DISORDER :—
Mr. A. G. Taylor, removed from Chamber by Sergeant-at-Arms, by direction of the Speaker, for refusing to obey the Chair, Mr. Speaker gave reasons for his action in removing Mr. Taylor ; motion made, ( Mr. Garvan ), that House disapproves of action of Speaker and amendment proposed, ( Mr. Willis ), that Mr. Taylor be heard in his place, and negatived ; Mr. Garvan's motion negatived, 395-6.
The Chairman reported disorder from the Committee of Ways and Means ; and also that he had directed the removal from the Chamber of the Member for West Macquarie ( Mr. Crick ) ; Mr. Crick admitted by direction of Mr. Speaker, and invited to explain ; Mr. Crick addressed the House, and refusing to obey the Chair, was ordered to be removed from the Chamber ; and having used certain disorderly words, was adjudged guilty of disorder, &c., and was expelled from the House, 430-1.
ARISING WHILE THE HOUSE IS IN COMMITTEE :—
Mr. Speaker, having observed grave disorder when the House was in Committee on the Broken Hill Water Supply Bill, resumed the Chair, and expressed astonishment that the Honorable Member for Burrowa ( Mr. Slattery ) did not obey the ruling of the Chairman ; and also stated that if the Honorable Member did not do so he would have to take an extreme course ; Mr. Slattery explained, Speaker gave ruling, and Committee resumed, 419.
Motion made ( Mr. Dibbs ) that when any Member refuses to obey the Chairman the case shall be reported without debate to the House, to be dealt with after explanation from the offending Member ; and amendment moved ( Mr. Garrard ) to give the Chairman the right to make an explanation—amendment and original motion negatived, 436.

Having observed grave disorder in Committee resumes Chair, 419.
Authorised to present Appropriation and Loan Bills to Governor for Assent, 558.
RULINGS OF :—
That the Agricultural Society of New South Wales Lease Bill was not beyond the order of leave, 104.
That he could not accept the Public Works Act as governing the proceedings or limiting the powers of the House, 125.
That under section 13 of the Letters Patent, in the absence of His Excellency, Message signed by the Lieutenant-Governor by deputation from the Governor was in order, 154.
That amendment was in order to substitute another name in a motion to appoint a member to the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Public Works, and against a demand for a ballot, 181.
That special reference to provision in the Crown Lands Bill, in reference to the repeal of existing legislation, was not necessary in the Title, 208.
That clause 9 of the Crown Rents Bill which interfered with actions pending or a judgment obtained should be mentioned in the Order of Leave, and that therefore the Bill was improperly before the House, 208.
That since the adoption of the Additional Standing Orders, altering the character of the Motions for Adjournment, the practice of the House of Commons in respect to two motions of a similar character being moved consecutively, did not apply to these questions, 247.
That Papers should not be laid upon the Table of the House which reflected upon the conduct of a Member of, or referred to a debate in, the House, 265.
That Bills coming from the Council could not be ruled out of order in this House on the ground of informality in its initiation there, 265.
That the Order of Leave to bring in the Imprisonment for Debt Abolition Bill was sufficiently comprehensive to cover the Bill, 227.
That papers did not refer to the action of a Member in this House, and could be laid on Table, 272.
That the Borough of Newcastle Electric Lighting Bill was beyond the Order of Leave, 288.
That Sessional Order relative to New Business after 11 o'clock rescinded after that hour in the same sitting was not in force to end of sitting, 337.
That motion for expulsion of Mr. Crick was in order, 431.
That no dissent from, could be made without notice, 432.
That Bank Holidays Act Amendment Bill was beyond the Order of Leave, 423.
That Early Closing Bill did not involve expenditure, and did not require to be covered by a Message from the Governor, 436.
That Boats Registration and Regulation Bill was beyond the Order of Leave, and was therefore out of order, 461.
That question as to what was a matter of "public importance" under the Additional Standing Order in reference to Adjournments of the House was not a matter for him to decide, 465.
That in future cases of swearing in new Members he would put in operation the Standing Orders of the House of Commons, passed on 30th April, 1886, which prevented the interruption of the business, 505.
That provision in Marrickville to Burwood Road Railway Bill (No. 2) was covered by the order of leave, 511.
That in Supply, during the discussion of a Minister's salary, reference could be made to subsequent items, as the Committee had a right to criticise the Minister's policy when voting his salary, 517.
That Honorable Members should sit in the Chamber in a manner respectful to other Honorable Members and to the occupant of the Chair, and so that the passages would be left clear between the seats, but that it was a matter to be left to the good taste of Honorable Members, 517.
That certain provisions in the Eight-hour Bill were beyond the order of leave, and also referred to rules in reference to preparation and drawing of Bills, 521.
That the Net-fishing in Port Hacking Prohibition Act Amendment Bill was beyond the order of leave, 521.
That motion was one of privilege dealing with language which denounced Parliament as "rotten and corrupt," 524.
That motion in reference to charges of Bribery in connection with the passing of the Broken Hill Water Supply Bill was substantially the same as an amendment submitted the previous night, and, therefore, could not be put, 529.

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS.

(REPORT FOR 1889.)

Printed in accordance with Resolutions of both Houses of Parliament.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 16 September, 1890.

I have the honor to submit, for your information, the Tenth Annual Report of the Department, indicating the business transacted during the year 1889.

Reorganization.

The Departmental Board of Inquiry, which prior to 1889 had visited all the Land Board and District Survey Offices with the exception of those at Cooma and Sydney, brought their inspection to a conclusion during the year, and submitted five Progress Reports and their Final Report, in which were embodied recommendations of much importance affecting the methods of action adopted, and a proposal for a complete recasting of the personnel of the staffs, the inquiry having been of a thorough and searching character, initiated with a view to general retrenchment, the introduction of a uniform system, and the correction of defective administration.

The Board recommended the retirement of several officers whose services it was apparent were no longer required, and effect was given thereto at a saving to the Department of about £1,187 per annum.

Radical changes having been recommended in respect to country offices in the final Report, it was necessary that careful consideration should be extended to it before adopting and giving effect to the alterations involved; consequently action in respect thereto was not complete at the close of the year, and the reconstruction will become a matter for reference in the Report of the Department for the present year, and will be fully dealt with therein.

An investigation into the working of the General and Trigonometrical Survey Branches of the Department was also conducted by a Board, consisting of Messrs. Conder, M'Donald (Members of the former Board of Inquiry), and Mr. District Surveyor Allworth, and their report, in which considerable alterations were recommended, was furnished at the close of the year.

During the year an alteration in administrative arrangements was made, and the Forest Conservancy Branch, which had hitherto been under the control of this Department, was removed and vested in that of the Colonial Secretary; as a consequence no reference to the work effected by that Branch appears in connection with the present Report.

Caveats and Appeals.

During the year 54 caveats were received against applications made under the law. 244 appeals were dealt with by the Minister resulting in 96 being upheld, while 125 were dismissed; others were postponed, and some were referred back to the Local Land Boards for further inquiry. Schedules I and V set forth the details in respect to the caveats and appeals.

Expenditure in 1889.

The amount voted by the Legislature to defray the expenses of the Department was £673,792, from which should be deducted the sum of £253,000, voted as a special account to meet claims for subsidies under the Rabbit Nuisance Act of 1883, and refunds to Pastoral Lessees, leaving the vote to cover the ordinary expenses at £420,792. A further appropriation of £2,689 will be required, making in all £676,481.

The actual expenditure for the year is £539,048.12s., and the estimated amount of claims outstanding may be set down at £8,700, leaving the total expenditure at about £547,748 12s., which will include a sum of £1,092 10s. 11d., paid from a vote under the Treasury Department for advertising. A saving of a little over £20,000 is expected in different items voted in excess of requirements for salaries and contingencies which will in due time be written off by the Treasury authorities.

The increase in expenditure over that of 1888 is due to the appropriations to meet claims for subsidies under the Rabbit Nuisance Act chargeable to previous years, and refunds on Pastoral Leases and Occupation Licenses, the liability for which was incurred in previous years and should have been so distributed; the appropriation, however, was only made during 1889.

Auction Sales.

The sales of town lots during 1889 were 1,539, aggregating 670 acres 1 rood  $33\frac{3}{4}$  perches, realizing £29,474 14s., an average of £43 19s. 3d. an acre being secured. This compares very favorably with the results obtained in 1888, when 1,734 lots were sold, containing an area of 688 acres and 17 perches for £19,661 1s. 6d., or an average of £28 11s.  $5\frac{1}{2}$ d. an acre. The sum of £3,956 was received for 40 acres 2 roods 31 perches at Blackheath, and was the largest amount secured at any one sale during the year. Details of the sales of this class of land are set forth in Schedule VII.

Schedule VIII indicates in detail the sales in respect of suburban land. It will be observed that 767 lots, containing 3,488 acres 3 roods 16 perches, were alienated for £22,080 2s., or an average of £6 6s.  $6\frac{3}{4}$ d. an acre. The average price secured during the year was an improvement on that of 1888, when 825 lots, comprising 4,669 $\frac{1}{2}$  acres, were disposed of for £22,929 11s. 6d., an average of £4 18s.  $2\frac{1}{2}$ d. an acre.

The country lands alienated during the year consisted of 482 lots of an area of 18,429 acres 2 roods 30 perches, the price realised being £42,626 12s. 7d., an average of £2 6s. 3d. an acre.

The aggregate area submitted to auction during 1889 was 52,753 acres 3 roods  $29\frac{3}{4}$  perches, far below that permissible under the provisions of the 61st clause of the Crown Lands Act of 1884.

Deposit money to the value of £977 19s. 6d., paid in connection with 29 purchases, comprising 73 acres and  $1\frac{3}{4}$  perches, was forfeited consequent on the inability of the purchasers to complete the transactions. Guarantee deposits, to the extent of £30 17s. 6d., were returned to applicants who purchased the lands in connection with which the amounts were lodged, and the sum of £609 12s. 6d., purchase moneys and deed fees paid in excess, was also refunded to the parties concerned. The Crown, for sufficient reasons, having waived its right to the improvements effected on land sold, the value of such improvements (which had been added to the upset price of the land) amounting to £2,399 14s. 9d., was also refunded.

Improvement

Improvement Purchases.

The number of applications to purchase land by virtue of improvements effected thereon, and occupied under the provisions of the Mining Act, received during the year was 872 for an area of 501 acres 3 roods 36 perches, of which 193 were refused and 105, containing an area of 43 acres 1 rood  $38\frac{4}{5}$  perches, at an appraised value of £4,406 12s. 6d. granted. Of the outstanding applications on the 31st December, 1888, 287 made under the Crown Lands Act of 1884, and 95 under the repealed Acts, were also granted. Some of the latter included applications for land occupied by virtue of pastoral leases, &c. Details of the sales in consideration of improvements are set forth in Schedules XIII, XIV, and XV, and on reference thereto it will be observed that 487 portions, representing an area of 16,143 acres 2 roods  $12\frac{1}{2}\frac{7}{10}$  perches, were alienated for the sum of £43,631 15s. 6d., not inclusive of fines paid in connection with certain overdue amounts.

Special Purchase Applications.

One hundred and ninety-six applications were put forward during the year, 6 being for the rescission of water frontage, 43 for permission to reclaim land, 24 for the purchase of small areas unavailable for conditional purchase, 98 for the purchase of unnecessary roads, and 25 for the exchange of roads.

An area of 982 acres 1 rood  $12\frac{1}{4}$  perches was alienated in satisfaction of the applications made under the Crown Lands Act of 1884 disposed of during 1889, some of which were lodged in previous years. An area of 552 acres and  $3\frac{3}{4}$  perches was also disposed of in compliance with applications made under the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861. The sum of £10,380 9s. was realised in connection with these alienations. The sale of 22 acres 3 roods and 13 perches in the County of Cumberland realised £6,475 11s. 7d.

The details in respect to the sales are set forth in Schedules XVI, XVII, XVIII.

Conditional Purchases.

The business in connection with conditional purchases could scarcely be affected by the liberal provisions of the Crown Lands Act of 1889, consequent on its only coming into operation on the 1st December, 1889, yet the number and area of applications made under this heading compare very favorably with those of 1888, 5,364 applications for an area of 865,199 acres and 38 perches having been made during the latter year, as against 6,205, comprising 903,159 acres 2 roods 9 perches in 1889. Of those lodged during 1889, 406 containing an area of 76,537 acres 2 roods, and involving a deposit of £8,601 15s. 5d., were made subsequently to the Crown Lands Act of 1889 coming into force. Included in the number lodged were 529 made under the provisions of the special area clause, the prices thereunder being in excess of those attached to ordinary conditional purchases. An analysis of the returns shows that 3,043 applications were lodged for original conditional purchases, 2,856 for additional conditional purchases, and 306 for non-residential conditional purchases.

The following Schedule affords a comparison between the business of this character transacted during the years 1888 and 1889:—

The Schedules indicate a state of things similar to that adverted to in a previous report, viz., the inability to place a large number of applicants as speedily as as might be desired in possession of the land they applied for during the year. The Crown Lands Act of 1889, which came into operation at the close of the year, however, affords a remedy for the difficulty, as it confers upon applicants the right of immediate occupation without making intervention by the Land Boards a necessary preliminary. The difficulty previously experienced was due to the Act of 1884, having provided that the applicant had no right to occupy the land before confirmation of the application, and confirmation having to be postponed until after measurement of the land.

Of the applications lodged during 1889, 2,311 were confirmed for an area of 347,173 acres 22 perches, and 957 were disallowed. There were also 2,467 cases confirmed during the year, representing 406,989 acres 8 perches, the applications for which were made in previous years, and 408 were disallowed, resulting in 6,143 claims being finally disposed of.

On the 31st December, 1889, there were 148,474 conditional purchases in existence, comprising an area of 18,846,242 acres 3 roods 25 perches. Included in this number are those made subsequent to the passing of the Crown Lands Act of 1889, a proportion of which may be subsequently disallowed.

The provisions of the 35th clause of the Crown Lands Act of 1884, whereby the privilege is conceded of allowing conditional purchasers a reduction in the rate of interest payable, was taken advantage of in 1,311 cases, particulars of which are set out in Schedule XX.

During the year the Inspectors of Conditional Purchases furnished 10,161 reports with respect to the manner in which conditional purchasers were fulfilling their obligations, and 9,455 cases were referred to them during the same period. Of these 347 instructions were issued from the Head Office, the remainder emanating from the Chairmen of the Local Land Boards.

Schedule XXIII indicates that 852 cases were investigated by the Local Land Boards, and in relation to 606 it was ascertained that the requirements of the law were complied with. The Minister also remitted 71 cases to the Boards on special grounds, while in 2,365 cases the papers were returned to the Head Office, the reports of the Inspectors indicating that the proof supplied was of such a character as rendered further investigation unnecessary.

3,306 declarations relating to the fulfilment of conditions in respect of conditional purchases were received, and no fewer than 6,673 certificates were issued that the required conditions had been carried out, the only further obligation being the payment of yearly instalment.

Schedule XXVII indicates in detail the particulars respecting conditional purchases forfeited during 1889 for noncompliance with conditions or payment of interest. The aggregate area of such reversions was 96,925 acres 3 roods 5 perches, comprised in 796 selections. During the year, however, 41 cases, involving an area of 5,707 acres, were reinstated, the lapsing or forfeiture having been reversed.

The provisions of the 138th section of the Crown Lands Act of 1884 were made use of to validate 15 conditional purchases, comprising 2,488 $\frac{3}{4}$  acres, and 51 mining conditional purchases, containing 6,289 acres 3 roods 34 perches, were similarly dealt with under Act 50 Vic. No. 21.

The transfers received and dealt with are referred to in Schedule XXV, which shows that 9,971 were received during the year, while 10,915 were intimated to the Treasury during the same period. The number of conditional purchases thereby transferred was 22,138, and the stamp duty paid amounted to £6,483 8s.

During the year 22 conditional purchases, representing 2,339 acres, were declared void, and 11, containing an area of 1,949 $\frac{1}{2}$  acres, in connection with which voidance had been declared, were reinstated. 457 conditional purchases were also adjusted during the same period, either by increase or reduction in area. For particulars see Schedule XXX.

Conditional Leases.

An area of 1,569,949 acres 3 roods 30 perches, comprised in 3,470 applications, was applied for under the provisions of the Principal Act by virtue of conditional purchases made thereunder during the year, as against 2,623 applications for 1,424,753 acres 1 rood 25 perches in 1888. Of those lodged during 1889, 204, containing containing an area 106,318 acres 2 roods 22 perches, were made subsequently to the Crown Lands Act of 1889 coming into force. The several Local Land Boards confirmed 1,050 of these, representing 489,600 acres 1 rood 8 perches, and disallowed 585.

The number of applications confirmed during the year (made during previous years), and outstanding on the 31st December, 1888, was 1,386, containing an area of 773,475 acres 2 roods 5 perches. During the same period 9 applications under the 54th clause of the Crown Lands Act of 1884 were disposed of, 5 comprising 3,557 acres being confirmed and 4 disallowed. In addition thereto 4 applications under the 52nd clause were gazetted, representing 5,220 acres.

Taking into consideration the conditional leases granted under the sections referred to, it will be observed on reference to Schedules XXXVII, XXXVIII, XXXIX, XL that 2,445 leases were confirmed, comprising an area of 1,271,852 acres 3 roods 13 perches, and 800 applications were disallowed, making a total of 3,245 cases disposed of.

During the year 469 conditional leases, representing 208,715 acres 1 rood 22 perches, and a rent of £2,423 9s. 1d. were gazetted as forfeited.

On the 31st December, 1889, there were 10,430 conditional leases in existence, comprising an area of 6,928,803 acres 3 roods 1 perch; included in this number are those applied for subsequently to the Crown Lands Act of 1889 taking effect, a proportion of which applications may be disallowed.

Annual Leases.

Advantage was taken of the 85th section of the Crown Lands Act of 1884 to submit for annual lease by auction an area of 228,755 $\frac{1}{4}$  acres in 405 lots, the result being the sale of 198 lots, with an aggregate area of 116,146 $\frac{3}{4}$  acres, producing an annual revenue of £1,805 19s. 1d. (See Schedule XLII.)

2,391 lots, covering 1,661,856 $\frac{3}{4}$  acres, were submitted for tender under the provisions of the same section, of which 440, representing 252,869 $\frac{3}{4}$  acres, were accepted at an annual rent of £2,376 1s. 8d. The fact that these leases are of an insecure tenure, and liable to alienation, operates largely against transactions under this section.

On the 31st December, 1889, there were 5,267 annual leases current, aggregating 3,567,475 $\frac{1}{2}$  acres, and producing an annual rent of £23,500 17s. 6d.

During the year 780 annual leases of all kinds, comprising 508,988 acres, and an annual rental of £3,023 7s. 4d., were gazetted as forfeited.

The following table affords a comparison between the years 1888 and 1889:—

1888 ... ..	1,308	acres. 758,158	291	acres. 167,347	£ s. d. 2,163 16 8

Reserves, Dedications, and Special Areas.

The reservations from sale notified during the year were 1,706, containing 2,011,658 acres; an area of 1,886,038 acres, comprised in 1,754 reserves, was, however, revoked, and the greater portion rendered available for alienation.

There were 400 reserves notified from lease, representing an area of 190,882 acres, and during the same period 184, comprising 281,611 acres, were freed from reservation. The population areas of Gulgong, Newcastle, Minmi, and Wellington, were also revoked during the year. Some of the land being included in joint reservations from sale and lease, the area in several instances is repeated under each heading, so that, in point of fact, the actual area reserved is less than the aggregate of both notifications. Particulars of reservations and revocations are set forth in Schedules XLVI, XLVII, XLVIII, XLIX.

During

During the year 219 special areas, comprising 89,772 acres, were proclaimed under the provisions of the 24th clause of the Crown Lands Act of 1884. Dedications for the public purposes set out in Schedule LI represented an area of 1,901 acres 3 roods 14½ perches.

Pastoral Leases and Occupation Licenses.

The number of pastoral leases current during the year was 1,622, comprising 66,932,621 acres, at an annual rent of £411,026 5s. 5d., and during the same period 1,498 occupation licenses were in existence, containing an area of 55,619,517 acres, and returning an annual revenue of £206,710 13s. 1d.

The sum of £52,971 7s. 7d. was refunded in connection with withdrawals from pastoral leases and occupation licenses, the area involved being 4,001,667 acres. Particulars are set forth in Schedule LVI. There were only 3 applications put forward to surrender land within resumed areas in exchange for land on leasehold areas, 1 of which was disposed of.

On the application of the parties interested, 1 leasehold area was subdivided, and the transfer of 159 pastoral leases and 130 occupation licenses was effected. Three applications for refund of rent by way of compensation on account of lands withdrawn from pastoral lease were dealt with, and the rents of 5 leasehold areas and 3 occupation licenses were reconsidered and reduced under the provisions of the 100th section of the Crown Lands Act of 1884.

During the year there were 35 applications made to bring pastoral leases in the Central and Western Divisions under the provisions of the Crown Lands Act of 1889, also 50 applications for preferential occupation licenses of leasehold areas in the Eastern Division, and 33 for reappraisalment of occupation licenses in the Central and Western Divisions.

Three lots, containing an area of 61,900 acres, were offered at auction under the provisions of the 81st clause of the Crown Lands Act of 1884 as occupation licenses, resulting in the sale of 2, representing 54,100 acres, at an annual revenue of £170 15s. Thirteen licenses, aggregating 261,700 acres, were let at an annual rent of £950 10s. 3d. by tender during the same period. For particulars see Schedules LIII, LIV.

Homestead Leases.

While the demand for land under homestead lease was slightly greater in 1888 than 1887, business of this character during 1889 shows a marked increase over that of 1888, 238 applications for 2,187,837 acres having been received during 1889 as against 141 for 1,332,691 acres in 1888. Of those lodged during 1889, 49 containing an area of 345,622 acres were made subsequently to the Crown Lands Act of 1889 coming into force.

The applications complied with were 94 (some of which were made in previous years), comprising 918,141 acres, and representing an annual rent of £5,825 4s. 4d.; of those put forward in 1889, 35 were granted and 14 refused.

On the 31st December, 1889, 471 leases were current, possessing an aggregate area of 4,545,715 acres, and producing an annual rent of £31,282 18s. 3d. (See Schedule LXX.)

One hundred and five applications were made for the refund of the value of improvements on land held under homestead lease, and 160 were dealt with during the year.

Eleven applications were made to bring homestead leases under the provisions of the Crown Lands Act of 1889.

Scrub Leases.

Only 3 applications were received during 1889 for scrub leases, and these had reference to land exclusively within resumed areas. One lease was granted, on a resumed area, containing 640 acres, at an annual rent of 9s. 1d. At the close of the year there were 62 applications for land within leasehold areas and 27 within resumed areas outstanding. (See Schedules LXXIII and LXXIV.)

Special Leases.

Schedule LXXX indicates that 220 applications were made under the provisions of the 89th and 90th clauses of the Crown Lands Act of 1884 during the year as against 266 in 1888. Taking into consideration such applications as remained incomplete incomplete on the 31st December, 1888, there were 304 brought under review, of which 90 lapsed or were refused, and 129 were granted, containing an area of 3,772 acres and 33½ perches, producing an annual revenue of £2,284 15s. During the year there were also 7 applications for special leases, made under the repealed Acts, disposed of by refusal.

A reference to Schedule LXXIX shows that 473 leases were current, with an aggregate area of 7,872 acres and 7¼ perches, and an annual rent of £9,466 15s. Schedule LXXVIII discloses the purposes for which the lands were leased.

32 leases were forfeited during 1889, and 104 expired, details of which are set forth in Schedules LXXVI and LXXVII.

Volunteer Land Order Applications.

During 1889, 37 applications were received for grants of land by virtue of Volunteer certificates, the area applied for being 1,850 acres; 2 were refused, and 9, including applications outstanding on the 31st December, 1888, granted. (See Schedule LXXXIII.)

Deeds of Grant.

4,606 deeds of grant embracing 322,890 acres and 31 perches of land were prepared during 1899. Details, indicating the number and area, are set forth in Schedule LXXXV.

Applications for permission to Ringbark.

During the year there were 222 applications for permission to ringbark under consideration, 168 of which, covering an area of 950,839 acres, were made during 1889, the remainder being outstanding on the 31st December, 1888. Of those applied for during the year, 104 were complied with, containing 461,722 acres, and 10 refused. The total area over which permission was given comprises 602,950 acres, representing 149 cases.

Cases of Trespass on Crown Lands.

Details in connection with these are set forth in Schedule LXXXVIII. The number of cases brought under review was 554, which included 176 outstanding on the 31st December, 1888; 297 were disposed of, leaving 257, on which action was proceeding at the close of the year.

Correspondence.

The character of the correspondence conducted is set forth in Schedules LXXXIX, XC, XCI, from which it will be gleaned that 97,528 letters, &c., were received during 1889 at head quarters, and 24,501 manuscript letters, 1,833 telegrams, 121 circulars, 82,045 printed letters, 1,040 schedules, and 11,749 parcels were despatched therefrom; while in the Local Land Board Offices 104,604 letters were received, and 82,902 letters, parcels, &c., were despatched.

Rabbit Destruction.

The action taken during 1888 in suspending the compulsory clauses of the Act and discontinuing the payment of subsidy rendered rabbit destruction dependent upon the voluntary efforts of landholders, and as the necessity for a field staff had ceased to exist, it could not be readily ascertained what efforts were being made by the owners of infested lands to cope with the pest.

Reduction of Staff.

At the commencement of the year six inspectors were retained, and for a few months were engaged in collecting information that would admit of outstanding claims for subsidy being checked and payments made in connection therewith. This, however, was soon accomplished, and for the greater portion of the year four of these officers were engaged in supervising the erection of the rabbit-proof fence along the South Australian boundary. As the work progressed opportunity was taken to reduce the staff, and on the 31st December, 1889, the services of one officer had been dispensed with, and three others were on leave of absence preparatory to retirement.

In the head office there were seven officers engaged, and as the various matters were concluded the staff was reduced, until at the close of the year only three were retained. Advantage was taken to clear off a number of claims for subsidy which had originated during the preceding three years, resulting in the payment of £15,112 3s. 11d. in connection therewith.

Rabbit-proof

Rabbit-proof Fencing.

The work commenced in 1888, of erecting a rabbit-proof fence along the South Australian border, a distance of  $346\frac{1}{2}$  miles, was prosecuted with vigour, and notwithstanding the obstacles encountered in this remote portion of the Colony, such as scarcity of water, difficulties of carriage, &c., a distance of 232 miles 70 chains along the western boundary of the Colony, starting from the river Murray, had been completed. The work was divided into nine sections, seven of which were completed, and a start made on that known as No. 8. The cost of the work completed to 31st December, 1889, was £17,945 10s. 10d., or at the rate of about £77 per mile, which can hardly be viewed as excessive when it is considered that the wire netting used was of the best description, being No. 17 gauge,  $1\frac{1}{4}$  inch mesh, and 42 inches in width, and that in addition to extensive repairs to existing fences many miles of entirely new fencing had to be erected.

The Crown Lands Act of 1889.

The experience gained by five years' working of the Crown Lands Act of 1884 indicated the existence of defects therein, which could only be remedied by legislation. During the intervening period amending measures from time to time received legislative approval, dealing with matters of an urgent character. It was, however, recognised that an Amending Act of greater scope than those previously introduced was required to remedy, not only difficulties in administration but also disabilities under which certain classes laboured, and accordingly the Act known as the Crown Lands Act of 1889 was introduced and passed into law.

Appended hereto is the report of the Acting Surveyor-General.

WILLIAM HOUSTON,
Under Secretary.

Reasons of Voidance.

The Cabinet having decided that, under the hard and peculiar circumstances of the case, deposit should be refunded .....	1	Owing to a misapprehension, the condition of residence was not complied with .....	4
Having been applied for in virtue of an additional conditional purchase .....	4	The maximum area allowed by law having been exceeded .....	1
Withdrawn on account of non-survey within twelve months .....	2	Land applied for included in a prior C.P. ....	2
At applicant's request, having been made under the 13th instead of the 14th Section .....	1	Applicant having made a C.P. under the 13th Section within five years of date of application .....	1
Having been made by the applicants as executors .....	1	Applicant being the holder of a C.P. under the 26th Section of the Crown Lands Act of 1884, the prior validation was revoked .....	1
Applicant was not resident upon freehold in virtue of which C. P. was made, at date of application ..	3	Applied for within a proclaimed gold field, which is not open to mineral conditional purchase .....	1

REPORT of the Acting Surveyor-General to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Surveyor-General's Office, Sydney, 23 May, 1890.

I have the honor to submit the Annual Report of this office for the year 1889.

The staff of surveyors employed during the year was classified as follows:—Eleven district Survey Staff surveyors, two acting district surveyors, twelve first-class surveyors, twenty-seven second-class surveyors, twenty-one licensed surveyors, temporarily on salary, and one hundred and five licensed surveyors, paid by fees.

Mr. Arthur Dewhurst, who for many years held the position of district surveyor at Tamworth, died on the 27th May, 1889. Removed by decease.

Mr. Surveyor Fred Poate was appointed to be district surveyor at Tamworth, vice Dewhurst, Promotions.
deceased.

Mr. Surveyor Enoch John Cobcroft, second-class surveyor, was promoted to the position of first-class surveyor from 29th June, 1889.

Four new appointments were made to the staff of temporary salaried surveyors, viz.:—A. W. Mullen, employed in the Bourke Land Board District; and Messrs. G. H. Legge, J. D. A. Riddle, and F. Watkins, employed on surveys required in connection with the Metropolitan Sewerage scheme; these officers had been severally employed as field assistants under this Department. New appointments.

In furtherance of a request by the Colonial Secretary of the Straits Settlements, that four competent surveyors be selected for employment in that Colony or its dependencies, Messrs. Licensed Surveyors F. W. Irby, G. M. Stafford, T. W. Raymond, and J. Wellford, who were suitable for the service required, accepted the employment and were severally accredited to the Government of the Straits Settlements, and are now employed in that Colony. Surveyors accredited for employment at Straits Settlements.

Six new licenses to practice under the Real Property Act were issued during the year. Special license.

Pending consideration of the report of the Board of Inquiry into the General Survey and Trigonometrical Branches, the survey depot at Richmond has been held, with agistment for the spare horses, under a monthly arrangement. Survey Depot.

Two meetings of the Board of Examiners of candidates for license to survey Crown lands were held. Board of Examiners for license to survey.

At the examination held in June, twenty-two candidates presented themselves, of whom eleven proved to be qualified and were accordingly recommended, viz.:— Board Meeting,
June, 1889.

G. W. Townsend,	A. B. Howell,	E. B. Henderson,
C. J. Sanders,	A. P. Campbell,	G. M. Nunn,	Licenses granted
A. Beetham,	C. W. King,	H. O. Bucknell.
E. E. Rhodes,	A. W. Wood,

The abovenamed were duly appointed, with the exception of Mr. King, the issue of whose license is delayed until he attains the age of twenty-one years.

The question of making a license issued in any one of the Australian colonies available for practice in any other was again brought under notice by the Board of Examiners in Victoria; due consideration was given to this important subject, and it was resolved that clause six of the regulations for procedure of this Board was sufficiently comprehensive and should meet requirements of surveyors. It was held that the suggested reciprocity of licenses amongst the colonies would be inadvisable until an uniform standard of examination could be adopted. Proposal for reciprocal licenses considered.

At the examination held in December eighteen candidates presented themselves, of whom two retired; eleven were found to be qualified, and were recommended for appointments, viz.:— Board Meeting,
December, 1889

C. Hanly,	G. F. Alcock,	E. J. Witts,
H. G. Murray,	P. G. Chatfield,	J. Ewing,	Licenses granted.
R. W. Giblin,	P. W. Nelson,	T. E. Burrows.
R. T. McKay,	A. H. Starling,

The abovenamed were duly appointed with the exception of Mr. Alcock, in whose case (as in another previously mentioned) issue of the license was delayed until he shall attain his majority.

The Accountant has supplied particulars of survey in its various classifications and cost, by contract surveyors and salaried surveyors respectively, and also the aggregate quantities and average prices for survey per acre. The results are interesting and should be satisfactory, as showing the low prices at which survey may be effected under systematic management. Land measured and cost of
contract.

The price for measurement of land conditionally purchased ranges from 4½d. per acre in the pastoral country to 2s. 9½d. per acre in the metropolitan district, where the local conditions are difficult. For conditional leaseholds the prices range from 2d. per acre to 1s. 3d. per acre. Homestead leases range from ¼d. per acre to 1½d. Contract surveyors.

Of road survey there has been a total length of 238½ miles, the cost varying from £3 3s. 4d. to £13 6s. 8d., the average price being about £5 10s. 9d. per mile. Road survey.

On inspection of the appended abstract it will be observed with regard to the larger areas for settlement that there are but small differences in prices between this year and last year, which I think goes to show that the prices are fairly adjusted throughout the country. The Salaried surveyors.

The average prices of salaried service exceed those for contract work ; this is due to the conditions of such service which is generally more or less of special character, and such as may not be satisfactorily done by contract or at ordinary contract prices. The item "miscellaneous" appears to be large in proportion to others, but this item covers much important duty, e.g., alignment of streets in country towns under the 2nd Victoria No. 2, inspection of surveys effected under contract, investigations into and adjustment of disputed boundaries, and minor surveys to meet the multifarious demands of the Public Service.

Of volunteer land orders there has been one measured, and it is supposed that but very few of these remain outstanding.

Country lands, covering an area of 288,843 acres, have been measured for sale, the cost of survey varying from 3½d. to 3s. 4¼d. per acre.

Total areas measured and average cost. Total linear measurement and average cost.

The aggregate area of Crown land measured during the past year was 2,677,927 acres, at a cost of £75,325, which gives an average price for survey of 6¾d. per acre. The total number of roads defined was 221, presenting a total length of 905½ miles, at an average cost of £7 ls. 8d. The amount of geographical or feature survey was 1,010½ miles, at an average price of £5 Os. 10d.

Further particulars are set forth in the appended abstract.

Trigonometrical Survey Branch.

During the year the triangulation has been in abeyance ; all that has been done in connection with the work consists in selection, clearing, and piling of trigonometrical stations in the county of Gloucester, several of which have been utilised by Mr. Surveyor Scrivener in the survey of the eastern boundary of the Australian Agricultural Company's grant (about 40 miles), a matter of considerable importance and which has been performed in a very satisfactory manner under many difficulties.

There has been progress in the determination astronomically of certain selected stations to be applied to geodetic survey, and which may be utilised immediately in construction of the new map of the Colony.

In previous reports I have briefly referred to the importance of this work as a national undertaking, the value of which will be more apparent from year to year.

With the co-operation of the Astronomer, seven stations have been thus determined by Mr. Brooks in respect of latitude and longitude, particulars of which are set forth in Appendix ; and it is proper for me here to state there was much delay caused occasionally on account of the weather being unfavourable for astronomical observations.

GENERAL SURVEY.

For the construction of the map of the county of Cumberland only those surveys mentioned in my last report, as being in progress under the supervision of the Metropolitan District Surveyor, have been proceeded with. Plans of some of these have been received, but surveys of others, notably parts of Cowan Creek and Pittwater, have yet to be completed. County of Cumberland.

A map, illustrating the progress of the detail survey of the city and suburbs, required in connection with the sewerage and water supply works, in course of construction, is annexed. From this it will be seen that the principal operations during the year have been within the area to be drained by the proposed scheme of sewerage for the western suburbs. City and suburban surveys.

Of the detail survey, 184 plans have been received during the year, as against 104 during the previous year, in addition to which plans of skeleton surveys of Marrickville and Manly, and parts of North Shore, Five Dock, and Randwick, have been received and dealt with. There has also been revision of nineteen sheets, consequent upon extensive building operations effected since the dates of the original surveys. Surveys reported.

The plans thus received and examined show an area of 3,704 acres of the suburbs, so that with the area previously surveyed, an aggregate area of 1,993 acres of the city, and 7,535 acres of the suburbs, has been mapped up to the end of the year. Areas surveyed.

The publication of sheets of this survey having been much delayed during the previous year, owing to the urgency of other work, it was found necessary to apply temporarily the services of three contract draftsmen in the preparation of drawings to be lithographed. By this means 232 sheets were made ready, and 134 forwarded to be lithographed, of which sixty-six have been printed and published, making a total of 305 sheets now published. Extra draftsmen employed.

Of reclamations, water frontage reservations, and other surveys, 37 plans have been received and compared with the trigonometrical survey. Minor surveys compared.

The map of Sydney and the suburbs (on a scale of 8 chains to an inch), required by the Engineer-in-Chief for Sewerage, and mentioned in the report of last year's proceedings, was compiled and drawn in outline, and photo-lithographed. Owing, however, to the pressure of more urgent work, the completion of this valuable map and publication has been delayed; advance copies have, however, been supplied to the Engineer-in-Chief for Sewerage and to the Board of Water Supply, and the additional lithographing has been now put in hand, and will be proceeded with without further interruption. City and suburbs comprehensive map for sewerage.

Maps of several of the suburbs, on the scale of 2 chains to the inch, being required by the Engineer-in-Chief for Sewerage, plans of Glebe and Balmain, which are most urgently wanted, were placed in hand. Owing, however, to delay in departmental correspondence touching this matter, the work was suspended for several weeks. Map for contractors.

The southern part of the map of the country between Broken Bay and George's River, for the use of the military authorities, which was begun last year, mentioned in my previous report, was published, as desired, in time for use by the Defence Forces at their Easter manoeuvres. It has been found of considerable use as a general guide map to the city and suburbs, and a second edition, with more detail topographical particulars, will be desirable in the course of a twelvemonth. The completion of the Northern sheet, which at time of last report was delayed, pending further surveys, has been advanced as far as possible. Approximate information afforded by the surveyors' rough plots has been lately received, and the requisite reconnaissance will be shortly effected, when it is hoped the further surveys required for completion of this map will be available. pulations have been commenced, and are in a forward state.

Sewerage

Sewerage Survey and alignment of Streets in Environs of Sydney.

Survey Staff. Fifteen salaried surveyors were employed during the past year up to July, when three additional assistant surveyors were appointed temporarily for carrying on surveys under the Sewerage Act, bringing the total number up to eighteen. The principal duties carried out by them were detail surveys for sewerage and water supply, reconnaissance surveys for same purposes, alignment of streets under the Towns Police Act, and topographical surveys for a map designed for military use.

Sewerage survey. The detail sewerage survey has been proceeding with satisfactory expedition, and although, in consequence of the completion of the more densely populated areas, the holdings are more scattered, the cost per tenement has not increased to a greater extent than might reasonably be expected, being for the past year 15s. 8d., as against 11s. 6d. in 1888, 17s. in 1887, and £1 3s. 8d. in 1886. Computing the cost of this survey on an area basis, it is found that the average cost per acre for 1889 was £1 13s. 11d., as against £3 1s. 6d. in 1888, £6 4s. 7d. in 1887, and £3 12s. 8d. in 1886. 111½ miles of streets, 7 miles of rights-of-way, 1½ miles of harbour frontage, 6½ miles of watercourses, 2¼ miles of tram-lines, and 3 miles of railway have been accurately fixed by this survey during 1889. Altogether, 178 plans have been received, showing 184 sheets or divisions, supplying detail of 8,464 separate tenements. In addition to these 15 sheets of the City of Sydney, containing 204 acres, and 4 sheets of Paddington, containing 52 acres, have been revised and brought up to date by the survey of alterations and additional detail since the time of the original,—with the result that 511 additional buildings erected since the first survey have been located.

Survey localized.

The distribution of detail survey is shown in the following tabular statement:—

Municipalities.	No. of Sheets.	Area. acres.
Burwood ... ..	7	183
Leichhardt ... ..	49	1,005
Petersham ... ..	40	776
Marrickville ... ..	19	484

Manly ... ..	3	65
Total ... ..	184	3,924
Sydney (revised) ... ..	15	204
Paddington ,, ... ..	4	52
Total ... ..	19	256

Standard traverse.

The standard traverse, upon which the detail survey is based, for Marrickville, St. Peters, North Shore, Randwick, Manly, Ashfield, Canterbury, and parts of Enfield and Five Dock, was completed in 1889, being a total length of 68 miles 65 chains. The system of standard traverse that obtained in former years has been so far modified as to reduce the cost per chain from about 7s. to 1s. 9d. without affecting accuracy of the survey, or at all diminishing its usefulness.

Cost reduced.

Reconnaissance for comprehensive map, 8 chains to an inch.

The reconnaissance survey required for the completion of the 8-chain map of City and Suburbs, for the Water Supply and Sewerage Board, has been completed during 1889, involving 125 miles 30 chains of measurement, and the approximate fixation of about 6,200 buildings.

Reconnaissance survey for military map.

During last year additional topographical survey required for preparation of a map, for military use, of the country around Sydney, extending from George's River on the south to Narrabeen on the north, and westerly to Parramatta, has been carried out without much cost, the result being to indicate with sufficient accuracy for military purposes about 570 miles of roads and tracks, and the principal natural features, together with fencing, building, &c., over about 57,000 acres.

Area.

Alignment of streets under 2 Victoria No. 2.

Applications from Municipal Councils for alignment of streets under the Towns Police Act are decreasing, but there has been a larger quantity of that class of survey executed during 1889 than in 1888, which is chiefly due to completion of rather extensive surveys in Kogarah, St. Leonards, and part of Granville. Twenty-seven plans of alignment surveys have been received, showing final determination of 123 miles 61 chains of building lines of 250 streets in the Municipalities of Concord, Glebe, Burwood, Kogarah, Hurstville, Granville, St. Leonards, Victoria, Five Dock, North Willoughby, and Manly. The carriage and foot ways of the streets have been marked in as permanent a manner as possible by 2,920 posts or stone cubes erected by the respective Municipal Councils, under supervision of the surveyors. As comparatively few of these alignments are in thickly populated localities they have not been separated, as in past years, into two classes, town and country, but are embraced under one classification, viz., environs of Sydney, the average cost of which is thus found to be 5s. 2d. per chain of building line.

Plans sent in.
Aggregate length of building line.
Marking of foot-ways.

Parish roads.

Few roads under Act 4th William IV, No. 11, have been surveyed in 1889, and none of any particular public interest.

Inspections of surveys.

Two examinations of surveys for the purposes of the Real Property Act were made.

Herewith is an Appendix (A), being a tabular statement showing comparative quantity and cost of sewerage and alignment surveys, from 1886 to 1889, inclusive, and an Appendix (B), being a list of the surveyors employed in charge of parties under Mr. D. M. Maitland, together with their respective salaries, and a statement of the duties carried out by them during 1889.

CORRESPONDENCE AND RECORD BRANCH.

The staff of this Branch is the same as in 1888, viz., four persons.

A statement of the duties carried out during the year is given hereunder:—

Papers received from other Branches and recorded ... ..	9,076
Papers, plans, tracings, &c., received by post ... ..	35,803
Instructions entered in instructions books and sent to surveyors ... ..	1,961
Memoranda sent to surveyors ... ..	7,800
Letters written and despatched... ..	475
Lithos, tracings, and plans, sent to surveyors .. ..	3,828
Minutes written and submitted to the Under Secretary ... ..	710
Decisions by the Minister noted ... ..	620
Telegrams issued ... ..	208

All absences during the year by the field staff and the permanent and temporary officers in the Survey Branch of the head office have been duly recorded in this Branch.

DRAFTING BRANCHES.

The reports of the different Drafting Branches, showing the work performed during the year 1889, compare favourably with those of previous years, and it is satisfactory to note that the current work has generally been kept well up to date.

The returns of business transacted under certain headings will be found smaller than heretofore, but corresponding increases are exhibited under others; and advantage has been taken from time to time of the fluctuations in certain classes of work to utilize officers temporarily released from one class to assist in disposing of accumulations in others. In the Charting Branch, for example, the area of land requiring to be scheduled for auction sale was very considerably reduced owing to legislation then pending, and this has permitted of the adjustment and disposal of an unusually large amount of noting of confirmations, reserves, and sales, which had been held in abeyance through the pressure of more important duties; and in the Compiling Branch the larger number of parish maps dealt with is in a measure due to the assistance of two additional draftsmen taken from the Charting and Contract Tracing Branches.

The reduction in the number of town maps published is to be expected, and smaller numbers may be looked for in the future, because the compilation of the more important towns is now virtually completed, and some of the draftsmen thus set free will be employed on county map compilations, of which there is a considerable number in abeyance. More decided progress with the new Colony map may also be anticipated, the two draftsmen relieved by the completion of the city and environs map being engaged thereon.

The considerable reduction in the number of publications issued, as compared with last year, is attributable to the reduced number of official forms and circulars printed, the greater part of this work being now done by the Government Printer. The number of plans and maps published is really greater than during 1888, and the actual number of sheets printed is considerably in excess of that year's return.

In the Occupation Branch the bulk of the arrears of refund schedules have been dealt with, and a large number of the office maps have been charted with pastoral holdings, such charting involving in a number of instances the adjustment of the holding boundaries to agree with recent surveys.

The miscellaneous work performed during the year has been of a most varied character, and it is gratifying to observe that in the preparation of the different maps and statistics for the Railway Commissioners, Government Statistician, Parliamentary Committees, and in connection with the passing of the Land Act, the efforts of the Drafting Staff met with approval.

The subjoined Branch reports supply all necessary details.

MISCELLANEOUS CHARTING BRANCH.

The numerical strength of this Branch was reduced by the transfer of one officer to the Compiling Branch in June. The officer-in-charge also acted as chief draftsman at Tamworth for about six weeks.

The duties of this Branch are, generally speaking, the same as in previous years, but a quantity of special work has in addition been performed, including the preparation of maps for the Parliamentary Committee

Committee on Public Works, Returns for Parliament, Returns for the Board of Inquiry, particulars of country traversed by proposed rabbit-proof fencing, and other matters of a like character. Assistance has also been rendered to the Deeds Branch in noting arrears of sales under the deferred payments system, 104 schedules, comprising 1,158 allotments and 1,347 portions, having been dealt with. The arrears of confirmation noting have received special attention, and 14,981 cases have been disposed of by the contractor, at an expenditure of £249 13s. 8d., 3,122 cases being also noted in the Branch, making an aggregate number for the year of 18,103 cases.

A number of old reserve and gold-field cases, involving the noting of a large number of plans, have also been completed.

The work of charting plans and tracings by contract has been kept well up to date, 6,387 plans and tracings, comprising 8,864 portions, having been charted at a cost of £354 15s. 3d. Many other cases of a more intricate character were charted by the officers of the Branch. The decrease in the total number of plans dealt with as compared with last year is due to the fact that all arrears have now been overtaken.

A comparatively small amount of auction work has been dealt with, owing to large areas held back pending the passing of the Land Act.

At present there remain in the Branch 755 cases of all kinds, including 242 auction cases. The following comparison of work remaining in the Branch at the end of the years 1888 and 1889, and the amount disposed of during each is submitted in illustration of the state of work at the corresponding periods of 1888 and 1889:—

	1888.	1889.
(1) Miscellaneous papers in Branch on 31st December...	484	513
(2) Auction... ..	151	242
(3) Cases dealt with during year, inclusive of auction ...	10,184	9,600
(4) Cases dealt with during year, exclusive of auction ...	7,779	7,517

COMPILING BRANCH.

1. Miscellaneous Division.—This division is charged with the compilation and drawing of town, county, Colony, and miscellaneous maps.

The staff remains the same as for last year, but the officer in charge was absent for two months owing to ill-health.

The number of town maps prepared for photo-lithography is the same as last year, viz., fifty-two, but of these only thirty-eight are new compilations, the remainder being lithographs charted up and prepared for photo-lithography.

There now remain only six town compilations of any importance to be taken in hand, so that this class of work can be kept up to date with ease. A considerable number (seventy-one), in addition, are on stone, and are either in course of revision in district offices or are undergoing alteration of design.

The compilations of two towns, Hartley and Kincumber, had to be abandoned in consequence of defective surveys.

The county maps, compiled during the year, are six in number, being an increase of two on the return for 1888. Included among the maps dealt with are the important counties of Cook and Westmoreland.

The compilation of the city and environs map has been completed, and tenders are being invited for its lithography.

The two draftsmen thus relieved are now engaged upon the Colony map, making four in all employed on that map.

The miscellaneous maps compiled and drawn, include eleven for the Railway Commissioners for guide-books and annual report, and a map of Australasia for the Government Statistician.

Ninety-one plans of feature surveys, comprising 859 miles of survey, have been charted.

A number of miscellaneous maps, which have been superseded by more recent maps, have been compared with new maps and withdrawn from office use, and several sketch maps were prepared for the Board of Inquiry to illustrate their reports.

2. Parish Map Division.—This division is engaged upon the compilation and preparation of new editions of parish maps.

The staff has been strengthened by the transfer of a draftsman from the Charting Branch for the latter half of the year, and by the services of a draftsman taken from the Contract Branch for the greater part of the year.

The parish maps compiled and prepared for new editions are considerably in excess of last year's return as shown by the following comparative statement:—

	1888.	1889.
Parish maps compiled ... ..	265	325
Parish maps prepared for new editions ... ..	106	80
	<hr/>	<hr/>
	371	405

It is also satisfactory to observe that the work is much closer to date than was the case at the close of last year, a result following the punctual return of the revised proofs by district surveyors.

Upwards of 200 of the maps dealt with are in the Eastern Division.

The number of standard maps has been increased by about 300, and now stands at 1,366.

A very large increase is shown in the number of heliographic prints prepared, as compared with 1888, which is due to the numbers printed for the Metropolitan and Orange District Survey Offices. The reduced cost per copy, 1s. 11½d., against 6s. 6d. for 1888, is on account of the small size of the average prints made for the two District Offices named.

The number of heliographs prepared in 1888 was 584, of which 394 were copies of parish maps; the number this year was 1,747 copies, of which only 287 were parishes.

LITHOGRAPHIC BRANCH.

The staff of this Branch consists of eighteen persons, viz., the draftsman in charge, three lithographic and zincographic draftsmen, two working overseers of printing, one clerk, eight printers, and three stone-polishers, and general assistants; these are supplemented by the employment of private persons or firms for drawing or printing by contract, which is either performed in this office or at their business premises outside the Department, as economy and efficiency may dictate.

The general business of the Branch shows an increase in the number of copies printed on that performed in 1888, and the following returns in tabular form really exhibit the result of map compilation in the Department, inasmuch as the maps are either sent to this Branch for lithography, or after photography at the Government Printing Office the transfers there prepared are utilised by application to stone or zinc and printing the copies.

1. Counties.

County lithographs show measured areas, roads, reserves, features, and all other information which is capable of delineation on the scale of 2 miles to an inch—in addition to those printed on a scale of 8 miles to an inch for official purposes. The standard price is 5s.

Counties completed, 17, comprising 3,250 printed copies:

Barrona*	Cumberland	Lincoln*
Canbelego	Flinders	Murray
Canbelego*	Flinders*	Mootwingee*
Camden	Gunderbooka	Yancowinna
Caira	Gunderbooka*	Yancowinna*
Caira*	Landsborough

*Of these maps, those indicated by the asterisk are to the scale of 8 miles to the inch.

2. Towns.

Town lithographs show the general design, measured lands and names of purchasers, reserves, and dedications within town and suburban limits; they are usually photo-lithographed from compilations made at this office, or from the surveyors' original plans, to a scale of 4 or 8 chains to an inch, and sold at 1s. per copy.

Towns completed, 54, comprising 10,375 printed copies:

3. Parish Maps.

Parish maps in the Eastern Division are compiled to the scale of 20 chains to an inch for office use, and reduced by photo-lithography to 40 chains; maps in the Central Division are compiled to the scale of 40 chains to an inch, and are published to that scale.

Parish maps completed, 378, comprising 3,740 printed copies.

4. Auction Sale Plans.

Lithographs of all lands measured for auction are printed for use at auction sales and sold at 1s. per copy.

Auction sale plans completed, 150, comprising 16,605 printed copies.

5. Miscellaneous.

In this class the principal maps printed during the year have been sheets of the detailed survey of the City and Suburbs, map of New South Wales for Crown Lands Act, diagrams for licensed surveyors' examination, map of Lord Howe Island, military map of Sydney and environs, municipal maps of Balmain and Enfield, map of town of Balranald, illustrating Report on Typhoid Fever, and map of the parish of Alexandria on enlarged scale.

Miscellaneous maps completed, 82, comprising 17,804 printed copies.

6. Other Departments.

Maps, plans, and diagrams have been printed for the Mines, Railway, Government Statistician, Roads and Bridges and Colonial Secretary's Department, chiefly comprising maps illustrating Railway Guide Books, Mineral Map, Map of New South Wales, diagrams of bridges, and tide-gauge diagrams.

Lithographs for other departments completed, 30, comprising 66,980 printed copies.

7. Official Forms.

These forms comprise circulars, forms, and memoranda required for use at head-quarters and at country offices.

Official forms completed, 122, comprising 65,374 printed copies.

The lithographic contract work included drawing at a cost of £784 1s. 1d., and printing costing £53 15s., the total cost of such supplementary work being £837 16s. 1d., a reduction of £520 on the amount similarly spent during 1888.

ROADS BRANCH.

The staff of this Branch remains the same as in 1888.

The total number of papers received during the year was 6,353, being an increase of 92 over the number received last year.

279 plans of road and street surveys, showing 1,265 miles of road and 456 streets, were sent in, an increase of 542 miles of road and of 88 streets over last year.

304 applications for surveys of roads, deviations, and street alignments, were received and dealt with, an increase of 47; also 77 applications for public gates, being 21 more than received last year.

571 reports from surveyors, irrespective of the 279 letters which accompanied the plans of surveys, have been sent in, being an increase of 28; and 256 objections and claims for compensation have been received and dealt with, only 4 more than last year.

OCCUPATION DRAFTING BRANCH.

The numerical strength of this Branch remains the same as last year, and the general work has been similar in character to that performed in 1888.

The reduction of certain classes of miscellaneous work has permitted of the charting of a larger number of pastoral holdings on the office maps, the maps so dealt with being 1,500 for 1889, as compared with 1,300 for 1888.

At the end of the year only 40 refund Schedules remained on hand, notwithstanding the receipt of a large accumulation of these Schedules from the Wagga Office, representing arrears since the division of the holdings.

397 miles and 22 chains of pastoral holding boundaries were surveyed, at a total cost of £1,255 13s., of which the sum of £448 2s. 11d. was recovered from the lessees. A further sum of £76 15s. 1d. was recovered from pastoral lessees, being for the surveys of pastoral holding boundaries common to homestead leases, &c., and the survey of 40 miles 53 chains and 50 links of pastoral holding boundaries was effected by the Department, at a cost of £94 4s. 7d., the whole of the cost being by agreement defrayed by the lessees.

Also a large number of miscellaneous cases, which cannot be specified.

MISCELLANEOUS CONTRACT BRANCH.

The work of this Branch has as usual been disposed of with commendable punctuality, only five unsatisfied applications remaining on hand at the end of the year, and none of these being more than three weeks old.

It may be seen that the total number of drawings executed is 476 in excess of those done last year. This is attributable to the large number of plans prepared in connection with the Newcastle Pasturage Reserve subdivision.

The

The reduction of the ordinary work of the Branch has allowed of the employment of one of the examiners for the greater part of the year and another for a part of the year in the compilation of parish maps.

LAND BOARDS AT HAY AND DENILIKUIN.

No. 1.

The District Surveyor to The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

District Survey Office, Hay, 5 January, 1885.

In reference to the Chairman's memorandum of the 4th instant, appointing Wednesday, the 6th instant, for the purpose of conferring with me in regard to the proposed alteration of boundaries of the Land District of Hillston, and naming his office as the place of meeting, his attention is directed to the concluding paragraph of my memorandum of the 31st ultimo. At the same time, I desire to inform the Chairman that I will be very glad to attend his office at any time, if by so doing the work of the Department would be facilitated, or the public interest served thereby. In the case under question there can be no doubt whatever that this office should be the place of meeting, as all the maps and other necessary information are in this office, and it is contrary to a rule which I have established to allow maps to be taken out of this office, except under very exceptional and pressing circumstances.

R. M'DONALD,
District Surveyor.

No. 2.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 10 June, 1885.

I have the honor to inform you that I have convened meetings of the Local Land Board, Hay, to be held at Balranald and Hillston, on the 30th instant and 6th proximo; and, in accordance with instructions contained in your printed circular of 19th February last, I enclose a duplicate of the notice sent for publication in the Government Gazette.

I have, &c.,

A. J. PARK,
Chairman, Local Land Board.

[Enclosure.]

NOTICE is hereby given that meetings of the Local Land Boards, under the provisions of the Crown Lands Act of 1884, will be held on the dates and at the places set forth hereunder:—

Balranald, Tuesday, 20th June, 1885, Court-house, Balranald.
Hillston, Monday, 6th July, 1885, Court-house, Hillston.

Local Land Board Office, Hay, June, 1885.

ARCHD. J. PARK,
Chairman.

The Registrar.—T.P.B., 13/6/85.      Entered.—J.P.M., 10/7/85.

No. 3.

Mr. E. Selk to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Hillston, 29 September, 1885.

At the request of the Progress Committee of Hillston, I beg to inform you that, at a meeting of that body on the 20th instant, the following resolution was carried, viz.:—"That the attention of the Minister for Lands be called to the special inconvenience and loss of time incurred by settlers on Crown lands situate in the Hay Land District, adjoining the southern and south-western boundary of the Hillston District, by reason of such persons having to travel to Hay in order to transact business; and that in order to remedy this the Minister for Lands be requested to alter the boundaries of the two districts, so as to enable the parties interested to have their business attended to at Hillston, which is conveniently situated with respect to the Crown lands in question."

Trusting that, as your attention has now been drawn to this subject, you will, at your earliest possible convenience, remedy the grievance complained of by altering the boundaries.

I have, &c.,

ERNEST SELK,
Secretary.

[Presented by R. B. Wilkinson, M.P.]

Acknowledge receipt; the matter will receive attention, and due inquiry made.—C.O., 6/10/85.
Mr. Cohen.—T.P.B., 1/10/85.      R. B. Wilkinson informed, 12/10/85.—V.C.      Referred to the Chairman at Hay for report.—C.O., B.C., 26/10/85.

No. 4.

Mr. E. Selk to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Hillston, 29 September, 1885.

I have been instructed by the Progress Committee of Hillston to inform you that the following motion was carried at a meeting of that body, on the 21st instant:—"That, in the interest of legitimate settlement in this district, it is advisable that the utmost promptitude should be exercised in dealing with applications for selections and homestead leases; that, in the opinion of the Committee, this cannot be done done so long as one Land Board Chairman has control of the several Land Districts of Hay, Deniliquin, Hillston, Balranald, and Wentworth, and that in view of the large areas of land which are being taken up at Hillston, as compared with the other districts named, the want of a distinct Land Board District with Hillston as its head-quarters is urgently essential to the satisfactory administration of the Land Act."

The above motion being so very exhaustive, I need only inform you that a great many of the successful applicants being from a great distance they are anxiously waiting to be put in possession, as in some cases they have actually stock travelling in this district to place on the land.

Trusting, therefore, that you will speedily remedy this hindrance to settlement by creating Hillston District a separate Land Board District.

I am, &c.,
ERNEST SELK,
Secretary.

[Presented by R. B. Wilkinson, M.P.]

Acknowledge receipt, and state that matter will be inquired into.—C.O., 6/10/85. Mr. Cohen.—T.P.B., 8/10/85. R. B. Wilkinson informed, 12th December, 1885.—V.C. Referred to the Chairman at Hay for report.—C.O., B.C., 26/10/85. Report herewith.—A.J.P., 31/12/85.

Office Memorandum.

28 October, 1885.

Is it a fact that the Land Board has not yet sat at Balranald? I should like to know why it has not done so.

J. P. ABBOTT.

A Land Board was advertised to be held on the 30th of June last (see papers herewith). No further notice of any subsequent Board to be held has since been received.—T.P.B., 28/10/85. Submitted.—C.O., 28/10/85. Ask the Chairman to hold a Court at Balranald as quickly as possible.—J. P. ABBOTT, 28/10/85. Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay, asked accordingly, 29/10/85.

Petition from Residents of Hay.

To the Honorable the Secretary for Lands, Sydney,—

WE, the undersigned residents of the Hay Land District, beg respectfully to request that you will give the following matter your earliest and favourable consideration, namely,—

That we are greatly inconvenienced in consequence of the Land Court being held at most inopportune times. The delay in dealing with the applications which have been sent in since the last Court held means a great loss of time and money to the selectors of this district.

Trusting you will kindly give this your earliest attention, and your petitioners, in duty bound, will ever pray.

Thomas R. Suttie, Hay, surveyor and land agent.
James Chant, Hay, selector.
J. A. M'Donald, Hay, selector.
R. Cairns, Hay, selector.
H. Smith, Hay, selector.
G. C. Parker, Hay, selector.
H. G. Selby, Hay, selector.
W. J. Hills, Hay, auctioneer.
— Paton, Lachlan-street, Hay, selector.

Mr. A. Jamieson to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Deniliquin, 17 November, 1885.

At the recent holding of the Local Land Board the Chairman intimated that in future all agents appearing on behalf of clients must produce a written authority, witnessed by a clergyman or Justice of the Peace.

This I contend is an unnecessary provision, especially the witnessing of the authority, for, in addition to the inconvenience occasioned to applicants (many of whom reside long distances from a Justice of the Peace or clergyman), it casts a reflection on the agent, and challenges his standing. Sub-section

3 of section 14 distinctly states "every party * * * be heard by counsel, attorney, or agent"; therefore the Act in nowise provides for such a course. I presume that your Department desire that applicants should have as simple and economical a representation as possible, and that it may in many instances be more agreeable for applicants to be represented by their agent, who receives a small remuneration, than to be put to unnecessary legal charges by employing a solicitor.

I respectfully beg that you will not allow such an injustice to be done to any respectable Land Agent.

I have, &c.,

A. JAMIESON.

Submitted.—T.P.B., 19/11/85. C.O., 27/11/85.

I see great difficulties in dealing with this matter. The Board have taken a wise course; but, at the same time, one which may lead to some inconvenience. I think if the party appearing will produce the written authority of his principal that will be quite sufficient; if the agent should abuse his authority, the Board can refuse again to hear him. This decision may be communicated to all Boards.—J.P.A., 2/12/85.

Mr. Jamieson informed, 4/12/85. Circular to the various Chairmen, 12/12/85. Mr. Wilmot to note. Entered and examined, 18/12/85.

No. 8.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 11 December, 1885.

I have the honor to inform you that the question having been raised as to what authority, and whether it should be witnessed, an agent must produce to show his right to represent clients in Land Courts, the Secretary for Lands has decided that if the Board deem it necessary that an authority should be produced, it will be sufficient for an agent to exhibit the written authority of his principals, and if he should abuse his permission the Board can refuse again to hear him.

I have, &c.,

CHARLES OLIVER,

Under Secretary.

Memorandum for the Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

In reference to the Chairman's memorandum of this morning, he is informed that it is not possible for me to spare time this afternoon to confer with him on the subject of the alteration of the boundaries of the Hillston Land District, but any day next week that may be convenient to the Chairman I will be very glad to go into the matter with him. I would point out, however, that if the Chairman wishes to confer with me on this or any other matter, he should at least consult my convenience by asking for an appointment at this office.

ROBERT M'DONALD,

District Surveyor.

Received, 31/12/85.—A. J. PARK. District-Surveyor M'Donald asked by letter to confer with the Chairman at Local Land Board Office on Wednesday, 6th instant.—4/1/86. Put away.

[Enclosure.]

Memorandum for the District Surveyor, Hay.

In reference to the minute of the District Surveyor to the Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay, undated, but which was written on the 31st December, 1885, concerning a conference on the matter of proposed alteration of the line dividing the Hillston and Hay Land Districts, the Chairman begs to state that at 2.30 p.m. on Tuesday, the 5th of January, 1886, will be quite a convenient time to him for the purpose, if it will also suit the District Surveyor's engagements.

As to the last paragraph of the District Surveyor's memorandum referred to, it is not quite clear what is meant.

The convenience of the District Surveyor has always been most punctiliously studied. He has been asked to do nothing which might in any way have even the appearance of interfering with his work, in which he has been perfectly free and untrammelled.

The District Surveyor has never been asked to attend any of the Courts, not even in the metropolis of the district, and only once has he been invited to a meeting. On this, the first occasion of his being asked to attend a conference of perhaps ten minutes, on a technical subject, the District Surveyor objects that "his convenience is not studied by appointing his office as a place of meeting."

I can only add that the head office of the Local Land Board is the natural and proper place for the transaction of such business, and that I have no intention of departing from so obvious a rule, unless in exceptional cases, when good cause may be shown to necessitate a change of venue.

No. 10.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 31 December, 1885.

I have the honor, in accordance with your B.C. dated 26th October, 1885, endorsement upon a petition—Ministerial 85-10,411, Land Board District 85-1,036p herewith—to report that there is no present necessity for creating a separate Land Board District with Hillston as a centre of operations, for the following reasons:—

That there is insufficient work for a separate Land Board and staff in Hillston Land District alone, and no other Land Districts can conveniently be combined therewith without injuriously reducing the area and the work of adjacent Land Board Districts.

Even at the date of the application by the Progress Committee there was not at Hillston alone sufficient business to justify the creation of a separate establishment, though there was an accumulation of work, caused partly by the great pressure incidental to working off arrears of the Acts repealed, and to the initiation of the Act of 1884, and partly by the delay in receiving reports on homestead leases, &c., from the District Survey Office.

That

That such accumulation has been completely disposed of, and can never occur again under any circumstances.

That the ordinary amount of business in Hillston District can for the future be easily despatched by three or four periodical sittings per annum of the present Land Board, if supported by prompt action in Survey Branch.

Ministerial 85-10,411, Land Board District 85-1,036b herewith. Referred for the report of the District Surveyor as to delay alleged to have occurred in the District Survey Office.—C.O., B.C., 18/1/86. Returned with my report of this date, No. 86-5.—R. M'DONALD, District Surveyor, Hay, 29/1/86.

No. 11.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 31 December, 1885.

I have the honor, in accordance with your B.C. dated 18th November, 1885, endorsal upon a petition—Ministerial 85-11,246, Land Board District 85-1,111b herewith—to report that this petition is from certain persons in and about Hay in reference to the local administration of the Land Act, and comprises two grounds of complaint—

1st. That the times at which Board meetings are held are inopportune.

2nd. That there has been delay in dealing with applications made since last Court.

As to the first-named, I cannot perceive how any of the dates on which Courts have been held can be said to have been inopportune, when all parties known to be concerned received due and proper notice thereof.

As to the second, the delay mentioned was due to the absence of reports from the District Surveyor before I started a long circuit of Courts throughout this district, which has occupied all my time since 25th October last.

I have advertised a Court for the 12th instant at Hay, by which date I hope the District Surveyor will have forwarded reports on all cases set down for hearing.

In order to place you in a position to appreciate the value of the petition, I may mention that out of the thirty-two petitioners only ten have their names recorded as holders or applicants for land in the registers of this district. The remainder are those of the Sheriff's bailiff, the inferior publicans and tradespeople in the town having no direct interest in land matters, so far as is known, and two persons whose business advertisements are clipped from local newspapers, and hereto attached, one of whom (Suttie) is said to have organized the movement and written the petition.

I have, &c.,

ARCHD. J. PARK,
Chairman.

Forwarded to the District Surveyor as to alleged delay in District Survey Office.—C.O., B.C., 18/1/86. Returned with my report of this date, No. 86-5.—ROBT. M'DONALD, District Surveyor, Hay, 29/1/86.

Land for the people; 40 up to 10,240 acres.

In view of early operation of the new Land Act, W. T. Hills begs to inform his constituents and those in search of high-class lands for bona fide settlement that he can place at their disposal the choicest areas in both the Central and Western Divisions, which, for soundness of country, quality of grasses, timber available, and natural facilities for catching and the conservation of water cannot be excelled.

Applications made out in proper form, and correct tracings, reducing identification to a certainty, supplied upon the shortest notice, thereby ensuring a client the land he actually wants.

Correctness of application and securing the area desired are guaranteed.

Those requiring first-class country should communicate at once with W. T. Hills, Land Agent, Hay, sole agent for J. A. Martin, late Farnell (Minister for Lands) and Martin, Lands Agency Office, Sydney.

Mr. A. Jamieson to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Deniliquin, 23 January, 1886.

I enclose you a clipping from the Deniliquin Chronicle of 21st January, which expresses the general feeling of dissatisfaction which exists in the minds of selectors at the manner in which the Local Land Board is treating them.

The Board have only held one sitting (28th October and following days), and at that sitting several cases were taken (and many at that sitting not yet determined), whilst neighbours of theirs who applied at the same time are not yet dealt with.

Many of the applicants are residents in Victoria, and it is an injustice to them that their cases are kept in abeyance so long, as they are debarred from selecting in the interim, they not knowing whether they will get the land they have now applied for.

I have, &c.,

A. JAMIESON.
Perhaps

Perhaps it may be deemed desirable to ask the Chairman for a report.—C.O., 30/1/86. Approved.—G.S., 2/2/86. Mr. Cohen.—T.P.B., 3/2/86. The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.—F.H.W. (for the Under Secretary), B.C., 5/2/86. No blame can attach to the Deniliquin Board, for every case upon which a report had been received from the District Surveyor was dealt with as far as practicable.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay, 12/3/86. The Under Secretary for Lands, Sydney. Referred to the District Surveyor with a view to every possible despatch being given to the matters referred to.—C.O., B.C., 13/4/86. Would the Chairman be good enough to favour me with the dates of the last Court at Deniliquin.—R. M'DONALD, District Surveyor, 15/4/86. The Chairman, Local Land Board. February 23rd, 24th, 25th, and 26th.—A. B. CREW, 15/4/86. The District Surveyor, Hay.

A Land Court was held at Deniliquin on the 23rd, 24th, 25th, and 26th of February last (since the date of this letter), and probably the cases complained of were dealt with at that Court. Except in a few cases where the applications were dependent on the action taken on repealed cases, I think there has been little cause for complaint. Every possible effort has been made, and is still being made, to deal with the applications promptly. Perhaps the writer of the complaint should be asked to specify the cases where undue delay has occurred.—R. M'DONALD, District Surveyor, 15/4/86. The Under Secretary for Lands.

Inform that the Chairman and District Surveyor report that every effort is being made to dispense of all applications for land with despatch.—C.O., 19/4/86. In view of the date of the Mayor's letter, no reply need now be sent.—C.O.

SELECTION OF LAND.—Numerous complaints are heard respecting the delay which exists in dealing with applications for conditional purchases in this district. Some applied for at the first land day in August last, and recommended in October following by the Local Board, are yet undetermined, and that to the great annoyance and loss of the smaller intending settler, and particularly so, as it is noticed that apparently, we will not say more despatch, but a stricter attention to business, is shown in other districts. Whatever the cause, the delay noticed is very disheartening, and if it is intended to kill selection right out, we scarcely think a more likely process to effect that could have been adopted.

No. 13.

Mr. District-Surveyor M'Donald to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

District Survey Office, Hay, 25 January, 1886.

In reference to your B.C. memorandum on Ministerial 86-192 and 193, directing me to report with reference to alleged delays in furnishing reports to the Local Land Board, Hay, I do myself the honor to inform you, in explanation, that very shortly after my appointment I came to Hay. As the District Survey offices were unfurnished, and as no plans, papers, or furniture had been forwarded, I returned to Sydney, and was engaged for nearly a month obtaining the services of surveyors, arranging for the distribution of the large accumulation of work under the repealed Acts, and in gathering necessary information. I returned to Hay about the end of February, 1885, and immediately commenced my duties, with only a field assistant, with very little experience, in a building in which painters and carpenters were still at work. Cases and packages of furniture and maps were scattered about the building; and I worked night and day for a considerable time to get matters even a little straight.

The Minister's direction that all the work under the repealed Acts was to be completed before the end of 1885 received my best endeavours. In arranging with surveyors I had stipulated that all the surveys should be completed by the end of September. The result was that a very great number of plans and reports were received during that month, and all the surveyors in the field were working their hardest to clear off outstanding cases. I think the records of the Survey Department will prove that. All cases were thoroughly looked into in this office before being despatched to head-quarters. If any errors or omissions were discovered, or matters requiring explanation, the case was returned to the surveyor, thereby saving considerable delay. The necessity of dealing rapidly with surveyors' plans was further impressed upon me by a communication from the Surveyor-General directing immediate action, so that the revenue expected from the Department could be obtained. With such an amount of work on hand in the office, and with all surveyors fully employed in the field, some delay in forwarding reports on a number of conditional purchases and conditional leases was unavoidable.

A number of applications had, however, been reported on, and had been dealt with by the Board at two separate meetings. About the middle of October this office was again in a position to deal with applications under the present Act, and immediate attention was given thereto, and I think I can confidently state that there have been no undue delays since then; but the absence of the Chairman from Hay, while holding Courts at Deniliquin, Balranald, Wentworth, and Hillston, prevented my reports on the Hay cases being dealt with, and consequently many of these reports were three months in the Chairman's office awaiting action by the Board.

As an evidence of the amount of work performed in this office during the past year, I beg to inform you that 1,348 instructions for survey and report were received from the Surveyor-General, and transferred by the District Surveyors, who formerly had portions of this district under their supervision; 2,465 reports and communications from surveyors and the public were received; fully 1,000 reports were furnished to the Chairman; and about 300 reports, &c., were written to the Surveyor-General, surveyors, and the public. I would also inform you that at the end of the year there were not in the whole district fifty outstanding cases under the repealed Acts, and very nearly all these cases were of very recent issue.

I would be glad to have furnished with this report a statement of the cases received from the Chairman during the year, and the dates of action thereon by this office, but I hesitate employing an officer on such a lengthy undertaking.

I can state with confidence that my best energies have been devoted to my official duties. There has been scarcely a day that I have not worked for at least ten hours; very frequently I have had to work on Sundays, and I think that on every holiday during the year I was at work in my office for the whole day, and, as a rule, I have been ably assisted by my staff in field and office, many of the officers having worked exceedingly hard.

I cannot conclude this report without expressing my feeling that the Chairman does not hesitate to indulge in captious criticisms regarding this office. I think his remarks (on papers Miscellaneous 86-192), "If supported by prompt action by Survey Branch," quite uncalled for, and that the inference is unjustifiable. For the beneficial working of this Act it is quite as necessary that this office should be equally supported by the Chairman's office. As an instance, I would mention that for the last three months the Licensed Surveyor in charge of the Wentworth District has hardly had sufficient work to keep him employed, although the homestead lease applications were dealt with by the Board on the 22nd November. The delay has, I presume, been unavoidable, and I only mention the matter to show that delays do occur in the Chairman's Branch.

I have, &c.,

ROBERT M'DONALD,
District Surveyor.

The explanation furnished by Mr. District-Surveyor M'Donald is satisfactory. I conclude from the report of the Chairman, and the remarks of Mr. M'Donald, that these officers are not working in that harmonious manner that is essential in the public interests, and if this be so, one or both must be in fault. Perhaps I am in error in my conclusion, but I deem it necessary to say that both these officers should be impressed with the necessity of perfect unity of action, and that the absence of it will not be endured.—C.O., 2/2/86.

Disposed of personally with Mr. Park and Mr. M'Donald.—C.O., 1/5/86. Put away.

No. 14.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 2 February, 1886.

I have the honor to report as hereunder, in accordance with your minute of 26th October, 1885, written on paper Ministerial 85-10,410, which requests me to alter a boundary between the Hay and Hillston Land Districts:—

1. The request is preferred by the Progress Committee of Hillston in the interests of residents in the Hay Land District.
2. It does not appear on the papers that those residents are desirous of the change suggested, though many of them certainly live nearer to Hillston than to Hay.
3. Inhabitants of other Land Districts are similarly inconvenienced, but to a greater degree; whence,
4. If any change is desirable, it should be thorough and systematic.
5. The map enclosed shows a design in green made by me for your consideration, should you contemplate making the alteration desired. The blue line is that immediately under notice.
6. In this design for remodelling Land Districts within the Hay Land Board District, each boundary-line possesses the mathematical property that any point therein is equidistant from adjacent Land Office towns.
7. These lines could be laid down on the maps as nearly in their mathematical positions as the parish boundaries (which should be adhered to) will allow.

Absence from head-quarters, and great pressure of work have prevented my forwarding this report earlier, though it has been drafted since the 6th of January.

I have, &c.,

A. J. PARK,
Chairman.

Papers Ministerial 85-10,410 herewith and map. Mr. Houston.—C.O., 9/2/86.

There does not appear to be any pressing necessity for the alteration desired, and at the present time the staff of the Department is taxed to the utmost with current work. To rearrange the Hillston District would require other adjoining districts to be similarly treated, which would involve an amount of labour that cannot at the present time be undertaken.—C.O., 19/4/86.

Approved.—H.C., 4/5/86. Mr. Cohen.—T.P.B., 5/5/86. Mr. Wilkinson informed, 6th May, 1886, and Chairman.—C.W.F.

No. 15.

J. Gormly, Esq., M.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Legislative Assembly, Sydney, 28 June, 1886.

The following facts have been brought under my notice by several residents of Hillston and the surrounding neighbourhood, viz. :—

That the present boundary-line of the Hay and Hillston Land, Police Licensing, and District Court Districts runs to within about 20 miles of the town of Hillston.

The consequence is that persons residing in the Hay District within an easy distance of Hillston are compelled, when they have land or Court business to transact, to travel to Hay, a distance of 70 or 80 miles, whereas the same business should be done at Hillston.

As an instance of this, I may mention that Mr. O'Brien, of Whealbah, 23 miles from Hillston, but within the Hay District, has to go to Hay to do his land business. To do this he must go to Hillston, take the coach to Carrathool, and then travel by rail to Hay. If he selects, he soon after has to go before the Land Board at Hay. This means heavy expense, absence from business, and loss of time. If he could do his business at Hillston, he could leave home in the morning and return before dark the same day.

The same may be said of a large number of selectors and others at a distance of from 40 miles from Hillston. If a selector at Gunbar, at say a distance of 27 miles from Hillston, and 70 miles from Hay, wants to go to Court he cannot go to the former place, but must go to the latter. If he has a debt to recover, or is summoned in the District Court, he must go to Hay, instead of to Hillston. If a publican living within 20 or 30 miles of Hillston wishes to apply to a Licensing Court, he must go 70 or 80 miles to Hay before he can do so. The injustice of this is so manifest that I feel sure you will at once take steps to have the boundary-line altered, so as to include all country at least 40 miles south of the town of Hillston.

I have, &c.,

JAMES GORMLY.

Referred to the District Surveyor, as above directed.—A.B.C., 6/9/86. I have looked into this matter, and will be very glad to go into it with the Chairman any time at a day's notice.—R. M'DONALD, 22/11/86. The Chairman, Local Land Board.

After the Land Court has concluded its daily sitting on Monday, 29th instant, I shall be glad to confer with the District Surveyor, if equally convenient to him.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, 24/11/86. The District Surveyor, Hay.

This matter was personally arranged yesterday afternoon.—R. M'DONALD, 26/11/86. The Chairman, Hay.

The vacant and available land in the district of Hay North has been almost wholly taken up, and unless all the Land District boundaries are altered, I can see no reason why this particular boundary should be so treated. The Deniliquin and Balranald districts are much more disadvantageously bounded.—A. J.
PARK, Chairman, Hay, 29/1/87.

The Under Secretary for Lands.—A.B. (pro Chairman), B.C., Hay, 15/2/87.

May perhaps be informed that, as nearly the whole of the available Crown land in the Land
District of Hay North has been alienated, the proposed alteration of Land District boundaries is not now considered necessary.—S.F., 21/2/87.

I wish to draw your attention to the fact that 7,000 acres have been applied for when land first opened, and the Board has been sitting since 6th August, and not one single case has been finally dealt with.
Several applicants have arrived here with their families and stock, and have been under great expense; and I am informed that the Chairman is going to Hay to-morrow, and will not be back until the 20th of the month, and is taking all the papers with him. Local members are ready to go on with the business. If people are not allowed to go on now, there will be no grass or water, as the squatters are over-stocking the resumed area, and when the people get land there will be no grass or water, so the applicants cannot go on with their stock, or even do their fencing. I ask you, in the interest of several bona fide people whom I represent, to wire Mr. Park, the Chairman, to go on with the business. Two public meetings were held here condemning the Board for the delay. I refer you to to-day's Herald. People camped with stock

Sir,

Sydney, 17 September, 1886.

At the request of the inhabitants of Mossiel, I have the honour to enclose a letter to yourself from a meeting held at Mossiel on the 7th instant, embodying certain resolutions passed at that meeting condemning the action of the Hillston Land Board, and asking for the removal of Mr. Wright from the Board and for the establishment of a Land Board at Mossiel.

I have, &c.,
ROBERT B. WILKINSON.

[Enclosure.]

To the Honorable The Minister for Lands,—

Sir,

Mossiel, 8 September, 1886.

At a large and influential meeting held here last night, for the purpose of condemning the action of the Land Board, Hillston, for the manner in which business generally is conducted there, the following resolutions were unanimously agreed to:—

- 1st. That this meeting expresses its entire disapproval of the procedure of the Hillston Land Board, and views with alarm the consequences which must follow when regulated by other than strict adherence to impartiality, the decisions given being quite contrary to sworn testimony.
- 2nd. This meeting is of opinion that Mr. L. Wright, being closely connected with squatting interests only, his removal from the Board would tend materially to strengthen public confidence in its administration.

3rd.

3rd. That, in the opinion of this meeting, Mossgiel being the centre of a large area of homestead conditional leases, the establishment of a Land Board here would materially help to the settlement of the land and conduce to the benefit of all concerned.

4th. That the foregoing resolutions be at once forwarded to the Minister for Lands.

F. H. THOMPSON,
Chairman.

To be forwarded to the Board for any explanation or comment the Chairman or Mr. Wright may have to make.—H.C., 27/9/86. The Chairman, Hay.—C.O., B.C., 30/9/86. Forward to the Board* at Hillston, in accordance with Ministerial minute hereon of 27/9/86 for any comment or explanation Mr. Wright may have to make.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, 5/10/86. Sir, Head Office, Land Board, Hay, 16 October, 1886.

I have the honor to return herewith the papers named in the margin, comprising a letter to the Honorable the Minister for Lands, embodying certain resolutions of a meeting at Mossgiel, "condemning the action of the Land Board at Hillston for the manner, &c.," in reference to which the comments or explanations of Mr. Member Wright and myself were invited by Ministerial minute, dated 27th September, 1886.

Mr. Member Wright's letter to the Honorable the Minister is enclosed, together with his subsequent letter addressed to me upon the same subject.

My explanations on the three Resolutions:—

Resolution No. 3.—No necessity whatever exists at present for the establishment of a Land Board at Mossgiel.

Resolution No. 2.—I believe the aspersions upon Mr. Member Wright to be unjust and uncalled for. I can conscientiously affirm that his counsels have been careful, honest, and devoid of partiality.

Resolution No. 1.—The Board has uniformly given impartial decisions, based on sworn testimony; and for myself—though unable to afford specific explanations to vague calumny—to any defined charge I shall be glad to make the most public defence in the most public place—the Bar of the House preferred.

[Enclosures.]

The Honorable The Minister for Lands, Sydney.

Sir,

Hillston, 7 October, 1886.

Referring to Mr. R. B. Wilkinson's letter, forwarding copy of resolutions passed at a meeting, held at Mossgiel, on the 7th September, I have the honor to state,—

1st. That the Hillston Local Land Board have shown no partiality in dealing with any case brought before them, and the decisions given have been strictly impartial.

2nd. That, as regards myself personally, my interests are not entirely with the squatting class, but equally with the homestead lessees and conditional purchasers, and the Hillston district generally.

If necessary, I feel confident that I can show that I have the confidence of a majority of all classes interested in the land in the districts of Hillston and Hillston North as a member of the Local Land Board.

And I confidently place myself in the hands of the Chairman of the Board to say if I have ever shown partiality as a member of the Board.

I have, &c.,

LINDON G. WRIGHT,
Member, Local Land Board.

Ministerial attention is invited to a supplementary letter from Mr. Wright hereto attached, and numbered L.B.D. 86-5,161, addressed to me.—A. J. PARK, Chairman.

Chairman.

The

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay,—
Sir,

Hillston, 9 October, 1886.

Since writing to the Honorable the Minister for Lands, through yourself, on the 7th ultimo, re the matter of the complaint from Mossgiel against the Local Land Board, and myself particularly, I have been informed by a gentleman from that neighbourhood, in whom I place implicit reliance, that the meeting at which the resolutions referred to were passed condemning the Local Land Board was by no means a representative one, only a few people being present, and the chairman of the meeting a man of no influence, and bearing a most unenviable reputation in the district, and having no stake whatever at Mossgiel, or anywhere else.

Mr. H. A. Laird, whose conditional purchase you will remember we recommended for forfeiture, is the principal owner of township property in Mossgiel, and no doubt feels disappointed at the prospect of losing his improvements, and consequently has not the most kindly feeling for the Board.

And I must say that I do not consider it anything to the discredit of the Board if they are attacked by a few malcontents for having done their duty.

I have, &c.,

LINDEN G. WRIGHT,
Member, Local Land Board, Hillston.

No. 27.

Extract from the Riverina Grazier, 14th November, 1886.

