 Rulings and Observations of, (including Deputy Pres.)—
 Adjournment—
 It is the general practice in this chamber that Ministers speaking in reply in the adjournment debate are not restricted to referring to

- matters raised by members in their contributions to the motion. (PDp. 16877)
- When the motion to adjourn the House is moved by a Minister who subsequently leaves the Chamber, the presence of a Parliamentary Secretary is sufficient to satisfy the standing orders, notwithstanding that they have spoken during the adjournment debate. (PDp. 22100)
- Anticipation—
- Members may not anticipate debate on a bill that is on the notice paper as an item of business in the order of precedence. (PDp. 18727)
- The rule of anticipation does not apply to an item on the agenda for a committee meeting that has not yet taken place. (PDp. 8566)
- Members may refer in debate to public evidence given to a committee. (PDp. 10599)
- Although members may refer to matters that are in the public area, they may not comment on proceedings that are presently before a committee of this House prior to that committee reporting on these matters. Furthermore it is out of order for a member to read from a transcript of evidence before the committee has reported. (PDp. 11229)
- Members may refer to the publicly available evidence before a committee, but may not draw conclusions prior to the committee reporting. (PDp. 11248)
- Members may not discuss the direction in which a committee may not report. Nor may they refer to evidence taken before a committee that was not taken in public. (PDp. 15910)
- Bills—
- A bill which does not specify the appropriation of any amount of public revenue is not a money bill, even though it may incur some expenditure by the Government. (PDp. 3566)
- Second reading—
- During the second reading of a bill, members may not speak in detail to amendments which will be moved in committee. (PDp. 2072)
- It is a convention in this House that members may speak to a bill in more general terms than when ministers respond to questions in question time. (PDpp 2802, 19626)
- A member speaking on behalf of the Opposition in debate on the second reading of a bill may do so in fairly broad terms provided their contribution is relevant to the bill. (PDp. 14676) (Deputy)
- No debate on the bill should take place during debate on a motion to postpone the order for the second reading. During debate on a motion to postpone the order members should not traverse the subject matter of the bill itself. (PDp. 20241)
- Third reading—
- A member contributing to the third reading debate on a bill must state clearly why the bill should or should not be passed and refrain from referring to any other issue. (PDp. 4304)
- At third reading stage of a bill a member has a last opportunity to state why the bill should not be read a third time. It is not an opportunity to give a speech where the member may have missed the call at the second reading stage. (PDp. 5108)
- Debate – Rules of
- Members must address their remarks through the Chair and not conduct interrogatories with other members. (PDpp. 684, 770, 1144, 2015, 2976, 3314, 9163, 9316, 9903, 10254, 10734, 10737, 13737, 14041, 18163, 18537, 19463, 20480, 21792)
- Members speaking should not address remarks to persons in the gallery who have no right of reply. Members should address their remarks through the Chair (PDp. 8965)
- Members with the call who are uncomfortable with other members addressing remarks at them directly rather than through the Chair should ignore the remarks and look at the Chair while making their speeches rather than at members sitting opposite them. I note, however, that some members with the call prefer to speak directly to those sitting opposite them in the chamber. (PDp. 15046)
- On a motion to suspend standing orders, members must confine their remarks to debating whether standing and sessional orders should be suspended, and not debate the substantive motion. (PDpp. 4267, 14759, 14794, 15210, 22038, 22693)
- A member must speak slowly enough to be able to be understood in the chamber. (PDp. 2434)
- It is difficult to fully comprehend the minutes of a meeting of a committee on which many members of this chamber do not serve. If the member wishes to refer to a document that she states has been made public through the committee process, it is a matter for the honourable member to vouch whether that is correct. If the honourable member wishes to use that document on the basis that it has been made public, that is a matter for the honourable member. (PDp. 13687)
- Members should quote selectively from documents and not read large extracts. (PDp. 19628)
- Members should refrain from referring to advice given to them by the Clerk, such advice is given in confidence. (PDp. 7382)
- When seeking the call, members should rise to their feet and address the Chair. Only when a member receives the call should they proceed to address the Chair and the House generally. (PDp. 1904)
- Members who wish to speak must stand in their place and seek the call. (PDp. 22693)
- When speaking in reply, the minister is in order in responding to comments made during the debate. (PDp. 1873)
- A member desiring to amend his or her own motion should do so by seeking leave to do so prior to moving the motion. Alternatively, the member could seek to have another member move an amendment to the motion during the course of the debate. It is highly irregular for the mover of a motion to seek leave to amend a motion when speaking in reply. Such an amdt is inadmissible—1762 (PDp. 19934)
- Members should not introduce new material when speaking in reply but address matters that have been raised in debate. (PDp. 22866)
- A member is not entitled to present a speech which is identical to one delivered earlier by another member. (PDp. 11255)
- Divisions—
- Members must vote in division in accordance with their vote by voice. However, members who have called for a division do not have to remain in the Chamber to vote in the division. (PDp. 20944)
- Interjections—
- It is not disorderly for a Minister to answer an interjection. (PDp. 9890)
- Members conduct—
- It is unparliamentary to use props in Parliament. (PDp. 18012)
- Members may not use mobile phones in the chamber. (PDpp. 2398, 14191)
- Members must not read either newspapers or magazines in the House. The reading by members of other material, including comic books, is also not permitted. However, there is no problem in either the SOs or previous rulings on the reading of books by members. (PDp. 11650)
- Members must show due respect for the Chair, and be silent when the Chair is speaking. It is not the role of a member to tell other

