M.L.A., and A. G. Jones, Esq., M.L.A.

Minutes on No. 72.

Important; let this letter be placed with Ryan's papers.—J.S.F., 10/7/83. Mr. Wiseman.—W.B., 12/7/83. Referred to Charting Branch.—C.N., 17/9/83.

This is a protest by Anastasia Ryan against Alexander de Berg's conditional purchase No. 83-366, Wagga Wagga, on the grounds that the area applied for forms part of her conditional purchase No. 81-658, Wagga Wagga.

The question has been several times before the Secretary for Lands in connection with the adjacent conditional purchases by Thomas and Ellen Ryan, and it was finally decided that as A. Ryan's conditional purchase No. 81-658 encroached on reserve No. 218a. to the extent of about 138 acres, the conditional purchase should be reduced by that area, which it was directed should be withdrawn from the reserve and thrown open to conditional purchase. On the 28th June, 1883, the first Land Office day after the area was available for conditional purchase (the reserve having been cancelled on 28 May, 1883), the Crown Lands Agent reports there were four applicants for the area, A. Ryan and A. de Berg being amongst the number, and that a ballot having been taken resulted in favour of Alexander de Berg. It is therefore submitted that A. de Berg's conditional purchase No. 83-366, being apparently unobjectionable, be approved, and that A. Ryan's protest be refused.

The subdivision fee lodged by A. de Berg is not required, the area being the balance of two measured portions after satisfying a previous conditional purchase, and should, it is recommended, be refunded.

In connection with A. Ryan's conditional purchase No. 81-658a, a repayment of deposit upon 152 acres has been approved, and if applicant has not repaid that deposit she should be asked to do so.

Mr. T. Ryan to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Grong Grong, 17 July, 1883.

I, the undersigned, protest against A. A. Devlin getting my land, on the grounds that, on the 29th of June, you promised Mr. Jones and Mr. Loughnan that you would leave me my land by giving you back the two refund vouchers that I did, on 30th of June, accompanied with other letters; you requested, second, that it is a measured portion No. 134 of 295 acres; Devlin's selection is only 55 acres out of the above portion, which is well improved.

Descriptions of improvements:— $1\frac{1}{2}$ mile of 6-wire fencing; $\frac{1}{2}$ a mile of posts in the ground ready for wiring; one dam that held water all last summer and never went dry; one house; 295 acres rung, and some scrubbing. I got the above improvements valued at over £100.

Sir, as you have told me more than once in Sydney to go home and work on my ground, that I was getting all I wanted, and that my ground was all right, I hope you will make your word good, and give me my land; you are leaving me without a house over my head, and giving it to Devlin that has more land than he knows how to use.

Yours, &c.,

THOMAS RYAN.

This protest is to be presented through Mr. Loughnan and Mr. Jones.

A. A. Devlin's A.C.P. 83-353 and Ellen Ryan's A.C.P. 83-358, Wagga Wagga.

A. A. DEVLIN'S A.C.P. 83-353 and E. Ryan's A.C.P. 83-358 were taken up on the same day—the former at 10 a.m., and the latter at 10 6 a.m., and are for the same land.

The land applied for, stated to be 55 acres, is an area of 73 acres, being that part of Thomas Ryan's void C.P. 81-664 outside Railway Reserve 218a.

In addition to the fact that E. Ryan's application is subsequent, although only a few minutes, to Devlin's, it may be pointed out that it has been made as an additional to C.P. 81-657, the area of which had been reduced from 640 acres to 345 acres (the area stated in Schedule on the present A.C.P.), but under decision on Misc. 82-14,302 it has been determined to legalize C.P. 81-657 for the full area of 640 acres.

In view of these facts, it is submitted that E. Ryan's A.C.P. 83-358 should be declared void, and A. Devlin requested to pay deposit on 18 acres additional area; subdivision fee paid by E. Ryan should be refunded.

Anastasia Ryan, conditional purchase 81-658, at Wagga Wagga.

*See No. 2.

By decision on back of certified copy of the above-mentioned application (now enclosed)* the conditional purchase was reduced to 350 acres, which was at that date apparently the whole of the area available outside of reserve 218a.

By correspondence under cover of conditional sales 83-5,700 correspondence (from which papers this application has now been detached for separate action), it was sought to have the conditional purchase validated for the full area applied for, but by decision on Miscellaneous 82-14,302 the reduction of the conditional purchase to the area outside of the reserve 218a was upheld.