WE are not alone in our opinion of the Hay Land Board. This Court (says the Deniliquin Chronicle) is dragging its slow way along with as little progress being made as possible. Although the Board has been sitting now eight days up to last night, the cases set down for hearing on the second day of the Court were not completed; and as some fifty or sixty cases have yet to be dealt with, it is more than likely that the sitting will last quite a fortnight longer. One case—that of Cobb's—lasted from last Friday until last night, when it was finished—at least as far as the Court is concerned. The work is very tedious, annoying, and aggravating to all concerned. Many of the applicants have been waiting a week for their cases to be called on, and several whose cases have been dealt with have been waiting patiently a similar time for the decisions in their respective cases, which is causing much inconvenience and trouble to applicants. Each and every applicant nearly is opposed in one form or another, either to invalidate the application, or in the matter of fighting as to the value of improvements, and whether they shall go to the squatter or to the Crown; and so the time of the Court is taken up day after day.

To partially remedy all this inconvenience in future, it would be better if the Local Land Board sat at Deniliquin oftener, and not have so many cases set down for hearing at each sitting, as that would prevent such a number of applicants suffering so much annoyance, and seem to be waiting about the precincts of the Court from day to day.

The Assistant Under Secretary. Submitted.—S.F., 19/11/86.

Mr. Park may be asked, in connection with this local paragraph, what time has elapsed between the various sittings at each of the Courts in his district, and whether it would not be possible to hold the Courts more frequently? I noticed complaints similar to those in this paragraph with reference to the Court recently held at Hillston.—H.C., 19/11/86.

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.—S.F., B.C., 25/11/86. Replied to by my letter of this date to the Under Secretary for Lands.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, Hay, 17/12/86.

No. 28.

Extract from The Chronicle and Riverina Gazette, with Supplement, 2nd December, 1886.

THE LOCAL LAND COURT:—When the Land Act of 1884 was introduced, with the provision for the establishment of Local Land Boards, that provision was hailed with much satisfaction by all interested in settlement on the lands. It was then thought that the Local Land Courts sitting in the different centres of population would free the selectors from a great deal of the old worry and trouble that accompanied their efforts to acquire a few of the broad acres of the lands of this Colony. Under the old Acts there are few but will remember the loss of time, worry, and expenditure of money in selecting land in New South Wales, to say nothing of expensive lawsuits that many unfortunate selectors were subjected to.—(Passage No. 1); but under the new regime of the Local Land Boards, as far as this district is concerned, there seems to be very little improvement, if any. The selector is still made the object at which every possible obstacle is placed—every annoyance and worry thrown in his way, and his time and his money drawn from him in his endeavour to select land. Why the selector should continue to be so unfortunate and so harshly treated a subject of Her Majesty is more than we can say. The fact that he is so, however, remains to be answered by someone: perhaps the Minister for Lands can answer the question. One of our solicitors, during the last sitting of the Land Board, spoke of a riot or revolution amongst the selecting class, and said they were fools to stand the tyranny and oppression that they were subjected to. These remarks were straight and to the point, and we will not be surprised, if the present state of things continues, that something of the kind occurs to free the selector from the yoke of tyranny that surrounds him in every quarter.—(Passage No. 2.) Of the last sitting of the Local Land Board here, which occupied a month, and terminated its work last week, much can be said to illustrate what we mean respecting the hard treatment, worry, and annoyance extended to those who come before the Board to have their cases inquired into. In the first place, the sitting was extended over an unnecessary length of time, and compelled many interested to hang about the Court-house for a whole month at great inconvenience and loss of of time and money. Long hours were occupied by solicitors in arguing points, pro and con, that could have been decided in a moment by the Chairman if he had exercised his power. But no; time was no object to the Board, and day after day was occupied in useless talk and equally useless evidence; and any one dropping in to see how the Court was progressing might go away with the opinion that the Board had no other object than to make it—(passage No. 3)—a “practice” Court for the solicitors “engaged,” and those acting the very charitable cause as “friends of the Court”—which, being interpreted in this instance, means the “friends of the squatters.” Another very serious fault occurred in the large number of cases—about thirty—postponed to the next Court, and the cause of this, in most instances, was apparent neglect of the Board.—(Passage No. 4). Notices are sent, or supposed to be sent, to the lessees on whose stations selectors were applying for land, but the Board neglected to bring its clerk from the Hay office to swear that notices had been posted. To this exception was taken by the solicitors engaged, and the Chairman allowed the objection as fatal; and so, many applicants, after waiting about for weeks at great expense and loss of time, had to return home, and have now to wait patiently till such time as the Board may think it necessary to sit in Deniliquin again, this being caused by the neglect of the head office at Hay. Many of the decisions given by the Board are open to the severest criticism, as they appear to be ridiculous and unfair to applicants. There is such a thing as administering an Act strictly, and there is also another by which a too stringent reading of an Act can make it unworkable by being interpreted in a way that is not intended by the Legislature. It may not be out of place to give a few cases, and the decisions given by this Board respecting them, to show how stringently the Board have thought fit to place their veto, as it were, on attempts to take up selections.—(Passage No. 5.) In C. L. Bootchier's case, the selector, in his application, described a certain fence, and gave the positions as he thought accurately; but the Surveyor's report showed that the exact position was not accurately stated, and for that reason alone the application was thrown out as informal, although the application had been previously recommended for confirmation by the same Board. Respecting this case, the Minister for Lands had telegraphed, we hear, to the Board that the informality described did not invalidate the selection. Before this information was received, however, the Board had finished its sitting, and so the applicant will have to wait another six months, making in all about two years, before he can go on to his land, and perhaps at the end of that time some other technical informality may be discovered.—(Passage No. 6.) In another case, that of Joseph Wellington, the application was thrown out, as he had not given the position of one or two of the improvements; and, in the face of the evidence of the applicant, the Surveyor, and another witness who was lost on this very land for three hours, being to the effect that it was utterly impossible to define the position of the improvements without an instrument, the Board threw out the application as informal. Again, in the case of C. Macauley, the applicant stated as near as possible the position and amount of improvements on the land in the application, and swore that from the nature of the country it was impossible to accurately state the position of all the improvements. In this case a most peculiar feature presented itself.—(Passage No. 7.) It was found, by the Surveyor's report, that the applicant had stated more improvements than were actually on the land, and then followed the arbitrary decision of the Board, who threw out the application on these grounds as informal. It is little use giving any further illustrations, but we may briefly state that Scott's, Coffee's, and Harvey's applications were thrown out on somewhat similar grounds. What the public will think of these decisions we do not know; but we think they may agree with us in saying they are simply absurd, and not in accord with the true and proper administration of the Act. If there was anything to be gained by the selector not stating the exact position of the many improvements on the lands in this district, we might reasonably understand the Board's action, but there is not, as all improvements are assessed and placed by the Surveyor in his report. Of course, there is a Court of Appeal, in which all parties feeling aggrieved at any decisions may have their cases reheard; but this is an expense that none but rarely should be put to. According to the decisions meted out by this Land Board, it seems to us an impossibility for any selector to take up land, no matter how intelligent he may be, unless he is a surveyor and lawyer as well, as the slightest technical objection is sufficient to bar him from getting his land. We would like to see the Land Board administer the laws in a fair and liberal spirit, and there would be then less cause for complaint; but the mode of administering the law by the Land Board, as far as Deniliquin is concerned, is the greatest bar to settlement that the unfortunate selector has ever had to contend against.

Submitted.—B.J.A., 6/12/86. Perhaps this matter may be remitted to the Chief Inspector for investigation when visiting the Board Office at Hay.—S.F., 16/12/86. It appears to me that the matter is one demanding immediate attention, and, as a preliminary step, the Chairman may be asked to state whether there are any grounds in the allegations made; and if so, the cause thereof.—C.O., 18/12/86

It is not always safe to place implicit reliance on newspaper paragraphs; but in this article, which is temperate and sensibly to the point, I think it necessary to call upon Mr. Park for an explanation with reference to the general charges as well as those of a specific nature; and I do this the more readily on account of several previous complaints, both in the Press and at public meetings, with reference to Mr. Park's administration of the Act.—H.C., 22/12/86.

The Chairman of the Local Land Board, Hay.—C.O., B.C., 22/12/86. Received.—29/12/86.

No. 30.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Land Board Office, Hay, 21 December, 1886.

I have the honor to reply to the Ministerial minute of 25th November, 1886, on papers, Ministerial 86-9,957, herewith, as per margin.

While respectfully protesting against the submission for departmental action of anonymous newspaper paragraphs, written by persons obviously uninformed, I very gladly submit for Ministerial consideration the information called for, as follows:—

Since the 5th June, 1886, the continuity of sittings of my Board has been almost uninterrupted.

A table is appended hereto, showing dates of all sittings, ordinary and extraordinary, in "open Court" and in camera during the currency of the Crown Lands Act of 1884.

To save the Honorable the Minister the trouble of a tedious perusal of abstract dates, I have prepared two sheet almanacs (no smaller size procurable), which show at a glance the whole thing diagrammatically.

It only remains to add that January, 1887, will be almost wholly occupied in disposing of the second division of cases of the present sittings at Hay. The following few months, say up to May or June, will be continuously occupied in open Court sittings at the remaining Land Board towns in this district, viz., Hillston (Cudgellico), Deniliquin, Balranald, and Wentworth, for the discharge of all current work, including appraisement of rents of those 136 pastoral holdings still undealt with, and of conditional leases.

I would remind the Honorable the Minister that nearly all the land in my district is the subject of current investigation, and that the area exceeds that of all England.

I have, &c.,

A. J. PARK,

Chairman.

Marginal reference on above:—Papers—Ministerial 86-9,957 (L.B.D. 86-6,075); one tabulated statement; two sheet almanacs, prepared in illustration of proceedings.

Submitted.—S.F., 23/12/86. C.O., 27/12/86. Seen. May be resubmitted, with an explanation recently called for from Mr. Park on the same subject.—H.C., 28/12/86.

Local Land Board, Hay, 16th December, 1886.

Regret I have no more slips left of the remainder of the Courts.—A.J.P., 21/12/86.

Extract from the Riverina Grazier, Hay, 12th November, 1886.

Really something ought to be done to expedite the procedure of our Land Board. It moves like a wounded snake. The sittings at Hillston were protracted altogether beyond the limits, and must have cost all concerned money, time, and temper. No person is benefited by these prolonged sittings except the Land Agents and the members of the Board. We notice that at Wagga Wagga the Board managed to run through as many cases as were heard at Hillston in a few days. A small list was set down at Deniliquin, but there is such a chance of protraction that the Board which was to sit here on the 19th has to be postponed to the 25th, necessitating the work being done over again. No one doubts that the Lands Department here does its best to oblige the public, but it is questionable whether the Board studies the public. The fault lies in allowing a whole series of irrelevant matter to be introduced—matter having no earthly concern with the case in hand. The examination should be short, sharp, and decisive, and everything should be vigorously excluded that did not bear upon the case. It may be urged that Mr. Park's anxiety to do justice, to ascertain every fact, causes this tedious lengthening out of cases. There are some virtues which, if carried to extremes, become worse than vices. We hear 180 cases are set down for the next Board; enough to make anyone shudder. When will that unhappy Board come to an end? Heaven only knows. We hope some of the applicants will not be so rash as to purchase allotments in the cemetery, for we have some hope that the Board will endeavour to get through the work—even to hasten slowly.

No. 31.

The Chairman Land Board Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Head Office, Land Board, Hay, 1 January, 1887.

I have the honor to reply briefly to the minute of the Honorable the Minister for Lands, dated 22nd December, 1886, on papers Ministerial, 86-10,585. A similar Ministerial minute was answered by my letter of 21st December, 1886. I beg that this communication may be read in connection with that letter, and that the same respectful protest—re anonymous charges—contained therein, may be considered to apply to this case also.

The

Enclosures.—
Minute 86/10,585
(S.B.D., 86/6,658)
containing a cutting from the Deniliquin Chronicle, dat
2/12/86

The whole matter of the subject newspaper article hinges upon one point, viz.:—Refusal of conditional purchase and conditional lease applications, which have been improperly prepared.

Generally in such cases one or more of the following are the defects:—

1. Questions in Schedule disregarded or improperly answered.
2. No mention of improvements.
3. Improvements mentioned, but no attempt made to describe their position. How easily with the commonest care could such defects be avoided.

Similar paragraphs and complaints from Deniliquin have previously been transmitted to you from a Mr. Jamieson, a land agent in that town. See papers Ministerial 86-760, and Ministerial 86-2,129.

Each and every case specified in the subject article was conducted by the same Mr. Jamieson, and a defective application was in each the cause of refusal. In each case, except Scott's, an appeal has been lodged, and the papers are with you. In the event of the appeal being upheld, no further evidence will be necessary, as the Board completed the action in all cases as far as possible, including the appraisements of improvements.

In some of the cases rival applications have since been lodged for same land (which appears to be valuable), and if the appeals are not sustained by the Honorable the Minister it is quite possible that the appellants may lose the land.

To those persons, and to their agents, such a prospect is naturally very irritating. The Board not being chargeable with the imperfections of their applications, it is anonymously censured in the subject article for not condoning those illegalities, in the face of clear enactments and strenuous legal opposition.

While strongly disposed to deal liberally with such applications (see Appendix A) the Board became convinced, from legal arguments, and upon further reflection, that to depart from the mandatory provisions of the Act and regulations would be the means of introducing such laxity of procedure that the success of the Act would be endangered, and the intentions of its framers frustrated. Consequently, having a plain duty to perform, the Board set its face to it, and did it.

I have, &c.,
A. J. PARK,
Chairman.

Submitted.—S.F., 18/1/87. This paper was seen by Mr. Secretary Copeland.—C.O., 25/2/87.
Put away.

Appendix A to my letter of 1/1/87.

EXTRACT from Deniliquin Minute-book, in camera.

"FEBRUARY 9th, 1886.—It formed a matter of discussion what should be done in cases of erroneous answers to questions in schedule attached to conditional purchase applications, or omissions, and subsequently,—

"Resolved,—That, in cases of conditional purchase applications, where answers to some of the questions have been omitted or answered erroneously, with the intention of misleading or deceiving, the application shall be ousted; but if the Board, by examining the applicant or others on oath, or by other means, convince themselves that no deceit was intended, the application may, other things being found satisfactory, be allowed to stand."

Appendix B to Chairman Park's letter to Under Secretary for Lands, 7/1/87.

REPORT upon the general charges of the newspaper article cut from the Deniliquin Chronicle of the 2nd December, 1886, confined to those passages marked in blue at Head Office, Sydney.

Passage No. 1.—As may be seen from my covering letter, the "obstacles," "worries," and "annoyances" are the creations of the selector or his agent, and the losses of time and of money to the former are the direct consequences of ignorance or carelessness in the lodgment of imperfect applications, for which the selector (or his agent) is alone responsible.

Passage No. 2.—The sitting was protracted far beyond the time arranged for it by incessant contentions between the opposing parties, their prolonged arguments, and the examination of their numerous witnesses. The land is more valuable, intrinsically and otherwise, than in any other land district, and no chance is ever neglected by either of the contending parties to secure its acquisition or its retention. Generally one side, and sometimes both sides, were represented by solicitors of the Supreme Court, who, while acting within their rights, must not be put down by an arbitrary ruling of the Board. When those gentlemen exceeded their rights they were stopped promptly, but politely. It is not true that time was no object to the Board. The Court at Hay had been fixed to commence on the 19th November, 1886. I had reluctantly to postpone it, for the Deniliquin Court extended to the 22nd November, 1886, in consequence of the incompetency of some, and the litigiousness of others, of the parties to the proceedings.

Passage No. 3.—Some solicitors had been allowed to watch some cases amica curia, in accordance with the necessities of the particular case and time-honoured custom. When the privilege was abused it was curtailed. The inuendo is too despicable for comment, and cannot be construed into a charge.

Passage No. 4.—The Board did not "neglect to bring its clerk from Hay." The clerk seized of the work was not permitted to go to Deniliquin by orders of the Under Secretary, who had more urgent duty for him. Except in one case, where the omission was at once rectified, and the case disposed of later on in the sitting, no case fell through as alleged. Several cases, principally inquiries under repeal Acts, were postponed from non-appearance of principals, and no proof of service, owing to the proper clerk not being in attendance. Some were postponed at request of District Surveyor and others. Perhaps the anonymous writer might be invited to specify the cases.

As to the "stringency" of administration said to characterize the Deniliquin Board, I must refer to my covering letter for the facts.

Passages Nos. 5, 6, and 7.—Are answered by covering letter and the papers themselves, which are in the hands of the Under Secretary.

No. 32.

R. Barbour, Esq., M.P., to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Dear Sir,

Parliament House, Sydney, 26 April, 1887.

I have had other letters besides the enclosed from Jamieson complaining that no Land Board sittings have been held at Deniliquin for about five months, and I have written to the Chairman of the Board, and I enclose his letter for your information.

I might remind you that at the last sittings of the Appeal Court several of the appeals were not dealt with, on account of the Local Land Board having neglected to state the grounds of their decision, and these were sent back to the Board to be corrected, but the penalty is suffered by the selectors, who are wasting their substance waiting to get on their land applied for by them a year or two ago.

The Under Secretary never supposed for a moment that an officer of Mr. Boot's position had been told off to post letters. However, no representation was made to the effect that his attendance was required for the purpose of proving the posting of notices.—C.O.

If you can do anything to hasten the dealing with those cases, as well as the new applications which, according to all appearances, will, some of them, be six months old before the preliminary inquiry takes place, you will earn the gratitude of the selectors.

Yours truly,
ROBERT BARBOUR.

Telegraph to the Chairman at Hay:—Complaints made that there has been no sitting of the Land Board at Deniliquin for five months, and that the sitting now to take place will be confined to appraisements. While the appraisal business must not be delayed, cannot other business be heard afterwards. In replying, give generally amount of other business now awaiting a Court at Deniliquin, and suggest any arrangement which may occur to you to meet alleged difficulty.—C.O., 28/4/87. Mr. R. Barbour, Member of Parliament, Sydney,—

D eniliquin, 21 April, 1887.

Dear Sir,

I should feel obliged if you could do something towards hastening the sitting of the Land Board at Deniliquin. It is now nearly five months since the last Board. Mr. Morrisett, one of the members, being ill, is unable to perform his duties. The selectors are loudly complaining at the length of time they have to wait.

Yours, &c.,
A. JAMIESON.

I have just received information that Land Board sits on the 4th May, but merely for the appraisal of runs in this district.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 21 April, 1887.

With reference to your letter of 19th instant, I have the honor to inform you that no cases are proposed to be heard at Deniliquin at the forthcoming Court except the pastoral leases, &c., as the necessity for appraising all the rents and occupation license fees payable on pastoral holdings before the end of June is imperative.

I have to add that after this is done the subject case, Joseph Wellington's conditional lease, and others of a similar nature, will be dealt with as rapidly as possible.

I have, &c.,

A. J. PARK,
Chairman.

Robert Barbour, Esq., Member Legislative Assembly, Parliament House, Sydney.

Telegram from The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

29 April, 1887.

CONCERNING your telegram, respecting Deniliquin complaints last Court there, concluded in November; have been sitting somewhere ever since; besides thirty-six pastoral holdings, there are at least seventy-three general cases, exclusive of what may be in District Surveyor's Office, and appraisal of conditional lease rents; Court begins 4th May; hope to finish evidence pastoral holdings (say) 25th, appraise and announce rents by 27th, leaving four days to reach Hillston, 200 miles, where Court opens 1st June with the last forty-eight pastoral holdings in this Land Board District; while at Hillston propose to finish all outstanding general work there, then return to Deniliquin to do the general work named about middle of July. Have already suggested that Mr. Rowling should temporarily fill Mr. Morrisett's seat; hope you will appoint him, for I think he will consent to night sittings, as on previous occasion, in order that the more urgent general cases at least may be dealt with. This telegram written last night, but Telegraph Office had closed.

A. J. PARK,
Chairman.

Apparently the Chairman is making an effort to meet the requirements of the applicants for land in the Deniliquin District, and he may be asked to report whether it could not be arranged to hold an emergency meeting at Deniliquin while he is sitting at Hillston. Mr. District-Surveyor M'Donald has been placed on the Deniliquin Board, and if Mr. Morrisett is unable to soon resume duty another appointment could be made.—C.O., 29/4/87.

Approved.—T.G., 29/4/87. Telegram sent, 29/4/87.

Mr. O. Ingram to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Tarwong, Hay, 28 May, 1887.

Allow me to draw your attention to the loss and inconvenience myself and others in this district are put to through there being no Land Court held in Hay for such a long period. I applied for a homestead lease last October; it was surveyed four months ago; the plan is approved, and only awaiting the sitting of the Court to be finally dealt with, which would take about ten minutes. I have put a good many improvements on this lease (with the sanction of the leaseholder), being sure that it would would be gazetted ere this. I also bought some sheep, which I have to rent grass for, and unless my lease is gazetted within a very few months I will not be able to purchase sheep off the sheafs, which will be another loss. Now, as there seems no chance of there being a Court held here for some months, might I suggest that an emergency Court be held, presided over by Mr. M'Donald, if the Chairman has not time. By so doing you would confer a favour on a good many others as well as myself.

I am, &c.,

OSWALD INGRAM.

Submitted.—S.F., 1/6/87. It has been decided to place Mr. M'Donald on the Board, and arrange for a Court at Hay upon an early date.—C.O., 3/6/87. Writer informed.—H.L.T., 4/6/87.

No. 36.

A. Lakeman, Esq., M.P., to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Parliament House, Sydney, 3 June, 1887.

I beg to point out the great inconvenience to the public at Hay through not having a Land Court at that town, for so long a period, at the present time. I understand there are more than fifty cases ready to be finally dealt with, but the Chairman is engaged at Hillston, and cannot possibly be at Hay for at least another month. I would therefore suggest the appointment of Mr. District-Surveyor M'Donald as a member of the Hay Land Board, which now only consists of the Police Magistrate and Chairman, and instruct the Chairman of the Board to hold a Court at which Mr. M'Donald and the Police Magistrate could act.

Yours, &c.,

ALLAN LAKEMAN.

Submitted.—C.O., 3/6/87. This suggestion may be acted upon if there be no legal obstacle, and if it will get over the difficulty.—T.G., 3/6/87. There is no legal difficulty. Prepare Executive Council minute, and communicate with the Chairman and Mr. District-Surveyor M'Donald, and inform Mr. Lakeman.—C.O., 3/6/87. The Under Secretary for Lands to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 4 June, 1887.

It having been represented that there are a large number of cases waiting to be dealt with by the Hay Local Land Board, and in consequence of your absence on duty in other districts there is little prospect of your being able to preside at sittings of the Board for a month or more, and that the delay is productive of great inconvenience to the public, I have the honor to inform you that, with a view to obviating this, the Secretary for Lands has approved of Mr. District-Surveyor M'Donald being appointed a member of the Hay Local Land Board.

The appointment will be gazetted next week, and I have to ask you to be good enough to place yourself in communication with Mr. M'Donald, and arrange for him and Mr. Pearce to hold a Court in your absence at the earliest date possible.

I have, &c.,

CHARLES OLIVER,
Under Secretary.

No. 39.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Court-house, Hillston, 11 June, 1887.

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter, dated 4th instant, and numbered Ministerial 87-5,706, in which you inform me that,—

1st. The Honorable the Minister will appoint the District Surveyor, Hay, a member of the Local Land Board at that place; and

2nd. That it is your desire that I should arrange for a Court to be held at Hay in my absence, in consequence of certain representations which have been made.

The particulars of these representations, so closely affecting my administration, or the name of their author have not, however, been made known to me, and I have therefore no opportunity of refuting their inaccuracy or of corroborating their truth.

Before

Before receiving your letter on the 9th instant I had been made acquainted with the essence of its subject by a telegram from the District Surveyor, on receipt of which I took steps to ascertain the state of the Hay cases, and found from the Clerk-in-charge that only forty-nine cases existed, of which three seemed urgent.

The cases concerned with settlements on land I expect by Monday's mail; the remainder will come later. Some time will be occupied in completing their preparation, and in affording a proper interval for notices to mature, whence the Court originally intended to be held in middle of July can only be anticipated by some days at most.

I would submit to your notice the fact that it is most undesirable that Courts should be held in my absence, unless for the transaction of purely formal business. Uniformity of procedure, and also of action, on various points throughout the Land Board Districts is essential to the proper conduct of the various Local Land Courts, and the numberless precedents which have been set up in the different Land Districts under my charge are not within the knowledge or within the reach of the members of any single Land Board.

To avoid such a contingency as a Court in my absence, I have worked very hard, and have persistently refrained from claiming any leave of absence, which my health has so much demanded during the severe strain of the past two and a half years.

I therefore claim some consideration from the Government in the performance of my duties, for it is not to the interest of the general public that my future work should be complicated by the establishment of new precedents, or the reversion of those already established, which would inevitably result from the holding of Courts in my absence.

I am only too glad to accelerate business in any way, as you are fully aware, and also to meet the wishes of the Honorable the Minister at any personal sacrifice. Pardon me for quoting the most recent instance, viz., the late Deniliquin Court, wherein, to satisfy your desires, I heard, I think, seventy-seven extra cases to those set down for hearing, and by close application and night-work the Board disposed of all without my having to delay this Hillston sitting except by one day.

Under these circumstances I have now to ask if you still desire a Court to be held at Hay in my absence, so short a time in advance of that arranged.

If you do, please reply by telegram, in order to accelerate matters.

I need not add to the length of this letter by adducing the several other reasons against Courts of the kind, but will furnish them if you so desire.

I have, &c.,
A. J. PARK,
Chairman.

CONCERNING your telegram of 17th instant, I have made no communication whatever regarding Mr. District-Surveyor M'Donald or his appointment to Hay Land Board. If you refer to my letter of 11th instant respecting an earlier Court at Hay than that arranged then, the Under Secretary not being accessible through illness, why delay the matter until you can see the Minister. [Presented by Allan Lakeman.]

Gunbar, 1 February, 1885.

WE, the undersigned selectors living within the jurisdiction of the Hay Land Board, having lost all confidence in the impartiality of the Chairman of such Board (Mr. A. J. Park), respectfully request that he be removed.

ALFRED WARREN, Selector, Gunbar
(President of Gunbar Settlers' Association).

JOHN FLANAGAN, Selector, Gunbar
(Vice-President, Gunbar Settlers' Association).

SAMUEL NIXON, Selector, Gunbar
(Honorary Treasurer, Gunbar Settlers' Association).

ROBERT GIBSON, Selector, Gunbar

[Here follow 216 signatures.]

Acknowledge receipt, and state that if any specific charges of incapacity, arbitrary action, partiality, or misconduct of any character, in his office, is alleged against the Chairman of the Hay Board, it will be fully inquired into and promptly and properly dealt with; but I am of opinion that it would be not only improper on my part, but unfair to the Chairman, to take any action on the very vague allegations of this petition.—T.G., 18/4/88.

Telegram from The Under Secretary for Lands to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

29 February, 1888.

MR. LAKEMAN, M.P., stated in Assembly yesterday that he knew of several, if not many, applications for forfeited conditional purchases in leasehold areas having been rejected by Hay Board. Minister requires statement to be rigidly inquired into. Please furnish report as to fact at once.

CHARLES OLIVER,
Under Secretary.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 9 June, 1888.

With reference to your memo. of the 1st instant, relative to further clerical assistance in your office, I am directed by the Minister for Lands to inform you that the present staff in your office is considered sufficient, and to impress upon you that the work must be performed without further assistance.

I am to point out to you that it will be your duty to see that the business is not permitted to fall again into arrear.

I am, &c.,

CHARLES OLIVER,

Under Secretary.

No. 56.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Minl. 88/6,342; L.B.D. 88/4,206, Hay.

THE Under Secretary for Lands in his minute of 23/7/88, B.C., has propounded three questions, to which I furnish the three subjoined replies.

I premise by stating that on the 7th July, 1888, I had to leave my head office on Board duty for an extended period, and the whole staff left in that office to carry out the provisions of the law consisted of two temporary junior clerks at 10s. and 9s. per day each respectively, an average attendance of the Land Agent for twenty-four minutes per diem, and no Clerk-in-charge or responsible officer whatever.

Hence the necessity for the immediate precautionary measure which I took to protect the administration, for which, it would appear, I am called in question.

Replies to Questions.

(No. 1.)—The direction referred to is in writing (vide lines Nos. 14 to 20, Appendix E). It was made in order that the general practice in signing name and rank should be strictly followed, and so secure for the matter signed its due weight. It is the practice that no clerk having less responsibility than the Clerk-in-charge should sign Pro Chairman.

(No. 2.)—I did not issue any such unqualified instruction as that indicated by this question, nor does Mr. Temporary-Clerk Davies in his report state that I did. The object of the instruction issued was to enable me to communicate with the Under Secretary before sending away papers which I might know were locally required.

(No. 3.)—Mr. Temporary-Clerk Davies, late on Saturday night, the eve of my departure, informed me that a few cases of "Directions for Survey" were required, and could be got ready for issue in the following week. I ordered him to prepare them, and submit them to me for examination and signature. I left no instructions which could have debarred the Acting District Surveyor from the same access to papers as he usually possessed. I would politely point out that none of my instructions were to "the detriment of despatch of business," but were simply for the proper conduct of the business of the Head Office of the Local Land Board, Hay, while deprived of any responsible or authorized supervision. The Under Secretary was reminded of the condition of this office by telegram, as follows:—

* "In reference to your recent letter directing me to prevent the work of this office falling into arrears, the Clerk-in-charge is absent on leave of undefined duration. I have attended to the correspondence, &c., to date, and leave for Balranald to-morrow (Sunday) on Board duty, and have directed all urgent cases to be sent on to me. The office is now in charge of Mr. Davies, temporary clerk, assisted by Mr. O'Hanlon, temporary clerk, and also to some extent by the Local Crown Lands Agent. Pending your further instruction or action."

Hay, 7th July, 1888.

A. J. PARK,
Chairman, Local Land Board.

A. J. Park, Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay,—B.C., 23rd October, 1888. The papers 88/6,342 were forwarded to the Chairman of Land Board, Hay, on 24th July last, and have not yet been returned.—M.L., 26/10/88. The Under Secretary. Ask for them (telegraph)—S.F., 10/11/88. Correspondence Branch. The paper has not been returned, according to notation in Ministerial books.—M.L., 12/11/88. Wire, 12/11/88.

* In response to this telegram, Mr. Boot was directed on 9th July to proceed to Hay, and he arrived there on the following day, apparently remaining until Mr. Lackey, the then Clerk-in-charge, resumed duty on the 26th July.—S.F. 3/12/88.

No. 57.

The Acting Clerk-in-charge, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 13 July, 1888.

Adverting to your letter of the 9th instant, reappointing me to the position of Acting Clerk-in-charge at Hay, and asking me to report on my arrival as to the state of the work, and to forward copies of all instructions left by the Chairman prior to his departure for Balranald,—as regards the first request, I have the honor to state when I left Hay on the 1st instant the work was, as far as practicable, up to date (vide Enclosure A), and on my return, on the 10th instant, I found, after a careful investigation, that during my absence only a moderate amount of work had been performed, and the office-work was again in arrear (vide Enclosure B). "The arrears consist principally of cases ripe for Survey Office action—Court action—Transmission to you—Vouchers for Chairman's signature (some of these were on his table prior to my departure on the 1st instant), a number of cases requiring notations and entries in office-books, same for correspondence; and lastly, ninety-four cases for registration, being Land Court decisions and outside correspondence." I may state twenty-nine of these cases comprised the Lake Cudgellico Court, held on the 18th and 19th ultimo, the decisions being apparently signed by Mr. Wright (member of the Board) at the latter end of June, at Hillston, and received here on the 2nd instant, and then completed by the Chairman signing at Hay on the 7th instant (vide Enclosure C), yet the decisions state,

state, "Given under our hands, at the Court-house, at Lake Cudgellico, this 18th or 19th (as the case may be) June, 1888 (vide Enclosure D). As the last few lines perhaps overstep the duties you asked me to report on, I must, in explanation, say the detention of these papers in hands of other than an officer of the Local Land Board, Hay, causes part of the arrear alluded to.

As regards your second request, I herewith attach copies of instructions marked E and F. In conclusion, I may state every effort is now being made with a view to speedily reducing the arrears.

I have, &c.,

A. BOOT,

Acting Clerk-in-charge.

1. I should be glad if the Chairman would favour me by explaining why he directed Mr. Davies to sign his name, as stated by him? 2. Also, why an instruction was given that papers were not to be forwarded to me if asked for? And 3. Why the transmission of papers to District Survey Office, to the detriment of the dispatch of business, was suspended, as stated by Mr. Davies?—C.O., B.C., 23/7/88.

After registration, please forward to the Chairman, now en route to Wentworth.—M.L., Clerk-in-charge, 27/7/88.

Replied to by my B.C. minute of this date.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay, 23/10/88.

The Under Secretary for Lands, to be placed with reply.—B. J. ATTERBURY (pro Chairman), B.C., 26/10/88.

[Enclosures.]

(A.)

MESSRS. DAVIES and O'HANLAN.—Kindly inform me if your work was up to date on the 1st instant, the day of my departure from Hay.

A. BOOT,

Acting Clerk-in-charge,

Hay, 13/7/88.

My work was not quite up to date when you left Hay, though I think only two or three days in arrears. The reason is that Mr. O'Hanlan was away ill for a week, and I was the only clerk left in the office. I succeeded in keeping Mr. O'Hanlan's work up, and made the best effort possible to keep my own.—C.H.D., 13/7/88. Mr. O'Hanlan.

My work was quite up to date when you left Hay.—W.O'H., 13/7/88. Mr. Boot. Mr. Volckman's work was up to date on 1st instant.—A.B., 13/7/88.

(B.)

MESSRS. DAVIES and O'HANLAN.—Kindly inform me if your work was up to date on my arrival here on the 10th instant.

A. BOOT,

Acting Clerk-in-charge,

Hay, 13/7/88.

My work was not up to date on your return; about a week in arrears.—C.H.D., 13/7/88. Mr. O'Hanlan. My work was not up to date on your return; about a week in arrears.—W.O'H., 13/7/88. Mr. Boot. Mr. Volckman's work was up to date on 10th instant.—A.B., 13/7/88.

(C.)

CASES from last Cudgellico Court for Chairman's signature, please.—M.L., 3/7/88.

Clerk-in-charge, Hay, will please examine the cases, and see that no clerical or other cognate errors have accrued, before taking the necessary action subsequent to signatures of members.—A.J.P., 7/7/88.

Memo. for Mr. Davies, Temporary Clerk, Local Land Board Office, Hay.

7 July, 1888.

(1.) UNTIL the return of the Clerk-in-charge, you will be good enough to forward to me for action any cases which require immediate attention, and direct telegrams to be repeated to me at Balranald.

(5) Should the Clerk-in-charge not return before I leave for Wentworth, then follow the same course until that officer returns or some officer be sent to take up his duties, of which fact I shall no doubt be in a position to inform you.

(10.) (13.) You must not sign anything pro Chairman, but you may use the telegraph in communication with me to any legitimate extent. Should you formally acknowledge receipt of a letter, &c., be careful to sign your name and official designation.

(14.) (15.) (20.) The public can have no access to papers or authoritative information while you are in temporary charge of the office.

A. J. PARK,

Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

(F.)

MR. DAVIES.—I am directed by the Under Secretary for Lands to ascertain if the Chairman gave you any verbal or written instructions before leaving for Balranald as regards the work in this office. Be good enough to state full particulars of same on this paper.—A. BOOT, Acting Clerk-in-charge, Hay, 13 July, 1888.

In compliance with the above request, I beg to submit the following statement of particulars, verbal and otherwise, given me by the Chairman prior to his departure from Hay for Balranald on the 8th instant. The appointed Clerk-in-charge, Mr. Lackey, left Hay on the 4th (Wednesday), and the Chairman performed his (Mr. Lackey's) duties until the following Saturday, the 7th. The Chairman, at midday on Saturday, requested to see me at the office that evening, if convenient, for what reason I did not ascertain then. I saw the Chairman, as requested, who informed me of his departure for Balranald on the next day. He also referred to the importance of my duties during his and the absence of the Clerk-in-charge, and handed me the within document, giving me distinctly to understand that I was not, on any consideration tion, to depart from the instructions contained therein. My verbal instructions also were particular in regard to the procedure to be adopted during the currency of my temporary chieftanship of the office, and a brief description of cases which might be considered urgent or otherwise. For instance, if any one wrote for refunds, &c., a reply was necessary at once, stating the circumstances of the case, &c., that being considered urgent, and to be attended to, but cases of ordinary routine to stand over for the present. In matters where it was necessary to sign, my official designation, and no other, was to be used, viz., "Charles H. Davies, Temporary Clerk in Local Land Board Office, Hay."

The use of the telegraph in communication with the Chairman was sanctioned me to any legitimate extent, and no papers were to be sent out of the office without his sanction, which, if found to be necessary, I was to obtain from him by telegram. If the Under Secretary for Lands asked for papers, I was not to send them without first referring the papers to him or communicating the facts by wire. A like course to be adopted with all cases requiring immediate attention. With reference to those cases requiring survey action, the Acting District Surveyor, on Saturday (the 7th), informed me that he had men in the field awaiting instructions. A number of cases would be in readiness on Monday; but the Chairman would not allow me to sign the printed letters directing survey in accordance with the Board's decision, but I was instructed to forward them all for signature to the Chairman at Balranald; the same to apply to all cases submitted to the Acting District Surveyor for action. I would also state that all the instructions given me by the Chairman were such as to promote the welfare of the office, and to avoid the possibility of complications arising through my inefficiency to cope with the duties of clerk-in-charge of this office. For the two days I occupied the position given me by the Chairman, I have endeavoured to comply with his instructions to the fullest extent, and trust that my efforts to uphold the confidence bestowed on me have been fraught with success. In conclusion, I would respectfully add that I have been in this office for nearly three years and a half on the temporary staff, and have at all times endeavoured to afford satisfaction, by diligence and attention to my duties, to those my senior officers.

Mr. Boot.

No. 58.

Mr. R. S. Love to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

(M.S. 88-6,647; L.B.D. 88-4,098, Hay.)

Sir,

Hearing that there is a vacancy for a junior clerk at the Lands Office, Hay, I beg to offer myself in that capacity. I have been employed for the past six months as Assistant Town Clerk for the Municipal District of Hay, and beg to assure you that if appointed will do my best to fill it to your satisfaction.

Yours, &c.,

R. S. LOVE.

The Chairman.—A. Boot, Acting Clerk-in-Charge, Hay, 21/2/88. This application and enclosure is forwarded to the Under Secretary for Lands for such action as he may deem necessary.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, Court-house, Deniliquin, 25th July, 1888. The Chairman will please say whether he considers that the services of a junior are now required, and if an applicant is eligible for the appointment.—C.O., B.C., 6/8/88.* The Chairman, on his return.—M.L., 10/8/88.

The recently appointed Clerk-in-Charge will be good enough—if he can—to show hereon the present condition of the staff of this office, and state if with such staff he can undertake to keep the whole of the work done from day to day. If not, he will please state what assistance and of what nature he requires.—A.J.P., Hay, 16/8/88.

I should be very glad if the Chairman will allow a month to elapse before I answer this memo., as I am new to the work of this office.—M.L., 16/8/88. Yes.—A.J.P., 16/8/88.

[Enclosure to No. 58.]

Sir,

I beg to recommend to you Mr. R. S. Love for the position of junior clerk at your office, and feel sure if you appoint him he will give you satisfaction.

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

Yours, &c.,

ALLEN LAKEMAN.

No. 59.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Mr. S. Fennell.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 13 August, 1888.

I am directed by the Secretary for Lands to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of the 10th instant, intimating that at a meeting of homestead lessees, held at Brewarrina, a resolution to the effect that the action of the Chairman of the Local Land Board in recommending the forfeiture of fourteen out of seventeen homestead lease cases is arbitrary, and to inform you that your representations will receive due consideration when the reports of the Board referred to are received.

I have, &c.,

F. H. WILSON,

(For the Under Secretary).

No. 60.

Telegram from The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

16 August, 1888.

Will you please state definitely if I am to issue instructions to inspect homestead leases; and, if so, who are the Inspectors.

A. J. PARK,

Chairman.

As it was considered that some means should be adopted by which it could be ascertained whether the conditions of the 82nd section of the Crown Lands Act of 1884 were being fulfilled by the homestead lessees, it was decided that the leases should be inspected by the Rabbit Inspectors in the ordinary course of their duties, and to furnish their reports to the Chairman. The Inspectors were furnished with schedules of the homestead leases to be inspected, and also tracings, these tracings to be returned with reports when furnished. The Chairmen at Bourke, Hay, and Moree were informed that the inspection of these leases were to be made by the Rabbit Inspectors, and were supplied with a duplicate schedule of the leases to be inspected, and the names of the Rabbit Inspectors. Whether the reports have all been furnished I cannot say, but I gave Mr. Taylor a list of the Inspectors who were instructed to report, with a view of ascertaining if any cases were in the hands of the Inspectors not reported on. As the Rabbit Inspectors are now dispensed with, it will be necessary to make arrangements for the continuing the inspection. Copy of letter to Chairman, with instructions and form of report enclosed.—E.L., 17/8/88.

* Please see my reply on L.B.D. 88-5,707.—A.J.P., Chairman, 5/10/88.

Inform that the sudden termination of the employment of the Rabbit Inspectors, who were entrusted with the inspection of homestead leases, has rendered it necessary to reconsider the whole matter, and that it is now receiving attention. It would facilitate matters if the Chairman would state what reports have been received by him from Rabbit Inspectors, and those now required. The use of the word "definitely" in his telegram imparts a peremptory tone to his request, which is neither becoming nor courteous.—C.O., 17/8/88.

Chairman, accordingly, 17/8/88. After letter, return to me.—C.O.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 17 August, 1888.

Referring to your telegraphic communication of yesterday's date, inquiring whether you are to issue instructions to inspect homestead leases, and, if so, who are the Inspectors, I have the honor to inform you that the sudden termination of the employment of the Rabbit Inspectors, who were entrusted with the inspection of such leases, has rendered it necessary to reconsider the whole question, and it is now receiving attention. It would facilitate matters if you will state what reports have been received in your office from Rabbit Inspectors and those now required.

I have to add that the use of the word "definitely" in your telegram alluded to, imparts a peremptory tone to your request which is neither becoming nor courteous.

Municipal

Municipal Chambers, Balranald, 1 August, 1888.

At the ordinary meeting of the Council, held on Monday, July 30th, 1888, the following motion was unanimously carried:—

“That this Council approves of the action of the homestead lessees in selecting Alderman Menon as one of the delegates to proceed to Sydney for the purpose of waiting upon the Minister for Lands re the injury being done to bond-fide settlement under the present administration of the Land Act, and will support him by all means in their power, believing that a continuance of the present system of administration will cause a complete stoppage of settlement throughout this district.”

Telegram from Mr. S. Fennell to The Colonial Secretary or Acting Minister for Lands.

Balranald, 10 August, 1888.

At a meeting held here to-day the following resolution was passed:—“That this meeting is of opinion that the action of the Chairman of the Balranald Land Board appears to us to be arbitrary, and his action in recommending the forfeiture of fourteen out of seventeen cases of homestead leases should be thoroughly investigated before confirmation by the Minister for Lands.”

STEPHEN FENNELL,
Chairman, Homestead Lease Meeting.

Inform that the representation will receive due consideration when the reports of Board referred to are received.—C.O., 13/8/88. Mr. Fennell—H.L.T., 13/8/88. Resubmit with papers when received. Submitted in connection with homestead lease cases herewith.—E.L., 29/8/88.

Dear Sir Henry Parkes,

Parliament House, New South Wales, 23 August, 1888.

Several gentlemen from Balranald and Hay will be in town on Friday, 31st instant, and will wait on you (as administering the Department of Lands) as a deputation charged to represent certain grievances which they allege the conditional purchasers and lessees of those districts suffer in regard to the proceedings of the Local Land Courts.

If you will kindly name the hour when it shall be convenient to you for me to introduce them you will much oblige—

Yours sincerely,
JOHN GALE.

The Honorable the Colonial Secretary.

Sir Henry Parkes will receive the deputation at noon on the 31st.—C.O., 27/8/88. Inform J. Gale, 28/8/88.

Dear Oliver,

12 Spring-street, Sydney, 29 August, 1888.

I called twice to-day, but could not find you in. The Hay and Balranald deputation will meet the Minister, as you have already arranged with Mr. Gale, at 11 o'clock on Friday.

I have asked them to formulate the business they wish to bring before the Minister, and the Hay portion of the deputation state that, with regard to the Chairman of the Hay Land Board, they wish to call attention to,—

1. His incivility.
2. His injustice.
3. The unjust and illegal manner in which he acts in dealing with applicants, &c., by examining and cross-examining them before he examines his own witnesses.

Also other matters connected with the working of the Land Act.

The Balranald portion wish to speak generally with regard to the working of the Act, particularly with regard to the manner in which the residence conditions are enforced on homestead leases near Balranald, two members of the deputation—Messrs. J. W. Berry and C. D. Anderson—having, with some fourteen out of seventeen cases, had their leases recommended for forfeiture.

The deputation also wish to call attention to the injustice of forfeiting the selection of a woman when she marries.

From what I have been able to gather, these are the principal matters to be brought before the Minister.

Yours, &c.,
ROBT. B. WILKINSON.

THE manner in which the powers under the Land Act are being used to harass and annoy bond-fide settlement, are—

1st.—Settlers are brought up before the Land Boards on very slight pretexts.

(a) The first Land Board sat in Balranald in December, 1885, to deal with and recommend or refuse applications. The Board then sat again in May, 1886, to settle the question of improvements, and also to fix the rent. Query: Why could not these matters have been settled at the one Board? Charge No. 14,
Appendix No. 14,
pages 48-51.

(b) In a few weeks time the Board will require to sit again re fulfilment of conditions as regards occupation and residence. The Board then sat again in July, 1888, to inquire into fulfilment of conditions as regards occupation and residence. Query: Why could not these two questions have been considered at the same sitting?

(c) As the attendance on these Boards entail upon us loss of time and considerable expense, we ask in all fairness that these Courts be not held without there is strong proof that the lessee or lessees are non-bona-fide men.

2nd. The manner in which the Courts are conducted.

The Act distinctly states that the procedure shall be the same as before a Court of Petty Sessions, whereas the procedure in these Courts is totally opposed to that. Charge No. 15,
Appendix No. 15,
pages 52-58.

When the lessee's case is called on, he is immediately ordered into the box, and a number of questions are put to him, with a view of making him criminate himself.

The only evidence against the lessee is in many cases given by himself.

The evidence given by the Inspector of Leases carries undue weight, inasmuch as, if the Inspector calls at the lessee's place and does not happen to see him, the conclusion come to by the Board is that the lessee is non-resident—a most unjust conclusion.

Speaking generally on the objects of this deputation, we find that the result of the Land Board, held at Balranald in July last, that fourteen out of a total of seventeen leases dealt with were virtually recommended to be forfeited.

A number of the lessees acknowledged that they had not carried out the strict letter of the law as regards residence, and gave as their reason the impossibility of so doing, on account of there being no water on the land. Tanks have been made that have as yet received no water; others were six and seven months before receiving any, and then failed when most needed.

The present season is one of the worst known for a period of thirty years; and if rain does not fall soon, both stock and men will have to travel. As a matter of fact, at the present moment the water on some of the holdings is already exhausted, and the stock has been removed.

The rainfall, up to August of this year, registers about 3 inches.

A point was raised by the Board about there being no fixed habitations on some of the holdings.

I would like to call the attention of the Honorable the Minister for Lands to the fact, that had we been millionaires we should not have been here to day, for the simple reason that we would never have tackled a block of land in the Western Division of New South Wales. Not being millionaires, but men used to bush life, open air, hard work, and harder fare, our first thoughts were, not of fixed habitations (we were content with tents), but how to make the ground keep us, and we acted accordingly.

Houses have been built, are being built, and will continue to be built as the work of settlement progresses.

Money spent on improvements.

The amount of money spent by the lessees on their holdings in improvements vary from £500 to £800 per block; and we reckon that, before the expiration of five years, fully £1,000 will require to be laid out on each lease, and this upon land which, before settlement took place, was comparatively in a state of nature.

It

It is acknowledged by all thinking men that the man who opens up new country—who makes two blades of grass grow where one only grew before—that that man is a benefactor to his country.

We claim to occupy that position.

We are willing to go into this country ; we are willing to spend the best part of our lives in trying to subdue this country, and to make it fit for human occupation ; and all we ask for is fair and reasonable treatment, as between man and man.

It has been thrown in our teeth that we are Victorians, and as such our right to occupy this land has almost been questioned. We claim the glorious privilege of calling ourselves Australians (most of us native-born), and subjects of Her Imperial Majesty the Queen. As such, we possess the right to settle where we choose.

New South Wales at the present moment offers greater inducements than any other Colony ; and it only requires that the advantages offered by this country shall become better known, and that a thorough confidence shall be felt in the administration of its land laws, to bring in hundreds of the best men of the other Colonies.

In conclusion, we most respectfully beg that the Minister for Lands will give every consideration to the cases now sent down by the Land Board from Balranald ; that every allowance will be made us on account of the hardships to be undergone in pioneer settlement, and on account of the money spent by us on the land.

We are in this position : that, if an adverse decision is given us, we are practically ruined men, and that without any commensurate gain to the State.

Certain work has also to be carried on—fencing has to be completed within a given time ; water has to be provided for ; and we do not know whether to go on with these works or not.

We, therefore, humbly beg that your decision will be favourable to us, and that you will make it known to us as soon as possible.

COMPLAINTS against the Chairman of the Hay Land Board, Mr. A. J. Park.

1. Great incivility.

2. Injustice.

3. The unjust and illegal manner in which he acts in dealing with applicants, by examining them before he examines his own witnesses, contrary to section 14, subsection 1, of the Land Act.

Please see reply in explanation in Appendix No. 15, page 57, which will apply to this statement.—A. J. PARK.

Conditional purchase 82-130 ; conditional lease 6,789.

Charge No. 2,
pages 4 to 5.

S. Nixon applied, in September, 1885, for the conversion of his pre-lease into a conditional lease, and for the purpose of proving his case his agents in Sydney obtained for him a plan of his pre-lease, showing the connection between that and his conditional purchase. This plan the Chairman told him was made to order, because it did not agree with the one before the Board which did not show the connection.

The application was refused, but the Minister upset the decision and granted the lease.

Conditional purchase 85-1, H. E. P. Thompson.

Charge No. 3,
Appendix No. 3,
pages 6 to 7.

In this case there was an inquiry as to the improvements, &c., on the land applied for. The applicant, previous to the meeting, asked the Chairman if he would be satisfied with a certificate from the Crown Lands Agent of certain facts he considered essential to establish his claim. He, the Chairman, replied in a most offensive and boorish manner, "You know the law of evidence as well as I do."

He also, during the same inquiry, endeavoured to prevent the applicant cross-examining a witness ; but Mr. Lockhart (then a member of the Board) checked him, and told him he was wrong.

Homestead lease 85-11 ; Gazette 190.

Charge No. 4,
Appendix No. 4,
pages 8 to 9.

F. L. Clayton applied for a homestead lease of the full area. On the applicant's objecting to the area being reduced to 7,000 acres, the Chairman told him, in an uncouth and ungentlemanly manner, that he was "only a speculator, and was lucky to get any land at all."

As to the applicant being only a speculator, the successful manner in which he carried on his lease is a direct contradiction.

Mr. R. W. Stewart, J.P., is a Land Agent at Hillston. In one case, when Mr. Stewart appeared at Hillston for the lessees of Mossiel as to the valuation of improvements on homestead leases, the authority produced by Mr. Stewart was signed by a bank manager, and although he must have known the signature he refused to allow Mr. Stewart to appear as the authority was not attested.

Charge No. 5,
Appendix No. 5,
pages 10 to 11.

The same thing occurred in the application of A. W. G. Thompson, where, although the Chairman knew Mr. H. E. P. Thompson was the father of the applicant, objected to the authority as it was not attested, but admitted it on one of the members of the Board saying he knew the applicant's signature.

The following three cases are a monstrous perversion of the laws :—

Conditional purchase 85-52, M. A. Prendergast ; conditional purchase 85-25, W. Prendergast ; conditional purchase 85-73, H. Prendergast.

Charge No. 6,
Appendix No. 6,
pages 12 to 15.

These applications were refused for the following reasons :—Their father, Patrick Prendergast (who is since dead), wrote to Mr. R. B. Wilkinson, M.P., complaining of the delay in granting the land to his family, and in the letter said "we have not yet got possession." This the Chairman (although each applicant had made the usual declaration) interpreted to mean they were dummies for the father, thus branding them as perjurers.

Conditional purchase 82-201, 7a, J. F. Warren ; conditional purchase 81-101, 7b, A. Lang ; conditional purchase 81-102, 7c, Thomas Lang.

Charge No. 7,
Appendix No. 7,
pages 16 to 22.

These cases were investigated at one Land Court ; they are all bona-fide settlers ; the last two are relations. The Chairman (although the evidence was in their favour) decided that residence had not been fulfilled, and recommended them for forfeiture. The Minister upset the decisions and granted the certificates. The Inspector of Conditional Purchases did not visit the last two selections till some months after the five years had been fulfilled.

Conditional purchase 82-147, 8a, John Savage ; conditional purchase 82-151, 8b, John Jones ; conditional purchase 82-152, 8c, Arthur Cant.

Charge No. 8,
Appendix No. 8,
pages 23 to 34.

These three cases were heard at the same Court, when the Board decided all conditions had been fulfilled and granted the certificates.

Savage was a boundary-rider on Gunbar Station for years. The last three conditional purchases have been sold to the station.

Conditional purchase 86-46, John Allen.

Charge No. 9,
Appendix No. 9,
pages 35 to 36.

In evidence it was shown that the young man, for the first six months after he had taken possession, had his breakfast and tea at his brother-in-law's about a mile away, but was working on his land all day, and had his dinner and slept there. The decision was : residence was not fulfilled during that period.

The following two cases plainly shows the injustice of the Chairman :—

Additional conditional purchase 86-21, A. W. G. Thompson.

Charge No. 10,
Appendix No. 10,
pages 37 to 40.

This is an additional conditional purchase. Before selection it had been fenced for some years on two sides by substantial sheep and cattle proof fences, though not according to standard ; the other side is put up to standard. The Inspector reported the fences to be thoroughly good and substantial fences, but the Chairman decided the fencing was not up to the standard and forfeited the selection.

The agent, who appeared for applicant, then asked for further time to complete the fencing, as he showed the two fences were left as they were under misapprehension.

The Chairman refused to entertain the application.

Compare the above result with the following :—

Conditional

Conditional purchase S6-42, George Baillie.

A non-residence selection. There was no appearance of or for the applicant (who is a relation of the owner of the station—Benerembah). He wrote a letter from Melbourne to the Board, stating he could not attend, but that the necessary improvements were on the land, although the report of the Inspector, if he had been examined, would have proved the contrary. The Chairman, without any application, postponed the consideration of case for further report. Charge No. 11, Appendix No. 11, pages 41 to 43.

As an evidence of obstacles being thrown in the way of selectors, take F. Haberman's special lease, 320 acres, for irrigation works.

The first application was thrown out.

The second application was granted, but the rental put upon it was in reality a refusal after the evidence of Haberman, which is very lengthy, will show his bona fides. Among other things he swears he spent £3,000 in works for the purpose of irrigation, and offered to either purchase the land he applied for or select it if he were allowed. Charge No. 12, Appendix No. 12, pages 44 to 45.

J. T. Alston, of Carrathool.

In this case the applicant was summoned in May last to appear before the Land Board at Carrathool, and although Mr. Russom, the Inspector of Conditional Purchases, had reported favourably with regard to both improvements and residence, the applicant was subjected to an examination by the Chairman of more than an hour, evidently for the purpose of confusing the applicant, and then, adding insult to injury, he was asked "if he had ever been drunk." Charge No. 13, Appendix No. 13, pages 46, 47, and Mr. Member Pearce's attached letter.

BALRANALD AND HAY.

At 11 o'clock the Premier received a deputation introduced by Messrs. Lakeman, Gale, Gormly, Wilkinson, M's.L.A., and consisting of Messrs. Thompson and Sydes, from Hay, and Berry, Henderson, and Menon, from Balranald.

The object of the deputation was to bring before the Premier the disadvantages under which the conditional purchasers and pastoral leaseholders laboured under the present land laws.

Mr. Thompson said he had been authorized to make complaints against a certain official in the Lands Department. He also said the deputations from both Balranald and Hay were there to bring before the notice of the Minister for Lands a resolution passed in both places to the effect "that, in consequence of universal dissatisfaction in the Hay Land District, we are of opinion that the removal of the official is essential to the welfare of the district."

Sir Henry Parkes pointed out the difference in the method of procedure in Land Courts, as contrasted with that of Police Courts. He asked if the deputation had considered that the land did not stand in the position of a prosecutor in any way. The law prescribed certain conditions by which lands were acquired from the Crown. If a conditional purchaser was guilty of any omissions in carrying out his agreement, it became incumbent on him, when summoned, to show that the terms had been complied with. The Crown did not institute a prosecution against him. He received a notice that he had not complied with the necessary conditions, and it would be for him to show that he had. This, therefore, reversed the ordinary course of taking evidence. It was, however, the duty of any servant of the public to be on all occasions scrupulously civil and obliging, and if he does use unnecessary rude language he is in fault, and if he used any language which was offensive he was still more in fault. If he failed to be courteous, obliging, and attentive in all relations between these persons and the Government he was to blame. But they must make some allowance for the different organizations of different men. Some men, when they did not intend discourtesy, spoke in curt language. Even members of Parliament had been known to indulge in very coarse epithets, forgetting the obligations thrown on them. They must make allowances for the constitution of people. As far as he had power he would enforce it to the utmost, that every servant of the public should be attentive, obliging, and courteous, and give every information in his power. If the officer could not satisfactorily clear up these charges, he would deserve very serious treatment at the hands of the Government. He would see that every inquiry was made, and if the official could not satisfactorily explain his conduct, the deputation might depend upon it that the Government would treat him as he deserved to be treated.

Mr. Sydes brought before the notice of the Premier the necessity of embodying in the Lands Act a clause continuing the possession of lands taken up by single females when they married.

Mr. J. W. Berry, a representative from Balranald, spoke in support of a resolution passed at a public meeting there to the effect that they begged to call the attention of the Government to the manner in which the powers of the Lands Act were being used to retard settlement.

Sir Henry Parkes, in reply, said as to employing a local surveyor, there was a great deal of common sense in it, and if the provisions of the law stood in the way of such an arrangement the Act ought to be amended. In regard to young women obtaining selections and losing them by marriage, he thought that was very wrong indeed. No provision should exist which would debar such a selection going with the woman on her marriage. As to changing the Chairman of the Land Boards at stated intervals, there would be some difficulty in arranging that matter; but he would bear carefully in mind both this and the other suggestions made by the deputation.

HAY AND BALRANALD LAND BOARD.

A DEPUTATION waited upon Sir Henry Parkes yesterday morning from Hay and Balranald for the purpose of making certain representations concerning the administration of the Land Act in their district. There were present Messrs. Lakeman, Gale, and Gormly, M's.L.A.; Messrs. Thompson and Sydes, of Hay; and Messrs. Berry, Anderson, and Menon, from Balranald. The deputation alleged that the Chairman of the Land Board acted in an unjust and illegal manner in dealing with applicants by examining them before he examined the Crown witnesses, contrary to section 14, subsection 1, of the Act; and secondly, the deputation complained of incivility and injustice. Several other matters connected with the administration of the Land Act were also brought forward.

In reply to the deputation Sir Henry Parkes said that they must distinguish between the course of procedure in a Court of law and that of a Land Board. The law prescribed certain conditions, and intimation was given, as in the case of a free selector, that the conditions had not been complied with. Therefore it was incumbent upon the conditional purchaser to show that the law had been complied with; he had some notice of an intended forfeiture, and it was for him to show that he had complied with the law. The Chairman of the Board did not proceed against him. The individual was called upon to defend himself. Let them suppose, for instance, that a person selects a piece of land, and complies in every respect with the provisions of the law, and enters upon residence and commences improvements, and takes the proper course towards completing those improvements. In such a case the law would let him alone. It was only when he did not want to do these things that the law came in. Then he goes to the Court to show what he has done. What he (Sir Henry) wanted to show was the difference between the Land Board and a Court of Justice. Before the Land Board simply inquiries were made. However, he would say at once that it was the duty of the Chairman in question, or of any other servant of the public, to be on all occasions civil and obliging to all persons alike, and if he did use unnecessary rude language he was in fault, and if he said anything which was offensive he was still more in fault; or if he failed to be courteous, obliging, and attentive he was to be blamed. But one must make some trifling allowance for different kinds of people. Some people did not intend discourtesy, even although they might use curt language. Even Members of Parliament had been known occasionally to make use of very improper epithets. (Laughter.) Making allowance, however, for the different constitutions of men, and that one man could not be as courteous as another, still he laid down the rule, and as far as he could he would enforce it, that every Civil servant should be courteous, attentive, and obliging in all that he did, and that included giving people every kind of information when properly asked for. Concerning the complaint of injustice brought before him, that was more serious. If the Chairman in question could not satisfactorily clear up these serious charges, then he would receive very serious treatment at the hands of the Government. He would make very careful inquiry, and unless the Chairman in question gave satisfactory information, they might depend upon it that he would be treated as he ought to be treated. With regard to the desirability of employing the local surveyor, he thought there was a very great deal of common sense in that suggestion, and if the provisions of the law stood in the way of that course, he thought the law should be amended. But he was under the impression that satisfactory arrangements might be made.

made. In regard to young women taking selections and then marrying, and losing their selections in consequence, he thought that was very wrong indeed. He was altogether in favour of their being no provision of the law to stand in the way of the land going with the women on their going into matrimony. He would bear in mind the various matters which had been brought before him.

DEPUTATION—THE HAY LAND BOARD.

A DEPUTATION from residents of the Hay, Deniliquin, and Balranald districts waited upon the Colonial Secretary, acting for the Minister for Lands, yesterday, for the purpose of bringing before him several complaints from homestead lessees and conditional purchasers with reference to the manner in which the Local Land Courts were conducted. The deputation consisted of Messrs. Thompson and Sydes, of Hay, and Berry, Anderson, and Menon of Balranald, and was introduced by Mr. R. B. Wilkinson, M.P., and accompanied by Messrs. Gormly and Gale, M's.P.

Mr. Wilkinson stated that the deputation was the outcome of two public meetings of homestead lessees and conditional purchasers, in Hay and Balranald districts, who wished to bring before the Minister for Lands a number of grievances with relation to the working of the Land Act in that part of the Colony, and the manner in which its provisions were administered at the Hay Land Court.

Mr. Thompson, representing the conditional purchasers of Hay, presented an elaborate statement, in which were formulated a number of charges against Mr. A. J. Park, Chairman of the Local Land Court. The charges were: 1, Great incivility; 2, great injustice; and 3, the unjust and illegal manner in which applicants and defendants had been dealt with when brought before the Court. A number of instances were cited, and it was urged that, in the interests of justice, Mr. Park should be removed from his position, a step which the deputation deemed was essential to the welfare of the district, as Mr. Park had entirely forfeited the good will of all those who had taken up land, had driven many settlers from Victoria away through his arbitrary conduct, and had rendered himself generally obnoxious. Mr. Park would not give a witness fair play, as he would get in a Police Court, but intimidated and bullied him, and did not act justly.

Mr. Sydes drew attention to a number of grievances under which homestead lessees and conditional purchasers laboured. Often twelve months elapsed between the time of application for the land and the survey, which was an injustice, and he thought the order for survey should come from the surveyor, and not from the Chairman of the Board. Again, the Act allowed three months' grace for the fulfilment of the conditions, after which the land was supposedly visited by the Inspector, whose duty it was to see that the conditions prescribed by law had been complied with. When the Inspector visited the lease or selection without notice it often occurred that the lessee was away looking after his stock, or on some business connected with his holding, and he was at once put down as non-resident, and called upon to show cause why his selection should not be forfeited. This was a hardship to a man who was a bona-fide selector. Another grievance was in the case of young women, who had selected land in all good faith, and yet if, prior to having fulfilled the improvement and residential clauses, they married, they lost their land.

Mr. J. W. Berry, of Balranald, as representing the homestead lessees, in a lengthy speech, drew attention to the vexatious delay in the holding of the Courts and the trouble and expense selectors were put to through Courts being held unnecessarily. He spoke strongly as to the conduct of the Chairman of the Local Land Court.

Mr. Menon, ex-Mayor of Balranald, contended that the Government acted hardly with men who wished to settle on the land and improve it, and did not give them fair play. It was, he urged, a wrong that a man could only hold a lease for fifteen years, and after spending the best part of his life time in improving it, was compelled to give it up. He would suggest that such a man should either receive full compensation for improvements, either from the Government or from the incoming tenants. The present law, as administered, was strangling settlement, and the Government were not carrying out their principle of free-trade so far as the lands of the Colony were concerned. In the district in which he lived he knew that nine-tenths of the settlers were bona-fide, and yet, out of seventeen homestead leases in the Balranald District, fourteen were recommended for forfeiture. Some of these men admitted that, owing to the drought and bad seasons, they had not been able to comply with the conditions, but they had done the best they could, and forfeiture to them, bona-fide though they were, meant ruin. The speaker dealt with a number of other grievances.

Sir Henry Parkes, in reply, expressed the pleasure he felt at being able to hear the views of practical men, who had come so far to represent their grievances. Land Courts were merely Courts of inquiry, where the selector of land was required, if summoned, to appear to satisfy the Board that he had complied with the law as to improvements and residence. With regard to the complaints made against Mr. Park, he could tell the deputation that it was the duty of any and every servant of the Crown to be always scrupulously civil and obliging to one and all, and if he were rude he was in fault; if offensive, still more in fault; but they must consider that all men were not similarly constituted, and some might seem to be discourteous, through an unhappy brusqueness of manner, without intending to be so. Even Members of Parliament, he had heard, sometimes said rude things. He would cause a most searching inquiry to be made into the charges preferred against the Chairman of the Land Board, Hay, and would insist upon a satisfactory answer being given. With reference to other matters which the deputation had ventilated, he (Sir Henry) was in favour of employing a local surveyor instead of referring the matter of selections to Sydney, which did not commend itself to the common sense of any man. He also disapproved of women being deprived of their holdings on getting married. With regard to removing their Chairman, he could say nothing until he had been furnished with a full report of the matter. The other improvements in the administration of the Land Law he would bear in mind, and could assure the deputation that what they had advanced would receive the fullest and most careful consideration.

THE Hay deputation beg respectfully to suggest to the Honorable the Minister for Lands the following alterations in Land Act of 1884:—

1. That a single woman, who has selected, may, if she marries, retain possession of her selection; and that residence on either her husband's or her own selection will be sufficient.
2. That, in the case of members of the same family selecting adjoining portions of land, that residence on one selection be sufficient, but that the other conditions must be fulfilled.

As, under the present condition of things at the Land Board Office, no person can obtain a sight or copy of any document, the deputation respectfully suggest the making a Regulation, empowering any person to see the proceedings in any case, and take extracts (not copies) therefrom, on the payment of a fee of 1s.; but that copies must be paid for at a fixed rate per folio.

This would be following the practice of the Supreme Court, and be some addition to the revenue.

Memorandum read by Mr. Thompson, of Hay.

Charge No. 1, pages 1 to 3, Appendix No. 1.

UNDER the circumstances disclosed in the annexed memoranda, we, the deputations from Hay and Balranald, beg respectfully to submit to the Honorable the Minister for Lands, that, in consequence of the universal dissatisfaction in the Hay Land District, on the part of conditional purchasers and homestead lessees, the removal of Mr. Park as a member of the Hay Land Board, is essential to the welfare of the district.

No. 64.

The Clerk in Charge, Hay, to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

(Ms. 88-8,674.)

Sir,

15 September, 1888.

With reference to your memorandum on within papers, I have the honor to report that the work of this office is very heavy. With regard to the work in detail, I have the honor to state that the indexing is falling into arrears, and that the quarterly returns, ending June, require to be checked, and same for September quarter require preparation. The staff of the office are very willing and attentive, and to cope with the current work frequently have to remain after hours. I would, therefore, suggest that that the services of a smart junior should be obtained, with a view of relieving the Record Clerk of the press copying and despatch work, also the indexing. The new clerk could also be employed in due course to assist in preparation of returns and general notations. If my recommendation is approved, the staff of this office would not be numerically stronger than when Mr. Fowler was employed.

I have, &c.,

M. LACKEY,

Clerk-in-Charge.

Received, 26/9/88, at 8:55 p.m.—A.J.P., Hay, 26/9/88. Saw Mr. Lakeman at same time, and inquired if this applicant is still desirous of serving in this office. Mr. Lakeman will inform me to-morrow or as early as he can.—A.J.P., 26/9/88.

Mr. Love called this office, and desires to be employed. Will the Clerk-in-Charge be kind enough to interrogate this gentleman, and ascertain if he be qualified for the duties he would be charged with, and if he be generally suitable for the position.—A.J.P., Hay, 3/10/88.

The above instruction has been obeyed. Mr. Love appears to be far beyond the age at which young gentlemen, as a rule, enter the Service, and it is a question how far this, combined with the fact that he appears to have led a life of comparative independence of action, will interfere with the discipline which is so necessary in an office. Mr. Love writes a legible hand, and although he has not passed the Civil Service or any equal examination, I think he is fully qualified to undertake the duties, which, as a junior clerk, he would be called upon to perform. Should it be decided to employ Mr. Love, it is respectfully suggested that he be placed on probation for one month.—B. J. ATTEBURY, Clerk-in-Charge, 4/10/88.

The services of a junior are required in this office, and as to the eligibility of the applicant, I would refer the Under Secretary for Lands to the minute of the Clerk-in-Charge of 4/10/88. I believe the gentleman applying for the position is about 23 to 25 years of age. This minute is in reply to that of the Under Secretary for Lands on L.B.D. 88-4,098, of 6/8/88.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, Hay, 5/10/88. The Under Secretary for Lands, Sydney.

The junior required at Hay should be found in a lad about sixteen, not more. The salary which could be paid would be altogether out of proportion to the remuneration which a gentleman of Mr. Love's age should be in receipt of; moreover, the duties attached to the position would, I feel sure, be altogether incompatible to his age and previous independent habits. For these reasons, I regret to have to recommend that he should not be employed.—C.O., 11/10/88.

Inform Mr. Lakeman that it is not desirable to offer the position of junior clerk to Mr. Love.—J.N.B., 11/10/88. Mr. Lakeman, M.P., informed, 12/10/88. Correspondence Branch please inform Chairman of Land Board.—M.L., 13/10/88. The Chairman, Hay, informed, 16/10/88.

EXTRACT from Board of Inquiry's Report on Hay Land Board Office.

BOARD are of opinion that effectiveness of the administration has been impaired by contracted interpretation of the law, and instances are given in illustration of this (see pages 110, 111, 112, and 113. Out of 756 conditional purchase applications received during 1885, 1886, and 1887, 140 were outstanding.

The work under the repealed Acts they regard as unsatisfactory, owing to delays in sending instructions to Inspectors, want of systematic arrangement of papers, neglect in regard to reminding of Inspectors, delay in dealing with reports when received, and transmitting papers to Head Office, by unnecessary inspections and dealings in Court.

Illustrations are given on pages 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, and 124.

The strength of the staff in the office is misapplied, and there is no proper system of routine work. In connection with applications confirmed or disallowed in May, certificates or refund vouchers did not issue till August (see page 126).

Extracts from applications, instead of being signed by the Clerk-in-Charge, and forwarded to District Surveyor, are detained for signature of Chairman himself, and cases ripe for consideration in Court are not brought forward, although Boards sit.

Unnecessary clerical labour is created by the Chairman forwarding to District Surveyor copies of papers, and forwarding only such as he considers essential, &c. (see page 127).

Unnecessary advertisements of cases to be investigated are published in the papers (page 128).

Separate conditional purchase registers for each district are not kept, but one only; and entries are not neat, are overcrowded, sometimes unintelligible, and important dates frequently omitted, &c., &c. (see pages 129 and 130).

Similar complaints are made respecting the conditional and annual lease registers, which were not entered up.

Pastoral lease registers should, in the opinion of the Board, not be used.

Press copy-books are conducted on a system altogether too elaborate, and a simpler system suggested (pages 133 and 134).

Two classes of minute-books are kept—one for in camera sittings, which, being unwarranted by law, the Board consider this minute-book should be abolished (pages 134 and 135).

Papers in regard to repealed Act work are not, when received from Head Office, methodically arranged, and no proper system is adopted to ensure their being brought forward when ripe for action.

Proper receptacles, to contain papers and registers, are required.

[Enclosure.]

LOCAL LAND BOARD OFFICE, HAY.

It is perhaps proper to mention that the inquiry into the working of the Local Offices at Hay was conducted by only two members of the Board, the third—being the District Surveyor of the District—preferring not to take any part in the investigation.

While there are many features of the local administration to which exception must be taken, the Board have not failed to recognize the fact of there being unavoidable hindrances to the progress of work, both administrative and executive, due to the immense extent of the district, the rigour of its physical conditions at times, and the difficulties of intercommunication.

It is more difficult to assure expedition in survey (although the result in this respect, so far as the Board have seen, have not been unsatisfactory) than in less remote and more compact districts, and it is obviously impossible to provide for such frequent Board meetings as in close settled districts intersected in their length or breadth by railway lines.

Nevertheless, the Board are of opinion that the effectiveness of the administration has been sensibly impaired by unnecessarily contracted interpretations of the law on some points, and questionable laxity on others.

The Board are further of opinion that the small office staff has not been utilized to the best advantage, the more important business having been retarded by a redundancy of useless detail in matters of minor importance.

Of 756 applications for conditional purchase and conditional lease (48 section) received at the Local Land Board Office, from the 5th August, 1885, to the 26th August, 1887, there are outstanding about 140, inclusive of seven referred to Head Office.

Of this number, fifty-four were of the years 1885 and 1886.

The summary below gives, in a concise form, the total number received for each Land District during the period mentioned, and the numbers not finally dealt with at the date of inspection of the office.

The remnant of applications received in 1885, still outstanding, are awaiting action in the Local Land Board Office. Those in the Denihquin District were, in fact, before the Local Land Board at the time of the inspection of the office, and consequently the papers were not available for examination.

In the remaining cases action has been retarded by delay in the field, although there is evidence of active measures having been taken to expedite the surveys.

Prolonged delays occur in the Local Land Board Office, which are not so easily accounted for. Although the causes of detention in a large number of cases given at length in the accompanying schedule (vide Appendix R), it is considered desirable to invite attention to the following instances which illustrate some of the phases of the administration already referred to in this branch of the report and in the introductory remarks.

In the case of conditional purchase S5-2 (Hillston), and the associated conditional lease, after considerable delay, caused by inspection of the site, apparently with a view to testing the applicant's statement in respect of improvements, the case came before the Hillston Court in September, 1886, and was postponed to be heard at Cudgellico.

No Board meeting has, however, since been held at that place, although several meetings have been held at Hillston in the meantime.

Conditional purchase S5-51, Hay.—In this case the Minister directed (S6-37,747, Conditional Sales) that a refund was to be given in consequence of the prolonged delay in effecting survey, &c.

The Local Board have, however, decided in camera that, although of opinion that no provision of the law justified the refund, yet effect can only be given to the Minister's decision in a legal manner, i.e., in open Court, and have since summoned the applicant, who did not appear, when the case was further postponed.

The delay in carrying out the Ministerial decision in this case is entirely uncalled for and the proposed Court action absurd.

Conditional purchase S5-4, Hillston, and associated conditional lease, show considerable delay in the District Surveyor's office not accounted for. The case came before the Local Land Board on the 1st July, 1887, when it appeared that the owner of some improvements on this land had arranged with the applicant as to their value, and both parties notified the Board to this effect; but the sum agreed to between them differed from the estimate given in the surveyor's report, consequently the Board postponed the case "so that an amended report on the improvements may be obtained from the District Surveyor." For what purpose this delay, and the expense of further inspection and report should be incurred by the Department it is difficult to imagine. The papers in this case were not transmitted to the District Surveyor's office for the required report until the 28th August, 1887.

The detention of the outstanding cases for 1886 is in the main attributable to delayed action in the Board Office.

Delays also occur in the District Surveyor's office, some of which are accounted for by required amendments of survey, due to the laches of surveyors or to complications discovered in charting; but in one or two cases the papers do not contain any explanation of the delay.

The delays in the Board Office are more unsatisfactory, and the action taken in many of these cases appears to the Board unwarrantable by any provision of the law.

The following are a few instances illustrative of excessive delay in this office, and exceptional action by the Local Land Boards of this district in dealing with applications of 1886:—

1. Conditional purchase S6-53, Denihquin.—In this case the land has been applied for by the same applicant three times, and disallowed twice for some trifling technical irregularity. The last application has, however, been confirmed, although the same irregularity exists as formerly. On examination of the papers in this case it was found that there was really no irregularity or objection of any sort to justify disallowance at any time.

Conditional purchase S6-8 (Hillston).—The preliminary report was received from the District Surveyor on the 4th November, 1886, but the application was not brought before the Local Board until the 5th July, 1887, when it was determined to return it to the Surveyor for further report. This was not done until the 22nd August following.

Conditional purchase S6-9 (Hillston).—In this case also the preliminary report was received shortly after the extract from the application had been forwarded to the District Surveyor, viz, 12th November, 1886. No action whatever appears to have been taken in the Local Land Board Office until the 24th August, 1887, when, upon receipt of a letter by the applicant, asking that his application might be dealt with, it was decided in camera that the case should go on for survey.

Conditional purchase S6-36 (Hay) is an instance of an application being confirmed subject to the District Surveyor's report on the availability of the land, improvements, &c.

Conditional purchase S6-50 was confirmed, subject to the survey of all available land, &c.

Conditional purchase S6-53 was provisionally confirmed in 1886, and returned to the District Surveyor for report on improvements, and again confirmed in 1887.

The applications of the current year, judging from a cursory examination of such papers as were available are in a forward state, and about one half of the entire number received are ready for action in Court.

Homestead Leases.

Comparatively few applications for homestead leases are undealt with.

The subjoined summary gives in a concise form the number made from 5th August, 1885, to the 26th August, 1887, the number refused, and those not finally dealt with at the date of inspection of the office.

Details of the outstanding cases above referred to are given in the annexed schedule, Appendix S.

It is evident that the work from this source is rapidly diminishing; nearly the whole of the outstanding cases, it is expected, will be disposed of before the expiration of the year.

Action on these applications, except where the land is already measured, is more hampered by extraneous difficulties than any other species of work yet seen.

The extensive areas applied for almost invariably include improvements belonging to the licensee of the resumed area, and it is essential to the proper appraisalment of these improvements by the Board that their position, nature, and extent should be ascertained. This necessitates an inspection, and sometimes a partial survey before a report can be made by the District Surveyor.

The procedure followed throughout is that laid down by circular instructions of the 30th January, 1887, which it is understood answers satisfactorily, the applicants being in general required to appear only once before the Local Land Board. As previously mentioned, Board meetings cannot be held with the frequency or regularity practicable in smaller and more settled districts. It is, therefore, impossible under the existing system to give applicants occupation of their holdings without considerable delay.

The Board found 509 cases under the repealed Acts requiring action, in addition to which 188 still remain to be issued from head office.

There are two (2) Conditional Purchase Inspectors, both temporary officers, paid by fees, who appear quite competent to perform the duties entrusted to them. The number of cases in their hands (86) is so small that they could all be reported on in a month. The general state of this branch of the work is unsatisfactory, and its backwardness is attributable to the following causes, viz. :—

- 1st. By delay in not sending instructions to Inspectors at the proper time, sometimes owing to the method of waiting for declarations before final inspection; and to the absence of systematic arrangement of the papers so that cases may be brought under review when due.
- 2nd. By neglecting to remind Inspectors of delay in reporting on cases in their hands, and insisting on prompt action or reasonable explanation when this is impracticable.
- 3rd. By delay in the examination of reports in the Local Land Board Office, and in taking necessary action thereon; such as submitting cases for approval when thoroughly satisfactory, or returning the same to Inspectors for explanation or further report if required.
- 4th. By delay in the transmission of cases from the head office, pending receipt of declarations, instead of referring them to the Local Land Board for inspection at or near maturity. In some cases there has been undue delay in forwarding the papers after receipt of declarations.
- 5th. By unnecessary further action, either by way of inspection, or in Court. When from the nature of reports already received, there can be no reasonable doubt that the conditions have been honestly carried out, this is vexatious and harassing to bond fide settlers, and entails useless expense and delay.

In the lists herewith (Appendix T), under the heading "Remarks by the Board of Inquiry," the opinions of the Board after perusal of the papers are written against a considerable number of the oldest cases; a few instances taken therefrom are now quoted in illustration:—Conditional purchase 79-77, Hay; applied for 13th November, 1879. The papers were sent to the Local Land Board on the 24th February, 1885, instructions being then in the hands of Inspector Carne for report; no action was taken to expedite the matter. This Inspector died about the middle of the year 1886, but the instructions were not sent on to the officer who took up the duty until the 9th August, 1887; actually the case was not in any degree nearer completion when the Board visited Hay, than when the papers were received there in February, 1885. The decease of Inspector Carne in no measure justifies the delay.

Conditional purchase 82-84, Hay, of 18th May, 1882.—In this instance the last report appears to have been received on the 10th June, 1886, and there is no evidence of any action having been taken since. The conditional purchase should have been inspected last April.

Conditional purchase 81-8, Hillston, 10th February, 1881. Conditional purchase 81-77, Hillston, 2nd June, 1881.—This case is now ready for approval, but there is no reason on the papers for the delay of one and a half years in dealing with it. Conditional purchase 81-8 should not wait for 81-77 if satisfactory in itself.

Conditional purchase 81-51, Hillston, 5th May, 1881.—Reported on December, 1881, as satisfactory; again in April, 1885, there is a report that the land is well improved and a bond fide selection. The papers are put away, 17th November, 1885, to await declaration, and not received or resubmitted until 17th June, 1887, when another inspection is asked for, thirteen months after maturity.

Conditional purchase 81-50, Hillston.—In this case the improvements are ample, residence unsatisfactory, but the selector is to be called on to prove fulfilment of all conditions, which necessitates his being prepared with evidence about improvements which is quite unnecessary. This system is uniformly adopted in this office, and causes unnecessary anxiety and expense to selectors, who should be informed precisely what particular condition appears to have been unfulfilled, and will be the subject of inquiry.

Conditional purchase 82-20, Hay, 2nd February, 1882, was inspected about two months before the expiration of the five years, and the report was thoroughly satisfactory, yet instructions were issued for further inspection on the 6th August, 1887, i.e., six months after maturity. Further inspection was quite uncalled for.

Conditional purchase 82-24, Hay, of 9th February, 1882.—The final report of inspection was received on the 7th April, 1887, two months after maturity, and was thoroughly satisfactory. No action has been taken in the Board Office since. The delay is not explained in this case, which should have gone on for approval as soon as the report was received.

Conditional Purchase 81-82, Deniliquin.—But for the mistake of the papers being returned to Sydney, in reply to a memo. of instructions to hasten action, and then to forward the papers to the head office as soon as practicable, this case would in all probability still be in the hands of an Inspector. On receipt of the papers in Sydney it was at once noticed that further inspection was unnecessary; the conditional purchase was approved by the Minister, and directions sent to Hay for the instructions to be withdrawn from the Inspector. This conditional purchase matured 8th September, 1886. The declaration was made seven days afterwards, but did not reach the Local Board at Hay until 8th January, 1887; then instructions were not issued to the Inspector until 6th August, 1887, an interval of seven months.

Work under Repealed Acts.

Further

Further inspection, as before mentioned, was not required in the case, but this does not explain or excuse the delay after receipt of declaration of four months in the head office and seven months in the local office before the issue of instructions, which, if carried out, would have caused at least six months further delay.

The Board feel very strongly that this is one of many instances of great injustice to bona fide settlers, and that such sluggish and vexatious investigations should be put a stop to as soon and as authoritatively as possible.

The above, it is thought, are sufficient instances to explain the action.

During the five months immediately preceding inspection by this Board thirty-two applications were received from selectors for certificates of conformity; twenty-one of the cases referred to have been transmitted to the head office, and the remaining eleven are still incomplete in the Hay office.

They stand thus:—

79-11, 82-23, Wentworth, in Court.—From the Inspector's report received at Hay, 24th February, 1887, should have been sent on for approval at once.

82-33.—Referred back to Local Land Board from head office on appeal; should not affect the former conditional purchases in the series.

82-29, Deniliquin.—In the Hay office, since 23rd June, 1887; papers mislaid, hence no action taken; matured 13th April, 1887; something should be done at once.

82-26, Hillston.—Was reported unsatisfactory in July, 1886; examined in local office, and noted "for Court," 29th December, 1886; no date fixed for hearing in Court up to time of Board's inspection.

82-7.—In this case the final report was five months old; the papers were noted for Court action, 29th December, 1886, but no date was fixed for the hearing up to the time of inspection of the office.

82-51, Deniliquin.—With Inspector; issued 6th June, 1887, and still with Inspector on 29th October, 1887; conditional purchase matured, 29th June, 1887.

81-82, Deniliquin.—Sent for inspection, 6th June, 1887, and withdrawn under instructions from the Under Secretary of 26th October, 1887; should have gone on for approval on receipt of declaration on previous report. (This is the case referred to on page 120.)

86-22, Deniliquin.—Papers not seen.

82-22, Hay.—With Inspector. Last report appears to have omitted a well and other improvements contained in previous reports. Explanation or further report should have been asked for at once.