- members to sit down. When taking a point of order, the member must wait until they are given the call before speaking. (PDp. 2819) (Deputy)
- Members should refer to other members by their titles. (PDp. 22332)
- Members' dress—
- In the chamber members may not wear badges that are larger than the Legislative Council badge—1745 (PDpp. 11262, 19548/9, 19711/2)
- Ministerial statements—
- There is no provision in the standing orders for anyone other than the Leader of the Opposition or a member appointed on his behalf to speak in response to a Ministerial Statement. Other members may not speak unless they have the leave of the House. (PDp. 13138)
- Notices of Motion—
- Members have the right to read notices of motions in their entirety, even if they are lengthy. (PDp. 8263)
- Offensive words and unparliamentary expressions—
- The standing orders that refer to offensive language apply to an individual not a group. President Willis said offensive words must be offensive in some personal way. When a person is in political life it is not offensive that things are said about him or her politically. There may be occasions on which remarks offensive to an identifiable member may not be regarded as unparliamentary when applied to a group where members cannot be identified. (PDp. 2201)
- To suggest the Government has treated the community in a cheap, deceitful and disgraceful way is not unparliamentary language if used in a collective sense. (PDp. 8566)
- Expressions ruled offensive—
- It is unparliamentary to say that a member lied. (PDp. 13331)
- To suggest that the reasons given by the member were either lies or distortions of the truth is disorderly. (PDp. 11271)
- “Unpatriotic” deemed unparliamentary. (PDp. 5387)
- Sexist or racist comments are unparliamentary. (PDp. 20604)
- “Sit down, you fish wife” is sexist and unparliamentary. (PDp. 2522)
- “Minister Monsanto” deemed unparliamentary. (PDpp. 7946/7)
- “Thug boy” deemed unparliamentary. (Pdp. 8670)
- To suggest that a member of a committee is doing the Government’s bidding is offensive and should be withdrawn. (PDp. 11261)
- The expression “his Greek generals’ fascist connections” is disorderly and should be withdrawn. (PDp. 9544)
- Referring to a member as a “nong” is unparliamentary. (PDp. 11807)
- “Duplicitous Labor lapdog”. (PDp. 13159)
- “Minister for road kill” (PDp. 20653)
- Expressions ruled not offensive—
- The term “boofhead” ruled not unparliamentary unless the member so referred to finds it offensive. (PDp. 15214)
- A remark is offensive only if it relates directly to a member rather than to a member’s tactic or strategy. To say a member is using a ‘terrorist tactic’ is not offensive. (PDp. 20253)
- Papers—
- The production of papers concerning the administration of justice must only be called for by address to the Governor. (PDp. 11765)
- Personal explanation—
- A personal explanation under the standing orders is a series of facts outlined by the speaker. Discussion and justification cannot be part of the personal explanation. (PDp. 9278)
- A personal explanation may only be made when there is no business before the Chair. (PDp. 13462)
- Members must not attempt to make personal explanations while taking points of order. (PDp. 20420)
- Points of order—
- A member wishing to speak to a point of order must wait until the member with the call has finished speaking, unless they wish to object and take a point of order on the member with the call. (PDp. 5659, 21484)
- It is not a point of order for a member to claim that he or she has been misrepresented. (PDpp. 9512, 16534)
- There is no point of order on misleading the House. (PDpp. 17929, 18374, 19905, 21091, 21773)
- Members must not take points of order and then proceed to debate the issue. Points of order must relate to rules governing debate in this Chamber. (PDp. 20759)
- Members cannot take a point of order on a matter that is ruled not a point of order. (PDp. 22332)
- President—
- Members may not canvass or flout rulings of the Chair. (PDpp. 3462, 3679, 14499)
- Questions and Answers—
- Answers—
- A Minister may not debate the question, but that does not include the issue to which the question referred. (PDpp. 643, 2027, 2747, 3143, 3694, 7935, 8782, 9881, 10455, 11232, 14400, 15357, 18662, 18671, 21912, 22046, 23035)
- Comparing the question with another question is debating the question and is out of order. (PDp. 11774)
- Answers should be relevant to the question asked. However, some generality is always allowed in answering a question. (PDpp. 2195, 8162, 9890, 8784, 12460, 13325, 14282, 14693, 14958, 15028, 16999, 18374, 18663, 19134, 19570, 20034, 20911, 21049, 21484, 21773, 22205, 22207, 22845)
- There is nothing in the sessional or standing orders that requires a minister not to make an assumption when answering a question. (PDp. 2200)
- The requirement that statements of fact cannot be used unless they are authenticated applies only to questions; it does not apply to answers. (PDp. 5083)
- It has been the practice for many years in this House that the Leader of the Government may answer any question. (PDp. 3282)
- Ministers may transfer a question to another minister. (PDp. 13652)
- If the Leader of the Government wishes to answer the question, he can do so either in his capacity as Leader of the Government or in his capacity as the minister of whom the question should have been asked. A minister can answer a question in any way he or she sees fit as long as the answer is relevant. (PDp. 12957)
- Questions—
- Questions about issues outside the responsibility of a Minister are out of order. (PDp. 4910, 7761, 7768, 8962)
- Questions concerning parliamentary entitlements of a member should properly be put either to the presiding officer or to the