From recent surveys it was, however, discovered that the boundary of the reserve, as shown on tracing, is incorrect, and the area available for this conditional purchase is in reality 502 acres. Attention was drawn to this, and it was recommended, under B.C. covering Miscellaneous 82-19,833, that applicant should be called upon to repay deposit on 152 acres; and applicant was informed accordingly on 21st April, 1883.

The papers from which the enclosed conditional purchase has been removed have reference to the separate case of Ellen Ryan's conditional purchase.

Mr. T. Ryan to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

17 Victoria Chambers, Phillip-street, 22 August, 1883.

In the matter of my selection, conditional purchase 81-658*, portions 134, 129, and part of portion 130, which are nearly all on reserve 218a, notified 26th November, 1878, and which selection I submit has been illegally declared void. I now respectfully request that, in justice to my claim, this land be held back from selection for the present, and that I be allowed a reasonable time and opportunity to establish my claim thereto. I may be permitted to state that, should this not be done, grave complications and vexatious law-suits are likely to arise. I have also to request that you will be pleased to reply at your earliest convenience to the above address.

I have, &c.,

Mr. T. Ryan to The Secretary for Lands.

Grong Grong, near Junee, 28 August, 1883.

Additional conditional purchase by Arthur A. Devlin, made at Wagga Wagga, on 21 June, 1883, area 55 acres, being part of surveyed portion No. 134, parish of Berembé, county of Bourke, whole area of which is 296 acres.

Sir,

I protest against the above selection being allowed, on the ground that the selector claims to purchase land which is improved sufficient to bar selection. The improvements consist of dwelling-house of sawn slabs, roof of corrugated iron, value £20 0 0
 A dam 30 0 0
 15 chains of posts and wire fencing 15 0 0
 55 acres of ringbarking, at 1/3 3 8 9
 Material for fencing laid on line, 300 posts 6 0 0

£74 8 9

on the 55 acres at the time of selection by Mr. Devlin.

I also protest against the selection on the ground that the selector claims to purchase a part of an improved measured portion of 296 acres.

The improvements on the remainder of the portion were, at the time of Mr. Devlin's selection,—

65 chains post and 6-wire fencing on the eastern side 65 0 0
 240 acres of ringbarking, 1/3 15 0 0

Total value of improvements £154 8 9

I have therefore to request that you will make void the above-mentioned selection.

Declaration by Mr. T. R. Rigbye.

I, THOMAS RIGBYE RIGBYE, of Sydney, in the Colony of New South Wales, do hereby solemnly and sincerely declare, as follows :—

That on or about the eighteenth day of January, or between the sixteenth and twentieth day of that month of the present year, I wrote a letter for one Thomas Ryan, of Grong Grong, in the parish of Berembé, county of Bourke, addressed to the Honorable the Minister for Lands, Sydney, which letter stated the refusal of the said Thomas Ryan to accept the refund voucher for his selection, and expressed his intention to retain the said selection. And the said letter was dictated to me by Auber George Jones, Esq., M.L.A., in whose presence the said letter was written, and that I have every reason to believe the said letter was posted in the pillar-box opposite the "Metropolitan Hotel," in King-street, by the said Thomas Ryan. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the Reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of the Government of New South Wales and to substitute declarations in lieu thereof and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

I, THOMAS RYAN, of Grong Grong, parish of Berembé, county of Bourke, in the Colony of New South Wales, do hereby solemnly and sincerely declare as follows :—

THAT between the sixteenth and the twentieth day of January, of the present year, I was present at the "Metropolitan Hotel," when I saw Mr. Rigbye write a letter dictated to him by Mr. Auber George Jones, M.L.A., and which letter, after being read to me, I signed.

That the said letter was addressed to the Honorable the Minister for Lands, and was to the effect that I refused to accept any refund voucher for my selection situate as above, and that I intended to remain on my ground.

That I posted the said letter, within ten minutes of my signing it, in the pillar-box opposite the said hotel in King-street. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and

I, AUBER GEORGE JONES, M.P. and J.P., of Wagga Wagga, in the Colony of New South Wales, do hereby solemnly and sincerely declare as follows:—

In the month of January last, Thomas Ryan, a selector, parish of Berrembed, county of Bourke, called upon me with reference to certain selections. After hearing his statement I advised him to write to the Minister for Lands withdrawing a letter he had previously written, stating that he declined to receive the refund vouchers and reasserting his claim to the land. At Ryan's request I dictated and Mr. Rigby wrote such letter, which was read to me and signed by Thomas Ryan, enclosed in an envelope, stamped, and handed to Ryan, which he immediately posted in my presence in the iron receiver at the corner of King and Castlereagh Streets. Mr. Inspector Mulligan to The Chief Commissioner.