82-83, Hay.—With Inspector; 7 months in hand; no reminder.

81-43, Deniliquin.—Should have been inspected at least twelve months ago; matured, 26th May, 1886.

From this it appears that most of these cases have been kept back through defective action in the local office.

The attention of the Board was invited by Mr. A. Lakeman, M.P., to the hypercritical manner in which cases under the repealed Acts are dealt with in this Land Board District; in illustration, J. T. Warren's conditional purchase, 82-201, Hay, was referred to. This conditional purchase of 640 acres was applied for on 7th September, 1882, and on the 29th March, 1884, it was inspected by Mr. Conditional Purchase Inspector Carne, who reported improvements, value £237 10s.; "selector resident and progressing with improvements." Again, 23rd June, 1886, it was inspected by Mr. Conditional Purchase Inspector Russom, who reported improvements, value £197 10s., residence satisfactory.

The Chairman on this noted the case for inquiry before the Local Land Board on the following grounds, viz., for inquiry. The improvements "are only £5 10s. more than required, and the valuation of the fencing excessive." The case was heard in open Court on the 20th July, 1887, and the selector gave sworn evidence that improvements worth £207 10s. were on the land when he made his declaration.

This was the only evidence taken, and the Board thereupon decided that six shillings (6s.) per acre had not been placed upon the land. The amount representing such expenditure being £192.

The papers subsequently came before the Minister who decided that the conditions had been fulfilled to date. The decision of the Board was distinctly against evidence, but, further than that, the case should not have been brought on for inquiry at all at this stage. If the Chairman doubted the Inspectors valuation, he should have taken some action to obtain reliable testimony before taking the case into Court.

The Board consider that the action taken indicates a captious critical, rather than practical common sense method of dealing with cases, and causes unnecessary loss, anxiety, and irritation to settlers, as well as delay and extra expense to the Department.

Of 697 conditional purchases not yet dealt with, 161 will mature in 1888, and 148 in 1889, leaving 388 to be dealt with about the end of this year, a number, which, together with the work under the Act of 1884, should not overtax the resources either of the office staff or the Conditional Purchase Inspectors, or afford any justification for delay.

At the date of inquiry 109 cases were set down as awaiting action in Court. Many of them appeared to be of almost a formal character. Probably fifteen days sitting would suffice to clear them off, so that no considerable delay should occur in finally disposing of all the remaining cases in this Board District.

The bulk of the miscellaneous work outstanding is limited generally to the appraisalment of converted pre-emptive leases. Action is also required on some special purchase, special lease, and ring-barking applications, but these are so few as hardly to call for any special comment.

The number, &c., of these cases are given in the annexed Return, Appendix U.

The strength of the small staff at this office, four persons, is to a considerable extent misapplied by attention to details of little or no importance; and the absence of a proper system of routine tends to produce complications and delays disastrous to the prompt disposal of business.

The Board found, for example, a large number of applications confirmed or disallowed on the 25th May, 1887, for which the certificates of confirmation or refund vouchers were not issued until the 17th August following; in fact the whole business of one Board meeting had been thus delayed in consequence it was alleged of the Courts following one another in so quick succession that the Chairman had been unable to devote the necessary time to signing the required documents.

Extracts from applications forwarded to the district surveyors in conformity with regulation 33 of the Act are detained for the signature of the Chairman. In two instances, conditional leases 86-58 and 60 Hay, this resulted in a delay of several months. The signature of the Chief Clerk for the Chairman should be sufficient for this purpose.

In several instances it was observed that cases ripe for consideration by the Local Boards had not been brought forward, although Board Meetings had been held in the land districts in which the lands applied for were situated on more than one occasion since the cases were completed and ready for action.

The Board have to invite special attention to the following development of unnecessary clerical labour. A copy of the directions given in this case is attached hereto (Appendix V), and it will be seen therefrom that the Chairman, apparently with a view to the preservation of the official records, proposes to separate and remit to the District Surveyors Office only those documents which appear essential to give effect to the direction or decision of the Board; it is also understood that copies of other documents are to be supplied if required.

The Board are satisfied that the principle of separating papers material to a case is a pernicious one; to say nothing of the great additional labour cast upon the clerical staff in disconnecting and connecting the papers through the registers, copying, &c. There should also be considered the obvious disadvantage at which the officers of the Survey Branch would be placed in dealing with the questions put before them, which are not always limited merely to carrying out a specific direction to survey. It is recommended that the practice be peremptorily stopped.

It has been observed that it is a custom of this office to insert in the local newspapers complete lists of cases to be investigated at each Board Meeting, in addition to the usual authorized advertisements. This practice, it is understood, has been adopted with a view to insuring greater publicity to the proceedings.

The cost of such advertisements has been for the year 1886, £61 2s. 6d., and for 1887, about £16 6s. 7d.

As the law provides for notices being sent to parties by registered letter, and also for the posting of list at the Local Crown Land Offices and the Head Office of the Local Land Boards, it appears to the Board that sufficient publicity is provided, and they accordingly recommend that the publication of these detailed lists be discontinued.

The registers kept in this office are similar to those enumerated in the report on the Wagga Wagga Office, with the addition of a Homestead Lease Register.

Conditional Purchase Register.

Applications for conditional purchase in the Hay, Hillston, Deniliquin, and Balranald land districts, all of which are within the "Central Division," are recorded in one register. Although the number of applications is limited, this is obviously inconvenient for reference, and, in the event of possible alteration of the boundaries of the Board district, would lead to confusion and expense.

Registers and Official Records.

The entries in this register during 1885 are not distinguished by neatness, and are overcrowded. As many as six entries occur on a page, and, consequently, space will not be available for future notations.

The notations, in some instances unintelligible, and dates marking important stages in the history of the application are frequently omitted.

The confirmation or disallowance of applications is frequently recorded in the wrong column, and erasures occur.

The record for 1886 is open to like criticism. The notations are frequently deficient or placed under the wrong columns, and fail to give a consecutive record of the case to which they refer.

The caveat column is not filled up as required, and details are recorded in certain cases which are not appropriate to the register. Smudges and erasures occur. The later notations show an improvement and more care on the part of the recording officer.

At no distant date it will be necessary to re-copy these books, when it is recommended that a register be opened for each land district, in which the business of each successive year can be recorded. Not more than three entries per page should, under any circumstances, be permitted.

Conditional Lease Register—Old Form.

Want of method and absence of supervision, as in the case of the Conditional Purchase Registers, have produced similar results.

The entries are cramped and the notations imperfect, and almost unintelligible. The state of a case cannot always be determined without a reference to the papers or the minute-books. Blots and smudges disfigure the pages, although the style of the entries is, on the whole, a little better than that of the Conditional Purchase Register.

Conditional Lease Register—New Form.

This Register has not been entered up, although a large number of leases have been gazetted. Steps should be at once taken to bring this book up to date.

Homestead Lease Register.

Is better kept than the registers above referred to, but there is room for improvement. Some of the entries are cramped, and blots and smudges occur.

Annual Lease Register.

This register is not fully entered up, and should be completed to date without delay. The register of ringbarking applications, general record register, and refund register are well kept, and the special lease register, special purchase register, register of applications for permission to effect improvements on Crown lands, and improvement purchase register are fairly well kept.

Pastoral Leases and Occupation License Register.

An attempt has been made to fill up these registers from the Gazette notices, but as the particulars in connection with these holdings are of necessity fully recorded at the head office, these books are not required to be kept at local offices and should be withdrawn.

Miscellaneous Books.

The cash book, postage book, book of circular instructions, and other miscellaneous records are well kept, and indexed when necessary.

No steps, however, have been taken to utilize the store book as directed by circular instructions.

Attendance book is kept up. Attendance regular and punctual.

Press Copy Books.

A formidable and unnecessarily cumbrous system of press copying documents has been instituted in this office, which absorbs much of the time of a capable young officer who might be better employed. The books are as follows:—

1. Ordinary letters.
2. Refund vouchers, L.L.B., 35, 36, 34.
3. Certificates of confirmation, Form 6.
4. Improvements payable to the Crown, L.L.B., 72, 73, 74.
5. Informing Land Agent of confirmation, L.L.B., 99.
6. Permits to ringbark.
7. Schedules for Conditional Purchase Inspectors.

As most of the papers are retained in the Local Land Board Offices, and the minute-books are generally available for reference (should the registers fail to give any required information), the Board are of opinion that these books should be abolished, and the following substituted, viz. :—

1. Letters to Under Secretary for Lands.
2. Letters to individuals and other Departments.
3. Miscellaneous schedules to Conditional Purchase Inspectors, vouchers for travelling expenses, schedules of confirmations, vouchers for fees to members of Local Land Boards, vouchers for sundry payments.

Minute-books.

These books are divided into two classes, viz. :—

Minute-book of proceedings in open Court.

Minute-book of proceedings "in camera."

The former records satisfactorily the findings and recommendations of the Local Land Boards, and gives all minutiae in connection with each sitting, together with the depositions of witnesses. It is in fact a species of diary, rather than a concise official record of the proceedings relating to each case. The latter is a record of meetings at which the reports of the District Surveyor are discussed previously to the cases being heard in open Court, and the claims of applicants sometimes trenchantly dealt with. This feature of the administration has, however, been adverted to in another part of this report.

As the Board are of opinion that there is no warranty in the law for Local Land Boards to act in private they recommend that this book be abolished.

The papers relating to cases under repealed Acts transmitted to this office for inspection or inquiry in respect of fulfillment of conditions are registered, the covering schedules being gummed into a guard book.

The papers generally are not methodically arranged, and no proper system is adopted to ensure their being brought forward when ripe for action.

Proper receptacles to contain papers and registers are required, which would aid materially in their preservation; and as regards the former, would assist in keeping them prominently in view.

No. 66.

The Under Secretary for Lands to A. Lakeman, Esq., M.P.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 12 October, 1888.

Referring to your letter of the 21st July last, recommending Mr. R. S. Love for the position of junior clerk at the Local Land Board Office at Hay, I am directed by the Secretary for Lands to inform you that it is not desirable to offer the position of junior clerk to Mr. Love.

I have, &c.,

F. H. WILSON.

(For the Under Secretary.)

No. 67.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 16 October, 1888.
Referring to your communication of the 5th instant, respecting the application from Mr. R. S. Love for the position of junior clerk at the Local Land Board Office at Hay, I have the honor to inform you that the Secretary for Lands has decided that it is not desirable to offer the position of junior clerk to Mr. Love.

I have, &amp;c.,

F. H. WILSON.

(For the Under Secretary.)

No. 68.

Mr. R. S. Love to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

Sir, Hay, 22 October, 1888.
I hereby beg to apply for the position of temporary clerk at the Local Land Office. Trusting that you will consider my application favourably.

Yours, &amp;c.,

R. S. LOVE.

Submitted.—B.J.A., 22/10/88. Submitted to the Under Secretary for Lands in connection with 88-8674, Minl.—A. J. PARK, Chairman Local Land Board, Hay, 23/10/88.

No. 69.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir, Local Land Board Office, Hay, 22nd October, 1888.
I have the honor to inform you, that, after consultation with the clerk in charge, I find that further clerical assistance is required in this office, and that unless supplied, I shall have to request the whole staff, as per margin, to work overtime, a course I am very loth to adopt.
May I therefore request you to be so good as to attach another clerk to this office, either temporarily or permanently.

I have, &amp;c.,

A. J. PARK,

Chairman.

None of the officers at head quarters can be spared; and as only a junior is required it will not be possible to provide assistance unless the Chairman can find a local youth suitable for the position. May be so informed.—S.F., 25/10/88.

Approved.—J.N.B., 1/11/88. Chairman informed.—6/11/88.

Office Memorandum.

22 October, 1888.

It has been the practice I find in this office to leave one of the doors constantly open, i.e. unlocked, for the purpose of giving access to the office cleaner.

That the office should be left in such a state all night is a matter for astonishment, and the practice cannot be too severely condemned.

A duplicate key of one of the back doors may perhaps be obtained for the use of the office cleaner.

B. J. ATTERBURY.

The Chairman,—The office should and must be locked up securely at night from within. The office cleaner must be supplied with a latch key, and the rules, as to gentlemen occupying their places in the office after official hours, adopted at head office, Sydney, must be carried out here.—A.J.P., 22/10/88. clerk in charge, Hay.

Mr. Davies has I understand a latch key which he will be good enough to return to me. Mr. O'Hanlon will not in future remove the key from the public door. No officer will be permitted to be in the office after office hours unless with the knowledge and permission of the clerk in charge. This is to be initialled and noted by the officers.—B.J.A., 22/10/88.

Mr. Volckman, Mr. Davies, Mr. O'Hanlon. Seen.—W.L.V. The key that was in my possession has been mislaid. I will endeavour to find it this morning.—C.H.D., 22/10/88. Seen W.O'H. Mr. Davies has handed me the key, which I have in turn given to the office cleaner, with specific instructions which will be repeated in writing.—B.J.A., 23/10/88. ## No. 75.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Head Office, Local Land Board, Hay, 2 November, 1888.

In response to the minute of the Honorable the Premier (late Minister for Lands) Sir Henry Parkes, G.C.M.G., dated the 5th September, 1888, on papers Minl. 88-7,765, I have the honor to submit (16) sixteen Appendices to this letter, each containing a copy of one of the specific charges made by the subject deputation, and my reply in explanation thereupon.

I deny the charge of incivility, and submit the following table to show the general satisfaction with which the decisions of my Boards have been regarded:—

Year.	No. of Sittings.	No. of Cases dealt with.	No. of Appeals.	No. of Appeals sustained.
1885.....	45	1,096	1	1
1886.....	167	1,149	37	8
1887.....	163	1,076	39	10
1888 to 30/9/88.....	116	887	28	2
				} 6 cases not yet dealt with.

I have, &amp;c.,

A. J. PARK,

Chairman.

Papers Minl. 88-7,765 are herewith, also 16 Appendices to this letter.

[Appendices.]

Appendix No. 1—Charge No. 1.

Under the circumstances disclosed in the annexed memoranda, we, the deputation from Hay and Balranald, beg respectfully to submit to the Honorable the Minister for Lands, that in consequence of the universal dissatisfaction in the Hay Land District on the part of Conditional Purchasers and Homestead Lessees, the removal of Mr. Park, as a Member of the Hay Land Board, is essential to the welfare of the district.

Reply in Explanation.

The subjoined excerpt from the Riverine Grazier of the 4th September, 1888, is submitted to the Honorable the Minister, to show that there is not "Universal dissatisfaction in the Hay Land District" as alleged:—

"MR. PARK AND THE SELECTORS' DEPUTATION.

"(To the Editor of the Riverine Grazier.)

"Sir,—I have read with feelings of profound indignation the speech which Mr. Thompson is reported by the Daily Telegraph of Thursday last to have made to Sir Henry Parkes, when Sir Henry received the deputation which waited upon him with complaints about the Hay Land Board and the administration of the Land Act. The following charges are reported to have been brought by Mr. Thompson against Mr. Park:—(1.) Great incivility. (2.) Great injustice. (3.) The unjust and illegal manner in which applicants and defendants had been dealt with when brought before the Court. I have practised in the Hay Land Court for the last twenty months, and without hesitation, or the slightest reservation, I denounce Mr. Thompson's statements as false and malignant slanders. I have never, in one single instance, seen Mr. Park lose his temper in the Court, or treat any suitor with the slightest incivility, and I utterly disbelieve that Mr. Thompson can adduce one single case in which Mr. Park has treated suitors in an unjust and illegal manner. It may be said that I have not been an eye witness at the Courts which Mr. Park has presided over, at Balranald and Hillston, and this is perfectly true, but I have read the newspaper reports of all the selector's meetings about Mr. Park, and I have only observed one instance cited of alleged incivility on the part of that gentleman, and that was a case in which the person complaining said, that on one occasion when he was represented by an agent and had attempted to join in the arguments himself, himself, Mr. Park told him that he must be silent, as he had elected to have his case pleaded by an agent, and this would have happened in any other Court in the Colony. Even in the Supreme Court a suitor can appear and conduct his case in person if he likes, but if he employs a barrister to appear for him, then he must himself (except when giving evidence on oath) keep silent.

"That the Chairman of the Land Board, I am well aware, has not many friends. When the Inspector of Conditional Purchases proves a case of non-residence, and the Board recommend a forfeiture, the selector naturally feels annoyed; and when the Appraiser of runs proves that a run of which a squatter says, it takes twelve acres to keep a sheep, can carry a sheep to six acres, and the Board gives effect to his evidence, the squatter naturally feels aggrieved; but I am certain that the Chairman's worst enemies (except Mr. Thompson) will admit that he is an upright and incorruptible man.

"Although we are living under universal suffrage, and have had some feeble administrations, I do not think we shall ever see a Government so weak as to permit a man to be hounded out of his office for simply doing his duty without fear or favour.

"I am, &c.,

"THOMAS ROBERTSON.

"Lansdowne, Hay, 4th September, 1888."

This agitation (as on previous occasions) appears to have had its origin at Gunbar, a small place in a very large district.

No complaints have, to my knowledge, ever been lodged from other districts, except that of Mr. Berry, of Balranald, and the petition he presented (see Appendices No's. 14, 15, and 16) which speak for themselves.

Please see also the last paragraph of my covering report.

Appendix No. 2—Charge No. 2.

Conditional purchase 82-130; Conditional lease 6,789.

Samuel Nixon applied, in September, 1885, for the conversion of his prelease into a conditional lease; and for the purpose of proving his case, his agents, in Sydney, obtained for him a plan of his prelease, showing the connection between that and his conditional purchase.

This plan, the Chairman told him, was made to order, because it did not agree with the one before the Board which did not show the connection.

The application was refused, but the Minister upset the decision and granted the lease.

Reply in explanation.

In reply to this, I submit the following extracts from the Minute-book, volume 1, folio 84 :—
2nd September, 1885, leases 2,292; prelease 83-47; Samuel Nixon appeared in his own behalf. Conditional lease refused, as prelease did not adjoin the conditional purchase as required by law. 30th October, 1885—Refusal approved by the Honorable the Minister, vide 85-9482 leases. 18th November, 1887—Refusal reversed by the Honorable the Minister, vide 87-8613 leases.

Appendix No. 3—Charge No. 3.

Conditional purchase 85-1; H. E. P. Thompson.

In this case there was an inquiry as to the improvements, &c., on the land applied for.

- (a) The applicant, previous to the meeting, asked the Chairman if he would be satisfied with a certificate from the Crown Lands Agent of certain facts he considered essential to establish his claim. He, the Chairman, replied, in a most offensive and boorish manner, "You know the law of evidence as well as I do." He also during the same inquiry endeavoured to prevent the applicant cross-examining a witness; but Mr. Lockhart (then a member of the Board) checked him, and told him he was wrong.

Reply in explanation.

This case appears to have been quoted in support of the charge of incivility.

- (a) The facts of the case, as far as I remember them, are as follows :—Mr. Thompson met me in the street, and endeavoured to influence my mind in favour of his view of his case prior to its hearing, and, on his own showing, he received certainly a curt, but not an uncivil answer.
- (b) There is no record of such an occurrence during the hearing of the case. I do not remember anything of the sort, and think it highly improbable that the statement is correct.

Please see Appendices No. 7a, 7b, and 7c, where Mr. Thompson certainly makes misrepresentations.

Appendix No. 4—Charge No. 4.

Homestead lease 85-11; Gazetted 190.

F. L. Clayton applied for a homestead lease of the full area. On the applicant objecting to the area being reduced to 7,000 acres, the Chairman told him, in an uncouth and ungentlemanly manner, that he was only a speculator, and was lucky to get any land at all. As to the applicant being only a speculator, the successful manner in which he carried on his lease is a direct contradiction.

Reply in explanation.

This was the second application for land which he had lost at the ballot on the preceding Wednesday; he was therefore applying for land which was previously applied for by others. By the exercise of some ingenuity, the District Surveyor and the Board made a design with a view to satisfying this and the prior applications. The design did not, however, meet with Mr. Clayton's approval, and on his expressing his dissatisfaction, the Chairman told him that, considering his application was a speculative one, he was fortunate in that there was a prospect of its being granted wholly or in part.

Please see my minute on the papers in the case, which are with the Under-Secretary, and I cannot, therefore, quote numbers.

Appendix No. 5—Charge No. 5.

Mr. R. W. Stewart, J.P., is a Land Agent at Hillston. In one case when Mr. Stewart appeared at Hillston for the lessees of Mossiel, as to the valuation of improvements on homestead leases, the authority produced by Mr. Stewart was signed by a Bank Manager, and although he must have known the signature, he refused to allow Mr. Stewart to appear, as the authority was not attested.

Conditional purchase 86-21.—The same thing happened in the application of A. W. G. Thompson, where although the Chairman knew Mr. H. E. P. Thompson was the father of the applicant, objected to the authority as it was not attested, but admitted it on one of the members of the Board saying he knew the applicants signature.

Reply in explanation.

It was during the early part of the administration of this Board, the practice to insist upon persons claiming to be agents for parties interested in cases before Board, producing their authority signed by the parties and attested.

This was done with two objects :—

- (1.) For the protection of the parties themselves
- (2.) For the protection of administration

It may be remarked that the practice above referred to has largely fallen into disuse, as a number of gentlemen have established themselves in practice as Land Agents, and in whom, from being so well known to Boards, much confidence is reposed.

I may remark that Mr. R. W. Stewart's name has been used without his authority or approval.

Appendix No. 6—Charge No. 6.

The following three cases are a monstrous perversion of the law. Conditional purchase 85-52, M. A. Prendergast. Conditional purchase, 85-25, W. Prendergast. Conditional purchase 85-73, H. Prendergast.

These applications were refused for the following reasons :—Their father Patrick Prendergast (who is since dead) wrote to Mr. R. B. Wilkinson, M.P., complaining of the delay in granting the land to his family, and in the letter said we have not yet got possession.

This the Chairman, although each applicant had made the usual declaration, interpreted to mean they were dummies for the father, thus branding them as perjurers.

Reply

Reply in explanation.

In these cases none of the conditional purchasers appeared personally before the Board, but were represented by their father Patrick Prendergast, consequently they could not be interrogated as to their bond fides, &c.

The father, in a letter to R. B. Wilkinson, Esq., M.P., asking him what he could do to get the conditional purchase confirmed at once stated that he "got" the various applicants to make these selections, as follows:—

Maude, November 27, 1885.

* * * * *

I sold out last March my land, thinking the new Land Bill would come in force soon after, but as it did not until the 6th August, I had to wait. Well, on the 13th, the week after it started, I got a son of mine to select 2,560 acres, all measured portions; shortly after I got another son to take up 1,280 acres, not measured, but joining the first selection. I got a daughter also to select 400 acres. * * * * *

PATRICK PRENDERGAST.

It was considered by the Board that these formed a group of vicarious conditional purchases, and it further considered them to be unlawful, and that if any other person than a parent stood in a similar position to Prendergast the father, the applications he was pressing would most probably be disallowed.

Out of this group of cases arose the term, "Family Selections."

The Board determined, as there was reason to doubt the bond fides of the applications, and as they had prevented the Board (by not appearing) from satisfying itself on that point, that "in order to place the family in possession if they were acting in good faith, and in accordance with law, or to prevent them from committing a breach of section 122 of the 'Crown Lands Act of 1884,' if they were acting otherwise," it would disallow the applications so that the cases could go to the Appeal Court, and establish a precedent for future similar cases one way or the other.

Against these decisions, only one of the applicants (M. A. Prendergast) appealed, thus tacitly admitting that the decisions of the Board respecting the other two cases were just.

The case of Mary Ann Prendergast (now Brown) was upheld by the Honorable the Minister, and referred back to the Board to take evidence as to her bond fides, which was done, and the Board had to be satisfied with the testimony of the principal, there being no rebutting evidence.

Appendix No. 7—Charge No. 7.

Conditional purchase 82-201, 7a, J. T. Warren; conditional purchase 81-101, 7b, A. Lang; conditional purchase 81-102, 7c, Thomas Lang.

These cases were investigated at one Land Court; they are all bond-fide settlers; the last two are relations. The Chairman (although the evidence was in their favour) decided that residence had not been fulfilled, and recommended them for forfeiture. The Minister upset the decisions and granted the certificates. The Inspector of conditional purchases did not visit the last two selections till some months after the five years had been fulfilled.

Reply in explanation.

In reply to this I submit the following extracts from the Minute-book, volume 4:—

Extract from Minute-book, vol. 4, folio 177, 19th July, 1887.

(Reply to charge 7a.)

Inquiry as to fulfilment of conditions; conditional purchase 82-201. John Thomas Warren, present, and acts for himself, and has no evidence but his own.

"John Thomas Warren, residing at Gunbar, deposes as follows:—I took up conditional purchase 82-201 on the 7th September, 1882, and went to reside within three months of that date; cannot say the date of the month; have resided there ever since; my brothers made conditional purchases 3 or 4 miles off; we worked them in partnership, and resided at each others houses while working on each others conditional purchases for two or three weeks at a time, otherwise I reside at my own, sometimes for two or three months together."

Witness then gave evidence as to the value of the improvements, at the conclusion of which the Board retired to consider the decision, and on the following morning announced it as follows:—"The conditions of residence may have been fulfilled, but improvements to the value of six shillings per acre had not been placed upon the land at date of declaration.—C.S. 85-32,936 Depl."

From this it will be seen that this case was not heard under section 20 of the "Crown Lands Act of 1884," nor even recommended for forfeiture as improperly alleged by the deputation.

Extract from Minute-book, vol. 4, folio 190, 20th July, 1887.

(Reply to charge 7b.)

Inquiry as to fulfilment of conditions; conditional purchase 81-101, Archibald Lang. Mr. Lakeman, M.P., for applicant, present.

"Archibald Lang, selector, residing on Toganmain, deposes as follows:—I am the owner of conditional purchase 81-101; made it on 13th October, 1881; went to reside there about a fortnight after I took it up; the two declarations are mine, and are true; when I first went on I lived in a waggonette for two or three days, till I built a hut of timber stuck in the ground on end, and roofed with bark; lived in that structure about three months, then in a sun-dried brick house; it was five months before the sun-dried brick house was built; it cost £20; I lived in the house four months over five years; I am still living in it when I am at home; I was away once in a dry season with cattle for about three months; that was my only absence except for a day now and then; my father lived about 100 yards away from me on his selection; for the first three years I cooked for myself, had my meals, and slept on my selection; for the last two years I had my meals at father's place, and slept on my own selection; I did not go to eat at my father's house at first because I thought I should not be fulfilling the conditions; after three years, hearing different opinions, I made up my mind to eat at my father's, and sleep at my own selection."

To Mr. Lakeman.] "I still sleep at my own selection, and have my meals at my father's."

After taking evidence as to the value of the improvements, the Board decided as follows:—"That the conditions of improvements have been fulfilled, but we are of opinion that the condition of residence has not been fulfilled during the last two years of the time, in the manner prescribed and intended by law."

From this it will be seen that the case was not one in which forfeiture was recommended, as the deputation misrepresents.

Extract from Minute-book, vol. 4, folio 193.

(Reply to charge 7c.)

20th July, 1887—Inquiry as to fulfilment of conditions—conditional purchase 81-102, Thomas Lang, junior.

Mr. Lakeman for applicant present.

Evidence of selector taken as to residence and improvements, and the Board decided:—"That the conditions of improvements have been fulfilled. That the conditions of residence have apparently been fulfilled."

This case is also misrepresented by the deputation as a case in which the Board recommended forfeiture.

Appendix No. 8—Charge No. 8.

Conditional purchase 82-47, 8a, John Savage; conditional purchase 82-151, 8b, John Jones; conditional purchase 82-152, 8c, Arthur Cant.

These three cases were heard at the same Court, when the Board decided all the conditions had been fulfilled, and granted the certificates.

Savage was a boundary-rider on Gunbar station for years. The last three conditional purchases have been sold to the station.

Inquiry under section 20; conditional purchase 82-47, John Savage.

Reply to charge No. 8a.

Mr. Robertson, for selector, present, calls John Savage, senior, who deposes that he is the conditional purchaser of subject land. [Witness here found to be drunk, and was removed.]

Conditional Purchaser Inspector Russom deposed:—He inspected the conditional purchase twice; reports produced are his, and are true and correct. I am satisfied that there are improvements up to ten shillings an acre on the land. The difference in the item of drains in the drains in the two reports is, I think, due to the construction of a new drain in the interim. I have allowed full value for all fences; they are on boundaries. He told me the lessee of adjoining lands had paid nothing for them.

The Board decided:—The conditions have apparently been fulfilled, and we have no evidence to the contrary. We must, therefore, uphold the conditional purchase, and it is upheld accordingly.

The deputation indicate that the conditional purchaser, from the fact of his being now employed on the station on which the land lies, was not bonâ fide. Why did they not offer their or other evidence to that effect when they should know that the aim of fraudulent people is to mislead authorities.

21st July, 1888.—Inquiry as to fulfilment of conditions; conditional purchase 82-151, John Jones.

(Reply to charge 8b.)

Mr. Robertson, for applicant, present.

John Jones deposeseth: I am a conditional purchaser, and live upon my conditional purchase, which I took up in 1882; I commenced to reside with my family 27th September, 1882, wife and four children; I and they have resided there ever since; I have made the following improvements:—House and kitchen; the inspector valued them at £80; it is a fair valuation; two tanks and drains, 30 or 40 chains, £50; 1½ mile fencing, at £45 per mile, £78 15s.

To Mr. Russom:—I am a labourer; for the last twelve months I have been rabbiting for Mr. Warren, a selector; before that I was splitting, &c., for Mr. Armstrong, the owner of Gunbar Station, on which my conditional purchase lies; I have a conditional lease; the land is fenced all round, but half-a-mile is not wired, and is therefore open; I don't remember when you inspected; the fence was the same then as now; I have let my grass to Mr. Armstrong; Mr. Warren for about twelve months had the grass; I did not let it to him, it was some arrangement he had with Mr. Armstrong.

To Mr. Robertson:—I let the grass to Mr. Armstrong within three months of going on the ground; I am a bonâ fide selector, and not a dummy for Mr. Armstrong or anybody else.

To Mr. Pearce: Mr. Armstrong pays me £45 a year for the grass of the conditional purchase and the conditional lease; it is a verbal arrangement; I made the selection with money I earned and saved; I fenced the land myself (the conditional purchase); the fence on the conditional lease I paid half of; it was erected by Mr. Warren, an adjoining selector; I was paid by no one for fencing my land; my intention is to keep my land as a home for my family.

To the Chairman:—I am not aware the rent I am getting is 5½d. an acre; I do consider it a high rent; I should be sorry to pay it.

To Mr. Pearce: I paid for the two tanks.

James Hurst, called by Mr. Robertson, deposeseth:—I reside at the "M'Kinlay Hotel," which I keep; I know John Jones, the selector, and know his conditional purchase; it is 8 miles from my hotel; have known it ever since he took it up; I have worked there; I sank two tanks for him; he resides on it; I believe his family is always there, and he is mostly there; I can't say values of improvements.

To Mr. Pearce: I had neither agreement nor consideration re the tanks, except with Jones; he paid me in notes and sovereigns.

Mr. Robertson has no more evidence.

Conditional Purchaser Inspector Russom, called by the Board, deposeseth:—I inspected subject, conditional purchase, on 24th June, 1886; found selector resident with his wife and family, and found improvements to total value of £205 6s. 3d; cannot say dates of erection; the boundary fences were not closed; the sheep belonging to adjoining selectors and the station lessee had access to the conditional purchase.

To Mr. Robertson:—I could not say whether there are any dummy selectors in my district, or in the Colony, and cannot say whether such would be lavishly improved or not; the Board decides that the conditions of residence and improvements have been fulfilled to date; the Board had no power to forfeit or uphold in this case, as it was not heard under the 20th section; the Board simply reported to the Minister on the facts; my remarks on page 34 will apply to this case.

EXTRACT from Minute-book, vol. 7, folios 87 and 88.

9th May, 1888.—Inquiry under section 20; conditional purchase 82-152, Arthur Cant.

(Reply to charge 8c.)

Mr. Robertson, for applicant, claims to have fulfilled all conditions imposed by law, and to have taken the land for his own purposes.

Arthur Cant deposeseth:—I took up the subject land with my own money, and paid for my own improvements with my own money; I made a total of £338, and show three receipts; one for wire from Meakes and Fay, Gunbar; one from Brooker, for the erection of fencing; one from Hurst, for the same; I let the grass to the lessee of Gunbar pastoral holding, (Armstrong), and got £45 a year for the first three years, and £35 a year for the last two; I made it for myself alone, and have no intention of selling it; this receipt of Brooker's was written by Brooker, who sent it to me; he afterwards told me, when he came with it, that he wrote it; this receipt of Hurst's he sent to me personally; do not know who wrote it.

To Mr. Russom:—I told you I let the grass to a man, and had forgotten his name; It was Pengrove; I was going to let it again to Armstrong, if Pengrove did not take it; I have leased it to Mr. Armstrong ever since; I get £35 a year for it and the prelease; I never had a selection before; I paid £160 down for this land; I do nothing; I have means of my own, if I never took up any land.

Conditional Purchaser Inspector Russom deposeseth:—I inspected subject land on two occasions; my reports (produced) are true and correct; found selector resident on each occasion, and the land was fully improved to 10s. per acre within the required time; there were signs of continuous occupation; he is a single man; I saw no indications of want of bonâ fides, except what I have related in my reports. The Board decided that "there being no evidence to show that the conditions have not been fulfilled, and some to show they have, and no mala fides is proved, we must uphold conditional purchase, and it is upheld accordingly."

It will be seen that, while the circumstances were of a somewhat suspicious nature, there was not sufficient evidence to justify the Board in recommending forfeiture.

The deputation indicate that this conditional purchaser was not bonâ fide. Why did not the members thereof produce or give evidence to that effect, and support constituted authority in a legitimate manner.

Appendix No. 9—Charge No. 9.

Conditional purchase 86-46, John Allen. In evidence it was shown that the young man, for the first six months after he had taken possession, had his breakfast and tea at his brother-in-laws's, about a mile away, but was working on his land all day, and had his dinner and slept there.

The decision was that residence was not fulfilled during that period.

Reply in explanation.

In this case the Board, after an open Court investigation, reported to the Honorable the Minister, under the 39th section of the Crown Lands Act of 1884, as follows:—"The Board is of opinion that the prescribed condition of residence has not been fulfilled in the beforementioned conditional purchase in the manner contemplated or prescribed by the 32nd section of the Crown Lands Act of 1884, until the applicant's mother went to live with him, since which date the conditional purchase has not been inspected."

On this report appear the following minutes by the Honorable the Minister for Lands:—

Residence somewhat unsatisfactory, but fencing and other improvements progressing, and selector's mother and sister now living with him.
 May pass, with a caution that residence for balance of term be more faithfully carried out.—S.F., 19/5/88.
 Approved.—T.G., 19/5/88. John Allen informed.—H.L.T., 25/5/88.

Appendix No 10.—Charge 10.

The following two cases plainly show the injustice of the Chairman:—

Conditional Purchase 86-21.—A. W. G. Thompson.

This is an additional conditional purchase. Before selection it had been fenced for some years on two sides by substantial sheep and cattle-proof fences, though not according to standard; the other side is put up to standard. The inspector reported the fences to be thoroughly good and substantial fences, but the Chairman decided the fencing was not up to the standard, and forfeited the selection.

The agent who appeared for applicant then asked for further time to complete the fencing, as he showed the two fences were left as they were under misapprehension.

The Chairman refused to entertain the application.

Additional conditional purchase 86-21, A. W. G. Thompson.

Represented by H. E. P. Thompson, his father.

Payment for half fencing on both sides, the property of H. E. P. Thompson, to be made by applicant to the extent of £9.—Confirmed.

The subject of the value of the fence on the west side to be deferred till the return of the Crown Land Agent.

On 1st May, the Board having made inquiries from Surveyor M'Dougall, &c., found that applicant had erected the fence on west side in error, and with a colorable right of occupation, and therefore the Board does not assess any value to an improvement which they agree should be considered his property.

Additional conditional purchase 86-21, Bank of New South Wales, transferred from A. W. G. Thompson.

Mr. H. E. Thompson for the Bank.

The fence is not quite up to the standard of class No. 2, as prescribed by the certificate, otherwise the conditions appear to have been fulfilled.

I do not think Mr. H. E. P. Thompson did ask for extension of time, and if he did, the Board could only recognize the prescribed mode for making such application, viz., on the prescribed form, on which an open Court investigation would follow. This course was subsequently taken, and the application granted by Board. (See extract on next page).

Application for time to complete fencing, additional conditional purchase 86-21, Bank of New South Wales, transferred from A. W. G. Thompson.

H. E. P. Thompson, duly authorized by Bank of New South Wales, appears.

The north and west fences were erected before the conditional purchase was made, and are not up to standard required by the Act in any class.

The fences are secure against passage of cattle or sheep. H. E. P. Thompson states, sketch with papers.

Six months' extension from date of application granted.

Fencing to be completed by 9th November, 1888.

Appendix No. 11—Charge No. 11—Conditional Purchase, 86-42—George Baillie; a non-residence selection.

There was no appearance of or for the applicant (who is a relation of the owner of the station, Benerambah).

He wrote a letter from Melbourne to the Board stating that he could not attend, but that the necessary improvements were upon the land, although the report of the Inspector, if he had been examined, would have proved the contrary. The Chairman, without any application, postponed the consideration of the case for further report.

Reply in Explanation.

In this case, a conditional purchaser under the non-residential clause, an inquiry was instituted as to the fulfilment of the conditions imposed by law and selector duly notified.

He did not attend the Board meeting, but sent a letter stating his inability to do so, and that the conditional purchase was fenced all round, and contained a tank of £320 in value and over.

The Inspector had reported that the fencing was in progress at date of his inspection, but made no mention of the tank.

The Appeal Court having shown an unwillingness to forfeit, simply for the non-fulfilment of the improvement condition within the prescribed time, the Board, to enable it to furnish a complete report to the Honorable the Minister, postponed action and ordered another inspection, which was made and Inspector's report received.

Upon this report a second inquiry was instituted, at which the selector was not present, but again sent a letter enumerating the improvements.

The Board found, on the Inspector's report, that the condition of fencing had not been complied with in the prescribed time, and reported accordingly to the Honorable the Minister.

This decision is strictly in accordance with the 39th section Crown Lands Act of 1884, and Form L.L.B. No. 12.

Appendix No. 12—Charge No. 12.

As an evidence of obstacles being thrown in the way of selectors, take F. Haberman's special lease, 320 acres, for irrigation works.

The first application was thrown out.

The second application was granted, but the rental put upon it was in reality a refusal after.

The evidence of Haberman, which is very lengthy, will show his bona fides. Among other things, he swears he spent £3,000 in works for the purpose of irrigation, and offered to either purchase the land he applied for or select it if allowed.

Reply in Explanation.

There were not, as alleged, two applications in this case.

There was, however, a rehearing, at the applicant's request, to rectify an error into which the Board had fallen from an incorrect tracing supplied. The error was one as to measurement.

The application was not either granted or refused. The Board simply reported to the Honorable the Minister on the facts, and recorded its opinion as to certain conditions which should be imposed, should the Governor grant the lease.

The Governor, it would appear, did grant the lease.

Appendix No. 13—Charge No. 13—Conditional purchase, 82-67, 82-255, 84-39—J. T. Alston, of Carrathool.

In this case, the applicant was summoned in May last to appear before the Land Board at Carrathool, and although Mr. Russom, the Inspector of Conditional Purchases, had reported favourably with regard to both improvements and residence, the applicant was subjected to an examination by the Chairman of more than an hour, evidently for the purpose of confusing the applicant, and then adding insult to injury, he was asked "if he had ever been drunk."

Reply in Explanation.

With regard to the last paragraph, relating to the case of J. T. Alston, the facts are as follows :—
There appeared to be very great doubt as to the applicant's bona fides; also three different documents, purporting to bear his signature, were signed in such dissimilar hands as to warrant the suspicion that they were not written by the same individual.

He was asked to account for the difference, and swore that he could sign in different hands, and in answer to a question put to him by the local member, said "he never got drunk."

See statement by J. E. Pearce, Esq., P.M., local Member, attached.

Attached to Appendix No. 13.

A. J. Park, Esq.

Dear Sir,

Hay, 20 October, 1888.

With reference to the charge made against you by the deputation to the Honorable the Minister for Lands, viz., that you asked young Alston "if he ever got drunk," it is altogether wrong. I asked him the question, and I did so, not out of any disrespect to him, but thinking it might account for the dissimilarity between the signatures on his two applications.

I knew his father had a weakness for liquor, and I thought possibly the son might also; and hence the contrariety in the signatures.

With regard to the other charges, I have no doubt you will satisfactorily reply to the same.

Yours, &c.,

JOSEPH EDE PEARCE.

Appendix No. 14—Charge No. 14.

The manner in which the powers under the Land Act are being used to harass and annoy bona fide settlement are :—
Settlers are brought up before the Land Board on very slight pretexts.

(A.) The first Land Board sat in Balranald in December, 1885, to deal with and recommend or refuse applications.

The Board then sat again in May, 1886, to settle the question of improvements, and also to fix the rent. Query,— Why could not these matters have been settled at the one Board?

(B.) The Board then sat again in July, 1888, to inquire into fulfilment of conditions as regards occupation and residence.

(C.) In a few week's time, the Board will require to sit again, re fulfilment of fencing clauses.

Query,—Why could not these two questions have been settled at the same sitting?

As the attendance on these Boards entail upon us a loss of time and considerable expense, we ask in all fairness that these courts be not held without there is strong proof that the lessee or lessees are non bona fide men.

Reply in Explanation.

(A.) This is not correct.

The first Board meetings held at Balranald were in June and December, 1885.

The procedure then followed by the Board was that strictly required by section 82 of the Crown Lands Act of 1884. Experience proved it to be cumbersome, however, and at a conference held by the Under Secretary, the District Surveyor and myself, a practice was initiated, which, with subsequent modifications, is the procedure at present adopted.

The law requires that certain conditions should be fulfilled on homestead leases as to occupation, residence, and fencing, and after due inspection, resulting in adverse reports as to the two former, it was necessary to institute inquiries in certain cases.

If lessees honestly fulfilled the conditions imposed by law, no subsequent or any open Court inquiry would be imperative, except one at the end of five years, to establish him in his lease.

(C.) It is pointed out that Mr. Berry and those apparently with him, were brought to Court upon Inspectors' reports, which, when in evidence, proved strong enough to cause the Board to report the non-fulfilment of the conditions imposed by law, a strong proof of non-bona fides.

I see no other way of obtaining said strong proof, but by open Court investigation.

Appendix No. 15—Charge No. 15.

(A.) (2.) The manner in which the courts are conducted.

The Act distinctly states that the procedure shall be the same as before a Court of Petty Sessions, whereas the procedure in these courts is totally opposed to that.

When the lessee's case is called on he is immediately ordered into the box and a number of questions are put to him with a view of making him criminate himself.

The only evidence against the lessee is, in many cases, given by himself.

The evidence given by the Inspector of Leases carries undue weight, inasmuch as if the Inspector calls at the lessee's place, and does not happen to see him, the conclusion come to by the Board is that the lessee is non-resident—a most unjust conclusion.

(B.) Speaking generally on the objects of this deputation we find that the result of the Land Board, held at Balranald in July last, that fourteen out of a total of seventeen leases dealt with were virtually recommended to be forfeited.

A number of the lessees acknowledged that they had not carried out the strict letter of the law as regards residence, and gave as their reason the impossibility of so doing on account of there being no water on the land; tanks have been made that, as yet, have received no water, others were six and seven months before receiving any, and then failed when most needed.

The present season is one of the worst known for thirty years, and if rain does not fall soon, both stock and men will have to travel. As a matter of fact, at the present moment, the water on some of the holdings is already exhausted, and the stock has been removed.

The rainfall up to August of this year registers about 3 inches.

A point was raised by the Board about there being no fixed habitations on some of the holdings.

I would like to call the attention of the Honorable the Minister for Lands to the fact that had we been millionaires we should not have been here to-day, for the simple reason that we would never have tackled a block of land in the western division of New South Wales.

Not being millionaires, but men used to bush life, open air, hard work, and harder fare, our first thoughts were not of fixed habitations (we were content with tents), but how to make the ground keep us, and we acted accordingly.

Houses have been built, are being built, and will continue to be built as the work of settlement progresses.

Money spent on improvements.

The amount of money spent by lessees on their holdings in improvements vary from £500 to £800 per block—and we reckon that before the expiration of five years, fully £1,000 will require to be laid out on each lease, which, before settlement took place, was comparatively in a state of nature.

It is acknowledged by all thinking men that the man who opens up new country—who makes two blades of grass grow where only one grew before that—that man is a benefactor to his country.

We claim to occupy that position.

We are willing to go into this country; we are willing to spend the best part of our lives in trying to subdue this country and to make it fit for human occupation, and all we ask for is fair and reasonable treatment as between man and man.

It has been thrown in our teeth that we are Victorians, and as such our right to occupy this land has almost been questioned. We claim the glorious privilege of calling ourselves Australians (most of us native born), and subjects of Her Imperial Majesty the Queen;—as such we possess the right to settle where we choose.

New South Wales at the present moment offers greater inducements than any other Colony, and it only requires that the advantages offered by this country shall become better known, and that a thorough confidence shall be felt in the administration of the land laws—to bring in hundreds of the best men of the other colonies.

In conclusion, we most respectfully beg that the Minister for Lands will give every consideration to the cases now sent down by the Land Board at Balranald.

That every allowance will be made us on account of the hardships to be undergone in pioneer settlement, and on account of the money spent by us upon the land.

We

We are in this position—that if an adverse decision is given us we are practically ruined men, and that without any commensurate gain to the State. Certain work has also to be carried on. Fencing has to be completed within a given time. Water has to be provided for, and we do not know whether to go on with these works or not.

We therefore humbly beg that your decision will be favourable to us, and that you will make it known to us as soon as possible.

Reply in Explanation.

It is, perhaps, not necessary for me to report in regard to this paragraph, as I observe by the newspaper reports sent (A) to me for perusal with the papers that the Honorable the Premier fully explained this matter to the deputation.

The remainder of the statements read by Mr. Berry appear to be of the nature of special pleading on behalf of the (B) homestead lessees generally, and addressed to the Honorable the Minister personally.

Appendix No. 16.—Charge 16.

To the Honorable the Minister for Lands, Sydney,—

Balranald, July, 1888.

That this meeting most respectfully begs to call the attention of the Minister for Lands to the manner in which the powers under the Land Act are being used to harass and annoy bona fide settlement.

[Here follow fifty-eight signatures.]

Reply in Explanation.

With respect to the above petition, dated Balranald, July, 1888, it might be pointed out that of the fifty-eight signatories, perhaps not more than fifteen have any direct interest in land.

The number of cases dealt with by the Board in the Balranald district since the present Act came into operation is 299. Against the finding of the Board in these cases there have been three appeals, only one of which was sustained.

Perhaps a stronger tribute to the administration by the Board of the law in that district could not be desired.

No. 76.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 5 November, 1888.

I have the honor to address you on the subject of the four telegrams, copies of which are hereto appended.

I sought a conference with the desire to settle, in the most expeditious manner attainable, some difficult and unsatisfactory matters connected with the work of this large district.

Five days previous to my asking for an interview I had sent you a telegram in connection with one of the cases for consideration. Up to this date it remains unanswered. *1

I had also written to you seven days previously concerning another subject for consideration, viz., further assistance in this office. That letter remains unanswered up to date. *2

Meanwhile you have instructed me to issue a railway pass to one of my only two office clerks, that he might go away to another Colony to play cricket. *3

I have done so, and he has gone. I am on the eve of departure for the Hillston Land Court, and Mr. Atterbury, clerk-in-charge, has only one clerk to carry on the work of this Board office, in which, I believe, is annually transacted more business than in most other similar offices in the Colony.

Under your letter, Land Board District, 88-3,236, of 9th June, 1881, I am held responsible for the due discharge of the work of this office.

I hope to return to Hillston at the end of November, and have now the honor to ask you to be so good as to request the Honorable the Minister for Lands to grant me an interview on any day early in December which he may choose to appoint.

I have, &c.,

A. J. PARK,

Chairman.

Telegram from Chairman, Hay, to Under Secretary for Lands.

29 October, 1888.

BEFORE leaving for Hillston next Monday, and after Hay Court is over to-morrow, I much desire to see you on official business in connection with this district. Kindly reply if you will see me on Thursday or Friday.

Telegram from the Under Secretary for Lands to Chairman, Hay.

29 October, 1888.

IN reply to your to-day's wire, please communicate through post concerning any matters of business you may desire to consult me about.

Telegram from Chairman, Hay, to Under Secretary for Lands.

Re your telegram of to-day, do you wish me to forward by to-night's post, reaching you on Wednesday, a list of the subjects on which I desire to confer with you on Thursday.

Telegram to Chairman, Hay, from the Under Secretary for Lands.

30 October, 1888.

IN reply your yesterday's wire, I see no necessity for personal interview, but will be happy to advise on or give consideration to any matter you may submit in ordinary way.

*1. I cannot identify this case from the vague information supplied.—S.F., 3/12/88.

*2. This letter was received in the office on 24th October, and dealt with by me on 25th. On the 1st November the Minister gave a decision on it, and on the 6th Mr. Park was apprised thereof.—S.F., 3/12/88.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 6 November, 1888.

With reference to your letter of the 22nd ultimo, asking that another clerk may be attached to your office, either temporarily or permanently, I am directed by the Minister for Lands to inform you that none of the officers at head-quarters can be spared, and as only a junior is required it will not be possible to provide assistance unless you can find a local youth suitable for the position.

No. 79.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir, Local Land Board Office, Court-house, Hillston, 19 November, 1888.

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 6th instant, in which you inform me that the honorable the Minister for Lands states that no officer can be spared from your office for service in the Local Land Board Office, Hay, and that as only a junior is required, if no local youth can be found, no assistance can be given.

I would point out that each of the two office clerks are juniors, and that a local youth, if even one suitable could be found, would be of no immediate service.

The business of the Hay Land Board Office is of such dimensions as to require, in my opinion, one reasonably efficient clerk in addition to the two now employed.

I would most respectfully ask the honorable the Minister to reconsider the matter.

I have, &c.,

Office Memorandum.

3 December, 1888.

It will be observed from the within papers that Mr. Chairman Park has deliberately ignored my request to communicate with me by letter in regard to any matter of business he might desire to consult me about. When these subjects are communicated I will be in a position to advise the Minister whether a personal interview either with myself or Mr. Secretary Bruncker is necessary.

As regards the extra assistance, alleged to be required in the office, I am clearly of opinion that the business, which is comparatively limited, is not too much for the present staff; but in consequence of the frequent withdrawal of one of the best clerks to act as deposition clerk—a course perhaps not always necessary—it would be advisable to appoint a junior. Mr. Park has been informed in reply to his letter, of 22nd October, that a local junior will be appointed when he finds one.

I do not know what is referred to in the second paragraph, with reference to an unanswered telegram on some subject not specified.

I have now to invite the Minister's attention to the tone of this and other letters received from Mr. Park, which are characterized by an irritability and a spirit of insubordination that should not be displayed by an officer of his position.

S. F.

Submission approved.

With the view of preserving discipline in the Department, it is certainly essential that all correspondence, and especially in communications passing between the higher class officials, should be written in a temperate tone. It is also desirable that officers of the Department, seeking interviews with the Minister, should do so through the Under Secretary, to whom they should explain the subject to be dealt with. The adoption of such a course will assist materially in conserving the limited time at the Minister's disposal.—J.N.B., 14/12/88.

Mr. Chairman Park informed, 27/12/88. Circular to Chairman, 88-44, forwarded, 31/12/88. Copy herewith.—T.D., 2/1/89.

As no reply has been received from the Chairman to letter of 27th December last, and no further application has been made for clerical assistance in respect of the Hay office. Submitted that the matter may be considered closed, and the papers put away.—M.L., 4/3/89.

No. 82.

Office Memorandum.

4 December, 1888.

THE Minister's attention is directed to Mr. Chairman Park's reply, of 30th ultimo, to the late Under Secretary, blank-cover communication, of 23rd July last.

I am of opinion that Mr. Park acted injudiciously in directing the clerk left in charge of the office, Mr. Davies, not to forward papers required by the Under Secretary without first transmitting them to him first at Balranald, or communicating by telegraph, and I cannot regard his explanation on this point as wholly satisfactory. Similar with regard to the instruction not to send papers to the District Surveyor's Office without remitting them first to Balranald, which would involve a delay totally unnecessary in cases of a purely formal character.

Mr.

Mr. Davies is an intelligent officer of considerable experience, having been employed at Hay for some years, after a training at head-quarters; and might certainly have been allowed some little discretion for the time being.

In regard to the telegram quoted by Mr. Park, I may point out that Mr. Boot, formerly acting clerk-in-charge, was ordered to return to Hay in consequence of the Chairman's representations as to the state of the office, and requested to report on the work.

That officer's report shows that the staff was quite able to cope with the work up to the time he had previously left, and that the arrears, with the exception of cases that had been on the Chairman's table prior to Mr. Boot's departure, on 1st July, had accumulated subsequently.

It is thus, I think, evident that Mr. Park did not take the best means to forward the work, and that he is therefore largely responsible for the unsatisfactory state of things existing in his office.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Head Office, Land Board, Hay, 6 December, 1888.

In reply to your telegram of yesterday's date, in reference to an allegation by some person unnamed, to the effect that this office had been closed to the public for upwards of a week, I have the honor to state that, though the doors of the building were not closed, still there was no responsible official in attendance to furnish the public with information from Monday morning, the 26th November, 1888, until Friday morning, the 30th of that month, and during which period all correspondence remained unopened and unanswered.

The immediate causes of this state of matters were:—

- (1.) Absence of the Chairman on duty at Hillston.
- (2.) Absence of the clerk-in-charge on leave.

Respecting the last part of your telegram, I have the honor to request you to be so good as to explain to the Honorable the Minister for Lands that the Chairman's presence was not necessary under the Statute, and that his absence was compulsory thereunder, and that he was in no way responsible for the alleged state of disorganization of his office, consequent upon the absence of a substitute to take the place of the clerk-in-charge, who was absent on leave, on a date altered from that recommended by the Chairman.

I have, &amp;c.,

A. J. PARK,
Chairman.

P.S.—I enclose a letter from the clerk-in-charge, showing the nature of the special urgency which actuated him in applying for a change of date.—A. J. PARK, 8/12/88.

The Chairman and clerk-in-charge may be asked to state what directions were given to the clerks of the Board office to attend upon the public and provide for the requirements of public business during the absence of the clerk-in-charge from the 26th to the 30th November.—W.H., 22/12/88.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 8 December, 1888.

It appears desirable that I should explain the matters of special urgency, which caused me to apply for an alteration of the dates of my leave as recommended by you.

The facts are as follows:—On the morning of the 23rd ultimo I received an intimation from my wife that our younger child was dangerously ill, and apparently dying, and in accordance with her earnest request and my own wishes, I at once took steps to be present at his demise should it unfortunately occur. I was of course aware of the inconvenience which would or might arise owing to my absence from Head Office, but under the painful circumstances above-mentioned, I considered my application for leave justified.

I might add that I was ordered to at once remove the child, and that I believe him to be still seriously ill, two medical gentlemen being in daily attendance on him.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 21 December, 1888.

I have the honor to point out that the "Blue Books" for 1883 to 1887 show the date of my first appointment to be 1st January, 1883, while the dates shown in all "Blue Books" prior to 1883 is 16th April, 1869.

I first began to serve the Government of New South Wales in January, 1869, in the Harbours and Rivers Department as engineering draftsman, passed the examination for licensed surveyors on 16th April, 1869, and joined the Lands Department as surveyor in April, 1870, in which capacity I have served the Department until my appointment as Chairman Local Land Board, Hay, on 1st January, 1885.

I have the honor to respectfully request you to cause my period of service to be recorded as from April, 1870, since which date it has been continuous and unbroken in the same Department.

I have, &amp;c.,

A. J. PARK.

Before going into the merits of this application, I submit that Mr. Park should be called upon to explain his action in communicating direct with the Minister instead of the permanent head of the Department, as directed by circular of January, 1885.—S.F., 14/1/89.

It is open to me to take action of a severe character in regard to Mr. Chairman Park's apparently deliberate neglect in this matter. I prefer, however, to send the papers to the Board about to investigate the conduct of business at Hay.—S.F., B.C., 4/4/89. Mr. Chairman Conder.

No. 91.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 27 December, 1888.

Referring to your letter of the 23rd October last, in reply to a request of the late Under Secretary for Lands for an explanation—

1. As to why Mr. Davies was directed to sign his own name, &c., as stated by him?
2. Why an instruction was given by you that papers asked for by the Under Secretary were not at once forwarded to him?
3. Why the transmission of papers to the District Survey Office, to the detriment of despatch of business was suspended by your direction?

I am directed to inform you, that the Secretary for Lands is of opinion that you acted injudiciously in directing the clerk left in charge of the office—Mr. Davies—not to forward papers required here without first transmitting them to you at Balranald, or communicating with you by telegraph, and that your explanation on this point cannot be regarded as wholly satisfactory, and similarly with regard to the instructions not to send papers to the District Survey Office without first remitting them to Balranald, which involved a totally unnecessary delay in cases of a formal character.

I have also to point out that Mr. Boot, formerly acting clerk-in-charge, was ordered to return to Hay, in consequence of your representations as to the state of your office, and requested to report on the work, and from this report it appears that the staff were quite able to cope with the business up to the time he had left (ten days previously), and that the arrears, with the exception of cases which had been on your table prior to Mr. Boot's departure, on the 1st July, had accumulated subsequently.

Mr. Bruncker therefore considers it evident that you did not take the best means to forward the work, and that you are largely responsible for the unsatisfactory state of things existing in your office.

In conclusion, I have to request that you will be good enough in future to forward without delay any papers that may be asked for by me. Any impending action may be noted on such papers, either by yourself or the clerk-in-charge of the office, for my information.

I have, &c.,

STEPHEN FREEMAN,

Under Secretary.

No. 92.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney 27 December, 1888.

I have the honor to inform you that the Secretary for Lands has had under consideration your communication of the 5th ultimo, also certain telegrams in which you request a personal interview with me on matters relative to the work of your district, &c., I am directed to point out that you have deliberately ignored my request to communicate by letter the subject of the business you desired to discuss, and to inform you that the Secretary for Lands directed that officers of the Department seeking interviews with the Minister must do so through the Under Secretary, to whom they should first explain in writing the subject proposed to be dealt with.

With regard to the extra assistance alleged to be required in your office the Minister is of opinion that the business, being comparatively limited, is not too much for the present staff, but in consequence of the frequent withdrawal of one of the best clerks to act as a deposition clerk, a course perhaps not always necessary, it has been proposed to appoint a local junior. This has already been intimated to you, and as soon as you nominate an eligible person the appointment will be made.

I am also to state that it is not known to what you refer in regard to an alleged unanswered telegram, the subject whereof you have not specified.

I have to add that the tone of your letter, as well as of others received from you, is characterized by an irritability, and a spirit of insubordination which should not be displayed by an officer in your position, and the Minister desires it to be understood that with a view to preserving discipline in the Department it is certainly essential that all correspondence, and especially that passing between the higher class officials should be written in a temperate tone.

I have, &c.,

STEPHEN FREEMAN,

Under Secretary.

Circular to Chairmen, Land Boards.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 31 December, 1888.

In order to conserve the limited time at the disposal of the Secretary for Lands, myself, or other officers at head-quarters, I am directed to inform you that it is deemed advisable to suspend, as far as possible, personal consultation on matters relative to the administration of the law, or the conduct of the general business of local offices.

In the event of your considering at any time that exceptional reasons suggest the advisableness of an interview, I am to request that you will in the first instance inform me fully of the subject matter proposed to be discussed, in order that I may be in a position to advise accordingly, or to determine whether an interview with the Minister or myself is necessary.

It is considered desirable, however, that whenever possible official business should be dealt with through the medium of the post, or, in exceptionally urgent cases, the electric telegraph.

23 February, 1889.

CONCERNING Ministerial 88-11,036 issue between Davies and clerk in charge, I purpose holding the directed inquiry on Monday. Do you desire the evidence on oath or not in either case? Should the parties be examined separately, or in presence of each other? Do you desire to elicit any statements concerning the nature of the private quarrel to which Davies refers in his minute as being the origin of the subject issue? If convenient, will you please reply by wire to-day.

Sir,

Hay, 25 February, 1889.

I have the honor to invite your attention to the state of the relationship existing between Mr. Chairman Park and myself. <sup>1</sup>[For some considerable time past Mr. Park has been acting in the most arrogant and insulting manner towards me] apparently with a view to causing me to so far forget myself as to do something that would bring me under the condemnation of the Under-Secretary. The cause of it all, so far as I can judge, appears to be that <sup>2</sup>[I have urged the Chairman to adopt methods utterly opposed to those now used by him in the administration of this district and office, by which the public interests might be better satisfied and the staff made more efficient.] <sup>3</sup>[Mr. Chairman Park has informed me that he will obtain my removal from the position I have the honor to occupy], and I have to request that should any steps towards that end be in contemplation, I may have an opportunity of defending myself and my conduct.

I am compelled to bring this directly under the notice of the Under Secretary <sup>4</sup>[as the Chairman has stated that he will not forward my letter unless he approve of the contents], and moreover <sup>5</sup>[Mr. Park has a habit of locking up papers and carrying them about the district with him, so that no action can be taken, greatly to the prejudice of the action required thereon].

I have, &c.,

I have, &amp;c.,

A. J. PARK,

Mr. Chairman Park should specify fully what is meant by the clerk in charge exceeding his functions, and whether the occasion of his rude and insulting behaviour was the inquiry into charges preferred by Mr. Atterbury against Mr. Davies. Ask.—S.F., 14/3/89.

Deniliquin, 14/3/89.

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 12 March, 1889.

By the incompetence and negligence of Mr. O'Hanlon the work at records in this office has been allowed to get into arrears. Several times since I have taken charge the staff have had to stay in to bring up the arrears of Mr. O'Hanlon's work. Since then I have taken over part of his work myself, and thus sought to afford him relief, but with no beneficial effect.

In my opinion, the work allotted to Mr. O'Hanlon should not occupy an ordinarily efficient clerk the full period of an official day.

I have previously, on papers, required Mr. O'Hanlon to work overtime; but, in consequence of reasons verbally adduced, as to the heat of the weather, I have refrained from pressing the matter, in order to prevent trouble in the office as far as possible.

I have the honor to request early attention to the enclosed paper, on which he declined to work late.

I have, &amp;c.,

BASIL J. ATTERBURY
(Pro Chairman).

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

(B.)

Hay, 12 March, 1889.

YESTERDAY Mr. O'Hanlon was instructed by me to work late at the office, in order to bring up the arrears of work (caused by his incompetency and negligence).

He worked till 6 o'clock, and, although I personally worked at his arrears till 10 o'clock, he did not again come near the office.

This morning, when spoken to on the subject, Mr. O'Hanlon told me he thought 6 o'clock was late enough, and that he would not work later.

I have now to request Mr. O'Hanlon to stay at the office till 6 p.m., and from 7 p.m. till 10 p.m., till the arrears of work are brought up to date.

Mr. O'Hanlon.

I decline to work from 7 p.m. till 10 p.m.—W. O'H., 12/3/89. The clerk in charge.

B. J. ATTERBURY.

(C.)

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 11 March, 1889.

I have the honor to report for your information that Mr. W. O'Hanlon is incompetent to perform the duties of a clerk in this office, and that in his work he is utterly unreliable.

I have therefore to request that steps may be taken with a view to his removal and the appointment of an efficient officer in his place.

I may add this has been the subject of verbal communication with the Chairman.

I have, &amp;c.,

BASIL J. ATTERBURY.

Memo.

WILL Mr. C. H. Davies please state herein his objections to working at night (in order to bring up the arrears of office work) as requested by me.—B. J. A., 13/3/89.

While fully acknowledging the absolute necessity of overtime work in order to complete the quarterly returns, now nine months in arrears, I would respectfully submit that it is most injurious to health to be confined to a small room in this trying climate for thirteen hours daily, the latter three of which would be under the glare of four gas jets in a room 20 x 15 ft. As the staff of this office has never been adequate to the duties to be performed it has always fallen to my lot to perform the largest proportion of the work, which has necessitated considerable night-work.

I have suffered from weak eye-sight for some years past, and during my four years stay in Hay the trying climate and close confinement to the office has considerably weakened my eyes, and I am now compelled to use glasses. I could no doubt comply with your request to work at night, but it would be under very trying circumstances, and I would be glad to be exempted from the overtime between 7 and 10 p.m.

I trust I have hitherto expressed a willingness to comply with similar demands, and this is not an exception, but a case of necessity.

If desirable I shall consult a medical man with a view to ascertaining if the glare of gas-light would be injurious to my sight.

The clerk in charge.

Sir,

Head Office, Local Land Board, Hay, 8 March, 1889.

I have the honor to report upon certain charges against me laid before you by Mr. Basil J. Atterbury, on 25th February, 1889, in Minl. 89/1,825 herewith, such report being called for by your B.C. to me of 27th February, 1889, on same document.

REPORT.

Charge 1.—I have not been either arrogant or insulting towards Mr. Atterbury.

Charge 2.—I am responsible for the administration of this Land Board District, and did not seek nor require proposals of a reorganization from Mr. Atterbury, who possesses but five months and eight days experience (to date) of Land Board Office work.

Charge 3.—Is an untruth.

Charge 4.—Is part of a truth.

Charge 5.—I am not aware that I obstruct public business by carrying papers about to the different Land Board Meetings or by locking them up.

Sir,

Head Office, Local Land Board, Hay, 8 March, 1889.

I have the honor to state in reply to your request in the letter named in the margin that I have made an inquiry (not upon oath), and each of the clerks in this office deny having stated to Mr. Allen Lakeman, M.P., that "they had received instructions not to go to the office to work during the absence of the Chief Clerk or Chairman."

I have further to report that the clerk in charge (Mr. Atterbury) was most insulting in his behaviour to me during the progress of the inquiry, and I had at length to cause him to leave the room,—for, in the course of my dictation of a passage to be placed on the record, the clerk in charge interrupted me with the statement,—"That's not true." The statement thus denied by the clerk in charge, will be found on page 5 of the record herewith, and is attested by three witnesses.

The subject matter of this inquiry appears to be connected with that of my letter to you of 6th November, 1888—re closing of this office for a week,—to which I would beg to refer you.

I have, &amp;c.,

A. J. PARK,

Chairman.

[Enclosure.]

RECORD of Inquiry by Chairman, L.L.B., Hay: Transmitted to the Under Secretary for Lands with my B.C. of this date.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay, 8/3/89.

Mr. Atterbury states that he knows nothing of the subject of the letter and did not inform Mr. Lakeman.

Mr. Davies states that he gave Mr. Lakeman certain information, viz., Mr. Lakeman and Mr. Robertson called to the office on the 27th November last, and he (Mr. Davies) was then away at the District Survey Office, and Mr. O'Hanlon received them.

Mr. Davies further said: I found Mr. Lakeman and Mr. Robertson at the office on my return, and was asked by Mr. Lakeman where the clerk in charge was, and who was taking his place: I told him no one was appointed to take his place, and he had left town for a few days; he asked for certain official information, and I told him I did not know that I had a right to give it him, because under the Chairman's instructions no clerks in the office except clerk in charge were allowed to give information to the public, and I had not been appointed to act as clerk in charge; Mr. Lakeman said that he would soon get the information he asked me for, by a telegram to the Under Secretary for Lands; I then said I would give the information and take the responsibility; this was all I said to him on the subject either privately or officially; there is a document in the office to the effect that clerks [Mr. Davies here asked for permission to get the document, which was accordingly sent for; document brought, copy herewith, page 9—see L.B.D. 88-6,010]; the clerk in charge handed me the key of the office on the morning of the day he went to Sydney, but gave me no instructions as regards the conduct of the office during his absence; as far as I am concerned, there is no colour or basis to the statement mentioned by the Under Secretary, as having been made by Mr. Lakeman, vide his letter of the 4th January, 1889.

Being asked if he had any voluntary statement to make,—

Mr. Davies said: Mr. Lakeman exhibited considerable annoyance at the office being left without some one in charge; I also felt considerable annoyance at not being appointed in charge temporarily during the absence of the clerk in charge, thinking that after four years service in the office, I was entitled to it; this is all I wish to say.

To the clerk in charge: I was never under the impression that there were any instructions that clerks were not to enter the office in office hours, during the absence of the clerk in charge and the Chairman.

The above was read over to me, and is quite correct.

C. HERBERT DAVIES,
Local Land Board,

Hay, 25 February, 1889.

Mr. O'Hanlon states: I was in the office when Mr. Lakeman and Mr. Robertson called, on the 27th November last, and told them I had no authority to give them any information, but would ask Mr. Davies to see them when he came back, as he was the senior officer; Mr. Lakeman did not receive any information from me to warrant the statement made in the Under Secretary's letter of the 4th January, 1889.

Voluntarily: I thought that by the general tenor of the memo., L.B.D. 88-6,010, I had no right to be in the office during the absence of the clerk in charge; Mr. Lakeman was considerably annoyed, and said he would seek the information from the Under Secretary for Lands, if it was not given locally.

To the clerk in charge: I carefully read L.B.D. 88-6,010 and initialled it; I am not aware of ever having told Mr. Lakeman that I was under instructions not to enter the office during the absence of the clerk in charge and the Chairman; if Mr. Lakeman says he obtained the information referred to in the letter of the 4th January, 1889, from the Under Secretary for Lands from me, the statement is incorrect, as far as my memory serves me; If I had made such a statement to Mr. Lakeman I think I should have remembered it; if Mr. Lakeman informed the clerk in charge that I was his authority for his statement to the Under Secretary for Lands, he was wrong. I have heard Mr. Davies' statements, and, as far as I know, they are true.

To Mr. Davies: I heard you make the reply to Mr. Lakeman that you have stated you made.

The above was read over to me, and is quite correct.

WILLIAM O'HANLON,
25/2/89.
Mr.

Mr. Atterbury states: I never gave any of the clerks the instructions mentioned in the Under Secretary's letter; I gave those mentioned on L.B.D. 88-6,010; when I left Hay, on leave, on the 25th November, 1883, I gave Mr. Davies the keys of the office and the post-office box, and thus recognised his position as senior officer during my absence; as far as I remember, I gave him the general instructions to keep the work going as well as he could, and I would be back in about four days; this was verbal and not in writing. I gave no particular instructions as to what to do with the public when they called, and what I did say was more in the form of a farewell salutation than formal official instructions for his guidance; I considered Mr. Davies quite competent to do what was right in the office during my absence, without special instructions. Mr. Lakeman has expressed himself as quite willing, when called upon, to state who was the author of the statement conveyed by him to the Under Secretary for Lands.

Voluntary.

Taken down from the Chairman's dictation, as a record, and is true.—W. LION VOLCKMAN, C. HERBERT DAVIES, WILLIAM O'HANLON.

Here Mr. Atterbury desired to state who it was that Mr. Lakeman said was the author, and while the Chairman was considering the advisableness of recording it on the papers referring to this inquiry, Mr. Atterbury offered some advice as to the mode of conducting the inquiry. The Chairman said that he was merely asking for voluntary statements and not for advice. Mr. Atterbury said he made the remarks as voluntary statements, and if the Chairman did not take it down, he would report to the Under Secretary for Lands that the inquiry was not complete.

While writing above, Mr. Atterbury interrupted with the exclamation, "That's not true."
The Chairman then requested Mr. Atterbury to leave the room.

Mr. Volckman states: I was away from Hay during the absence of the clerk in charge. I know nothing whatever of the statement alleged to have been made to Mr. Lakeman, and did not make it to him.

W. LION. VOLCKMAN.
25 February, 1889.

Memo.—It has been the practice I find, in this office, to leave one of the doors constantly open, i.e., unlocked, for the purpose of giving access to the office cleaner. That the office should be left in such a state all night is a matter for astonishment, and the practice cannot be too severely condemned. A duplicate key of one of the back doors may perhaps be obtained for the use of the office cleaner.—B. J. ATTERBURY, 22/10/88. The Chairman.

The office should and must be locked up securely at night from within. The officer cleaner must be supplied with a latch-key, and the rules as to gentlemen occupying their places in the office after official hours, adopted at Head Office, Sydney, must be carried out here.—A. J. PARK, 22/10/88. The clerk in charge.

Mr. Davies has, I understand, a latch-key, which he will be good enough to return to me. Mr. O'Hanlon will not, in future, remove the key from the public door. No officer will be permitted to be in the office after office hours, unless with the knowledge and permission of the clerk in charge. This is to be initialled and noted by the officers.—B.J.A., 22/10/88. Mr. Volckman, Mr. Davies, Mr. O'Hanlon. Seen.—W.L.V.

The key that was in my possession has been mislaid. I will endeavour to find it this evening.—C.H.D., 22/10/88. Seen.—W. O'H. Mr. Davies has handed me the key, which I have in turn given to the office cleaner, with specific instructions, which will be repeated in writing.—B.J.A., 23/10/88. Letter to Mrs. Radcliffe this day.—B.J.A., 25/10/88. Put away. Referred to in an inquiry on 25/2/89, and a copy attached to the record thereof this day.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 8/3/89.

No. 108.

The Chairman, Land Board Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Head Office, Local Land Board, Hay, 8th March, 1889.

In accordance with the direction conveyed to me in the minute of the Honorable the Minister for Lands, transmitted to me by your B.C. of 19/12/88, on Minl. 88-11,048, L.B.D. 89-961, I have the honor to report that I have held the inquiry directed on "the issue between the clerk in charge, Hay, and Mr. Davies, clerk therein," and that it was conducted in terms of your telegram of 25th February, 1889. Both parties were present.

I deprecated the introduction of private affairs, which were not therefore enlarged upon by Mr. Davies in his defence.

All parties and witnesses were invited to give their evidence on oath; all did so, voluntarily and cheerfully, except the clerk in charge, who with rudeness and impertinence refused to be sworn, and denied my power to enforce it, and that he would not be sworn if so directed by you.

The inquiry then proceeded by the clerk in charge making an unsworn statement, and concluded by his declaring he withdrew his charge against Mr. Davies, but would afford no explanation for such a course (please see record).

Then Mr. Davies, reading from a written sheet (see copy, page 40 of the record herewith), asked the clerk in charge to add that his charges were without foundation, &c., or he (Davies) would claim to make a statement to disprove them.

On the refusal of the clerk in charge, Mr. Davies was sworn (vide depositions), when the clerk in charge endeavoured to leave the room, alleging that, having withdrawn his charge, the proceedings had no further interest for him, and he had registration to do, he further abandoned his claim to any privileges of cross-examination. With an effort I succeeded in causing him to remain, being desirous of adhering to your telegraphic directions, and further, in hope of eliciting all the truth, I permitted the clerk in charge to cross-examine Mr. Davies and his witnesses. The clerk in charge had thus great advantages.

I have confined the inquiry rigidly to the issue between the clerk in charge and Mr. Davies, and the evidence is now forwarded for your judgment. The clerk in charge appears to have been in a state of quarrel with the only two clerks under his immediate control for some time, and is in that state with one of them—Mr. W. O'Hanlon—in connection with which statement please see my letter to you of this date, transmitting L.B.D. 89-892.

I may add that Mr. Davies appears to feel that his position is rather trying, for he has six years and six months service and four years and two months Land Board Office experience against three years and six months service and only five months and eight days experience in Land Board Office of the clerk in charge.

In conclusion, I have to express my regret that this inquiry has not been made earlier; but my leave and absence on official duties in remote townships has prevented it taking place.

RECORD of inquiry by Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay, re issue between Mr. Davies and the clerk in charge Local Land Board, Hay. Transmitted with my covering letter.—B.C. of this date.

A. J. PARK,
Chairman, Hay, 8/3/89.

Mr.

Mr. Atterbury clerk in charge states : This paper 88-5571 was marked by me to Mr. Davies on the 20th November 1888. No action between that date and my next reference to Mr. Davies on 11th December, 1888, I cannot say how I discovered the delay, probably by accident. Mr. Davies returned the paper to me on the 13th December, 1888, with the necessary documents prepared, but not replying to my minute of the 11th December, 1888, which was "why has this not received attention before, urgent?" On the same date I wrote a question to Mr. Davies asking him to reply to my minute of the 11th December, 1888, and state hereunder why it is still unanswered. Mr. Davies answered it on the same date. Being dissatisfied with his answer I sent the paper on to the Under Secretary for Lands, on the 14th December, 1888, by a minute written under Mr. Davies. I also wrote a covering letter and sent all the papers in the case, in that covering letter. I stated in my minute under Mr. Davies' that I could not understand its meaning, knew nothing to help me to interpret it, that Mr. Davies had lately done his duties in a perfunctory manner causing delay which I place on record on the papers. I said the tone was such as to take the matter out of my hands, and that Mr. Davies' attitude of insubordination prevented my doing the work to satisfaction. The covering letter I sent to the Under Secretary for Lands was a reiteration of my minute on the papers, together with some additions relating to Mr. Davies' verbal explanation to me of the passage in his minute underlined. I underlined it. The words are "directed against me on official papers." I also stated that Mr. Davies' manner was insulting to me, and in consequence I had to avoid personal reference to him. There was no intention on my part to annoy Mr. Davies or hurt his feelings in any way, in the minute I wrote which called forth his reply. I do not wish to expatiate on my reasons for writing my minute and letter of the 14th December, 1888. I now desire to withdraw the charge of insubordination made by me against Mr. Davies and also that with respect to the perfunctory performance of his duties. The whole charge is included in this withdrawal.

Mr. Davies has no questions.

To the Chairman.—I have no explanation to make of my reasons for wishing to withdraw the charges.

B. J. ATTERBURY, 26/2/89.

Mr. Atterbury withdraws his charges against me : I desire that he be requested to add, that in making such serious charges, he had not the slightest foundation for them, and that he should also state, he was not influenced, or advised in any way, by any one in withdrawing the charge. Otherwise, I must, with a view to my own protection, request that the investigation be carried to its fullest extent in order that I may be afforded an opportunity of establishing my innocence.

C. HERBERT DAVIES.

[For previous proceedings see 1 A, 2 B, and 3 C, and 4 D.]

February 28, 1889.

At this period Mr. Atterbury desired to withdraw, on the grounds that having withdrawn the charges the proceedings had no further interest for him, and he wished to go on with his work. The Chairman said he would take the responsibility of any delay to the work, if that were the only reason he had for wishing to withdraw, but he preferred the clerk in charge remaining and asking any questions of Mr. Davies, if he desired, and generally hearing the whole of the case. Mr. Atterbury said he would not take advantage of the right to ask any questions having withdrawn the charges.

Charles Herbert Davies on oath states :—I am a junior temporary clerk in the Land Board Office, Hay, and my immediate superior officer is the clerk in charge at present, Mr. B. J. Atterbury. I am charged by the clerk in charge of this Local Land Board office and am called upon by the Minister to explain (1) exhibiting a spirit of insubordination, (2) performing my duties in a perfunctory manner, (3) delaying the official administration of the office. I now state that the above charges are not true, and trust that the following statement I wish to make on oath will clearly establish my innocence, and the facts of the case as heard by you (the Chairman) will receive the full consideration of the Honorable the Minister for Lands. I desire first of all to make a most unconditional apology to the Under Secretary for Lands for allowing myself to write such a minute as that initialled C.H.D., 13/12/88, on L.B.D., 88/5571, an official document; and I am quite ready to acknowledge that my conduct was a breach of official etiquette, but I desire to plead as an excuse, that I was smarting under wrongs done me by the clerk in charge, and also that he directed me to write my reply "hereunder," otherwise I should have written it on a blank cover. For this offence I ask the Minister to deal with me as leniently as possible, promising not to allow a recurrence. Any other charges are not true, and the clerk in charge's (Mr. Atterbury) withdrawal of the same is, I trust, a sufficient proof that they cannot be substantiated. I have been in this Land Board office four years, ever since its establishment, and am the oldest officer here. My efforts to give every satisfaction to my senior officers, to fulfil the duties allotted me, has been my greatest effort; and I am pleased to say that until a month or six weeks after Mr. Atterbury's arrival here as clerk in charge, I had been successful, and I can confidently refer for a verification of my statement to the former clerks in charge, viz. : Messrs. M'Guinn, Crew, Boot (acting twice), Ward, Gale (acting), and Lackey. Those gentlemen would, I am sure, give proof as to my general character and qualifications if referred to. Mr. Atterbury, the present clerk in charge, commenced duties on the 1st of October in 1888 in this office. Almost all his actions were a thorough reformation in the system of working the office, particularly records. I did not like the new arrangements of the clerk in charge, and proceeded to Sydney a few days after and sought an interview with the now Under Secretary for Lands, Mr. Freeman, then assistant Under Secretary, and also with a gentleman in the head office, Sydney, to whom Mr. Atterbury referred me, with a view to effecting an exchange. Mr. Freeman did me the honor to inform me that my services were too valuable to admit of my being removed from the Hay office; and that as I knew the work so well, and been spoken so highly of by every one, it would be unjust to the Chairman, unjust to the clerk in charge, and unjust to the other officers, to transfer me. I thanked Mr. Freeman for his kindness, and returned to Hay. The clerk in charge treated me with the utmost kindness on my return from Sydney, expressing regret that my efforts to obtain a transfer had been unsuccessful, and trusted that we would get along alright. He expressed satisfaction at my performances of my duties, and very frequently referred to me in a friendly manner as to how certain duties were to be performed, which he was not well acquainted with—his experience of board office matters being limited. This continued for a few weeks, until an occurrence of a private matter in the town happened, in which I thought Mr. Atterbury considered I had taken part against him (Mr. Atterbury). I do not desire to state what this private matter was, and think I can establish my innocence without doing so, but if not, I am ready to say what it was. I regret to say that Mr. Atterbury allowed his identity in this private matter to interfere with his attitude as clerk in charge towards me, and owing to this, and I know of no other reason, we became bad friends, though previously good friendship had existed. Then Mr. Atterbury's remarks on official papers were directed against me as to my carelessness, the performance of my duties, and in every case where he could hurt my feelings. Also a minute he wrote in the Time-book, which read as follows :—"Mr. Davies will be good enough to explain why he signed 9, as above, when he arrived at 9-20.—B.J.A., 13/12/88." "The entry of my time of arrival refers to Thursday, 13th December, 1888. I replied I am so seldom late, and am so accustomed to sign 9, that I did so inadvertently this morning. When I arrived at 9-20, I went to Mr. Atterbury and apologised for being late, and Mr. Atterbury accepted my apology. C.H.D., 13/12/88." "Seen.—B.J.A., 14/12/88." These minutes were written after my apology.—C.H.D. I feel sure that under any other circumstances that minute would not have been written by Mr. Atterbury. I had at this time over 200 printed letters to prepare in a few days prior to your (the Chairman's) departure on circuit. I was compelled to make all haste with these letters, principally certificates of confirmation, disallowance and refund vouchers. I submitted them to the clerk in charge for his examination, and where a clerical error had occurred he would write on this document, "Great carelessness has been exhibited," and "More care must be exercised in future." I can say nothing further of these cases, as the documents have disappeared from the papers without my knowledge. They were not registered documents. I will refer to another minute by Mr. Atterbury, on the papers of special lease 88-5, Hay L.B.D., 88-6,676, where the clerk in charge minuted the original application, previous to its being entered in the Special Lease Register, as follows :—"The Acting District Surveyor for report.—B.J.A." This was all he wrote. Then Mr. Atterbury attached a memo. note form addressed to me, "For notation in the first place.—B.J.A., 13/11/88." This was followed by, "This application was not entered in the Special Lease Register. Is a copy of the application to be made as usual, or the original application to be forwarded to the Acting District Surveyor for report, in accordance with your minute on L.B.D., 88-6,676, undated.—C.H.D., 7/12/88," addressed to the Clerk-in-charge. A minute by the clerk in charge follows :—"This paper has already been minuted by me to Mr. Davies for notation, which is the official term for notation in the appropriate register. The minute on L.B.D. 88-6,676 is undated, and therefore of no effect. Mr. Davies memo. I regard as frivolous, and its only effect is to waste time.—B.J.A., 10/12/88." I desire to say that such minutes on official papers need not have been written, but at that time, had Mr. Atterbury and I been on speaking terms, I should have taken the paper to him, and asked his directions, and asked him if he intended forwarding the original application to the Survey Office. With reference to the minute in the Time-book, I wish to state that a like occurrence would always have been accepted by Mr. Atterbury prior to our quarrel and since we have made friends] friends. With reference to the case in which my minute is written, the basis of inquiry is connected L.B.D., 88-5,571. I cannot say that the papers were with me all the time, as the records of the office will not show that they were with me all the time; that is, between the 20th November, 1888, and 13th December, 1888. I contend that had Mr. Atterbury and I been good friends at the time, he would not have asked me in such a manner why I had delayed the case. With reference to the two cases which were sent to Sydney with this case, to make it appear stronger against me, viz., L.B.D., 88-6,623 and 88-6,624, similar minutes were put on those papers as to the delay, &c. Those cases referred to Public Watering Places and Tenants' Leases. They require a notice written for exhibition of tracings, and are very complicated cases, and I have at all times given the routine work of the office more consideration than they, particularly work in the office in regard to settlement on the land, and I should say that if an unusual delay occurred in these cases it was due to the fact that I had too much other work to do. Since these papers came back for this inquiry the clerk in charge asked me verbally to explain the delay on the papers, which I have done, and my explanation accepted by him. I have endeavoured by this to show that I have not been guilty of delaying the official administration of this office by detaining the three cases specified longer than necessary, when some thousands of documents must have passed through my hands during the period of delay. Before continuing, I desire to state that I am not stating this general case from any ill-feeling at present existing between the clerk in charge and myself, officially or otherwise, or has existed during the past six weeks or two months; but my endeavour is to establish my innocence of charges which were brought against me nearly three months ago, which charges, I believe, existed more in the imagination of the clerk in charge than in reality. Mr. Atterbury's ill-feeling was further directed against me in a matter where he purchased a hand-bell for use in his room, with the object of ringing for Mr. O'Hanlon, a clerk, junior to me, sitting in the next room to the clerk in charge, which bell Mr. O'Hanlon one day declined to answer. Mr. Atterbury informed me that he held me responsible for the bell not being answered. Mr. Atterbury again rang the bell, and it was not answered either by Mr. O'Hanlon or myself, which led to Mr. Atterbury's minute of 4/12/88 on L.L.B. 88-6,948. On the bell again not being answered, a minute was written by Mr. Atterbury in the margin of former minute of 4/12/88, which is now totally obliterated, but which I read before obliteration. It was addressed to the Chairman, and charged me with using my influence with Mr. O'Hanlon against the clerk in charge and against answering the bell, and reporting my position in the office as being very unsatisfactory. For further action in this case I refer to the papers which I wish to put in as evidence (Exhibits A, B, and C). [Mr. Atterbury objects to this being taken, and Mr. Davies voluntarily states he will not give it, but will call Mr. O'Hanlon as a witness. The Chairman reminded Mr. Atterbury that he had voluntarily abandoned his privileges. Mr. Atterbury said that he proposed to take advantage of the courtesy of the Chairman in the first instance, and would exercise the privileges previously refused by him, Mr. Atterbury.] Mr. O'Hanlon, on being questioned by Mr. Atterbury, gave him to distinctly understand

Mr. Atterbury subsequently obliterated the minute of 5/12/88 on L.B.D. 6,948, in my opinion because he discovered that I was in no way implicated in the bell not being answered. I desire to draw attention to my letter, with the papers dated 10/12/88, and the Chairman's minute of same date thereon, permitting the papers to be cancelled and placed to records, but not destroyed. From the date that Mr. Atterbury reported me in connection with the bell till two or three weeks afterwards we did not speak at all, therefore personal intercourse was avoided on both sides. At the expiry of the mentioned two or three weeks, Mr. Atterbury, in the presence of Mr. Volckman, made me a full apology for wrongfully accusing me of influencing Mr. O'Hanlon, and for being connected with the production of an article in the Riverine Record—a local paper—written about the bell. Date of apology unknown. The apology was also for thinking of me wrongfully in connection with Mr. Lakeman being supplied with information about the office (vide Minl. 89-6), and not registered in this office; being letter from the Under Secretary for Lands, dated 4/1/89, addressed to A. J. Park, Esq., J.P., Chairman Local Land Board, Hay, and L.B.D., 89-1,147, and other papers attached. Mr. Atterbury withdrew the charges, and regretted that anything should have occurred to mar the friendship that had existed, and trusted that good friendship would continue in the future; and it has continued, officially. I contend that I did not before, at that time or since, show Mr. Atterbury any signs other than of the utmost respect due to his office, and with the exception of evincing a spirit of insubordination in my minute, the basis of this inquiry, on 88-5,571, L.B.D., for which I have already apologised to the Under Secretary for Lands, and for which I am ready, now or at any time, to apologise to Mr. Atterbury, as clerk in charge of this office, I cannot otherwise consider myself guilty of insubordination; no charges such as that stand against me before Mr. Atterbury's chargeship of this office, or since the date of his apology to me; to further support my endeavours to show that this arose out of the bad friendship existing, I must make reference to L.B.D. 88-7,157 paper in connection with overtime work, which Mr. Atterbury considered necessary about that time; he telegraphed to the Under Secretary for Lands on the 14th December, 1888, for permission to detain the staff overtime, and on the 15th of the same month I reported to him that my work was, up to date, at his request, dated 11th December, 1888 (exhibits D, E, F, G, H, J, K, No. 1); I wish the papers put in evidence; they show that Mr. O'Hanlon made a similar reply, on same date, to a similar request of 11th December, 1888, that his work would be, up to date, two days later, viz., on the 17th December, 1888; on that day (the 17th) the clerk in charge directed the staff work twenty-four hours a week overtime, although the current work of the office was reported up to date; this direction was not observed by Mr. O'Hanlon or myself until 3rd January, 1889, and no overtime was done by Mr. Atterbury's direction at that time or since; the staff have at intervals worked overtime since, but voluntarily, and not on being asked by the clerk in charge; I wish here to put in as evidence Exhibit L, a list of the duties I perform, in connection with which the duties are so great that I have always been compelled to work very hard to keep my work in a satisfactory condition; I have performed those duties satisfactorily long before Mr. Atterbury came to this office, and am doing so still to his satisfaction; I cannot, therefore, acknowledge that I have performed my duties in a perfunctory manner, and I trust the result of my efforts to do the work allotted me, and acting in a conscientious manner, will speak for itself; this comprises my voluntary statement, and I wish to call Mr. O'Hanlon.