- Parliamentary Remuneration Tribunal. It is not appropriate to ask questions at question time relating to the administration of the Parliament. (PDp. 22843)
- There is nothing in the standing or sessional orders stating that a detailed question cannot be asked. However, it is probably more appropriate for a question seeking such detail to be put on notice (PDp. 962)
- Questions may only use statements of facts when those facts can be authenticated. Such authentication requires more than a statement from a member that there is a prima facie proof of their authenticity. (PDpp5391, 5849, 7938/90)
- Members must not use acronyms either in question or in answer. (PDpp 4586, 4909)
- Questions must not ask for a statement of, or announce government policy. It is out of order to ask for the Government's response to a report of a public inquiry into a matter. (PDp. 10279)
- Questions from the Leader of the Government are out of order. (PDp. 11616)
- A question may be asked on behalf of another member who is not present in the chamber. (PDp. 18145)
- Supplementary Questions—
- Supplementary questions must be directly related to the answer given by the minister and must seek to elucidate, that is, make the answer clearer. (PDpp. 638, 4445, 4910, 5384)
- Supplementary questions must not contain new information. Their purpose is to seek elucidation of an answer already given. (PDp. 4277)
- A supplementary question is not in order if it raises a matter that was not raised in the original question and was not referred to in the Minister's answer. (PDp. 2394)
- If a minister does not answer a question, a member cannot ask a question to elucidate the answer. (PDp. 3275)
- The rules governing supplementary Questions are the same as those that govern Questions. (PDpp. 7763, 9136, 9498, 10719, 13926)
- The sessional orders clearly provide that the President has discretion, at any time, to allow a supplementary question (PDp. 645)
- Members who wish to ask supplementary questions must rise and seek the call immediately after the minister concludes the answer. (PDp. 1843)
- The standing orders state that in order to ask a supplementary question the member who asked the original question must rise and seek the call. (PDp. 3542/3)
- Supplementary questions may not ask for an expression of opinion. (PDp 4908)
- A member asking a question again may be regarded as that member seeking elucidation, but only if the original question was in order. (PDp. 8968)
- Relections and inferences—
- Reflections on members—
- The Premier should be referred to by his correct title. (PDpp. 258, 694)
- Members will refer to each other by their full names, not by their first names. (PDp. 8190)
- A member must refer to members of this House and the other place by their correct titles. (PDpp. 18276, 18398, 19022)
- Members must not make imputations or reflections against other members of either House unless by way of substantive motion. (PDpp. 512, 2433, 2821, 3690, 5279, 12088, 12194, 12952, 15219, 16223, 16260, 16359, 17924, 18152, 18176, 18662, 18972, 20029, 20946, 22466)
- It is disorderly for members to make imputations against members of either chamber. However, members can make imputations against members of the public. (PDp. 11807)
- To suggest that a member finds the civil liberties of individuals boring is an improper reflection, and must be withdrawn. (PDp. 1221/2)
- A ruling of President Willis made it clear than an implication by one member against another member is offensive if it is of a personal nature rather than of a political nature. If a member is of the view that misleading statements have been about his or her behaviour, the member may, in accordance with the Standing orders, seek to make a personal explanation. (PDp. 2730)
- Members should not take offence at political statements, only at personal references. (PDp. 8784)
- References to the views of a political party are not imputations against individual members and are not out of order. (PDp. 12202)
- Previous Presidents have ruled on numerous occasions that collective insults towards political parties are not unparliamentary. (PDp. 18031)
- A member who feels that they have been misrepresented should seek to make a personal explanation rather than to take a point or order regarding offensive lanuage. (PDp. 3160)
- Members may not denigrate the Queen, other members of Parliament or the Governor, and comments which reflect personally on members are out of order. (PDpp 3288/9)
- There is no requirement in the standing orders for members to be addressed by the title "the Hon." (PDp. 3292)
- The comment that a minister is not in the chamber because he is wheeling and dealing is an imputation and should be withdrawn. (PDp. 4008/9)
- Members expect debate on proceedings in this chamber and during public committee hearings to be fairly robust. Although the proceedings of the deliberative meetings of parliamentary committees should not be referred to during debate in this House, matters on the public record are open to debate and members should not be too precious about references to the behaviour of members during a public committee hearing. Otherwise, very little could be said about some committee hearings. However, members should refrain from making imputations against other members. (PDp 14797/8)
- To suggest that a member is motivated by personal gain in supporting a particular piece of legislation imputes improper motive and should be withdrawn. (PDp. 8697)
- It is an imputation to suggest that a member is not a Christian because of his political dealings. (PDp. 20035)
- The Minister may speak about statements made by the leader of the Opposition, but not about the Leader of the Opposition. (PDp. 21050)
- Implying that other members in the Chamber are intoxicated is disorderly. (PDp. 21084)
- Reflections on votes of the House—
- No members shall reflect upon any vote of the House except for the purpose of moving that such vote be rescinded. (PDp. 3166)
- It is disorderly to reflect on legislation that has been agreed to previously by the House. (PDp. 4161)
- The word "reflect" in SO 91 (1) means, reflect in a poor way, rather than simply making a reference. To simply make a reference to a resolution or a vote of the House is in order. Any adverse or critical reference to a vote of the House would