Special report by F. B. Mulligan, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, respecting the improvements and their value on portion 134, parish of Berrembed, county of Bourke, district of Wagga Wagga.

Sir,

Wagga Wagga, 7 September, 1883.

I have the honor to report that I visited and inspected the portion of land above described, conditionally purchased on 21st June, 1883, at Wagga Wagga, and found the improvements thereon to be of the nature and (in my opinion) value and position particularized below, with, as far as I was able to ascertain, the period of erection.

Thomas Ryan is in possession of this land. His hut contained bed and bedding, chair, a few articles of crockery, a loaf, gun, tea-kettle, gridiron outside; and it has the appearance of occasional occupation. The wife and family of Mr. Ryan reside about a mile away from this selection.

Minutes on No. 91.

This report confirms the action taken on the within survey minute of 20 July last on survey 6,781. It appears that in the area outside of the reserve the improvements at the date of selection by A. A. Devlin were of the value of £38 1s. 3d., of which value £22 5s. was effected by the applicant Ryan.—A.O.M., 10/9/83. Approved.—J.S.F., 24/9/83.

No. 92.

Mr. T. Ryan to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Berrembed, 8 September, 1883.

The Inspector of Selections had been here to inspect my land on Thursday, 6th instant; he also had a plan of a portion of my ground, with A. A. Devlin's name on it. I hope this is not done with your consent, as you had told Mr. Loughnan and Mr. Jones, on 29th of June last, if I gave you back the vouchers you would leave me my land, and to go home and work on my selection, instead of coming down to Sydney fighting against myself. I took back the vouchers myself and handed them to Mr. Moriarty, together with other letters that you required. You have now five sworn affidavits in your possession. I am sure that will give you satisfaction that the land is mine, and not Devlin's. It is now one year and nine months since I selected this land, and still you won't give me a title to encourage me to go on with the improvements, although I have been about eight times in Sydney since last January; and every time I have been talking to you you told me that my land was all right, and that I was getting all I wanted; and more than once, in presence of Mr. Loughnan and Mr. Jones, you told me to go home and work on my land, that it would pay me better than to be coming down to Sydney. I hope you did not send me home to work for Devlin, as I have lost all my time on this ground one year and nine months, and it is the only home that I got for to rear my family on. I am still residing on it, and I intend to, hoping you will do justice, and not assist Mr. Martin in putting me out of my home. I only want justice and fair play. I hope you will give me justice, as you always said I was badly treated; but the longer I see my case is in hands the worse I am treated. I have a full statement of my case from the date of selection up to this day, drawn up by a lawyer; Mr. Jones and Mr. Loughnan have seen the same, and they have stated it is a correct one. This lawyer, he has agreed for to take my case in hands at a very small expense; but I would sooner I could get my land quietly if it can be done. Some of my neighbours tell me that Arthur Devlin said it was no use of a selector going against them—that if a selector went down to Sydney and gave £5 to a land agent, he would find out in the Lands Office who was working for the selector, and that he would give him £10, and the land agent would work for him instead of for the selector, and that the Minister

35

Minister for Lands himself was working for them. I am not afraid to give you this in writing, as my neighbour tells me that he will prove the words if it comes to Court, if this 55 acres is taken from me. It should be left to Ellen, as she and other witnesses can swear in Court that that is the ground she applied for, and never applied for portion 130, which now you are giving her instead of portion 134. You also have Mr. Bolton's letter in the office acknowledging he made the change on Ellen's application without her consent, or without she knowing anything about it. I think any just man should have no objection in letting us have our land that we have worked so hard for the last two years. Hoping it will soon come to a close in my favour or in Ellen's,—

I have, &c.,

Sir,

Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, 29 September, 1883.

With reference to your letter of the 28th August last, protesting against the conditional purchase noted in margin, on the grounds that the land applied for was improved of sufficient value to bar selection, I have to inform you that from a report of Mr. Mulligan, Inspector of Conditional Purchases, it appears that in the area outside of the reserve the improvements at the date of selection by Mr. Devlin were of the value of £38 1s. 3d., of which value £22 5s. was effected by yourself.

The Minister for Lands has therefore decided that A. A. Devlin's conditional purchase shall be approved, and Ellen Ryan's application for the same land declared void.

The Chief Commissioner to Miss Anastasia Ryan.