Called by Mr. Davies. William O'Hanlon, on oath, states:—I am a clerk in the Local Land Board Office at Hay; I have been in this office as record clerk for a little over twelve months, except during Mr. Gibson's stay, who was so acting when I first came, but on his departure, Mr. Boot, acting clerk in charge, put me in charge of the records; except the document (L.B.D. 88-5,571), the basis of this inquiry, I know of no papers in this office accusing you of insubordination, performing your duties in a perfunctory manner, or of delaying the official administration, and have never heard any of the clerks in charge say anything to that effect verbally; I have always heard your character and work in the office spoken of in the highest terms; as an officer of the department I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that I have been in two Board offices, and that you (Mr. Davies) not only performed more work than any clerk in it, but, as far as my opinion goes, understands the work thoroughly; I am aware that some time ago you and Mr. Atterbury were not on speaking terms; I cannot call to memory the reason; during that time I noticed no insubordination on your part, or any delay of the work; I must say that Mr. Atterbury's treatment of the clerks during that time was not what it should have been; I am aware that he made certain remarks on an official document about answering his call bell; he taxed me with having been influenced by you in not answering the bell, and I told him on one occasion that it was not so; I am aware that you and Mr. Atterbury became again on speaking terms, since which time he has treated you cordially and respectfully, and has shown great confidence in your knowledge of the work.

To Mr. Atterbury :—I consider myself a competent clerk; I decline to swear that I am capable of judging Mr. Davies' competency; Mr. Davies never influenced me in not answering the bell; I saw the paper on which you wrote certain minutes concerning the bell, and marked them off to the Chairman; there was a time when, in my opinion, you did not show confidence in Mr. Davies' knowledge of the work; that was when you altered the system of work; you showed it by calling upon him, on certain papers, which I cannot call to memory, to be more careful; I do not know whether there were any errors in the cases, as I do not examine them; I saw those remarks when the papers were passing through records; considering the high opinion formed of Mr. Davies by former clerks in charge, I thought the remarks uncalled for.

Called

Called by Mr. Davies.—Wilfred Lionel Volckman, on oath, states: I am a clerk in the Land Board Office, Hay, and have been so two and a half years, and have known you all that time; I have been here under the clerk in chargeships of Messrs. Crew, Boot, Ward, Boot, Lackey, and Atterbury; I am not aware of the precise nature of the duties of a second clerk—that is, the clerk next to the clerk in charge; I am aware that you have charge of all the registers in the office except records, and so far as I have seen have prepared all the printed letters in connection with the Board's decision, and other things which I could not precisely define; so far as I am competent to judge, I think you have performed your duties satisfactorily, and to the satisfaction of the various clerks in charge before Mr. Atterbury in so far that I have never heard any serious complaint against you, and cannot remember your having been accused of having performed your duties in a perfunctory manner, having been insubordinate, or of having caused great delay and obstruction to public business, as in this minute and letter, the basis of inquiry; I have not noticed any difference in the performance of your duties since Mr. Atterbury came to this office; amongst our mutual friends outside the office, I know that you bear a good reputation in private life; I am not well acquainted with people outside the town; at present you are on good terms of friendship with Mr. Atterbury.

Mr. Atterbury.—I have never seen minutes by previous clerks in charge condemnatory of Mr. Davies beyond trifling matters; I do not remember seeing any minutes of yours condemnatory of Mr. Davies beyond trifling matters, and those on paper produced at this inquiry.

[Mr. Atterbury here states that there appears to be a great difference in putting down answers to questions asked by him and those asked by Mr. Davies, and asked that he could call Mr. O'Hanlon and Mr. Volckman at a later stage, as he was not permitted to ask them questions except on the evidence of those gentlemen already elicited.]

*To Mr. Atterbury.—Charles Herbert Davies, recalled, states on oath:—I say your charges against me are untrue, and that you made them, knowing them to be so; the reformation in the system of records made by you was not the sole cause of my seeking an exchange; I desired a change into a more congenial climate after being here so many years, and the desire became greater in consequence of the new system being started; I consulted you about the probability of my being able to exchange, and you gave me certain advice in the matter, and the name of a personal friend of yours in the head office, who you thought might be willing to exchange with me; I would not like to say for certain whether the subject of the exchange was first broached by me; at that time you and I were on the most friendly terms; My dislike to the new system was not so great as to make me wish to leave the office, but I found that under that system I would be unable to do my work to my own satisfaction and that of my superior officers; I never spoke to you on this subject; I had a headache on morning of the 13th December, when I arrived late at the office; I was not irritable when I came to the office, but became so afterwards; I think the minute in the Time-book was disrespectful after accepting my apology for my late arrival; I swear that I made an apology, but cannot remember the phraseology; I won't swear that I did or did not merely put my head in your door and say "I am a little late this morning," and then leave without giving you time to make any remark; I remember the minute of the 13th December, 1888, the basis of this inquiry; the minute of the 11th December, 1888, on L.B.D. 88-5,571, is a proper minute for a clerk in charge to ask; your minute of 13th December, 1888, uncombined with anything else is a proper one, but combined the other causes of difference between us; I consider it was not a proper one to write; It has been my opinion that it is not part of my duty to prepare for exhibition the notices relating to travelling stock routes (I have been told so by Mr. Boot); when I have been instructed by any of the clerks in charge to prepare these notices I have left them over pending completion of more urgent and important work; I did not consult you as to how long they should be allowed to stand over; I never had an opinion as to how long they should stand over; I saw the minute now erased on L.B.D. 88-6,948, when the papers were in the record room; it was not then erased; the paper was not referred to me officially, but I read the minute, which affected me, and I wrote an official letter to the Chairman, and saw him personally on the subject, without reference to you, as we were then not on speaking terms, as you say in your letter of 14th December last, L.B. 89-961, "I have avoided personal reference to him"; I was not aware you had asked for permission to withdraw your minute at the time I wrote to the Chairman; there was something passed between Mr. O'Hanlon and me about the bell after your minute was written, L.B. 86-6,948; I think I remember telling him that if he thought he was right he ought to see it through; I remember you telling me that you had a suspicion that I was concerned in writing to the Riverine Record, a local paper, a paragraph about you, and that you found you had made mistake, and apologised; the Chairman never spoke to me on the subject; during the time the bad friendship existed between you and me, your conduct to me both officially and privately was certainly not what it should have been in my opinion; I am of a very sensitive nature, and am subject at times to fits of depression of spirit, during which I try to get along as well as I can; I may have had a touch of the blues for a brief period during the few weeks that we did not speak (exhibit J); my report as to the work being up to date was correct, so was Mr. O'Hanlon's; Mr. O'Hanlon was then record clerk; the indexing of record registers was then very much in arrears; the staff have many times worked overtime the hours that you asked the Under Secretary to authorise principally voluntarily; mine and Mr. O'Hanlon's reports as to our work being up to date referred to current work only; I don't remember any arrangements being come to about doing the arrears in overtime after Christmas; the preparation of all returns is a part of my duty; the September quarterly returns were not prepared then, neither were those for the quarter ending 30th June, 1888; the monthly returns were also not prepared; they are up to date now, except January and February, the latter being a "nil" return; I have not seen anything in your conduct to any of the clerks either insulting or ungentlemanly; I am aware that you have not been on speaking terms with some of the clerks, but I do not know the reason; I have never known you refuse to speak to a clerk when he has spoken to you; I have never known you to speak to a clerk insultingly or in an improper manner; there is no matter of complaint between you and me now.*

C. HERBERT DAVIES.

Called by Mr. Atterbury, with Chairman's consent.—Wilfred Lionel Volckman, on oath, states:—I am a clerk in the Local Land Board Office, Hay; I returned from Hillston on the 3rd December, 1888, and departed on leave on 12th of same month, and between those dates attended at the office as a member of the staff; during that time I never saw anything in your conduct to any of the other clerks which I consider improper, ungentlemanly, or insulting, nor at any other time; I have heard the various minutes from you to Mr. Davies read at this inquiry, and do not consider them improper; I am aware that Mr. Davies has been subject to fits of depression, during which I have sometimes found him difficult to get on with officially; I have known Mr. Davies during these times to be irritable; I think that Mr. Davies is liable to take offence where none is meant; I do not remember whether Mr. Davies was suffering from one of these fits between the 3rd and 12th December, 1888.

To Mr. Davies:—I do not think the fits of depression interfere with your official duties, but I consider these questions are difficult to answer; I believe I know the foundation of the quarrel between you and Mr. Atterbury; it was not through any mental depression of yours; I mean by these fits of depression lowness of spirits, caused, as you have often told me, by your having been kept in Hay for so long on a small salary, with few holidays, and having to work very hard with little encouragement.

Memo.

THE Chairman is respectfully informed that I have had an interview with Mr. O'Hanlon, and that I anticipate no further trouble as regards his conduct in the office.

I have, therefore, to request leave to withdraw my report of this date.

Sir
Local Land Board Office, Hay, 10 December, 1888.
I am aware that Mr. Atterbury has made certain remarks concerning myself in a report to you with reference to Mr. O'Hanlon declining to answer his call bell, such remarks I believe to be not in accordance with facts.
As Mr. Atterbury has withdrawn the charge, I most respectfully beg to request that the registration number be cancelled, and the report destroyed.
I have, &c.,
C. HERBERT DAVIES.

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

The report in question having been withdrawn by the clerk in charge (Mr. Atterbury) has not been referred to Mr. Davies or any one else for report. The registration is simply 88-6,948, clerk in charge, Local Land Board Office, memo. re answering bell. This does not affect anyone so far as I can see. And any way, I cannot destroy a registered document. It may, however, be cancelled, and placed to records, but not destroyed.—A.J.P., Hay, 10/12/88. The clerk in charge, Hay.

To be seen to, Mr. Davies, 10/12/88.

Memo.
I, YESTERDAY, repeatedly rung my call-bell without any reply on the part of either of the clerks in the record room. The same thing occurred to-day. I am aware that the sound of the bell was heard by the clerks in question.

I cannot regard this action as anything else than the expression of a spirit of insubordination, but in order that there may be no misunderstanding in future it is to be distinctly understood that my bell is to be answered by the junior of the clerks in the record room. Should this instruction be neglected, I shall hold all in the room responsible, and report the matter to the Chairman.

This is to be registered, and noted by the two clerks in question, Messrs. Davies and O'Hanlon, and returned to me for the Chairman's observation.

Memo.

The arrears of work which the staff is about to endeavour to bring up to date are as follows :—

1. The arrears of general indexing from the registers.
2. The arrears of other indices.
3. Checking the quarterly returns for the quarter ending June last.
4. Preparation of the same return for the quarter ending September last.

I feel sure that the willing assistance of the staff will be given to me in this matter, in order that, if possible, we may commence the year 1889 with a clean sheet.

B. J. ATTERBURY,
(Pro Chairman), 17/12/88.

Mr. Davies and Mr. O'Hanlon,—With reference to the verbal arrangements made yesterday morning in regard to disposing of the record index and quarterly returns now in arrears, Mr. O'Hanlon and I are now proceeding with the work in order to avoid, if possible, night-work.—C.H.D., 18/12/88. The clerk in charge.

It was yesterday represented to me by Messrs. Davies and O'Hanlon that they would endeavour to bring up the arrears before the end of the year without night-work, and with this object in view they would be at the office till 6 p.m. and at 6 a.m. Both officers left the office at 4.30 last evening, and although I waited till 6.10 p.m., neither returned. I was at the office at 6 o'clock this morning. Mr. O'Hanlon arrived at 7 o'clock. I left the office at 8 o'clock, but up till that time Mr. Davies had not arrived. These circumstances have led me to reconsider my agreement to the arrangement arrived at yesterday, and the gentlemen of the staff will please note that my minute of the 14th instant on L.B.D. 88-7,124, will come into force to-day, and continue till the arrears of work in this office are brought up.—B.J.A. (pro Chairman), 18/12/88. Mr. Davies and Mr. O'Hanlon will please observe and note. Seen.—C.H.D., 3/1/89. Seen.—W.O'H., 3/1/89. In a fortnight.—B.J.A., 4/1/89. This is the last minute on this paper.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 7/3/89.

Telegram from Under-Secretary for Lands to The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

14 December, 1888.

In reply your to-day's wire, if there is temporary pressure of work, officers will be expected to devote necessary time after usual office hours to dispose of it.

WM. HOUSTON,
(For the Under Secretary).

On and after Monday next, until the arrears of office work be brought up, the staff of this office will please work till 6 p.m. each day (including Saturday), and from 7 p.m. till 10 p.m. from Mondays till Friday inclusive. Mr. Davies and Mr. O'Hanlon will please note.—B.J.A., 14/12/88. Put away.—B.J.A., 30/1/89.

Memo.

The work of this office could, I feel sure, be fairly brought up to date by the willing application of the staff to a few hours' overtime daily.

The Under Secretary may be asked to authorise overtime.

The Under Secretary asked by wire.—B.J.A., 14/12/88.

(G.)

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 5 November, 1888.

I have the honor to invite your attention to the state of this office.
For all practical purposes, the staff at present consists of two officers, myself and Mr. Davies, and the work to be done is inter alia, as follows :—

Register-index ; find and connect with them ; on an average thirty new documents per diem ; enter up and note in the various registers particulars of all applications, reports, &c. ; take the necessary action on the papers ; mark them off, &c., &c. When I took charge, I found the indexing of the records and press copy books—some thirteen in number—about two months in arrears, which it has been found impossible to make up, and working during office hours only ; it is equally impossible to keep the current work under.

The only course I can suggest is that which I have already submitted, but which did not then meet with your approval, viz., the employment of the staff after office hours till 6 p.m., and from 7 p.m. till 10 p.m. every day, Saturdays included, till the work is brought up to date, and then every day to 6 p.m.

Should this suggestion meet with approval, I most respectfully submit that such hours in such a climate as this, ought to meet with substantial recognition, under the provisions of Clause 8, of the Civil Service Regulations of 5th October, 1887.

I have, &c.,
BASIL J. ATTERBURY,
clerk in charge.

The Chairman.

I have communicated with the Under Secretary on the subject of overtime, &c., but have had no reply. Until further assistance is sent, or the work brought up, the officers will please work overtime, and keep a careful record of the hours occupied, in order that I may, if possible, obtain payment for them.—A.J.P., Hay, 5/11/88.

Will Mr. Davies please note and return.—B.J.A., 5/11/88.

I have previously represented that this climate is very trying to my eyesight, which has for a number of years past been very weak. I have hitherto willingly fallen in with the incessant demands for overtime work from the clerks in this office; but I have worked under great difficulties, and at times in acute pain, caused principally by the glare of the gas, and the stifling atmosphere of a small room, in such a trying climate as this, for a period of thirteen or fourteen hours daily. I ask to be exempted from nightwork. I am not asked to work four and a half hours extra daily to perform the duties allotted to me, for I have endeavoured to perform them, I trust satisfactorily, within the office-hours; but I am called upon to perform the work of other clerks. I willingly offer my services on Saturdays and Sundays, but for the reasons set forth, I am extremely desirous of avoiding nightwork.—C.H.D., 7/11/88. The Chairman.

Submitted.—The Chairman, Hillston.—B.J.A., 7/11/88. Received, 9/11/88, at Court-house, Hillston. Action awaiting receipt of letter from the Under Secretary, and which I directed Clerk-in-charge to forward by telegram to-night.—A.J.P., 9/11/88. Under Secretary's letter, L.L.B. 88-6,484, received from Clerk-in-charge, and answered this day.—A.J.P., 19/11/88.

I should be glad to be able to relieve all the staff from overtime, and would be glad if the Clerk-in-charge would kindly avoid nightwork, as far as possible, especially in the case of Mr. Davies, if such work would prejudice his sight. I hope extra assistance will shortly be provided. Please register this, and place it on my table for my return.—A.J.P., Hillston, 19/11/88. The Clerk-in-charge, Hay.

(H.)

IN compliance with your minute of 11/12/88, I have to report my work quite up to date, excepting a few applications under the Fencing Act for notation, and which are awaiting the Chairman's decision, in regard to the procedure to be adopted in such cases. I have been assisting Mr. O'Hanlon all this morning.

The Clerk-in-charge.

C.H.D., Saturday, 15/12/88.

(J.)

MEMO.—With reference to your minute of 11/12/88, I have to report the state of my work as follows:—Twenty-five decisions to copy, and forty to obtain former papers.

On Monday next, the 17th instant, I hope to be in a position to report my work up to date.

The Clerk-in-charge.

W.O'H., 15/12/88.

(K.)

MEMORANDUM.—Mr. Davies will please report—very briefly—what work he and Mr. O'Hanlon have on hand.

B.J.A., 4/12/88.

Between sixty and seventy cases for preparation of certificates, refunds, &c., and other printed letters. About ten cases for preparation of notices for exhibition of tracings; forty or fifty cases for notations in registers, &c.; between eighty and 100 leases to note in registers, and about twenty leases to enter in registers.—C.H.D., 4/12/88. Mr. O'Hanlon.

Forty papers to register; about forty to obtain former papers; 100 decisions to press-copy.—W.O'H., 4/12/88. A similar report to be made of the work in hand on each Saturday morning.—B.J.A., 11/12/88. Mr. Davies. Mr. O'Hanlon. Seen.—C.H.D., 15/12/88. Seen.—W.O'H., 15/12/88.

No. 109.

The Clerk-in-charge, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 9 March, 1889.

I have the honor to invite your attention to the enclosed press copies of correspondence addressed to the Chairman and retained by him, although I have respectfully requested him to forward the same to you. He further informed me that as I declined to initial the vouchers therein referred to he would send them to the Under Secretary without either my initials or explanation.

I have the honor to ask for instructions as to whether it is my duty to initial such vouchers in similar circumstances as those described herein, as I have the February equipment-allowance voucher now in hand.

The favour of an early reply is therefore respectfully solicited.

I have, &c.,

BASIL J. ATTERBURY.

[Enclosure.]

THE Clerk-in-charge, Hay, having declined to initial the ordinary travelling and equipment vouchers for Chairman, late circuit, and alleging verbally as his reason that he did not know whether they were right or wrong, he is now requested to place his reasons on record hereon, and return to me this morning.

A.J.P.,

Chairman, Hay, 22/2/89.

The above statement is incorrect. The reason given verbally is as follows:—I know nothing about them, and that is the only reason I was prepared to give verbally. My reply to the above will be found hereto attached.—B.J.A., 22/2/89.

I AM asked by memo. herewith to place on record my reasons for declining to initial the ordinary travelling-expense and equipment-allowance vouchers for Chairman's late circuit.

I recognize that my action lays me open to a charge of insubordination, and I therefore make my statement as complete as possible, so that when the papers reach the Under Secretary for Lands my case will be ripe for judgment.

It will readily, I am sure, be admitted that I am only acting as my sense of duty dictates, for it will be seen that by the course adopted I run considerable risk; while if, on the other hand, I had pocketed my scruples and initialed the vouchers without comment, I should, doubtless, have better pleased my immediate superior officer, and avoided possible inconvenience to myself.

I have always understood that amongst the unwritten laws of the Public Service the following find a place:—

1. That amounts charged upon the Public Revenue by voucher should be the lowest sums for which the service charged for could be rendered.
2. That should such not be the case it is the duty of the officer under whose supervision the voucher passes to bring the excess under notice, in order to prevent undue expenditure in future.
3. That even where expenditure has been authorized to a certain definite amount, if the officer supervising be of opinion that owing to an alteration of circumstances or conditions such expenditure can be materially reduced without prejudicing the efficiency of the Public Service, it is his bounden duty to bring the matter under notice.
4. That when an officer signs or initials a voucher as correct, he is (no matter who else may sign or initial) personally and absolutely responsible for the correctness of the same, and for the truth of the certificate thereon.

These are the rules which have heretofore guided me in dealing with vouchers, and until I get other instructions from the Under Secretary for Lands I cannot depart from the path I have hitherto pursued.

In the case in question, Mr. Volckman, instructed by the Chairman, asked, or rather "directed," me to initial certain vouchers.

These vouchers were already signed by the Chairman, both as the "claimant" and the "officer incurring the expense." This fact alone, I think, justified me in declining to initial them.

But it appeared to me that the charges made in the vouchers were open to grave criticism, which was such as should be submitted to the Under Secretary for Lands, and that, therefore, if I initialed the vouchers, I could only do so while making such submission through the Chairman as seemed to me necessary.

The following remarks should, it appears to me, be submitted to the Under Secretary for Lands in connection with these vouchers :—

The late circuit was commenced on the morning of the 28th ultimo.

Balranald was reached on the evening of the 29th. From the 30th January to the 6th February, both days inclusive, the time was occupied in Court work.

On Thursday, the 7th, a start was made by the Chairman for Wentworth. The journey occupied four days. Monday and Tuesday were devoted to Court work, and on Wednesday, the 13th instant, the return journey was commenced, and Balranald reached in two days. Then, according to the Chairman's voucher, the 16th was spent in Court work.

As a matter of fact, not a single case was dealt with. The Court was formally opened and adjourned, and I cannot understand why a start was not that day made for head-quarters. The three succeeding days are charged for as for travelling, but it is pointed out that the journey was done the other way in two days.

No other travelling expenses will be incurred this month.

In addition to the travelling-expense vouchers, there is the January voucher for equipment allowance, and the February voucher will, it is presumed, follow in due course.

The carriage, therefore, of the Chairman from Hay to Wentworth and back is the full return which the Department received from the expenditure of £25 for equipment allowance during the two months. (In December last the Department received absolutely no return at all).

The total cost to the Department of the trip to Balranald and Wentworth is therefore £42 5s. for the Chairman alone. The tour occupied twenty-three days, twelve of which, or more than half, were taken up in travelling.

Of course the dates for holding Courts are fixed and notified beforehand, and a glance at the dates of the recent Courts will show the excessive time allotted to travelling.

If the Court days were fixed with a due regard to coaching time-tables, and the journeys made by coach, the expenses would be reduced by nearly 50 per cent., as will be seen by the following :—

Supposing the journey to have been commenced by coach on the evening of Sunday, the 27th ultimo, Balranald would have been reached Monday evening; Court 29th ultimo to 5th instant inclusive. A start for Wentworth would have been made on the evening of the 6th, and the town reached the following day. The 8th and 9th would have been available for Court work, and the return journey commenced on the 10th; Hay reached on the morning of the 12th. Time occupied, seventeen days. Cost coach fares, £10 10s.

Return, with liberty to break journey at any time.....	10	10	0
Travelling expenses .....	12	15	0
Total.....	£23	5	0

That is £23 5s. as against £42 5s., and 17 days as against 23 days, and exactly the same number of days for Court work as are charged for in the vouchers now under criticism.

I am aware that the Chairman has informed me verbally that this is no business of mine, but I submit that it comes within the scope of my business when I am asked to initial the vouchers; and I regard it as my duty, none the less imperative because unpleasant, to bring under notice what I conceive to be a wasteful expenditure of public money. I also take the higher ground, that it is my duty, as Clerk-in-charge of this office, to use my best endeavours, by making appropriate submissions with that object in view, to reduce expenditure in this district as much as possible.

For all these reasons, then, I respectfully decline to initial as a matter of form such vouchers as are herein referred to.

The Chairman.

The Clerk-in-charge, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 16 March, 1889.

I have the honor to invite your attention to the existing state of affairs in this office, and to submit that I cannot be fairly held responsible when, as is inevitable, the work gets almost hopelessly in arrears.

Mr. Chairman Park is much opposed to overtime work in this office, and has made no secret of his hope that the work shall get into such a state that the Under Secretary will be compelled to send the further assistance from head office which he has so often applied for.

I have repeatedly endeavoured to get Messrs. O'Hanlon and Davies to work overtime, but without success.

In December last I sought and obtained the Under Secretary's sanction for such work, but the objections to and the disinclination of the gentlemen above mentioned were so decided, that to save trouble in the office I had to give way till the weather got cooler. The arrears have now, however, become so pressing that I have been compelled to insist upon the staff staying late to work. Mr. O'Hanlon flatly refuses to do so, and assigns no reason.

See Appendix A* :— Mr. Davies asks to be exempt for the reasons set out in his memo. (see B). Appendices B and D. The originals, of which these are press copies, were forwarded to the Chairman on the dates on which they were written, but I have not yet received any reply.

I have, however, received by this morning's (Saturday) post a memorandum, of which I forward you a copy (C.)

The staff of the office cannot without overtime cope with the current work of the office and the pressing arrears, and it is difficult to understand how the Chairman expects the preparations to be made for the proposed Hay Court. There are now 317 cases in the bundles, and perhaps thirty in the office which will be in the bundles for Court action in the next few days. A very large number of these cases are important, and not of a formal character. It was of course utterly impossible to send anything to the Chairman by to-night's post. The mere arrangement and classification of the cases will take a considerable time.

I beg to submit, with all due deference, that it would appear to be the Chairman's desire to get the office-work into a state of irretrievable confusion, and then throw the blame upon me, in order to carry out his expressed intention to have me removed from Hay; and in support of that suspicion I beg to submit the following facts :—

On the 1st February last I wrote a memorandum to the Chairman, a copy of which is herewith, marked "D."

To that I received no reply.

I have repeatedly complained to the Chairman of Mr. O'Hanlon's inefficiency, and submitted proposals for the better working of the office, but as yet I have never even received a reply.

Letters and minutes written by me on subjects connected with action on papers even are kept by the Chairman and not answered.

Certificates and other documents, arising out of Court action, have been retained by the Chairman, in one instance for nearly three months, without signature.

The treatment which I personally receive from the Chairman is such as I submit would not be permitted by the Under Secretary.

On my first introduction I was met with a severe and undeserved reprimand from him, and his whole bearing since has been either a thinly-veiled or absolutely open hostility.

On one occasion when I asked to be excused so that I might get along with my work, I was told by him that he could not stop me, he had no constable in the office, and in the presence of two clerks.

I have also to complain that I receive no support from the Chairman in my control of the office staff.

I beg to state that I have the fullest possible belief that an investigation of the office will result in the approval of the Under Secretary being bestowed upon my conduct since I have occupied my present position.

I take the irregular course of writing direct to the Under Secretary, as I know from experience that the Chairman would put my letter in his despatch-box, and there it would remain.

I have, &c.,

BASIL J. ATTERBURY.

P.S.—I beg to state that I am continually in the office till very late hours alone (See E.)—B.J.A.

[Enclosures.]

Hay, 12 March, 1889.

YESTERDAY Mr. O'Hanlon was instructed by me to work late at the office, in order to bring up the arrears of the work (caused by his incompetency and negligence). He worked till 6 o'clock, and although I personally worked at his arrears till 10 o'clock, he did not again come near the office.

This morning, when spoken to on the subject, Mr. O'Hanlon told me he thought 6 o'clock was late enough, and that he would not work later.

I have now to request Mr. O'Hanlon to stay at the office till 6 p.m., and from 7 p.m. till 10 p.m., till the arrears of work are brought up to date.

Mr. O'Hanlon.

B. J. ATTERBURY.

I decline to work from 7 p.m. till 10 p.m.—W.O'H., 12/3/89. The Clerk-in-charge

MEMO.—Will Mr. C. H. Davies please state hereon his objections to working at night (in order to bring up the arrears of the office work), as requested by me.—B.J.A., 13/3/89.

While fully acknowledging the absolute necessity of overtime work, in order to complete the quarterly returns, now nine months in arrears, I would respectfully submit that it is most injurious to health to be confined in a small room in this trying climate for thirteen hours daily, the latter three of which would be under the glare of four gas jets, in a room 20 x 15 feet. As the staff of this office has never been adequate to the duties to be performed, it has always fallen to my lot lot to perform the largest proportion of the work, which has necessitated considerable nightwork. I have suffered from weak eyesight for some years past, and during my four years' stay in Hay the trying climate and close confinement to the office have considerably weakened my eyes, and I am now compelled to use glasses. I could no doubt comply with your request to work at night, but it would be under very trying circumstances, and I would be glad to be exempted from the overtime between 7 and 10 p.m. I trust I have hitherto expressed a willingness to comply with similar demands, and this is not an exception, but a case of necessity. If desirable, I shall consult a medical man, with a view to ascertaining if the glare of gaslight would be injurious to my sight.—C.H.D., 13/3/89. The Clerk-in-charge.

(C.)

MEMO.—The Clerk-in-charge will be good enough to at once prepare a Hay count of the following lines:—

1. Arrange all the cases which are ready for Court in the following order:—Conditional purchases, conditional leases and homestead leases for final dealing, conditional leases and homestead leases for preliminary, special leases, special purchases, ringbarking applications, scrub leases, applications for permission to effect improvements; appraisement cases, rent or improvements. Complaint cases—Inquiries, 39th section; inquiries, 20th section; inquiries, 13th section; inquiries, 126th regulation. Cases under section 14 sub-section 6, travelling stock and camping reserve cases, any miscellaneous cases, applications under the Crown Lands Act Further Amendment Act of 1888.

2. Complete a list of all cases for exhibition at Hay, arranging each set in the order of date of application, the heading of notice to be same as that respecting the present Deniliquin Court, but omitting all dates.

This notice and list to be in copying-ink, heavily written, in order that several press copies may be made, and to be sent to me for signature with the first lot of notices.

3. Notices to be prepared, leaving out dates, and a batch sufficient for at least one day's work, commencing from the top of the list, forwarded to me with papers, and initialed by the Clerk-in-charge, for dating and signature.

This first batch to be forwarded to-morrow night, if possible, and others nightly thereafter, in order that the Court may be fixed at as early a date as possible.

With the first lot of notices there should also be forwarded the usual letters, &c., viz., to the Under Secretary for Lands, Government Printer, police authorities, local paper, &c.

After signature, the whole will be returned to the Clerk-in-charge for necessary action and posting by a clerk, who will be able to prove service if necessary.

The Clerk-in-charge, Local Land Board Office, Hay.

A. J. PARK,
Chairman, Local Land Board, Deniliquin, 15/3/89.

(D.)

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 1 February, 1889.

Office Memorandum re Appointment of a Junior Clerk.

DURING the month of November last the Under Secretary for Lands wrote to the Chairman, Hay, with reference to the appointment of a junior clerk in this office, to the effect that if a junior could not be appointed locally no relief could be given.

This I took to mean that if a suitable youth living in Hay could be nominated the question of his appointment would be favourably considered.

This letter was received on the 5th November, and forwarded to the Chairman at Hillston on the same date. At intervals during the month I forwarded also three applications from youths resident in this town for the position.

I urged the Chairman by letter to make a recommendation, and, in reply, was instructed to take no action till further advised by him.

On the Chairman's return to head office, in early December, I personally urged the Chairman to make a nomination. To this no response was made beyond a statement that on a previous occasion he had nominated a young man named Rowling, and that the Department would not appoint him; therefore he felt diffident about nominating another, as he might again be treated the same way. Nothing was done in the matter. During the Chairman's absence on leave I again asked that the matter might be speedily settled. Prior to the Chairman's leaving for Balranald, I once more, and again subsequently, brought the matter up, but up to the present time without result.

It is submitted that it is absolutely necessary for the proper working of this office that the question be settled.

To show how this office has been manned, the following information, taken from the time-book, is given.

There have been, from the 1st November to this date, inclusive, seventy-one office-days, and there have been present, engaged on general office-work, apart from preparation of Court-work—on seven occasions, four clerks: on forty-two occasions, three clerks; and on twenty-one, two; in every instance except four, inclusive of the Clerk-in-charge.

The Chairman has retained all the papers relating to this subject which have from time to time been sent to him, so that I could make no further submission on the papers.

In reply to the Chairman's remark (verbal) that this office is not a Public School or educational establishment, that we should be called upon to take youths and teach them, I beg to repeat that one of the applicants is a young man who has for four (4) years been employed in a large office in this town.

The question is again respectfully submitted for early attention and settlement.

Clerk-in-charge, Local Land Board Office, Hay.

Sir,

Court-house, Deniliquin, 23 March, 1889.

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter to me of 14th March, 1889, minute 89-2,329, in which you require—1. A specific report as to the manner in which Mr. O'Hanlon performs his duties; also, 2. As to his general conduct and his usefulness as a clerk. In reply thereto, I have the honor to inform you that I have been for the most part absent from my office during the short time Mr. O'Hanlon has been attached thereto. Hence my opportunities for acquiring such a knowledge of his competency, &c., &c., as would enable me to answer your questions with the precision I should desire have been few. So far as I have been able to judge I have found that—

1. Mr. O'Hanlon kept his record register neatly up to about the time the present Clerk-in-charge took it from him, and so far as I know he performed his other duties so well that no other than the present Clerk-in-charge has ever reported or complained of him to me.
2. Mr. O'Hanlon's general conduct has been good, and from my limited observation I consider him useful.

I have, &c.,

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Court-house, Deniliquin, 23 March, 1889.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter to me of 14th March, 1889 (minute 89-2,328), desiring full information as to what I meant in my letter to you of 8th March, 1889, by—
 (1.) "The Clerk-in-charge, Hay Local Land Board Office, exceeding his functions"; and (2.) Whether the occasion of his "rude and insulting behaviour" was the inquiry into charges preferred by him against Mr. Davies.

Appendices A to G herewith. Papers L.B.D. 88-6,711 89-1,127.

In reply to your letter, I have the honor to state that—

(1.) The Clerk-in-charge has exceeded his functions not only by verbally commenting upon subjects outside the scope of his own proper duties, but, by writing prolix and digressing memoranda thereupon, to the manifest neglect of his current work.

For some instances please refer to Appendices A to G, as per margin herewith.

(2.) The Clerk-in-charge was "rude and insulting" not only on the occasion to which you make reference, but also on the occasion of an inquiry re certain allegations by Mr. Lakeman, M.P., my report of which was transmitted to you on the 8th March, 1889, and on several other occasions.

Upon some of the Appendices I have briefly indicated some of their features.

The claims upon my time by the business of the current Deniliquin Land Court, and by the general routine work transmitted from my head office, Hay, have prevented my reporting more fully.

I would add that the waste of time caused by the behaviour of the Clerk-in-charge has been very considerable.

I have, &amp;c.,

A. J. PARK,
Chairman.

[Enclosures.]

Memo. for Clerk-in-charge, Hay.

Hay, 20 February, 1889.

In addressing the District Surveyor the Clerk-in-charge will be good enough to sign "pro Chairman," as he has no authority of which I am aware to address the District Surveyor in his capacity as Clerk-in-charge.

It is only in the absence of the Chairman that the Clerk-in-charge should sign any minutes to the District Surveyor.

* In the case L.B.D. 88-6,711 the Clerk-in-charge has signed a reference to the District Surveyor simply B.J.A., without designation of office, which is officially improper.

A. J. P., Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

The Chairman's attention is invited to the fact that the paper quoted by him has never been marked to the District Surveyor by me or anyone in this office, and that therefore the comments herein are apparently not necessary.—B.J.A., 22/2/89.

* The only complaints I have to make with respect to the above remarks is that they are not in accordance with facts.—B.J.A., 22/2/89. The Chairman.

I made a mistake in this case, partly owing to the improper position of the unaddressed minute of the Clerk-in-charge of 30/1/89, for being placed above that of the District Surveyor, it was out of its proper sequence, and partly owing to the fact that references to the District Surveyor by Mr. Atterbury, in his personal capacity, are so very numerous that I somewhat hastily, from the above causes, concluded this was a case in point.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, Deniliquin, 23/3/89.

Sir,

Ivanhoe, 22 October, 1888.

With reference to the proposed cancellation of that portion of travelling stock reserve 544 shown on the accompanying tracing, and the notification of another travelling stock reserve, as also shown on tracing, I have the honor to report that there can be no objection to the alteration.

As a matter of fact, the proposed route is the one used at the present time by travelling stock.

I have seen Mr. Webb, one of the lessees of the Kilfera pastoral holding; he has no objection to make to it. As Kilfera is the only holding that will be affected, and the proposed route follows the regular track, I am of opinion that the modification as suggested should be adopted.

I am, &amp;c.,

EDM. WM. PROCTOR,
Inspector of Stock.

Chief Inspector of Stock, Sydney.

The Department of Lands may be informed that there is no objection to the proposed alteration in travelling stock reserve 544, county Manaro.—A.B., 27/10/88. The Under Secretary for Mines. Submitted.—H.W., 27/10/88. Approved.—F.A., 30/10/88. The Under Secretary for Lands, B.C., 31/10/88., A.B., for Under Secretary. The Department of Mines offering no objection to alteration of travelling stock reserve, the District Surveyor's recommendation is submitted.—R.H.D., 6/9/88. For approval.—S.F., 13/11/88. Approved.—J.N.B., 16/11/88. The District Surveyor at Hay, for description, &c., and then to Land Board.—R.H.D., for the Under Secretary. Lands, B.C., 22/11/88. Noted.—A. R. GALL, 29/11/88. For preparation of notices and exhibition.—B.J.A., 30/11/88. Mr. Garvin. I think you have tracings for this case.—J.B., 17/12/88. Tracings (2) herewith, for exhibition and description forward to the Board for consideration.—JOHN BROUGHTON, Acting District Surveyor, Hay, 12/1/89. The Chairman, Local Land Board. Mr. Davies,—Please forward tracing and notice herewith to Crown Lands Agent, Balranald, and advise lessees of Kilfera pastoral holding; also exhibit tracing and notice.—B.J.A., 12/2/89. Tracing to Crown Lands Agent, Balranald, for exhibition, and tracing exhibited at Hay; objections to be lodged on or before the 31st March next; lessees Kilfera and Stock Inspector informed.—C.H.D., 12/2/89.

APPENDIX A.

[THE Clerk-in-charge indites a page of criticism on the action of the Under Secretary for Lands on Ministerial 88-10,684, and, uninstructed and unasked, addresses same to the Chairman.]

Appendix.

Not to be connected with the papers. For the Chairman's perusal.—B.J.A., 15/1/89.

The objections taken by the Assistant Under Secretary do not strike me as being particularly strong. In the first place, when the Under Secretary for Mines does ask for a stock route, or objects to one proposed by others, he is undoubtedly, to my mind, "a party" within the meaning of the Act. Or it would perhaps be more correct to say that the Minister for Mines is the party represented before the Board, by his Agent the Local Stock Inspector.

As a party there undoubtedly accrues to him the right of appeal under the well-known ruling of the Supreme Court, viz.—That any finding, recommendation, or decision of a Local Land Board may form the subject of appeal.

The directions for the preparation of lists of cases will, I presume, have to be carried out.

Query. Does the word "summoned" in the last paragraph mean "subpanaed."?—B.J.A., 15/1/89.

The Chairman.

The

The proposal to constitute the Under Secretary for Mines a "party" in cases of inquiry into stock routes, &c., even if practicable, which I very much doubt, would result in the undesirable anomaly of the Minister for Mines being placed in a position to appeal against the findings of the Land Boards working under the Lands Department.

The statement contained in the 2nd paragraph—"That the practice of notifying Local Stock Inspectors to attend Board Meetings when occasion arises does not appear to have given satisfaction to the Department named (Mines)", conveys no information upon which an opinion can be formed, but may possibly refer to some correspondence or action by the Mines Department, which should be quoted, in order that the objections may be fairly considered.

A list may also be supplied by the Chairman showing all cases in which the attendance of Stock Inspectors has been required during the past twelve months; the list should embody the registered No. of the papers, nature of the cases, and date of hearing.

Pending settlement of the question, the Stock Inspectors should be summoned to attend in cases where their evidence is necessary or material—due consideration being given to the necessity for conserving the time of these officers as far as practicable.

W.H., 8/1/89.

Submitted.—S.F. Submission approved.—J.N.B., 10/1/89. Forwarded to the Chairman of Land Board, Hay.—F.H.W. (for the Under Secretary), B.C., 11/1/89. To be returned. This has been the practice in the past, and has been reverted to since receipt of this paper, except that the Local Stock Inspector has always been invited to attend by letter. Will the Under Secretary for Lands kindly excuse the furnishing of the information he asks for until matters are a little more settled in my office.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, Court-house, Deniliquin, 23/3/89. The Under Secretary for Lands, Sydney.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 8 December, 1888.

I have the honor to inform you that when cases in which the Department of Mines is interested have been set down for hearing before the Local Land Boards over which I preside, it has been the practice of this office to notify the Local Stock Inspectors, in order that they might attend on behalf of the Mines Department, if in their opinion necessary.

This course does not appear to have given satisfaction to the Department named, and I therefore propose that in future, in all such cases as those above referred to, the Under Secretary for Mines shall be considered a "party" under the 17th section of the Crown Lands Act of 1884, and will therefore be served with the usual "notice to appear," on form L.L.B. No. 21, in order that such evidence may be furnished as the Under Secretary for Mines may desire.

I have to suggest that you should be good enough to convey an intimation to this effect to the Under Secretary for Mines.

I have, &c.,

A. J. PARK,
Chairman.

The Under Secretary for Lands, Sydney.

WHEN cases in which the Department of Mines is interested have been set down for hearing before the Local Land Board over which I preside, it has been the practice of this office to notify the Local Stock Inspectors, in order that they might attend on behalf of the Mines Department, if in their opinion necessary.

This course does not appear to have given satisfaction to the Department named, and I therefore propose that in future in all such cases as those above referred to the Under Secretary for Mines shall be considered a "party" under the 17th section of the Crown Lands Act of 1884, and will therefore be served with the usual notice to appear on Form L.L.B. 21, in order that such evidence may be furnished as the Under Secretary for Mines may desire.

Inform Under Secretary for Lands as above, and suggest that he should intimate same to the Under Secretary for Mines.

A. J. PARK,

Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay,
7th December, 1888.

The Clerk-in-charge.

The Under Secretary for Lands accordingly, by letter. Minutes on.—B.J.A., Clerk-in-charge, 8/12/88. Mr. Volckman to note.—B.J.A., 11/12/88. Noted.—W.V., 5/1/89. Clerk-in-charge.

APPENDIX B.

[The Clerk-in-charge criticises the Chairman's actions, and, notwithstanding instructions to the contrary, insists upon writing a further minute, in which he informs the Chairman that he is acting illegally. He kept the papers back from the other cases sent to Deniliquin Court to do so, apparently, and then addresses them to Mr. Volckman.] THE alleged delay in sending papers to District Surveyor was occasioned by my deliberate act. An application for the stay of proceedings in the case and the refund of the deposit had been made. There was then, in my opinion, no reason why the application named should not have been granted, and therefore held the matter back.

In insisting upon bringing the ringbarking application before the Local Land Board and forfeiting the deposit, the Chairman, in my opinion, is acting illegally, and I am, I believe, acting in accordance with my duty in saying so.

B. J. ATTERBURY, 7/3/89.

Received at Deniliquin, 13/3/89. Addressed to me.—W.L.V., 13/3/89.

7 March, 1889.

MEMO.—It would appear from books in this office that there were no other papers with copy of ringbarking 88-6 when received here for report on 26th November, 1888.

The application was returned to Chairman for other papers (vide memo., 28/11/88) on 28th November, 1888, and has not been here since.

The papers of ringbarking 86-16 were asked for, as by the map it would appear that almost the whole area referred to in 88-6 is embraced by 86-16, and it was considered advisable to obtain the latter and verify before making definite report.

A. R. GALL,

Pro Acting District Surveyor.

To the Chairman, Hay.

To be attached to papers L.B.D. 89-890.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 7/3/89. Clerk-in-charge.

Sir,

Deniliquin, 7 February, 1889.

We beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 31st ultimo (No. 88/7,082), re ringbarking application noted in the margin hereof, and in reply beg to state that in our letter of the 7th December we did not in any way question the Board's decision, as the matter had not been before the Board,—therefore no decision had been given. We, simply as agents for Mr. William Bell, notified that we wished to withdraw his application, which is owing to the season being so far advanced, and we now beg to confirm same, and ask for a refund of the fee, £3, lodged with application.

We have, &c.,

MACKENZIE BROTHERS,
Per A. L.

To the Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

Submitted, that no expense has been incurred, and that the application be permitted to be withdrawn, and the deposit paid thereon refunded.—B.J.A., 9/2/89. The Chairman.

Letter (L.B.D. 88/7,082) of 31st January, 1889, folio 631, volume 6, Press-copy Book, was a reply to W. Bell's letter of 1st December, 1888, L.B.D. 6,962, which contained certain reasons for desiring withdrawal, but not adducing the reasons named above, and was not a reply to Messrs. Mackenzie Brothers of 7th December, 1888, L.B.D. 88/7,082. This letter was addressed to Wm. Bell, Esq., c/o Messrs. Mackenzie Brothers, Deniliquin. As, in my opinion, expense to the local administration had been incurred, I declined to encourage hope of refund, as, in reply to letter of 31st January, 1889, the Messrs. Mackenzie have decided to ask for withdrawal. The case is to be set down for hearing at impending Deniliquin Court, with the view of permitting the withdrawal. The Clerk-in-charge, Hay, is requested to confine himself to his instructions, and to refrain from writing such minutes as that dated 4/2/89, on L.B.D. 88/6,962. I note the delay in replying to District Surveyor's request for other papers.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, Hay, 7/3/89. Clerk-in-charge, Hay.

In

In accordance with above minutes the case is set down for Deniliquin Court.—B.J.A., 7/3/89. Applicant notified to appear at Deniliquin on the 22nd March, 1889, and Crown Lands Agent asked to insert in list.—W.L.V., 7/3/89. Attention is invited to my covering memo.—B.J.A., 7/3/89.

Sir,

As agents for Mr. William Bell, of Morago, we beg to withdraw his application to ringbark 300 acres land on Morago Run. The said application is numbered SS-6, and was forwarded you on the 19th November, when the fee of £3 was lodged with application.

Deniliquin, 7 December, 1888.

We have, &c.,
MACKENZIE BROTHERS.

To the Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

The Chairman.—B.J.A., 27/12/88.

In a month.—B.J.A. Vide SS-6,962 for action hereon.

The writer may be informed that the Board's decisions are based on evidence of all the witnesses examined, and not upon the testimony of any particular individual. As an "expense" has been incurred by the preliminary action of the District Survey Office, no refund can be made under Regulation 164, but the applicant can inferentially, under that regulation, be allowed to withdraw. He should now be asked whether he prefers to withdraw or go on with the case.—A.J.P., Hay, 26/1/89.

Wm. Bell, care of Mackenzie Bros., informed, in terms of above.—B.J.A., 31/1/89. In a month.

It is pointed out that, prior to the writing of the Chairman's minute hereon, I submitted to him that the mere act of registration and notation did not constitute an expense within the meaning of the 164th Regulation, and that no expense had as yet been incurred in this case, and, therefore, there could be no objection to the withdrawal of the application and the refund of the money deposited therewith.—B.J.A., 4/2/89.

Sir,

Ryrie-street, Geelong, 1 December, 1888.

Referring to my application to ringbark about 300 acres, parish of Morago, Morago Run, I may mention that the Inspector (Mr. Wilshire) has informed me that he has objections to granting my application as applied for, and that he would not support same, and suggests that it should be withdrawn. The reason for this does not appear satisfactory to me; but as you, very properly, would give ear to what your officer would advise, and refuse my request,—under those circumstances, I have to ask that you will be pleased to allow me to withdraw the application referred to; and I presume, if this is done, you will be pleased to direct the refund of the fee (£3) paid by me with application, and you will oblige.

Yours, &c.,
WILLIAM BELL.

A. J. Park, Esq., Chairman of the Local Land Board, Hay.

Please refer to me, with papers, after registration.—A.J.P., 5/12/88. The Clerk-in-charge, Hay.

Form 58.

[Crown Lands Act of 1884.
(Part IV, Section 93.)

Application for permission to Ringbark.

This application was received by me this 13th day of November, 1888, with the sum of £3.

C. H. EMERY, Land Agent.

Morago, Deniliquin, 6 November, 1888.

I, William Bell, of Morago, hereby apply for permission to ringbark trees on Morago leasehold and acres of land held by me as leasehold area of Morago Run or pastoral holding. I annex a sketch showing the land containing the trees I apply to ringbark, and a full description is set out at the foot hereof. I herewith tender the sum of £3, to be appropriated in accordance with the regulations under the Crown Lands Act of 1884.

WILLIAM BELL.

Description of land containing the trees to be ringbarked.

Land district of Deniliquin, county of Townsend, parish of Morago, 300 acres: Commencing at the south-western corner of allotment 1; thence north-westerly near to the track to Morago Station; thence north along east boundary of reserve 285 till the line meets the sandhills; thence south-easterly along said sandhills to measured allotment 1; thence south to the commencing point, and more particularly by tracing coloured red. Trees, swamp box.

To the Land Agent at Deniliquin.

Copied.—C.H.D., 22/11/88. Examined.—B.J.A., 22/11/88. Forwarded to the District Surveyor for report.—B.J.A., 22/11/88. It is requested that the papers in connection with ringbarking application No. 86-16, same applicant, be attached and forwarded with this one.—A. R. GALL (for Acting District Surveyor), 28/11/88. Chairman, Local Land Board.

APPENDIX C.

[To enable the Clerk-in-charge to initial the subject vouchers, he had simply to ascertain if the Chairman was absent from his head-quarters, Hay, between the dates charged for in travelling-expense voucher, and (by reference to the Voucher Register) to further ascertain if the vouchers had been previously rendered. Had the Clerk-in-charge performed his duty in these respects, instead of wasting the most of three days in elaborating irrelevant matter covering eleven pages of foolscap, to the neglect of his own proper duties, he would have discovered, on referring to his Voucher Register, that one of the accounts had already been rendered. Please refer to my letter to the Under Secretary for Lands of the 8th March, 1889, Accounts, 89-2,467.—A.J.P., Chairman, 23/3/89.]

THE Clerk-in-charge, Hay, having declined to initial the ordinary travelling-expense and equipment vouchers for Chairman's late circuit, and alleging verbally as his reason that he did not know whether they were right or wrong, he is now requested to place his reasons on record hereon, and return to me this morning.

W. L. Volckman, Esq., Local Land Board, Deniliquin.

A.J.P.,
Chairman, Board, Hay, 22/2/89.

The above statement is incorrect. The reason given verbally was as follows: "I know nothing about them," and that is the only reason I was prepared to give verbally. My reply to the above will be found hereto attached.—B.J.A., 22/2/89.

Not received by me until 25/2/89.—A.J.P., 25/2/89.

I AM asked by memo. herewith to place on record my reasons for declining to initial the ordinary travelling-expense and equipment-allowance vouchers for Chairman's late circuit.

I recognize that my action lays me open to a charge of insubordination, and I therefore make my statement as complete as possible, so that when the papers reach the Under Secretary for Lands my case will be ripe for judgment.

It will readily, I am sure, be admitted that I am only acting as my sense of duty dictates, for it will be seen that by the course adopted I run considerable risk, while if, on the other hand, I had pocketed my scruples, and initialed the vouchers without comment, I should doubtless have better pleased my immediate superior officer, and avoided possible inconvenience to myself.

I have always understood that amongst the unwritten laws of the Public Service the following find a place:—

1. That amounts charged upon the public revenue by voucher should be the lowest sums for which the service charged for could be rendered.
2. That should such not be the case it is the duty of the officer under whose supervision the voucher passes to bring the excess under notice, in order to prevent undue expenditure in future.
3. That even where expenditure has been authorized to a certain definite amount, if the officer supervising be of opinion that owing to an alteration of circumstances of conditions, such expenditure can be materially reduced without prejudicing the efficiency of the Public Service, it is his bounden duty to bring the matter under notice.
4. That when an officer signs or initials a voucher as correct he is (no matter who else may sign or initial) personally and absolutely responsible for the correctness of the same, and for the truth of the certificate thereon.

These

These are the rules which have heretofore guided me in dealing with vouchers, and until I get other instructions from the Under Secretary for Lands, I cannot depart from the path I have hitherto pursued. In the case in question, Mr. Volekman, instructed by the Chairman, asked, or rather directed, me to initial certain vouchers. These vouchers were already signed by the Chairman, both as the "claimant" and the "officer incurring the expense." This fact alone, I think, justified me in declining to initial them.

But it appeared to me that the charges made in the vouchers were open to grave criticism, which was such as should be submitted to the Under Secretary for Lands, and that, therefore, if I initialed the vouchers, I could only do so while making such submission through the Chairman as seemed to me necessary.

The following remarks should, it appears to me, be submitted to the Under Secretary for Lands in connection with these vouchers.

The late circuit was commenced on the morning of the 28th ultimo; Balranald was reached on the evening of the 29th. From the 30th January to the 6th February, both days inclusive, the time was occupied in Court work.

On Thursday the 7th a start was made by the Chairman for Wentworth. The journey occupied four days. Monday and Tuesday were devoted to Court work, and on Wednesday the 13th instant the return journey was commenced, and Balranald reached in two days. Then, according to the Chairman's voucher, the 16th was spent in Court work.

As a matter of fact, not a single case was dealt with. The Court was formally opened and adjourned, and I cannot understand why a start was not that day made for head-quarters. The three succeeding days are charged for as for travelling, but it is pointed out that the journey was done the other way in two days.

No other travelling expenses will be incurred this month.

In addition to the travelling-expense vouchers there is the January voucher for equipment allowance, and the February voucher will, it is presumed, follow in due course.

The carriage, therefore, of the Chairman from Hay to Wentworth and back is the full return which the Department derives from the expenditure of £25 for equipment allowance during the two months. In December last the Department received absolutely no return at all.

The total cost to the Department of the trip to Balranald and Wentworth is therefore £42 5s. for the Chairman alone.

The tour occupied twenty-three days, twelve of which, or more than half, were taken up in travelling.

Of course the dates for holding Courts are fixed and notified beforehand; and a glance at the dates of the recent Courts will show the excessive time allotted to travelling.

If the Court dates were fixed with a due regard to coaching time-tables, and the journeys made by coach, the expense would be reduced by nearly 50 per cent., as will be seen by the following.

Supposing the journey to have been commenced by coach on the evening of Sunday the 27th ultimo, Balranald would have been reached Monday evening; Court, 29th ultimo to 5th instant, inclusive; a start for Wentworth would have been made on the evening of the 6th, and the town reached the following day. The 8th and 9th would have been available for Court work, and the return journey commenced on the 10th, Hay reached on the morning of the 12th; time occupied, seventeen days; cost coach-fares, £10 10s.; return, with liberty to break journey at any time, £10 10s.; travelling expenses, £12 15s.; total £23 5s.

That is £23 5s. as against £42 5s., and seventeen days as against twenty-three days, and exactly the same number of days for Court work as are charged for in the voucher now under criticism.

I am aware that the Chairman has informed me verbally that this is no business of mine, but I submit that it comes within the scope of my business when I am asked to initial the vouchers; and I regard it as my duty, none the less imperative because unpleasant, to be under notice what I conceive to be a wasteful expenditure of public money. I also take the higher ground that it is my duty as Clerk-in-charge of this office to use my best endeavours, by making appropriate submissions with that object in view, to reduce expenditure in this district as much as possible.

For all these reasons, then, I respectfully decline to initial as a matter of form such vouchers as are herein referred to.

The Chairman.

BASIL J. ATTERBURY., 23/2/89.

APPENDIX D.

[The Chairman administers in this district and carries out the directions and, as far as he can, the wishes of the Under Secretary for Lands; yet, notwithstanding the Chairman's telegrams (vide D 2 and D 8), the Clerk-in-charge persists in exceeding his own functions by usurping those of the Chairman.]

D 1.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 16 October, 1888.

Referring to your communication of the 5th instant, respecting the application from Mr. R. S. Love, for the position of Junior Clerk at the Local Land Board Office at Hay, I have the honor to inform you that the Secretary for Lands has decided that it is not desirable to offer the position of Junior Clerk to Mr. Love.

I have, &c.,

F. H. WILSON,

(For the Under Secretary).

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

Is the assistance of a junior or other clerk still necessary to the proper conduct of the work of this office.—A.J.P., 19/10/88. Clerk-in-charge, Hay.

Yes. What is necessary to the proper working of this office is the employment of a good clerk. The work in the office is so great that to keep it under control the staff is compelled to work continually overtime. The indexing of all the books is much in arrears, this being especially the case with respect to the Index to General Records. The arrears are very slowly being made up, but it will be a long time before they can be fairly brought up to date, and then only by the most strenuous and continued application on the part of the staff. The quarterly returns for the last quarter have yet to be prepared, and those for the previous quarter require to be checked. At present it is impossible to attempt either of these duties. I would point out that some months ago the work of the office was brought up to date, but that the strength of the office was nearly double what it is now, owing to the employment of Messrs. Gibson and Fowler, the former at a salary of £300 per annum, and the latter at 16s. per diem. As since that the work has again got into arrears, it would appear to be the more economical course to permanently strengthen the staff. While in all fairness the staff may on emergency be asked to work overtime, in order to cope with any extraordinary pressure of work, it is hardly just, I submit, to expect them always, and without intermission, to work beyond the office-hours as defined by the Civil Service Regulations.—B.J.A., 19/10/88. The Chairman.

I have drafted a letter to the Under Secretary for Lands on the subject, which please have copied, signed, and sent.—A.J.P., 22/10/88. Clerk-in-charge. Done. In a month.—B.J.A., 22/10/88.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 6 November, 1888.
 With reference to your letter of the 22nd ultimo, asking that another clerk may be attached to your office either temporarily or permanently, I am directed by the Minister for Lands to inform you that none of the officers at head-quarters can be spared, and as only a junior is required, it will not be possible to provide assistance unless you can find a local youth suitable for the position.

Telegram from Mr. B. J. Atterbury to The Chairman, Local Land Board, Cudgellico.

13 November, 1888.

O'HANLON not returned; have heard nothing of him. Norman M'Kenzie, youth employed in Telegraph Office, has applied for position junior clerk here. Paper forwarded by to-night's post.

B. J. ATTERBURY,

Clerk-in-charge.

D 5.

Sir

I beg respectfully to make application for appointment as assistant clerk in your office. My age is 14½ years. Since I left school I have been employed as a probationer in the local Telegraph Office, and I can confidently refer you to the station-master there as to my qualification, &c.

I have, &amp;c.,

NORMAN M'KENZIE.

This is the only application I have received for the position of junior clerk. The youth appears to be intelligent, and he is well spoken of by the telegraph master.—B.J.A., 13/11/88. The Chairman, Cudgellico. Received at Hillston, 24/11/88.

D 6.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Court-house, Hillston, 19 November, 1888.
 I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 6th instant, in which you inform me that the Honorable the Minister for Lands states that no officer can be spared from your office for service in the Local Land Board Office, Hay, and that as only a junior is required, if no local youth can be found, no assistance can be given.

I would point out that each of the two office clerks are juniors, and that a local youth, if even one suitable could be found, would be of no immediate service.

The business of the Hay Land Board Office is of such dimensions as to require, in my opinion, one reasonably efficient clerk in addition to the two now employed. I would most respectfully ask the Honorable the Minister to reconsider the matter.

I have, &amp;c.,

A. J. PARK,

Chairman.

The Under Secretary for Lands.

D 7.

Dear Mr. Park,

Hay, 11 November, 1888.
 When I telegraphed to you that I thought I could nominate to you a youth for the position of junior in this office I was under the impression that a Mr. Bell, now in the employ of Mr. Brough, solicitor, would have applied yesterday, but he has not done so. I believe, however, it is his intention so to do. From inquiries I have made he appears to be a very suitable youth, and when his application arrives I will wire you.

Mr. O'Hanlon I expect back to-night.

On Friday the weather was very bad, but the same night we got the tail end of a storm, and some twenty points of rain fell. This morning it is quite cool, and, indeed, chilly.

I trust you are quite well, and not meeting with too much dust and heat.

I am, &amp;c.,

B. J. ATTERBURY.

A. J. Park, Esq., Hillston.

D 8.

Telegram from Mr. B. J. Atterbury to The Chairman, Local Land Board.

Hillston, 22 November, 1888.

APPLICATION for position as junior clerk has been lodged by Herbert Bell, now employed in Solicitor Brough's office. Papers forwarded by post.

B. J. ATTERBURY,

Clerk-in-charge, Local Land Board Office.

Concerning your telegram of to-day, and your note of 11th, please refer to the latter part of my telegram of 8th instant.—A.J.P., Hillston, 22/11/88. Clerk-in-charge, Hay.

D 9.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 8 January, 1889.
 I have the honor to invite your attention to the following suggestions with respect to the working of this office:—

1. It is respectfully suggested that Mr. O'Hanlan be given a trial as deposition clerk, in the place of Mr. Volckman, whom I should much like to keep in the office with a slight increase of salary, in the position of second clerk. Should Mr. O'Hanlan give promise, with experience, of becoming an efficient officer in the Court he would, I submit, answer your requirement.

2. It is further submitted that the vacant post of junior be filled up by the appointment of either Mr. Williams or Bell, both of whom appear to me to be suitable, though I should personally give the preference to the former, on the ground of his four year's office experience.

I have, &amp;c.,

BASIL J. ATTERBURY,

Clerk-in-charge.

The Chairman.

D 10.

The Chairman is respectfully reminded that apparently no steps have been taken with respect to the nomination of a junior clerk. I should be glad to receive authority to forward Mr. Williams' application to head-quarters with a favourable recommendation.—B. J. ATTERBURY, Clerk-in-charge, 28/1/89. The Chairman.

Received, evening of 28th January, 1889, just as I was leaving for Balranald Court.—A.J.P.

APPENDIX E.

The Clerk-in-charge exceeds his functions in making a highly necessary instruction from the Chairman a pretext for criticising the composition of the Board's decisions.

The Clerk-in-charge is requested to check the decisions, &c., for clerical errors or omissions.

A. J. PARK,
Chairman.

Balranald, 31 January, 1889.

To be registered.

Memo.—

By this paper I am requested to check for clerical errors and omissions, decisions, &c., of the Board, which have been signed and completed.

Should any clerical error or omission appear in the decision, it will, as heretofore, be pointed out.

The subject memo. does not, I presume, instruct me to traverse the proceedings of the Board throughout a case, and check the decision.

The question is also submitted as to what course is to be adopted by me when the composition of the decision appears to me faulty, more especially with regard to the class of fencing ordered by the Board to be erected.

For instance, in one case it is directed that the fence shall be same as class 7, but of six wires, 3 feet 8 inches high, and posts 20* inches in the ground. It is not clear to my mind how one fence can be the same as another from which it differs in such important particulars.

I should not initial such a description (and it is by no means rare) prior to signature by Board.

B. J. ATTERBURY,
Clerk-in-charge, 6/2/89.

The Chairman, Wentworth.

The Clerk-in-charge will be good enough to confine his action strictly to the limits prescribed by my minute of 31st January, 1889, 89-814.—A.J.P., Wentworth, 11/2/89. Put away.—B.J.A., 14/2/89.

APPENDIX F.

THE Clerk-in-charge appears to be here exceeding his functions (to the neglect of his own proper work) by elaborating a scheme for, amongst other things, the performance by the Boards and Chairman of duties of which he is ignorant. He thus wastes his own time, and further, proposes to waste that of the officers at head-quarters, by suggesting the transmission of his seven sheets of foolscap to the Under Secretary for Lands.

Office Memorandum.

THE following suggestions having for their object the reduction of the expense of working the Local Land Boards under the Hay Chairmanship, and the efficiency of the Hay staff, while removing the necessity for further assistance in this office, are submitted to the Chairman, and, through him, to the Under Secretary for Lands.

The principal submission around which all others contained herein hinge, is that there is no necessity that Mr. W. L. Volckman, or any other clerk, should accompany the Chairman to all Courts as deposition clerk.

For the purpose of illustrating my views, I will in this minute refer to the Courts which have just been held at Balranald and Wentworth, and from which the Chairman has not yet returned, but the work of which, as advertised, has been completed. The Chairman and Mr. Volckman left here on the morning of Tuesday, 29th January last. The Chairman times his return for the 20th instant. The expenses to the department of Mr. Volckman will therefore be £16 10s., plus salary and coach fares, i.e., £23 15s., plus coach fares, which in this district are, as is well known, rather heavy.

The return to the department for this expenditure is, it is submitted, small, viz., the taking of comparatively few and short depositions, and the writing out of the decision forms.

Out of eight cases received a day or two ago from the Chairman at Wentworth I counted the folios of the depositions taken.

There were under eleven of seventy-two words, and these included the endorsement "Sworn before us, &c."

It is submitted that the Land Agent at Wentworth, who was bound to be present, could have taken these depositions, and the expense to the department of Mr. Volckman's travelling have been saved.

As for the decision forms (form 10), they could easily now, as was heretofore the practice prior to the holding of the Courts, be prepared in the office, so far as the citation is concerned, and the decision could be filled in by the Chairman when the case is dealt with, and then and there signed by the other member of the Board.

In a large number of cases dealt with in these Local Land Board Districts there are no depositions at all, and in others they are very short. The cases in which there are lengthy depositions are the exceptions.

With all deference it is submitted that in such exceptional cases, and where the services of the Local Crown Land Agent, or the other member of the Board, are not available, the Chairman might be asked, in the interest of the service, to take the depositions himself.

In addition to the large sum (£160 in 1888) saved in travelling expenses, it is pointed out that by retaining Mr. Volckman's services at head office, the office will be fully manned, and there will be no necessity for the employment of further assistance, as has been so often proposed. This will mean a saving of about £75 per annum in addition to the above; a total of about £235.

The only objection to my proposals, so far as I can see, is that there would be no one to prove service of notice on parties, but this objection entirely vanishes, I submit, when closely examined. The present mode of serving notices is by registered letter. The notices, after being placed under cover, are handed over the counter of the post-office at Hay for registration, and there left. Subsequently—generally next day—the receipts for those letters are found in the private box at the post-office allotted to the Local Land Board. The receipts are then attached to the papers, and when in Court the party thus notified does not appear, the deposition clerk swears that notice was duly served by registered letter.

It is submitted that the fact of the receipt being attached to the papers should be sufficient proof that notice has been duly served.

But if it be held that such be not sufficient, there can, it is submitted, be no objection to the following course, viz.:—That the ordinary notices be forwarded in stamped open covers to the officer in charge of the police at the town where the ensuing Court is to be held, with the request that they be mailed by registered letters to the addressee, and that they be posted by the officer told off to attend the Court in question. That officer could then make, when necessary, the oath as to service.

BASIL J. ATTERBURY,
14th February, 1889.

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

P.S.—The Wentworth cases are now all to hand, and number twenty-two. Of these, only six had any depositions at all, totalling under fifteen folios of seventy-two words. The rate per folio which these depositions cost the department would form the problem of a very interesting calculation.—B.J.A., 16/2/89.

Memo.

*In decision it reads 20 feet.
L.B.D. 89-662.

Memo. for Mr. Volckman, Deposition Clerk.

Will Mr. Volckman be good enough to record herein whether his time on circuit of Land Board meetings with the Chairman is fully occupied, and whether deposition writing is the only work he performs on such circuit.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay, 20/2/89.

When away from head quarters on circuit, my time is always fully occupied, and generally more than fully, the work consisting of—(1) Taking depositions; (2) writing out decisions, captions, &c.; (3) keeping the minute-book indexed, and written up as to decisions, &c.; (4) any miscellaneous work, such as writing letters, telegrams, helping with routine work sent from the head office, Hay, &c., &c.—W. L. VOLCKMAN, Hay, 20/2/89. Chairman.

APPENDIX G.

THE Clerk-in-charge exceeds his functions in repeatedly addressing himself personally to the District Surveyor, and apparently, in some cases, on matters which should have formed the subject of direct communication between the Chairman and the District Surveyor. In connection with this appendix, please see papers L.B.D. 88-6,711, and 89-1,127 herewith, which please return to me at early convenience.—A. J. PARK, Chairman, Deniliquin, 23 March, 1889.

Memo. for the Clerk-in-charge, Hay.

THE Clerk-in-charge, Hay, will be good enough to explain:—

- (1.) Why the within memo. from the District Surveyor addressed to me on the 5th January, 1889, has not yet been registered.
  - (2.) Why it was not submitted to me before my departure for the late Courts at Balranald and Wentworth on 28th January, 1889.
  - (3.) Why, having regard to last paragraph of the District Surveyor's memo., the Clerk-in-charge endeavours to answer the memo. by writing his minute of 15th January, 1889 upon it before submission to me.
- Hay, 21st February, 1889. A. J. PARK, Chairman.

(1.) The matter did not appear to me of sufficient importance. In accordance with the Chairman's minute of the 21st, however, the document will now be registered.—B.J.A., 22/2/89.

(2.) It was submitted to the Chairman before the 28th ultimo, having been placed upon his table on the 15th ultimo by myself. I saw the paper before him while he was in Hay. He spoke to me on the subject without reference to any documents, and I answered him verbally in the terms of my minute of the 15th ultimo, and he appeared satisfied. The paper was not on the Chairman's table during his late absence.—B.J.A., 22/2/89.

(3.) A reference to the document in question will show the unfairness and uncharitableness of this demand for an explanation of my adoption of a certain course which, to my mind, appears in no way improper.—B.J.A., 22/2/89. The Chairman.

Memo.—

5 January, 1889.
THE Chairman's attention is again drawn to the manner in which papers sent to this office are being signed, and for reasons set forth in my memorandum of the 13th ultimo, it is respectfully requested that all papers from the Land Board Office be in future signed by him, or on his behalf.

It is desired that this matter receive the personal attention of the Chairman.

The Chairman, Local Land Board.

JOHN BROUGHTON,
Acting District Surveyor.

I am not aware of any cause for complaint in this matter since the memo. 13th ultimo referred to. * Should this memo. not be groundless (for no papers are specified), the cause has been merely an unintentional oversight, and through no lack of courtesy to the office of District Surveyor.—B.J.A., 15/1/89. Chairman.

Without any knowledge of the existence of this document (which has been submitted to me unregistered), I addressed a memo. to the Clerk-in-charge on this matter yesterday, in consequence of some submission I had seen while I was acting on papers, vide my covering memo. to Clerk-in-charge herewith.—A.J.P., Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay, 21/2/89.

The value of the above minute will be appreciated when it is pointed out that the "submission" the Chairman "had seen," and on which he "addressed" a memo. to the Clerk-in-charge on this "matter" was on papers L.B.D. 88-6711, which were never at any time marked to the District Survey Office from the local Land Board Office, Hay.—B.J.A., 22/2/89. Chairman.

Memo. by District Surveyor of 13th December, 1888, the basis of this memo., 89-1204, to be attached hereto and submitted. Urgent.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 27/2/89. Clerk-in-charge, Hay. * I have no knowledge of the memo. referred to. Perhaps the District Surveyor might be in a position to inform the Chairman.—B.J.A., 28/2/89. Chairman. In the absence of the Clerk-in-charge, Mr. Davies will please state the Registration No. of the District Surveyor's memo. of 13th December, 1888.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 1/3/89. I cannot trace a record of the document referred to in this office.—C.H.D., 1/3/89. Chairman.

Would the District Surveyor be so good as to forward to me his memo. of 13th December, 1888, if in his office; if not, would the District Surveyor kindly state (1) whether the memo. was registered in this office; (2) whether it was replied to, if so the nature of the reply. Failing all this, would the District Surveyor kindly furnish me with a copy of the missing memo.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 2/3/89. District Surveyor.

In reply to the above I beg to state, on behalf of the Acting District Surveyor, that the memo. of the 13th December, 1888, does not appear to be in this office at the present time, but I forward herewith a copy of the same taken from the press copy-book. I am unable to state definitely whether the paper was registered or not, but there appears to be very little doubt that it was not registered, as if it had been the number thereof would have been recorded in our books on the occasion of its return with the Chairman's reply, and there is no trace of the paper in the records here. I distinctly remember the paper being returned here, with a minute endorsed thereon, signed by Mr. Atterbury, pro Chairman, to the effect that care would be taken in the future to avoid signing in manner complained of.—A. R. GALE for Acting District Surveyor, 2/3/89. Chairman, Land Board Office.

13 December, 1888.

WITH regard to the manner in which minutes on several papers sent to this office for certain action have been signed of late, it is respectfully pointed out that it is considered desirable that all papers requiring action by the District Surveyor should be signed by the Chairman or on his behalf, and, as an instance of the responsibility of these matters, attention is directed to the attached case wherein a field report may have been necessary which would entail a considerable expense to the department, I therefore submit that in future all papers issued by the Local Land Office should be signed by or for the Chairman, early attention to this matter is respectfully requested.

The Chairman, Local Land Board.

JOHN BROUGHTON,
Acting District Surveyor.

Correct copy.—A. R. GALL, 2/3/89. * Vide minutes of the Clerk-in-charge of 15/1/89, and 28/2/89, 89-1204 in which a knowledge of the original of above memo. by the Acting District Surveyor is alternately admitted and denied.—A.J.P., Chairman, Deniliquin, 23/3/89.

APPENDIX H.

APPENDIX H.

Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 12 January, 1886.
I have the honor to inform you that the Secretary for Lands has been pleased to approve of the appointment of Mrs. Margaret Porter, as cleaner and caretaker of the Local Land Board and District Survey Offices at Hay, at a salary of £55 per year. The appointment to take effect from the 1st instant.

I have, &c.,
CHARLES OLIVER,
Under Secretary.

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

A copy of this letter should be sent to Mrs. Porter.—A.B.C., 19/1/86. Margaret Porter informed with copy of letter, 25/1/86.

Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 29 August, 1885.
With reference to the letter forwarded by you from Mrs. Margaret Porter, applying for increased remuneration for cleaning the Land Board and District Survey Offices at Hay, I have the honor to request that you will be good enough to furnish a report as to the arrangements necessary for the cleaning &c., of the abovementioned offices.

I am to add that Mrs. Porter's account for £1 has been passed for payment.

I have, &c.,
F. H. WILSON
(For the Under Secretary.)

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

This may be placed with letter received from the Under Secretary re the appointment of Mrs. Porter from the 1st of year 1886, at a salary of £55.—A.B.C., 4/2/86.

Sir, Hay, 18 January, 1886.
I have the honor to inform you that a clerical error occurred in the voucher of Mrs. M. Porter as caretaker of the Crown Lands Offices at Hay, by describing the situation as caretaker to the Land Board Offices, whereas the same should have read caretaker of the Crown Lands Offices at Hay.

I beg to state that an amended voucher has been submitted to the Land Agent, and would respectfully request that you cause the original document to be cancelled.

I have, &c.,
J.P., pro MARGARET PORTER;
Caretaker, Lands Office.

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

As no further action is necessary in regard to the matter herein referred to the papers may now be put away.—A.B.C., 18/1/86.

Mr. Teece,—Please inform me if any authority has been received from the Under Secretary for the payment of the amount herein claimed.—A. B. CREW, 15 January, 1886.

The Clerk-in-charge,—No authority has been received from the Under Secretary.—G. B. A. TEECE, 15/1/86.

I hereby authorize the above amount to be paid on my behalf to the credit of John Porter, Bank of New South Wales, Hay.
MARGARET PORTER.

Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 26 October, 1886.
With reference to the letter forwarded by you from Mrs. Porter, tendering her resignation as caretaker of the Local Land Board Office at Hay, I have the honor to inform you that the Secretary for Lands has approved of the same being accepted, and to ask that you will report the date Mrs. Porter's services cease.

I have, &c.,
STEPHEN FREEMAN
(For the Under Secretary.)

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

Sir, Hay, 23 November, 1886.
Having engaged in a business that prevents my further attendance as caretaker to the offices in connection with the Local Land Board at Hay, I would most respectfully request that you will kindly condescend to adopt such measures as may be the means of relieving me of my present appointment in connection thereto. Respectfully hoping this will meet with your immediate consideration.

I respectfully, &c.,
MARGARET PORTER,
Caretaker.

Will the District Surveyor please inform me if Mrs. Porter is still performing the duties of caretaker of the District Survey Office?—A. J. PARK, Chairman, 25 November, 1886.

Mrs. Porter ceased her duties as caretaker to this office on the 26th of October. I think it would be desirable to have a caretaker for each office, and I forward herewith a copy of a letter to the Under Secretary for Lands on the subject. I should have consulted the Chairman before taking any action; but the porters were doing the work badly, and I was anxious to secure the services of the woman now (temporarily) employed. Moreover the Chairman's return from Deniliquin was indefinite as far as could be ascertained here.—R. M'DONALD, District Surveyor, 25/11/86. The Chairman, Local Land Board.

Re caretaker for this office.

Sir, District Survey Office, Hay, 28 October, 1886.
I am informed by the Chairman of the Local Land Board that Mrs. Porter has resigned her position of caretaker for the Local Board and District Survey Offices, and, in reference thereto, I do myself the honor to inform you that the arrangement hitherto existing was a very unsatisfactory one as far as regards this office, being as it is about 300 yards distant from the Chairman's office. It is quite impossible for one person to thoroughly look after the two buildings, and I have to request that you will be good enough to allow a caretaker for each office. The expense would not be any greater, indeed, taking my present arrangements as a basis, the expense would be less. Pending your approval I am temporarily employing a Mrs. Kitson as caretaker (for this office only), at a salary of £20 per annum. Mrs. Porter received £50 per annum for both offices, the work is, I think, about equal in each. Mrs. Kitson is a hard-working and respectable woman, and was recommended to me by Dr. Kennedy (of this town), with whom she lived as housekeeper for some time.

She has taken up her residence within a few yards of this office, and this is in itself a convenience.

I beg to request your approval of the temporary arrangement I have made, and to ask that Mrs. Kitson may be appointed temporary caretaker of this office at a salary of £20 per annum.

I have, &c.,
ROBERT McDONALD,
District Surveyor.

The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 23 November, 1886.
 I have the honor to inform you that a proposal has been advanced by Mr. District-Surveyor M'Donald that a separate caretaker should be appointed for the District Survey Office, at a salary of £20 per annum, and to ask that you will be good enough to state what arrangement you propose submitting with regard to a caretaker for the Local Land Board Office.

I have, &c.,
 STEPHEN FREEMAN
 (For the Under Secretary).

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

Sir, Hay, 3 December, 1886.
 Referring to my resignation as caretaker of the offices in connection with the Local Land Board, Hay: Notice of acceptance having been forwarded to you from the Under Secretary for Lands, and my second letter, asking for immediate relief from the foregoing appointment (not having heard from you), I most respectfully make application that you will cause my successor to be appointed at once, as I cannot possibly attend to the offices any longer.

I have, &c.,
 MARGARET PORTER,
 Caretaker, Local Land Board Offices, Hay.

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

Let Mrs. Porter say what morning is to be her last.—A.J.P., 3/12/86. Mr. Porter, the husband of the caretaker, informed me, this morning, that his wife's services would cease from to-day.—A.B.C., 4 December, 1886.

Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 16 December, 1886.
 I am directed to invite your attention to my letter of the 23rd ultimo, requesting you to state what arrangement you propose submitting with regard to a caretaker for the Local Land Board Office, in view of the proposal of the District Surveyor, that a separate caretaker should be appointed for the District Survey Office; and I am to request you to be good enough to furnish a reply thereto at your earliest convenience.

I have, &c.,
 STEPHEN FREEMAN
 (For the Under Secretary).

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

Inform the Under Secretary that Mrs. Porter ceased her functions as office-cleaner on 4th December, 1886. Meanwhile, the offices in Lachlan-street are being cleaned by a Mrs. Scriffen, temporarily employed at 10s. per week, pending further arrangements, and the work is being performed satisfactorily. The yard and surroundings, however, are in a very untidy state, and that the services of a man, to keep them in order and act as messenger, are much required.—A.J.P., 29/12/86.

Under Secretary for Lands informed—A.B.C., 29/12/86.

Sir, Department of Lands, Sydney, 11 January, 1887.
 In reply to your letter of the 30th ultimo, relative to the appointment of a caretaker of the Local Land Board Office, Hay, I am directed by the Secretary for Lands to intimate that your suggestion cannot be adopted, but that Mrs. Kitson, now employed by the District Surveyor, is to be engaged to clean and keep in order the District Survey building, including Board and retiring rooms, and in consideration of the extra labour thus entailed, an addition of £5 to her present allowance of £20 is approved.

With respect to the Land Board Offices, it is considered that no difficulty should arise by employing a female as office-cleaner; none has arisen at the District Survey Office, or indeed at other country offices; and whoever may be employed should distinctly understand that the whole of the premises, including the yard, &c., are to be maintained in clean and proper order, and for this purpose £30 per annum is available. You will be good enough to intimate to me the name of the person employed. The Secretary for Lands does not consider that a messenger is required at your office.

I have, &c.,
 STEPHEN FREEMAN
 (For the Under Secretary).

Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

I have communicated with Mrs. Scriffen, and she declines the post. Inform the Under Secretary accordingly. Mrs. Scriffen has consented to carry on the cleaning of the office until her successor has been appointed.—A.J.P., 20/1/87. The Clerk-in-charge. Informed accordingly.—A.B.C., 24/1/87. May be put away.—L.T.B., 27/1/87. Yes.—A.B.C., 1/2/87.