- contravene standing order 91(1). (PDp. 6029)
- Members may not reflect on a decision of the House just made in a division. (PDp. 19628)
- Reflections on the Governor/Queen—
 - A member cannot criticise the Governor except by way of substantive motion. (PDp. 13746)
 - To refer to the monarchy as a hangover is not casting an aspersion on the Queen. (PDp. 21083)
 - The standing order 91 prohibits members from making disrespectful references to the person in the position, not to the position itself. (PDp. 21091)
- Reflections on members of other Parliaments—
 - The standing orders and conventions are silent with regard to unparliamentary terms directed at members of other parliaments. However, the word 'liar' is unparliamentary. (PDp. 20239)
- Relevancy in debate—
 - Members must not digress from the subject matter of the motion or bill before the House. (PDp. 5098, 7813, 8183, 9164, 10261, 13679, 13754, 14675, 19107, 19626, 20263, 20466, 20595)
 - Members have an obligation when contributing to debate to ensure that their comments are relevant to the question before the House. (PDpp. 5098, 8772, 13679, 14592, 14794, 17409, 17926, 18380, 17926, 18380, 21647, 22430)
 - A motion which deals with an order for papers in relation to the feasibility of, or planning for, a proposed primary school would involve some budget considerations, and comments made in debate concerning the education budget are in order. (PDp. 10748)
 - It is a convention in this House that a degree of latitude is allowed to members with regard to the use by them of general comments in speeches, as opposed to questions or answers during question time. However speeches must be relevant to the question before the chair. (PDpp. 11876, 17911)
 - Although traditionally a degree of latitude is extended to members contributing to debate on committee reports they should nevertheless confine their remarks to the report being debated. (PDp. 15042)
 - Members may refer to the content of speeches of other members during debate on a bill. (PDp. 14049)
 - General references to whether a committee should conduct an inquiry at a particular time can certainly be made although the debate must be relevant to the question before the chair. (PDp. 14764)
 - Members may refer to the bill to illustrate their argument in support of a motion to suspend standing orders to expedite its passage. However it is not permitted to traverse the subject matter of the bill. (PDp. 20238)
 - When speaking to the motion to postpone the order for the second reading of the bill the member may talk about what is happening politically. (PDp. 20243)
- Strangers—Behaviour in gallery—
 - Whilst some leniency is extended to members engaging in conversations in the chamber, noise should not emanate from the gallery. (PDp. 21473)
 - Members of the public who are in the gallery should remain quiet. (PDp. 22333)
- Subjudice—
 - A matter is not generally sub judice if it is being considered by a judge, since it is unlikely that a judge would be influenced by debate in this place. (PDpp. 14600, 17923/4)