Madam, Conditional Sales Division, Department of Lands, 24 November, 1883.

In reply to your letter of the 7th July last, protesting against Alexander de Berg's conditional purchase, on the ground that the area applied for forms part of your purchase 81-658, Wagga Wagga, I am directed to inform you that the question has been several times before the Secretary for Lands, in connection with the adjacent conditional purchases by Thomas and Ellen Ryan, and it was finally decided that, as your purchase 81-658 encroached on reserve 218a to the extent of about 138 acres, the purchase should be reduced by that area, which it was directed should be withdrawn from the reserve and thrown open to conditional purchase.

C.P. 81-658,
8 Dec., 1881.

On the 28th June, 1883, the first land office day after the area was available for conditional purchase (the reserve having been cancelled on 28th May, 1883), the Crown Lands Agent reports there were four applicants for the area, yourself and A. de Berg being among the number, and that a ballot having been taken, resulted in favour of A. de Berg. His purchase, 83-366, being apparently unobjectionable, has been approved, and your protest therefore disallowed.

I have to request that you will repay the deposit on 152 acres, referred to in my letter of 21st April last.

RYANS CONDITIONAL PURCHASES AT WAGGA WAGGA.

REPORT.

THE SELECT COMMITTEE of the Legislative Assembly, appointed on the 28th November, 1883,—“with power to send for persons and papers, to inquire into and report upon the case of Thomas Ryan, Ellen Ryan, and Anastasia Ryan, selectors in the Wagga Wagga Land District,”—and to whom was referred, on 16th January, 1884,—“the Return to Order made on 16th October, 1883, ‘Ryan’s Conditional Purchase at Wagga Wagga,’”—have agreed to the following Report:—

1. Your Committee having examined the witnesses named in the List* See List, page 62 (whose evidence will be found appended hereto) find as follows:—

1. That Ellen Ryan selected, on the 8th December, 1881, at the Wagga Wagga Land Office, 640 acres of land, being measured portions Nos. 135, 131, and 147 acres of portion 130.
2. That Anastasia Ryan selected at the same place and date 640 acres, being measured portions Nos. 132 and 133. That Thomas Ryan selected also at the same place and date 540 acres of land, being portions 134, and so much of 130 and 129 as was available between E. and A. Ryan’s conditional purchases and the railway reserves.
3. That the said selectors are in every way bonâ fide.
4. That previous to application the selectors took the precaution to get information from Mr. District Surveyor Bolton, and the applications were drafted under his direction.
5. That Mr. Bolton gave the information in good faith, with a view to assist the selectors, but fell into an error in consequence of two railway reserves having been proclaimed and the boundaries not being properly charted.
6. That, three months after the selections were applied for, it was ascertained a portion of each was on railway reserve No. 218A (in the case of Thomas Ryan, all but 73 acres).
7. That the father, Thomas Ryan (who acted for his daughters, E. and A. Ryan), at once laid the matter before the Lands Department, and asked that the land upon the reserve should be withdrawn from the run, as he had been threatened with an action, and had already spent £500 in improvements upon the land within the reserve.

8. That after a long, wearisome, and expensive conflict with the Department, the Minister was induced to include those portions of Ellen Ryan's selections within the reserve in a validating Bill.
9. That letter marked 43 was lost in the Lands Department, and, in consequence, all T. Ryan's land was voided; further, that the said letter was found only when the case was brought before the House.
10. That reserve No. 218A, upon which the selections were found partly to be, is of a temporary nature.
11. That unless the selectors get the full area applied for—or nearly so—the value of the remainder will be much reduced.
12. That a portion of Anastasia Ryan's land has been lost to her in competition with the lessee, it having been voided and thrown open to public competition.
13. That the selectors were misled by the information derived from the District Surveyor, as to the position of reserve No. 218A.
14. That the lots selected were measured, or parts of, measured portions.
15. That in consequence of the unaccountable loss (for a time) of an important letter in the Lands Department, certain portions of the land were voided.

2. Your Committee are of opinion that the Lands Department (as soon as it was discovered that uncanceled reserves which were unknown even to the District Surveyor clashed with the selections) might have legalized the selections, either by placing them in the validating Bill and withdrawing the land from lease, or by cancelling the reserves in question, to enable the selectors to make the selections afresh; but as neither course was adopted, the Committee are of opinion that steps should now be taken by the Government to legalize so much of T. Ryan's conditional purchase as is situated within Reserve 218a.

GEO. C. LOUGHNAN,
Chairman.