Mr. Park, Hay, 27 June, 1887.
 I, the undersigned, beg to tender my resignation from the duties of caretaking of this office on the 31st July.
 C. SCRIFFEN.

Received, 22/7/87. Mrs. Scriffen's duties ceased on the 31st July, 1887.—C.H.D., 5/8/87. T.W.W.
 Memo.—Mrs. Margaret Porter ceased her functions as office cleaner on 4th December, 1886, and was succeeded by Mrs. Scriffen, temporarily employed at 10s. per week from 13th December, 1886, and has performed the duties ever since. A letter from the Under Secretary for Lands relative to this matter dated 11th January, 1887, L.B.D. 87-301 attached, states that £30 per annum is available for cleaning the office premises in Lachlan-street. Mrs. Scriffen has received no remuneration for her services since date of appointment. Submitted as to whether her voucher is to be tendered for payment at the rate of 10s. per week or £30 per annum.—C.H.D., 20/7/87. Mr. Ward.

If you appointed Mrs. Scriffen at 10s. per week (which it appears from her letter and from 86-6,557 is the case), that is all she is entitled to in my opinion. The fact of £30 per annum and not £26 being available, does not alter in any way the facts of the case. This office is not bound to spend all the money at its disposal.—T.W.W., 20/7/87. The Chairman.

Voucher to be prepared for Mrs. Scriffen's signature—10s. per week is all she is entitled to, that being per agreement with me. The £30 per annum refers to the salary payable to a woman who will keep the yard and premises clean, Mrs. Scriffen could not do this, and has been simply acting as office-cleaner pending appointment of her successor. The Under Secretary was informed of matters on 27/1/87, and should be again informed how matters stand regarding office-cleaners, Mrs. Radcliffe will do temporary duty until appointed by the Under Secretary, or some one else be so appointed.—A.J.P., 23/7/87.

Mr. Burnett,—Please register this, connect previous papers, and hand to Mr. Davies to prepare vouchers.—T.W.W., 23/7/87.

Mrs.

Mrs. Radcliffe the new office-cleaner has been temporarily employed at 10s. per week for cleaning out the office alone, or if she can make arrangements for keeping the yard in order also the remuneration will be £30 a year. This arrangement is only temporary and must be submitted for the Under Secretary's approval, as soon as definite information is obtainable as to what Mrs. Radcliffe can properly do.—T.W.W., 4/8/87.

Telegram from The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Hay, 27 August, 1887.

Voucher for Mrs. Scriffen, late caretaker, sent 5th instant, please pay speedily, woman in poverty.

A. J. PARK, Chairman, Local Land Board.

The Accountant.—S.F., 29/8/87. Abstract 318, £15 2s. 10d.; abstract 324, £1 7s. 2d. Money order for £15 1s. 2d. sent by letter on 26th August was sent Mrs. Scriffen; there is no reason why the Chairman should not transmit monthly vouchers in place of sending one in for seven months.—V.C., 29/8/87. The Chairman, Hay.—S.F., B.C., 29/8/87.

Forwarded to the Chairman for perusal.—T.W.W., Clerk-in-charge, Hay, 7/9/87. Why were monthly vouchers not furnished by Mrs. Scriffen.—A.J.P., 8/9/87. Clerk-in-charge, Hay. Mr. Davies.—Will you kindly furnish a report on the matter. I understand that you are aware of the circumstances of the case.—T.W.W., 16/9/87.

I cannot state why Mrs. Scriffen did not furnish vouchers monthly. The former caretaker (Mrs. Porter) sent in voucher every quarter ready for the Chairman's signature. I have never been instructed to prepare these vouchers monthly, and should be glad to know if it is considered part of my duty. Such being the case the matter will not be allowed to go into arrears again.—C.H.D., 16/9/87. The Clerk-in-charge.

Nothing is known in this office of why Mrs. Scriffen did not send her accounts in monthly. When she did make a claim it received prompt attention, and I submit that there is no necessity to inquire into the past, which cannot be remedied.—T.W.W., 16/9/87.

Let the present caretaker be shown how to fill in a monthly voucher and be supplied with a few blank forms, and also be instructed to render a monthly account.—A.J.P., 17/9/87. Mr. Davies will be good enough to see that these vouchers are properly rendered every month.—T.W.W., 20/9/87. Voucher for August prepared and submitted for Mrs. Radcliffe's signature.—C.H.D., 22/9/87. Voucher forwarded to the Under Secretary this day, 22/9/87. Mr. Ward. This may again be resubmitted end of October, and, if Mrs. Radcliffe continues to give satisfaction, this should be submitted to the Chairman, that he may recommend satisfaction of the temporary appointment.—T.W.W., 6/10/87. Resubmit end of October.—C.H.D., 11/10/87. Mr. Burnett.

Submitted for your favourable consideration that Mrs. Radcliffe be appointed caretaker permanently from the 1st instant. From what I can see and learn she appears to give satisfaction. Salary to be £30 per annum, vide Under-Secretary's letter, L.B.D., 87-301 herewith.—A.B., Acting Clerk-in-charge, 11/1/88. The Chairman.

As Mrs. Radcliffe is at present receiving £30 per annum, it is scarcely expedient (in view of a report to be furnished by the Board of inquiry) to make her appointment permanent.—A.J.P., 11/1/88. Resubmit after the report above alluded to has been received.—A.B., 11/1/88. Resubmit end of year 1888. End of February.—B.J.A., 7/1/89.

Sir,

Local Land Board Office, Hay, 3 January, 1889.

I have the honor to request that you will be good enough to cause the yard of this office to be cleaned up. The Chairman's horses, which I understand are in your custody, have dropped a quantity of manure near the door of the clerks' room, and in the hot weather which may be expected, this may prove a source of danger to the health of the staff.

I may add that there is no one employed in this Department at Hay whom I could instruct to do the work.

I have, &c.,

BASIL ATTERBURY

(For the Chairman).

A. P. Stewart, Esq., Hay.

Memo.—

THE attention of the Clerk-in-charge is drawn to the disgraceful state of the yard at this office. Mr. A. P. Stewart is entirely responsible, having the custody of the Chairman's horses during his (the Chairman's) absence from Hay.

The Chairman has been absent a month, and not one effort has been made by Mr. Stewart to restore the yard to its usually clean state.

The Clerk-in-charge.

C.H.D., 4 January, 1889.

A letter was written to Mr. A. P. Stewart on this subject yesterday.—B.J.A., 4/1/89. In a week. Put away.—B.J.A., 31/1/89. Will Mr. Davies kindly explain why he thought Mr. A. P. Stewart responsible for cleaning the yard? Did not the office caretaker always have that service effected when my horses were stabled in the yard?—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 7/3/89.

I regret having mentioned that Mr. A. P. Stewart was entirely responsible for the state of the yard, because I had no grounds for doing so, and it was merely surmise on my part, Mr. Stewart having the custody of the horses during your absence on leave. Hitherto, the yard has been kept clean by the caretaker, or rather, it has been attended to by her husband. I trust you will accept this acknowledgment of my error.—C.H.D., 7/3/89. The Chairman.

Memo.—

Hay, 17 January, 1889.

THE yard at this office was, prior to the recent rains, in a very filthy condition, and was rendered worse by the wet.

The smell from rotting manure was frightful, and in my opinion dangerous to health.

In addition to the above, there was an accumulation of waste paper and packing-cases.

In view of the alarming number of serious fires which have occurred recently, I was afraid that this was a source of serious danger to the office.

Therefore, in the absence of the Chairman, I took the responsibility of employing a man to clear up the premises thoroughly. The cost of the labour was £1, for which a receipt is attached, and I now have the honor to submit a voucher for the amount for your approval.

B. J. ATTERBURY,

Clerk-in-charge,

Local Land Board Office, Hay.

Department of Lands, 27 February, 1889.

Sir,

A memorandum having been received from the Clerk-in-charge of your office to the effect that he has expended the sum of £1 for labour in clearing up the office premises at Hay, I have the honor to request that you will be good enough to direct Mr. Atterbury not to incur unauthorized expenditure, and to prevent a recurrence of the dangerous and filthy condition of the office yard now reported by that gentleman. I may add that the expenditure above referred to has been approved.

The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

I have, &c.,

H. CURRY

(For the Under Secretary).

To be registered, connected to previous papers, or attach copies of letters or accounts relative to the subject, and submit to me without delay, please.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 28/2/89. The Clerk-in-charge, Hay. Mr. O'Hanlon.—B.J.A., 1/3/89. Former papers and copies of letters attached.—W.O.H., 2/3/89. The Clerk-in-charge. Now herewith.—B.J.A., 2/3/89. The Chairman.

APPENDIX I.

Memo. for Clerk-in-charge, Hay.

Hay, 20 February, 1889.

WILL the Clerk-in-charge, Hay, be good enough to explain why the direction in my minute of 7th December, 1887, L.B.D., 1887-6,539, has been disregarded by him, in that he has written a ten-line minute to Mr. Davies, in addition to writing the notation provided for by my own minute above referred to.

It appears to me quite unnecessary for the Clerk-in-charge to issue his directions to the clerks in writing, unless some special circumstances demand such a course.

A. J. P., Chairman.

This

This minute brings under my notice, for the first time, the fact that on the 7th December, 1887, the Chairman wrote a minute on L.B.D., 87-6,539. I, accordingly, looked up the record of the number which was marked blank. Inquiry, however, revealed to the fact that the paper was pasted on the wall of the large room, near a door leading into what was once a public room, now used by the Clerk-in-charge. The paper is a half sheet of foolscap, brown with exposure and dirt, full of holes, eaten in apparently by silverfish, and presenting a generally delapidated appearance. Certainly this is the last place where I should dream of looking for an official registered document—a record of the Department of Lands—and I might, perhaps, be excused for not having recognized its true value. Till my attention was hereby drawn to the paper, I had never noticed it. In regard to my “ten-line” minute, an exact copy of which is herewith, it is, I submit, a proper minute, and in view of my ignorance of any instructions such as are herein referred to, written in a proper place. With regard to the latter part of the Chairman’s minute, I beg to state that in my opinion the Clerk-in-charge must, as a rule, be allowed to use his own discretion as to the manner in which his directions are to be transmitted. It is interesting to note, however, that the Chairman’s practice is the exact opposite of the opinion herein expressed as to writing memoranda.—B.J.A., 22/2/89. The Chairman.

Crown Lands Act of 1884—(Part II, Section 14, Sub-section 4.)
Decision of Local Land Board.

NEW SOUTH WALES, }
Hillston, to wit. }

WHEREAS on the 29th day of November, 1888, it became a matter for investigation before us whether the application for a conditional lease of 1,300 acres, made by Gordon Camming, should be confirmed or otherwise, and having inquired into the said matter, we grant the applicant’s request for sub-division of the portion as measured by a line coincident with the Uabba Whoyeo boundary, with a view to the exclusion from his lease of that part of the portion within Whoyeo Pastoral Holding, and the inclusion therein of that part of the portion within the Uabba Pastoral Holding.

Applicant to pay whole cost of the sub-division, and the difference between the cost of the conditional lease as originally measured and as it is now. Ordered to be remeasured.

Sub-division not to take place until applicant has paid the whole sum to the Crown Land Agent, amount of which to be ascertained from the District Surveyor, and applicant to be informed as early as possible.

Given under our hands, at the Court-house, at Hillston, in the Colony of New South Wales, this 29th day of November, 1888.

A. J. PARK,
Chairman.
N. C. O’NEILL,
Member.

Will the District Surveyor kindly state the amount to be paid by the applicant in accordance with this decision.—B.J.A. (pro Chairman), 18/12/88. Mr. Gall,—Please estimate cost.—J. B., 29/12/88. Cost estimated at £16 12s. 11d.—A. R. GALL, 12/2/89. The Acting District Surveyor. The cost of sub-division is £8 1s. 4d., and difference between cost of the original measurement, and that now ordered, £8 11s. 7d. Total, £16 12s. 11d.—J. BROUGHTON, Acting District Surveyor, 12/2/89. The Chairman. Mr. Davies,—Please inform applicant of the amount required to be paid by him to the Land Agent, Hillston, and ask the Land Agent to receive the sum, and to advise this Office immediately upon payment.—B.J.A., 16/12/89. Amount called for by (M.) letter, and Land Agent informed.* Vide my minute on separate sheet registered as L.B.D., 88-1,128.—A.J.P., Chairman., 20/2/89, Hay. The Clerk-in-charge.

APPENDIX K.

Telegram from The Under Secretary for Lands to The Acting Crown Land Agent, Hay.

In reply your yesterday’s wire, Thursday, twenty-first (21st) instant, was yesterday proclaimed a public holiday, district of Hay. 20 February, 1889.

H. CURRY
(For the Under Secretary for Lands).

For the information of the Clerk-in-charge, Local Land Board Office.—GEO. HERBERT GIBSON, Relieving Crown Land Agent, Hay, 20/2/89. For the information of the Chairman.—B.J.A., 20/2/89.

The sending of this telegram to the Clerk-in-charge by Mr. Acting Crown Lands Agent Gibson is a matter of private courtesy, and should not have been registered in the books of this office. While thanking the Clerk-in-charge for his courtesy in sending it on to me, I must trouble him to cancel the entry in the records.—A.J.P., 20/2/89.

On the 19th instant, the Mayor of Hay informed me verbally that the 21st instant would be gazetted a public holiday. I did not regard that statement as sufficient authority for the closing of the office, and I was about to telegraph to the Under Secretary for Lands on the subject when I learned that the Acting Land Agent was telegraphing. I then decided to be guided by the answer he received. In due time a message came which is hereon. I asked the Acting Land Agent to give me the telegram, in order that I might take it as the authority for closing the office, as the Gazette containing the notice of the holiday would not reach here till after office hours on Wednesday. I registered the document, and it is now a record of the Department of Lands. I must, therefore, most respectfully but firmly decline to cancel the registration number of this document, unless under the direction of the Under Secretary for Lands. I sincerely regret that I am compelled to take this course, in opposition to the Chairman’s wishes, but the sense of what is my duty in this matter is so strong that I have no option.—B. J. ATTERBURY, 22/2/89. The Chairman.

APPENDIX L.

Office Memo.—
THE practice exists in this Office of writing and despatching letters and telegrams without any papers to show how the action originated. Hay, 16 February, 1889.

Such a course has in the past, and must in the future, necessarily cause confusion, and it is respectfully requested that in future no letters or telegrams be sent, unless the action is indicated on a registered paper, or a paper to be registered.

The Chairman Local Land Board, Hay.

B. J. ATTERBURY.

Memo for the Clerk-in-charge, Hay.

THE Clerk-in-charge, Hay, is requested to explain what system of supervision or check he practices in respect to the keeping of the records “Local Land Board, Hay,” and to indicate to me in writing the defect or defects in that system to which the mistakes in registration of papers—under L. B. D., 88-7147 are attributable.

[Urgent.]

A.J.P.,
Chairman,
Hay, 21/2/89.

Further I find that there are some knife erasures in the Records, and I require an explanation as to why such a practice exists with the knowledge of Clerk-in-charge, without being brought under my notice.—A.J.P., 21/2/89.

I know of no defects such as the Chairman herein alludes to, a clerical error appears to have been committed, which has now been rectified.—B.J.A., 22/2/89. The Chairman.

I am not aware that the value of the records has been affected by the making of any necessary corrections. I have not been accustomed to bring such matters under notice.—B.J.A., 22/2/89. The Chairman.

The “clerical error” has apparently been corrected by an alteration of 7,021 into 7,020 on lower right-hand corner of Malcolm and Beattley’s letters of 29th November, 1888, and by the word “enclosure” being written thereon at the top left hand corner—by the obliteration of the word “enclosure” in similar position on the real enclosures to Malcolm and Beattley’s letter—but no corresponding action has taken place in the records register, so that 88-7,147 still stands connected to 88-7,021 (seventy twenty-one).—A.J.P., 2/3/89. Chairman.

APPENDIX M.

APPENDIX M.

Sir, Local Land Board Office, Hay, 16 March, 1889.

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your memo. of instructions respecting the preparation of a Hay Court. As you are aware, the staff decline to work overtime, and I have received no reply to my communications to you on the subject, nor have my letters respecting the increase of the office staff, and the rearrangement of duties in the office, been even acknowledged, though the correspondence on my side extends over a period of nearly five months. I have, therefore, forwarded the letter referred to the Under Secretary for Lands with a report and a request for instructions.

In the meantime I will, as far as possible, proceed with the cases for the Hay Court as requested.

The Chairman, Deniliquin.

I have, &c.,
BASIL J. ATTERBURY.

Received at Deniliquin, 18/3/89.

APPENDIX N.

Telegram from the Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay, to The Clerk-in-charge, Local Land Board Office, Hay.

12 February, 1889.

WHERE are papers of conditional, 5,467, J. E. Grant; and why were they not placed with papers of parent conditional, 17 of 82, purchase, set down for hearing this Court?

A. J. PARK,
Chairman, Local Land Board.

Conditional lease, 5,467, Wentworth, J. E. Grant. Rent appraised by the Board at Wentworth, 21/3/88. Papers forwarded to the Under Secretary for Lands, 7/4/88. Lease not yet gazetted as to rent, and papers not yet returned to this office.—C.H.D., 22/2/89. The Clerk-in-charge.

Please inform by wire as above. The latter part of my telegram may await my examination of papers in the case, when I may be able to offer some satisfactory explanation.—B.J.A., 12/2/89. The Chairman, at Wentworth, informed by wire.—C.H.D., 12/2/89. Register and submit to Clerk-in-charge, please. Mr. Volckman was requested by me to be specially careful in preparing cases for this Court. Will he please state how the omission referred to herein occurred, or if in his opinion the papers should have been attached to the parent conditional purchase.—B.J.A., 20/2/89.

When preparing the Wentworth Court I did not refer to the registers to ascertain whether the subject conditional purchase had a lease attached to it, it not occurring to me that the forfeiture of the conditional purchase entailing forfeiture of any attached conditional lease, similar action as regards disposal of the land would have to be taken on that conditional lease.—V.L.V., 20/2/89. The Clerk-in-charge.

The case having been dealt with, the above explanation may perhaps be accepted, and papers put away.—B.J.A., 20/2/89. The Chairman

APPENDIX O.

Clerk-in-charge impertinent to Chairman and speaks disrespectfully of the Hay Land Board.

3:30 p.m. Mr. Atterbury brought in twelve cases for signature of certificate of conformation, in case I should be in a hurry, and when I asked him if there were many he said, "about three times as many more." I asked why he could not have sent them in before during my stay in Hay, as I depart to-morrow. He did not know I was going. I asked if he knew I was due in Deniliquin on Monday, or thought I could get there in less than two days. I explained how inconsiderate it was for him to manage his work like this, knowing that I cannot sign these important documents without examination. In the last lot I found mistakes (he interrupted with "You found two.") I said, "Two or otherwise, it might lead to a request for a rehearing, as happened some time ago." He said, "That was a Board blunder, not due to this office." I said, "How dare you use such an expression in regard to the Board, sir?" He replied, "I do, though, and will stick to it," and left the room and slammed the door of his room, which is immediately opposite mine, 3 feet or so.

Mr. Davies.—You were present—is the foregoing true, please? If so, pray initial this and the other sheet.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 7/3/89, 3.45 p.m. I was present and overheard the above, and it is exactly what occurred.—C.H.D., 7/3/89.

APPENDIX P.

If not disturbing the routine of the office work, will the Acting Clerk-in-charge please lend me the record register and press copy letter-book, last volume in each case, for half an hour or so.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 2/4/89.

Record register and press copy book herewith.—A.B., 2/4/89.

Is with Mr. Davies under No 89-1,627.—B.J.A., 3/4/19
*B.J. Atterbury.

Memo. for Acting Clerk-in-charge, Hay.—L.B.D. 89-1,481 does not appear to have been marked off to the Under Secretary for Lands. Page 65, vol. 10. Letter-book folio 80, vol. 7, shows that it was probably sent to the Under Secretary on 16th March, 1889. Has any reply been received to that letter, or to letters on folios 36 and 37, vol. 7? Will the Acting Clerk-in-charge kindly discover who has disfigured the record register by the use of chemicals and knives* on the pages containing yesterday's and to-day's entries, i.e., during the time the Acting Clerk-in-charge has been in charge.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 2/4/89.

Referred to the Record Clerk.—A.B., Acting Clerk-in-charge, 3/4/89.

This paper has been handed to me, and I presume that I am asked to reply to the various queries. It is pointed out that, while on Mr. Boot's arrival, he, as senior officer and under the instructions of the Under Secretary, assumed control of the office, my official and legal title and position remain unaffected.—B. J. ATTERBURY, 3/4/89. Mr. Boot.

Again referred to the officer at present engaged at record work, who will be good enough to reply as soon as possible. Communications should not be addressed personally to officers holding an official title.—A.B., Acting Clerk-in-charge, 3/4/89.

My official title conferred by the Governor and Executive Council is Clerk-in-charge, Local Land Board Office, Hay, and it is not in the power of any one (certainly not of Mr. Boot) to deprive me of that title.—B.J.A., 3/4/89. Mr. Emergency Land Agent Boot.

The attention of the Chairman is called to paragraphs 2, 3, and 4 of his memo. of 2nd instant, inasmuch as they remain unanswered, though the Clerk-in-charge of Records (Mr. Atterbury) has been called on twice to do so, but in each case replied with matter having no reference to the subject and wasting my time in perusing same. I now ask to be protected from a recurrence of such correspondence.—A.B., Acting Clerk-in-charge, 3/4/89.

Mr. Acting Clerk-in-charge Boot has requested me to protect him from the unwarrantable behaviour of Mr. Atterbury. In order that proper discipline may be maintained, and because Mr. Atterbury is a constant element of discord, the origin of any disorganization in this office, and the cause of the loss of much valuable time, I have the honor to suggest that this office be relieved of Mr. Atterbury's services.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, B.C. 4/4/89.

The Under Secretary for Lands, Sydney,—Please see my memo. of this date upon L.B.D. 89-1,966.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 12/4/89.

Without in any way endorsing Mr. Atterbury's defiant and offensive attitude, as disclosed herein, it is obvious that the trouble could have been avoided had a little more consideration been extended to him in the reference from the Acting Clerk-in-charge. Evidently he finds his present position very trying, and the note referred to the "Record Clerk," if meant for Mr. Atterbury, was of a nature to cause irritation, as it unnecessarily emphasized the fact that he is not at present recognized as being clothed with the full powers of Clerk-in-charge. Pending the result of the investigation about to be held, I see no justification for dispensing with Mr. Atterbury's services, so long as the work is at all in arrears; and, in fact, it is only right that he should have access to the records during the progress of the inquiry, so far as it relates to or affects him.—S.F., B.C., 6/4/89. The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.
no

To be seen and noted by Mr. Atterbury. Seen and noted, with thanks to the Under Secretary for his protection.—B.J.A., 10/4/89. The Chairman.—A.B., Acting Clerk-in-charge, 10/4/89. Had I known that an inquiry was about to be instituted, I should have not taken any action on this paper, L.B.D. 89-1,965.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 12/4/89.

No. 116.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Chairman, Land Board, Hay.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 25 March, 1889.

Referring to your blank-cover communication of the 5th instant, urging that extra assistance be afforded your office, I have the honor to inform you that the Secretary for Lands has approved of your being authorized to expend the sum of £25 in procuring local clerical labour to assist in the preparation of the returns.

I am to add that it has been arranged that Mr. Boot, Emergency Land Agent, now at Grafton, is to proceed to Hay as soon as possible to afford general assistance in your office.

I have, &c.,

H. CURRY,

(For the Under Secretary).

No. 117.

Office Memorandum.

Local Land Board Administration at Hay.

THE state of the Local Board Office at Hay, which is under the management of Mr. Chairman Park, can only be described as one of total disorganisation, and it is to be feared that as a result of the hostile feeling existing between the Chairman, the Clerk-in-charge, and other officers, the public interest will suffer if such a state of things is allowed to continue. Charges of the grossest character are brought against the Clerk-in-charge by the Chairman, on the one hand, and against the Chairman by the Clerk-in-charge, on the other.

The latter officer is accused of—

1. Untruthfulness.
2. Rude and insulting behaviour to the Chairman.
3. Exceeding his functions as Clerk-in-charge; and
4. Insubordination.

Amongst the charges preferred against the Chairman are the following:—

1. Arrogant and insulting behaviour to Clerk-in-charge with a view to provoking him to commit himself, and thus cause his removal from his position.
2. Keeping papers locked up, and neglecting to sign certificates and other documents, to the prejudice of public business.
3. Suppressing written representations by the Clerk-in-charge on official matters addressed to him personally, and on some occasions to the Under Secretary.
4. Endeavouring to coerce the Under Secretary into increasing the staff of the office by permitting the work to fall into arrear.
5. Neglecting to nominate a local junior clerk, as suggested by the Under Secretary, although several applications were forwarded to him by the Clerk-in-charge; and detaining correspondence on the subject.
6. Withholding support from the Clerk-in-charge in respect of the control of the office.
7. Overcharging his accounts for personal expenses of travelling, by occupying a longer time than necessary in the performance of his duty as Chairman of Land Boards at a distance from Hay.

Whilst desiring to abstain as much as possible from comments at this stage, I must state, for the Minister's information, that more trouble and loss of time has been occasioned by contentious correspondence emanating from this office than from the whole of the other Land Offices under the Department.

I see no other course open than a stringent and comprehensive inquiry, embracing not only the specific charges now before the department, but the general conduct of the business, and the complaints made by the public against Mr. Chairman Park for alleged maladministration.

The higher officers of the department are at the present time so overcharged with work of immediate urgency and great public importance that it is absolutely impossible, without serious obstruction to business, to direct any two or more of them to undertake this investigation at once.

As some portion of the inquiry will be of a public nature, and it is necessary, both in the interest of the officers and the public, that the charge of maladministration shall be investigated in the fullest manner possible, and by persons possessing the public confidence, I recommend that a Board be appointed, consisting of Dr. Sly, barrister-at-law, Mr. Licensed-Surveyor M. C. Langtree, and Mr. Chairman Conder, to proceed to Hay at the earliest possible moment and hold the necessary inquiry.

Dr. Sly is so well and favourably known that it is unnecessary to make any remarks as to his selection; and Mr. Chairman Conder has had such exceptional experience in the course of a long career as an officer of this department, ending in a comprehensive inspection of the whole of the Local Board and District Survey Offices of the Colony, that no Investigation Board of this character would be complete without him.

Mr. Langtree for many years performed contract work as a licensed surveyor for this department, and relinquished the practice of his profession some years back for the purpose of entering into pastoral pursuits in the Western Division of the Colony. When the appraisal of pastoral holdings was being undertaken his services were availed of for the purpose of inspection and report. Afterwards Mr. Langtree was entrusted with the selection of the most suitable location for a rabbit-proof fence to extend from Narromine to Albury, and with the duty of reporting on applications for scrub leases. Throughout his career Mr. Langtree has enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all classes of the community, and being thoroughly conversant with public requirements, and untrammelled by official prejudices, it necessarily follows that his appointment would be a judicious one.

Pending the arrival of the Board at Hay, and with a view to providing against public inconvenience, Mr. Boot, Emergency Land Agent, who is at present on duty at the Grafton Board Office, may perhaps be recalled and directed to take charge of the Hay Office without delay. The present Clerk-in-charge should work under Mr. Boot's direction until otherwise instructed.

S.F., 26/3/89.

Approved.—J.N.B., 1/4/89.

Inform Dr. Sly and Mr. Langtree. Mr. Chairman Conder to peruse papers. Ask Mr. Langtree to leave for Hay by the mail train of Monday evening and inform Dr. Sly that Mr. Conder and Mr. Langtree will proceed by that train.—S.F., 3/4/89. Immediate.

Dr. Sly and M. C. Langtree, Deniliquin, 4/4/89.

The Chairman, Land Board, Hay, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Court-house, Deniliquin, 27 March, 1889.

I have the honor to apologise for the delay in answering your letter to me of 17th January 1889, Minl. 89-503, on the subject of my having addressed the Honorable the Minister for Lands directly on the subject of the record of my length of service in the Lands Department.

I did not receive your letter until the eve of my departure for Wentworth Land Board meeting, since which time my official engagements have entirely occupied my time.

In obedience to the order of the Honorable the Minister for Lands that I should explain why I did not communicate my request to the Under Secretary for Lands instead of the Honorable the Minister himself, as by Regulation No. 1 of the Crown Land Act of 1884, I have to state that I had always supposed that regulation to refer only to official communications under the Lands Acts, and not to the purely personal matters concerning an official, otherwise I should have addressed my communication to the Under Secretary for Lands, as I have always hitherto done in all other cases.

I have, &c.,

A. J. PARK,

Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

Mr. Chairman Park should know that the proper medium of communication upon all official matters not otherwise expressly provided for is the Under Secretary for Lands, and there is no justification for the assumption that the Minister should be addressed direct upon personal matters. Mr. Park's explanation is not satisfactory. I have no desire, however, to pursue the matter any further, but as the former papers are with the Board about to investigate the Hay Land Board administration, this paper should be sent to them.—S.F., B.C., 6/4/89. Mr. Chairman Conder, Hay.

The officers concerned may be informed by letter, and Mr. Boot further instructed to submit a report on the state of the work in the office as soon as practicable after his arrival.

Sir,

Hay, 1 April, 1889.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 30th instant, informing me that Mr. Boot supersedes me in the charge of this office, and in doing so I beg to express my regret that I should be so punished without being given the opportunity for defence.

As regards the alleged disorganisation, I beg to state that none exists. The only difference in this office, so far as the staff is concerned, is caused by the objections of the temporary officers to work overtime, which objections have been completely wiped away by the 2s. per hour which they are now receiving.

I proudly point to the fact that, with the smallest staff this office has ever had, there are no arrears beyond the quarterly returns and the indexing of a few press copy-books (not letter-books), and this state of affairs is principally the result of my own arduous labours after office hours.

I have the honor to ask that, as a matter of justice, the terms of your letter of the 25th ultimo (ML. 89-2,099) may be adhered to, and that till found unfit or unworthy I may retain my position.

I have, &amp;c.,

Inform that in view of recent correspondence the action taken was deemed necessary, but that Mr. Boot's temporary appointment is not to be considered a punishment to Mr. Atterbury. Then send to Special Investigation Board.—S.F., 3/4/89.

IN view of the very brief period within which the forthcoming investigation can be conducted—Dr. Sly being unable to remain after the 27th instant—it becomes necessary to arrange for the constant attendance of the Chairman and the Clerk-in-charge at the Board inquiry. I have already arranged so that Mr. Atterbury will be in a position to do this; but Mr. Chairman Park, unless authorised to absent himself from the Local Land Board meeting, commencing on Monday, 15th instant, may be unable to be constantly present. The investigation is of primary importance, and therefore I feel justified in suggesting that Mr. Park be granted leave of absence from the Land Board meeting during the progress of the inquiry at Hay, and directed to give his attendance before the Board.

Also suggested that Mr. Pearce, Police Magistrate, be requested to act as Chairman during Mr. Park's absence. Mr. Acting District-Surveyor Broughton will be in a position to render good service on the Board as an experienced official, familiar with the local administration.

[Enclosures.]

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 2 May, 1889.

I have the honor to submit for your consideration the following remarks with reference to matters of official routine and kindred subjects, which came under my notice as a member of the Board during the recent inquiry at Hay, but which have not been included in the report on the complaints and specific charges against Mr. Chairman Park of alleged maladministration, &c.

These remarks relate to matters which the Board hesitated to report upon, because not conversant with the general practice and conduct of departmental business.

The Board, however, expressed their desire that I should supply you with any information in this connection which appeared to me desirable, believing that from my position as a member of the Board of Inquiry recently engaged in an inspection of the whole of the Local Land Board and District Surveyors' Offices of the Colony, I had the best opportunity for forming a correct opinion as to the state of the Hay office in this respect.

Office Routine.

From the evidence of Mr. O'Hanlan, Mr. Davies, and Mr. Boot, in the course of this inquiry, it appears that certain alterations in the detail of office procedure have been introduced by Mr. Atterbury which have led to serious omissions in the registers, disturbed the arrangement of papers, broken the continuity of necessary returns, and otherwise seriously impaired the efficient working of the office. Since the adoption of the system of registration directed in circular 89-8 of 19th February, 1889, this evil has to a great extent been remedied, but as a consequence of Mr. Atterbury's action there still remain some gaps in the registers which should be filled in with the utmost promptitude. For example, Inspector's reports, applications to substitute other improvements in lieu of fencing, and documents of equal importance, have escaped notation in the proper registers on account of their having been persistently noted by the Clerk-in-charge "put away," without reference to the Officer-in-charge of such registers. In preparing cases for a recent Board meeting no less than sixty instances were discovered in which, from the adoption of Mr. Atterbury's system, the registers were found to be imperfect, and a large amount of extra labour was involved in searching through "put away" papers for the required information, leaving always a residuum of uncertainty.

Although efforts have been made to supply the deficiencies, the evidence shows that there are grave doubts in the office as to their success. This position is fraught with so much danger to the administration that I would respectfully submit that immediate and special action be taken from head-quarters to place these registers in a normal condition by filling in any omissions.

Amongst the new office arrangements introduced by Mr. Atterbury was a system of keeping official papers in quite a different manner to that which they had previously been in. The papers which had been put away in bundles of the particular classes to which they belong (conditional purchases, conditional leases, &c., &c.), have now been distributed in the consecutive order of their recorded numbers in the Record Registers; therefore, in order to collect any particular set of papers upon which action may be required, and which should be all ready to hand, a tedious search becomes necessary.

In this way conditional pre-emptive lease papers are now mixed up with all kinds of documents, and much labour will be necessary to disintegrate them if required—which appears probable, in view of proposed legislative action now before Parliament.

In the course of the inquiry I noticed that the conditional purchase and conditional lease registers contained notations of papers sent to the Board Office by the District Surveyor for record only, as, for instance, letters from licensed surveyors to the District Surveyor covering plans and reports.

By such action the registers are unnecessarily encumbered with notations, which represent no actual stage in the official history of the application, besides involving extra labour, and a possible misconception as to the "date of survey" for the purposes of the Act.

It was admitted by Mr. Atterbury that he had ordered the discontinuance of the "Postage Book" owing to the amount of arrears in the office. The labour in keeping this book is very small, and its use is not confined to an account of the stamps used, but it should also contain important evidence of the despatch of particular letters, and should on no account have been allowed to fall into disuse for any time whatever.

Under an arrangement assented to by Mr. Atterbury, the Crown Land Agent, at Hay, had discontinued the sending in of nil returns of weekly extracts.

Since Mr. Boot has taken charge these returns have been sent in for each week, but the intervening period should be accounted for, and the sequence made perfect without delay.

Administrative as affecting the Chairman.

It appeared from the evidence of Mr. Gibson (page 23) that "when a selector under the old Act has dealings with the Land Agent, that is, applying for land under the new Act, Mr. Park compels them to produce their certificates of conformity, which are sometimes mortgaged to the bank, and are then not readily obtainable."

Mr. Park's explanation of this charge is that he does not compel, but endeavours to coerce applicants into the production of these documents, "as it shows they have a clean sheet, and is a great convenience to the Board and the Board Office."

In my opinion this practice is utterly unwarrantable, besides being calculated to harass and annoy applicants, and frequently to involve a public exposure of financial arrangements, to which the individuals may naturally object.

Further, I fail to recognize the advantage which the Land Board, or Board Office, can derive from this course; and respectfully recommend that imperative instructions be at once issued for its discontinuance.

I think it desirable to invite attention to the explanation, by Mr. Park, in connection with the charge made by Mr. Gibson that irrelevant details were entered into at inquiries, which was "I think it was a very pertinent question to ask applicant why he put his house within a chain distant from his brother's."

In my opinion, as each house was erected on the particular holding occupied by the applicant, the fact of the brothers building as nearly as possible to each other is by no means a suspicious circumstance, and that any exception taken to a natural arrangement of this character could have no other result than irritation.

The Board of Inquiry appointed to investigate the Local Land Board and District Surveyors' Offices, throughout the Colony, in their Progress Report, No. 1, of the 30th November, 1887, at pages 119, 120, submitted that the system of issuing notices to selectors of impending inquiries, as then in force at Hay, "caused unnecessary anxiety and expense to selectors, who should be informed precisely what particular condition appears to have been unfulfilled, and will be the subject of inquiry."

The system thus then condemned still prevailed at the time of the recent investigation; and I think it my duty to suggest that instructions should be issued directing that, in every instance, the subject of inquiry, whether residence, improvements, or bona fides, should be set out in the notice, and that the inquiry should be confined to the subject stated, unless with the applicant's consent.

With respect to cases brought on for inquiry by the Local Land Boards it was noticed that the Chairman's action on similar final reports by the same conditional purchase inspector is sometimes contradictory—for instance, in the case of conditional purchase 83-84, Orr, Hay District, owing to the remark in the Inspector's report "selector letting the land for for grazing purposes," the Chairman has noted the case for inquiry on a suspicion of mala fides; while, on the other hand, in the case of conditional purchase 82-151, Jones, Hay District, the same Inspector having reported "selector renting to lessee of holding," the report is considered by the Chairman to be satisfactory, and the case submitted for issue of certificate without inquiry.

Inconsistencies of this nature expose the administration to charges of favouritism; and so long as they prevail will prove fruitful causes for discontent and complaints on behalf of the public.

Attention is invited to the inquiry by the Land Board into the question of bona fides in the case of John Roach's conditional purchase No. 82-146 Hay.

From the evidence it appears that the list of the improvements on the selection was written by the station storekeeper—that the selector did not know the corner-peg of his selection—that he only employs himself on odd jobs about and sometimes goes rabbiting—that he did not know where the "tank in a swamp," included in a list of improvements handed by him to the Conditional Purchase Inspector was situated—that a few days after, when the Inspector met him at Gunbar, he handed to that officer a letter offering to point out an excavation of 300 yards, which he said he had omitted to show. This the Inspector believes to be the tank referred to.

The evidence of James Hurst acknowledges the receipt from the storekeeper of the Gunbar Run of a cheque in payment for an excavation, signed by Armstrong Bros.

In view of the above, it is apparent that the inquiry should not have closed without obtaining the evidence of Messrs. Armstrong's storekeeper and the production of the station-books.

Viewing the selector's own statement as to his occupation, and ignorance of material facts as to improvements, &c., on his conditional purchase, the case was evidently one of grave suspicion; and it is difficult to understand why the Board made no effort to obtain the further evidence suggested above, instead of deciding offhand that—"There is insufficient evidence to prove that the applicant holds the conditional purchase in the interest of any other person."

The action in this case is of a nature to give rise on the part of the public to a want of confidence in the local administration.

This was one of the cases to which Mr. Lakeman, M.P., drew attention in his evidence (p. 45).

Miscellaneous.

Respecting the complaint made by Mr. Lakeman, M.P., with reference to the closing of the Hay Office during the absence of the Chairman and Clerk-in-charge; and that the clerks there had received instructions not to go into the office to work during the absence of the responsible officer (vide 89-6 Ml.)

The simultaneous absence of the Chairman and Clerk-in-charge arose from circumstances for which neither of those officers could be held responsible,—the Chairman being absent on official duty, and the Clerk-in-charge being called away by the serious illness of his child;—hence an awkward hiatus appears to have arisen, chiefly in consequence of the Chairman's instructions to Mr. Davies of 7th July, 1888—that the public were not to have access to papers or authoritative information while he (Mr. Davies) was in temporary charge of the office. Mr. Davies considered that under these instructions, as he had not been appointed to act as Clerk-in-charge, he had no authority to give information to Mr. Lakeman.

In view of the foregoing, and the correspondence and papers with 88-6,342 Ml., it appears to me necessary to invite your special attention to the importance of some definite rules being laid down to meet exigencies which may occur from any enforced temporary absence of the Chairman and Clerk-in-charge through illness or otherwise.

The opinion I formed of Mr. Davies' qualifications led me to the belief that he is fully competent to act as Clerk-in-charge during any emergency of the above kind. I think the Chairman's attempt to manage the office details himself from a distance by means of postal and telegraphic communication was uncalled for, and could only result in confusion.

Mr. Park, in his evidence, acknowledges that he had forgotten the contents of the circular to the Chairmen of Local Land Boards of 29th January, 1885 (see paragraph 2, lines 6 to 9); and it is moreover patent that he could not have duly considered the authority conferred on him by the last paragraph of Regulation No. 12 under the Civil Service Act, to cause the duties of the absent officer to be carried out in such a manner as he (the Chairman) might authorise or direct.

The specific instructions contained in Mr. Park's office memorandum for Mr. Davies (Land Board District 88-6,010), together with verbal instructions to that officer, as detailed on pp. 1, 2, 3, 4, Appendix F, with papers Ml. 88-6,342, evidently had the effect of preventing Mr. Davies from exercising his discretion in the peculiar position in which he was placed.

The instructions given to Mr. Davies by the Chairman (vide 88-6,342, Ml. Appendix F, page 3) "that if the Under Secretary for Lands asked for papers I was not to send them without first referring the papers to him, or communicating the facts by wire," I can only regard as utterly unjustifiable.

Again, referring to the same instructions, in which Mr. Davies is directed in any case in which his signature was required, in the following terms:—"In matters where it was necessary for me to sign, my official designation and no other was to be used, viz. :—CHARLES H. DAVIES, temporary clerk in Local Land Board Office, Hay."

In my opinion the word "temporary" was quite superfluous, and not in accordance with the meaning of Regulation No. 25 of the 11th November, 1886, for the Civil Service of New South Wales, "wherein persons temporarily employed, and all employees in the public offices, shall be deemed to be officers for the purpose of these regulations."

But there is a further and stronger objection to the phraseology in the fact that the public may regard information written over such a title as devoid of authorisation and as extra official; besides which it is calculated to handicap the zeal of willing officers.

Referring to pages 8 and 9 of Mr. Park's evidence with regard to Mr. Thompson's application for extension of time for fencing conditional purchase 86-21, the action of the Local Land Board appears to have been somewhat hasty, a verbal application having been made during the inquiry, and no suggestion offered to the applicant to tender a written one, which would, without injury to any person, have, according to Mr. Park's evidence, altered the aspect of the case. I fail to see any sound reason why an application for extension of time for fencing, written on the proper form (obtainable in the Board office) may not be tendered by an applicant during the hearing of an inquiry into the fulfilment of conditions, and dealt with there and then, the last two lines of Regulation 65 having clearly been intended in the interest of the applicant, and not to be used against him. The spirit of the law is in the direction of bona fide settlement, and anything done in its administration tending to hamper such settlement is, I take it, opposed to public policy.

Referring to Mr. Park's explanation (see evidence, page 5) in connection with Ml. 89-152, in which he disclaims any intentional spirit of irritability or insubordination in his communication with the Under Secretary,—as this matter appears to have been finally dealt with by the Minister, I do not feel it my duty to offer any comment beyond that Mr. Park has been guilty of official discourtesy in not acknowledging the receipt of the Minister's decision as embodied in the Under Secretary's letter of 27th December, 1888.

The Under Secretary for Lands.

I have, &c.,
WM. J. CONDER.

I have gone carefully through all the various matters dealt with in this letter, and fully concur in the suggestions and recommendations set forth therein.—M. CAMPBELL LANGTREE.

No. 1.

Sir,

Sydney, 2 May, 1889.

In compliance with the instructions of the Secretary for Lands, dated 1st instant, we have the honor to submit the following report on the complaints made by the public against Mr. Park, of alleged maladministration in his capacity of Chairman of the Hay Local Land Board District; and also on the general conduct of the business in the Hay District; and also on the specific charges made by Mr. Park against Mr. Atterbury, the Clerk-in-charge at Hay; and also on certain specific charges made by Mr. Atterbury against Mr. Park.

We commenced our inquiry at Hay on the 10th instant, and sat continuously until the 18th instant inclusive, and took all evidence viva voce (but not on oath), but the evidence given by each witness was taken down in writing, and read over to and signed by him as correct.

We also had before us the official papers relating to the cases referred to by the witnesses.

For

- For matter of convenience, we divide our report into three parts, namely :—
 No. 1. The public charges against Mr. Park, and the general conduct of the business.
 No. 2. The charges of Mr. Park, the Chairman, against Mr. Atterbury, the Clerk-in-charge.
 3. The charges of Mr. Atterbury, the Clerk-in-charge, against Mr. Park, the Chairman.

As to No. 1.

With regard to this matter we sat in open court to hear any witnesses that chose to come forward, and we invited witnesses to come forward by causing the insertion of a paragraph in each of the local newspapers, to the effect that we were sitting from day to day, and would receive any evidence that might be tendered, and also by telegraphing to the same effect to Balranald; and further by writing to a large number of persons in various parts of the district who, we were informed, had complaints to make, some of whom had already been informed by the Under Secretary for Lands to the same effect.

Amongst other witnesses examined were :—Mr. Allan Lakeman, M.P., and Mr. Robert Gibson, Land Agent, and Mr. Henry Edmund Paten Thompson and Mr. George Sides, the two latter gentlemen being two of the prime movers in the deputation which waited on the Minister for Lands with respect to the charges against Mr. Park, and who were specially asked by us to bring any evidence they wished to corroborate their charges.

We are of opinion that Mr. Park is a careful and upright officer, and that he deals out evenhanded justice to all persons alike without fear or favour, and that his sole endeavour is to administer the law as he conscientiously believes it should be administered.

Mr. Park, however, has committed mistakes in law, and errors of judgment, as will appear hereafter in this report. He has given, in many cases, a very strict interpretation of the land laws, and the complaints against him have arisen from this strict interpretation of the law, and not from any bias in favour of any particular class; and these complaints and charges arise partly from his interpretation of the term "residence" under the Land Acts; and on a perusal of the evidence herewith, and the cases cited therein, it will be found that he is of opinion that a selector sleeping on a selection when he habitually takes his meals on an adjoining selection, whether with other members of his family or not, though all necessary improvements have been made, does not comply with the condition of bona fide residence within the meaning of the Land Acts.

We are of opinion that this is a too narrow and erroneous construction of the law when a man is a bona fide settler, and we see no reason why one member of a family, when he bona fide improves his selection, is not entitled, either for economical or social grounds, to take his meals with other members of his family on adjoining selections.

We think this, in our opinion, narrow and erroneous construction of the term "residence" is the origin of some of the complaints against Mr. Park.

As an illustration of the above, we would refer to the case of Archibald Lang, conditional purchase S1-101, where Archibald Lang gave the following evidence :—

"For the last two years I had my meals at father's place, and slept on my own selection."

With the exception of the statements contained in this evidence, it appeared that all the other conditions required by the Act had been fulfilled, and on this evidence alone the Board decided that the condition of residence had not been fulfilled during the last two years of the time.

A very strict or strained interpretation of the law has also been adopted in connection with what are commonly known as "family selections"; thus the natural, legitimate, and praiseworthy anxiety of a father to provide for, and settle his grown-up family on the land has been held to constitute strong grounds for suspicion of mala fides, if not an actual breach of the provisions of sections 121 and 122 of the Act of 1884.

The case of M. A. Prendergast, conditional purchase 85-52, Hay, is referred to in illustration, the circumstances of which, as quoted in the printed report of the case as dealt with by the Court of appeal (vol. 1, part III, page 150), indicate unmistakably that the narrow views of the Chairman in this connection are not in accordance with the law.

Although decisions based under this erroneous interpretation may be rectified on appeal, yet we think that the selector should not be put to this unnecessary expense, trouble, and annoyance; and in support of this opinion it may be mentioned that the selections of two of the brothers of M. A. Prendergast applied for about the same time were disallowed by the Land Board for similar reasons.

These decisions were not appealed against, and consequently the applicants lost the land.

Certain complaints have been made against Mr. Park of rudeness, but we think that these complaints arise from a mannerism which might amount to brusqueness, but there is no evidence that he has been intentionally rude to any person. In certain instances, in the conduct of the Court business, he, as Chairman, has found it his duty to be firm, which some selectors have mistaken for harshness.

We think, too, that this charge of rudeness applies to the early part of the administration of Mr. Park, when from over anxiety to get the fullest information as to the cases before him, his manner was regarded as too searching and inquisitorial; but during the last twelve months even this cause of complaint seems to have almost, if not entirely, disappeared.

We think that there is no substantial cause of complaint against Mr. Park on this ground.

It is also charged against Mr. Park that in cases of selections taken up under the Land Acts of 1861, 1875, and 1880, the Board holds unnecessary inquiries when the Conditional Purchase Inspectors report favourably as to fulfilment of conditions, and so put a bona fide settler to useless expense in attending the Court, and in bringing witnesses, and also causes delay to the settler in getting his certificate of conformity.

Under section 20 of the Act of 1884, the Minister sends such cases for report to the Chairman, and directs an inquiry to be held only in case the Inspector's report is not favourable. The Chairman, however, appears to regard it as necessary that inquiries should be held by the Boards as to the value of improvements when the Inspector's report is favourable; and we think this is unnecessary unless the Inspector's report is erroneous on the face of it.

The value of improvements is a matter of opinion to a great extent, and if the report is favourable, that, in our opinion, ought to be final as to their value.

With respect to the question whether an inquiry should be made as to bona fides: this must, in our opinion, be left to the discretion of the Chairman—if the Inspector's report contains suspicious facts (and it would be impossible for us to say what are suspicious facts), unless otherwise specially instructed by the Minister.

As an illustration of the above, in the case of William P. Manley, conditional purchase S3-80, Hay, the Inspector valued the improvements at £328 on 640 acres, which is over the required amount, viz., 10s. per acre; and no suspicious circumstances appear from the report, yet an inquiry is about to be held by the Board as to the value of improvements. And in this case the selector will be put to a considerable delay and also expense in attending the Court by himself and his witnesses (if any).

It is also a matter of complaint that the Board assess the selector at a higher rent than the pastoral holdings of adjoining land. The explanation of Mr. Park appears to us satisfactory, inasmuch as the selector generally takes up the best of the land and gets security of tenure, whereas the pastoral holder has to take the balance, which varies in character, and is assessed on the average value of the land, which may include a large proportion of very inferior land, and without any security of tenure. We therefore think that this complaint is groundless.

It is also alleged that the public cannot get information at the Land Board Office unless the inquirer is the party interested in the land.

A case came under our notice where a land agent applied for information as to the Inspector's report with reference to a certain conditional purchase which was about to be sold by the Sheriff. The land agent was refused all information.

We consider that the public are entitled to the fullest information that can be obtained in the office, and with as little delay as possible, and that Mr. Park acted inadvisedly in refusing it.

The selectors in the Hay district also complain that there is considerable delay from the time of application to confirmation. We did not find that this was due to any fault of the Local Land Board. The enormous size of the district prevents as many Courts being held as in some other districts. This may account for some of the delay, but the greater part appears to arise from the delays attending survey.

Certain papers have been sent to us for report in which Mr. Park addressed the Minister direct, instead of the Under Secretary, contrary to the regulations of the service. As the matter of the communication was regarded by Mr. Park as a personal one, we think he committed the mistake unintentionally, and we consider that his explanation (as set forth in the evidence) is satisfactory.

As to No. 2.

With regard to the charges made by Mr. Park against Mr. Atterbury, the Clerk-in-charge, we think that the evidence before us clearly showed that Mr. Atterbury was guilty of (1) rude and insulting behaviour to Mr. Park; (2) exceeding his function as Clerk-in-charge; and (3) insubordination.

We are also of opinion that Mr. Atterbury was guilty of prevarication to Mr. Park; but this was outside official matters, though Mr. Atterbury almost made the matter official, as he asked Mr. Park, as Chairman, to protect him from certain accusations made by Mr. Thomas Robertson, a solicitor practising in Hay, and the prevarication arose out of this matter, as Mr. Atterbury wilfully misled Mr. Park into the belief that he (Mr. Atterbury) was not the author of certain letters in a local newspaper, ridiculing Mr. Thomas Robertson, which he (Mr. Atterbury) afterwards admitted he was the author of.

We are of opinion that Mr. Atterbury misunderstood his position as Clerk-in-charge, and seemed to desire to control the whole office, including the Chairman; and from Mr. Atterbury's demeanour to Mr. Park, and the statements he made concerning him during the inquiry, we think it absolutely necessary for the proper working and discipline of the office staff that Mr. Atterbury be at once removed from Hay. We, however, think that Mr. Atterbury, if he likes, can be an efficient officer, and we believe he is an able and a hard working one, and we therefore think that the department should not lose his services, but that he would at the head office probably prove a very useful and intelligent officer; that is, at an office where he would be kept in his proper place.

We do not think it necessary to go into the evidence in detail in support of our conclusion, but we beg respectfully to refer the same to the Minister, if he wishes to substantiate our report.

As to No. 3.

With regard the charges of Mr. Atterbury against Mr. Park, we are of opinion that they utterly failed, and that Mr. Park treated Mr. Atterbury with forbearance.

In fact, very few Chairmen would have stood his conduct so long.

Mr. Atterbury has expended a large amount of time in writing unnecessary minutes on the office papers, and letters and other memoranda, mostly addressed to the Chairman.

We think the time expended on such writings would have been more usefully employed on the office work; and that if the present staff worked harmoniously together they could do the work without further assistance, and without any necessity for working overtime, except on extraordinary occasions.

We may further state that Mr. Atterbury has not been working in harmony with any of the staff except Mr. Volckman, who, however, officially comes very little in contact with him; and certain changes in the routine of office action, made by Mr. Atterbury, which Mr. O'Hanlon and Mr. Davies and Mr. Boot pointed out in the course of the inquiry, seem to us to be open to the objections pointed out by these officers and inferior to the former system.

We think it our duty to specially refer to the charge made by Mr. Atterbury, that Mr. Park overcharged his accounts for personal expenses of travelling, by occupying a longer time than necessary in the performance of his duty as Chairman of Land Boards at a distance from Hay.

We think that there is no ground for such a charge, and that it would be unreasonable and inexpedient to require the Chairman to travel by coach through a district in which the coaches travel mostly by night over long distances, and in a very trying climate. The evidence clearly showed us that constant travelling by coach at night in the winter time in that district, and during the long journeys between each Court town, would undermine the best constitution, and thoroughly unfit a Chairman for his work.

We would wish to add that Mr. Boot, in our opinion, in writing on papers Min. 89-3,056, "Referred to the record clerk," meant no slight on Mr. Atterbury, who seemed to think that Mr. Boot purposely referred to him (Mr. Atterbury) as record clerk.

Mr. Boot only meant to refer to the clerk-in-charge of the records, whoever he might be.

In conclusion, we may state that, in dealing with the various charges and matters submitted to us, we have not thought it necessary in this report to deal with each matter in detail, or to quote the evidence in support of our conclusions, but have simply stated generally our conclusions on the various charges and matters as a whole, from the vis à voce evidence and the various official documents perused by us.

The notes of evidence taken by the Board during their investigation are appended hereto. (Appendix A.)

(No 2.)

Sir,

30, Wentworth Court, 3 May, 1889.

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2nd instant, enclosing a report of Mr. Conder, and requesting me to state whether I concur in the views and suggestions therein expressed.

With regard to the "office routine," contained in pages 2 to 7 of the report, I substantially agree with Mr. Conder's remarks. I, however, cannot see any objection to the registers containing notations of papers sent to the Board Office by the District Surveyor for record (see page 5 of Mr. Conder's report), for thus the registers contain a "life" history of each case.

With regard, however, to the rest of Mr. Conder's report as to the administration of Mr. Park as a Chairman, I cannot concur in all Mr. Conder's views, and I entirely dissent from some of his criticisms. I can be no party to such report.

There is one important matter, however, which I should like to mention, and in which I agree with Mr. Conder: That, when an inquiry is held by the Land Board into the alleged non-fulfilment of conditions on a selection, the selector should have particular and precise notice of the condition which is to be inquired into, so that he may not incur useless expense in bringing evidence as to a condition which is not questioned.

The Under Secretary for Lands.

I have, &c.,

R. M. SLY.

Since the receipt of this report, the Clerk-in-charge (Mr. B. J. Atterbury) was dismissed for misconduct; it has not been possible to deal with these reports up to now, as so much of my own time, and that of the Assistant Under Secretary, and Mr. Inspector Curry has been taken up in connection with the Land Bill, and other work of a special character; unfortunately the members of the Board are not unanimous in their conclusions: and it will therefore be extremely difficult, if not almost impossible, to arrive at a perfectly satisfactory determination as to how the matters referred to are to be finally disposed of; as Mr. Boot, of the Emergency Staff, is now at Hay, it may be expected that the office work will shortly be placed in a satisfactory condition; immediately upon completion of the return for Parliament, submit the papers for action.—S.F., 27/8/89.

No. 143.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Dr. R. M. Sly.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 2 May, 1889.

I have the honor to inform you that the report of the Board recently appointed to inquire into the Local Land administration at Hay is to hand, and that the enclosed separate communications, signed by Mr. W. J. Conder, and endorsed by Mr. Langtree, has also been received, and to request that you will be so good as to favour me by stating whether you concur in the views and suggestions therein expressed.

I have, &c.,

STEPHEN FREEMAN,
Under Secretary.

APPENDIX.

APPENDIX A to report of Board of Inquiry.

Basil J. Atterbury states:—On the 25th February, 1889, I wrote to the Under Secretary (Ministerial 89-1,825) pointing out the relationship between myself and the Chairman; I want to point out that I am not the first victim to Mr. Park's treatment; Mr. Park has treated me in such a harsh manner that I myself would not treat a messenger in; after I had been up here three days, on the first day in the office officially, Mr. Park said, "Why did you not report yourself before," in a very harsh tone; I think Mr. Lackey heard the remark, although he was not in the room; I then explained to Mr. Park that I was on leave; he did not seem satisfied; I then drew Mr. Park's attention to the letter in which I formally reported myself; I had nothing to complain of, with the exception of the circumstance stated for the whole of the first month or so; I thought he might have supported me more in the Robertson episode, but decided to let it pass; I think Mr. Park should have written to Mr. Robertson further on the subject, as I do not think Mr. Robertson's first letter sufficient explanation, and I told Mr. Park so; when Mr. Park came back from Hillston on the 4th December, he did not let me know of his return till two or three days afterwards; I think Mr. Park should have sent for me, and I would then have reported myself to him; I wished to speak to him of several important official matters; I knew that he was back on the first day of his return, but not during the morning; I would have regarded it as a breach of etiquette for me to have called upon him first, or until he had signified his readiness to receive me; on other occasions, I have made verbal suggestions to Mr. Park, and have received no answer, not even an acknowledgment; while on one special occasion, when I approached him with a case, about the end of February—A. C. Cloughton's conditional purchase—I said I would like to draw your attention to this case, and he said you can communicate it in writing; I could not say whether this occurred before or after my letter of the 25th February; during the occasion of the inquiry of the issue between Mr. Davies and myself; Mr. Davies was reading a long statement; I asked the Chairman whether he would excuse me during the reading of the statement, as I desired to get on with my work; Mr. Park said of course he could not stop me if I wanted to go out; that he had not a constable; after a delay of a second or so he added that if he had a constable he did not know whether he would use him for the purpose of detaining me; there were present Mr. Volkman and Mr. Davies; I thought that during the two inquiries made by Mr. Chairman Park that his manner was prejudiced against me on two or three occasions during the two inquiries—one between Mr. Davies and myself, and the other re the closing of the office, complained of by Mr. Lakeman; I ventured to make a suggestion or remark to Mr. Park, and he invariably stopped me very short; during that inquiry—the second one—Mr. Park's manner was much more severe and short than to any of the other clerks; the others did not offer any suggestion, but I thought, being a clerk-in-charge, I was in a position to make suggestions; when I was offering Mr. Park a suggestion as to what Mr. Lakeman had said, he said "I do not want your advice in the matter;" I did not tell Mr. Park that I wished to withdraw my charge against Mr. Davies, in Parson's case—the subject of the first inquiry by Mr. Park—because the case was so old; my minute after Mr. Davies was written and addressed to the Under Secretary instead of to Mr. Park, because Mr. Park was absent on leave; the reason that I withdrew my charge against Mr. Davies was because the case was so old; I have always regarded Mr. Park's manner to me since that time as exceedingly rude, both in his manner and his talk; there was no leave register in existence when I came here, but I opened one; I object to Mr. Park's action on pages 1 and 30 and page 110; I consider it to be disrespectful in writing, across pages 1 and 30; I submit that the minute of the 5th February, 1889, by Mr. Park is insulting to me, as it practically calls me a liar (see papers, Land Board District 88-4,935); I think Mr. Park's minute of 1st March, 1889, a very unkind one to put on an official document for such a trivial error; I was not in a fit state for official duty on the day I initialled the letter in which the error occurred, owing to ill-health, and I asked Mr. Park's permission to leave the office during that day from 10 a.m. till 2 p.m. on the 1st March; the letter was initialled on my return, at 2 o'clock; I came back at 2 o'clock specially at Mr. Park's request; I complain of the part where it is stated "Why did the Clerk-in-charge deliberately ignore?" there was no ignoring in the whole case at all; the Board's instructions were not carried out, but they were not deliberately ignored; I submitted the case to the Chairman again; the papers had been marked "put away" by Mr. Lackey, the former Clerk-in-charge; I complain that Mr. Park refused to carry out reforms re the appointment of a junior clerk; after Mr. Park's return from the Hillston trip I urged upon him the necessity of appointing a junior clerk, and he ignored the matter, and I think the efficiency of the office was sacrificed; various other suggestions were made by me, which Mr. Park refused to carry out, and as far as I know he did not consider them; he did not acknowledge receiving them; after I refused to initial the voucher; Mr. Park said that if I refused to do what he required that I was of no value to him, and that he would have to get a Clerk-in-charge in my place; the Chairman was asked by me if he would forward a complaint against him from me to the Under Secretary, and he replied that he did not know till he saw the letter; if he did not approve of the contents he would not forward it; this was after I refused to initial the voucher; Appendix D is an instance of this case; another illustration is that a number of instructions were sent by me to Mr. Park during his absence on leave, and I received them back from Balranald or Wentworth; these were cases which required certificates to be issued to persons whose cases were dealt with at the Hillston Court; Mr. Park very often keeps papers back, to the detriment of the public interests; I do not think Mr. Park has supported me in the management of the staff in the matter of getting the clerks to work overtime; I have repeatedly urged on the matter; since Mr. Boot has come on the 1st April the clerks have been working overtime, and have been receiving 2s. per hour for doing it, while owing to their refusal previous to that I was compelled to work long hours of overtime for nothing; I had a conversation with Mr. Park about overtime and extra assistance; I saw that if the men would make a sustained effort, and get the arrears cleared off, that the work could be carried on with the present staff; that is, if Mr. Volkman was not to go with Mr. Park but remain in the office; Mr. Park said that in such a case I could not expect to get any further assistance from the Under Secretary, but that as long as we did the best we could during office hours we were not responsible for the work getting into arrears; the conversation took place about the end of January, I think; I cannot say whether it was the end of January or the end of February; I have understood from Mr. Park during conversations I have had with him that he was opposed to the staff working overtime, but that if the work got into arrears that the Under Secretary might send further assistance; I am of opinion that it was the duty of all the members of the staff to work overtime to keep the work up to date, and my efforts in that direction show that I was really of that opinion; I complain that the form [Exhibit S] is one of the means of adding to the work of the office without an equivalent return [see Exhibit S]; with regard to Mr. Park's travelling, I am of opinion that it could be done much more economically if done in the ordinary manner, that is by coach.

A. J. Park states:—The manner ascribed to me by Mr. Atterbury was not correct, although the facts of the conversation are substantially correct, on his first reporting himself to me in the office; I thought it strange that having been about the office for a few days that he had not interviewed me before; when Mr. Atterbury had referred me to his letter I said it was a very nice letter, and that I had no doubt we would get on very well together; I meant something pleasant; the papers are before you in the Robertson episode, and may be judged of without any further remarks from me; on account of Mr. Atterbury's minute I should not have sent the papers to Mr. Robertson, as Mr. Atterbury is a young man and Mr. Robertson an old one; the period which Mr. Atterbury referred to when I did not report myself to him is the time of the Robertson episode; I think it was rather Mr. Atterbury's duty to report himself to me, and not I to him; I do not remember anything about the interview and conversation with Mr. Atterbury re Cloughton's case, but the matter was of sufficient importance to have been put in writing; Mr. Atterbury's withdrawal of the charge was a complete one, and I did not understand that he only wished to retire from the room temporarily; the withdrawal by Mr. Atterbury of his charge against Mr. Davies was on the first day of the inquiry; Mr. Davies commenced his defence on the second day, and while reading it, Mr. Atterbury said these matters have no further interest to me, as I have withdrawn my charge against Mr. Davies; re the constable—the Under Secretary telegraphed to me that he desired all the parties to be present during the inquiry, and I particularly desired Mr. Atterbury's attendance; he refused to be sworn, and said he would not even under the Under Secretary's instructions, and that a special Act of Parliament would be required to compel him; when he wished to retire, however, I said I had no power to restrain him, that there was not a constable in the room, as there would have been if I had been sitting in the Court; my manner was not prejudiced against Mr. Atterbury, but I had to be firm with him owing to his conduct; the other clerks gave their evidence on oath; I politely requested them to do so; I did not demand it; certainly I did not coerce them; I did not know at all why Mr. Atterbury wished to withdraw his charge, either directly or indirectly; re leave book, pages between 1 and 30, there is no answer yet to my memo. written across leaves 1 and 30; whether I was right in writing across them I will leave to your judgment, I do not think I would do otherwise to-morrow; I wished to to place my minute on page 110, at the top of the page, to show the action required in the book; Mr. Atterbury must have known that the paper was not with me; when I go away on circuit I do my level best to have my table clear; I sometimes do leave a few papers on my table, but not important ones; there was no intention of calling Mr. Atterbury a liar or insinuating anything of the kind; papers are continually being marked to the Chairman which do not remain on my table for five minutes; Tassell's case—I read the letter to Mr. Tassell over several times and could not understand what was meant, owing to the omission of the word existed; I referred to the District Surveyor's instructions and then discovered what was meant; Mr. Atterbury, I know, was not well on that day; it was quite possible to miss noticing the omission of the word existed in just glancing over the letter after being familiar with it, and I would not have drawn attention to it in the manner I did if Mr. Atterbury had not made so much of the matter of initialling; the forest rangers did not always state the number of days they were occupied during service in a particular case; I did not intend a slight to Mr. Atterbury; I thought he did ignore the Board's minute; I cannot understand the case now without going through it; re Appendix D.—I have already fully explained in my statement to the Board re the Clerk-in-charge; the only other memo. that I have not replied to to Mr. Atterbury, I understand has been before this Board of Inquiry and will be left to their judgment as to whether I should have replied to him; something he refused to do, not the initialling of vouchers, and I said to him, "If you go on like this you cannot remain here"; he said, "I do not know that, I think I have come to stop"; on no occasion have I taken steps to compass Mr. Atterbury's removal, except on a recent paper which I have referred to, and before I knew that this Board of Inquiry was formed; so many Clerks-in-charge have been here that I did not wish to ask the Under Secretary for a new one, as Mr. Atterbury had only been here a few months, and I was in hopes that he would apologise, and that we could then make a fresh start.

Report of a conversation with Mr. Atterbury, in connection with my alleged refusal to forward papers to the Under Secretary.
(Monday, 25 February, 1889).

Before going the Clerk-in-charge asked me if I had reported the state of this office to the Under Secretary; I asked him what state, and he said chaos; I said I had not, he replied that if I did not he should, and should send the letter through me; would I forward it; I said I would be guided by circumstances, and the nature of any letter he desired to send to the Under Secretary at any time; he said if I would not send it on he would send a private copy.

To Mr. Sly:—I think there are certain letters that I would not forward to the Under Secretary; there is no hard and fast rule—I think I am entitled to use my own judgment; he (Mr. Atterbury) would, in certain extreme cases, be justified in addressing the Under Secretary direct; I have never actually refused to forward letters; I have no doubt but that I would have forwarded the letter Ministerial, 89-1,825, if I had seen it; I submit that there was no detriment to public business in the delay in appointing a junior clerk, but the papers in the case will explain matters clearly, and I have nothing more to add; the appointment of junior clerk was delayed pending the Under Secretary's action; the case quoted by Mr. Atterbury is not one in which he charges me with causing detriment to the public business, but it is merely an instance, and the only charge of such a nature made by him I have already answered; in the case quoted (Land Board District 89-1,896, and 89-1,897), however, I think I was justified in the course pursued; they were sent to me in Sydney, addressed to the Warrigal Club, and followed me about till they reached me in Balranald; they were addressed to me as A. J. Park, and I was not sure that they were official papers and needed registering; the practice in this office is to address me in official matters as The Chairman, Local Land Board, and not as A. J. Park; papers Land Board District, 89-1,898; I was in Deniliquin on the 18th March, and returned on the 28th March; in the cases Land Board District, Nos. 89-1,896 to 1,900 inclusive, I was not sure whether such papers should be registered or not, as they were semi-private, and this caused the delay; they were registered on my return to Hay, and in one case I am not sure whether I should have registered them even, now; re clerks working overtime, the Board will be able to judge on reading the papers; in explanation of the clerks working overtime now and not during January is that this is not the middle of summer, but is almost perfect weather, and is very different to working overtime during the middle of summer in Hay; the Civil Service Regulations say that the officers should work overtime when required, but I was opposed to these young men working continuously overtime till 10 o'clock at night during mid-summer in Hay; the question of the clerks working overtime now at 2s. per hour is explained thus, the Under Secretary wrote me a letter telling me that Mr. Boot would come to render assistance in the office, saying that £25 would be allowed for local clerical assistance in preparation of returns; I explained to Mr. Boot that the local clerical assistance would be useless, as the work is entirely technical, not requiring special brains, but experience, and Mr. Boot explained to me that the Under Secretary told him that he did not care who did the work as long as it was done, and we therefore came to the conclusion that we would be justified in employing the clerks in the office working overtime on the work required, and were to be paid only the £25 granted; when the quarterly returns were finished I intended to stop the overtime, but not exceeding the cost of £25; I certainly would not give up Mr. Volckman, as I considered him the most useful man I could take with me; I have not wasted any time in travelling when on duty, and my usual travelling is from 45 to 60 miles per day; I think the money expended is properly expended; I do not necessarily travel a coach route; we would have to wait sometimes two or three days for a coach; I have had to travel in a coach and sit in Court next day, but I could not stand it continuously; several of the officers of the Board have injured their health by coach travelling and exposure in ill-appointed court-houses &c., in the winter-time, and I myself have caught several severe colds which settled on lungs and caused pleurisy; I do not think any of the officers have spared themselves or considered their own comfort in conducting the public business; in the matter of expenses I may state that one means, that is, the private travelling, is just as expensive as coaching; re form [Exhibit S]—I have direct authority to use this form (vide Land Board District, 85-782 D); I draw attention to the fact that Mr. Atterbury has stated that he destroys these forms; they are not to be registered, or to form a cover to papers; Mr. Atterbury has not my authority to destroy these forms, and I did not know that he did so till he stated it in his evidence.

To Mr. Atterbury:—Re Skinner's case—I do not remember the circumstances; I think the clerks refused to work overtime on the 14th March, only a fortnight before they were paid 2s. per hour overtime; with regard to my alleged rudeness to Mr. Atterbury, I rely upon the evidence given by Messrs. Davies, Volckman, and O'Hanlon.

A. J. PARK.

Basil J. Atterbury states:—With regard to taking the oath, I have strong conscientious objections to taking the judicial oath; my remarks on that occasion were not said in any way out of disrespect to Mr. Park, or out of rudeness, but merely in an ordinary conversational manner; by virtue of my position as Clerk-in-charge I thought I was justified in speaking to Mr. Park with more freedom than with the other clerks; I regarded the inquiry by Mr. Park as an office matter; I would point out that the papers are left behind on Mr. Park's table as instance paper, Land Board District, 89-1,930, which I found and forwarded to him at Hillston; I thought it important at that time; I did not speak to Mr. Park so abruptly as is detailed in his notes as are quoted (folio 16); the suggestions made by me in regard to Skinner's case have since been carried out by the Department of Lands independently of my suggestion; I say that the holding over of the appointment of a junior clerk was detrimental to the public interest, as if one had been appointed at the time asked for that there would not have been any necessity for the clerks to be working overtime now; Mr. Park opens the letters himself when in Hay, and sends them out for registration; I did not destroy the form [Exhibit S] as stated by Mr. Park; I have never seen one destroyed.

BASIL J. ATTERBURY.

17th April, 1889.

Thomas Robertson states:—I am a solicitor practising in Hay; have been here two years and four months; I have had frequent occasion to attend the Land Court since I have been in Hay; I first appeared in December, 1886, when the Land Boards were fixing the rents of the pastoral holdings; I have frequently appeared for selectors during that time; it always appeared to me that Mr. Park was extremely painstaking and impartial under very trying circumstances; I have heard him frequently explaining to individuals that he could only administer the law as he found it, leaving the Minister to consider the excuses of the parties for their laches, and he was always very liberal in granting extension of time in the matter of fencing; I have never known Mr. Park to deal unfairly with the selector, nor to favour the squatter as against the selector; I have heard the squatters complain of Mr. Park at having fixed their rents higher than they should have been; I have heard him more abused by the squatter than by the selector; I have never found him brusque in his manner to either squatter or selector; I have never found his manner unpleasant in the slightest degree towards any one appearing appearing before him, either selector, squatter, or land agent; when I saw in the papers complaints that had been made against Mr. Park, I immediately wrote a letter to the newspaper, challenging the complainants to produce instances of the grievances they complain of, and none have yet been given to my knowledge; gentlemen acting in a judicial capacity of any kind cannot enter into familiarities with parties appearing before them, and certainly Mr. Park does not do that, and I think that is what some people are complaining of, although they have not said so in those terms, what they complain of as brusqueness, is merely dignity of the chairman in keeping his court in order; there has never been the slightest disturbance, or anything approaching it since I have been here in the Court; I have several times appeared for, and with clients who have had too much to drink, and who would become very talkative and noisy if they had not been repressed by the dignified bearing of the Land Board; the Land Agents definition of a bona fide selector is quite different from a lawyer's definition, a lawyer considers a selector not bona fide if he is taking up a selection with perhaps two or three brothers and sisters in the interests of his father, but land agents seem to consider all selectors bona fide who are not squatters' dummies—I have frequently heard the land agents complain that when a family of half a dozen have taken up half a dozen selections each, that Mr. Park has been too particular in his inquiries as to whether each of the members of the family resided on his own selection: they (the land agents) contending that because these people were bona fide settlers, and not squatters' dummies, the question as to their residence ought not in their cases to be strictly looked into; the selectors bona fide believe that as long as they are settlers, and not squatters' dummies, that the matter of residence where the members of the same family take up a lot of selections together, ought to be very indulgently dealt with, and the law, as it exists, not administered; what they want is reasonable in itself, if the law would permit, that is, that until each selector's residence is built, the members of one family should be allowed to reside under one roof; I do not think that Mr. Park has unduly inquired into the question of residence; in one instance where it appeared that two brothers who were adjacent conditional purchasers had resided together; the Board recommended that one of the selections should be forfeited, and on appeal the Minister acted on the Board's recommendation.

THOMAS ROBERTSON.

Dr. Philip Forth Casey: I am the Government medical officer, and have been residing in Hay for a considerable time, I am also a member of the Licensing Bench.

To Mr. Park:—I have been on the Land Courts during the time the Land Courts were sitting, during the first twelve months or two years, and also more infrequently during the subsequent two years; I have never seen the Chairman rude to any person who came before him; I am a Justice of the Peace; I never saw what I thought was a miscarriage of justice, nor any favouritism shown; I have noticed that the Board adjourned several times to consider their decision; I remember attending you for pleurisy, brought on, I think, by exposure in the coaches; re the picnic at Benduck, Mr. Ayres did not know of your coming previous to your presence; he gave me carte blanche in making up the party; we camped at the usual place for lunch, near Habermann's selection; I did not know that Habermann had made an application for land there; I have never seen any rudeness in Mr. Park's conduct; his manner was always that of a gentleman; I have never known him to be sharp with a selector, and try and catch him; his questions were merely to obtain proper information, and not to harass them; he does not favour any class in particular.

PHILLIP F. CASEY.

Alexander Pentleton Stewart states:—I am the Manager of the Australian Joint Stock Bank in Hay; I am acquainted with H. E. P. Thompson; he formed one of a deputation who waited on the Minister recently; he told me that in connection with the deputation that he was sorry he had anything to do with it; that he was dragged into the matter, and told me to tell Mr. Park that he had no complaints to make against him, and that he was done with the matter, and he became obtrusively troublesome in waiting on me several times to see whether I had assured Mr. Park that he had no complaints against him; this was about the end of last year; that his only complaint against Mr. Park was that he spoke to him in the street, and that Mr. Park replied very roughly to him, and told him that he knew the law of evidence as well as he did; I have often attended the Land Courts; I am interested in them; Mr. Park's demeanour has been extremely courteous and becoming to me; his demeanour to those who come before him has been extremely proper as far as I have seen; I am of opinion that Mr. Park sometimes did not recognise that there is more elasticity in the spirit of the law than there is in the letter, and that it would be quite consistent with the due discharge of his duty to recognise the fact; I think Mr. Park has always acted conscientiously in the discharge of his duties; I have been told by many selectors, and by one yesterday, that if a poll were taken in the district, that there would be a large majority in favour of Mr. Park's administration, but they do not think his decisions have been always correct; he is above suspicion; I think that the majority of the selectors are in favour of Mr. Park, and have faith in his conscientious discharge of his duties, but that there are a few malcontents who make a great fuss; I do not hesitate, as a bank manager, to make advances to conditional purchasers for fear of the strict interpretation that may be put on the law by Mr. Park; I make the advances to the men on their own merits, and if the men be doubtful, I would not advance to them, however liberally their cases may be treated by the Land Board.

A. P. STEWART.

Mr. A. J. Park states (to the Chairman):—I did not give instructions to the clerks that they should not go into the office in the absence of the Clerk-in-charge or of the Chairman; there were standing instructions in writing on the subject of closing the office and locking it up at night; as I was away in Hillston I gave no particular instructions in the matter at all, as I did not know that Mr. Atterbury would be absent during my absence, and that the difficulty arose through the date of his leave of absence recommended by me having been changed without having been referred to me; the standing instructions referred to on 88-6,010, Land Board District.

88-6,010, Land Board District.

Mr. Conder (Question):—What objection is there to your giving the next senior officer the position of acting clerk-in-charge during his absence? I should not like to relegate the functions of a clerk-in-charge to another officer without the authority or instruction of the Under Secretary; the circular of 29th January, 1885, defining the duties of the Chairman, I had forgotten; it never occurred to me to relegate the powers of a clerk-in-charge to another officer, and Mr. Davies, the next officer, lacked the staidness necessary for the position, although his technical knowledge was quite sufficient for the position; generally it never occurred to me that any such trouble as that complained of by Mr. Lakeman would have arisen, and it never occurred to me to specially authorise any of the clerks to take up the duties of the Clerk-in-charge; (see my telegrams marked Exhibit G, enclosures, also Exhibit R in this matter); I was really taking charge of the office from a distance, I was within reach of telegraphic communication and some of the action required to be done in the office during my absence required careful consideration, and I did not think it advisable to let Mr. Davies take such action, and for the purpose of precluding any errors occurring, I directed him to forward papers to me requiring immediate action (vide Appendix E); I had taken every step in my power to place the Under Secretary in possession of the fullest information as to the state of the office, and showed him the necessity of replacing the Clerk-in-charge at the earliest opportunity; in point of fact he was replaced almost immediately, Mr. Davies only being in charge two days; the reason of my addressing my letter to the Minister for Lands instead of the Under Secretary was that I did not consider it in any way connected with my office work, and did not sign myself in my official capacity, but thought it more of a private matter; after seeing the minute of the Under Secretary, I now think I was wrong, and that I should have addressed my communication to the Under Secretary; I wrote it in Sydney away from my official surroundings, and this no doubt was one reason of my not addressing the Under Secretary; this paper, the letter to me from the Under Secretary, was sent to me to Sydney after I had left, and it did not come to me till I was at Balranald hence the delay; there has been an accumulation of papers connected with public matters, and I therefore attended to them first and put the other matter off from day to day thinking it being a personal one and not requiring such immediate action; no slight was intended by the delay; in this case the Under Secretary told me I should communicate with him either by telegraph or letter, and that he did not think a personal interview necessary, his telegram I thought unduly peremptory to a Chairman of the Land Board, and I felt hurt by his tone as no amount of writing and telegraphing would be as effective as a personal interview; I disclaim the charge of insubordination, I merely asked the Under Secretary's permission for an interview with the Minister; I submit that the tone of my letter was temperate, and that my communication was addressed to the Under Secretary; I wished to have an interview with the Under Secretary or the Minister in reference to the homestead leases with which there was a great amount of trouble and in the working of the office and the district generally, and I had no intention in my communication to be irritable or to exhibit a spirit of insubordination; I think that holding the position I do that I could benefit the public more by having a personal interview with the Under Secretary or Minister than by writing a dozen letters.

ML 89-152.

A. J. PARK.
Re

Re Charge 3.—Explanation of Mr. Thompson's statement that Mr. Park told him that he knew the Law of Evidence as well as he did.

The impression on my mind was that Mr. Thompson was trying to influence me in his favour in his case, and I answered him shortly, it was not an uncivil answer; the conversation took place in 1885, and I did not hear of it again till September, 1888, when the deputation waited on the Minister; I have no recollection of preventing Mr. Thompson cross-examining a witness; I do allow interested parties to cross-examine witnesses; it is my practice to do so; with regard to Land Board District 85-2,061, Hay, Mr. Broughton, an agent here, claimed certain improvements on the land; we only found that the improvements belonging to Mr. Broughton were valued at £16 on the first hearing; it was merely to find whether such improvements were the property of Mr. Broughton; with regard to the second hearing on the 15th February, 1886; the Surveyor states that he did not make a technical survey, and it was proved that the fence was not on the actual boundary; Mr. Broughton made a claim for an improvement purchase under the old Act; but as there were only £16 worth of improvements of his on the land; they did not bar selection, nor could any claim for the improvements stand; two other members of the Board decided, in my absence, to put the land up to auction; I cannot recollect the full circumstances of the case at this late date, but the decision was given by the full Board, in which I dissented; I could give a definite answer as to the difference in the valuation of the improvements on the two occasions if the whole of the plans and papers were here.

Charge No. 5 (part No. 2)—re the production of authorities.

Mr. Park said he had nothing to explain beyond the fact that we had established the rule that when anyone appeared at the Court for an applicant outside the members of the legal profession, it was the Board's custom to ask them to produce their authorities. This was when the Court first opened; afterwards, when these professional agents became known they were not then required to produce their authorities; I do not recollect the Under Secretary's circular of the 11th December, 1885, stating that it is not necessary to have the authorities put in attested if the Chairman deemed the production of an authority necessary; I wanted the authorities attested by Justices of the Peace, clergymen, &c.; I do not remember having ever refused one; Mr. Thompson was allowed to be heard; as a matter of fact, we always have allowed agents to be heard in cases.

Charge No. 10—A. W. G. Thompson's conditional purchase 86-21.

The decision of the Board was that the fencing was not up to the standard as required by the certificate, but otherwise the conditions had been fulfilled; it was not recommended for forfeiture; it was an inquiry under section No. 39; the Board had no power to overlook this apparent lapse, but the case was forwarded to the Minister for his consideration; I do not remember the circumstances of Mr. Thompson's application for the extension of time to erect fencing, but it would have been a very proper course to pursue; we could not act on a verbal application, but required a written application; I contend that if he had put in an application it would have given him a claim for consideration, and that his conditional purchase could not have been forfeited till such application had been dealt with; the written application for extension of time did not come before me during the sitting referred to; the question of waiving the fourteen days' notice did not come before the Board at that sitting, and not until the case was heard at a subsequent Court; re the inspection by Mr. Russom and postponement of Mr. Thompson's case; Mr. Russom's report was received and recorded on the 8th May in this office; the case was set down for hearing on the 8th May; I don't remember Mr. Thompson being in the Court on the 8th May; I was not rude to him, as I am never rude to anyone; the case of Thompson was the first case taken on the 9th May; we never raise objections to the postponement of a case; we have sat till 10 o'clock at night to allow persons to be heard and to get home again; there must have been some special reasons for Mr. Russom going out on the 8th May when the case was set down for the 8th May, but I do not infer that it was.

Charge No. 11—re postponement of Geo. Baillie's case, conditional purchase 86-42.

This was a non-residential conditional purchase; Mr. Thompson's statement is correct; we did postpone the case; the applicant wrote asking for a postponement, and stating that he had put on certain improvements; we very often grant a postponement if applied for by an applicant, or if we see sufficient grounds for a postponement; this case was postponed for the purpose of getting a second report from the Inspector; it was found from Inspector's report that the conditions had not been complied with, and the papers were sent to the Under Secretary for his consideration; an adverse verdict was given; there was no favouritism shown; the case was postponed on public grounds, as the allegation of the applicant did not coincide with the report of the Inspector, and the Board considered there were good reasons for postponement.

Re George Sides' Complaint.

I have made the remark stated by Mr. Sides that I told him that he had an agent who would appear for him many times to various people, but I did not make it in a rude manner; it would not be possible to carry on the business of the Court if I heard both applicant and his agent as well as advocates on the one application.

Re Requiring the signature of Sides' son to be attested.