Conduct of Mr Malcolm Jones —

Pres. tabled ICAC report – Report on an investigation into the conduct of the Hon. Malcolm Jones MLC, dated July 2003—246 (2 September 2003); Report found that Mr Jones had engaged in conduct that was corrupt within the meaning of the ICAC Act in relation to his use of entitlements and recommended that the Director of Public Prosecutions consider the prosecution of Mr Jones for breaches of sections 178BA or 178BB of the Crimes Act 1990, the common law offence of breaching public trust, and a breach of section 87 of the ICAC Act, and, in addition, that consideration be given to the expulsion of Mr Jones from the House.

Notice of motion given (Ms Rhiannon) 2 September 2003, that the House considers the conduct of Mr Jones, as found by the ICAC, as conduct unworthy of a Member of the Legislative Council, that the House adjudge Mr Jones guilty of conduct unworthy of a Member of the Legislative Council and that the House expel Mr Jones and his seat be declared vacant. (Notice Paper 3 September 2003 p 368)

Contingent notice of motion given (Mr Egan) 2 September 2003, for the susp. SOs to allow consideration of a motion that Mr Jones be invited to address the House (Notice Paper 3 September 2003 p 388)

Notice of motion given (Mr Egan) 4 September 2003, that the House note the finding of the ICAC report and the response of Mr Jones to the Report, that the House adjudge Mr Jones guilty of conduct unworthy of a Member of the Legislative Council and that Mr Jones be expelled from the House and his seat vacated. (Notice Paper 16 September 2003 p 420)

Pres. informed the House that she had received a communication from the Hon Malcolm Jones that he had (on 16 September 2003) tendered his resignation to the Governor as a Member of the Council—281

Pres. informed the House that an affidavit was issued in the Supreme Court in the Equity Division, the plaintiff being the Hon Malcolm Jones and the defendant the President of the Legislative Council, claiming inter alia, that the Standing Orders of the Council have no procedure to expel a member from the House; that it was for the Parliament to determine if there has been a substantial breach of the code of conduct through its own Privileges and Ethics Committee; that the plaintiff had been denied natural justice and the move to expel him would cause irreparable damage to his reputation and income. Pres. further informed the House that the proceedings were heard that day (16 September 2003) and Justice Windeyer had dismissed the motion for an injunction—281

Mr Egan and Ms Rhiannon withdrew notices of motions for the expulsion of Mr Jones—285