The Board had seen the two signatures, which were very dissimilar, and I doubted that they had been written by the same individual; Mr. Pearce and I had a long discussion about this matter; Mr. Pearce said that he knew Mr. Sides, and I knew that Mr. Pearce is an exceedingly good-natured man, and that he might be erring in his judgment; I do not think any reasonable person would doubt that the two signatures were written by different persons, and in the interests of justice I wanted further evidence; I do not think the faults occur in this office; there may be isolated cases; none of the cases mentioned by Mr. Sides were delayed in this office; the two cases referred to were dealt with the next Court after receiving the approved plan.

Re Ferdinand Habermann.

Because 320 acres is the maximum area allowed by the 90th section of the Crown Lands Act of 1884, and there is no minimum mentioned; different areas would be required for the various purposes under the 90th section; the lease was applied for irrigation purposes; many persons have applied for land for irrigation purpose, and wanted the whole of the 320 acres, which they said they wanted to plough, and sow, &c.; these applications were refused; but for an irrigation work, as in this case, where a pipe-line was wanted in addition to a large area, I think it should have come under the 92nd section, as well as under the 90th section; if I had been sitting alone I would very likely have thrown the applications out, and advised applicant to make two applications, one under the 90th, and the other under the 92nd section; in granting the 100 acres, we were not really granting him an area, but merely a shape; he did not say he wanted a catchment area; I could not get a straightforward answer from him as to why he wanted such a large area, and I thought he really wanted it for some other purpose, other than that for which he was applying; I thought he wanted it for grazing purposes; he said that as he adjoined a reserve he could not add the land applied for to his conditional purchase; I think that when a man applies for the maximum area under the 90th section, that the Board should inquire as to whether he wants the whole area for the purpose applied for; I do not think it would be sufficient for the Board to recommend the full area and leave it for the Minister to say what area is required for the purpose; this case was dealt with in accord with Regulations Nos. 161, 162, and 163 of the Crown Land Act of 1884; I had a discussion with Mr. Pearce as to what the rent should be; we disagreed entirely; I think I said £30 per year; I think he recommended £10, or something near the minimum; we put ourselves in the position of landlords, and as the shape recommended interfered considerably with the working of the run, I thought he should pay a high rental; Habermann said at the hearing on the first hearing that he did not want a catchment area, as the tank is in no way dependent on the rainfall; it is situated some height above the natural surface of the ground; so far as the Board knew, the lessee did not refuse permission to Habermann to erect improvements; it was thought that the 100 acres would take in the dam, but on it being discovered that it would not do so, the case was re-opened; there is no truth in the remark by Habermann that I went out and consulted the lessees instead of him before recommending the lease the day before the Court opened; on the 24th May, I received an invitation from Dr. Casey to join a shooting-party, and that the lessee of Benduck had asked him to make up a party; did not say who to invite; he left it to Dr. Casey; I went out, and we shot over the place, and then camped for lunch at a creek; I then noticed some curious looking object and asked what it was, and was told it was Habermann's hydraulic works, so I went over to see it alone; I formed my own conclusions from the inspection I made, and consulted no one on the subject; it was quite an accident that I found myself in the vicinity of the land in question; I was not rude to him during the inquiry, but had to be firm with him to get any information; where we had lunch is the usual place for shooting-parties to have lunch in that locality.

Re

Re Complaints made by Allan Lakeman, M.P.

During a drive or walk with Mr. Lakeman at his invitation, he brought forward an official matter stating that the Board constituted itself prosecutor as well as Judge, and I said I could not help our procedure. I thought it correct, and could not alter it till I thought otherwise; I am bound to summon witnesses whose names are suggested to me. All witnesses are to be summoned by the Board.

Re Laird's case.

The case was postponed twice; on the first occasion by his agent, on the second occasion by himself personally. Mr. Laird is a storekeeper, &c., at Mossiel, and his selection was 4 or 5 miles distant; it was a difficult case; Mr. Laird stated that his wife managed the business at Mossiel, and that he came in and out every day from his selection; the Board summoned Wm. F. E. Bedford, overseer on Mossiel station, not the station on which the selection was taken up; the subpoena was signed by the Police Magistrate, a member of the Board; he said he did not get expenses; Mr. O'Neil, the member of the Board, who is the Police Magistrate, signed the summons; the only witnesses called by the Board were the inspector and Mr. Bedford; I might have known that Mr. Bedford was to be summoned, it might have been discussed in the Board-room; I do not think that the Board should not summon witnesses whom they think will give important evidence, but should do so in the interests of justice; it is only in cases where there have been any doubt of the bona fides of the applicant that the Board suggest the names of witnesses to be summoned or hold any inquiry at all; under certain circumstances, in cases under the repealed Act, even when the Inspector reports the whole of the conditions fulfilled, I think an inquiry should be held; I look into the cases, and if there is conflicting evidence between, say, the different Inspectors' reports, I then ask for another report; in one of the cases referred to by Mr. Lakeman, the Inspectors' reports differ, and it was held over till further inspection was made; in one report by Mr. Carne, a 3-roomed house was valued at £80, and in a subsequent report by Mr. Russom there was a 4-roomed house valued at £160; this is a discrepancy which I thought required investigation; the reason for sending this case on for further report is that there is a probable deficit of £50 in the total sum to be expended, owing to conflicting reports, and we must have a reliable one; this case is kept back as part of applicant's improvements are in question, he having sought a contribution to his fencing, and £62 worth are said to have been burnt; therefore present valuation, which is only £11 over the required amount, is liable to a reduction of an amount unknown, and so report may be unsatisfactory; as it is now, it is incomplete or erroneous if the fencing has to be paid for partly by other persons; moreover, it is the function of the Minister, not the Board, to allow for burnt improvements—and where did selector finish his residence? I think that if a man puts up substantial improvements that are afterwards burnt down, that he should be credited with them; I do not know that the Minister has ruled otherwise; this case is stayed; I doubt the bona fides of the applicant, who, it is reported by the Inspector, lets it for grazing purposes; in this case the conditional purchase was sold at Sheriff's sale, and present holder resides on it with his wife and family, and lets it for grazing purposes; his bona fides should, I think, be inquired into.

A doubtful case.

There is a large store on this conditional purchase, with the name of a firm on it, who also have other premises in a large town some considerable distance away; it is very doubtful whether applicant could make good his claim to the store in question; I think, in dealing with cases as to residence, if a man is a genuine settler he can have no difficulty in proving his case; the Board have had sufficient experience to believe when a man is speaking the truth, and never forfeit his selection; we never browbeat a witness, and no obstacles are put in his way; the proportion of forfeited cases to the number of cases heard is small; I never show any partiality for a squatter over that of a selector; we always give the selector the benefit of any doubt the Board may have.

In Mary Alice Cooper's case.

The Board retired to consider the case; as her agent said that she was going to live alone on the selection, and the Board wanted to see her so that she would give her explanation; she had not appeared before at the Court, and it appeared unreasonable that a young woman, a spinster, should live alone in such a desolate place.

With regard to Brewer's case, there was no occasion to bring him in, as he had appeared at the Court before, and there was no objection to his living alone.

Re the charge by Mr. Lakeman.

There is no time lost in the proceedings of the Land Board; I am not conscious of asking irrelevant questions; and injustice is not done by asking too many questions; I do not know how too many questions should cause injustice.

Re Lang's case.

We reported in Archibald Lang's case, Ministerially, C.P. 80-101;—Our verdict was that the conditions of improvements have been fulfilled, but we are of opinion that the residence has not been fulfilled for the last two years, as prescribed by law, and left the case to the Minister to consider and decide; we did not ask too many questions; it was only by asking the questions that we did that we elicited the truth; we did not think that if a man only slept on his selection that he was resident within the meaning of the Lands Act; he had his meals with his father; all the evidence is with the papers; for the first three years he slept and had his meals in his own dwelling, but afterwards he had his meals with his father, but slept on his own land; the Inspector's report is with the papers, and is, I think, an unfavourable one; the Inspector is so careless that I do not read the latter printed part of his report; that he frequently omits to fill in the last printed part of the form.

Re Thomas Lang—Conditional purchase 80-102; similar complaint.

Our finding was that the condition of improvements have been fulfilled, and that the conditions of residence were apparently fulfilled, and left the case in the Minister's hands; I do not know why the case was set down; it was not set down by my authority; neither of Lang's cases were set down for hearing by me; they were set down, without the Chairman's authority, by Mr. Ward, who was the Clerk-in-charge at that time; I do not think any Clerk-in-charge had any authority to send cases on; they submit whether cases should be heard in open Court; I generally look through all the cases myself; as the cases were set down for hearing, and notices issued, I do not think I would have been justified in stopping the case from being heard; I think it doubtful whether I would have set the cases down for hearing if I had seen them before that was done; the Board reported favourably in Thomas Lang's case, and in A. Lang's case left the case in the Minister's hands.

W. G. Gibson's conditional purchase.

In this case our verdict was that the conditions were apparently fulfilled.

J. R. Gibson's conditional purchase.

Our verdict in this case was that the conditions had apparently been fulfilled, but we are of opinion that the conditional purchaser had not habitually taken his meals in his house; that only a very few questions were asked in this case, as the whole evidence is comprised in a sheet and a half of foolscap; applicant called a witness, who was his brother-in-law; I think it was a very pertinent question to ask applicant why he put his house within a chain distant from his brother's; we either leave it an open question for the Minister to decide, or else we give the selector the benefit of the doubt; whatever latitude we give is under the old Act cases, but we give none under the new Act.

In John Savage's case—Conditional purchase 82-147, Hay.

In this case a witness was removed on account of his being drunk, and the Inspector's report was the only evidence, and the selection was upheld on his report, which was satisfactory, and there was no evidence to the contrary (vide copy of decision); the complaint, therefore, is without foundation; the case came on for hearing on the authority of Mr. Capper; the Clerk-in-charge set it down in the list of cases to be heard; I was not aware it was set down.

Roach's case—conditional purchase, 82-146.

In this case we summoned a witness who was an adverse one to the selector, from information that we had received. Our verdict was: We find the conditions generally fulfilled to date (vide copy of decision—qualified by). There is insufficient evidence to prove that the applicant holds the conditional purchase in the interests of any other persons; Roach swore he was not a dummy, in his evidence he stated that he rented the prelease and selection to the lessee at £30 per annum; annum ; I thought it a suspicious case, but on the evidence I could not recommend the selection for forfeiture ; I now read the evidence from the Minute Book to the Board of Inquiry ; the Board of their own motion called the witness "Hurst," who was an adverse one to the selector.

George Baillie—conditional purchase.

Our verdict was—We find that the conditional purchaser has not applied for an extension of time to complete the fencing, and that the same was not affected within the twelve months prescribed by Section No. 47, Sub-section No. 4, Crown Lands Act of 1884 ; the fence has been completed since the expiry of that term, see also Mr. Park's answer to charge No. 11.

John Allen's case—conditional purchase, S6-46.

Applicant was not living continuously on the land till his mother came to the selection, and this was after the Inspector had visited it. It is a conditional purchase under the new Act : I now read the evidence, and the decision is as follows :—That the condition of residence was not performed in the manner contemplated or prescribed by the 32nd Section of Land Act of 1884 until the applicant's mother went to live with him, since which date the conditional purchase has not been inspected ; I consider that the decision was not harsh but following out the law, and we were only reporting on the facts in our opinion.

Charge No. 6—Henry Prendergast's, Mary Ann Prendergast's, William Prendergast's conditional purchase cases.

Were heard in their absence ; as far as I can remember we confirmed the above, three cases, and afterwards at the same sitting reversed them.

Copy from Minute Book.

In reference to the preceding cases. The answers made by applicants are to the effect that their lands are sought to be acquired in each individual interest.

William Prendergast has been in the employ of his father for two years, and his father in his letter to Mr. Wilkinson, Papers 85-8,624, states he got him to take the land up.

Henry Prendergast has been in no person's employment, and his father in the same letter states he got him to take up the land he now applies for.

Mary Ann Prendergast, same as last, and upon the land applied for by her, we are informed by the Surveyor, her father has erected a hut and sunk a well, in which but applicant was residing at time of survey.

The father only is in attendance ; none of the applicants are present to reply to questions.

It is evident to the Board that this is a group of what is known as family selections, in which the father apparently finds means ; did an occupation licensee stand in the same relative position to conditional purchases there is little doubt but that a disallowance of such application would be upheld.

None of the applicants are present in reference to the notice given to them to attend Court in the case of Henry Prendergast ; this is the second time it has been before the Board in his absence ; thus neither of the three applicants have ever appeared to answer any questions relative to their sworn declarations, though they have been properly notified so to do.

As we have therefore reason to doubt their bona fides, and as we are by their own acts prevented from satisfying ourselves, we have determined that in order to place them firmly in possession if they are acting in good faith, and in accordance with the law, or prevent them committing a breach of Section No. 122, Crown Lands Act of 1884, if they are acting otherwise, to disallow their application, so that their cases may be considered by the higher tribunal, and procedure in similar cases settled for the future.

It was here determined to take J. Prendergast's (the father) evidence as to his signature to his letter to B. R. Wilkinson, Esq., M.P.

On resuming at 2.15 p.m.—

Patrick Prendergast, sworn, states :—I am a grazier, residing at Maude ; I have no land ; I am the father of William and Henry and Mary Ann Prendergast, whose cases have been before the Land Court this day ; I recognise papers conditional sales 85-8,624 ; the signature attached to the letter in that paper is mine.

The witness here inspected the letter, and acknowledged it as his.

The Chairman here made some remarks in accordance with foregoing minute, and read passages therefrom, and from P. Prendergast's letter, and announced the Board's intention to refuse the applications. The decision will be read at a later period ; Mr. Gibson said he would like to have an adjournment to produce the parties ; he will be told at 4 p.m. whether the Board will do so ; the cases being virtually decided, the Board does not see its way clear to do so.

Mr. Robert Gibson was duly informed that the evidence he offered could not now be received, since the cases are virtually decided, and that without that evidence ; the Minister, if appealed to, will decide the case, probably on the facts before the Board, but if desirable he will no doubt call for such evidence, which the Board will then take and forward on Ministerial instructions.

I wanted the Minister to consider the whole facts of the case, and decide in the interests of the whole of the selectors in this district.

We confirmed the selections in the first instance on the report of the District Surveyor.

In connection with Mr. Lakeman's charge of delay in dealing with old Act cases.

The five cases referred to by him are explanatory, conditional purchase, 83-80, Hay ; 83-82, Hay ; 83-84, Hay ; 83-86, Hay ; 83-72, Hay ; and upon these I base my defence. I cause an inquiry to be held in such cases as seem to me to require it. Whether the last Inspector's report be favourable or otherwise I carefully examine all papers in the case.

I had to reprimand Mr. Lakeman on the hearing of Laird's or another case at Hillston.

He criticised the decision of the Board in open Court, and stated that the decision was an absurd one, and would shake the confidence in the Board.

I thought it my duty to reprimand him, and I obtained authority from the Minister forthwith to hear the case under the 20th section, in order that Mr. Lakeman might approach him through the Appeal Court, instead of in the manner Mr. Lakeman threatened.

Re Moritz Kertzell's case :—

This is a Hillston case, where Mr. Lakeman did not appear as Agent, but appeared at the appeal case heard in Sydney, and it came to my knowledge that Mr. Lakeman charged the Board and the Chairman with corruption and incompetency ; this was an inquiry under the 20th section ; it was not because there were £4 short in the value of improvements, viz., £316 instead of £320, that the selection was forfeited, as stated by Mr. Lakeman, but because the improvements were not put on the land within the period prescribed by law, &c. ; the question did not arise as to whether the applicant was entitled to five years to effect improvements from the date of survey under the 17th section of the Crown Lands Act of 1875 ; I consider the date of survey to mean not the date that the survey was marked on the ground, but the date when the plan was approved by the Surveyor-General ; with regard to the statement by H. Gibson, on page 28 of the evidence, that Mr. Park compels applicant to produce their certificates of conformity I say I do not compel them, but I invite them ; I try to coerce them into doing so, as it shows they have a clean sheet ; we have never refused to go on with a case when applicants refuse to produce the certificates ; there was no difficulty I believe in obtaining the certificates from the bank except in one instance, that of Mr. Gibson, I have never heard complaints about the necessity to produce the certificates ; the production of the certificates is a great convenience to the Board and to the Board office ; the Board does not consider that residence is completed where an applicant habitually gets his meals with his parents or at some place other than on his selection ; if a selector kept his lares and penates where he had his meals I think that such place is his home ; I do not think that the mere sleeping at a place constitutes residence ; the mere fact of having his meals away, if all the other conditions were fulfilled, would not justify me in forfeiting, but I would place the case before the Minister for his decision ; if a man was absent shearing for three months in the year provided he made the selection his home when he returned I would not think anything of it ; there are some cases of hardship, but the Act has to be administered according to law, and in those cases submitted to the Minister in the Appeal Court ; Ministers sometimes differ ; we always go by the last Ministerial decision as they are sometimes conflicting ; in my opinion, the decisions of the Board as to residence has not prevented settlement in the district by bona fide selectors, but it has prevented blackmailing ; conditional lease rents are higher than occupation license rents as a matter of fact ; taking the average of the land the squatter pays as much for the land as the selector, as he has to pay perhaps rent for perhaps a large area of inferior land ; the question of difference of tenure is also taken into consideration ; the occupation license fee is based on the average quality of the whole of the available part of the resumed area, which contains good and bad land ; the conditional lease fee is based on a comparison of that fee, with the average quality of the resumed area and the specific quality of the land applied for as conditional lease ; the pastoral lease is always rated higher than the resumed area on account of its tenure.

Re Mr. Gibson's evidence on page No. 53, r difficulty in getting information at Land Board Office, and instanced Brown's case.

To the best of my recollection the statements made by Mr. Gibson are correct; I do not remember the circumstances; I did not give the information, because I thought he would be getting undue advantage, it was a public sale, and the rest of the public who would not perhaps care about applying to the Government Department for the information that it was not our sale (by the Government); it was a sheriff's sale, and land was sold with all its risks, and to put one man who had ample access to this office in possession of information as to the exact nature of those risks would be to put him in a much more advantageous position than another man in regard to the sale; I had a conversation with the former Under Secretary for Lands as to what information should be given or withheld from the public, and he said in substance that no line could be drawn but that it must be left to the Chairman's judgment; I did not think Mr. Gibson should have been given the information; I had to give the information on the spur of the moment.

Re H. Matheson's case

It is a general custom all over the district that applications for information are made in writing; I know of no reason why the information should not have been given; I gave no instructions to the contrary; I know that information is given verbally by the clerks-in-charge; in Vagg's case, from Mr. Gibson's statement, I think he should have received the information from the Clerk-in-charge on the spot, verbally, if the papers were in the office; in the Benerembah Stock Route case it would have been an act of flagrant injustice to grant the route in the position applied for by the selectors, all the officers reported against it; the statement made by Mr. Gibson, re my objection to Stewart's appearing without authority is in substance correct; while I was looking for the general authority which he alleged had been put with a certain case, he commenced to argue that the Board had no right to ask for such an authority; I told him that we could not discuss the matter that it was an established rule of the Board's that agents should produce authorities; I think, I would not be sure, that we would accept a telegraphic authority; it ended by his leaving the Court in a state of displeasure, but the Board nor the Chairman were not rude to him; selectors have said to me that they did not see the advantage of employing an agent, but that the cases get on very much better when they had no agent or appeared personally; I do not think that there is any foundation for the statement that selectors would rather do anything than attend the Land Courts; I think Mr. Gibson's or has been one of the agitators, and that the whole trouble originated in Gunbar, the head-quarters of the Gunbar Free Selectors Association, and with persons who have had electioneering schemes.

Re Abner Haylock's statement, that I refused to allow him to produce a letter:—

I have no recollection of the matter in particular; if he had wished to give evidence I would have allowed him, but I was not rude to him, and should not have postponed the case to allow him to produce the letter, which, on his own statement, could have thrown no light on the subject, it would frustrate settlement to postpone cases for the purpose of hearing irrelevant statements.

Re Peter Cameron's Conditional Purchase.

Tank appraised at £45, payable to the Government; Cameron bought the tank for £45 from Messrs. Armstrong, Bros., the lessees of Gunbar Holding, and that money was actually paid for it, which we considered our best guide to its value.

Re John Hanlon's charges.

There were no delays in this office as far as I can see; the approved plan and report were sent to this office from the Survey Department, on the 29th July, 1886, and it came on at the first Court afterwards; the Court commenced to sit on the 25th November; up to the 2nd November, 1888, when I reported to Sir Henry Parkes, in re the deputation, we had heard about 4,000 cases—105 of which were appealed against—out of which twenty-one were sustained, and I have never knowingly been rude to any one, either in the Court or in the office; the size of the district and the sparsity of the population makes it a difficult district to manage; the fourteen days' notice is not sufficient in this district for the lodgment of caveats and other such notices where the means of communication are limited; I often am blamed for faults of the Act and the regulations; we devise means to overcome defects in the regulations of my own motion; I give notice to the lessees of the holdings of the exhibition of tracings, showing proposed stock route, &c., on their holding and otherwise where the regulations are insufficient to provide for their requirements in such matters, I endeavour, within the law, to supplement the regulations; this seems to have the effect of making the selectors believe that I favour the squatters; I think in common justice that they should have this notice; the squatters grumble at the action of the Board in instances where we try to give justice to the selector in the way of roads of access, stock routes, shape of land, and where the Board question the validity of notification of a reserve; that it is a very difficult district to manage, and I made no attempt to pander to the public for popularity by undue leniency.

A. J. PARK.

Archibald John Park states: I am Chairman of the Local Land Board at Hay, and have been so since the Land Act came into operation in 1885; I have had a clerk-in-charge during that time; he is an officer under me; he is the chief clerk; it is my opinion that the Clerk-in-charge is one of the officers referred to in circular, number not given, of the 29th January, 1885; my first Clerk-in-charge, Mr. M'Guinn, corresponded with Mr. Under Secretary Oliver without my knowledge, and Mr. Oliver spoke to me about it and told me not to let him (Mr. M'Guinn) correspond with him direct; I know that in the Lands Department that any subordinate officer wishing to communicate with one of the higher officers in the Service must do so through his superior officer; I believe it to be a rule of the Service that if any of the clerks wish to communicate with the Chairman that they should do so through the Clerk-in-charge; also that if the Chairman wishes to communicate with the Secretary for Lands he does so through the Under Secretary, and not direct; there are no written instructions as to the position (absolutely defining it) other than the circular No. , 29th January, 1885, defining the position of the Chairman; there are a great many office memos., specifying his duties in particular cases; the memos. to which I allude are from the Chairman of the Board; Mr. Atterbury commenced his duties as Clerk-in-charge at Hay on the 1st October, 1888; the officers under him at the time were the deposition clerk, Mr. Volckman, Mr. Davies, and Mr. O'Hanlan; when Mr. Atterbury came here, on the 1st October, I found the letter presented here [Exhibit A] on my table, dated 1st October; I thought it a good letter, and considered myself fortunate in obtaining the services of a gentleman who could write such a letter; everything went on smoothly until the 31st October, 1888, when I received the following letter [Exhibit B], enclosure; the Clerk-in-charge spoke to me verbally on the matter, and I promised to protect him by asking Mr. Robertson for an explanation; I endorsed it and sent a copy to Mr. Robertson; in response to my invitation Mr. Robertson forwarded the following letter [Exhibit B, and Exhibit B, enclosure]; I referred his letter to Mr. Atterbury [see also Exhibit B]; when Mr. Atterbury spoke to me about this matter he stated that he was not the author of any anonymous letter to the newspaper Record, and that was the reason that in my minute of the 5th November, 1888, on Exhibit B, that I used the expression "I understood that Mr. Atterbury was not the author of any anonymous press matter"; I have since had reason to believe that Mr. Atterbury was guilty of a wilful untruth, and strengthened that suspicion by this letter [Exhibit C], which I received in Hillston; as a matter of fact most of my time is spent away from the office on duties at Land Courts throughout my district; the letter was written to me by Mr. Atterbury, and dated the 21st November, 1888; I was very much struck by the letter at the time, as I had not made any inquiries as to the authorship of the "Growler" letter—the newspaper correspondence before referred to; I replied to him in the following terms [see Exhibit D], written at Hay the day after I returned from Hillston; I did not see Mr. Robertson till I had written his letter, but I did show it to him, with Mr. Atterbury's letter of the 21st, before posting; this circumstance rather shook my confidence in Mr. Atterbury—that is, in the matter of truthfulness; he holds a rather confidential position, and I had to trust him in many cases, and that trust was inspired by his letter [A]; Mr. Atterbury sought further assistance for the office before I went away again on duty; I find that I asked the Under Secretary on 22nd October, 1888, for further assistance—that is, on referring to Appendix D; this was not my first request for further assistance; I arrived back in Hay on the 3rd December, 1888, and left again on the 12th December, 1888; returned again to Hay on the 22nd January, 1889; the first intimation I received re the extra assistance was the receipt of a telegram from Mr. Atterbury [see Appendix D]; it is usual in sending a telegram to sign the name and title of the signer, which was not given in this case, the name merely being given; I wanted the Under Secretary to send me up a good record clerk, and I did not, if I may use the expression, want my hand forced; I wanted an experienced clerk and not a local junior clerk [Appendix D]; the Clerk-in-charge received my telegram dated 8th November, 1888 [see Appendix D]; I felt annoyed that after my telegram the Clerk-in-charge should persist in nominating nominating juniors; he nominated two or three juniors; when this nomination continued (see telegram) I felt annoyed; I thought that these telegrams were the outcome of Mr. Atterbury's own efforts in getting these young men to apply for the position; his knowledge that Mr. Bell intended to apply showed that Mr. Atterbury exceeded his duty by trying to find a junior after my telegram to him of the 8th November, 1888; I did not wish for a local junior at the time, but if I was compelled to have one, I should have liked one whose parents I knew, and I would not like to place him under Mr. Atterbury; Mr. Atterbury has quarrelled with every officer in the office previous to the 8th November, 1888, except Mr. Volckman, and is of a quarrelsome disposition—he tried to quarrel with me; the Clerk-in-charge made no acknowledgment of the receipt of my telegram of the 8th November, and persisted in writing to me in the matter of the appointment of a junior clerk; there is a copy of a letter signed by Mr. Atterbury, dated 1st February, 1889, not with Appendix D, see vol. 6, folio 636, press copy book Land Board Office; I wished to show the letter to indicate the Clerk-in-charge's persistence in trying to obtain a junior without my permission.

To Mr. Atterbury:—I do not know that the proposed appointment of Mr. Love was the first matter that gave rise to the question of the appointment of a junior clerk; the question of further assistance arose before Mr. Atterbury came to this office; I understand the meaning of the word nominate; there is nothing offensive or insubordinate in your telegram of the 8th November, it was precipitate, perhaps; under all the circumstances I think you had a right to take action on the Under Secretary's letter, but you were precipitate in sending a telegram; beyond sending me the letter of the Under Secretary you should have not taken any further action in the matter, I would have replied to the letter; I replied to your telegram of the 8th November on the same date; I did not notice that the papers were blank covered to me on the 7th November, I see that they are now, and also that they are registered on the following day, I received them on the 15th November, and replied to on the 19th November.

Question:—Did you understand by the last part of my telegram of the 8th November that I intended to nominate a youth to the Under Secretary as junior clerk? Answer:—No.

Question:—Did you regard my letter of the 11th November, 1888, to you as an official letter? Answer:—It is official in so far as it refers to official subjects.

Question:—Why was it not registered; should not all official papers addressed to the Chairman be registered? Answer:—By the general practice of this office. No; and I emphasize that reply by referring to the late circular from the Under Secretary for Lands, No. 89-8 of the 19th February, 1889; I am not engaged in a contest with the Under Secretary in regard to the appointment of a junior clerk in this office.

Question:—Why did you use the expression, force my hand? Answer:—I had already written to the Under Secretary in the matter of his giving extra assistance, and asked him to reconsider his former letter, and did not want any steps taken in the appointment of a junior till such matter had been so reconsidered; the documents that have been produced, viz., Exhibits A, B, and C, explain my reasons for stating that I did not want a junior of my nominating to be placed under you.

To the Chairman:—I found Mr. Atterbury was of a quarrelsome disposition, he would make frivolous complaints; he gave me a requisition to sign one day for some trivial item, among others there was a bell, the acquisition of which gave rise to some trouble (vide papers Local Land Board, 88-6,948); the disputes between the Clerk-in-charge and the clerks under him resulted in an inquiry being ordered by the Under Secretary; I held the inquiry, and found that a great amount of friction existed among the officers; during the inquiry Mr. Atterbury withdrew his charge against Mr. Davies; Mr. Atterbury applied for leave of absence to bring his wife and family to Hay; this occurred during the first week in December, 1888; Mr. Atterbury's leave commenced on the 24th November, and ended the 6th December, 1888 (approx.); I was absent on my duties at Hillston during most of this time; if the leave had been granted as originally recommended by me I would have been here all the while, but at the time of leave of absence approved by the Minister I was absent on my duties at Hillston; I was back in Hay on 3rd December, and in the office on the 4th and 5th December, and received a telegram from the Under Secretary on the 5th December with reference to the office being without a responsible head for about ten days [Exhibit H]; before sending a letter to the Under Secretary for Lands [Exhibit F] I showed such letter to Mr. Atterbury, and asked him if he wished to add anything to it for his own protection; I complain that application for the change of date of Mr. Atterbury's leave of absence should have been made through me and not direct to the Under Secretary, when I might have been able to make arrangements, and that Mr. Atterbury said in his telegram [Exhibit G] of the 24th November, that the work would not be seriously affected by his absence; I have no power to appoint Mr. Davies as clerk to take charge of the office during my absence, to take up the duties of Clerk-in-charge; I think the Under Secretary is the only one that can grant leave, and, therefore, he is the only one able to appoint a substitute for the officer on leave to take charge during my absence, or that of the Clerk-in-charge; I think Mr. Davies is capable of taking charge, being an efficient clerk, but lacks the staidness necessary for the position of Clerk-in-charge; I should not like to have suggested the appointment of Mr. Davies as Clerk-in-charge to the Under Secretary, as suggestions are not always well received at the head office, and it might have been deemed an assumption on my part of a responsibility belonging to the head office; the result of my inquiry was a report to the Under Secretary, papers Minl. 89-2,423; the subject matter in these papers truly represents the facts of the case; I complain of Mr. Atterbury's conduct during the inquiry; he interrupted me several times; he behaved very unbecomingly during that inquiry; he stated on one occasion to me, "That is not true," a remark liable to bring about a breach of the peace; his manner was turbulent before the inquiry commenced; several papers were sent to me during my absence, in which I think Mr. Atterbury exceeded his duty; with regard to Appendix A, I consider that Mr. Atterbury overstepped his duty in criticising the action of the Under Secretary and forwarding such criticism to me as Chairman; I would draw attention to amended regulation No. 164 of the Crown Lands Act of 1884; the Chairman cannot act in this matter without the co-operation of the Board; I consider I have no power to deal with the cases without the co-operation of the Board; the cost of documents prepared in this office and the cost of investigation at the Survey Office should be defrayed by applicant; I think the office expenses should be charged in cases of this description, and not only the field expenses, as in the cases of subdivision; I think when an application leaves this office, and is sent down to the Survey Office, and skilled labour employed, that the office expenses should be charged; I don't think that the expenses of forest ranger only, as referred to in circular No. Ministerial, 85-3,904 is the only expense that should be charged to applicant; this is the first and only case which has occurred in this district under the present regulations; I do not think that Mr. Atterbury had a right to write the minute that he did on the papers; I think he was exceeding his duty; every clerk in the office may see the papers as they go through the records of the office; I do not think a refund could be given without the sanction of the Land Board; it is the delay of eight days that I complain of between the date of the District Surveyor's request for the papers, and the date of Bell's application for withdrawal; Bell had made two applications, one overlapping the other; so much of the land applied for in second application not covered by the former one was allowed by the Board; the deposit was not forfeited; Mr. Bell was under a misapprehension when he applied for the withdrawal of the second application, the forest ranger having told him that he could not get the permission, but he was told by this office that the application would be considered by the Board; I also complain of Mr. Atterbury exceeding his duty in the first instance by writing the minute of the 4th February, 1889, and, after my express instructions of the 7th March, 1889, acting contrary to that minute by writing another minute on the same date, 7th March, 1889, all of which appears in Appendix B, and also by his sending the papers to Mr. Volckman at Deniliquin instead of to the Chairman; it is the practice to send such papers to the Chairman himself and not to the Deposition Clerk; I complain that Mr. Atterbury defiantly declined to initial the voucher; I had sent the voucher to him by a clerk with directions for him to get them initialled; I then asked Mr. Atterbury to come and see me personally, he having declined to initial to Mr. Volckman, who had asked him to initial the voucher; I asked Mr. Atterbury if he declined to initial the voucher and he said he did decline; he said he did not know whether they were right or wrong; I never knew a Clerk-in-charge to refuse to initial vouchers; it has been the practice of the travelling clerk to initial these vouchers hitherto; there are no written or verbal instructions to the Clerks-in-charge as to the matter of initialling vouchers; I am allowed 15s. per day from the time I am absent from head-quarters, from the time of leaving till the time of return, which time is known by the Clerk-in-charge; I do not think the Clerk-in-charge has any authority to criticise the manner in which I am paid [duplicate vouchers put in, marked Exhibit J]; there was nothing objectionable or irregular about them, as far as I knew, when I made them out; the voucher book is in Mr. Davies' handwriting, but Mr. Atterbury is responsible for it; both duplicates and originals were made out by Mr. Volckman; the voucher for £3 was rendered for January twice over in error; Mr. Volckman made out the voucher; twenty days elapsed between the time of rendering the two vouchers for £3, viz., on 26th February, 1889, and 31st January.

From Dr. Sly to Mr. Davies:—The entry of the voucher sent in on the 31st January, 1889, was made in the voucher book on that date, and any one making the entry of the second voucher would have seen the entry of the first one, and any one on referring to the book could have seen it

Mr. Park :—I complain of the Clerk-in-charge in refusing to initial the voucher and of his manner exhibited in refusing; also of his wasting his time in concocting the lengthy memorandum on the subject when his opinion was not sought; in a voucher rendered in October, 1888, for September, 1888, Mr. Atterbury initialed, although he could not have known anything about it [marked K]; Appendix B speaks for itself; it has been a matter of custom of the Clerks-in-charge to check the decisions of the Board for clerical errors; one had occurred on the 30th October (L.B.D., 88-38); I wrote to the Clerk-in-charge to the effect stated in Exhibit L to prevent the error occurring again; I also wrote from Balranald, as appears in Appendix E; I complain [see Appendix E]; since January, 1886, many schemes have been tried to expedite the business of the Land Court among others; the deposition clerk writes the notices, takes a press copy, and registers them himself at the Post Office; I did try the practice of getting the depositions taken by local individuals at the various places where Land Courts are held, but it did not succeed; deposition clerks are not made at a moment's notice; besides the duties of the deposition clerk are other than the taking of depositions; he has varied duties; I think it is best to take a deposition clerk with me, as he prepares the cases for the Court and fills up the decisions of the Board and otherwise makes himself indispensable and assists in the work that is sent down from the head office, Hay; the Acting District Surveyor has complained several times of the Clerk-in-charge signing himself on official documents without giving his official title, or as for the Chairman; the minute of the 13th December was not registered, and cannot be traced; I think that when the Acting District Surveyor made his very pertinent question the papers should have been given to me and not have been written on by Mr. Atterbury; as there was no urgency in the matter it could have waited till my return; on both inquiries held by me Mr. Atterbury's conduct was turbulent; he made many interruptions (see papers marked M in pencil); there was a set of papers; I think they are numbered 88-1,066 L.B.D., which were relative to this inquiry, and therein was some unaccountable erasure, an obliteration by the pen; the whole of a minute was thus obliterated (see papers L.B.D. 88-6,948); I sent in a return for the Civil Service Board; one column referring to the efficiency, &c., of officers was sent in on a separate paper by direction of the Under Secretary, and in which I gave a truthful report of Mr. Atterbury's character; I produce a contingent expense form [Exhibit N]; when I returned from leave on the 22nd January, 1889, and, in a conversation I had with Mr. Atterbury, I found that the yard had been cleared, namely, horse droppings, cleared away, and Mr. Atterbury had got it done by his own man, and that he had written to Mr. A. P. Stewart, the manager of the Australian Joint Stock Bank on the subject, &c.; I did not know what to do with my horses; the season being bad, I lent them to one of my friends, Mr. Stewart, who kept them in the office stables and yard, where they had been kept before; I had no messenger allowed me; the Under Secretary considered a messenger was not necessary, as £30 per year was allowed for keeping the premises clean, and Mr. Atterbury was aware of this, and the duties of the cleaner included the cleaning of the yard; in a record register of accounts I found an entry in it of £1 for cleaning the yard; I asked Mr. Atterbury what it meant, and he said it was for cleaning the yard, did I suppose he was going to do it himself; I asked him who signed it, as the officer incurring the expense, and he said the Under Secretary would see to that for him; I allowed the matter then to lay in abeyance, expecting that the Under Secretary would refer to me about it; the term unauthorised expenditure referred to means that we have no power to expend any money on the keeping of the premises clean, other than the £30 per annum allowed for that purpose; the cleaner should have kept the yard clean, and Mr. Atterbury should have known this; the other clerks were aware of this fact; there was no grooming of the horses; no attendance on them, other than putting the feed in the manger and supplying them with water; I complain of Mr. Atterbury's action in sending down a voucher to the Under Secretary for the £1 expense in cleaning the yard, without my knowledge and unsigned by me; if any one should have paid the money I should, and certainly not the Under Secretary; I do not know who signed the voucher; Mr. Atterbury had no authority to sign for the Chairman in the matter; the practice here in dealing with small expenditure is, the Clerk-in-charge submits a list of requisites, which I authorise getting at one of the local stores; when the account comes in the voucher is signed by me and no one else; he had no authority at any time to sign for me in the matter of incidental expenses, nor has he done so on any other occasion; I complain of dissimulation and in not obeying my instructions; I consider the paper just shown quite legible, and if it were not so it was the duty of the Clerk-in-charge to ask me for a duplicate; is a telegram, of the 20th February, 1889, stating that the next day would be proclaimed a public holiday; I complain in this case of insubordination on Mr. Atterbury's part in not cancelling the registration as I directed; I consider the tone of this letter dictatorial; I was at Deniliquin at the Crown Land Court, and it became necessary for me to know when I could fix the Hay Court; I wrote to the Clerk-in-charge to prepare a list of cases for such Hay Court; and also to begin to prepare the cases, as I found that the deposition clerk who usually does this work would not be able to start such work then owing to his other duties; instead of attacking the work as I directed, he wrote me the letter (here read) of the
I complain that the Clerk-in-charge communicated directly with the Under Secretary for Lands, and asked him for instructions over my head; it was by no means the first time that the Clerk-in-charge communicated to the Under Secretary directly; if a letter couched in the proper terms were addressed to the Under Secretary by Mr. Atterbury, I would have forwarded it on; I would forward any complaint on; telegram from Wentworth; I complain that the Clerk-in-charge asked his own junior officer whether if, in his opinion, certain action proposed by the Chairman was correct; knowing the incessant annoyance that Mr. Atterbury had given me, I took it to be only another deliberate annoyance; certificates of confirmation were brought in to me the afternoon prior to the date of my intended departure for Deniliquin; the number of these was great, and required careful attention; each case required about from three to eight papers to be signed, and each compared with original papers; I remonstrated with Mr. Atterbury, saying, "Why did you not bring them in before"; I asked him did he not know that I was going the next day to Deniliquin; he said "I do not know when you are going"; See Appendix O for the remainder of the conversation; I do not, as a general practice, compare the papers sent out to the originals; but have done so since the error occurred, requiring a rehearing of a case before the Court; I would not do so now that Mr. Boot is here; I was annoyed with Mr. Atterbury in slamming the door, and made a memorandum of it, and Mr. Davies endorsed it; I complain that the Clerk-in-charge was impertinent to the Chairman, and spoke disrespectfully of the Board; I should not have taken any action on these papers if I had had any idea that the Board of Inquiry were about to hold an investigation; these papers explain themselves; these papers comprise all the matters I intend to bring before the Board; there are a great many others open to criticism, but these, I think, are sufficiently representative.

To Mr. Atterbury: Question :—What are the functions of a Clerk-in-charge? Answer :—He has the immediate control of all the clerks in the office, under the Chairman's directions, and he has to see if all the registers, records, and books generally, are kept in proper order, neatly and correctly, &c., &c., &c. He has charge of all the papers, and has to see that they are properly put away in bundles, and arranged so that any delays could be prevented, that no delay can accrue. All the work connected with papers after Land Board action, has to be done by him, or under his supervision, and which he should check under any circumstances; he should submit papers to the Chairman, when any action becomes due upon them.

Question :—Has the Clerk-in-charge any right to make suggestions or submissions to the Chairman? Answer :—Some things he should not make suggestions or submissions on; he should submit to me the action he thinks proper in the cases of conditional purchases or conditional leases.

Question :—Has the Clerk-in-charge any right to make suggestions in the matter of re-arranging the office staff? Answer :—Yes; I think it is his duty; he should not make alterations without doing so.

Question :—Are you aware of any circular or instruction, defining the duties of Clerks-in-charge? Answer :—No.

Question :—Have your memoranda been kept separate and treated as a precedent book? Answer :—I do not know.

Question :—Do you know whether any of these memoranda have been treated as ordinary documents and put away? Answer :—I do not.

To Mr. Sly : It would be the Clerk-in-charge's duty to keep a precedent book.

To Mr. Atterbury: Question :—Would it be necessary for a Clerk-in-charge, coming fresh to the office, to hunt up the records of directions to his predecessor? Answer :—I could not say; but Mr. Atterbury took over the work from Mr. Lackey, his predecessor, and remained two or three days with him, previous to his taking official charge. Mr. Lackey stayed some time afterwards to help Mr. Atterbury to become accustomed to his work.

Question :—In what manner is my position a confidential one? Answer :—You would come and make a complaint perhaps of one of the officers, or you might come in and discuss a case with me. I was aware of your official title, when I saw your signature to the telegram of 8th November, referred to in Appendix D.

Question :—Is it a general practice of the Civil Service for the next senior officer to take the position of his senior during his absence? Answer :—I cannot say, as I am not sufficiently well acquainted with the whole of the Civil Service to give an answer to a query given in that form.

Question :—

Question :—Did you know whether Mr. Davies gave information to Mr. Lakeman during my absence on leave
Answer :—I think he did.

Question :—Did you ever ask me to explain in regard to Appendix L? Answer :—I did not.

With regard to Appendix O, even if my statement with regard to the blunder of the Board was true, do you think it was disrespectful in saying so? I think it was disrespectful.

Question :—What is your opinion of my abilities as an officer of this department, quite irrespective of conduct in my present position;—the question is general, and in my official capacity apart from my alleged insubordination? Answer :—Your efficiency as a clerk-in-charge is moderate, but I think your efficiency in another capacity would be greater (say) as a corresponding clerk, as you write a bold hand, and can put a letter together very well: speaking generally, I should say that you had some ability; I think as a shorthand writer Mr. Atterbury would be very useful and efficient; I know this from my own knowledge.

Question :—Do you think I have any skill or knowledge of English composition? Answer :—Yes.

A. J. PARK, 13th April, 1889.

Mr. Thomas Robertson states :—I am a solicitor; have been practising in Hay for two years and four months, before that in Sydney, and have been practising continuously in New South Wales for about thirty years; I remember coming to the office and seeing the clerk-in-charge; I received a letter from Mr. Park, and also an intimation from him to reply to it, and I did reply; the exhibits referred to here as Exhibits B and B enclosures are those letters; at the request of the principal residents of Hay I assisted in the formation of a horticultural society, and a literary debating society, and promoted two flower shows, and delivered two or three lectures; the last of the flower shows, and the last of the lectures, was satirised in the Record newspaper by an anonymous correspondent, who signed himself the "Growler"; I was informed that Mr. Atterbury, clerk in the Lands Office, was the author of those letters; on the day that I received the information I happened to send to Mr. Atterbury for some official information, and received from him a verbal message, which I thought was intended to be studiously insulting; I rushed over to the Lands Office, and the interview with Mr. Atterbury, which is referred to in my letter of the 5th November, 1888, to Mr. Park [Exhibit B and B enclosures]; I afterwards learnt that Mr. Atterbury was not responsible for the message which I had received, and which I thought was intended to imply that I was incapable of making an intelligible inquiry, and I was assured by Mr. Broughton that I had been equally mistaken in believing that Mr. Atterbury had written the letters signed "The Growler"; I then felt very much concerned, and wrote to the proprietor of the Record demanding the name of the author of the letters in question, and he informed me that the letters had been written by Mr. Atterbury; Mr. Atterbury afterwards wrote a letter to me, admitting that he was the author of the letter, and apologizing; the matter was afterwards discussed at a full meeting of the committee of the Athenaeum, and I stated that Mr. Atterbury had written to me admitting the authorship of the letters signed "The Growler," but that I had declined to have anything to say to him, because he stood a self-confessed liar; Mr. Broughton having told me that he had solemnly denied to him that he had written the letters in question; I have great experience in all the Courts of the Colony, and I have never practised before a Judge more courteous, painstaking, and impartial than Mr. Park, and therefore I was very sorry that I should have lost my temper with any officer of his department.

To Mr. Park :—You were not connected with either the horticultural or the literary debating society.

To Mr. Atterbury :—I thought that Mr. Kensington, who was the Honorary Secretary of the Agricultural Society, and who had worked very hard in the flower show, I thought he was hardly treated by the scurrilous remarks of "The Growler," and I thought it was very unbecoming of any Government officer to attack in that way a gentleman giving his services gratuitously to the public; "The Growler" letters did refer to the horticultural show; if it was not so, it was a letter from the same pen, because I discussed the matter with Mr. Percival the day he gave up the name of Mr. Atterbury to me; I have no reason to doubt Mr. Percival, being a truthful man; [Mr. Robertson here handed in a letter from Mr. Atterbury to himself at Mr. Atterbury's request;] I received no discourtesy from you when I called at the Land Office on the occasion before referred to; I was in hopes that you would have admitted your authorship of "The Growler" letters, and then I should have felt myself in a position to have committed an assault; I came over with the full intention of committing a breach of the peace; there was a gentleman with me on that occasion; he accompanied me of his own accord; I have found out since that I was entirely mistaken in thinking that you were withholding any information from me; I have been treated in a respectful and courteous manner by you when I have called at the office since the incidents before related; I have found you anxious and willing to supply me with any information I required; I have no cause for complaint as far as your official duties are concerned.

THOMAS ROBERTSON.

John Broughton states :—I am the Acting District Surveyor, and have been so for about seventeen months.

To Mr. Park :—I had a conversation with Mr. Atterbury about the authorship of "The Growler" letters; I had received a letter of introduction from Mr. Atterbury, and hearing that he had been accused of being the author of "The Growler" letter I thought it my duty to question him about it, and to defend him; Mr. Atterbury gave me to understand that he was not the author of "The Growler" letter, and that the only anonymous letters that he had written to the paper were under the nom de plume of "Leg-stump" on cricketing matters; sometime afterwards he came to my office and made an acknowledgment to the effect that he was the author of "The Growler" letter; I did not at the time feel disposed to listen to the explanation, and he afterwards wrote me a letter admitting that he had prevaricated in the matter [See Exhibit O]; I told Mr. Robertson that Mr. Atterbury emphatically denied to me the authorship of "The Growler" letter; Mr. Robertson came to my office, and made a noise in the passage, and asked for information about a road matter, and I do not consider Mr. Atterbury to blame in the road matter, as I do not think the information supplied by Mr. Robertson was sufficiently clear to identify it; I complained once or twice in writing of Mr. Atterbury writing to me on official matters and signing himself B.J.A. only; I have noticed some similar cases since, quite recently; there have been cases since January, 1889, when Mr. Atterbury signed himself with his own name and not as pro Chairman; I drew attention to such omission as soon as I noticed it; I have had several occasions to complain verbally and in writing of delays which have occurred in returning papers to the Survey Office, papers L.B.D. 89-1, 226 [Exhibit P] is an instance of the above; these papers should have been registered the same day and returned to my office; I have sent up by messenger in the ordinary manner; I do not remember getting a message from the Lands Department to the effect that such papers were not received on the date of the paper.

To Mr. Atterbury :—I met you in the street, I think.

Question :—Did you say, "They say that you are the author of all these letters which have been written to the papers about the Flower Show and the Athenaeum?" Answer :—From what I remember that is part of the substance of what I said.

Question :—Did I reply in the following terms: "They are mistaken, it is not so, I will tell you a letter that I am responsible for, and that is the one signed Leg-stump?" Answer :—No; I believe you said the only two letters you wrote were under the nom de plume or Leg-stump.

Question :—Did I, so far as you are aware, use my best endeavours to give Mr. Robertson the information he desired with reference to the road matters? Answer :—I think you did; there were delays before Mr. Atterbury came up, but they were not so frequent as they have been since; I do not remember complaining to you about delays occurring in returning papers to the Survey Office; there have been.

Question :—Have I at any time shown you any discourtesy as an official? Answer :—The only case was in the letter I will produce; the letter was returned to me, but not addressed to anyone; I have always found you ready to give assistance in all cases where I have made official inquiries.

Mr. Broughton recalled, states :—I produce the letter dated 14th March, 1889 [Exhibit Q] as promised.

To Mr. Atterbury :—I think the papers referred to were copies of applications; I could not say whether they came down with a batch of papers; I could not say whether the minute to the District Surveyor was in your hand-writing; it was a great oversight in omitting to sign for the Chairman in so many instances; it might have been an accident however; with reference to Exhibit Q, this not being addressed to anyone might have been an oversight, and I am willing to acknowledge it as such.

15th April, 1889.

JOHN BROUGHTON.

Charles

Charles Herbert Davies states: I am a temporary clerk employed in the Local Lands Office, and have been here four years; I know well the routine of the office; I was in the head office nearly three years prior to that.

To Mr. Park: There have been different individuals occupying the position of Clerk-in-charge during my term in this office; one of them (Mr. Boot) occupying the position twice as Acting Clerk-in-charge; excepting Mr. Atterbury none of them have been rude to me; I have not had any quarrels with any of the others, but been on friendly terms with them; Mr. Atterbury did not seek my advice in the working of the office; there have been times when I have not been on speaking terms with Mr. Atterbury, occasioned partly by an alteration in the system of work in the office, and partly by a private quarrel; Mr. Atterbury made alterations in the previous working of the office, so much so that I thought him incapable of taking charge of a Land Board Office, and he could not have had any experience in one; he has re-established the old practice of working in the office in some instances.

To Mr. Sly: The alteration in the system of keeping the records and abolishing the Postage Book, and also in abolishing the Land Agents' Returns are the alterations I refer to; there were distinct instructions to the Land Agent to forward returns to this office, even if there were no applications during the week (nil returns); it was the practice to send them in; the Land Agent (Mr. Gibson) ceased to send them in, and stated, when asked, that Mr. Atterbury had told him that it was unnecessary; the stoppage of the nil returns only applies to the Hay office and not to the returns from the other Land Offices in the district; although there would be no risk in preparing the whole return for the district, in the matter in the Hay Land Office it would destroy the continuity of the return in the head office, Sydney, and also in this office.

To Mr. Park: The system adopted by Mr. Atterbury for the keeping of the records was not as good a one as the original, and this has now been reverted to through instructions emanating from the Board of Inquiry; I complain of Mr. Atterbury's total disregard of the registers; he altered the former practice to one in which an application not an original one, but (say) one for extension of time, inspectors' reports, and others, that he, the Clerk-in-charge, noted the papers to Mr. O'Hanlon, the record clerk, to put away, and they did not come through me to enter in the registers; I keep the registers, and am held responsible for their correctness; they may not be complete, although I have gone through the papers since they have been put away, but, of course, I may have not seen all of them, and they are to that extent incomplete; I went through the papers of my own accord, and without authority from anyone, but that in order that I might have my books correct, as I take a pride in my registers; one case was received in December, 1888, and was not recorded in the ordinary course of business, but I recorded it on my own responsibility during February, 1889; Mr. Atterbury said he did not see the necessity of entering a great number of the papers in the registers; I had to prepare the cases for the Hay Court, and out of about between 200 or 300 cases I found about sixty cases that had not been through the registers, owing to the action of Mr. Atterbury in getting the papers put away instead of having them passed through the registers; it has been the custom hitherto that when the surveyors' plan and report comes down for registration from the Survey Department that the action, that is, that the survey has been made, would be entered in the registers, and that the surveyor's letter, transmitting the plan, would be noted, with the number of the conditional purchase or conditional lease, &c., &c., and the former papers placed with the case, and returned to the Survey Department; Mr. Atterbury directed that this action should only be taken after the case had been completed in the Survey Office; I am of opinion that if such action is necessary that it should be done at the time, the papers are first sent down from the Survey Department for registration; the only difference between Mr. Atterbury's opinion and mine is the time when such action should be taken; I am of opinion that Mr. Atterbury is not competent to fill the position of Clerk-in-charge, and he has frequently asked my opinion as to what action should be taken on papers, and he has afforded information to the public, which he should certainly not have given, and which he gave, I presume, through ignorance of his duties; I think I am capable of judging, owing to my long experience in this office.

To Mr. Park: You have not been rude to me; you have not been rude to any of the Clerks-in-charge; I can conscientiously say this, or even to any other of the officers; I have heard Mr. Atterbury rude to you, positively rude; on the occasion of your inquiry into certain complaints made about giving information to the public re Mr. Lakeman, M.P., and also of the one between Mr. Atterbury and myself; Mr. Atterbury's manner was very rude, and you were compelled to order him to leave the room; when I was present in this room he was also rude; I signed the papers to that effect; he said the Board made mistakes; as far as I remember his manner was a domineering one; I certified at the time to the exact expression used; his manner was not respectful; he bounced out of the room and slammed the door in a very disrespectful manner; [Mr. Davies was here shown his signature in Appendix O, and certified to its correctness, and said that he signed it five minutes after the occurrence]; you keep your horses here very frequently; I have fed them occasionally; I offered to do it, as I occupy a room at the rear of the premises; I made the offer voluntarily; I had occupied such room before you had the horses here; the use of the room was not a quid pro quo for feeding the horses; I noticed that on wet nights you came down to feed the horses, and I thought to save you such trouble, and offered to do so; I was glad to do so; you said, "I do not wish to trouble you so much," but I did not consider it a trouble.

Mr. Atterbury has no questions to ask.

CHARLES HERBERT DAVIES.

15 April, 1889.

Mr. Davies, recalled, states.—To Mr. Park:—I know Tassell's Homestead lease case; it had a covering paper when I last saw it, containing some queries from the Chairman to the Clerk-in-charge, and it had not been registered; the queries were answered by the Clerk-in-charge; I am not sure whether all of them were, but one was, certainly; I do not know whether you ever saw it or not with the covering memo. on; the answer to the query which I saw was not answered in the manner which it should have been by the Clerk-in-charge; the tone was not proper from the Clerk-in-charge to the Chairman; the record register bears the notation in Mr. Atterbury's handwriting that the papers are with the Under Secretary, 14th March; I think the covering paper such a one as should have been registered; that is, in my opinion.

CHARLES HERBERT DAVIES

Wilfred Lionel Volckman states, I am a clerk in the Local Land Board Office, have been connected with such office for a period of 2½ years; I have been employed as deposition clerk; I was about twelve months in the Head Office in Sydney.

To Mr. Park:—I have never had any misunderstanding with Mr. Atterbury; you have never been rude to me; there has been, during that time, as Clerks-in-charge, Mr. Crew, Mr. Boot (Acting), Mr. Ward, Mr. Boot again, Mr. Lackey, and Mr. Atterbury; I have never heard you rude to any of these gentlemen, or to any other officer in the Service; on one occasion I heard Mr. Atterbury rude to you; it was during an inquiry held by you, and where he said "that is not true," and I signed in the margin that such words were used by Mr. Atterbury; I think, on the second inquiry, re Mr. Davies and Mr. Atterbury, his manner was rude; I do not think he was at all respectful; I think that, during the progress of both inquiries, his manner was generally disrespectful; the Board have suffered inconvenience through the papers not being placed with the case immediately on their receipt or soon after; the first intimation that I or the Board have had of some cases has been the applicant making inquiries about his application at the Board meeting; in one instance at Deniliquin; I am sure that there have been other cases; this necessitates the appearance of an applicant which might have been obviated.

To Mr. Atterbury.—I took a note of a number of cases in an incomplete state set down for hearing at the Hillston Court; I do not think that all the faults found in the cases during the sitting of the Court were all your fault; I think in certain cases there has been an improvement in the preparation of cases for the Land Court since you came, viz., in the placing of the original application with the papers before placing with the Court bundles; I have some experience of record matters in the head office.

Question.—What is the first action after registration of papers? Answer.—The former papers were looked up and connected; I notice that instructions have been given for all papers after registration to be given to the Clerk-in-charge; I do not think it was after registration and connection.

To Mr. Park:—The application for exemption from fencing was not with the papers, and this caused the inconvenience; this occurred during Mr. Atterbury's tenure of office; papers, L.B.D. 88-6,423, L.B.D. 89-1,614; case heard at Deniliquin is an instance of where the application for exemption from fencing was not placed with the case; the inquiry set down for hearing was whether the fencing conditions were fulfilled; the Clerk-in-charge is responsible for this error; the papers, L.B.D. 88-6,423, were received at Deniliquin before the case came on for hearing, but after the case had been set down for hearing; it was received while the Court was sitting; the papers will explain this matter; see dates of instructions to Inspector for his report and date receipt of application for exemption from fencing.

W. LION VOLCKMAN.

15 April, 1889.

To

To Mr. Sly :—William O'Hanlon states :—I am a clerk, employed in the Local Lands Office ; I came here from Armidale and have been here since February, 1888 ; I was in the Board Office at Glen Innes and Armidale for about two and a half years ; I have a certain amount of experience in Land Board duties.

To Mr. Park :—Mr. Boot was acting Clerk-in-charge when I came to the office ; Mr. Boot was—here for some time ; Mr. Lackey followed him ; I was here during the whole time of Mr. Lackey's charge ; then Mr. Atterbury took charge ; Mr. Lackey stayed for about a week after Mr. Atterbury took charge ; the official letter says that Mr. Lackey should remain a week to initiate Mr. Atterbury ; I have had no quarrel with Mr. Boot or Mr. Lackey, or with any of the clerks in the Glen Innes or Armidale offices ; I have had quarrels with Mr. Atterbury ; the first quarrel took place through Mr. Atterbury finding fault with the system of keeping the records, which system Mr. Atterbury changed ; and secondly in regard to a bell which Mr. Atterbury bought ; I emphatically refused to come at the ringing of the bell.

To Mr. Sly :—I objected to the bell when previous clerks-in-charge had not used the bell ; Mr. Atterbury told me afterwards that if he had thought the ringing of the bell would have been distasteful he would not have used it ; I had never before refused to come into the office when asked, and without a bell ; I could hear when the door was shut ; the reason for keeping the door shut was that Mr. Atterbury looked upon me as a temporary officer, and that he made a distinction between permanent and temporary officers, and did not treat me as courteously as he might have done ; I complain of his manner of treating me ; he treated me as an inferior clerk ; he stated so ; no one sat in the room with Mr. Atterbury ; the places in the building used by the clerks are so arranged as to be most convenient for the discharge of the duties of the office.

To Mr. Park :—Mr. Atterbury made an alteration in the system of keeping the records ; I found it impossible to keep the records as altered by Mr. Atterbury ; all applications received into the office are entered in the regular records of the office before they are entered into the registers to which they belong, owing to an alteration made by Mr. Atterbury, until circular No 89-8 was received ; this I think quite unnecessary ; I think that papers should be put away in bundles of the class to which they belong ; that putting them away in an indiscriminate manner causes a great amount of labour ; this was also caused by Mr. Atterbury's direction ; there was a different system in force before Mr. Atterbury came ; the fact of not putting them away in bundles of the particular classes to which they belong would render it necessary at any future time to look through the whole of the papers in the office, between twenty or thirty thousand papers, to collect them all ; the postage-book was discontinued ; this is the only record of letters posted ; Mr. Boot attaches great importance to the postage book ; it is the only record of the O.S. stamps used and the letters posted.

To Mr. Park :—I remember your asking for the postage-book, and said that it had been discontinued ; you seemed surprised ; you have always treated me with the greatest courtesy ; I have not seen you rude to any of the clerks in the office, especially Mr. Atterbury.

To Mr. Sly :—I was present at the inquiry held by Mr. Park ; Mr. Atterbury's conduct was not gentlemanly ; he was abusive to Mr. Park ; Mr. Park did not do anything to cause such abuse that I am aware of ; the Chairman did not address Mr. Atterbury in a rude manner ; Mr. Atterbury seemed excited when he said "that is not true," he did make use of these words ; Mr. Atterbury wanted me to work overtime—4-30 to 6, from 7 to 10 ; owing to the climate I thought it was not right, and refused ; Mr. Atterbury rushed at me like a madman the next morning because I would not work from 7 till 10 at night ; said I was mean and contemptible ; I always stayed after hours to do the despatch work, and there was no complaint ; there was a memo. issued by Mr. Atterbury to the effect that I should leave at half-past 4 with the others ; it was shortly afterwards that I was asked to work overtime from 7 to 10.

To Mr. Atterbury :—Ever since Mr. Atterbury had taken charge he has always looked down upon me, and has never been social ; we had some words ; I objected to carry out the changes instituted by you ; I thought I had every reason to object, as the work was not carried on in the proper system ; you would be responsible in case trouble arose through my carrying out your instructions ; before you came up here you corresponded with me on private matters ; you wrote to me asking advice as to obtaining quarters for you in Hay ; when we are outside the office we have met, I think, on an equality ; I only complain of your treatment of me in the office ; if a paper is marked "put away," and that action is wrong, you are responsible, as you initial it, but I would have to find it ; during the last overtime I do not know what work you were engaged in ; you said I was mean and contemptible ; that is all.

Question :—Did I say this : "Your action in allowing another man to stay late at the office doing your work while you were away is mean and contemptible in the extreme?" Answer :—I remember you say that I was mean and contemptible ; that was all you said, you were in such a rage ; I asked you to repeat it, and if you had repeated it you would not have been standing were you were then ; I then resumed my work, and you went to your room and slammed the door.

Question : Did you raise your clenched fist in a threatening attitude? Answer :—I did clench my fist, and stood close to him as an ordinary individual would under the severe provocation ; I declined to work overtime at night during that time of the year—January, 1889 ; I did not refuse to work overtime from half-past 4 till 6 o'clock, as is stated at the bottom of a memorandum of Mr. Atterbury's ; I recognize this paper, 88-6,010, Land Board District, re the closing of the office ; I regard it as an instruction to leave the office at half-past 4.

WILLIAM O'HANLON.

13th April, 1889.

Augustus Boot states :—I am Officer-in-charge of the Local Land Board, Hay ; I have been about ten years in the Lands Department ; I have been clerk in the Pre-lease Branch ; I have had a great amount of experience in the Department.

To Mr. Park : I have been acting Clerk-in-charge in this office four times, and I am now Officer-in-charge ; on this occasion I found several alterations in the mode of keeping the books [Alterations noted by Mr. Conder] ; also several instances of erasures, the use of chemicals ; I found the postage-book in use when I came up, but it had been discontinued before that, during the months of November, 1888, and February, 1889, approximately ; I consider it a very important book ; when I left here before in June, 1888, the 52nd clause papers were put away separately in bundles, but on returning on this occasion I found that papers were put away indiscriminately ; Mr. Atterbury's practice is totally different to that of any other Clerk-in-charge in other offices ; the Land Agent's returns were discontinued, although specific instructions were issued asking for them to be supplied whether applications were made during the week or not ; the returns would not be continuous without them ; I think the back returns will have to be supplied ; since my return the Land Agent supplies the weekly returns.

To Mr. Park :—Since my taking charge Mr. Atterbury's conduct has been correct, except on one occasion, when he refused to answer an official question, except in black and white by the Chairman or myself, and not verbally ; and on another occasion when I addressed a paper to the record clerk ; Mr. Atterbury complained to me in writing about Mr. Davies slamming the door, but I answered the memo. verbally, but told Mr. Davies of the complaint ; I have always found you courteous to me and also to the other officers ; I have found the quarterly returns very much in arrears, also the monthly returns (Form 43), and the annual returns for the Lease Branch, which have since been completed ; I found all refund vouchers, notices, &c., up to date ; I did not intend any slight to Mr. Atterbury in addressing a paper to the Record Clerk on paper Ml. 89-3,055.

To Mr. Atterbury :—Under your system I would have to go back through 3,000 papers to find one registered on about the 1st October ; the record register would show me where a paper is.

A. BOOT.

15th April, 1889.

Basil J. Atterbury states :—I am the Clerk-in-charge of the Local Land Office, Hay, and have been so since October, 1888 ; before that I was in charge of the Ministerial Branch in the head office for about two years, and shorthand writer to the Minister and the Court of Appeals ; during that time, at the head office, I had not had any quarrels with any of my fellow clerks ; I have been altogether in the Service about three and a half years ; before that I was connected with the press ; I joined the service in September, 1885, at £200 per year ; within a few months after that the Clerk-in-charge of the Ministerial Branch, head office, was suspended, and I was placed in charge ; prior to this I had no knowledge of the Ministerial Branch, but was put in authority by the Minister, who thought me capable of putting it straight, as it was in a terrible mess ; when the first Board of Inquiry was appointed they investigated the working of the Branch, and the result was that I, a comparative junior in the service, in regard to salary and length of service, was recommended by the Board for the position of the Clerk-in-charge of the Ministerial Branch ; the appointment was made, and subsequently the whole of the control of the advertising of the Lands Department was placed in my hands ; later than that the custody of all the old records of the Department were placed in my charge ; other matters were placed under my control, and these rendered the Ministerial Branch exceedingly complicated ; during that time, while in charge of the Branch, my management of it was never found fault with, and I have it from the highest authority in the Lands Department, that it was never so well conducted by any officer since he held it himself ; my position as Clerk-in-charge of Ministerial Branch gave me such a knowledge of every officer of the Lands Department that I could tell from memory the history of each one ; my memory is a trained one, having been connected with the press for such a lengthened period ; I have made certain suggestions to the Minister that in advertising alone I have saved the Department £3,000 per annum ; a considerable amount of confidence was placed by the head office in suggestions made by me, and my abilities were recognised by them ; the heads of Departments in Sydney are of opinion that I am a competent man, and I am of the same opinion myself ; the memo. written to Mr. Park was a purely private one, and I consider Mr. Park's action in connecting it with the registered papers is a gross breach of honor, and quite contemptible ; it was never intended to go out of his hands ; had the Chairman considered the suggestions of any value, and desired to use them, I think his proper course would have been to have incorporated them in a minute of his own, or else have asked me for an official expression of opinion ; I do not think it necessary for a Clerk-in-charge to require to be instructed or asked before putting his views on official matters to the Chairman ; I believe my views, as expressed there, to have been perfectly correct ; I complain that this document has been treated as an official one, and not as a purely private one ; I saw the minute of Mr. Park's on the date stated ; after seeing such minute I wrote my covering memo ; as Mr. Volckman left it behind by mistake, and as it was in his list of cases I sent it to him ; I deny the charge of surreptitiousness ; I think I have the right to draw Mr. Park's attention to facts which I thought illegal, and instanced the case of the Clerk-in-charge, at Grafton, who narrowly escaped suspension for not reporting certain illegal action ; I think that when an application for a withdrawal came into the office, if any action, namely, the report from the Forest Ranger, or the Surveyor, as the case may be, is required, and that such hold instructions, that they should be immediately communicated with, with the object of withdrawing such instructions, in order to save expense, which would be chargeable to applicant, and holding such views I think I was justified in drawing Mr. Park's attention to them in this case ; about the 26th January, re Bell's ring-bark ; the applicant, William Bell, had a clear right to a withdrawal of his application ; that up to that date no expense had been incurred in connection therewith, and that so far there was nothing to prevent a refund of the deposit, and this memo., of the 26th March, 1889, was written after the conversation ; during the conversation the Chairman told me that he intended to bring the case on before the Board and forfeit the deposit ; he said expense has been incurred, great or small, and that the applicant must pay for it ; I said if you stop any at all you must stop the whole amount ; these are the words as far as I can remember ; that my views are of some value will be seen on papers ; M. A. Macpherson's conditional purchase ; I desire to say that in my memo., drawing attention to supposed illegal conduct, there was nothing disrespectful ; I deemed it my duty to draw attention to the facts ; the delay in dealing with the papers may have been occasioned by natural causes, perhaps by its taking its turn with a large batch of papers, this is what is meant when I say by my deliberate act ; I do not mean that I willfully delayed it eight days.

Appendix A.

Appendix B.

To Mr. Sly :—I observed the Chairman's minute, of the 4th February, 1889 ; I had submitted all my views on the subject in my memo. of the 4th February ; my minute of the 7th March, 1889, is only explaining my reasons for writing my former minutes, and I think I was justified in writing it ; it would have been easier for me to have gone with the current in the procedure of this office, as other clerks-in-charge have done, and perhaps been promoted, instead of drawing attention to what I thought illegal acts ; in Bell's case, as the reasons for the withdrawal of the application were good, and natural ones, I considered I was justified in again drawing Mr. Park's attention to it, which was the cause of my second reference to the Chairman in the matter ; I think that it was in the Chairman's power to destroy my minute if he thought fit ; in explanation of my marginal minute, of the _____, after explaining all my views in former minutes ; I think I ought to have written a memo. on a separate paper to the Chairman, but for some reason omitted to do so, but when the Chairman wrote his minute after his conversation with me, I saw that he was doing wrong, and I thought it my duty to myself, and as Clerk-in-charge, to place my views before the Chairman, which I did in my marginal minute referred to, for my own protection ; if I saw things going wrong, I consider it my duty, as Clerk-in-charge, to point the error out ; I would consider it a breach of duty for anyone not to do so ; I regard the value of my initials to a voucher to be greater than as to whether an account was previously rendered or not ; I distinctly remember a conversation with Mr. Lackey on the subject of voucher for travelling expenses ; he said he thought I would not be doing wrong in initialling the voucher for September ; but I told him that I would do so on this occasion, but that I intended in future to make a complete inquiry into the initialling voucher ; even if I was wrong in signing the September voucher, it does not follow that I should not refuse to initial others ; two wrongs do not make a right ; I flatly declined to initial vouchers that were already signed by the claimant, and the officer incurring the expense ; I do understand the keeping of the voucher book ; looking at Exhibit J, I knew that 15s. per day was the amount allowed for travelling expenses, and that Mr. Park was absent for the time stated ; in the first place I would want to know before I initialled a voucher of that kind how Mr. Park's time was spent away from the office ; I seriously contend this ; out of twenty-eight days absent there were only twelve days spent in Court work ; I had to initial Mr. Russom's Conditional Purchase Inspector's voucher, and took it to Mr. Park, who drew the Under Secretary's attention to the short distances travelled, and the voucher was reduced accordingly ; I think I was therefore justified in not initialling Mr. Park's voucher ; I wanted to be certain that legitimate and fair travelling had been done for the days absent before signing the vouchers ; I do not consider the initialling as merely a matter of form ; my views are set out in my memorandum with Appendix C ; my reply was written not wholly in office hours, perhaps portion of it was, and my other duties were not neglected ; by the time-book it is recorded that since I have been here, about six months, I have worked nearly five weeks overtime ; there was a great quantity of arrears when I came here, which have been reduced, as in Mr. Boot's evidence it is stated that, with the exception of certain returns, the work was up to date when he came here.

Appendix C

Re the appointment of Junior Clerk.

With regard to this matter, I thought I was doing my duty in endeavouring to get gentlemen suitable for the position to apply for the position, and referred the names to Mr. Park ; I took considerable pains to find suitable persons for the position, and submitted the names to Mr. Park.

Appendix D.

I decidedly object to initial the decisions of the Local Land Board, or any other documents, unless I have the right to alter them if I do not agree with them ; it was impossible for myself or any other of the clerks to have discovered the error—it was purely a Board blunder ; Mr. Park placed on the papers, for the information of the Under Secretary, that this was an error of the clerical staff ; it struck me as such a gross perversion of the facts with a view to shield himself, that I then took a note of the paper for future reference ; the entry was made about the 20th January, 1889, in my note-book ; I do not think there was any necessity for me to have noted and checked form 10, the area of the holding, and it seemed very clearly stated in the District Surveyor's report ; I decline to initial any letter supposed to be complete if I have not the right to alter them ; the view I take is that the case should be absolutely perfect before it is signed by the members of the Board ; I do compare the decisions of the Board with the minute-book after the Court is held ; my letter of the _____ I do not consider a criticism.

Appendix E.

Re office memoranda.

With regard to Appendix F, I consider they (my memos.) are couched in proper terms ; I am not ignorant of the matters which I brought forward as stated by Mr. Park ; that, in my experience it has never been considered a waste of time by the Heads of Departments, to consider suggestions or proposals having for their object the greater economy or efficiency of the working of the service.

Appendix F.

It had been my custom in Sydney to sign B.J.A. when applying for tracings, &c., to the Surveyor-General, District Surveyor of Metropolitan Division, and had perhaps got into a groove, and there was no lack of courtesy intended by my signing in that matter to the District Surveyor at Hay ; the objections of the Acting District-Surveyor I considered in some cases frivolous ; I, however, altered my practice at once, and afterwards signed pro Chairman ; I adopted the same course here as I would have adopted with the Under Secretary ; in my opinion my minute was a proper one.

Appendix G.

Re Mr. Broughton's letter.

A large amount of copies applications were prepared by the clerk, and the corner was turned up and written thereon ; I had only after examination to sign the initials B.J.A. ; it was an omission of the clerk's in not putting pro Chairman ; I regard my minute of the 22nd February, 1889, as a proper one in reply ; I consider the Chairman's memo. of the 21st February, 1889, an improper one ; Mr. Park spoke to me about sending papers to the District Surveyor without signing for him, him, and I said I had, but that they were simply omissions, and that I would be careful that they would not occur again, and he seemed satisfied; I believe Mr. Park had and knew about the minute of the 21st February, 1889, although he denied having any knowledge of it, and thus told a deliberate falsehood; I consider the terms of my minute of the 21st February, 1889, were respectful to my superior officer; I submit that my minute of the 20th February, 1889, is not in an improper place; I think I was being chased by Mr. Park, and it appeared to me as if he were trying to fix some charge against me; in fact, hounding me down.

Appendix H.

Re expenditure of £1—re clearing of the yard.

I say that unauthorised expenditure means any expenditure unauthorised by the Under Secretary for Lands; the horses of Mr. Park had made the yard in a frightful state, and it being during the very hot weather (January, 1889), it was liable to become unhealthy, and I consequently wrote to Mr. A. P. Stewart, asking him to have it cleaned; I told the Chairman that I had given my man £1 for cleaning the yard; I think this was on the 23rd January, 1889, the day that Mr. Park returned; Mr. Park saw the letter, and told me it was like my impudence to write such a letter, and "compromise me with my friend Mr. Stewart"; I had at the time I spoke to Mr. Park, and told him of the expenditure of £1, already written to the Under Secretary for Lands, but did not tell Mr. Park that I had done so; it appears by the Voucher-book that the voucher for £1 was sent down on the 17th January, 1889; I invite attention to my memo. accompanying the voucher for £1, wherein I take the responsibility upon myself of forwarding the voucher, and signed the voucher myself as the officer incurring the expense; I knew that it was never intended that the woman who cleaned the office should have to clean the stable-yard.

Appendix I.

Re the document posted on the wall.

The very most has been made of my minute by Mr. Park that it would have been contained in two lines if written on a full sheet of paper; I submit that I was ignorant of the memo. on the wall; I must have seen it, but I had not read it; the minute I wrote is a proper minute to Mr. Park; I think a registered paper should not have been placed on the wall but only a copy should have been so placed.

Appendix K.

Re telegram about public holidays.

The Under Secretary would not cancel a registered document without the Minister's authority; I considered it my duty to refuse Mr. Park in such a case as this, knowing that the Under Secretary would not have acted so; in the matter of the Bell paper, Mr. Park refused to cancel a registered paper; that in my opinion Mr. Park was ordering me to do a thing which I knew to be wrong, and that I was doing my duty in refusing to do so.

Appendix L.

I merely made a respectful suggestion to the Chairman, and there was nothing in my manners or words dictatorial.

Appendix M

I would point out that there was a precedent for my action in this matter, viz., Mr. Boot communicated with the Under Secretary direct in the matter of difference between him and Mr. Park, and the Under Secretary upheld Mr. Boot's action.

Appendix N.

Mr. Volckman prepares the cases for the courts, and he sees that the cases are complete, and it appears probable that he did not think the C.P.L. papers were necessary to be placed with the parent conditional purchase papers; this may have been an error of judgment, and I wrote my memo. to him in order to enable him to say so or not, and not with a view of causing insubordination.

Appendix O

The statements made herein are, I think, very nearly correct, except that I did not, as far as I remember, use the words stated to have been used by me, and I did not slam the door; as far as I remember I said "I do, though, and can back it up with papers"; I do not think I said the words written on the papers; I was very much excited when I left the room; I do not think I slammed the door; Mr. Park said "How dare you speak in that manner of the Board;" I said, in a quick manner when addressed, it was merely a Board blunder, for which the office is not responsible; Mr. Park made his remarks in a very improper manner to me, and I have never been so addressed before by a superior officer, and a manner which I would not have used to a junior; I did not intend to be disrespectful when I said, "That is a Board blunder."

Appendix P.

I felt that there was an intention on the part of Mr. Boot and Mr. Park to bring me down as low as possible in the office; I was only keeping the records temporarily, and was still Clerk-in-charge; I had been treated disrespectfully by Mr. Davies that morning, and made a complaint in writing to Mr. Boot; the paper addressed to the Record Clerk was placed on my table by Mr. Boot; it was handed to me; I think it was personal; it was intended for me, and not for any other officer keeping records; I think the paper appointing Mr. Boot should have been sent round the room, addressed to Mr. Atterbury and staff; the other members of the staff were under the impression that I had been suspended.

Re Growler letter.

I was not guilty of untruthfulness to Mr. Broughton and to Mr. Park; I evaded the questions of Mr. Broughton; I am sorry I did so evade his questions; I evaded Mr. Park's questions, and led him to believe that I did not write the Growler letter; I have been sorry ever since that I evaded the questions asked me.

Re alterations of systems in office.

I found great disorder and want of system in the office when I arrived; I gave instructions that all papers should be made complete before putting in the Court bundles; this was not so before I came; I directed the discontinuance of the Postage Book for a time, owing to the amount of arrears in the office, but when the arrears had been reduced, I directed its re-use; I did not get instructions from the Head Office to bring the postage-book into use again; I thought other work was more important, and that the postage-book was merely useful as a check on the amount of O.S. stamps used; the evidence given by Mr. Davies and Mr. O'Hanlon is not true in regard to the registration of papers; I gave verbal instructions to Mr. O'Hanlon that as soon as papers were registered and connected, that they should come to me to see if any special action was required, and after being seen by me and handed back to him; they should go to Mr. Davies for notation, previous to the carrying out of action proposed by me on the papers; I told Mr. O'Hanlon this several times; I told Mr. Davies that Mr. O'Hanlon had these instructions from me; I told him so several times; in fact Mr. Davies told me on one occasion that Mr. O'Hanlon was not carrying out my system; it should not take more than an hour for papers to go through their regular routine; but there have been delays as much as eight days; under instructions contained in circular No. 89-S, the practice which obtained in the office of registering and connecting original applications, &c., was discontinued; it was the practice before I came that papers were registered and recorded, and not connected with the former papers for some time after, I altered this, and had them connected immediately after the registration; the instructions I gave to Mr. O'Hanlon were that in every case the papers, after being handed back to him after my notation, were to go to Mr. Davies to be registered; I altered the ordinary routine of the office, because, my staff being so small, I wished to get to the important action required on a case as quickly as possible; I directed that papers were to be put away in bundles of thousands, not according to their lease numbers, but according to their Land Board number; I had the lease papers put away in their proper Land Board bundles as their record numbers could be obtained from our lease registers; it is as easy to find papers under one system as the other; there is an objection to having two bundles of papers, and that the labour of obtaining the papers is as easy in one case as the other; that the papers should not be kept in bundles pending legislation, and that we have not any right to consider what future legislation might be, but to deal with papers as the law is at present.

To Mr. Park:—I think it was in your power to destroy memoranda of no importance that were unregistered; it was your opinion that any papers of any importance should be kept with the case and not destroyed; I do not know where the Bell papers are; I think they were sent down to head-quarters; you said in connection with the Bell papers that you could not destroy registered papers, but that you were willing to cancel the minutes and have the papers put away, and make them bygones, as the papers will show; that is the only occasion when I had any conversation with you about signing "B.J.A.;" when I dealt with the matter of cleaning the yard I was not aware of the papers defining the duties of the cleaner they had slipped my memory; I think you said the words "compromise me with my friend, Mr. Stewart;" with regard to Mr. Volckman's evidence, I think he made a mistake; my memo. was, "All papers, after registration and due connections must come to me in the first instance; this direction is to be noted and fully carried out."

EVIDENCE

EVIDENCE IN REPLY.

Wilfred Lionel Volckman, recalled, states (to Mr. Park):—I know the run of most of the papers that you take with you to the various Courts; I have a very good memory; I do not think you had the papers of Mr. Broughton's complaint against Mr. Atterbury's signing "B.J.A." with you at Deniliquin; the Court had been fixed and the cases set down for hearing then; Mr. Atterbury gave me Bell's ringbarking application for me to issue the notice; at the same time he asked me to give it to him back after I had done so; I gave it back to him in Hay after issuing the notices; shortly after that I left for Deniliquin, and did not take it with me; I did not see it again till it reached me at Deniliquin, after the Court had started.

To Mr. Atterbury:—Mr. Park may have some papers with him that I am not aware of; Mr. Park has a despatch-box; I have not full access to it; it is quite possible for papers to be in the despatch-box and I not know it; I never had occasion to go to the despatch-box on my own account; I have been asked by Mr. Park to get papers out of the despatch-box; I do not examine the contents of the papers in the despatch-box when asked to find papers there; I do not remember whether you said you would give me Bell's papers back again.

W. LION. VOLCKMAN.

16 April, 1889.

Henry Edward Porter Thompson states:—I am grazier and conditional purchaser residing at Saint Argent, about 5 miles from Hay; I have been eleven years in the district; I took up a selection in 1883; before that I was a clerk to Mr. Reed, a solicitor in Hay; previous to that in Victoria connected with a Trades Protection Society in Melbourne; my charge is that when the inquiry came on before the Land Court, in the case of my conditional purchase of 100 acres, which is now called Saint Argent, as to whether the improvements on the land selected by me were worth £40; the improvements on the land when I selected it were grubbing a six-wire dividing fence, which was erected by adjoining selector after my application, but was included among improvements charged against me; this inquiry came before the Land Court, consisting of Mr. Park, Mr. Lockhart, and Mr. Pearce, during August, 1885; I was present at that inquiry; Mr. Broughton was present on one side, and I was on the other; I was assisting the Crown Lands Agent in Hay previous to the year 1885; that I made certain inquiries to Mr. Gale, who refused to give me any reply, but referred me to Mr. Park, the Chairman of the Local Land Board; the inquiry I made was I asked Mr. Gale to inform me whether his certificate of certain facts in connection with my case would be accepted by the Board; I had never to my knowledge seen Mr. Park before; I asked Mr. Park if he would be satisfied with the certificate of the Crown Lands Agent of certain facts essential to my case; as far as my memory serves me I did not state to Mr. Park what the facts were; Mr. Park's reply was, "You know the law of evidence as well as I do"; Mr. Park's manner was very offence; I spoke civilly to Mr. Park; Mr. Park came out onto the verandah and was stooping down looking at some plans when I spoke to him; he replied to me in a gruff manner; I was astounded; I said, "Thank you," and walked away; I was known generally in the district to have been connected with the Lands Office; I was paid by voucher through the Treasury; Mr. Park was not Chairman of the Local Land Board when I was connected with the Lands Office; I presume Mr. Gale, the Lands Agent, heard Mr. Park's reply to me; I think Mr. Gale was in a position to have heard it; no one else heard it; so far as I know Mr. Gale has made no statement to the effect that he heard Mr. Park's reply to me referred to before; I had no conversation in the street about the matter with Mr. Park; a few days after the hearing of my case at the Land Court I wished to examine a witness, Mr. Foster, a surveyor, who reported on the improvements; Mr. Foster had reported that there were more than £40 worth of improvements on the land applied for by me; Mr. Park objected to my cross-examination of the witness Mr. Foster, the surveyor; he said I had no right to cross-examine a witness; I have no complaint to make of Mr. Park's manner in this case; Mr. Park's manner on this occasion was all that it should be; the only complaint I have to make in the matter of his manner was on the first occasion; Mr. Lockhart said of course he has a right to cross-examine the witness, or words to that effect, and I was allowed to cross-examine the witness without further objection; I did cross-examine the witness; I did get my selection up to that point there was no injustice; I did shake the testimony of Mr. Foster, the witness; a fence had been put up by an adjoining selector, which was not on the boundary, but outside the land I selected, and was erected after my application for the land; I was subpoenaed as a witness in the case; the improvements were valued by the Board at £16; the result of my cross-examination and of my own examination resulted in the Board finding that there were only £16 worth of improvements on the land.

To Mr. Park:—I did not know you when I asked you the question; it was a few days before the Court was held, but after I received notice of the inquiry; I am quite sure that you made an objection to my cross-examining witness; this remark about my right to cross-examine was made to me, and not to his colleague on the Bench; the words were "You have no right"; the remark made by Mr. Park may have been unintentional.

H. E. P. THOMPSON.

(A 3A.)

On 24th August, 1885, at the Court, the Board decided that there were £16 worth of improvements on my selection; the Board at the same time decided late at night, and the decision was read out by Mr. Park; the decision of the Board was that the improvements were not of sufficient value to bar selection, and recommended the Minister to offer them at auction; the land was not put up to auction that I am aware of; on the 15th January, 1886, the Board inquired into my conditional purchase; I was summoned to attend the Land Court; the improvements were valued at £25; Mr. Park and Mr. Pearce were sitting; I am not sure whether Mr. Lockhart was present; upon reconsideration I am sure Mr. Park was present, but am not sure who the other member was; the decision of the Board was spoken to me from the Bench; I have no recollection of appearing again at the Land Court on the 15th February, 1886; as far as I can recollect Mr. Foster was examined by the Land Court on the 15th January, 1886; I was charged excessively by having to pay £25 for the improvements instead of £16; I cannot remember being present at the Court on the 15th February, 1886; I therefore cannot remember Mr. Surveyor Foster giving evidence on that occasion.

To Mr. Park:—In the matter of the decision read out by Mr. Park, I did not get any information from you as to how that decision was arrived at.

To the Board of Inquiry:—I have no recollection of the Board having informed me at the time of confirmation that the improvements would be appraised hereafter; I have not the slightest recollection of attending a meeting afterwards for the purpose of appraising the improvements; the fence put up on the southern boundary of my conditional purchase was put up by my son; the fence was not worth £18; there were about 38 chains of such fence; I consider the fence worth £12; the chimney was worth about £6; I have no objection to such valuation; I have been overcharged for the fencing along the southern boundary; I contend on behalf of all selectors that certificates of confirmation should be issued as speedily as possible, and bear the date of confirmation; for example, the date of confirmation of my selection by the Board was 15th January, 1886, but the certificate of confirmation was not issued till March, 1886; the first time I have made any of the charges referred to was in the year 1888.

HENRY E. P. THOMPSON.

Charge No. 5 (part 2)—Conditional purchase, 86-21, re A. W. G. Thompson's conditional purchase, 86-21.

As far as I can recollect the case was heard in the Land Court on the 27th April, 1886; Mr. Pearce and Mr. Park were sitting, and Mr. Oliver, I think, also had a seat on the Bench; my complaint is that Mr. Park objected to my appearing for my son on the grounds that my authority was not attested; my son was not present; I handed Mr. Park my authority; I think Mr. Park referred to Mr. Pearce; that if one man is allowed to appear without any authority another is also entitled to do so; I would not venture to say whether Mr. Park asked me if it was my son's signature or authority; Mr. Park said that there was no attestation, and that I could not appear on that authority; Mr. Park referred to Mr. Pearce saying, I think, "Do you know this signature," who answered in the affirmative, and I was allowed to appear for my son, and no injustice was done; Mr. Park knew me before; he did not know my son's signature; Mr. Park wanted some further evidence as to genuineness of signature; I do not complain of Mr. Park wishing some proof of my son's signature; at present I do not remember any cases where Mr. Park has allowed persons to appear at Court without authority, but will be able to state some to-morrow.

Charge

Charge No. 10.

This charge is A. W. G. Thompson's additional conditional purchase 86-21; before the time of application by my son, the land had been fenced on the west and north by two good and substantial fences, cattle and sheep proof; on his application being confirmed; the fencing was No. 2 fencing that he was allowed to put up; of the old fences one on the west side was allowed as his property by the Board, consisting of Mr. Park, &c.; that on the north was allowed to be my property as it adjoins my conditional purchase; the two old fences were not in accord with the Act; my son, thinking that the fences having been allowed by the Board, thought that they were good and substantial, and would comply with the fencing clause; the inspector reported that the fences were good and substantial ones; he put the fencing on the other sides with fencing under the Act; the Board decided that the fencing was not according to the Act, and recommended the selection to the Minister for Lands for forfeiture; the fencing on the north and west sides were not in accordance with the Act, having been erected prior to the Act of 1884; to the best of my recollection Mr. Park said he would recommend the conditional purchase for forfeiture; payment for half value of the fence on the north side to be paid to me was recommended by the Board on the same day as it was confirmed; in May, 1888, I appeared at the Land Board for the Bank of New South Wales for a certificate of conformity, and the Board decided the fencing is not all quite up to the standard of Class No. 2, prescribed by the Act, but otherwise the conditions appear to have been fulfilled; and such referred to the Minister; so far as my memory serves, the Board said they would refer as above to the Minister, and would recommend to the Minister for forfeiture; I there and then applied for an extension of time to complete the fencing; this was on 9th May, 1888; this application was made by the Bank in writing; I went down to the Bank, and wrote the application on the 9th May, 1888; the matter of dealing with this case was not then proceeded with; I think Mr. Park should have dealt with this application at once; the application came on for hearing on 4th July, 1888; I was present at the Court at that date; I got six months extension to complete fencing from the 9th May; the fencing was done in the time; I am not aware that I asked for six months extension from the 4th July; my complaint is that Mr. Park did not hear the case on the 9th May, the date of the application; I think the fourteen days notice, which is usual, should have been waived.

To Mr. Park:—I asked verbally for an extension of time before lunch, on 9th May; I did not present the application to the Board after lunch, but left it with Mr. Boot; I asked Mr. Boot to bring the matter before the Board during the sitting; I was not here the next day.

To Mr. Sly:—I asked Mr. Boot to forward the application; I did not mention the application to the Board afterwards; I did not ask the Board to deal with the application on 9th May; I did not ask Mr. Boot if he had forwarded the application to the Board; I did expect to be called when it was called on; there was an unpleasantness occurred between Mr. Park and myself on that date, 9th May; the inspector was sent out to inspect on the very day that the case was called on; I had to return with him to show him the fencing; I arrived at the Court about 11 o'clock a.m.; I pressed the case on; Mr. Park said, "You ought to have been here in time"; Mr. Park spoke to me in a discourteous manner; I was coming in about 9:30 on the 9th May, but returned with the inspector, Mr. Russom, to show him the fencing at his request; Mr. Russom said that Mr. Park said he would postpone the case till my return; I was delayed by the inspector, therefore Mr. Park said my application for extension of time was not before the Board; Mr. Park said I ought to have been here before, when, at that time, he knew that the delay occurred in consequence of his own action; Mr. Park knew, from what Mr. Russom had told him, that I had been delayed by him; I may have been on my son's selection on 8th May, 1888.

To Mr. Park:—I had a difference of opinion with you; I asked you twice to take my case on, and you said that you could not interrupt the proceedings of the Court; you said the case would come on in due course; I think it was that you would not interrupt the sequence of the cases.

To Mr. Sly:—Mr. Russom came out, on the 9th May, in the morning; I met him on the common, and he asked me to return with him, and show him my son's additional conditional purchase; he did not know where it was before that; I went round the fences with him; as far as I could judge he had not been out before to see them; I do not think I was in at the Land Court, on the 10th May; I have not my diary with me.

HENRY E. P. THOMPSON.

10th April, 1889.

There are two agents practising here that I know of, viz., Mr. Lakeman and Mr. Gibson; they have been practising ever since the Court opened, so far as I can recollect; I had an illness during last February (1889), and since then my memory has partly failed me; I am in error in the evidence I gave in reference to my son's conditional purchase in the matter of the dates; I was present at the Court on the 8th and 9th May; on looking at my diary I find that I met Mr. Russom on the 8th May, 1886, and not on the 9th May, as stated in my evidence of yesterday; Mr. Park was not rude to me on the 8th May, 1886; the conversation I related yesterday as having taken place with Mr. Russom occurred on the 8th May; in my diary there is no memorandum of Mr. Park's rudeness on the 8th May; I do not think my case was the first on the list on the 9th May; I would not be sure; there is no entry in my diary to the effect that the Board recommended my son's conditional purchase for forfeiture; I do not know whether I would have made an entry to that effect; there is a memo. in my diary to this effect: "Mr. Park as usual very coarse; I had great difficulty in getting case on; I had to press the matter on; Mr. Park objected to take the case on;" the interlineations were written in my diary at the same time as the ordinary writing; I told Mr. Park on the 9th May, that I had been delayed by the inspector; I believe there are lists drawn up of the cases to be heard on each day; I do not complain of the conduct of Mr. Park on the 8th of May in not taking my case on.

HENRY E. P. THOMPSON.

11th April, 1889.

Charge No. 11; re conditional purchase, No. 86-42; George Baillie.

I made the following statement, not from my own knowledge, but from the public papers and public talk; Geo. Baillie was a non-resident selector; there was no appearance for the applicant at the hearing of the case, either personally or by agent; he wrote a letter from Melbourne to the Board, stating that he could not attend, but that the necessary improvements were on the land; but the report of the Inspector would have shown to the contrary or very nearly so; the consideration of the case by the Board, was postponed for further report; my complaint is that, if in A. W. G. Thompson's case the decision of the Board was right, then in this case of G. Baillie's the procedure was wrong; I do consider that the matter for investigation is too indefinitely described on the notices to appear at Court; the proceedings at the Land Court in this district are not carried on as in a Law Court; the selector is placed in the witness box, and after his evidence is given he is then asked questions; I don't complain that while in the witness box that I am treated unfairly, but that the proceedings are reversed, and that the selector has to give his evidence first, instead of after the case has been stated; this is not a complaint against Mr. Park, but against the principle of taking evidence at the Land Courts; I have not received any recent notices from the Land Court; the indefiniteness of which I have complained; this is all that I have to say.

HENRY E. P. THOMPSON.

11th April, 1889.

George Sides states:—I am a selector in the district, about 60 miles from Hay, and 25 miles; I have been a selector about seven years in this district; before that I was on freehold land of my own in Victoria; the subject of my complaint occurred some time in 1888, while the case of my conditional purchase and conditional lease was being considered, that is about 4th April; Mr. Gibson had dealt with my land business, and that of my two sons, up to that time; when the case was called on, Mr. Gibson said, "I appear for the applicant," and I was present; I did not say anything then; something was said, and I merely breathed a noise, and did not speak, but Mr. Park said, "What have you got to do in this case? If you have anything to say go into the box;" no evidence was called by anybody while I was present; I did not ask to give any evidence; I only wanted to make a remark; Mr. Gibson explained to the Chairman what I wanted; he knew the case; when the cases of mine and my sons were called on for confirmation on 8th October, 1888, I handed in the authorities of my sons; my sons were not present; the authorities were signed by my sons; I said I was prepared to prove that I had seen my sons sign the authorities; afterward I went into the box at Mr. Park's request, and swore to such; the body and signature of the authorities were written in a back hand, but in the applications the signatures were written in a running hand; I was allowed to appear in these cases of my sons; the application was not proceeded with then; after hearing my evidence I was asked to bring in my son, John James Sides; on the 30th October, when my son came in, the case was dealt with; when I handed in the next authority of my other son, Hartrick Collins Sides, the signatures were compared, and the the Board was satisfied ; the Chairman asked me what guarantee had I that the boys existed ; I said that the fact of the signatures signed before the Land Agent, Mr. Gale, was sufficient to prove their existence ; Mr. Park said, " We take it for granted, and will give you the benefit of it ; " it was the manner in which it was said that I object to in regard to both my sons' cases, and also in my own ; Mr. Gibson and Mr. Lakeman were present.

11th April, 1889.

GEORGE SIDES.

There are many cases where the land has been applied for in this district, and not heard in the Land Court for at least twelve months ; my case is an example ; my sons put in their application on 12th January, 1888, also certain others of the name of Warren ; I put an application in of the 1st March, 1888 ; survey was ordered a few months afterwards ; confirmation took place a few months after that, from the 1st March to the 8th October ; the same thing occurred in Warren's cases ; in the case of Mary Lugsdin, applied for in the previous November, was not confirmed till about the 8th October ; the lands were not in an outlying locality, but about 25 miles from here ; there was no difficulty about the survey ; I could have done it myself ; the survey only took place just before confirmation ; this delay is a common occurrence ; those whom I have spoken to say that they do not expect their confirmation till at least twelve months after application.

11th April, 1889.

GEORGE SIDES.

To Mr. Park:—I remember when I presented the authorities ; I did not object at every step to the proceedings of the Court ; I made some suggestions ; I said I was willing to go into the box and swear to my sons' signatures ; I remember when I brought my sons in ; I did not ask you to take my sons' word ; I objected to my sons being sworn in the box ; Mr. Pearce said he could make a declaration ; my son was 21 years of age last birthday ; I objected to a boy going into the Court ; I did not use the word " young " ; I persist in stating that your manner was rude, but not in this case ; the time I complain of you being rude is when I wished to explain about the survey ; the other matters I complain of Mr. Park's arbitrary manner in not taking my evidence, but wishing my sons to go into the box and swear the evidence ; I have attended a few of the Land Courts in Hay ; I do not remember that you had objected to any others speaking who were represented by agents ; you said that if I had anything to say I must go in the witness-box ; I did not go into the box, as there was no box ; my agent did all that was necessary as well as I could have done myself ; I do not lodge any complaint against any individuals in the Service with respect to these delays, as I do not know who is responsible.

11th April, 1889.

GEORGE SIDES.

Robert Gibson: I am a land agent attending Land Courts at Hay ; I know George Sides, and was acting as agent for him and his sons ; I remember attending at the Court during the preliminary hearing of Sides' cases ; Mr. Park asked me to explain something during my evidence in Mr. Sides' case ; Mr. George Sides attempted to speak, when Mr. Park told him that he had his agent, who would answer the question ; I was capable of explaining the case ; there was no necessity for Mr. George Sides to interfere ; I appear for a good many selectors at the Land Court ; I have been attending the Land Courts since the Act came into force ; I have had no reason to complain of Mr. Park's manner during that time ; I think the cross-examination in certain cases was carried too minutely, which was not done so in other cases ; I think it did injustice in many cases ; I do not consider that the Board had sufficient grounds for many of their decisions ; I have two brothers, both selectors, who made applications under the present Act—Mr. G. Gibson and Jas. R. Gibson ; Mr. Lakeman appeared for them ; the cases were confirmed in July, 1886 ; when the Inspector visited the ground in December they were both absent ; in one case, W. G. Gibson, the Chairman appeared satisfied, and no witnesses were called ; the fencing was almost completed, and other improvements of the total value of about £400 were on the ground ; there was a ring fence around the selection ; in the other case, Jas. R. Gibson's, he was cross-examined as to his residence ; he admitted that for six months during his residence he had bought provisions from his father ; the Board seemed to think that the residence had not been fulfilled, as the two houses were so close together, being only one chain apart ; the Board reported to the Minister that the residence had not been fulfilled ; Mr. Lakeman interviewed the Minister, and got the case upheld to date ; with the exception of the case of Mr. Sides, to whom I think he spoke particularly sharp, I am of opinion that within the last twelve months, the manner of Mr. Park has been unobjectionable ; as far as I know, Mr. Park has behaved in a proper manner to any legal gentleman appearing at the Land Court ; when a selector, under the old Act, has dealings with the Land Court, and is applying for land under the new Act, Mr. Park compels them to produce their certificates of conformity, which are sometimes mortgaged to the Banks, and are then not readily obtainable ; such information could be obtained in the Lands Office ; I do not think the production of these certificates of conformity serve any practical purpose ; the feeling among selectors has been against Mr. Park in this district ; the general complaint appears to be that Mr. Park was specially severe on bona fide selectors, and not so with others ; it was considered, that if a selector obtained his meals in his parents' house, his selection was forfeited for non-residence ; I think that a too strict interpretation has been put upon the residence clause, and the inquiry too minute ; it is within twelve months that the cases occurred that made the selectors agitate ; it is not the general opinion that Mr. Park favours the squatter as against the selector ; I consider that the bona fides should be taken prior to residence ; that the dummy selector is the best resident ; I think there are dummy selectors in this district ; I never heard that any dummy had been punished in this district, further than the forfeiture of his selection ; during the last twelve months, if the Survey Department had the cases ready, the Chairman was willing to take the cases for hearing ; I think the Survey Department are anxious to get the surveys completed ; as they are at present very scattered, there may be delays caused by the excessive travelling ; personally I get on very well with Mr. Park, and I think justice is administered to all ; previous to the last twelve months I have heard selectors addressed in a sharp manner verging on rudeness, and distinct from Mr. Park's manner when addressing squatters.

To Mr. Thompson: At the first time of practising I was asked by Mr. Park to produce my authorities when appearing for selectors, but when I became a recognised professional land agent, I was not so asked.

To Mr. Sly:—The discrepancies in the rents of leases of the same description of country are great ; inferior country is sometimes rated higher than better country ; conditional lease rents are considerably higher than pastoral leases ; I don't think there is much difference in the quality of the two classes of land mentioned ; I think the leasehold areas are if anything better land ; I think sometimes squatters were allowed greater latitude before the last twelve months than a selector before the Board ; that is in his manner of treating them, but not in his decisions.

To Mr. Park:—There is very little difference in the quality of the land in this district ; there is a difference between the Roly Poly plain and the grass plain ; I think a Roly plain not worth more than 1d. per acre a good grass plain at 3½d. per acre ; good salt bush or cotton bush plain I think worth about 3d. per acre.

11th April, 1889.

ROBERT GIBSON.

Joseph Ede Pearce:—I am the Police Magistrate at Hay, and member of the Local Land Board Hay ; I was present on the Land Board when George Sides presented the authority from his son ; Mr. Park doubted the genuineness of the signature owing the dissimilarity of the writing ; I saw the writing and I first thought they were not by the same writer, but after hearing Mr. Sides I did think so, as I have known him for years and believe his word ; Mr. Sides was asked to give evidence ; I was satisfied that the signature was genuine from my knowledge of Mr. Sides' character, but could not object to Mr. Park requiring further evidence ; Mr. Park, I think, thought the signature a forgery, and wished Mr. Sides' son called to verify it ; I don't think there was anything improper in Mr. Park's conduct in getting the son in on a subsequent date to swear to the signature ; the son wrote on a separate piece of paper an exact copy of the signature on the authority presented to the father ; I have known Mr. Sides a very long time, and believe his word, I have known him longer than Mr. Park ; I think Mr. Park under the circumstances was right in calling the son, thinking as he did that the signature was a forgery ; when Mr. Gibson appeared for Mr. Sides, and Mr. Sides interrupted, Mr. Park told him that he was represented by an agent, Mr. Park's manner was brusque, it is so naturally ; I have been sitting on the Land Board with Mr. Park a long while, and I have never known him to exhibit any favouritism towards any one ; there have been times when I would not have spoken to a witness as Mr. Park had done, but Mr. Park could uphold the dignity of the Court and I could not ; I don't think there is a more able Chairman in the Colony than Mr. Park ; I think Mr. Park a most conscientious man, who deals justly with those who come before him whether rich or poor.

JOSEPH EDE PEARCE.

Ferdinand

Ferdinand Habermann states:—I am a selector residing about 18 miles from Hay, at Benduck; I have been seven years a selector, before that I was a farmer in Victoria, and I am an engineer, a mechanical one; when I made my application Mr. Park was siding with Mr. Ayre, the lessee of the run against me; I made my selection in 1882; Mr. Park sided with Mr. Ayre, and against me from 1887 to now; I think my industry should have been nursed; I made application for a special lease of some land without which my selection was of no use; instead of granting me 320 acres, Mr. Park wanted to give me only 100 acres; Mr. Pearce wanted to grant me the full complement; Mr. Pearce told me so within five minutes after the giving of the decision; I retract the foregoing statement; Mr. Pearce told me to appeal, I saw him in the Board-room, we were alone, he advised me to appeal; he told me he differed from Mr. Park in the decision; in my opinion Mr. Park wanted to favour Mr. Ayre; the day before the Land Board was held, Mr. Park went out with Mr. Ayre to show him the ground; I don't think he had any other business with him; he should have come to me and asked me to show him the land; it was I who wanted the land, not Mr. Ayre; about 160 acres was approved by the Board; I made an appeal; the Board read out their decision to me. [The decision now read out (being the decision signed by the Board does not mention an area, but refers to the tracing showing 200 acres) by the Chairman of the Board of Inquiry]; the case was reopened; I complained to Mr. Park, on May the 18th, that the area granted did not include the dam, and the case was reopened; it is probable that I came in about eleven days after, when the case was reopened; they must have read out a decision; I appealed, and got my rent reduced one-half; I complain that Mr. Park reduced my land from 320 acres to 100 acres, and charged me £30 a year rent; I have laid out £4,000 on my property; I think from the foregoing facts that Mr. Park was favouring the lessee; I make no charge against Mr. Park; I was led into this; I did not come voluntarily; they who knew my case caught hold of me in the street, and brought me here; I did not sign the petition against Mr. Park; I have no other complaint to make; I do not think Mr. Park spoke civilly to me; he spoke harshly; if I had been a prisoner in the dock I could not have been asked more searching questions; his manner when he spoke to me now was different to that in the Land Court.

To Mr. Thompson:—When you met me you said, "Now we have got you;" I cannot say what conversation Mr. Park and Mr. Ayre had when they visited the land; they saw me, but I was not with them; I was not within a quarter of a mile of them.

To Mr. Park:—I saw you with Mr. Ayre; I did not see you with anyone else; I saw you on the 24th May, the Queen's birthday; I did not see you with Mr. Ayre on any other occasion; it might have been a shooting party; I heard firing; I think you went out to see land, which you were to decide upon next day, and not only to shoot game; I saw you on another occasion.

To Mr. Sly:—I only surmised Mr. Park had another object in going to visit the ground.

To Mr. Park:—You questioned me very closely about the land; I told you 3 chains was not too wide to lay the piping; I had spent about £150 on the special lease for dam, a portable engine on the land; my plant is worth £2,000; it is on the special lease; the improvements were there when you saw me on the 24th May.

F. HABERMANN.

12th April, 1889.

Joseph Ede Pearce makes the following voluntary statement, in Habermann's case:—I disagreed with Mr. Park in his decision, and I said so in open Court; Mr. Park told me I had made a mistake, and I wrote him a letter of apology afterwards; after Mr. Park had left the Bench he retired to the consulting-room, and I left, passing through the Court, when Mr. Habermann addressed me, saying, "The piece you gave me is of no use;" I think this was on the occasion of the second hearing; at the final decision he said the rent was too high, and he could not pay it, and I told him his only course was to appeal; I might have said afterwards that I disagreed with Mr. Park's decision; I might have said, "If I were in your place, I would appeal."

JOSEPH EDE PEARCE.

Allan Lakeman states:—I am one of the Members for the district; I am a land agent; I have appeared before Mr. Park for the selectors on many occasions; I was asked to appear at this inquiry by the selectors; in September, 1886, there was a public meeting held at Hillston; this was the first occasion that any public action was taken by the selectors; re the action of the Board, it was thought that the selectors were not treated fairly by the Board; I thought at the time that they were not fairly treated; I was present at the meeting; the 1st resolution was, "That this meeting has no confidence in the administration of the Land Board business at Hillston, as shown in certain cases recently heard, wherein it has appeared that the Board, which should be regulated by strict adherence to impartiality, constitutes itself at once judge and prosecutor, by the summoning of witnesses evidently upon information conveyed in an unofficial and irresponsible form"; 2nd resolution, "That this meeting views with alarm the delay in dealing with homestead leases, and expresses an opinion that each case should, as it occurs, be finally dealt with on its own merits"; 3rd resolution, "That, as from the delay at present on the Board's part, the applicants will not get their land until another season is past, this meeting expresses its entire approval of the principle that each applicant should, unless for good reasons to the contrary, appear before the Board for examination, if necessary, and that it regrets that while this course was insisted on in connection with the daughters of certain selectors, it was not adopted by the Board in respect of selections taken up on stations by relatives of the owners or managers"; the meeting was called, not by advertisement, but by a bellman; there were more than fifty people present, townspeople and selectors; that the Land Board, in a case of Laird's, I think, witnesses were summoned by the Land Board's own direction; the inspector should give all the evidence necessary, and I think he should inform the Chairman what witnesses should be called, and that the Chairman should not summon any person he may know that could give any evidence; he should not know officially anything about a case except through his officers; if the witnesses spoke the truth in the matter of residence, the ends of justice would be served by their evidence; I think that it is the officer's duty to suggest the names of witnesses to the Chairman, and not the Chairman to suggest witnesses to the officer; I do not think that Mr. Park gave his decisions on evidence not stated in open Court, but that he called evidence to disprove residence; I do not think that Mr. Park should suggest the names of witnesses to be called, such is the duty of a prosecutor; I think that the report of the Inspector, who should be a practical man, should be sufficient evidence to a person's residence; in Laird's case, I was at the time of opinion that the name of a certain witness was suggested by someone not an officer of the Department; I am of opinion that the Board was unnecessarily inquisitorial in their examinations; I think in some cases the selectors said certain things that they did not intend to, and that the Board drew a wrong conclusion from the evidence; my interests are with the selector; the general charge is that the selectors were treated unfairly; I was of that opinion at the time; I don't think that the complaints have been made so frequently of late; I have been better pleased with the decisions of the Board within the last twelve months; the Board have not been so inquisitorial within the last twelve months, but they have to a certain extent; 2nd resolution.—I don't think this bears so much upon the Land Board, who were not to blame so much; 3rd resolution.—There was an unwritten law that the Board would like to see an applicant once; the meeting fell in with this action and thought it right; the daughters of a selector were required to come in during the wet weather; the son of a squatter was not so required; I think the Court is too red-tapey; I think they stand too much upon form, that matters could be more expeditiously pushed on by the Board; I complain of the general conduct of the Board in the Court; instead of dealing with the case off hand, they go through a lot of forms, and entries have to be made; I think they take too long, that the Chairman could deal with them in half the time, but, not being a Chairman, I do not know how the forms should be curtailed; the inquiry takes too long, there is too much form and too many irrelevant questions asked; when cases are referred to the Board under section 20, too many questions are asked by the Board, irrelevant questions and injustice had been done in so doing; conditional purchase 81-101 and conditional purchase 81-102: Hay,—Lang's cases (2)—I was present in Court and thought injustice was done; Gibson's cases were a similar inquiry to those under the 20th section; I cannot tell any recent inquiry under the 20th section; Gibson's cases—Irrelevant questions were asked and caused injustice, and, also, there were too many questions; I know selectors dread coming before the Court; I don't think the question asked Jas. R. Gibson by the Board as to why he built his house where he did, should have been asked; Mr. T. W. Bennett gave evidence, and I asked him several questions; the Board asked him whether he was a relation of Gibson's; in my opinion the questions asked these people are unnecessarily harsh and inquisitorial; I think that a searching inquiry is never burked, but that it should be made in a proper manner; I complain of the last question asked the witness in Jas. R. Gibson's case; I quote cases in which I differed with the decisions of the Board; John Savage's case—there was a miscarriage of Justice; that the evidence brought forward by John Savage was not sufficient to warrant the Board passing the selection; I was present; conditional purchase 82-146, Hay—Roach—was passed, and should not have been;

been ; they were not bona fide ; they were squatters' dummies ; I think the evidence given did not warrant the Board passing the applications ; the residence was complete ; I think dummies have been passed everywhere in the Colony ; I do not blame the Board, as the evidence produced was satisfactory, but in the cases quoted the evidence did not warrant the passing ; Geo. Baillie, the son of the squatter on whose run the selection was taken up—The Board gave special facilities to the applicant in postponing the case, as, by the Inspector's report, the improvements were not complete ; the applicants reported that the improvements were completed, and asked for a postponement ; it may have been proper conduct by the Board under the circumstances, but I do not think so ; J. Allen's case ; conditional purchase S6-46, Hay—In this case I think the decision was harsh under the evidence, viz., to have the conditional purchase recommended for forfeiture ; in Prendergast's case I think remarks made by the Board were uncalled for ; there was a letter from the father to the Member for the district, where the selection was referred to as ours or mine, I think ; I think it was this letter that caused the selection to be forfeited ; what I specially complain of is that the old Act conditional purchase cases are unnecessarily delayed here, and are kept with the Board for inquiry in open Court ; when the Inspector reports fulfilment of conditions, instead of being sent on to Sydney for final action, the securities have been shaken, and the banks will not advance money until the certificates of conformity have been issued, which causes great delay and loss of time ; this is caused by the action of the Land Board keeping the papers back for inquiry that should go on for approval ; the last time I found fault with Mr. Park's manner was in the case of George Sides ; his manner was brusque ; Mr. Park has during the last twelve months, in my opinion, tried to do his duty.

To Mr. Park :—I was a speaker at the meeting at Hillston, and an organizer of it ; I was not a Member of Parliament at that time ; it was not an electioneering scheme ; I had put up a year before that for a Member of Parliament, but was rejected ; I was elected on the next occasion ; I would consider the resolution passed at that meeting right in regard to the cases mentioned, even at this time ; Laird's case was the salient case ; I was agent for Laird.

Question :—Do you remember my having to reprimand you for remarking on the Board's decision in Laird's case ?
Answer :—I think it was in Laird's case ; I think you summoned a witness in Laird's case ; a constable was called in one case—I think Laird's case—and I do not think that was proper ; his evidence rather favoured Laird's case ; this is the only case where you summoned a witness of your own ; I think it is a miscarriage of justice to forfeit Laird's, but it was not in consequence of the constable's evidence, but by the evidence of another witness, also called by the Board ; the witness I complain of was the witness called by the Board ; not suggested by the Inspector ; I think you were acting in favour of the squatter (Brush) by recommending the forfeiture of Laird's case ; they were old enemies, and there was revenge in the question ; I do not think you knew anything of the ill-feeling between Laird and the squatter (Mr. Brush) ; I cannot quote a case where you have pushed a witness too far in examination, but I have felt it often ; you have often helped a witness who was stupid ; you have gone out of your way in many instances to facilitate them getting their land ; I have no animus against Mr. Wright, a member of the Board, at Hillston ; I think he being biassed in favour of a squatter would tend to influence you as it would anyone against the selectors.

Was there not a petition signed after the meeting referred to equally by squatter and selector, in favour of retaining the services of Mr. Wright as a member of the Land Board ? I do not know of any such petition, but I did see in the paper a notice to the effect ; it was got up by his squatter friends, I believe ; the selector's daughter that I referred to as being brought here in the wet was Miss Cooper, and the squatter's son was Mr. Brewer ; I do not think Mr. Sides' manner very irritating and provoking ; I do not think he was wasting your time in the Court ; I did not bring, nor did any of my friends bring any evidence in Savage's or Roach's cases, to the effect that they were dummies ; we did not help you ; those who murmured at the decisions, may possibly have known that the decisions were wrong ; I do not think any miscarriage of justice occurred in Baillie's case ; the conditional purchase has since been forfeited ; I understand that the Inspector did not make his report till the proper time had expired ; in Prendergast's case, the term family selection was used for the first time to my knowledge.

Question :—Did we not allow these selections at the first inquiry ?
Answer :—Yes ; a letter was then brought into the question, and the case was then reopened, and from the evidence elicited in consequence of the letter, these conditional purchases were refused ; I don't think the Board was justified in reversing the first decisions on the strength of the evidence disclosed by the letter ; I don't think that if it had been a squatter instead of a selector, I would have been justified in causing the production of the letter, and acting on it ; I think that as long as the Board have the report of the Inspector, that there is no necessity to delay the issue of the certificate of conformity for hearing at the open Court ; I do not think we were so satisfied with your conduct during the first part of your tenure as with the latter part ; I think that the position of the Chairman of the Local Land Board is a difficult and invidious one ; it is defenceless, inasmuch as you cannot enter into a controversy through the press with an antagonist or anyone, till the Minister orders or directs inquiry ; I have never attacked you, either through the press or privately ; the following is a copy of the shorthand writers report of Mr. Lakeman's remarks before the Appeal Court :—I consider that any Board who would recommend, as in Moritz Hertzell's case, forfeiture on the strength of an Inspector's report that there were £316 of improvements on the land when £320 were required, was incompetent or corrupt ; the report of the shorthand writer of the proceeding in Appeal in Hertzell's case is correct ; I did not see that the improvements were put on after the man's death, and long after the time in which they should have been effected ; I meant the Board and not the Chairman, in my remarks before the Court of Appeal as to the incompetency and corruption ; I do not see how a Board could have come to the decision they did, if they were not biassed in some way ; I looked through the papers, and I thought that the improvements were put on at the proper time ; I based my remarks on this case, Louis Hertzell's, and on that alone ; I do not know whether I came to my decision by mistake, or whether you came to your decision by mistake ; by corruption I mean favouritism, and not the taking of a bribe ; I think that case would show incompetency ; I do not think the Board and Chairman in the district are incompetent.

ALLAN LAKEMAN.

Robert Gibson states :—I have to complain of the difficulty one has to get information in this office on any matter ; if I go into the Survey and Lands Office, I see that every facility is given to applicants for information ; but it is not so in the Land Board Office ; in the case of Alexander Brown, who died before the five years of residence had been completed (it had six months to run), I wanted to know, as the land was to be sold, and it was a forced sale, particulars as to the Inspector's reports, &c., as I intended to, perhaps, bid for it myself ; I asked for the papers from Mr. Davies ; he looked up the papers, but would not let me see them ; but referred me to Mr. Park ; I saw Mr. Park, who said he could not give me the information desired, because I would then have an unfair advantage over other members of the public, but I thought that it was information that all of the public should know ; he told me I might telegraph to the Under Secretary and get his authority, but, as the sale was coming off in an hour, that was impossible ; I think such information should be supplied by the Clerks-in-charge to all the members of the public ; the Sheriff's officer had some information, I believe, as he told me that the purchaser would not have to reside, but that was all ; when I want to obtain information for selectors, I have to write a letter here asking for information that could be supplied in a few minutes if the papers were in the office ; I do not get a reply on the average for from two to three weeks ; in the case of Hector Matheson, a homestead lessee, I required information, and, with a neighbour, I went into the office about five or six weeks ago ; I saw Mr. Atterbury, who told me that I would have to make application in writing and I did so, and did not get the information for about three weeks ; there was no attempt to find the papers ; I would rather not come to this office for information, although, in the course of business, I have to do so ; I have preferred to look over plans in the Survey Office which I should be able to get quicker from the Land Board Office ; I have only interviewed Mr. Park personally on the one occasion, which I referred to on official matters, and asked for information ; I think the information should be given verbally ; I notice the difference in the facilities given to those requiring information at the Survey Office and the Land Board Office ; I applied, as agent of J. G. Vagg, for information re improvements within the last five weeks ; Vagg was with me in the office, and would like to have got the information at the time ; I saw Mr. Atterbury on that occasion, and he told me to make written application ; I do not think justice was done in the case of the Benerembah stock route ; the selectors petitioned for a stock route, as they had not direct route to the railway sidings ; it was considered by the Land Board ; an alternative route was proposed by the Inspector, though 7 miles longer going to Darlington ; the selectors pointed out that the Benerembah route was a better one ; they really only wanted a road 3 or 5 chains wide, but applied for a stock route in error ; the case came on three times before the Board ; the road they have to go when wishing to reach the railway line is to Darlington, whereas, if they were given the other route, they would have 7 miles less to travel ; so much is the Benerembah route preferred that one selector actually walked into Benerembah rather rather than go to Darlington; they only wanted a road of access to the Benerembah railway siding; the manager of the station gave evidence that the pine timber which the selectors made so much of was of no value, whereas since that time a saw-mill has been started; the District Surveyor, who reported upon a deviation of the road at the back part, had no evidence to give in the matter of access to the railway siding; it has been asked why selectors do not make more charges against dummies when they know them to be so, but the expenses are too great; in one case a complaint was made against one, Claus Ruinp, and the expense incurred was sufficient to debar anyone else attempting such a thing again; it caused the man who laid the charge over £40, and he won his case; it would have cost him over £100 if he had lost; the case lasted too long, nearly eleven days, and cost in witnesses' expenses on both sides too great an amount; this is not a charge against the Land Board, but only to show the reason why more complaints are not made against those who are known to be dummies; re Family Selections—I went into this matter in my former evidence; I do not know of any cases in this district where children have transferred their selections to their parents; re Allen and Baillie's cases—I was present in the Court when they were heard; re John Allen's case—I think the decision of the Board was hard on Allen in stating that the condition of residence had not been fulfilled, and, in Baillie's case, that the Inspector should have been called to give his evidence.

To Mr. Sly:—I do not think as a rule that the Board would be doing wrong in postponing a case, when such postponement was applied for by the selectors; in Allen's case, Allen was present; he was cross-examined severely, and the Board considered that the residence was not properly complied with; Allen, for the first six months, took his breakfast and tea with his brother-in-law; if such decisions were upheld that nine out of any ten in this district would be forfeited; I think that from the evidence given in Allen's case that the Board should have considered the residence fulfilled; he did not apply for a postponement; I think Baillie was given a chance to fulfil his conditions by giving him a postponement, but Allen was not given a chance; he, Allen, did not apply for a postponement; I think the postponement given to Baillie was an equivalent to an extension of time to complete fencing; Baillie with this postponement could have completed his fencing conditions.

To Mr. Park:—I recognise the difference between that this is an administrative office, and the survey office an executive one; in one, the information is complete; in this office, the case is not complete, and in the Lands Office the Land Agent is there for the purpose of giving information; I could not say whether the papers of Hector Matheson's homestead lease were in the office when I applied for information; I do not know that in the inquiry office in Sydney that applications are made in writing, and the information given on the next day; Mr. Atterbury told me to write out the application for the information required; I do not think that in family selections the children transfer to their parents; it is not a common case now but it used to be for family selections to be transferred to the one alienee.

Re the Benerembah stock route.

It came out in evidence that only ten or twelve different selectors ever used the stock route; also that Grey, one of these selectors, dealt with the stores in Hay, and he took away some parcels in the train; I remember one person, another selector, who had a flower garden, and wished a road to take the flowers to the railway station; Mr. Smythe, the manager of the station, gave evidence that the saw-mill had been started, but it was found that the timber was not of sufficient value, and the saw-mill was abandoned; the selectors had only gone through the run a few times; I do not know what caused the gates to be locked; the trucking-yards at the siding at Benerembah were on private property; the selectors offered to make others, or would apply to the Government to purchase the trucking-yards; I remember that papers from the Railway Department were put in, in which it was stated that the only reason why the siding was made there was for the purpose of obtaining the wool clip of the holding for revenue purposes; the officials all reported against the route; the Stock Inspector was one who reported against the route to Benerembah; the difference in the lengths of the rival stock routes was about 7 miles.

To Mr. Sly:—I was at the meeting in Hillston in 1886, re the administration of the Land Act; I remember R. W. Stewart appearing at the Land Courts in Hillston; Mr. Stewart generally represented the pastoral lessees and homestead lessees at the Court; I recollect a case where Mr. Stewart represented the lessees of Mossziel Holding in 1886; he had an authority and handed it in on a former occasion; he was asked for his authority, and he told the Board that he had handed it up already; Mr. Park spoke to him very roughly, saying to him "Sit down"; Mr. Stewart was so indignant that he left the Court; Mr. Park made the remark from the Bench; while Mr. Park was trying to find the previous authority, and Mr. Stewart began to address the Bench; Mr. Park then told him to sit down; this, with other things, was the cause of the public meeting being held; the selectors would sooner do anything than appear before the Land Board; the reasons stated by them were that Mr. Park behaved to them in a harsh manner that unless absolutely necessary they would not be present; Mr. Park's manner has made more work for the Land Agents; I think it was the administration and not the law that the selectors were more afraid of; they knew the law when they took the land up.

To Mr. Park:—I opened the Land Act and showed Mr. Stewart a clause re the duties of agents, and he commenced to read it out in Court; he said enough to show that it was his intention to argue the point with the Bench as to his right to address the Bench without producing an authority.

To Mr. Sly:—This information is given in the interests of the Free Selectors Association, and not as an agent for Mr. R. W. Stewart; I have not seen any difficulty lately in the Courts with agents appearing for selectors, but selectors appearing for each other have to produce authorities.

To Mr. Park: Re the selector who had a flower garden, the selector thought he could find a market for them in Hay, and he intended going into cultivation, viz., hay-growing, and he looked upon the town of Hay as his natural market.

ROBERT GIBSON.

17th April, 1889.

Abner Haylock states:—I am a selector and grazier residing at Gunbar; I am desirous of giving evidence before this Board of several complaints; I have been a selector in Gunbar, nearly eleven years before that I was in Victoria as grazier and farmer; in regard to the value of a tank I gave evidence before the Board two or three years ago in Peter Cameron's conditional purchase; the tank was put down by the lessees of Gunbar Station on my pre-emptive lease; the plaintiff in this case was John Harris, whose lease adjoined mine, and the tank was put between them, and wrote to the lessee of Gunbar pointing out that the tank had been put down by their employee; the Peter Cameron was the employee, and he lodged an application for the land, as though the improvements were not of a greater value than £40; Harris was on oath and said the tank was worth £60, and I said it was worth £70; I consider the excavation worth 1s. per yard; Cameron was sworn, and said that he gave Armstrong Brothers, the lessees of Gunbar Holding, £45 for the tank, and he said that I wrote him an insulting letter re taking up the land; I stood up and told the Chairman in a respectful manner that I had a copy of that letter at home, and he said, "Sit down," in a rude manner; I complain of his rudeness since that time; Cameron's case came on for hearing last May, and was forfeited by Mr. Park; Mr. Harris had lodged a complaint; I think it should have been forfeited in the first instance; I complain that, at the time Cameron took up the land, that there was more than £40 worth of improvements on it; I think the Board should have assessed the tank at about £60, and not £45, as the balance of evidence was in favour of the first amount being taken; at that time tanks could not be excavated for less than 1s. per yard; in Roger Hargreaves' case, I claim that he should have paid for the improvements to me, and not to the Crown, as they were my improvements; Roger Hargreaves selected land originally held by me as a prelease; the tank was mine, and was worth about £60, 1,200 yards of excavation besides drains; before the new Act came into force I held five pre-emptive leases, and I improved them; of course I could not convert more than two of them into conditional leases; I had a pre-emptive lease of the land in question on the 31st December, 1884; I did not convert it into a conditional lease; I applied for it as an improvement purchase; under similar conditions I appealed to the Minister in another case, and was paid for the improvements; the land had been selected by Roger Hargreaves; the house had been built by Gannon; the case was heard on 21st December, 1886; the hut was appraised at £80; I complain that Hargreaves should have been compelled to pay me for the house on the first occasion when the house was on the ground; after hearing the decision I cannot complain, and withdraw my charge in this last case.

Stephen

Stephen Thorncroft states:—I am a constable stationed in Hay, but formerly at Hillston; I was never a selector; I had an opportunity while in Hillston from the first sitting of the Land Board in judging of the character of Mr. Park in acting as Chairman; I do consider that he was very courteous to all, but at times he might have been a little exact in obtaining evidence as to residence: I had an opportunity of knowing who were bona fide men, having been living among them for years, and Mr. Park would not; Mr. Park appears to me to treat all parties alike; he did not favour one party against another; he was very painstaking and very exact; persons not knowing who were bona fide men and who were not might think that the questions were unnecessary; I do not think any one could complain of Mr. Park's manner; I have had nearly ten years' experience in court matters; I attended officially every day in Hillston while the Land Board sat; I was at Hillston and attended the Courts from the first one held until I left; I attended officially in the morning and sometimes in the afternoon privately; one day there was an altercation in Court in which a person named Carroll appeared, and I think he was very rude to the Bench, and was put out, I think quite justly; he was removed by the Sergeant of Police; I do not remember any cases of uncalled for rudeness on the part of Mr. Park to selectors; I think that selectors are of opinion that if they are bona fide that asking them too many questions is rudeness; I make this statement voluntarily; I was not asked by anyone to appear; I knew of the inquiry; I was asked to give evidence in the case by an outside party altogether, and not by Mr. Park or anyone interested in the inquiry.

STEPHEN THORNCROFT.

John Hanlon states:—I reside at Boorooban; I am a selector, and live on my selection; I have been a selector in the Murray district since the 1861 Act; this is my second selection; I am unprepared, owing to the short notice, to give evidence I would have liked; I took up land on the 24th September, 1885; it was first heard in Court and approved on 19th January, 1886; it was surveyed on 20th March, 1886, and was not confirmed till 23rd December, 1886; I only complain of the delay in not confirming my conditional purchase till fifteen months after application; I have known people come here with perhaps £2,000 or £3,000, and have gone away after seeing the manner the bona fide selectors have been treated by the Chairman of the Land Board; I complain of the Chairman in valuing the selectors' land at a higher rental than the leasehold land held by the squatter; in Florence Porter's case the land was assessed at 5d. per acre, while the pastoral lessees' land adjoining was assessed at 2½d. and 2d.; in Peter Butterworth's case and Mary Porter's the land was assessed at 5d. and the pastoral lessees' land at 3d. or 3½d. per acre; I complain that the selectors' land is assessed at too high a rental, and the pastoral lessees only a fair rental; the squatter takes the best land, the selector takes the refuse; in the cases I mentioned the selector's land was no better than the land held by the squatter; the selector took the best of the land that was left; the instances I refer to are fair samples of a number; I complain of Mr. Park's manner—his rudeness in treating selectors, and I know cases where people arriving here with £2,000 to £3,000 to take up selections, have gone away on seeing the abrupt manner in which the selectors were received; the delay is an important matter.

EXHIBITS TO No. 143.

1 October, 1888.

MEMO.—My arrival at this office for the purpose of taking up the duties of Clerk-in-charge, to which position I have recently been appointed is hereby reported.

I take the opportunity of asking for Mr. Chairman Park's kind consideration in the performance of my new duties, and tendering in return my most loyal service.

Mr. Chairman Park.

B. J. ATTERBURY.

(B.)

Hay, 5 November, 1888.

Dear Sir,

I have perused Mr. Atterbury's letter to you, of the 31st ultimo.

Upon the occasion referred to, I confined my remarks to Mr. Atterbury personally, and made no reference to other officers of your Department.

Mr. Atterbury had sent me a verbal message, which seemed to me studiously impertinent. Had the same message come from any other officer of the Department, I should not have thought an affront was intended, but Mr. Atterbury, without the slightest provocation, grossly insulted me in the Record, in a letter signed "The Growler." I thought he intended another insult, and went for him.

I regret that I should have manifested an ebullition of temper in an office, in your Department, and will take care that it does not occur again. If Mr. Atterbury wishes to say anything to me about the advice I gave, viz., to try and master the details of his office, and not to waste his time writing anonymous lampoons upon the residents of Hay, he will always be able to find me at my office, between the hours of 9.30 a.m. and 1.30 p.m. and 2.30 p.m. and 6.30 p.m.

I have, &amp;c.,

THOMAS ROBERTSON.

A. J. Park, Esq., Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

To be connected to Mr. Atterbury's letter to me of 31st October, and registered. I understand Mr. Atterbury to state he was not the author of any anonymous local press matter. The matter appears to be more of a personal quarrel than an insult offered to an official. Perhaps Mr. Atterbury would like to make some explanation.—A.J.P., Hay, 5/11/88.

This letter shows a studious disregard for the lines of absolute truth. The visit which caused my complaint was on a purely business matter, and no reference was made by Mr. Robertson to anything which was not official. In any case Mr. Robertson should know that a public office, in office hours, is not the place for the display of what is admitted by him to be an ebullition of temper respecting any private matter in which he may feel aggrieved. Any person who possesses so little control over himself should be the last to attempt to advise another, who, in that respect at least, has shown himself to be much Mr. Robertson's superior. However, as Mr. Robertson has apologised and promised that the cause of complaint shall not occur again, the matter may be allowed to drop, though it is respectfully submitted that copies of the Chairman's minute and my reply thereto should be sent to that gentleman.—B.J.A., 5/11/88.

Mr. Robertson has expressed his regret at the occurrence, and the matter may now be regarded as a by-gone.—A.J.P., Hay, 5/11/88.

[Enclosure.]

Sir,

Local Land Board, Hay, 31 October, 1888.

I regret to inform you that I was this morning subjected to gross insults by Mr. T. Robertson, solicitor, of this town.

The facts of the matter are as follows: Yesterday Mr. Robertson came in with a small tracing, and desired to know whether a road marked thereon was proclaimed.

I at once sent the sketch to the District Surveyor, who sent it back with an intimation to the effect that the information supplied was insufficient to enable him to answer the query; Mr. Robertson having stated that he desired the information as soon as possible, I sent the District Surveyor's memo. to him.

He returned it with a memo., and I forwarded the whole thing again to the District Surveyor.

Mr. Broughton this morning informed me personally that he thought it would be impossible to trace the matter.

A young man came in soon afterwards to know if anything had been done. I told him how the thing stood, and was at some pains to make myself clear. In a little while Mr. Robertson and a gentleman whom I believe to be the manager or lessee of Howlong, came in, and without a word of warning the former gentleman commenced a tirade of abuse and insults, in which he charged me with having "come to Hay to show them such a lot," but that I was "ignorant," "unfit for my position," and asked "was there not a man in the office who had some brains, to whom they could speak, instead of a fellow like me." This was inter alia.

I

I listened in perfect silence, and when Mr. Robertson had concluded, asked him to "be good enough to see the District Surveyor, who had the matter in hand."

I may add, that privately, I am totally unacquainted with Mr. Robertson, and that when he has been at the office for information I have always treated him, as I do other members of the public, with the greatest courtesy.

I have the honor to ask for your protection against such conduct as that complained of.

The Chairman, Hay.

BASIL J. ATTERBURY,
Clerk-in-charge.

Mr. Robertson invited to explain, and copies sent.—A.J.P., Hay, 1/11/88.

Dear Sir,

The word confirmed in the fourth line of my letter to you to-day should be confined. Please kindly alter the one for me. I did not notice the mistake until I was reading over the copy of the letter in my letter-book.

A. J. Park, Esq., Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

Hay, 5 November, 1888.
I am, &c.,
THOMAS ROBERTSON.

Will Mr. Davies be good enough to state what he heard during Mr. Robertson's visit to me this morning.—B.J.A., 31/10/88.

I was in the large room when Mr. Robertson came to the Office this morning, and what I heard was certainly not complimentary to Mr. Atterbury. I could not with accuracy repeat anything that Mr. Robertson said, but I judged from his tone of voice he was speaking in anger, and his abrupt departure from the office, led me to conclude at once that he certainly was so. I heard Mr. Atterbury refer him to the Acting District Surveyor for the information he required.—C.H.D., 31/10/88.

(C.)

Sir,

I am informed that you told Mr. Robertson that I had, on the honor of a gentleman, denied the authorship of the "Growler" letters. I think that you will remember that this was not so, but that, though I apparently very successfully evaded the inquiries made by you, I gave no distinct assertion in any direction.

Leaving aside altogether the question of the propriety of repeating what could only be regarded as a purely private conversation, I trust that you will, as a matter of justice to myself, and at your very earliest convenience, explain the facts of the case to Mr. Robertson.

A. J. Park, Esq., Hillston.

I have, &c.,
BASIL J. ATTERBURY.

(D.)

Sir,

Though not bound to reply to your note of 21st November, 1888, for you do not disclose the name of your informant, I have no objection to state that I made use of no such expression to Mr. Robertson as you describe, but that I did tell him that you had voluntarily and distinctly told me that you had not written a certain letter which had given Mr. Robertson offence.

Your statement was not evasion of inquiries, for I made none, and I really cannot see how a plain and simple denial of the authorship of an offensive and anonymous letter could be regarded by anyone in the light of private communication.

To satisfy the last part of your note I will show it to Mr. Robertson, together with this note, before posting.

B. J. Atterbury, Esq.

Yours, &c.,
A. J. PARK.

(E.)

Sir,

In reply to your telegram of yesterday's date, in reference to an allegation by some person unnamed, to the effect that this office had been closed to the public for upwards of a week, I have the honor to state that, though the doors of the building were not closed, still there was no responsible official in attendance to furnish the public with information from Monday morning, the 26th November, 1888, until Friday morning, the 30th of that month, and during which period all correspondence remained unopened and unanswered.

The immediate causes of this state of matters were:—

1. Absence of the Chairman on duty at Hillston.
2. Absence of the Clerk-in-charge on leave.

Respecting the last part of your telegram, I have the honor to request you to be so good as to explain to the Honorable the Minister for Lands that the Chairman's presence was not necessary under the statute, and that his absence was compulsory thereunder, and that he was in no way responsible for the alleged state of disorganisation of his office, consequent upon the absence of a substitute to take the place of the Clerk-in-charge, who was absent on leave, on a date altered from that recommended by the Chairman.

I have, &c.,
A. J. PARK,
Chairman.

P.S.—I enclose a letter from the Clerk-in-charge, showing the nature of the special urgency which actuated him in applying for a change of date.—A. J. PARK, 8/12/88.
The Under Secretary for Lands, Sydney.

CANNOT obtain papers this afternoon, but from memory believe Mr. Atterbury applied for leave from and including to-day on urgent private business. His previous application was for later date. Will advise you on Monday fully. Was application made to your knowledge and with your concurrence?

Hillston, 24 November, 1888.

WITHOUT consulting me, Clerk-in-charge telegraphed direct to you for alteration of date of leave I had recommended, and yesterday telegraphed the fact to me inviting my support. No reference from you induced my telegram to you to-day. Glad he should get his leave, but cannot be at Hay to take up his duties on the altered dates, as I am engaged here. Just received telegram from the Clerk-in-charge that he will be absent till Thursday next by Ministerial approval, and that work will not be seriously affected.

Memorandum from B. J. Atterbury to J. Broughton, Esq.

24 November, 1888.

I AM informed that you have stated that I emphatically denied being the author the "The Growler" letters. In this, as I explained the other day, you were mistaken. I purposely misled you, and evaded your questions, as I clearly had a right to do in matters of purely private concern. Will you kindly, and as a matter of honor, doing me but fair justice, correct what you may have said to Mr. T. Robertson in particular.

Faithfully yours,
 B. J. ATTERBURY.

Memo. from The District Surveyor, Hay, to The Chairman, Local Land Board, Hay.

26 February, 1889.

THE attention of the Chairman is invited to the fact that a memo. from the Surveyor-General, marked "Very urgent," with a proof of plan of parish, Carroonboon North, was forwarded to the Local Land Board Office for registration on 22nd instant, and was only returned during the afternoon of this day.

J. BROUGHTON,
 Acting District Surveyor.

Received by me, 3:30 p.m. this day. I observe from register that the papers referred to were registered and forwarded to the District Survey Office yesterday.—A.J.P., Chairman, Hay, 27/2/89. This and similar delays might not have occurred had Clerk-in-charge attended to his work, instead of writing lengthy essays, and if work is up to date it is by exertion of others.

Memorandum.

(Q.)

14 March, 1889.

THE Chairman's attention is drawn to the manner in which the attached applications are forwarded to this office, and, as pointed out in previous communications, it is respectfully suggested that all papers forwarded to this office for action be signed by or for the Chairman. In order to prevent any delay in dealing with the attached papers, it is requested that this matter receive early attention.

The Chairman.

J. BROUGHTON,
Acting District Surveyor.

Special lease application, 89-2, Deniliquin; special lease application, 89-1, Hay.
Now signed as desired. The omission was not previously noticed.—B.J.A. (pro Chairman), 14/3/89.

Memorandum by Chairman.

CALLED in Clerk-in-charge, and he states as follows:—Mr. Volckman present morning of 5th December, 1888. Monday, 26th November, 27th November, 28th November, 29th November, on these dates absent.

Everything had gone straight in absence; the mails were opened. Clerk-in-charge's instructions were to let things go on as usual, and did not give any particular instructions as to the mail.

Has no reason to believe the office was closed during absence; every reason to believe it was open.

Here Mr. Davies and Mr. O'Hanlon were requested to attend.

Mr. Davies says he closed the office at half-past 3 on Wednesday, 28th November, after public hours he and Mr. O'Hanlon each away; no other absence during office hours during Mr. Atterbury's leave.

Mr. Gibson wanted to see Mr. Atterbury privately.

Mr. Lakeman called for official information. He got it from Mr. Davies, who gave it on Mr. Lakeman stating if he could not get it, he would telegraph to the Under Secretary that he could not get it from this office. This was in reference to Parsons' C.P. under 47 section. He wanted to know Board's verdict.

Mr. Robertson wanted information as to whether extension of time had been granted in conditional purchases of Wilson, Rutledge, and Walker.

I told him they had been, in terms of printed letters; these were all the callers; I was at Survey Office when he called, and sent a messenger by my return to the office, that if he called again he could get it; Mr. O'Hanlon told Mr. Robertson have no authority to give information, but would speak to Mr. Davies on his return.

Mr. Davies states the office was not closed during public hours for five minutes.

Mr. O'Hanlon corroborates this.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

LAND COURT.

(RULES AND REGULATIONS OF.)

Presented to Parliament pursuant to Act 53 Vic. No. 21.

Department of Lands,
Sydney, 28th February, 1890.

It is hereby notified, for public information, that His Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has made the following Rules and Regulations under the "Crown Lands Act of 1889," having reference to the Land Court.

JAMES N. BRUNKER.

RULES AND REGULATIONS OF THE LAND COURT.

1. The official seal of the Land Court shall have a device and impression of the Royal Crown, with a label surrounding the same with this inscription—"The Seal of the Land Court of New South Wales."

2. Every member of the Land Court shall take the Oath of Allegiance and the Judicial Oath as set forth in the "Promissory Oaths Act." Such oaths shall, in the case of the President of the said Court, be taken before any Judge of the Supreme Court, and in the case of any other member thereof shall be taken before any such Judge or before such President.

3. The Registrar and all other officers appointed for the service of the Land Court shall be under its full control, and in the performance of their respective duties shall conform to the directions which the Land Court may from time to time give or cause to be given in that behalf.

4. The Land Court shall cause notice of the times and places at which its sessions will be holden to be published by the Registrar in the Gazette; but any such notice may in like manner be varied or withdrawn, and the Court may, notwithstanding any such notice, make such order in the premises as to it may seem expedient.

5. On Monday in each week of the sessions of the Land Court in Sydney, motions and other matters arising out of appeals and references or incidental thereto, shall take precedence, unless the Court shall otherwise order.

6. The Registrar's Office shall be open to the public on all days, not being Sundays or public holidays, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., except on Saturdays, when the same shall be closed at 12 noon.

7. Certificates, subpoenas, summonses, and other documents shall be issued at the Registrar's Office on payment of the respective fees contained in the Schedule hereto annexed. Any notices required to be given to the Registrar, and any affidavits or other documents required to be filed with the Registrar, shall be delivered or transmitted to him at such office.

8. Any notice, summons, subpoena, or other similar process of the Land Court shall be sufficiently authenticated if the same be signed by the Registrar and a fac-simile of the seal of the Land Court be stamped upon the same.

9. The Registrar shall keep the following books, that is to say:—

(1.) A register of all appeals and references entered for hearing before the Land Court.

(2.) A register of all deposits and fees paid into the Land Court.

(3.) A minute-book of all proceedings before the Land Court, and of all orders made thereupon.

Such books shall be kept in due and regular form, and the entries therein shall be made at the time when the matter for entry arises.

10. When any case has been heard or dealt with by the Land Court, the Registrar shall report the result thereof to the Minister in such form and manner as the Minister may from time to time direct.

11. Any final order made by the Land Court shall, as between party and party, take effect from the issue of a certificate thereof: Provided that any certificate issued by the Registrar may upon cause shown be rectified or amended by the Land Court.

12. The Registrar shall prepare a draft certificate of any such order as aforesaid, and give notice to the parties concerned of an appointed day when they may attend before him, and if so advised, may take exception to the terms thereof.

13. Upon the day appointed the Registrar shall settle the terms of such certificate, and on issuing a certificate shall sign the same and affix thereto the seal of the Land Court.

14. If a certificate settled by the Registrar as aforesaid does not properly set forth the order made by the Land Court, any party to the proceeding may there and then require the issue thereof to be stayed for seven days and may within such period apply upon motion to have the terms thereof settled by the Court.

15. The formal parts of any such certificate shall be according to Form 1, and the other parts thereof shall be according to the order made in that behalf by the Land Court.

16. A duplicate of every certificate issued as aforesaid shall be filed by the Registrar.

17. In any case which the Minister or a Board has referred or returned to the Land Court or in which the Crown has appeared as a party, the Registrar shall furnish the Minister with a certificate of the order which the Court may have made in respect thereof.

18. No certificate of any order made by the Land Court shall be issued by the Registrar until after the expiration of seven days from the making thereof, or, in the case of any appraisal within the provisions of section 6 of the Act of 1889, until after the expiration of one month from the making of such order; and if a case for the Supreme Court or a reference by the Minister is pending in respect of any order or other matter no certificate shall be issued until the same has been disposed of.

19. Any summons or subpoena issued by the Registrar shall be in Form 2.

20. When any notice of appeal has been received by a Chairman, he shall forthwith forward the same to the Registrar, together with all papers connected with the case. When a Board has referred or returned any matter to the Land Court, the Chairman shall in like manner forward to the Registrar all papers connected with the case.

21. The Registrar shall forthwith forward to the Minister a copy of every notice of appeal received by him; and on any case being referred or returned to the Land Court by a Board the Registrar shall forthwith notify the fact to the Minister.

22. The Minister may refer to the Land Court the decision of a Board in any case in which the rights, interests, or revenues of the Crown may be concerned. Any such reference, and any reference by the Minister in pursuance of section 6 of the Act of 1889, shall be made by giving the Registrar written notice thereof.

23. When the Minister desires to refer any case to the Land Court, otherwise than as aforesaid, he shall give notice of such reference and of the grounds and purposes thereof to the Registrar, and the Registrar shall give not less than seven days' notice in Form 3 to all parties concerned of a day when they will be heard before the Land Court to show cause why such reference should not be entertained.

24. When the Minister gives any notice of reference as aforesaid he, or some authorized officer on his behalf, shall forward all papers connected with the case to the Registrar.

25. When the Minister or a Board has referred or returned any case to the Land Court, the Minister shall be a party to all proceedings taken upon or in connection with such reference.

26. When any case of appeal appears to the Minister to involve any question of law or fact by the decision of which the rights, interests, or revenues of the Crown will be affected, he may, before the hearing, give notice in writing to the Registrar that he claims, as representing the Crown, to be deemed a party thereto; and the Minister shall thereupon become a party to all proceedings that may thereafter be taken in connection with such case: Provided that by leave of the Court, to be obtained upon application in a summary way, the Minister may at any subsequent stage of such proceedings become a party as aforesaid.

27. When the Minister or a Board has referred or returned any case to the Land Court, the parties to such case before the Board may appear and be heard by the Land Court.

28. The Registrar shall in every case cause the Land Court to be supplied with three copies of all the evidence and of all documents referred to therein.

29. On payment of a fee according to the scale given in the Schedule hereto annexed, the Registrar shall supply copies of all evidence and documents relating to a case.

30. The Registrar shall give not less than fourteen days' notice to all parties concerned of the sessions of the Land Court at which any appeal or reference will be heard. Such notice shall be in the form or to the effect of Form 4, and be prepared by the Registrar in duplicate, and the service thereof upon any party other than the Minister shall be effected in the following manner. One copy of such notice shall be served by delivering the same to the person intended to be served, or by delivering the same to some person apparently of the age of fourteen years or upwards, at the usual or last known place of abode or business of the person intended to be served. The person leaving such notice shall indorse on the duplicate copy of the same a statement of the manner in which the service has been effected, or if service has not been effected, a statement of such fact and of the attempts made to effect service, and shall attach to such copy an affidavit or statutory declaration verifying such statement, and shall forthwith transmit such indorsed copy with the affidavit or statutory declaration attached thereto as aforesaid to the Registrar for production before the Land Court.

31. When the place of abode or business of any party concerned in an appeal or reference as aforesaid is not known or cannot be found or where for any other reason service of the aforesaid notice cannot be effected in accordance with the directions hereinbefore given, the Land Court may give such direction for substituted service on any other person, or for the substitution for service of advertisements in one or more newspapers as may in its opinion be best suited to the circumstances of the case, and on any such directions being carried out, service may be deemed to have been effected.

32. Any other notices to be given by the Registrar may be served in the same manner as any notice required to be given by a Chairman; and the President may give directions for substituted service and for the substitution of notice for service in the same manner as a Chairman is empowered to do in respect of any notice required to be given by such Chairman.

33. The procedure of the Land Court on the hearing of any appeal or reference shall, as far as practicable, conform to the procedure of the Supreme Court upon the hearing of appeals from the Equity Court.

34. In any case in which a party other than the Minister desires to be heard by an attorney or agent, not being a barrister or solicitor of the Supreme Court retained for the purpose, an instrument in writing duly appointing such attorney or agent and defining the limits of his authority, if any, to bind such party in respect of the giving of consents and the making of submissions and compromises shall previously be filed with the Registrar.

35. The Land Court may permit, and the President thereof may verify or make, all such amendments as may be permitted before a Board.

36. Whenever the Land Court has made a reference to the Registrar to assess the costs payable to any party under the order of the Court, the same shall be allowed according to the discretion of the Registrar: Provided that any party may apply to the Court for a review of any assessment of costs as aforesaid.

37. Matters of the following kinds may be brought before the Land Court and dealt with on motion:—

- (1.) The settling of the terms of any certificate of the order of the Court.
- (2.) The reviewing of any decision of the Registrar in respect of costs.
- (3.) The settling of the terms of any case for the Supreme Court.
- (4.) The remitting to a Board of any case which is incomplete, or in which it appears that evidence which any party desires to offer ought to be taken before such Board.
- (5.) Any application for leave to adduce fresh evidence before the Court in any matter.
- (6.) Any application that any appeal or reference may be heard elsewhere than may have been previously ordered.
- (7.) Any application to postpone any matter or for further time to comply with any rule or order.
- (8.) Any other matter which the Court may allow so to be dealt with.

38. Not less than seven days' notice of any motion shall be given to the Registrar and to the other parties concerned, and, except in cases 1, 2, and 3, within the last preceding rule, the grounds on which the application is based shall be stated in such notice and be supported by affidavit.

39. The formal parts of any such notice of motion shall be according to Form 5.

40. Any affidavit used in any motion as aforesaid shall be filed with the Registrar, and a copy thereof shall be served on the other parties concerned not less than four days before any such motion comes on to be heard, and affidavits in answer or reply may in like manner be filed and served but without limit as to time.

41. Within seven days from the making of any order or the hearing of any matter, any party may lodge with the Registrar a notice requiring the Land Court to state a case for the Supreme Court. Every such notice shall, except when given by the Minister, be accompanied by a deposit of £20 as security for any costs that the person giving the notice may be ordered to pay. Within seven days thereafter such person shall serve the Registrar with a draft of the case to be thereafter settled by the Land Court, and shall also serve the other party with a copy of such draft.

42. If a person requiring the Land Court to state a case as aforesaid fails to bring the case before the Land Court to be settled without unnecessary delay, or to perform any condition or matter prescribed by the last rule, the Land Court may refuse to state such case, and may order such deposit or any part thereof to be forfeited; and the other parties concerned may thereafter proceed as if the application for a statement of a case had not been made.

43. When the Land Court desires of its own motion to state a case for the Supreme Court, a copy of the case proposed to be stated shall on application be furnished by the Registrar to each of the parties concerned, and the Registrar shall give not less than seven days' notice in Form 6 of the day appointed by the Land Court for the settling thereof, and the Land Court shall thereafter proceed to hear the parties and to settle the terms of such case.

44. When any case has been returned with the decision of the Supreme Court thereon, the Land Court shall appoint a day for the making of any orders which may be proper for the carrying out thereof, and the parties shall be heard as to the nature of the orders which may be required.

45. Any period of time limited by these rules for the performance of any matter may, upon cause shown, be enlarged, shortened, or otherwise varied by the Land Court.

46. In any case in which it may be found that a direction as to procedure is required, and that the provisions of these rules are not applicable or sufficient, the Land Court may in each such case give directions as to the course to be adopted, and the parties shall proceed accordingly.

47. Any appellant may withdraw his appeal by giving notice to the Registrar in Form 7 not less than 21 days before the date fixed for the sessions of the Land Court at which such appeal would in due course come on for hearing, and on receiving such notice the Registrar shall inform the other party or parties concerned and the Chairman of such withdrawal; and the Land Court may make such order in respect of the appellant's deposit as the said Court may think fit.

48. Upon the final disposal of any appeal or reference to the Land Court, the Registrar shall forward to the Minister all papers connected with the case.

49. When the Land Court has ordered any matter to be returned or remitted to the Board, the Registrar shall forward to the Chairman all papers connected with the case, and a minute of the Court's order and direction in that behalf.

50. The Registrar shall allow any officer authorized by the Minister or Under Secretary in that behalf to have access to and to take copies of all papers in his possession connected with any case in respect of which an appeal is pending, or which has been referred or returned to the Land Court by a Board or the Minister, and if so required shall, without payment of any fee, furnish a copy of all such papers to the Minister.

TO THE REGISTRAR OF THE LAND COURT.

1890.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

CROWN LANDS ACT OF 1889.

(REGULATIONS OF THE LAND COURT UNDER.)

Presented to Parliament, pursuant to Act 53 Vic. No. 21.

Department of Lands,

Sydney, 8th July, 1890.

His Excellency the Governor with the advice of the Executive Council has been pleased to approve of the following Rules and Regulations bearing Nos. 4, 5, 18, 30, and 41, under the Crown Lands Act of 1889, having reference to the Land Court, being substituted for those similarly numbered and notified in a Supplement to the Government Gazette of 23th February last, No. 117.

[Ml. 90-7,559]

JAMES N. BRUNKER.

4. The Land Court shall cause notice of the times and places at which its sittings will be holden to be published by the Registrar in the Gazette; but any such notice may in like manner be varied or withdrawn, and the Court may, notwithstanding any such notice, make such order in the premises as to it may seem expedient.

5. On Monday in each week of the sittings of the Land Court in Sydney, motions and other matters arising out of appeals and references or incidental thereto, shall take precedence, unless the Court shall otherwise order.

18. No certificate of any order made by the Land Court shall be issued by the Registrar until after the expiration of fourteen days from the making thereof, or, in the case of any appraisal within the provisions of section 6 of the Act of 1889, until after the expiration of one month from the making of such order; and if a case for the Supreme Court or a reference by the Minister is pending in respect of any order or other matter no certificate shall be issued until the same has been disposed of.

30. The Registrar shall give not less than fourteen days' notice to all parties concerned of the sittings of the Land Court at which any appeal or reference will be heard. Such notice shall be in the form or to the effect of Form 4, and be prepared by the Registrar in duplicate, and the service thereof upon any party other than the Minister shall be effected in the following manner. One copy of such notice shall be served by delivering the same to the person intended to be served, or by delivering the same to some person apparently of the age of fourteen years or upwards, at the usual or last known place of abode or business of the person intended to be served. The person serving such notice shall indorse on the duplicate copy of the same a statement of the manner in which the service has been effected, or if service has not been effected, of the attempts made to effect service, and such statement shall be verified by statutory declaration to be also endorsed on the said duplicate copy of the said notice; and the said copy so indorsed as aforesaid shall be forthwith transmitted to the Registrar for production before the Land Court.

41. Within fourteen days from the making of any order or the hearing of any matter, any party may lodge with the Registrar a notice requiring the Land Court to state a case for the Supreme Court. Every such notice shall, except when given by the Minister, be accompanied by a deposit of £20 as security for any costs that the person giving the notice may be ordered to pay. Within seven days thereafter such person shall serve the Registrar with a draft of the case to be thereafter settled by the Land Court, and shall also serve the other party with a copy of such draft.

CONDOBOLIN LAND DISTRICT.

(RETURN OF UNSURVEYED LANDS IN.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be printed, 19 December, 1890.

[Laid upon the Table of the House in answer to Question No. 2 of 5 November, 1890.]

Questions.

- (2.) UNSURVEYED LAND IN CONDOBOLIN DISTRICT:—MR. STOKES asked THE SECRETARY FOR LANDS,—
- (1.) Is it a fact that at the present time there are 90,000 acres of conditional purchase and conditional lease land in the Condobolin district unsurveyed?
  - (2.) Is it a fact that one surveyor is unable to keep pace with the present weekly alienations?
  - (3.) Will he send an additional surveyor to assist in working up the arrears, that the selectors may proceed with their improvements?

Answers.

LAND DISTRICT OF CONDOBOLIN.

	Acres.
Area of land applied for and unmeasured to the 5th November last, was ...	171,492
Area since applied for to 18th November last ... ..	17,332
Total... ..	188,824
Plans of measurements were received to 18th November last for ... ..	29,360
Leaving a balance of unmeasured land of ... ..	159,464

Mr. Surveyor Busby during last October measured 31,009 acres; Mr. Maitland was also fully engaged all that month, and Mr. Meldrum has also been instructed to proceed to Condobolin, and will remain until all the land recently applied for in that district is measured, which it is anticipated will be within three months or less.

B. [Lands Acts Amendment Act, 1875.]

Conditional Improvement Purchase 78, 11th September, 1875.

Application for the purchase of Crown lands in virtue of intended improvements by the holders thereof, under a lease or promise of lease for pastoral purposes.

Received by me, with a deposit of £140, this 3rd day of September, 1875,—

EDWARD BROWN,

Land Agents 75-3.

Agent for the sale of Crown Lands at Albury.

Sir,

Albury, 3 September, 1875.

I hereby apply to purchase, without competition, under the provisions of the 31st Clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875, the Crown land described hereunder, on which I intend to erect the improvements detailed below, and I herewith tender the sum of £140 being a deposit of £1 per acre on the area for which I apply.

I have, &c.,

WILLIAM HENRY WILLIAMS.

The Crown Lands Agent, Albury.

Name of Run—Falls.

County Goulburn, parish Little Billabong, 140 acres. Bounded on the north by the Billabong Creek, and on the east by T. Hudson's conditional purchase of 40 acres, other lines to include area.

Intended Improvements—Dam, sheep yard, and grubbing.

Forwarded to the Occupation Branch, with a view to the name of the lessee, and the area, of Little Billabong Run being stated. Mr. Pretious, 13/9/75. Little Billabong Run, district of Murrumbidgee, John How and George Day lessees; estimated area 10,000.—A.O.P., Occupation of Lands, 22/9/75. The run in virtue of which this application is made is not held under promise of lease by the applicant.—28/9/75. Inform, and say that the application will be treated as if made on behalf of the lessees.—29/9/75. Mr. Williams, 14/10/75.

Conditional Improvement Purchase 79, 11th September, 1875.

Application for the purchase of Crown lands, in virtue of intended improvements by the holders thereof, under a lease, or promise of lease, for pastoral purposes.

Received by me, with a deposit of £40, this 3rd day of September, 1875,—

EDWARD BROWN,

Land Agents, No. 75-4.

Agent for the sale of Crown Lands at Albury.

Sir,

Albury, 3 September, 1875.

I hereby apply to purchase, without competition, under the provisions of the 31st Clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875, the Crown lands described hereunder, on which I intend to erect the improvements detailed below, and I herewith tender the sum of £40 being a deposit of £1 per acre on the area for which I apply.

I have, &c.,

WILLIAM HENRY WILLIAMS.

The Crown Lands Agent, Albury.

Description.

40 acres, county Goulburn, parish Carabost, Falls Run, in virtue of clearing and grubbing. Bounded on the north by the Billabong Creek, on the west by T. J. Hudson's conditional purchase, 100 acres other lines to include area.

Referred

Referred to the Occupation Board for the name of the lessee, and area, of the Falls Run within which the land applied for is stated to be situated. Mr. Pretious, 13/9/77. The Falls Run, district of Murrumbidgee, William Henry Williams, lessee; estimated area 12,000 acres.—A.O.P., Occupation of Lands, 22/9/75.

Herewith is conditional improvement purchase 79, with reference to the disposal of which there are no instructions. Applicant applied to withdraw it in favour of conditional improvement purchase 78 (herewith now refused). I presume it should be ascertained whether the land applied for by conditional improvement purchase 79, is subject to the 5 miles square disability, as of course the applicant would press that application if it did not clash with conditional improvement purchase 78 (now refused). Herewith is also a letter respecting a conditional purchase which clashes with these conditional improvement purchases. That should probably be brought under notice of Mr. Blackman before forwarding these papers to the Charting Branch.—H.W.H.S., 24/9/77. Mr. Donovan.

Look into the case, and do whatever is necessary please.—E.B., 17/12/77. Mr. Long. Does the land applied for by conditional improvement purchase 79, come within a block of 5 miles square leasehold?—W. Long, 17/12/77. Mr. Bransby wishes these to be returned to him.—C.E.E., 23/1/78.

No. 3.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Mr. W. H. Williams.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 14 October, 1875.

With reference to your application dated the 3rd September last, to purchase under the 31st Clause of the Land Acts Amendment Act of 1875, a portion of land, containing 140 acres, in the parish of Little Billabong, county of Goulburn, I am directed to inform you, that the Little Billabong Run, in virtue of which the land in question is applied for, is under lease to the gentlemen named in the margin, in whose favour the application must therefore be dealt with.

Messrs. John
How and George Day.

No. 5.

Mr. J. Dwyer to the Under Secretary for Lands.

Conditional Improvement Purchase, 75-78.

Sir,

Albury, 24 November, 1875.

I have the honor to inform you in reply to your memo. of the above number, and of date the 14th October ultimo, which Mr. Williams has handed to me, that Messrs How and Day transferred the Little Billabong Run to Mr. W. H. Williams by transfer dated 29th April, 1875; and it was owing to an inadvertence on my part that the transfer was not duly registered.

As Mr. Williams' application was made subsequent to that date, I trust that this explanation will be considered satisfactory.

Yours, &c.,

JOSEPH DWYER

[Lands Acts Amendment Act, 1875.]

Crown Lands Office, Albury.

No. 76-18.

Application for the purchase of Crown Lands, in virtue of intended improvements by the holder thereof, under a lease or promise of lease for pastoral purposes.

Received by me, with a deposit of £100, this 2nd day of August, 1876,—

EDWARD BROWN,

Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Albury.

Sir,

Sir,
I hereby apply to purchase, without competition, under the provisions of the 31st clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act, 1875, the Crown land described hereunder, on which I intend to erect the improvements detailed below, and I herewith tender the sum of £100, being a deposit of £1 per acre on the area for which I apply.

I have, &c.,

WILLIAM HENRY WILLIAMS
(By his agents, MOORE AND WALLER).

The Crown Lands Agent, Albury.

Description of Land:—(See Regulations Nos. 7 and 8 at back hereof), Little Billabong Run. County of Goulburn, parish of Carabost. Bounded on the west by my freehold, of 160 acres; on the north by the Tumbarumba Road; on east by T. E. Hudson's additional conditional purchase of 48 acres. Describe intended improvements in detail, dams, clearing and ringing.

Purchases in virtue of Intended Improvements Regulations.

7. Every application must set forth the improvements intended to be effected, and must contain a clear description of the locality and boundaries of the land applied for, referring to the nearest conspicuous natural feature, or some known or determined point on the nearest frontage or measured portion, and describing, so as to admit of ready identification, the starting point, together with the direction and approximate length of the respective boundaries; which, with the exception of frontage, if any, must be directed to the cardinal points by compass.

8. Land measured by the authority of the Government must be taken in portions as measured, but application for part of a portion may, subject to the approval of the Minister for Lands, be made on payment, in addition to the price of the land, of the estimated cost of subdivision. Measured land, if having frontage to any river, creek, road, or intended road, shall, within the first-class settled districts, have a depth of not less than 20 chains, and if in the second-class settled or unsettled districts, of not less than 60 chains; but no boundary shall exceed 80 chains in a direct line.

Little Billabong Run, district of Murrumbidgee, William Henry Williams, lessee; estimated area, 2,603 acres; date of last appraisalment, 19th July, 1875.—G. M., Occupation of Lands, 3/9/76. Submitted that this application be refused and the deposit be refunded, right of purchase under the 31st clause in virtue of Little Billabong Run being already exhausted.—E.B., 2/10/76. Approved.—T.G., 5/10/76. Treasury, applicant, and Land Agent.—M.D., 16/10/76.

Sir,

10 August, 1876.

I am desirous of purchasing, without competition, under the 21st section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, the portion of unimproved Crown land hereunder described, containing 102 acres, which adjoins my conditional purchase of 320 acres, upon which I am now residing, or upon which I have resided for three years, and I herewith tender the sum of £25 10s., being a deposit at the rate of five shillings (5s.) per acre on the area for which I apply.

This is the second selection made by me in virtue of my conditional purchase or freehold of 320 acres.

I am, &amp;c.,

(Unsigned),

Little Billabong.

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands at Albury.

Description.

County of Goulburn, parish of Carabost, 102 acres: To start from the north-west corner of my additional conditional purchase of 48 acres running south along the western boundary of said additional conditional purchase of 48 acres; thence west; thence north; thence east; to point of commencement, fronting the Tumbarumba Road.

Should not applicant for conditional purchase under 21st section be present in person at the time of making application? Submitted. Mr. Blackman, 5/9/76.

Need not be present, if the original was made under the Act of 1875. If made under the Act of 1862, applicant must be present unless the Land Agent knows as a matter of fact that he is 16 years of age or upwards. The Land Agent should not again accept and send to this Department applications unsigned.—W.B. (for Under Secretary), B.C., 14/9/76.

The Land Agent, Albury, with reference to above memo.—Signature not given.

The applicant was present when the original application was lodged, but it was discovered the document was not signed the next day, and a fresh form sent him for signature. The applicant is over 21 years of age, and also lodged the duplicate application in person.—E.B., Crown Land Agent, B.C., 4/10/76.

No. 9.

Messrs. Moore and Waller to the Crown Land Agent, Albury.

Sir,

Albury, 2 September, 1876.

On the 3rd September, 1875, we, as agents for Mr. W. H. Williams, applied for 40 acres, under the 31st Clause, situated on the Falls Run, as per Land Agent's receipt No. 115,629.

It is now found that a previous application we made on the same date for 140 acres, under the same clause, on the Billabong Run, turns out to be also on the Falls Run. Receipt 115,628.

We are therefore instructed to request that the £40 paid for the application of 40 acres on the Falls Run may be returned, as Mr. W. H. Williams has improved the 140 acres to the value of £140, and to-day made declaration to this effect, which declaration we have duly forwarded.

We have, &amp;c.,

MOORE AND WALLER.

Submitted, 26/9/76. How do the cases stand? 16/10/76, Mr. Bransby. Please say to whom instructions (survey) were issued, and if any reply has been received.—E.B., 18/10/76. Instructions issued to J. M. Macdonald (licensed surveyor), 5/11/75. No reply yet.—R.G.S.B., 18/10/76. Submitted, 18/10/76.

76-7,665 Ms., and 76-8,420 Ms. Mr. Williams made two conditional improvement purchases on the 3rd September, 1875, No. 78 and 79. He described 78 as being on Little Billabong, and 79 as on the Falls Run. On the 2nd August, 1876, he made another selection, No. 883, on the Little Billabong; this was refused on account of exhausted rights. He now states (76-7,665 Ms.) that both 78 and 79 are on the Falls Run, and asks that the deposit of 79 may be refunded. Can this shifting be allowed, it will have the effect of restoring the cancelled conditional improvement purchase No. 883. Better get a tracing locating these selections, and showing the dividing boundary of the two runs.—W.M. LONG, 20/10/76.

See action on conditional improvement purchase 79. Mr. Bransby, 6/11/76.

No. 10.

Messrs. Moore and Waller to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Albury, 2 September, 1876.

We have the honor to enclose statement of Mr. W. H. Williams, together with his declaration referring to application for 140 acres (one hundred and forty) under the 31st Section.

We have, &amp;c.,

ED. THOMSON

(For Moore and Waller).

[Enclosures.]

Sir,

Albury, 2 September, 1876.

In accordance with the regulations advertised in Gazette, of 27th August, 1875, I hereby beg to state that I, on the 3rd September, 1875, applied for 140 acres, under the 31st Clause of Land Act, and that I have put the following improvements on the said 140 acres, viz.:—

Sheep yards, value .....	£
Dam, value .....	60
Clearing and fencing, value .....	50
	30

Total .....£140

And I have also made a declaration to this effect, and have attached the same to this statement.

I have, &amp;c.,

WILLIAM HENRY WILLIAMS.

I, WILLIAM HENRY WILLIAMS, of Little Billabong, do sincerely and solemnly declare, that the statement marked A and attached to this declaration is true in every particular, and that the improvements on the 140 acres applied for by me, under the 31st Clause of the Land Act, on the 3rd September, 1875, are to the value of £140; and I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and in virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various Departments of the Government of New South Wales, and to substitute declarations in lieu thereof, and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

Made and signed before me, at Albury, }
this 2nd day of September, 1876. }

Signature of Magistrate,—THOMAS D. McLENNAN, J.P.

WILLIAM H. WILLIAMS.

No. 11.

Mr. T. E. Hudson to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Albury, 18 September, 1876.

Mr. Williams, of the Little Billabong, has taken up three pieces of land under the 31st clause, on his run at the Little Billabong, which I think is contrary to the Act.

Will you please look into the matter and see if he is entitled to them, as one of the blocks clashes with a conditional purchase made by me on the 10th August, 1876.

Yours, &c.,

THOMAS E. HUDSON

No. 13.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Under Secretary for Finance and Trade.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 16 October, 1876.

I am directed to request that you will be good enough to refund to Mr. William Henry Williams (or upon his order), of Albury, the sum of £100, credited at the Treasury, 14th August, 1876, being the deposit paid on application made by him on the 2nd August last at Albury, to purchase under the 31st clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act, 100 acres, in the parish of Carabost, county of Goulburn, on the Little Billabong run, which has been refused.

Revenue Refunded.

Sir,

Lands Department, Sydney, 16 October, 1876.

I am directed to request that you will be good enough to refund to Mr. William Henry Williams, of Little Billabong, the sum of £100, credited at the Treasury, on the 11th August, 1876, being a deposit on conditional improvement application made by the above.

I have, &c.,

LINDSAY G. THOMPSON

(Pro Under Secretary).

No. 16.

J. M'Elhone, Esq., M.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Sydney, 18 October, 1876.

I have the honor to call your attention to the case of T. E. Hudson, who took up a conditional purchase; also to the fact that W. H. Williams claims this land under the 31st clause of the Land Act, and that W. H. Williams had taken up three blocks close to one another, under the 31st clause, which is illegal.

I have the honor to request that you will take immediate steps to cancel Mr. W. H. Williams' portions, taken up under 31st clause.

Also, that you will be pleased to allow Mr. Hudson to amend his description, as per letter enclosed.

I have, &amp;c.,

J. M'ELHONE.

It is evident Mr. Williams' application under 31st cannot be entertained. Get papers, and have them dealt with at once, when Hudson's conditional purchase application can be accepted.—T.G., 19/10/76. Mr. Rutter,—The enclosed sketch shows approximately the run boundary, the estimated area of which is 9,500 acres, less than 16,000 acres.—A.B., 20/12/76.

Mr. Rutter,—Mr. Williams made two applications under 31st clause on Little Billabong Run, which contains 9,500 acres. The second, that is, the one said to clash with Hudson's conditional purchase, was immediately refused the right under that clause, having been exhausted by the first application. The land was, however, measured, 76-10,169. Mr. Licensed-Surveyor Macdonald, herewith.—R.G.S.B., 13/3/77.

[[Enclosure.]

Dear Sir,

Albury, October.

Please find tracing showing land applied for by T. Hudson, tinted blue, and also land applied for by W. H. Williams, under 31st clause, tinted red.

You will perceive that Williams has applied for three portions under the 31st clause, and one of them clashed with mine.

Please see if Williams is entitled to them, and especially portion (not given), which clashes with my application.

Yours, &amp;c.,

T. HUDSON

No. 17.

Mr. Licensed-Surveyor Macdonald to The Surveyor-General.

No. 76,108.

Sir,

Camberoona, 31 October, 1876.

I have the honor to transmit herewith the plan of one portion of land, containing 100 acres, numbered 8, in the parish of Carabost, county of Goulburn, applied for by William Henry Williams, under the 31st section of the Crown Lands Amendment Act of 1875, and surveyed in accordance with instructions dated No.

As there was only one line of this portion to run, after I had surveyed portion No. 7, I surveyed this portion while on the spot to save another journey there.

There are no improvements on this land at present.

I have, &amp;c.,

JNO. M. MACDONALD.

Conditional improvement purchase 883 was refused, being the second application made in virtue of Little Billabong Run (9,500 acres estimated area).—J.D.D., 13/3/77.

[Enclosure.]

Extract from 76-7,665, Ms.

Sir,

Albury, 2 September, 1876.

On the 3rd September, 1875, we, as agents for Mr. W. H. Williams, applied for conditional improvement purchase C.P., of 79-40 acres, under the 31st clause, situated on the Falls Run, as per land agent's receipt No. 115,629. It is now found that a previous application we made on the same date for conditional improvement purchase of C.P. 78-140 acres, under the same clause, on the Billabong Run, turns out to be also on the Falls Run.

We are, therefore, instructed to request that the £40 paid for the application of 40 acres on the Falls Run may be returned, as Mr. W. H. Williams has improved the 140 acres to the value of £140, and to-day made declaration to this effect, which declaration we have duly forwarded.

We have, &amp;c.,

MOORE AND WALLER.

It has been recommended, on 76-10,171 Ms., that the conditional improvement purchase 78 should be disallowed, as the area required (140 acres) is not within a block of 5 miles square under leasehold, and is, moreover, partly within (greater part) the Falls Run, and not wholly within the Billabong Run, as applied for. The conditional improvement purchase No. 79 has been refused upon papers 76-10,172 Ms., as the run (Falls) of area 17,000 acres, does not admit of the 5-mile test.—F. W. RUTTER, 7/7/77.

No. 18.

Mr. Licensed-Surveyor J. M. Macdonald to The Surveyor-General.

Sir,

Camberoona, 31 October, 1876.

I have the honor to transmit herewith the plan of one portion of land containing 140 acres, numbered 13, in the parish of Carabost, county of Goulburn, applied for by William Henry Williams under the 31st section of the Crown Lands Amendment Act of 1875, and surveyed in accordance with instructions dated 15th November, No. 75-198.

The

The improvements on this land consist of sheep drafting yards, £80; dam, £40; fence, £15; and clearing, £15.

The greater part of this portion is on the Falls Run, and not in Little Billabong Run, as described by applicant.

I have, &c.,

J. M. MACDONALD,
Licensed Surveyor.

Charting Branch. Mr. Long.—M. O'C. BLAKE, 5/6/77. Send memo., asking Mr. J. Macdonald to show the position of the south-east corner of portion 33, which adjoins this measurement.—A.G., 24/1/77. Memo. sent accordingly.—R.B.McR., 25/1/77. First reminder sent 23rd April, 1877.—T.W.W. (pro M. O'C. BLAKE). Mr. Bransby. The land applied for in this case does not come within a block of 5 miles square leasehold; it is also situated in two runs.—A.B., 5/7/77.

It is recommended that this application be not entertained, the land applied for not being within a block of 5 miles square leasehold. (The run contains more than 16,000 acres.) It is also situated on two runs. Applicant might be informed that he can apply for this land under 2nd clause, having improved it to the extent of £1 per acre.—R. D. FITZGERALD (for Surveyor-General), 2/8/77.

Return to Charting Branch. Approved.—T.G., 21/8/77.

No. 19.

Mr. Licensed-Surveyor J. M. Macdonald to The Surveyor-General.

Sir,

Cameroona, 31 October, 1876.

I have the honor to return you herewith an application to purchase under the 31st section of the Crown Lands Amendment Act of 1875, 40 acres, parish of Carabost, county of Goulburn, by William Henry Williams, and to report that the land applied for is in the Falls Run, and Mr. Williams has another application for 140 acres in the same run, under the same section, which does not join the land now applied for.

The area of the run is about 16,000 acres; therefore I do not think he can hold the two portions of land under the same section, in the same run.

There are no improvements on the 40 acres now applied for.

I have, &c.,

JOHN M. MACDONALD,
Licensed Surveyor.

No. 20.

Mr. W. H. Williams to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Little Billabong, via Tarcutta, 21 November, 1876.

I am just in receipt of an advice circular from the Treasury, informing me that £100 will be refunded me, which I had paid for 100 acres at Little Billabong, the application for which land has been refused.

Before I return the printed form sent I shall feel extremely much obliged if you will apprise me why my application for the land has been refused, as the 100 acres named comprise all the land I have taken up, under the 31st clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875, on this station; and on it I have recently put improvements, which have cost me over £60, towards the full amount to be expended on it; and I have contracted for further improvements of the value of £40, which I shall have to pay whether the land be forfeited or not.

I trust you will take the matter into consideration, and as I was not forbidden by the Government to improve the land, allow me under the circumstances to retain it.

I have, &c.,

WILLIAM H. WILLIAMS.

The writer made two (conditional improvement purchases, 78 and 883) applications under 31st clause, on Little Billabong Run, the estimated area of which is 9,500 acres. The second—that is the one said to clash with Hudson's conditional purchase—was immediately refused, the right under that clause having been exhausted by the first application.—R.G.S.B., 30/5/77.

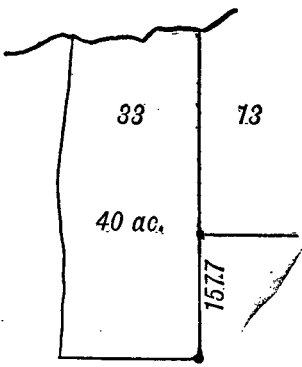

The conditional improvement purchase application was refused, on the ground that the area of the run only permitted of one application being made, and consequently that this application in virtue of the same run was inadmissible. The Surveyor, in ignorance of the foregoing, has measured an area of 100 acres in the position applied for by T. E. Hudson, under 21st clause, on 10th August, 1876 (76-235, Albury), for 102 acres. It is submitted that the plan of the above area be accepted as in satisfaction for that conditional purchase, rather than a resurvey should be made for the difference (2 acres only) of the area, subject to valuation stated to have been made on portion.—ROBT. D. FITZGERALD (for Surveyor-General), 30/5/77. Approved.—R.D., 30/5/77.

The Chief Commissioner of Conditional Sales; then to Miscellaneous Branch as to the above and the other papers.—23/6/77. Conditional Sales Branch and Miscellaneous Branch, for action accordingly. The conditional purchase 76-233, Albury.—F.W.R., 1/7/77. Return for notation and charting application now herewith.—N. PARON, 9/7/77. Mr. Yorke, for refund of deposit on 2 acres, then to Miscellaneous Branch.—C.N., 1/8/77. Applicant with refund order; Agent and Treasury informed, 11/8/77; then to Miscellaneous Branch.

With reference to T. E. Hudson's conditional purchase of the 10th August, 1876, I desire to inform you that the area thereof having been found, on measurement, to be only 100 acres, instead of 102 acres, as stated in his application, he has been informed that he is entitled to a refund of 10s., the amount of deposit upon the two extra acres paid in excess. for which the necessary refund form has been forwarded.

No. 26.

Mr. W. H. Williams to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Little Billabong, via Tarcutta, 14 December, 1877.

I am somewhat surprised that you have not yet favoured me with a reply to my correspondence respecting the 100 acres of land on this run which I took up under the 31st clause.

I may remind you that I have been lessee of this run off and on since 1855, and have never yet had a pre-emptive right, and I thought I had a perfect right to take up the 100 acres in question, and your officer at the Albury Land Office must have held the same opinion, or he would not have taken my money for the land. The improvements, value £100, were contracted for before Hudson selected the land, and I, of course, was obliged either to carry out the contract, or pay the men for nothing; consequently, as the money laid out on the land has been for ringbarking, grubbing, and making a dam and tank, none of which can be removed, I respectfully submit that the case will be a very hard one for me, and I shall consider myself treated with great injustice if you give my £100-worth of improvements to Hudson or any other person, after your own officer has conditionally sold it to me under the amended Land Act last passed, and if it be decided that I am not to be allowed to retain the land in question, I decidedly think the nearest approach to right and fair dealing will be by putting the 100 acres up to public auction.

I shall be much obliged by the favour of an early reply.

I am, &amp;c.,

WILLIAM H. WILLIAMS.

No. 27.

Office memorandum.

On the 3rd September, 1875, W. H. Williams made two applications for conditional improvement purchases, one for 40 acres on the Falls Run (conditional improvement purchase, 75-79), the other for 140 acres, on the Little Billabong Run. Subsequently, it was found that the greater part of the 140 acres was on the Falls Run and not the Little Billabong. Williams then applied for a refund of £40, deposited with application, 75-79, and asked to retain the 140 acres, in virtue of his right as lessee of the Falls Run (2nd September, 1876); on 2nd August, 1876, he made application for 100 acres on Little Billabong Run (conditional improvement purchase, No. 76-883).

This application was refused on the ground that the area of the run only permitted of one application being made, but it will be seen now that Williams had not exhausted his right, as he did not apply for the 100 acres till after it had been discovered that the 140 acres was on the Falls Run. The conditional improvement purchase application, 883, should therefore not have been refused on the ground stated above, and should now be reconsidered in connection with T. E. Hudson's conditional purchase application, No. 76-235, of 10th August, 1876. Williams' conditional improvement purchase application is dated 2nd August, 1876, eight days prior to Hudson's.

Should Williams' application, 76-883, conditional improvement purchase, be entertained, T. E. Hudson's conditional purchase, No. 76-235, should at once be declared void.

M. O'C. BLAKE.

Mr. Bransby,--Is there any reason why conditional improvement purchase application, No. 76-883, should not be entertained?—M. O'C. BLAKE, 7/3/78. I am not aware of any, if the statutory declaration as to improvements required by regulation 11, be furnished. The necessary improvements appear to have been effected. See 77-14,140, Ms. (herewith).—R.G.S.B., 7/3/78. The declaration has not been received.—J.D.D., 13/3/78. For refusal.—L.G.T., 18/3/78. Approved.—J.S.F., 25/3/78.

The facts were not properly before the Minister when he gave his decision. The applicant will be hardly treated if his application is refused, and more so if he is mulcted in 25 per cent. He should be asked to send in his declaration, and if he can make it, his case should be resubmitted for consideration.—L.G.T., 22/8/78.

Mr. W. H. Williams informed, 6/9/78.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Mr. W. H. Williams.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 6 September, 1878.

Referring to your application of the 2nd August, 1876 (conditional improvement purchase, 883), under the 31st clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875, to purchase 100 acres in the county of Goulburn, on the Little Billabong Run, I am directed to invite your attention to the fact that you have not yet furnished a statutory declaration, as required by the regulations, to the effect that improvements were effected upon the land in question within a period of twelve months from the date of application; and I am to say that if such a declaration is received within one month from this date your claim to the land referred to will be further considered.

Messrs. T. F. Waller &amp; Co. to The Chief Commissioner.

Sir,

Little Billabong, 14 September, 1878.

I have the honor to acknowledge your circular (number as per margin) of the 6th instant, and beg to state that I was improving the land referred to prior to receiving the said letter, but that on receiving from the Government a letter cautioning me not to improve, I at once desisted, and now send you a statutory declaration of the improvements put on by me, and beg to state that I am prepared to put on the balance if required to the extent of £100.

I have, &amp;c.,

WILLIAM HY. WILLIAMS

(By his agents, T. F. WALLER &amp; Co.)

Records papers, please.—J.D.D., 19/9/78.

Enclosed is a declaration to the effect that improvements to the value of £79 had been effected on 100 acres, taken up under the 31st clause, on the 2nd August, 1876. As there was some misunderstanding as to the run upon which the land is situated, the application was refused, on the ground that he had exhausted his right by previous application. It appears that on date of receipt of our letter the improvements (value £79) had been made. Upon receipt of our communication the work of completing the improvements was stopped. It was afterwards found that the land was on a different run to that stated in the application. The application was the only one in virtue of the run. Meanwhile, the time within which the improvements should have been completed had expired; and the question whether the application should be cancelled for non-receipt of declaration was raised. We communicated with the applicant, asking him to furnish the declaration. He states that on receipt of our letter refusing his application he allowed the land to remain in its partially improved state. Under the circumstances, it would hardly be fair to cancel the 31st clause application, as it was through no fault of the applicant's that the improvements were not completed.—J.D.D., L.G.T., 27/9/78.

I do not see how this conditional improvement purchase can be sustained with only £79 worth of improvements on 100 acres. Perhaps the applicant might have the option of increasing the value of the improvements to £100, and applying under the 2nd clause, deposit on former application being refunded.—W.W.S., 27/2/79.

Yes, if no other interest have arisen in the interim.—J.H., 28/2/79. Mr. Bransby,—Can you state if the land has been taken up during the interim.—J.D.D.

[Enclosure.]

I, WILLIAM HENRY WILLIAMS, of Little Billabong, in the Colony of New South Wales, do hereby solemnly and sincerely declare as follows:—That I have erected the following improvements upon the conditional improvement purchase (883) applied for by me under the 31st clause of the Lands Amendment Act of 1875, for which I applied to purchase 100 acres in the county of Goulburn, Little Billabong Run, viz:—

500 trees grubbed, at 1s. each .....	£25
100 ringbarked, at 1s. each .....	5
600 yards tank work, 1s. 2d. per yard .....	35

Piling dead timber .....	11
	£79

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of her present Majesty intituled, "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in various departments of the Government of New South Wales, and to substitute declarations in lieu thereof, and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

Subscribed and declared at Albury, this 14th day of } Albury, 5 December, 1878.

We have the honor to refer you to our letter of 14th September, as agents for Mr. W. H. Williams, in reference to his conditional improvement purchase of 2nd August, 1876.

We, at the same time, forwarded his statutory declaration that he had improved to the extent of £79, and his assurance that he was prepared to complete the improvements up to the required amount.

He has been waiting for the required permission to continue the improvements he was intending to complete when cautioned by your department not to improve.

We shall be obliged by your forwarding us authority for him to proceed, that he may secure the 100 acres he applied for.

MR. RUTTER,—As the enclosed conditional purchase 76-235 was applied for subsequent to the conditional improvement purchase, should it not (the conditional purchase) be cancelled?—R.G.S.B., 4/4/79.

With reference to the Secretary for Lands' conditional approval of the conditional improvement purchase in question, 76-18 (Albury), of 2nd August, 1876, it appears that that land was applied for as soon after as the 10th August of that year, as an additional conditional purchase, by T. For decision, see previous minutes on paper enclosed.—W.W.S., 5/5/79.

As the subject matter of these papers has reference to a conditional purchase, as well as a conditional improvement purchase application, I wish to be furnished with a report from the Chief Commissioner upon the subject.—J.H., 9/5/79.

It appears that the conditional improvement purchase made on 2nd August, 1876, was refused, on grounds since found to have been erroneous. It was therefore a valid purchase at the date, 10th August, 1876, if the conditional purchase of T. E. Hudson, which latter should have been cancelled, and therefore should not prevent the treatment of the former application, as regards the completion of the improvements on the proper merits.—A.O.M., 17/5/79.

Office Memorandum.

Conditional Improvement Purchase 883.

AFTER a careful perusal of the papers in reference to this case, I see no other course open than to declare the conditional improvement purchase application of W. H. Williams of 100 acres, dated 18th August, 1876, on the Little Billabong Run, forfeited, on account of the required improvements, viz., £100 in value, not having been completed within twelve months from the date of application.

No doubt the department was blameworthy in notifying to applicant that his previous application to purchase in virtue of intended improvements would not be allowed as the right to purchase under the provisions of the 31st section had been exhausted; but, nevertheless, I do not consider that any mistakes or laches of the department would warrant or justify my allowing the application to stand good, seeing that on the applicant's own showing he had only effected improvements thereon, on 14th September, 1878, of the value of £79 or upwards of thirteen months after the date of application, and seeing that the words of the 31st section of the Act of 1875 are, to my mind, very clear on this point, viz., "that provided improvements of the value of £1 per acre shall not be made within one year from date of application, twenty-five per cent. of the deposit shall be forfeited and the balance refunded and the said land shall become Crown land."

The additional conditional purchase application of Hudson must also be declared void, and the deposit he paid returned, as, at the time the land was applied for by him, viz., on 10th August, 1876, the Crown had lawfully contracted for one year to sell the same to Williams, subject, of course, to his compliance with the conditions prescribed by the 31st section, hence, at the time Hudson applied, this land was not open to conditional purchase.

For the reasons I have previously stated, and because I am of opinion that applicant is entitled to some consideration from the Government, I direct that the deposit paid by Williams shall not be forfeited, but returned to him, and that the land be submitted for sale by auction, with the value of the improvements added thereto, and if not purchased by Williams, the proceeds of the sale of such improvements returned to him.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Mr. W. H. Williams.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 28 May, 1879.

In reference to the correspondence respecting your application of the 2nd August, 1876, to purchase under the 31st clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act, of 1875, the land specified in the margin.

I am directed to inform you that notwithstanding the fact that a misunderstanding had been caused through the correct name of the run not having been given, the Secretary for Lands has decided that your application must be refused, as the law allows him no alternative in the matter; the necessary improvements not having been effected within the prescribed time.

As, however, Mr. Hoskins is of opinion that you are entitled to some consideration at the hands of the Government, he has directed that the land be submitted to sale by auction, with the value of improvements added thereto, and that, in the event of your not being the purchaser, the proceeds of the sale of such improvements shall be returned to you.

I may state that the Under Secretary for Finance and Trade was, on the 16th October, 1876, authorized to refund to you, or upon your order, the deposit of £100 lodged with your application.

I have, &c.,

W. W. STEPHEN.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Conditional Sales Division, Sydney 2 June, 1879.

Referring to your conditional purchase noted in the margin, I am directed to warn you that the final declaration and balance, or interest thereon, will become due on the 10th August, 1879, and that if not duly lodged with the Land Agent on or before the 10th day of November next, the selection will revert to Her Majesty, and the deposit will become forfeited.

2. Should you be desirous of obtaining an extension of time for making improvements to three years from the survey of the land, application to that effect should be made to accompany the declaration of residence and payment of balance or interest.

I have, &c.,

Mr. J. Adams to The Chief Commissioner.

Sir,

Albury, 3 July, 1879.

Please inquire into the matter of T. E. Hudson, and see how the affair stands.

Hudson selected the land referred to in both of the enclosed documents; has had possession of it ever since; and now he received one notice for a refund of the deposit paid, and another notice telling him to make the necessary declaration.

There is no valid reason why Hudson should not have the land.

Yours truly,

J. ADAMS.

Return the refund voucher, the land not being available for the reason therein stated, having been previously selected by Mr. Williams. The intimation as to transmission of declaration was dated prior to the cancellation, and forwarded—as of routine—in view of the approval of the time for transmission of the declaration.—A.O.M., 8/7/79.

In reference to your letter of the 28th May, 1879, concerning the land noted in the margin, which you stated it was your intention to submit for sale by public auction, I have to request you to do so without further delay, as I am afraid the matter has been overlooked by your Department.

An early reply is respectfully solicited.

The alienation of portion 8, of 100 acres, will not materially affect the travelling stock reserve. The applicant has informed me that he has made no additions to the improvements on the portion, and that he is willing to further improve the portion to the extent of £25, if he will be allowed afterwards to purchase it under the 2nd section. This will, I think, be the best course to adopt.—J. H. Wood, District-Surveyor, 29/6/83. The Surveyor-General.

Office Memorandum.

In this case the Minister decided on 78-10,752 Misc. (cover) that W. H. Williams was entitled to some consideration with regard to his conditional improvement purchase application dated 2nd August, 1876, for 100 acres, now portion 8, and therefore the land should be offered at auction with the value of the improvements (£79) added to the upset price for his protection.

Now it appears travelling stock reserve No. 1,781, notified 27th June, 1877, partly embraces this portion.

Applicant was apprised of the above decision, and on the 11th June, 1879, agreed to it.

Submitted whether step should be taken to cancel part of reserve or let the matter rest, unless reopened by Williams, as nothing has been done by him for three years towards getting the land sent to auction.

This is the main road from Albury to Tumberumba, and it will be seen, on reference to the sketch (herewith) that there is very little reservation near the portion applied for, there being only a 3-chain road for a distance of over 2 miles; therefore I think it would be very objectionable, in the interest of travelling stock, to cancel this portion of travelling stock reserve.—A.B., 12/3/84. Present position of these conditional improvement purchases.

CONDITIONAL improvement purchase 78 for 140 acres, on Little Billabong Run. Statutory declaration received. Found that the land is on the Falls Run. The refusal was determined upon, but the letters have not been sent. To be refused on 5 miles square test.

Conditional improvement purchase 79 for 40 acres on Falls Run. Applicant applied for a refund of his deposit hereon, as he had since discovered that land applied for by conditional improvement purchase 78 was not on Little Billabong Run but on the Falls Run. No determination has been come to in this case.

Conditional improvement purchase 883 for 100 acres, on Little Billabong Run, was refused by letter of 16/10/76, on the ground of right being exhausted by conditional improvement purchase 78. Applicant applied for reconsideration, as it appeared conditional improvement purchase 78 was for land on Falls Run. There did not appear to be any objection to this, but the survey officer stated that the the statutory declaration had not been received. The case was submitted on this memo., and Mr. Farnell approved of the refusal on this ground, which will involve forfeiture of 25 per cent. of the deposit; so that applicant by asking rehearing will only lose instead of gain, although it appears he was in the right.

There is a conditional purchase which clashes with one of these last conditional improvement purchases.

No. 47.

Mr. District-Surveyor J. H. Wood to The Surveyor General.

Sir,

District Survey Office, Albury, 6 April, 1884.

In compliance with your instructions of the 10th April, 1884, 139, I have the honor to inform you that the country at the south of portions 1, 8, 7, 6, and 33, is rough and hilly, and I do not think it would be desirable in the public interests to notify a travelling stock reserve in that direction. The public would prefer driving stock along the road, especially as it is for the most part 3 chains wide between the reserves (in no part is it 1 chain, as stated in Mr. Bruce's minute), and only for a distance of 70 chains is it  $1\frac{1}{2}$  chains wide.

2. It will be observed on referring to the enclosed sketch that there is a large reserve a quarter of a mile west of portion 8, and again the stock reserve  $1\frac{1}{2}$  miles east of that portion, so that this part of the road is amply provided with reserves; and I do not see how the public can be inconvenienced by the alienation of about 33 acres, being that part of the travelling stock reserve within portion 8.

I have, &c.,

J. H. WOOD,
District Surveyor.

In view of the further report of District-Surveyor Wood, it is submitted that the portion of travelling stock reserve 1,781A, within portion 8 be cancelled.—G. LEWIS (for the Surveyor-General), 14/5/84. The Under Secretary for Lands.

No. 49.

Office Memorandum.

Application under the 31st clause of the Lands Acts Amendment Act of 1875, by W. H. Williams, conditional improvement purchases 78 and 883.

Conditional improvement purchase 78, 140 acres, portion No. 13, in the parish of Carabost, county of Goulburn.

A DECISION was given on 76-10,171 Ms. that this application be refused under the 5-mile test, and also on account of the land being situated on two runs, and that applicant be informed that he could apply for the land under the second clause, having improved it to the extent of £1 per acre; but, as far as can be ascertained, the letter conveying that decision was not sent.

Conditional improvement purchase 883, 100 acres, portion 8, in the parish of Carabost, county of Goulburn. This application was refused on the ground that the right to purchase in virtue of Little Billabong Run had been exhausted by conditional improvement purchase 78; but as the surveyor reported that the land embraced by the latter application was, for the greater part, within the Falls Run, Mr. Secretary Hoskins decided, on 78-10,752, Ms. cover, that the land be submitted to auction, with the value of the improvements added to the upset price, and if not purchased by Williams, the proceeds of the sale of such improvements to be returned to him. The improvements effected on the land were found to be worth only £79, and as the area applied for was 100 acres, the refusal of the conditional improvement purchase application was upheld. A

A description was accordingly furnished for the withdrawal from travelling stock reserve No. 1,781A, of 33 acres, within portion 8; but Mr. Secretary Farnell decided, on the 16th May, 1884, that the reserve be retained.

Application has now been made by Messrs. Cape and Kent, on behalf of the Commercial Banking Company of Sydney, to have the cases reopened.

Portion 8 is within the leasehold area of Little Billabong and the Falls holding, and portion 13 is within the resumed area of the same holding. The Commercial Banking Company is the present lessee of both the runs referred to.

Submitted whether conditional improvement purchase 78 be refused and the deposit refunded, the land being situated on two runs, and whether portion No. 8 be offered at auction on the same terms as those approved of by Mr. Secretary Hoskins, a written guarantee to be first obtained from the lessees to the effect that, in the event of anyone else becoming the purchaser of the land, they will not claim compensation from the Crown on the ground of its being within their leasehold.

F.H.W. S.F.—It will be sufficient to refuse the application now outstanding, and refund the deposit, leaving the applicant to make any representations he may deem proper on the subject of the sale by auction. The land is now in a leasehold area.—C.O., 20/8/86.

Approved.—H.C., 20/8/86. Correspondence Branch to inform applicant, Land Agent, and Treasury.—J.O'D. (pro R. H. DE Low), 25/8/86. Treasury, Chairman, Agent, Albury, Messrs. Gentlemen,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 27 August, 1886.

Referring to your letter of the 8th April last, asking that the conditional improvement purchase noted in the margin should be proceeded with, I have the honor to inform you that, the land being situated on two runs, the application was refused by Mr. Secretary Garrett, which refusal Mr. Secretary Copeland has decided to uphold, and has approved of a refund being made of the deposit money lodged in connection therewith, amounting to £140, and for which a refund voucher payable to the order of Mr. W. H. Williams (the applicant) is now enclosed.

I have, &c.,

CHARLES OLIVER,
Under Secretary.

[Enclosure.]

(C.I.P. 78).

Sir,

I am directed to request that you will be good enough to refund to Mr. W. H. Williams, of Little Billabong, the sum of £140, credited at the Treasury, on the 19th September, 1875, being a deposit on conditional improvement application made by the above.

I have, &c.,

CHARLES OLIVER,
Under Secretary.

No. 53.

Messrs. Cape, Kent, and Gaden to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Commercial Union Chambers, Pitt and Hunter Streets,

Sir,

Sydney, 22 September, 1887.

The conditional improvement purchase of 140 acres, noted in the margin, was on 1st March, 1881, mortgaged by W. H. Williams to the Commercial Banking Company of Sydney. Such mortgage is still in existence and default has been made in payment of the moneys secured thereby. On 27th August, 1886, we were notified by the Department of Lands that the application for the improvement purchase was refused, and that a refund of the deposit money lodged in connection therewith, viz., £140, would be made.

The refund voucher then sent us having been made payable to the order of W. H. Williams, we have been unable to obtain payment.

196—C

Inasmuch

C.I.P. 78; local No. 75-3; 3rd September, 1875; W. H. Williams; 140 acres; portion 3; parish, Billabong; county, Goulburn, Albury.

Inasmuch as the Commercial Banking Company of Sydney are the holders of the lease of the runs upon which was this improvement purchase, and to whom had the application been proceeded with the grant would have issued, and as that bank as the legal mortgagees from Williams are entitled to the deposit of £140 representing the improvement purchase, we have to request that you will be pleased to authorize the payment of the refund to the order of the bank. In the meanwhile, we beg that you will record that the bank have the right to this money under the circumstances above stated, and that you will not pay over the same to any one without their order or authority.

We have, &c.,

CAPE, KENT, AND GADEN.

For papers. R.H.D., 4/10/87. Mr. Stuart. Herewith.—W.H.S., 7/10/87. Mr. De Low. Special. Submitted, in view of the Under Secretary's memo. of 20/8/86 on Ms. 86.15-416. No reason is, in my opinion, advanced for departing from the decision arrived at.—R.H.D., 7/10/87. In addition to the above, I may add that, so far as the parties to whom the money should be paid, the question is one for the Treasury and not for this Department.—R.H.D., 7/10/87. F.H.W.

Submitted for approval. This Department can only recognize the purchaser, Williams, who paid the money. There is nothing to show that he transferred his right of purchase or the deposit paid to the banking company. In any case, as pointed out by Mr. De Low, the matter is apparently for the Treasury Department to consider.—S.F., 12/10/87.

Submission approved.—T.G., 12/10/87. Correspondence Branch. Cape, Kent, and Gaden informed, 19/10/87.

Gentlemen,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 19 October, 1887.

Referring to your letter of the 22nd ultimo, respecting the conditional improvement purchase noted in the margin, I am to inform you that this Department can only recognize the purchaser Williams, who paid the money, and that there is nothing to show that he transferred his right of purchase, or the deposit paid, to the Commercial Banking Company of Sydney.

I am to add that, so far as regards the parties to whom the money should be paid, the question is one for the Treasury, and not for this Department, to deal with.

Sydney, 20 October, 1887.

Sir,

We have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 19th instant, 87-12,398 Ms. The Commercial Banking Company of Sydney claim, as mortgagee of the land which was applied to be purchased in this case (copy of which mortgage is herewith enclosed), and we submit for your consideration that the bank, as mortgagees thereof, have the sole claim to the money which represents the land.

In any event, we submit that the Government, having notice of this claim from the copy mortgage which is now enclosed, would not be justified in handing over the money to the mortgagor, W. H. Williams.

We have, &c.,

CAPE, KENT, AND GADEN.

Submitted, in connection with decision on 87-12,398 (next paper).

I am not aware that the Department is bound, or even called upon, to recognize a mortgagee. This Department has done all that is required of it. The rest is a matter between the Treasury and those who think they have a claim on the money. This Department has acknowledged the party transacting the business with it.—R.H.D., 8/11/87.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Messrs. Cape, Kent, and Gaden.

Gentlemen,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 15 December, 1887.

With reference to your letter of the 20th October last, urging that the Commercial Banking Company of Sydney, as mortgagees of the land, are entitled to the refund of deposit money in connection with the selection quoted in the margin. I am directed by the Secretary for Lands to inform you that this Department is not called upon to recognize a mortgagee. It has acknowledged the party transacting the business, and done all that is required of it. Anything further is a matter between the Treasury Department and those who think they have a claim on the money.

(C.P. No., 71-1,551.)

[Alienation Act, section 21.]

Land Agent's No., 28 of 1871.

Application by Robert Lamrock for the conditional purchase, without competition, of 40 acres unimproved Crown land, under section 21 of the Lands Alienation Act of 1861.

Received by me, with a deposit of £10, this 4th day of May, 1871, at 10:30 o'clock.—

GEORGE LEARY,

Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands, Mudgee.

Sir,

4 May, 1871.

I am desirous of purchasing, without competition, under the 21st section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, the portion of unimproved Crown land hereunder described, containing 40 acres, which adjoins my conditional purchase of 60 acres, made on the 9th January, 1868; and I herewith tender the sum of £10, being a deposit at the rate of 5s. per acre on the area for which I apply. Original purchase was made 9th January, 1868. First additional conditional purchase was made of 40 acres 9th January, 1868; another on 12th January, 1871, of 40 acres.

I am, &amp;c.,

ROBERT LAMROCK,

Gulgong.

To the Agent for the Sale of Crown Lands, Mudgee.

Description.

County of Phillip, parish of Gulgong, 40 acres, adjoining my original purchase, which was made 9th January, 1868. The land now applied for is the portion that was cancelled in April last.

Mr. J. F. Mann (if first conditional purchase is satisfactory) to measure, if unobjectionable, first conditional purchase, 68-52, 60 acres, noted 22nd June, 1871.—P.F.A., B.C., 22/6/71. This is a measured portion, No. 27, parish Gulgong. To accompany my report of this date.—J. F. MANN, 20th July, 71-90. Cancelled by 71-8,047, noted.

Telegram from The Miners of Three-mile Rush to The Secretary for Lands.

Mudgee, 15 June, 1871.

THE miners of Three-mile Rush respectfully state that gold exists in Lamrock's unimproved free selection. Within the proposed extension of this gold-field Lamrock is charging miners £1 per month to mine on it, and has Licensed-Surveyor Mann there to survey it. We respectfully request you at once to order that the survey be deferred until you receive full details of the matter by post. Land is being selected daily for speculative purposes. Messenger waits Mudgee till 5 this evening for instructions on matter.

Urgent. Is Lamrock's conditional purchase within the limits of a proclaimed gold-field, and is it made under the 14th section? It is within an area recommended by Mr. Gold-Commissioner Johnston, by urgent telegram, dated 15th (I think) May, 1871, for proclamation as an extension to the Gulgong Gold-field, which apparently has not yet appeared in Gazette.—J.E. An additional conditional purchase, made on 12th January last, should be cancelled, the first conditional purchase having been previously transferred. It has not been re-transferred to Lamrock. Urgent. Approved.—J.N.B., 15/6/71. Robert Lamrock, with refund form, and agent informed, 16/6/71.

No. 19.

Office Memorandum.

Conditional purchases 71-2,025-6-7 herewith.

SUBMITTED to the Chief Draftsman,—As to whether the enclosed applications may be allowed, being within the extended Gulgong Gold-field, notified 16th June, 1871. Applications made on the 15th June, 1871.

Urgent.

W.S.C., 30 June, 1871.

These conditional purchases appear to be all made by Robert Lamrock in virtue of an original conditional purchase made on the 9th January, 1868. How does this latter conditional purchase stand? One of the former additional purchases specified in present applications has been recently cancelled.—W.W.S., 1st July.

The original purchase was transferred by Robert Lamrock to Cuthbert Lamrock, on 19th June, 1869, and was retransferred by the latter to the former on 1st May, 1871. R. Lamrock made two additional applications on 12th January last, one being for a measured portion (No. 27), and the other an unmeasured portion. He was informed on the 22nd April last that one of these had been cancelled, although.

although it was not stated which one. The cancellation was, however, noted in the Conditional Purchase Register against the unmeasured portion, and a fresh application for the cancelled purchase was made on the 4th May last, after the original conditional purchase had been re-transferred. The other application (for portion 27) was overlooked, and was not cancelled until 16th June last. Both applications were cancelled, because the original conditional purchase had been previously transferred to Cuthbert Lamrock.—3rd July.

These selections must be cancelled, and deposit refunded.—J.B.W., 3rd July. R. Lamrock, with refund forms, and agent informed, 13th July, 1871.

No. 20.

Telegram from Mr. E. Young to The Secretary for Lands.

30 June, 1871.
WILL No. 27 block of land taken by Robert Lamrock on 12th January, 1871, be cancelled being required for mining purposes?
E. YOUNG,
Gulgong.

Mr. B.—Some recent action in this case I think.—W.W.S.

Yes.—On the 15th June the miners at Three-mile Rush, Mudgee, were informed that Lamrock's purchase dated 12th January, 1871, within the proposed extension of the Gulgong Gold-field, would be cancelled for another reason. The Land Agent was so informed on same day by letter.—W.B., 30/6/71.

No. 21.

Mr. J. B. Rowley to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Gulgong, 8 July, 1871.

I am requested by the diggers to solicit you for the number of the 40-acre block of land which your telegram stated was cancelled, it still being disputed by Mr. Lamrock. He states that he selected 240 acres on the 12th of January this year, and that being the case it prevents the miners from digging on the ground until your reply. May I beg that you will be pleased to cause an answer to be forwarded as quickly as possible.

I am, &c.,

JOHN BATE ROWLEY.

Please Address: John Bate Rowley, Post Office, Gulgong.

27 is the number of the portion referred to, but Mr. Rowley may be informed that all the conditional purchases made by Robert Lamrock during the current year have been cancelled. 14th July. Inform. J. B. ROWLEY, 17/7/71.

R. Lamrock with refund form and agent with respect to conditional purchase 71-1,551, 17/7/71. Ask surveyor to return application. The application has been returned, and is now with papers, 27/7/71.

71-8,047 Aln.—Papers herewith, 27th; P. 678-1,524. This conditional purchase has been cancelled, as being within extended Gulgong Gold-field. Noted, 27/7/71. This application being under 21st clause no report was required.—F.W.W., 14/8/71.

No. 36.

Mr. J. D. Brodribb to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir, Mudgee, 5 August, 1871.

C.P. 71-1,551;
C.P. 71-2,027;
C.P. 71-2,028;
C.P. 71-2,025.

Mr. Robert Lamrock has consulted me as to your circulars, as noted in the margin, stating that the several selections made by him on the 4th day of May, and the 15th of June last had been cancelled, as being within the Gulgong gold-fields.

On reference to the Gazette, I find on the 16th of June last a special proclamation, restricting the lands on the Gulgong gold-fields from selection.

The selections referred to in the circulars noted in the margin were, however, all made previously to that date.

I have carefully looked through the Crown Lands Alienation Act, and cannot find, either in the Act or the regulations, made in pursuance of the same, any authority for the cancellation of the selections in the manner stated in the notifications noted in the margin.

As it is not the wish of my client to act in an hostile manner in the matter, I shall be glad to be informed of the grounds on, and by what authority, such selections have been cancelled.

I have, &c.,

J. DUDDEN BRODRIBB.

Papers herewith, 14/8/71. Aln. Branch. Mr. Brown, 17.

The conditional purchases alluded to were made prior to the proclamation on the 16th June, 1871, of the southern extension to the Gulgong gold-fields, within which the land is situated, but they were cancelled because the applications were subsequent to the recommendation by the Gold Commissioner that such extension to the gold-field should be proclaimed.—W.B., 21 August.

No. 37.

Office Memorandum.

On 9th January, 1868, Robert Lamrock made a conditional purchase under the 13th clause, which, with an additional one made on same day, he transferred to Cuthbert Lamrock on 19th June, 1869.

On 12th January, 1871, Robert Lamrock made two more additional conditional purchases, one No. 27, a measured portion, the other (71-75) an unmeasured portion.

These two purchases should at once have been cancelled on account of the alienation of the conditional purchase under the 13th clause previously to Cuthbert Lamrock. Only one application, that for the unmeasured portion was cancelled, the other No. 27 (which appears to be the portion specially required by the miners) was overlooked.

Robert Lamrock, on 1st May, 1871, having obtained a retransfer from Cuthbert Lamrock of the conditional purchase, under the 13th clause, applied again on 4th May for the additional conditional purchase which was cancelled in April.

The other application for portion 27 was cancelled on the 16th June, the date of the proclamation of the gold-field, and has not been reselected.

The results seem to me to be this: Robert Lamrock has no title to portion 27, which he never reselected, and no title to 71-75, which, when reselected, did not adjoin his original conditional purchase retransferred to him by Cuthbert Lamrock. The other conditional purchases are not affected.
The Under Secretary for Lands. W.B., 5/10/71.

Nos. 27 and 71-75 were void as selections, because Mr. Lamrock was not possessed of any land adjoining, he having transferred to Cuthbert Lamrock the selections being applied for under the 21st clause of the Act as additional conditional purchases 71-75, and the others have since been applied for as additional conditional purchase as adjoining No. 27, which is not Mr. Lamrock's property, never having been applied for.—J.B.W., 5/10/71.

No. 38.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Mr. J. D. Brodribb.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 6 October, 1871.

With reference to your letter of 5th August last, on behalf of Mr. Robert Lamrock, respecting the cancellation of certain of his additional conditional purchases of 40 acres each at Mudgee, I am directed to inform you that without referring to any other grounds for cancellation, portion No. 27 and the unmeasured portion, situated partly on the east side of it, being applied for under the 21st clause of the Land Act as additional conditional purchases, were void as selections, because Mr. Lamrock was not possessed of any land adjoining, he having previously transferred the original selection to Cuthbert Lamrock.

2. I am to state that the unmeasured portion alluded to and others have since been applied for as additional conditional purchases as adjoining No. 27, which is not Mr. Lamrock's property, never having been legally applied for.

I have, &amp;c.,

W. W. STEPHEN.

No. 39.

Mr. G. M. Dunn to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Mudgee, 1 June, 1872.

I have the honor to draw your attention to the following facts relative to certain free selections taken up by my client, Mr. Robert Lamrock:—

On the 4th May, 1871, he selected at Mudgee 40 acres of land at Castlereagh Flat, near Gulgong, and occupied and improved same.

On the 15th June he selected at Mudgee three blocks of 40 acres each, adjoining his first selection, and improved same.

Upon the 16th June this land was proclaimed as a gold-field, and his selections cancelled in July.

In the first place my client, who has expended a large amount in fencing and improvements, thinks he has been harshly dealt with, inasmuch as his selections were strictly legal, being before the issue of the proclamation. And secondly, inasmuch as this land was never tried for gold, as not believed to be auriferous, and at the present time there are no miners at work in the immediate locality.

I would invite your attention to this matter, in order that my client may obtain his just rights in the premises.

I have, &amp;c.,

GEO. M. DUNN,

(Per E. C.)

Papers were fully dealt with in this branch five months ago, then sent up to Charting Branch for final notation. They have not since been here, and should now be put by at Records, 24/6/72. Found by me at Records.—C.N., 27/6/72. This case being rather complicated, will be much better understood by personal explanation than by any further memorandum.—W.B., 28/6/72.

No. 27, conditional purchase 71-74, was not cancelled on account of being in a proclaimed gold-field, but on account of Lamrock not having a right to an additional selection, he having parted with his original selection that gave that right. An error has been committed in cancelling conditional purchase 71-2,025, 2,026, and 2,027, therefore I decide that Lamrock is entitled to the selections corresponding to the above last-mentioned three numbers.—J.S.F., 17/7/72. G. M. Dunn.

J. G. L. Innes, 25/7/72. Then to Mr. Thompson to inform Land Agent and Treasury. Agent and Treasury, 24/8/72. Charting Branch. Application enclosed, noted to Mr. J. F. Mann. Mr. J. F. Mann accordingly.—P.F.A., Surveyor-General, 28/8/72.

No. 40.

Mr. R. Lamrock to The Honorable J. G. L. Innes.

Dear Sir,

Castlereagh Flat, near Gulgong, 10 July, 1872.

Since not hearing from you, I take the liberty of writing to remind you about my land. You promised me that you would see the Minister for Lands when you went to Sydney, and bring the matter through to a settlement. Mr. Surveyor Mann always tells me that I shall get the lands, as they are not auriferous, and that I am legally in possession. Every respectable person that hears of it says that I have been badly treated with the last Ministry. The lands are all fenced with a three-rail fence, and several dams on them. I am at a loss not getting the land cropped. I have not written to any other till such time as I hear from you. I also supported Mr. Buchanan, and my brother proposed Mr. Piddington, at Windsor; so I think I have plenty of influence in the present Ministry to have a just cause put to rights.

The land has been surveyed and numbered by Mr. Surveyor Mann. Number as follows:—48, 49, 50, 51, 27. They are all 40-acre blocks, 27 being charted. Hoping that you will pardon my bad writing.

I have, &amp;c.

ROBERT LAMROCK.

Please send me an answer by the Gulgong post.

N.B.—I also supported Mr. Parkes, your predecessor, so if you want any assistance you might call on these gentlemen, as I am sure they will most happily oblige yours respectfully.—R. LAMROCK.

Will Mr. Blackman look to this, and inform me after lunch?—J.S.F.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 25 July, 1872.

With reference to your letter of 1st ultimo, on behalf of Mr. Robert Lamrock, respecting the cancellation of certain conditional purchases made by him at Mudgee, I am directed to inform you that Mr. Lamrock's application for portion No. 27 was not cancelled on account of the land being within a proclaimed gold-field, but because of his not having a right to make an additional selection, he having parted with the original selection, which gave that right to him.

2. I am to state that the three conditional purchases of 40 acres each, made on the 15th June, 1871 (Land Agent's Nos. 71, 39, 40, and 41), appear to have been cancelled in error, and the Secretary for Lands has decided, therefore, that Mr. Lamrock shall be allowed to retain them.

With reference to the letter addressed to you by Mr. Robert Lamrock, on 10th instant, respecting certain cancelled conditional purchases made by him at Mudgee, I am directed to inform you that Mr. Lamrock has this day been apprised, through his solicitor, that his application for portion No. 27 was not cancelled on account of the land being within a proclaimed gold-field, but because of his not having a right to make an additional selection, he having parted with the original selection, which gave that right to him. He has, however, been informed that the three conditional purchases of 40 acres each, made on 15th June, 1871, appear to have been cancelled in error, and that the Secretary for Lands has therefore decided that he shall be allowed to retain them.

[Alienation Act.]

(C.P. No., 68-52.)

Declaration of conditional purchaser, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, in cases where there has been alienation of the land.

I, ROBERT LAMROCK, of Castlereagh Flat, near Gulgong, do solemnly and sincerely declare that I am the lawful owner, by conditional purchase, under the 13th section of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, of the land hereunder described, and that improvements, consisting of a house, fencing, dams and clearing, and to the value of £60, have been made on such land; and I declare further that the said land has been the bona fide residence continuously of Cuthbert Lamrock and myself respectively from the period of selection and first occupation to the present date, and that no alienation of the land has been made by any of the abovenamed holders until after the residence thereon of such holder for a period of one whole year, each alienation having been notified to the Land Agent of the district within one month of its having been made. I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the more effectual abolition of oaths and affirmations taken and made in various departments of the Government of New South Wales, and to substitute declarations in lieu thereof, and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial oaths and affidavits."

No. 61.

The Under Secretary for Lands to The Manager of the Bank of New South Wales, Gulgong.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 8 September, 1883.

The Colonial Treasurer having forwarded to this department the declaration made by Robert Lamrock at Mudgee, on the 30th October, 1872, with reference to the conditional purchase described at foot hereof, and having reported that interest on the balance of purchase money, has been received at the Treasury, I am now directed by the Minister for Lands to notify to you that he is satisfied, after due inquiry, that the conditions as to residence and improvement, prescribed by the 18th clause of the Crown Lands Alienation Act of 1861, have been completed in respect of the said conditional purchase.

The deed of grant may be obtained at any time hereafter by payment of the balance of the purchase money, with the interest, if any, then due ; but should such payment be deferred an interest at the rate of 5 per cent. must be paid between the 1st January and 31st March in each year, until the balance, inclusive of interest as prescribed by law, shall have been duly paid, otherwise the selection will be forfeited.

I have, &amp;c.,

CHARLES OLIVER,
Under Secretary.

Conditional purchase, No., 68-52, section 13 ; district, Mudgee ; date, 9th January, 1868 ; county, Phillip ; parish, Gulgong ; No. of portion, 17 ; area, 60 acres ; original applicant, Robert Lamrock ; present holder, Bank of New South Wales.

No. 66.

Mr. R. Lamrock to D. Cassin, Esq.

Dear Sir,

Springfield, near Gulgong, 7 June, 1887.

Referring to the recent conversation which we had respecting the 40 acres of land adjoining my farm, I beg to append the following particulars for your information, and to request that you will please endeavour to procure from the Minister for Lands permission for me to hold and purchase the same, in the same way as the land I am now possessed of, and I trust you will be successful in this matter, as you have been in all other applications respecting land made by persons in this district.

I have, &c.,

ROBERT LAMROCK.

[Enclosure.]

STATEMENT of Robert Lamrock, re 40-acre block.

ON the 15th June, in the year 1871, I took up four blocks of land numbered respectively 48, 49, 50, and 51, all of which were cancelled after survey.

I hold now the numbers 48 to 50, all of which were revoked. No. 51 which is now No. 322, was not revoked as the then surveyor, Mr. Mann said it was not on the gold-field, as it was inside the boundary.

Blocks of land adjacent, were obtained by Messrs. James Eagan and Patrick Boyle, farmers, some years back, and there is not the slightest doubt that those lands are situate on the proclaimed gold-field.

Some four years I got the deposit money, £10, refunded to me from the Department of Lands, on this 40-acre block No. 324, which I drew in due course.

I may mention that the land (40 acres) has been fenced by me, and a dam has been excavated thereon.

ROBERT LAMROCK.

Presented by Mr. Wall, M.P. Mr. Williams will please state on a separate paper what has been done, and when the lease was referred, if it was referred.—S.F., 10/6/87. Referred to Charting Branch to identify if possible the land referred to No. 324.—W.H.C., 14/6/87.

There is a measured portion 324, of 44½ acres, in the parish of Gulgong, county Phillip, plan P. 1,400; but I am unable to state conditional purchase number, if ever applied for, as the plan is at the District Survey Office. The portion stands vacant on parish map.—J.T.K., 27/6/87.

Mr. Capper,—Records to register letter of the 7th ultimo.—W.H.C., 14/7/87. The papers may be referred to the District Surveyor for report, and the writer so informed.—W.H.C., 31/8/87. Yes.—F.H.W. ## No. 67.

The Under Secretary for Lands to W. C. Wall, Esq., M.P.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 9 September, 1887.

Referring to the communication presented by you from Mr. D. Cassin, Mudgee, relative to the claim of Robert Lamrock, to certain land in the parish of Gulgong, county of Phillip, I have the honor to inform you that the matter has been referred to the District Surveyor for report.

No. 68.

Memo. from The Acting District Surveyor, Orange, to The Under Secretary for Lands.

(C.S. 87-3,880.)

Robert Lamrock's additional conditional purchase, 71-75; 40 acres; Mudgee Land District.

MR. R. LAMROCK is in error in stating that he applied for four blocks, of 40 acres each, portions 48, 49, 50 and 51, on 15th June, 1871, and that portion 51 is now 324. See Plan.

The facts are these:—On 12th January, 1871, R. Lamrock applied for additional conditional purchases 71-74 (portion 27), and 71-75 (portion 51), but having transferred the original conditional purchase 68-52 to C. Lamrock on 19th June, 1869, they were cancelled. On 20th April, 1871, C. Lamrock re-transferred to R. Lamrock conditional purchase 68-52. On 4th May, 1871, R. Lamrock re-selected portion 27 (additional conditional purchase 71-1,551.) This was cancelled, and, if in error, Robert Lamrock accepted the cancellation, for he purchased the land on 4th August, 1877, after auction.

On 15th June, 1871, R. Lamrock applied for three 40 acres—(portions 48, 49, and 50.) Additional conditional purchases 71-2,025; 71-2,026; and 71-2,027. These were cancelled in error, but reinstated by Ministerial direction (Aln. 72-6,912).

Mr. Mann's survey of portion 51 was apparently never sent in to Surveyor-General.

During an inspection in 1885 I found the measurement which is now covered by Mr. Abernethy's measurement of portion 322, not 324, as stated by Mr. Lamrock.

There was no dam on portion 322 (51) in 1885, and only some rough fencing near east boundary, forming part of a ring fence enclosing selections and Crown lands. Mr. Abernethy shows no dam on 322 in February, 1886.

T. W. CONOLLY,
Acting District Surveyor.

It is clear from this report of the Acting District Surveyor at Orange, that Robert Lamrock has no claim to portion 322 (formerly 51), under his additional conditional purchase application 71-75, cancelled on 22nd April, 1871. The portion is now within reserve from conditional purchase No. 46, on account of gold, notified 16th June, 1871, and the Gulgong temporary common, proclaimed 13th June, 1881, and partly within the Gulgong population area, re-proclaimed 26th June, 1886, and, consequently is not open to conditional purchase. It is, therefore, recommended that applicant be informed accordingly.—E. TWYNNAM, Acting Surveyor-General, 21/12/87.

R.M., 20/12/87. The Under Secretary for Lands.—It might be expedient to refer this case for consideration of the Local Land Board.—E.T. For approval.—F.H.W., S.F., 23/12/87. Approved.—T.G., 27/12/87. The Chairman, Local Land Board, Orange, 4/1/88.

THE enclosed papers referring to the conditional purchase quoted in the margin are forwarded to the Chairman of the Local Land Board, Orange; for consideration of the Board.

W.H.C. B.C., 14/1/88. Noted at Records, 14/1/88. Board meeting, Mudgee, 8/2/88. Robert Lamrock informed.—L.B.O., Orange, 19/1/88.

Mr. Lamrock is not in a position to show that he made a fourth selection; as he alleges on the same day that he made the three additional conditional purchases 71-2,025, 2,026, and 2,027 (viz.: 15th June, 1871), and as the Conditional Purchase Registers in the Crown Lands Office do not show that a fourth application was made by Lamrock on that day, the claim must be considered as unsupported. Lamrock alleges that the Registers in the Head Office in Sydney show that the fourth application was made, but we believe he is mistaken in the matter. Portion 322 is the portion to which the claim applies.

No. 70.

The Under Secretary for Lands to W. C. Wall, Esq., M.P.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 20 March, 1888.

With further reference to the letter forwarded by you to this department from Mr. Robert Lamrock of Springfield, near Gulgong, relative to portion 322 (formerly No. 51), in the parish of Gulgong, county of Phillip. I am directed by the Minister for Lands to inform you that it is clear, from a report of the Acting District Surveyor at Orange, that Mr. Lamrock has no claim to the portion in question, under his additional conditional purchase application, No. 71-75, cancelled on the 22nd April, 1871. The portion is now within reserve from conditional purchase No. 46, on account of gold notified 16th June, 1871, and the Gulgong Temporary Common proclaimed 13th June, 1881, partly within the Gulgong population area, re-proclaimed 26th June, 1886, and consequently not open to conditional purchase.

No. 71.

Mr. J. Hollow to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Canadian Lead, 1 October, 1888.

I have the honor to inform you that the Crown Land Agent at Mudgee has called upon me for arrears of interest on my validated conditional purchase, 70-205, 3rd March, 1870, 40 acres, county Phillip, parish of Gulgong.

I would respectfully point out that this demand is one of great hardship, as for years I did not occupy the land until I appended fund as a pre-emptive lease, and that from the time it became my lease I have regularly paid the amount of rent demanded from me; and from this fact I think some concession should be made from the amount now asked for, viz., £23 15s.

I have, &c.,
JAMES HOLLOW.

Papers, 86-39,908, Department, noted. District Surveyor, Orange, B.C., 18/9/88. J.P.M., 10/10/88. May be informed that the validity of the conditional purchase will depend upon the payment of the arrears of interest due.—W.H.C., 13/10/88. F.H.W. Yes.—S.F., 27/10/88. J. Hollow informed.—H.L.F., 29/10/88. Papers still the same.—R.H.W.O., 18/4/89. Mr. Capper. The District Surveyor may be requested to expedite local action and return the papers.—W.H.C., 25/4/89. The Under Secretary for Lands to Mr. J. Hollow.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 29th October, 1888.

Referring to your letter of the 1st instant, respecting the conditional purchase noted in the margin, I have the honor to inform you that the validity of the purchase in question will depend upon the payment of the arrears of interest due.

No. 73.

W. C. Wall, Esq., M.P., to The Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

Legislative Assembly, 21 November, 1888.

I have the honor to bring under your notice the following case, in which I think a very great injustice has been done:—

One, Robert Lamrock, applied for a conditional purchase of 40 acres in the county of Phillip, parish of Gulgong, on the 15th of June, 1871. Subsequent to the application being lodged the land was said to be proclaimed a reserve for gold-mining purposes, and the application was refused. Mr. Lamrock, after considerable delay, got his case referred to the Local Land Board, and the Board, after inquiry, held that the refusal must be upheld, as the land was within the temporary common, and also within the population boundary of the Municipality of Gulgong. I think, sir, it will be seen at once that the latter circumstances had nothing whatever to do with the validity of Mr. Lamrock's application, as at the date of application no common existed, nor for years after was there any population boundary defined; and further, I submit that it cannot be shown that this portion of land is included within the gold-field reserve; but in any case, I respectfully submit it was open to selection at the time applied for, and therefore should have been granted.

In conclusion, I would submit that several cases of a like character have been dealt with in the vicinity, namely, Eagan, Boyle, and Hollow, in which the selections were validated. I would most respectfully urge that the same course be adopted in respect to Mr. Lamrock's.

I have, &amp;c.,

W. C. WALL,

Legislative Assembly.

Additional conditional, 71-2,025; declaration, 74-18,132. Let me have the papers in Mr. Lamrock's case.—J.N.B., 21/12/88.

Robert Lamrock.

On 9th January, 1868, Robert Lamrock applied for conditional purchases 68-52 and 68-53 of 60 acres and 40 acres respectively, and on 19th June, 1869, he transferred them to Cuthbert Lamrock. On 12th January, 1871, R. Lamrock applied for additional conditional purchases 71, 74, and 75, which were declared void, as the original conditional purchase did not stand in his name, having been transferred to Cuthbert Lamrock, as before stated. C. Lamrock re-transferred conditional purchases 68-52 and 53 to R. Lamrock on 20th April, 1871, and on 4th May of the same year the latter re-selected portion 27 under additional conditional purchase 71-1,551, which was subsequently cancelled and purchased after auction by him on 4th August, 1877. By additional conditional purchases 71-2,025, 2,026, and 2,027. Robert Lamrock applied for portions 48, 49, and 50, and the certificates of conformity upon these additional conditional purchases were issued on 8th September, 1883.

By letter of 7th June, 1887, Lamrock stated that he had fenced in and excavated a dam upon portion 322 (formerly 51), which was declared void under his additional conditional purchase 71-1,551, and he asked to be allowed to hold same; he at the same time spoke of the portion as having been selected by him on the same day as his additional conditional purchases 71-2,025, 2,026, and 2,027, which, however, is incorrect, as he only made the three selections on that day.

This letter was referred to the District Surveyor, who made a report on 21st October, 1887, and in view of his report the following minute was written by the Surveyor-General:—

"It is clear from this report of the Acting District Surveyor at Orange that Robert Lamrock has no claim to portion 322 (formerly 51), under his additional conditional purchase application 71-75, cancelled on 22nd April, 1871. The portion is now within reserve from conditional purchase No. 46, on account of gold, notified 16th June, 1871, and the Gulgong Temporary Common, proclaimed 13th June, 1881, and partly within the Gulgong population area, re-proclaimed 26th June, 1886, and consequently is not open to conditional purchase. It is therefore recommended that applicant be informed accordingly."

"It might be expedient to refer this case for consideration of the Local Land Board."

This minute was approved by Mr. Secretary Garrett, and on 4th January last the papers were referred to the Chairman of the Orange Land Board, who returned them on 8th February, with the following minute by the Board:—

"Mr. Lamrock is not in a position to show that he made a fourth selection, as he alleges, on the same day that he made the three additional conditional purchases, 71-2,025, 2,026, and 2,027 (viz., 15th June, 1871), and as the Conditional Purchase Registers in the Crown Lands Office do not show that a fourth application was made by Lamrock on that day, the claim must be considered as unsupported. Lamrock alleges that the registers in the head office in Sydney show that the fourth application was made, but we believe that he is mistaken in the matter. Portion 322 is the portion to which the claim applied."

Lamrock was thereupon informed on 20th March last in terms of the Acting Surveyor-General's minute of 21st December, 1887, but by letter of 21st instant the claim is again renewed on his behalf by Mr. Wall, M.P.

The Under Secretary.

Office Memorandum.

Robert Lamrock, Mudgee; additional conditional purchase 71-75; 21st section; 40 acres; 12th January, 1871; portion 51, now portion 322, void.

As Mr. Wall's letter enclosed is apparently written on a misconception of the facts, he may be informed that Lamrock's conditional purchase 71-75, 40 acres, portion 322, formerly portion 51, was declared void, as the original conditional purchase, in virtue of which it was applied for, did not at date of application, 12th January, 1871, stand in Robert Lamrock's name, and also that after this original conditional purchase was retransferred to R. Lamrock, he did not, as stated by him, make a further application on the 15th June, 1871, for the same land (portion 51).

Mr. Wall may also be furnished with a copy of the Board's decision, as he appears to be in ignorance of the grounds on which that decision is based.

Yes.—F.H.W. (for the Under Secretary), 20/6/89. W. C. Wall, M.P., informed, and copy of decision forwarded, 25/6/89. May now be put away.—W.H.C., 8/7/89.

No. 77.

The Under Secretary for Lands to W. C. Wall, Esq., M.P.

Sir,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 25 June, 1889.

Referring to your letter respecting the conditional purchase noted in the margin, I have the honor to inform you that the purchase in question was declared void as the original conditional purchase in virtue of which it was applied for, did not, at date of application, 12th January, 1871, stand in the name of R. Lamrock, and that after the original conditional purchase was re-transferred to Mr. Lamrock, he did not, as stated by him, make a further application on the 15th June, 1871, for the same land.

Copy of the Land Board's decision is herewith forwarded for your information, as you appear to be in ignorance of the grounds on which that decision is based.

I have, &c.

W. H. CAPPER,

(For the Under Secretary.)

[Enclosure.]

Copy of Minute referred to.

MR. LAMROCK is not in a position to show that he made a fourth selection, as he alleges, on the same day that he made the three additional conditional purchases, 71-2,025, 2,026, and 2,027, viz., 15th June, 1871, and as the Conditional Purchase Registers in the Crown Lands Office do not show that a fourth application was made by Lamrock on that day, the claim must be considered as unsupported.

Lamrock alleges that the registers in the Head Office in Sydney, shows that the fourth application was made, but we believe he is mistaken in the matter. Portion 322 is the portion to which the claim applies. Land Board Meeting, Mudgee, 8th February, 1888.

Land Court, No. 120.

Case No. 120, appeal by George Curry, against decision of Cootamundra Local Land
Board, A.C.P. 89-59, 12 December, 1889, 472 acres, Coota-mundra.

Sir,

I am directed by the Secretary for Lands to forward herewith a statement embodying some considerations in connection with the case quoted in the margin, and to request that the same may be filed with the papers.

I have, &c.,
WM. HOUSTON,
Under Secretary.

It is shown that on the 12th December, 1889, George Curry, being the holder of a conditional lease under section 52 of the Crown Lands Act of 1884, applied for an additional conditional purchase of land held under such lease. The land applied for forms part of the Muttama Gold-field, which was reserved from conditional purchase by notice in the Government Gazette of the 20th May, 1889. It is contended for the Crown that the land was at the date of Curry’s application for conditional purchase, and still is, barred from conditional purchase by the Acts in force.

Section 21 of the Crown Lands Act of 1884 sets forth that Crown lands belonging to certain specified classes are exempt from conditional sale, and included among the classes referred to are “lands in proclaimed gold-fields within areas reserved from conditional sale.”

Section 25 of the Crown Lands Act of 1889 provides that “the holder of any conditional lease, in respect of which no forfeiture shall have been incurred, may at any time apply for the whole or part of the land comprised under such lease as an additional conditional purchase or purchases, subject to all the provisions of the principal Act, and this Act, as to the making of applications, available land, area, deposits, measurement, and all other conditions applicable to ordinary additional conditional purchases other than the condition of residence.”

246—

[870 copies—Approximate Cost of Printing (labour and material) £1 12s. 1d.]

This

This section does not give the conditional lessee an unqualified right of purchase. It merely provides that he may apply to purchase, and it then explicitly sets forth that any application made must sustain the same criticism as would be extended to an application for a conditional purchase of land not held under conditional lease. The circumstance is not to be overlooked that conditional leases, when granted, included in many cases lands comprised in important travelling stock, water, and other reserves. These lands were formerly held under pre-emptive lease; and the fact of their being granted under conditional lease is intelligible in view of the terms of section 52 of the Act of 1884, and the fact that until the commencement of the Crown Lands Act of 1889 the holder of the conditional lease was not empowered to purchase. It is reasonable therefore to suggest that the qualifications to be found in section 25 of the Act of 1889 were introduced in recognition of the fact of conditional leases comprising reserved lands, the retention of which might be, and, in many instances, will be, of great importance in the public interest. The Crown contends that the words "available land," in section 25 of the Act of 1889, as contradistinguished from the word "area," mean land not exempt from conditional sale; and that the provisions of that section are to be read with those of section 21 of the Act of 1884, which, in express terms, declares that such land as the appellant has applied for is exempt from conditional purchase. It is therefore contended by the Crown that the Local Land Board acted correctly by disallowing the conditional purchase application in question.—W.H., 30/4/90.

No. 1.

Messrs. Griffiths & Co. to The Under Secretary for Lands.

Sir,

10, O'Connell-street, June, 1886.

Accompanying this we send an application from the holders of Wooroowoolgen, Eastern Division, in counties of Rous and Richmond, to surrender lands within the resumed area by way of exchange for lands in the leasehold area, and in so doing we wish to point out to you our reasons and remarks in favour of such exchanges.

We are naturally anxious to consolidate our freehold by acquiring some measured but unalienated portions of lands situated in the midst of such freeholds, as well as some reserves that are on and with said exchanges will be surrounded by freeholds, but we allude especially to these reserves each one separated later on.

The advantages of said exchanges to the Government are, that in the resumed areas we give up lands that have been carefully picked out and bought, on account of their being key-stones to the positions which we were forced to purchase, to enable us to work this part of the run, and the fact of these choice pieces being again thrown open will give an impetus to selection and settlement to the country, whereas the lands we wish to take in exchange are barred from selection for at least five years, and are then very unavailable, as being surrounded by our freeholds.

The reserves we apply for are as follows:—

Water reserve 515, parish of Queebun, county of Rous, adjoins and is surrounded by our freeholds, and accompanying applications, and is of no use to any one else. The only selector near having ample water frontage to the creek.

Water reserve 130, parish of Bundock, county of Richmond, is surrounded by our freeholds, with exception of selected portions, Nos. 130 and 143, and both of these have ample water within their own limits.

Water reserve 230, parish of Bundock, county of Richmond, is similarly surrounded by our lands, with exception of selection No. 134, which has sufficient water within its own limits.

Water reserve 277 is an extension of above, is completely surrounded by our freeholds, and useless to anyone else.

Reserve 516, close to water reserve 230, completely surrounded by our own freehold, and useless to anyone else.

Reserve 389, completely surrounded by freeholds, and useless to anyone else.

Reserve 904, surrounded on three sides by our freeholds, on side across the creek, by camping reserve, which is already sufficiently large.

Water reserve 131, parish of Wooroowoolgen, county of Richmond, is surrounded by our freeholds, with exception of about 45 chains abutting population reserve of Casino township; no use to anyone but ourselves, the population reserve being well watered.

Reserve 687, portion consisting of measured portions 88, 89, 90, 91, 93, and 94, part of southern boundary of population reserve, is much cut up by our freeholds, and has no access, except from said reserve.

Water reserve 549, parish of Shannon, county of Richmond. We only apply for what is contained in measured portion 45, jammed in between our freeholds, and not required for water rights, which are amply provided for by water reserve 464.

Reserve 593, almost surrounded by freehold, not required for water right, water reserve 464 being close by water reserve 454; surrounded by freeholds and lands now applied for, with exception of selections on either side of creek frontages, and not therefore required by them. This is our only connection across Shannon Brook, all other crossings being blocked by selections.

Water reserve 547, not required by surrounding selectors, who have creek frontages, and would be exceedingly useful to us to include in our paddock across the creek.

Water reserve 393, adjoining our freehold Crown lands at back steep, rocky, and useless for selection, even when available. The selector adjoining on other side of reserve has large water frontage on his selection, and open country, as large open frontage to Middle Creek.

Water reserve 128, parish of Coombell, county of Richmond, almost surrounded by our freeholds and lands now applied for; open country, well provided for access to creek by reserve 469.

Water reserve 548, portion contained in measured portion No. 25 only applied for; lies between freeholds, and not required for water rights, as portion unapplied for contains a swamp.

Water reserve 493, exactly similar conditions to above.

Reserve

Reserve 650, parish of Mongogarie, county of Richmond, adjoining our freehold and M'Kee's lease, nor required by latter, as his conditional lease contains very large water frontage to Middle Creek.

We trust that our reasons and remarks will be considered fair and good, and that our application will receive the approval of the Minister for Lands, to whom we have, through Mr. Neville Griffiths, already verbally initiated the exchanges.

We further trust that the application will meet with the most convenient despatch.

We have, &c.,

W. AND F. FANNING

(By their Agents, GRIFFITHS & Co.)

P.S.—We desire to reiterate that we are giving up the whole command of the resumed area; that we are giving up choice pieces of good land; that we are, with the object of consolidating, asking for much inferior land, and that we have, as will be seen by reference to maps, not asked for one reserve which is necessary for public purpose.—G. & Co.

Mr. Houston.—C.O., 16/6/86. Mr. Houston,—The attached lithograph shows by red tint the land offered for surrender, and by blue tint the land applied for in exchange. This case has not yet been investigated in detail.—C.J.S., 24/7/86.

The writers may be informed that a preliminary investigation of their proposal to surrender certain lands on the Woorooloolgen Pastoral Holding in exchange for other lands on the leasehold area discloses no technical objection to carrying out the arrangement. A detailed examination must, however, be made, and the papers will be forwarded to the District Surveyor, for a report as to whether the proposed alienations can be effected without prejudice to the public interest. The cost of survey of the land desired in exchange must be borne by the run-holders. It is estimated that in this case the charge will amount to about £120. On the concurrence of the lessees to these terms the papers can be immediately remitted to the District Surveyor for the report required, which should also embrace the consideration as to whether any of the lands proposed to be surrendered should be reserved for public purposes.—W.H., 16/8/86.

The Under Secretary, for approval. It appears to me that the applicants for surrender, exchange, &c., should pay cost of survey.—C.O., 28/7/86. Approved.—H.C., 30/8/86. Messrs. Fanning, care of Griffiths & Co.—H.L.T., 6/9/89. Occupation Branch.

[Crown Lands Act of 1884 (part IV, section 75.)

Application by a Run-holder to surrender land situate within a resumed area, by way of exchange with other land.

Sydney, 16 June, 1886.

In accordance with the provisions of the Crown Lands Act of 1884, we, William and Frederick Fanning, being holders of grants of the land hereunder described, within resumed area 292, Eastern Division, hereby apply to surrender the same in exchange for an equal area within our leasehold area No. 292, and subject to the compensation for the improvements on the said land, particulars of which are set forth in the Schedule on the back hereof.

The declaration prescribed by the regulations under the said Act is annexed hereto.

W. AND F. FANNING

(By their Attorney, C. CECIL GRIFFITHS.)

To the Under Secretary for Lands.

Description of land to be surrendered.

Eastern Division, county of Richmond, parishes, sundry (per Schedule A), portion ditto, containing 6,830 acres (as per Schedule A). Land to be exchanged therefor particularized in Schedule B., containing 6,830 acres.

Schedule of improvements on the land to be surrendered.

Improvements consist of some boundary fencing and small yards.

Declaration by a Run-holder desirous of surrendering land on a resumed area by way of exchange for other land.

I, CHARLES CECIL GRIFFITHS, on behalf of W. and F. Fanning, of Sydney, in the Colony of New South Wales, do hereby solemnly declare and affirm that, at the date of the passing of the Crown Lands Act of 1884, W. and F. Fanning were holders of grants of the land described in the application on the front page hereof. And I further declare and affirm that the particulars relative to the improvements on the said land, as set forth in the accompanying Schedule, are true and correct. And I make this solemn declaration as to the several matters aforesaid, according to the law in this behalf made, and subject to the punishment by law provided for any wilfully false statement in any such declaration.

C. CECIL GRIFFITHS.

Messrs. Griffiths & Co. to The Under Secretary for Lands.

(86-2,441 and 2,442 Occupation.)

Sir,

Sydney, 10 September, 1886.

In reply to your communication of the 6th instant we have the honor to request an explanation of the large proposed cost of survey above £120, as the lands we propose in the exchange operations on the Wooroomoolgen holding are almost all measured portions.

We have, &c.,
GRIFFITHS & CO.

Mr. Saunders,—What is unsurveyed area in this case?—W.H., 22/9/86. See enclosed memorandum.—C.J.S., 24/9/86. The writers may be informed that a considerable amount of survey will be required in order to trace the boundaries of reserves, old measured portions, &c., and to define the extensive areas proposed to be alienated. The surveys are absolutely necessary to enable plans to be prepared from which the deeds of grant can be drawn out.—W.H., 7/10/86. Griffiths & Co. informed.—H.L.T., 8/10/86. Mr. Houston.

No. 3.

The Under Secretary for Lands to Messrs. Griffiths &amp; Co.

Gentlemen,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 8 October, 1886.

Referring to your letter of the 10th ultimo, asking for an explanation of the large proposed cost of survey of the land to be surrendered within the resumed area of the holding named in the margin by way of exchange for lands in the leasehold area of the same holding, I have the honor to inform you that a considerable amount of survey will be required in order to trace the boundaries of reserves, old portions, &c., and to define the extensive areas proposed to be alienated.

Messrs. Griffiths &amp; Co. to The Under Secretary for Lands.

(Occupation 86-4,208.)

Sir,

Sydney, 12 October, 1886.

Seeing that considerable amount of survey will be necessary, as explained in your communication of 8th instant, we hereby agree to pay for the same up to the limit named, say £120, although, as we are dealing chiefly with measured portions, we trust the actual survey fees will be considerably less.

We shall be much obliged if the proposed exchange operation could be pressed forward, and would respectfully call your attention to the fact, that our letter of 10th September was only replied to on the 8th October.

We have &amp;c.,

GRIFFITHS &amp; CO.

(Agents for W. and F. Fanning).

The papers may now be forwarded to the District Surveyor for early report as to how far the arrangement can be completed with due regard to public interests. It will, of course, be open to the District Surveyor to suggest any modification of the proposal now before the Department, or to recommend, when the time arrives, the reservation of any portions of land in the resumed area. Messrs. Griffiths & Co. may be informed of reference to District Surveyor.—W.H., 18/10/86. The Under Secretary. Yes.—C.O., 19/10/86. Griffiths & Co.—H.L.T., 19/10/86. The Under Secretary for Lands to Messrs. Griffiths &amp; Co.

Gentlemen,

Department of Lands, Sydney, 19 October, 1886.

Referring to your letter of the 12th instant, agreeing on behalf of Messrs. W. and F. Fanning to pay the cost of survey in connection with the exchange of land within the holding named in the margin, I have the honor to inform you that the papers have been forwarded to the District Surveyor for an early report as to how far the arrangements can be completed with due regard to the public interest.

No. 6.

The District Surveyor, Grafton, to Mr. Surveyor Walker.

Occupation 86-2,441-4,298.

Application by lessee of Wooroooolgen Pastoral Holding to surrender lands under section 75 of the Act of 1884.

[No. 86-5.]

28 October, 1886.

To Mr. Surveyor Walker for report as soon as possible, it will be necessary that he should inspect and report on each of the reserves, which are applied for in exchange for land proposed to be surrendered in the resumed area, so that none which are required in the public interest may be alienated, or in the interests of those who have acquired land in their vicinity, and it would be well to see the owners, so as to give due regard to any objections they may urge.

It is pointed out that some of the reserves are on the road from Casino to Tenterfield, and may be required for camping, water supply, or other public purpose, either now or in the future. Others may be required to give access to water from the back country now in the leasehold, and not open for sale or selection, but which, at the end of the lease, might be rendered comparatively of little value if ample provision is not retained. In other cases it is probable that the reservation of a road and space for access to water at the creek, or for crossings, will be sufficient. This should be reported, so that the necessary provision may be made when the surveys for alienation are being carried out.

Every precaution must be taken, so that existing rights, and the interests of the public, are not prejudiced in any way by the recommendations made.

An early report is requested.

P. R. DONALDSON,

District Surveyor.

All papers herewith, and map of county of Richmond. Reported upon by letter (in three sheets), No. 87-1, of 5th January.—W. G. WALKER, Surveyor.

No. 7.

Mr. W. J. Fanning to The District Surveyor, Grafton.

Dear Sir,

Wooroowoolgen, Casino, 3 November, 1886.

On 15th June, Messrs. Griffiths & Co., acting for the proprietors of Wooroowoolgen, applied to the Department of Lands, in Sydney, under section 2, of clause 75, of the Lands Act, of 1884, for the exchange of 6,830 acres of land, situated in the resumed area of Wooroowoolgen Pastoral Holding for a similar area in the leasehold area. Messrs. Griffiths & Co. have now been informed that their application has been submitted to you for your report, and as it would be of considerable advantage to us to have an early report from you on this matter, I should be very much obliged if you could make it convenient to deal with it at your earliest convenience.

We propose to surrender a large number of freehold portions of land, situated in the parishes of Myrtle, Wyandah, Dobie, Nandabah, Ellangowan, and Richmond, which have been purchased at auction at various times, and so placed that they hitherto acted as a considerable bar to settlement by selection in these places, and we ask in exchange certain unalienated lands lying amongst our freeholds, in the parishes of Mongogarie, Coombell, Shannon, Wooroowoolgen, Bundock, Queebun and Dyraaba.

Among the lands which we seek to obtain are some reserves, which, in some cases, are entirely surrounded by our freeholds, and in others are nearly thus surrounded; and in the latter case where a conditional purchase adjoins any reserve we have applied for, I think it will be found, upon inspection, that the selector will lose nothing by our getting the land, as water is as abundant on the selections as on the water reserve adjoining.

Trusting that you will be able to report favourably upon our application,

I have, &amp;c.,

W. J. FANNING.

To Mr. Surveyor Walker,—In connection with previous instructions, I shall be glad if this work can be dealt with as early as possible.—P. R. DONALDSON, District Surveyor, 3/11/86. Mr. Fanning informed.—P.R.D., 3/11/86.

No. 8.

Mr. Surveyor Walker to The District Surveyor, Grafton.

Application of the lessees of Wooroowoolgen Station to surrender lands under section 75 of the Crown Lands Act of 1884.

[No. 87-1.]

Sir,

Lismore, 5 January, 1887.

I have the honor to inform you that, in accordance with your instructions herewith No. 86-5, of 28th October, I have inspected each of the reserves applied for in the above-mentioned application, and in most cases was able to hear the objections or otherwise of those who had acquired land in their vicinity.

During my tour of inspection, which occupied a week, I was enabled to see a good deal of the Crown land not reserved (but applied for), as well as the freehold land it is proposed by the lessees to surrender, and I have no hesitation in saying that the land proposed to be surrendered on the resumed area, taken as a whole, is better than that asked for in exchange for the same.

Nearly the whole of the Crown lands applied for (with the exception of the reserves) consists of measured portions, the only improvement upon them being ringbarking (performed by the lessees), with the exception of portion No. 7, parish of Bundock, upon which a good large salt shed was erected some years ago by the lessees, the present value of which I estimate to be £40.

I have no hesitation in recommending for favourable consideration this portion of the exchange, there being much truth in what has been stated in the application, viz., that the lands proposed to be surrendered were carefully picked out and bought on account of their being keystones to those parts of the run.

With regard to most of the reserves applied for, I am unable to report so favourably, as in many instances they are required, or will be in the future, for the benefit of the public.

I propose to deal with each reserve separately, and for the convenience of future reference to my field-notes, take them in the order in which they were inspected.

Water reserve 277, parish of Bundock, consists of open undulating forest country, of good quality; no improvements; crossed near the eastern end by the track from Ettrick to Casino, about 2 miles from camping reserve 392, parish of Queebun, which is the usual camping place for teamsters to and from Casino; bounded on the north and south by the lessees' freehold land; no settlers adjoining; gives access to only a few acres of Crown lands; applied for in the lessees' application, to the granting of which I see no objection.

For these reasons, it could be surrendered without detriment to the public interests, but when being surveyed for the purpose, it would, in my opinion, be advisable to reserve a road, 1 chain wide, the whole length of the northern boundary, to be continued eventually through the vacant Crown lands, and right down water reserve 230 to the main Tenterfield and Casino Road.

Reserve 904, parish of Bundock; crossed by the Ettrick and Casino Road; much used by the cedar drawers; includes, in conjunction with camping reserve 392, parish of Queebun, the only available crossing for some distance over Dyraaba Creek, which is very boggy, usually made one day's stage to and from Casino, required by the public in conjunction with camping reserve 392, and should therefore not be surrendered.

Reserve 389, parish Bundock; open, swampy, forest country; unimproved; no settlers in the vicinity, and surrounded on three sides by the station's freehold land; also on the fourth side, with the exception of the Dyraaba Creek intervening; crossed by no main road; can be surrendered without detriment to the public interests.

Water reserve 15, parish Queebun, includes a portion of a good permanent swamp; no settlers adjoining; those in the vicinity have frontage to Eden Creek; the country is undulating, and lightly timbered

Portion 117,
133 acres.

Portion 61,
99 acres.

Portions 120,
205, 60 acres and
53½ acres.

timbered, with fair, sandy soil; the boundary fence between Wooroolgen and Dyraaba Runs passes through the north-west corner; all the land on the Dyraaba side of the fence, and which is fairly well watered, is owned by the lessee of that run, with the exception of water reserves 391 and 637; no main road crosses this reserve; I am of opinion that it could be surrendered without materially interfering with the public interests.

Camping reserve 391, parish of Dyraaba. A small portion only of this reserve (through which the Dyraaba Station track runs) is applied for in conjunction with the measured land adjoining, viz., as much as is included by a line running south-westerly from the north-west corner of No. 44 to the north-east corner of No. 80. If all this were granted it would shut in water reserve 668 from giving access to back country, therefore I cannot recommend the same, but see no objection to the land being surrendered that is included when the line is taken to the north-east corner of water reserve 668 instead of the north-east corner of No. 80. This line will not be far from the boundary fence of the run, will not cut off any of the frontage to camping reserve 391, and will curtail the area of the same by very little, not enough to seriously affect it, and will still leave the crossing over the creek. The country, which is unimproved, with the exception of ringbarking, consists of openly timbered ironbark ridges, with rather poor, stony soil. It can be surrendered without in any way interfering with the public. Portion 84, of 259 acres

Reserve 516, parish of Bundock, consists of good, undulating country; timbered chiefly with gum and iron bark; unimproved; surrounded by the lessees' freehold land; track from Dyraaba Station to Casino passes along the northern boundary, along which there is very little traffic; can be exchanged with the lessees without in any way interfering with the public. Portion 98, of 118 acres

Water reserve 230, parish Bundock, consists of very good, undulating country, but unimproved; timbered chiefly with gum, with open flats and an excellent lagoon of permanent water in the south-western extremity; the water in the lagoon is more permanent than that in Deep Creek, and is most conveniently situated with regard to the main Tenterfield to Casino road, which passes between it and Deep Creek; the reserve is situated between 8 and 9 miles from Casino, and is the last stage into or first stage out from that village for teamsters. For these reasons I would recommend that a camping reserve of 100 acres be gazetted (fronting on to Deep Creek), with the same width as, but in lieu of, water reserve 230, and I see no objection to the surrender to the lessees of the balance of the area of the reserve; but in the measurement of the same the road proposed along the boundary of water reserve 277 should be continued down the boundary of water reserve 230, as far as the proposed camping reserve. I may here mention that the main Tenterfield road, after leaving water reserve 230, branches across to and passes through the northern part of Francis Benn's selection No. 143, of 320 acres. Portions 115 and 116, 231 acres and 142½ acres.

Water reserve 130, parish of Bundock, is unimproved. It consists of open, undulating forest country with good soil; is nearly wholly surrounded by the lessees' freehold land, and I see no objection to the Crown surrendering in satisfaction of this application. The whole of the northern part, as far south as the northern boundary of the Public School site (portion No. 156); but I would recommend the retention of the southern part as a water reserve on account of the permanent water in the lagoon, shown on the parish map, which is much more permanent than the water in Deep Creek, and was much used by the settlers in the vicinity for domestic purposes during the late drought. Portions 118 and 119, 110½ acres and 59½ acres.

Water reserve 454, parish of Shannon, embraces a good lagoon of permanent water near the eastern end, and affords access to the same from the back country, which is high and steep, and therefore dry; for these reasons it should, in my opinion, be retained intact. Portion 60, 77 acres.
